ST. PAUL'S CONGREGATION

To the Members of St. Paul's Congregation:

Dear Christian Friends.—All who attended the congregational meeting in the church last evening could not help but feel the tragedy of the position in which we found ourselves. We, who for years have worked together in the closest Christian fellowship were being divided by an issue, fraught with tremendous importance to the Christian life of our community and of our Dominion. This great question necessitated our taking a stand on one side or the other, but in so doing we feel sure, that each appreciated and respected the motives that prompted the attitude of those who differed from them. It was inevitable, therefore, that no matter which side might receive a majority of the ballots, there could be no real measure of rejoicing in view of the disappointment that must inevitably be felt by those whom we respected and whose friendship and Christian fellowship we have enjoyed and valued for years.

The decision of St. Paul's congregation has now been made. We are but voicing the unanimous feeling of the general committee which supported the continuance of the Presbyterian Church, and we believe of virtually all those who voted with that purpose in view, when we state that we earnestly hope that there will be no further division among us. Surely the bond that has held us together through all the years has not been a vain thing! Shall we not continue as a united people, forgetting the recent division and by applying ourselves with renewed consecration and devotion, seek to make St. Paul's congregation an even greater force for righteousness in the future than it has been in the past. We invite those who voted for Union, but who desire to retain their fellowship with St. Paul's Church to do so, and assure them that it is our earnest hope that we shall continue to enjoy their Christian fellowship in the years which lie ahead.

We desire to express our appreciation, also, of the devoted service rendered to our congregation by our pastor, Rev. Mr. Pogue. Under his ministry St. Paul's has grown and prospered. While many have differed with him on the question of Church Union, it has been with only the most kindly feelings. The decision of the congregation, as far as he is concerned, was not a personal matter. We trust that he not only realizes that but also, that he enjoys a full measure of the respect and esteem of the people of St. Paul's.

Sincerely yours,

St. Paul's Branch, Presbyterian Church Association.

DOOM APOSTLE LEAVES, IN FORD, NOT IN CLOUD

Reidt and His Family Abandon Belongings on Hill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. — Robert Reidt, who predicted that the world would end unpleasantly last Friday night for all except 1,000 gross of the faithful followers of Mrs. Margaret Rowan, has disappeared with his wife and three children from their home at East Patchogue.

Investigators reported that most of their belongings had disappeared with them, but that furniture and groceries had been left behind. No one saw them go. The kind of transportation employed by the prophet and his family is a mystery. Residents in the vicinity reported that no dark westbound clouds had passed that way during the day.

According to neighbors, however, Reidt had abandoned hope of being whirled away by a thundercloud and planned to migrate with his family in a small popular land vehicle.

"He said that he would not remain to be persecuted because he misjudged one little factor in his calculations," said one of Reidt's acquaintances; "so I'm not surprised that he has gone."

DAMAGING TO SPORT.

World Series Ball Teams Prohibited From Exhibition Tours.

ST. LOUIS, February 11. — President Ban Johnston, of the American League, to-day expressed satisfaction over the action of the club owners in adopting legislation to prohibit contestants of previous world series going on spring exhibition tours.

These games, such as the Giants and Senators, participated in the 1924 series, have scheduled for this spring, are damaging to sport, and have a tendency to cheapen the annual classic of baseball, he said.

American leaguers at their meeting here yesterday, voted to end the practice, but the extensive tour of the Giants and Senators already arranged, will not be cancelled.

THE GOLDEN BRIDE.

Entire Wedding Party Resplendent in Gold Lace.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—"The Golden Bride" is the term given Shelagh Brunner, daughter of Mrs. Roscoe Brunner, of Belmont Hall, Norwich, Cheshire, who married Prince Andreas de Liechtenstein. She wore massive gold lace over gold lame, a gold prayer book on which were inscribed Prince Ferdinand's initials and crown. Medieaval dresses, also of gold lame, were worn by the bridesmaids, who carried bouquets of wite lilies and mimosa. The best man, anAustrian count, was gorgeous in purple velvet and gold braid.

STALE BREAD ROUTED.

Baker in Switzerland Has Plan to Keep it Fresh Two Years.

PULLY, Switzerland, Feb. 11.—Jean Matti, a baker of this village, claims to have discovered a method of keeping bread fresh for two years. After bread has been baked in the ordinary way, Matti merely puts it again in an oven which has a temperature of 104 degrees Fahrenheit. Experts who have investigated Matti's bread say that specimens which he turned over to them 11 months ago are still fresh and edible.

EXPORT DUTY ON WHEAT SHIPPED TO U.S.A. IS FAVORED BY MILLERS

Grain Commission's Recommendation Would Not Injure Western Farmers.

MORE EMPLOYMENT.

Flour Blended in U.S. Represented as Milled Entirely from Canadian Wheat.

MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—"The recommendations by the Royal Grain Commission with regard to the placing of an export duty on grain shipments to the United States is to be highly commended by those who have studied the situation," says F. C. Connell, secretary of the Canadian National Millers' Association, in a statement issued here last night.

"Under the milling in bond regulations in the United States the blending of soft or winter wheat flours with Canadian spring wheat flour is permitted, and since the inception of this milling in bond provision the Canadian millers have had considerable difficulty owing to the fact that this blended flour has been represented by exporetrs as flour milled entirely from Canadian wheat.

"Some opposition to the commission's finding may be made on the grounds that the market created by these bonded mills in the United States will be closed to the wheat grower, such will not be the case if this export tax on grain to the United States is levied, rather the reverse will result for the following reasons:

"Those familiar with flour export trade fully appreciate that in order to maintain export markets it is necessary for a miller to produce a consistent quality of wheat flour year in and year out. This principle has been adopted by the Canadian millers, with the result that flour made entirely from Canadian wheat commands a premium over practically all other flours.

"By the imposition of the import duties on Canadian wheat entering the United States for consumption, the United States people have made it clear that they do no wish Canadian wheat nevertheless they permit Canadian wheat to be milled in bond for export to other countries.

Mill It In Canada.

The total amount of Canadian wheat milled by the Buffalo mills could be ground in Canada with no increase of the present capacity of Canadian mills, thereby giving additional employment and reducing the overhead cost of production to the direct benefit of the consumer.

"The imposition of an export tax on wheat consigned to the United States for domestic consumption and milling in bond would have no effect on the markets of the world. There seems to be an impression that overseas buyers want Canadian wheat instead of Canadian flour. This is not the case. The ultimate buyer of flour creates the buying policy of the different countries. If he could buy Canadian wheat from Canada as cheaply as he could buy flour ground from all Canadian wheat by the foreign millers, Canadian flour will get the preferenec, because he is positiv at the Canadian mills product produced entirely from Canadian wheat.

"Added to this, Canadian wheat flour is exported to 85 different countries throughout the world, whereas the exportation of wheat is confined to less than 20. This also discounts the statement that wheat is given preference to flour by foreigners.

U. S. Doesn't Want It.

"The possibility of the Western farmer losing a market for Canadian wheat on account of an export tax on shipments for United States domestic consumption and milling in bond is not a serious factor. The United States through their prohibitive import duties on wheat and flour have indicated very emphatically that they do not wish to have Canadian wheat or flour. The flour milled from the wheat going in to the bonded mills is sold for export in other countries, and under the United States government regulations the feeds resulting from the milling of this wheat in bond is released for consumption on the domestic market, a market that is also protected by an import duty. The United States is today an importer of mill feeds, in other words, their production is below their consumption.

"There would be no reduction, but rather an increase in the demand for Canadian spring wheat flour if it were known that this flour was milled by Canadian mills from all Canadian wheat and milled according to the standards adopted by the Canadian millers in the export flour trade."

WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

Complaining that she hasn't any country any more, Princess Niva Zizianoff of Russian arrived in New York to join other nobles in warning of Russia's future under Bolshevism.

CAN'T CONVINCE WEST OF GOOD IN PROTECTION

of any enactment of value to Labor Mr. Woodsworth declared.

There were instances in which employees of the government were receiving less money than the minimum established by the government itself. The Minister of Labor had said that the government could not introduce the eight hour day into government undertakings because of competition with private employees.

Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, challenged the statement of Mr. Woodsworth and asked him to read any such statement from Hansard.

Mr. Woodsworth agreed to reread Hansard and withdraw any statements if he found them different from anything he had said. He had crossed Canada during the recess, and everywhere had found people suffering and discontented.

"The time is coming," said Mr. Woodsworth," when the common people of this country will rise—not in their might by force of arms—but in their intelligence, and demand from the governing powers that their affairs receive first consideration."

High Cost of Government

The cost of government in Canada (Federal, Provincial and Municipal) in a single year, Mr. Woodsworth said amounted to $802,787,865. This was a per capita charge of $89.00 or $445.00 for a family of five in a single year. He mentioned that one effect of the war had been to transfer the wealth of the country into the hands of a very small group of people. By buying up Victory Bonds this group was not able to exact an annual tribute of $100,000,000 from the people of this country, and one-half the bonds held by this group were tax exempt.

Another development in the financial world which might ultimately bring Canada under bondage to a foreign country was the investment of United States' capital in the Dominion. It had been estimated that the investment of United States' capital in Canada in the year 1922 had risen to more than two billion dollars. The interest on this enormous amount went, of course out of Canada into the pockets of the United States investor.

Three Major Problems

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Con.) Vancouver Centre stated that the Premier's solution for unemployment was evidently the strengthening of immigration by bringing in more Labor, but Mr. King could quote statistics in support of his argument until Doomsday and fail to convince the people that "conditions in this country are happy."

He proposed to deal with three major problems which should merit first consideration, namely, taxation, Transportation, and industrial development. "I think" stated Mr. Stevens "that the government should make strenuous efforts to solve these questions in a practical way and not by mere visionary suggestions."

The Government had been derelict in attempting to solve the question of taxation. "There is gross iniquity in our income tax law. This is a method of taxation that is driving business out of Canada, and will drive more. Many Canadian business men in Vancouver are considering moving their head offices to Seattle and doing business there." Canadian corporations were taxed by the Federal government on their profits and in certain provinces, including British Columbia, a further tax was imposed. American concerns with headquarters on the other side, could transact business in Canada without the double burden imposed on Canadians.

"Whatever the supreme court of Canada may see fit to do with the Crows' Nest Pass agreement, it will not solve our transportation question. If it is restored in the Prairie provinces only, it will simply mean continued chaos and, insofar as British Columbia is concerned, discrimination. If Canada is going to expand, there must be some harmony and it will not do for the government to say, that im as much as the matter is before the court, nothing can be done on the freight rates question."

The wheat growers of the Prairie Provinces desired to be in a position to carry their wheat to the ocean ports en route to Europe at a cost commensurate with that paid by their competitors from Argentine, India, and Egypt, whose fields were within a few hundred miles of their sea border, as compared with one to two thousand miles in Canada. The development of the coal and iron industries in the Maritime Provinces, and the coal area of Alberta was also at stake.

Why Subsidize Ships

"The Government had under its control, a splendid fleet of ships, why is it necessary to subsidize then a privately owned line when we have ships of our own operating?" he asked. "The combine question raised by the government in this matter has been only for the mystification of the public mind."

Canada required citizen workers but it was not fair to ask Canadian Labor to compete on a free market with the Labor of Europe and maintain a Canadian standard of living. It couldn't be done. The Conservative party stood, not for the protection of any individual manufacturer, but for the protection of manufacturing industries. Last year Canada exported 4,300,000 cords of pulp of which 1,337,000 cords went as cordwood, one third was manufactured into pulp and one third manufactured into paper. Canada must face the question does it pay more to sell at one half cent a pound, as cordwood, or at six cents a pound as paper. There were similar instances in the exportation of unrefined copper. Canada's present policy in trade matters was not exclusive to the best interests of Canada's development.

Mr. Stevens' remarks provoked a continual cross-fire with the government benches. When he dealt with the effect of the British preference on boots and shoes, the Premier asked if Mr. Stevens disapproved of the principle of the British protection. Mr. Stevens replied that he was chiefly concerned at present with "the drift of this government into deeper and more dangerous waters."

Time for a Pause

Referring to Hon. Charles Stewart's utterances of last session, he said it was indicated that the government intended to go on paring the tarriff, and the Premier's utterances of last session, he said it was indicated that he would proceed step by step to fulfilment of the 1919 Liberal platform. But when the Premier got back as far as West York he said "Oh no, it's time for a pause."

Mr. Mackenzie King, "You are right in the use of that word pause."

Mr. Stevens— "Yes, but how long is the pause going to last. How long is this time of anxiety and uncertainty to continue "

Mr. Mackenzie King—"My honorable friend will have lots of time to observe how far this government will go."

Mr. Stevens said he would like to show the government the effect of their first step in the direction of low tariffs. The boot and shoe industry in Canada had been very hard hit and many thousand workers were out of a job.

A. M. Neill, (Ind. Comox Alberni) interrupted to inquire if the firm of Leckies in Vancouver had not announced its intention of greatly expanding its business.

The house laughed and Mr. Stevens said it was a pity that the announcement of even so small an improvement in business conditions should be received with derision. What the Conservative Party wanted to see was a general expansion of business throughout the country. Did Mr. Neill think it a crime that a Vancouver firm should prosper?"

"Do you advocate increasing the tax on coal?" asked Mr. Robb.

"Yes, as far as I am concerned," replied Mr. Stevens, "because the Maritime Provinces should be afforded protection."

"What about British Columbia?" persisted Mr. Robb.

"Our policy of protection," was the reply "is one of protection from one end of Canada to the other —A policy that will serve the interests of all, and not a few."

"Canada should have a tariff on American products entering Canada," declared Mr. Stevens, "commensurate with the tariff on Canadian products entering the United States. You talk to Uncle Sam in his own language, dollars, cents and protection, and I venture to say he will be knocking at our door, asking consideration of a favorable treaty, not on their terms."

"Our railways," interrupted Hon. George P. Graham, "pay 53c more per ton on coal than the American systems. If we place a higher duty on coal would not our transportation systems be at a more unfavorable advantage?"

"If it costs Canada 53c more per ton," retorted Mr. Stevens, "for coal for our railways, and we develop our immense fields in the maritime provinces and Alberta by protecting them, then I say it is a good thing for Canada to do it."

PROBLEMS OF THE DAY

There seems to be two big problems before the people today—where to park and where to jump.

THAW REFILLING FARMERS' WELLS

Mild Weather Welcomed by Cavan Farmers—Some Fields Are Bare.

CAVAN, Feb. 11.—This thaw has been a boon to many who had empty cisterns and to those whose wells were low.

The fields are becoming quite bare. The roads are soft, but travelling on them is better than a person would expect. The snow seems to have just gradually settled down.

Mrs. H. Tinney and Mary spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forter, at Nestleton.

Mrs. Percy McGill, Janetville, is spending a few days visiting her aunt, Miss Fair.

Mr. Clifford Carr returned to Detroit on Sunday after spending a week's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Matchett are spending a couple of days visiting friends in Manvers.

Women's Institute.

The Cavan Women's Institute will meet at the home of Miss McNeil on Thursday afternoon of this week, instead of the third Thursday of the month. The change of date is on account of the Millbrook Horse Fair, which comes on the third Thursday.

Mr. Herb. McNeil, Janetville, was a visitor to Cavan on Saturday.

Mr. A. Wilson Lifford was a Cavan visitor on Saturday.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

REV. G. S. HAMMOND REPLIES

Editor of The Examiner:

May I be permitted to reply through your columns to the resolution passed by the members and adherents of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at their annual meeting, and which appeared in last week's issue of The Journal.

It contained a vote of "welcome back' to the Unionists who had left the church and an invitation to myself to remain the minister of St. Andrew's till June 10th, 1925.

In regard to the latter, although it was a late courtesy I shall treat it as the expression of the said meeting. However, following the treatment given to the cause which I have upheld to the best of my ability and after the personal insults I have received at the hands of both officers and members there is nothing for me to do but allow my resignation to be dealt with by the superior court of the church and insist upon my release at an early date.

Regarding the welcome the Unionists might receive were they to go back, or what action they may take I am not prepared to say much. Some of the Unionists may reply to this, but I do believe that by their actions within the next few weeks and months they will express themselves. Further I am convinced that there are testing times. A great number of our people have caught the vision of the churches in this religious movement for the furtherance of God's Kingdom and the welfare of Canada and being loyal to the Presbyterian Church are going with her into the United Church.

St. Andrew's Church Warkworth, has by a majority of eleven, decided to cling to the traditional past, to claim adherence to a dissenting sectarian minority, to save its property and to deny itself the opportunity of becoming a member of the United Church. Therefore, for the faithful and loyal Unionists, to my mind, it is necessary that they withdraw from St. Andrew's to attend and become a part of the sister church, the Methodist, and thus assure themselves a place and a work in the United Church after June 10th. And writing from both conviction and experience I am sure they will be given a hearty welcome.

It is true that the method of voting provided for a secret ballot, but by June 10th it will be fully revealed as to who are the members loyal to the Presbyterian Church and are going into the United Church. This is not a matter of loyal interest nor prejudice against the local anti-Unionists, but is a Dominion-wide movement based on principles. All over the country churches dissenting from the movement are being left unhampered by unionists to carry out their designated policies.

Therefore, I trust that all concerned may see that the step I have taken is in interests of both parties, and that each and every individual member and adherent formerly attached to St. Andrew's must be guided to follow the will of God through the dictates of his or her own conscience.

Thanking you, Sir, for the use of your paper to make this necessary reply.

Most sincerely yours,
GEO. S. HAMMOND.

Failure In Life Causes Many Marriage Failures

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press).—"Marriage is not a failure. Some folks are themselves failures, and failure is their lot, but sane and ordinary people must not allow the odd ones to make the rule," says former Premier Ramsey MacDonald writing in the Optimist, a paper edited by his daughter, Ishbel, in the interests of a hospital charity.

"We should conspire to protect them against that deceitful and devastating old ruffian False Romance, who hangs a Dunmow Flitch in front of their noses, as carrots are hung in front of donkeys, to lead them astray. Marriage without common sense and good humor is a risky venture, but there is plenty of both in the world, so we need not despair."

W.C.T.U. HAD TEA IN CAMPBELLFORD

Splendid Programme and Exposition of Aims of Society.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 11. — The afternoon tea, given by the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in the Methodist church, on Tuesday afternoon, was a success, a large number of ladies of the town being present. Mrs. R. Webster, the president, presided at the meeting. After the devotional part of the meeting was over, a splendid programme was given by the ladies of the different churches of town.

The president in her opening remarks, spoke of the aim and object of the W.C.T.U. and gave an invitation to the ladies present who were not members, to join the society. The programme was as follows:

Vocal duet—Mrs. W. Henson and Mrs. T. Free.
Reading—Mrs. G. A. Kingston.
Vocal solo—Mrs. A. L. Malcolm.
Violin solo—Miss N. M. Hoover.
Vocal solo—Miss K. Connor.
Reading—Mrs. Geo. Hammond.
Vocal solo—Miss Helen Wood.
Instrumental duet — Ina Boyd, piano, Master Jack Boyd, bones.
Vocal duet— Miss V. Shore and Miss L. Weston.
Piano duet—Misses Grace Payne and Hattie Redden.

The accompanists were: Miss Wood, Miss L. Weston, Miss E. Weston, Miss Payne and Mrs. C. W. Turner.

A very hearty vote of thanks was given to those who assisted in any way to the programme.

At the close of the programme refreshments were served and all enjoyed a social hour together.

The proceeds amounted to about fifteen dollars.

NORWOOD CHURCH OPPOSES UNION

Result of Vote Shows Majority Against of 47.

NORWOOD, Feb. 11.—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here announced the result of its vote on Church Union last night, with a result of 130 votes registered against Union and 83 in its favor. The meeting was a quiet one, and was presided over by the pastor, Rev. T. M. Wesley, who has been a strong advocate of Union.

WARKWORTH PERSONALS.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE FORMED BY TWEED TEMPERANCE FORCES

Asked to Call a Meeting in the Interests of Law Enforcement.

APPOINT DELEGATES.

TWEED, February 11. — A meeting in the interest of temperance was held on Tuesday afternoon in the township hall, Tweed.

Rev. L. S. Wight was the chairman and gave a report of the recent meeting in Belleville, which was called for the purpose of organizing the riding to support Premier Ferguson and his government in their efforts to sustain the Ontario Temperance Act.

It was put on record that those present heartily endorsed the Premier and his government in their efforts to support the Ontario Temperance Act.

It was suggested that the local member Mr. Hill be notified of the action taken at this meeting.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the convention in Toronto on Feb. 17 and 18:

Rev. L. S. Wight W. S. Gordon, S. B. McGee, S. G. Way, W. E. Rummon, John Sager and W. A. Donnelly, delegates from Tweed village.

Rev. Mr. Poulter, delegate from Thomasburg; J. H Foster, delegate from Chapman; Mr Frank Cotton, and Rev Mr. Waite, delegates from Sulphide; Hector Wood, and Mr. Mitts, delegates from Ivanhoe.

The following men were suggested to form a vigilance committee, and were requested to call a meeting in the interests of law enforcement. They were given power to add to their number. These men were S. G. Way, W. S. Gordon, Mr. Burgoyne, Mr. William Morton, Thomasburg, W. H. Seyers, Fred Blakely, J. H. Foster, Geo. Gordon, and W. H. Montgomery.

Crows were heard in this vicinity for the first time yesterday morning when in a gathering, and it sounded to some as if a good number had already returned from the south.

LaBarge—Ervine.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Edmund's church, Stoco, on Tuesday morning, February 10th, when Miss Francis LaBarge, daughter of Mr. Peter LaBarge, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. John Ervine, of Stoco. Rev. Father Cullinane officiated.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLUBS ACTIVE

Young People's League and C.G.I.T. Girls Meet in Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 11.—The Young People's League was held on Tuesday night instead of Monday, with over eighty present. Mr. S. A. Maguire, president, was in the chair.

During the business part of the meeting, on motion of Miss Hoover and S. J. Abernethy, the Young People of St. Andrew's Church are to be invited to join with the League for a social evening on Monday night, February 23rd, and the St. Andrew's Young People will be asked to give the programme. The Executive of the League was appointed to arrange for the social part of that night.

Miss S. Keir, missionary vice-president, then took charge of the programme, which was as follows:

Bible lesson—Miss Keir.
Reading—Miss Rose Hollenby.
Piano solo—Arnold Bates, with encore.

Topic—Mrs. W. H. Ashton, president of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the W. M. S., gave a reading, prepared by Mrs. F. C. Stephenson, of Toronto, telling of the great missionary movements during the past up to the present time. The greatest progress has been made during the last fifty years, which brought forth the great awakening of the churches to the necessity of sending the Gospel to all nations. She gave a synopsis of the work from the beginning and made mention of this year being the centenary year. The work in Canada in the Methodist Church was begun in 1824.

After the topic, Mrs. E. Bates sang very beautifully, by request, "Annie Laurie," followed by a missionary reading by Miss Myrtle Forde.

At the close of the programme, the four colors got into groups and had a Bishop of Oxford contest, which was won by both the "Blues" and "Whites" being ties. The "Whites" are ahead in the contest so far. Great interest is taken by all the members.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The C.G.I.T. girls of the Baptist Church are arranging for a social to be given in the school room on Friday night. They have a good programme well under way. Miss L. Weston the leader along with the girls are doing their best to make this a success.

Mr. Eugene Therrien, Field Secretary of the Grand Ligne Mission in Quebec, gave a lecture in the Baptist Church on Tuesday night. He spoke on the work among the Canadian French in that province.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Linns, Front street, who have been confined to the house on account of illness are able to be out again. Their many friends will be glad to know they are better.

Chief Brown spent the wek end with his family at Port Hope.

Rev. W. Elliott of the Methodist parsonage left on Tuesday for Novar, Muskoka, to officiate at the wedding of his niece, Miss Ella Bieldby.

Mr. J. Harnden, Rear street, left last week for Toronto, where he is spending a few weeks taking a course in electric art welding.

Mrs. J. Douglas Church St., entertained about thirty of her friends on Friday night to a hot pork and bean supper. The tables were draped with green and white paper and green and red streamers extended from the lights.

Three young ladies wearing pink roses, waited on guests. After supper games were played and all enjoyed the social evening.

ASQUITH GETS TITLE.

Official Notice of Elevation to Earldom.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The official Gazette yesterday announced the issuance of letters patent, dated Feb. 9, conferring the dignities of a viscount and early of the United Kingdom upon Herbert Asquith and his lawful heirs by the titles of Viscount Asquith of Morley, in the west riding of Yorkshire and the Earl of Oxford and Asquith.

Millbrook to the Fore Reporting Spring Sign

MILLBROOK, Feb. 11. —With Omemee reporting suckers in the creek, and robins in the back yards, Muskoka claiming butterflies on the wing in some sections, Mitchell sending word of honey bees out for an airing last Sunday (though many found a snowy shroud as a result of their venture), while June bugs are reported from other points, Millbrook is not behind hand with its harbingers of spring, since Mr. Henry Lord picked a pansy blossom in his garden on Tuesday.

The flower, which is about the size of a quarter, is quite bright as to color, the leaves being slightly curled at the edges. . . It has evidently bloomed under the snow all winter.

READY FOR FIGHT; KILLED A BANDIT

Bitten Twice in Week, Third Time Was Too Much—Clerk Wounded.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).— An unidentified negro was shot and instantly killed and Edgar R. Brown of Windsor was seriously wounded late last night when David M. Pierce, manager of a Cunningham's drug store, pluckily shot it out with three hold up men all armed. Brown, a clerk, in the store was taken to the receiving hospital. A bullet pierced his jaw and his condition is serious.

Twice during the past two weeks, this store has been easy prey for stick-up men. Last night Pierce, the manager was ready for them. He was standing at the rear of the store when the three negroes entered and ordered Brown to throw up his hands. As the clerk complied, Pierce unobserved from a darkened point opened fire with a revolver. One of the three intruders dropped fatally wounded. His companions in a panic scattered for the door but recovered their equilibrium sufficiently to turn and direct a returning volley of shots wounding Brown.

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES MEET IN HAVELOCK

W.C.T.U. Business Meeting —W.M.S. Regular Study and Social Hour.

HAVELOCK, Feb. 11.—A meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Chiles. Following the transaction of business, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. (Rev.) T. H. Stanley, a summary of the Ontario Temperance Act was given by Mrs. Henderson.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. Chiles and Miss V. Davidson, which were enjoyed by all present.

W.M.S. Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, was held on Friday afternoon in the basement of the church and was well attended.

The president, Mrs. James Barlow, occupied the chair, and the devotional part of the service was under the leadership of Mrs. J. Cochrane.

Selections from the study book on China were given by Mrs. J. Freeman, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. J. Cochrane and Mrs. A. C. Denike, and the committee in charge of the "Watch Tower" reported interesting items of news from the various home and foreign fields.

Arrangements were made for a Valentine tea to be held on Friday next in the basement of the church and the following printed invitations are being distributed:

On St. Valentine's Day
Please wend your way
To our elegant old-fashioned party;
The hall will be bright,
The lunch nice and light,
The company cheery and hearty.
The ladies will greet you,
Endeavoring to seat you
With friends you are longing to meet,
And will ask you to pay
For the joy of the day.
And so make the pleasure complete.
So the Sunday School-room fill
With love and good-will,
Come ready to help and to bless
With sympathy tender
Your money surrender
For the funds of the W.M.S.

In making the distribution it is almost impossible to not overlook some one, and any who do not receive an invitation can be assured that they will receive a hearty welcome.

Attended Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wood, of Keene, Mrs. Thos. McQuigg of Blairton, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Harrison, Mrs. Jas. Wood, Miss Aleta Wood and Mr. Albert Wood, of town, attended the oyster supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Althouse, Round Lake, on Thursday

HAVELOCK I.O.D.E. HAD GOOD REPORT

Records of 1924 Show Progress in Many Ways—Helped Schools.

HAVELOCK, Feb 11 — The Harry Lauder Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs Henderson on Friday afternoon, the regent, Mrs Wm. Vance, presiding. A report for 1924 was read by the secretary, Mrs. B. Haig, which showed a satisfactory year had been passed and a paid-up membership of 28.

Four new members joined the ranks during the year and it was with sorrow that the loss of two valuable members was reported, one passing to the Great Beyond and the other moving from ton.

The memorial arch which cost about $2,500 and was paid for through the efforts of the Chapter figured most conspicuously in the records for 1924, and other donations were reported as follows:

Educational war memorial $25, appeal for India Chapter $1, prizes to local school for pupils taking the highest marks in history $15.

A cheque for $160.25 was forwarded to the Institute for the Blind, being the receipts from the sale of their work and through the efforts of the educational secretary three beautiful pictures had been obtained for the school.

RED BLOOD MAKES ALL OUR STRENGTH

Vitality And Nerve Power Of Every Man And Woman Depends On The Blood, The Supreme Force of Life

What gives every man his strength? Red blood. What makes the vibrant beauty of women? Red blood.

Red blood is the supreme force of life. If we lack strength, vitality or nerve power we should think first of our blood. We can quickly create more red blood. Then, through the new strength that comes with rich, red blood we regain our vital nerve force.

Weak and discouraged men and women can find an easy, safe way to nourish the blood supply. Wincarnis gives the blood the very elements from which it is created. For fifty years this red blood builder has restored exhausted, nervous, pale, thin sufferers.

If your body vitality is failing, go to your druggist and begin the safe Wincarnis treatment. A sixteen ounce bottle, which is a fourteen day Wincarnis treatment, is sold by all leading druggists for $1.50.

Wincarnis is so effective that only three tablespoonsful a day need be taken. Try Wincarnis at once and see the new strength just a few days will bring.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Peterboro Horticultural Society has decided to stage a campaign to increase the membership of the organization to one thousand—and it would be a splendid thing for Peterboro were the effort to be crowned with complete success.

There is no reason why the 1,000 mark should be regarded as extravagant, seeing that that number represents but one family in every four in Peterboro.

The desirability of making this city a better place in which to live, a city noted for its trim lawns, beautiful gardens and neat boulevards, a city unmarred by weed-covered vacant lots and dirty lanes and premises, is so apparent that there should be no difficulty in securing one thousand citizens with community spirit and vision enough to cause them to throw in their efforts toward these ends.

The Horticultural Society has done much in the direction of achieving these ideals; the success of its work is reflected in the generally clean and neat appearance of the whole city.

But much remains to be done, and it can be done much more quickly if the hands of the officers are strengthened by the addition to the organization of several hundred new members.

IMMIGRATION.

The Border Cities Star is inclined to agree with the views of Sir Henry Thornton and Mr. E. W. Beatty that the need of Canada is more people, and adds that "if we try to keep the population down to the work at present available we can count on scaling down continually to the vanishing point."

Undoubtedly the heads of Canada's railway systems are right in their opinion that this country must have a larger population to properly develop its resources, make our transportation systems profitable and help carry the burden of taxation.

But is the present period of industrial slackness and unemployment the proper time for opening the doors?

The people who are in Canada at the present time are, many of them, having difficulty in finding jobs.

Municipalities are compelled to carry on public works to give employment to citizens who have been workless for months

What sense is there, therefore, in advocating the dumping of more people into our cities merely to have them line up with the army of the unemployed.

There will come a time—and it is to be hoped that it is not far off—when Canada will be able to welcome with open arms all men who are willing to work, knowing that there are positions for such men to fill.

There are no such positions now, and it would be rank folly to encourage immigration of industrial workers and labourers when it is clear that there is nothing to offer them when they get here.

STRONGER BEER.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson, who once upon a time declared that he would produce a liquor policy that would please everybody, seems to have succeeded merely in producing a policy that pleases nobody.

The announcement in the Speech from the Throne that the Ontario Temperance Act is to be amended to permit of the sale of beer almost double the strength of that at present permitted is a sop to the wets that will not satisfy most of them as going far enough, while to the dry forces it will appear that the Premier has gone a step too far.

Of course, the Trades and Labour Congress, which asked the Government for a more palatable and nourishing beer, should be satisfied—but it is not clear that anybody else will be.

Rev. Ben. Spence expresses the opinion of the prohibitionists when he points out that the people of Ontario did not vote for stronger beer, but for a stronger enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act.

Mr. Ferguson was in a tight corner politically—with many of his supporters clamoring for a modification of the O. T. A. and his clearly stated pledge before the plebiscite was taken standing in the way of his yielding to their demands.

Finally he has evolved this stronger beer amendment, a better and more palatable beer, but still not intoxicating, so the Premier pictures it, and he offers it as a peace-offering to the rebels of his own party, at the same time seeking to placate the prohibitionists by stressing the fact that the stronger beer to be authorized will not have "kick" enough to intoxicate.

It remains to be seen whether Mr. Ferguson's ingenuity in dealing with a difficult situation will have the success that he hopes for.

RAIDING THE TREASURY.

The sessional allowances of the members of the Ontario Legislature and the salaries of the Ontario Ministers are to be increased, the Speech from the Throne yesterday confirming the advance notices to this effect.

It is too much to hope that the House will refuse to ratify the increases when they are voted upon; it will be interesting indeed to note whether or not there is any opposition to a move that will increase the overhead by $80,600 a year.

At the same time the Examiner feels that public opinion is being flouted by this raid upon the treasury.

The conditions in Ontario at present are, briefly, that the Government has not succeeded in balancing its budget; all the forms of taxation employed by the Drury Government and bitterly criticized during the last election are still in use; and the Government has intimated that fresh taxation in the form of a tax upon gasoline may be necessary to carry out the Provincial road-building programme.

The demand is for reduced expenditure, and the elimination of some of the methods of taxation, particularly where the Government has invaded fields that should belong to the municipalities upon whose rights the Province has steadily encroached.

That demand cannot be met by a move that takes $80,600 out of the Provincial treasury and puts it into the pockets of the Ministers and members.

Quebec, it is true, pays its members more than the present scale in Ontario—but then Quebec is able to show a balanced budget.

When we get that far in Ontario it will be time to think about salary increases and bigger indemnities.

GAMBLING NEVER PAYS.

Betting on horse racing is very much in the limelight at present. Judge Gauld's castigation of the handbook men has concentrated the attention of the public and the police on the problem of their elimination, and other cities are taking up the task, says the Hamilton Spectator. There is no denying the prevalence and the gravity of the evil, which strikes at the small wage-earner, risking his own meager earnings, just as severely as at the heavy plunger, tempted to steal to gratify his depraved instincts. It would be a great gain if this menace could be cleaned up; but, whatever is done, it is to be feared that the passion for easy money—the something for nothing complex—will never be entirely eradicated. There are many forms of gambling which invite disaster. Equally as dangerous and undesirable as wagering on horse races is the dabbling in stock exchange speculation. The money lost in this way is enormous, and if there are occasional gains, the same may be claimed of turf activities.

The recent course of the wheat market in Western Canada is an example of what happens when speculators jump in with the hope of making a killing. Large numbers have been wiped out through the sudden fall in prices. The recovery which to some extent set in later is of no significance to the man or woman who has been forced out of the market. There is another angle to this question of wheat speculation which is of still more serious import. The effect abroad of fluctuations in price has to be reckoned with. Prevailing high prices are, no doubt, justified to a great extent by reason of the fact of a world shortage of grain. Countries which are in a position to sell naturally demand and receive a higher price for their products; but it is certain the advancement of prices through artificial inflation will react very seriously on the permanent interests of the agriculturists. The rapid rise in food prices has led to Government investigations in Great Britain and in Germany and France, and measures are in contemplation to checkmate the movement. Speculation never pays in the long run, since nothing which depends on chance and instability can be expected to pay. Gambling, whether it be in wheat, stocks, exchange, the results of races, or anything else, is a game never worth the candle.

STOPPING CRIME.

That the only basic remedy for any serious social problem is education is one of our most convenient platitudes. Too frequently, however, education is a remedy too remote to be immediately helpful. Hence, one can subscribe to Mr. Hughes' views on the control of crime, expressed at Atlanta, without losing sight of the fact that the prescription he offers is ideal rather than expedient. He says:

"While we are somewhat disheartened by dilatoriness in procedure and by the terrible advance crime makes because our people do not seem intelligent enough to rally their forces to punish the guilty, yet even then we should remember that perhaps the best thing we can do to our organization is to create and devise the law-abiding sentiment."

It is the Secretary's idea that this sentiment must be created before we can cope adequately with a rising tide of crime. That is, he counsels education. But education in its general development is a process completed only in a generation, in which time crime will flourish and lives and property become increasingly unsafe.

An immediate expedient and one always available everywhere is the creation by courts themselves of a general opinion that the wages of sin are inexorable in payment. We need not go far for evidence that crime in any locality is in exact inverse ratio to the swiftness and infallibility of justice. For five years one Middle Western metropolis has been in the midst of a perpetual crime wave; the reason for that condition being that there a major criminal stands about one chance in 25 of paying for his crime. In Canada, where the criminal's chance of shaking himself loose is about one in 25, crime is a distinctly less popular vocation. In this country, in Boston, for example, where a recent daylight robbery of a downtown cigar store set the whole town agog, the public gets something like an even break in its criminal courts and crime in consequence does not achieve wave proportions.

Of course it may be said that a sentiment already existing for obedience to law is a partial explanation for this condition, but this sentiment itself thrives on a knowledge that courts are swift and sure. Community education is a cure for crime, but for practical purposes the criminal can best be educated first, and his education depends almost entirely on the courts. The knowledge that crime entails certain retribution is the most reliable known deterrent to crime; fear is a great governor. The first step toward creation of a national sentiment for obedience to law is wide circulation of the knowledge that courts are dispensing summary justice.—Tampa (Fla.) Morning Tribune.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

For once the Ontario Speech from the Throne had a "kick" in it.

They had a wet debate in the Federal House, too, but it was over the question of ocean freight rates.

The McCausland-Currie chorus will now broadcast that old favourite, "Beer, Beer, Glorious Beer!"

If the North Atlantic Shipping Combine is as bad as W. T. R. Preston pictures it, the directors of the companies should be hanged from the yard arm. But Mr. Preston never was a moderationist—in language, anyway.

A London man saw a snake on Sunday. That may be a sign of spring—or merely of a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act.

The economy note is sounded in the statement that Ontario is to pay her Cabinet Ministers $2,000 a year more salary and her members $600 a year more in sessional indemnities.

It is argued that a $600 increase in indemnities would just be putting Ontario legislators on the same plane as those of Quebec. The Quebec members earned theirs by showing a substantial surplus.

According to one United States paper, the foreign policy of Uncle Sam may be expressed in the statement that he doesn't want to belong to anything, but is always ready to butt in.

A THOUGHT.

FALSE OR FOLLIES.

It is not so much the number of faults you have as it is the number of faults that have you.

The greatest danger from faults is to think that you are without them. And how natural it is to confess a few minor faults, that we may blind others to some of our big follies.

When a man is constantly looking for certain faults in others, my mind always turns to the thought that he is like a rival (and you know a rival always keeps his eye open). The man who is always talking about some of the mean traits in others, is a mere "rival." He is talking of the things that he is well posted on, otherwise he would not talk so much.

No man is exempt from faults, but the best men have most of their faults under reasonable control. When we can no longer meet men who have faults, we will be picking a harp.

To tell you the truth, the average man will confess many faults, but he is usually silent concerning his follies.

And here is the punch—"follies."

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Country roads are getting in a bad condition for bringing out live stock as a result of the present prolonged mild spell. Receipts were light today, and it is probable they will be for the balance of the week unless the weather changes and the roads harden up. With the prospect of lighter receipts there was a little steadier tone to the market today. Cattle were being fairly well cleaned up at yesterday's prices. There was nothing of special quality in today's offering, and anything good was readily taken. As usual the least desirable stuff inclined to drag.

Calves continue dull.

Lambs were a shade firmer at $15 to $15.50, and one extra special bunch at $17.

Hogs steady and firm at $11.50 off cars.

Prices in the various sections are as follows:

Export cattle, choice and heavy steers, $7.25 to $8; bulls $4.50 to $4.75; heifers $6.25 to $7.

Choice butchers $6.50 to $7; medium, $5.25 to $6; common, $2.50 to $3.85; baby beeves, $8.50 to $9.

Choice fat cows, $3.50 to $4.50.

Stockers and feeders, choice short keep feeders, 1,000 to 2,000 lbs., $6.25 to $6.50; stores 900 to 1,000 lbs., $5.25 to $6; choice stockers 830 to 950 lbs., $4.25 to $4.75; light western stock, $3.50 to $3.75; choice western, $4.50 to $5.50.

Calves dull.

Sheep and lambs firmer.

Hogs, steady at $10.75 f.o.b.; $11.75 off cars; selects off cars, $2.17 per head extra.

MONTREAL GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Little business was transacted over the cable with foreign buyers for Canadian grain here today, but there was some demand from New York exporters for Manitoba No. 5 wheat and a round lot sale was made at 14 1-2 cents per bushel under the Winnipeg May option, c.i.f. Bay ports, an I they also bid 9 cents per bushel under the May future for Manitoba No. 4 wheat, c.i.f., Bay ports, with sellers asking 7 cents per bushel under. The export trade in barley and oats was dull. The local market for oats was easier and prices scored a decline of two cents per bushel. Ontario No. 2 white being quoted unchanged at 68 1-2 and No 3 grade at 66 1-2 cents per bushel

The egg market displayed further weakness and fresh grades dropped another cent per dozen Extreme dullness marked the butter trade, but prices were well maintained The tone of the cheese situation was firm with fodder made No 1 white and colored goods quoted at 20 1-4 to 20 1-2 cents per pound, and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19 1-2 cents per pound.

Beans were unchanged at $2.90 per bushel.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. — General selling out of wheat holding today resulted in tumbling prices down 11 cents a bushel as compared with yesterdays top figures. Much of the selling was attributed to uneasiness restricted to definite limits. The market closed weak, 3 1-2 to 7 1-2 net lower—May 183 3-4 to 184, and July 157 1-4 to 157 3-8. Corn finished 3 1-2 to 4 1-8 down; oats 1 5-8 to 3 1-4 off, and provisions varying from 12 decline to an equal advance.

At the bottom of to-days fall in value, the wheat market touched as low as 193 1-4, a point under any previous minimum since the recent high price record, 205 7-8. Rallies which followed the price downturns today were relatively feeble, and the market was on the down grade at the last, finishing within half of the day's lowest level. In addition to any effects from the proposed limiting of price fluctuations, a sharp decline in values at Liverpool had a good deal to do with bringing about weakness in the market here.

EGG PRICES

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 10.—The egg market is showing an easier tendency and jobbing prices at Toronto have declined 3 to 7 cents. The milder weather is helping production and imports from the United States are fairy heavy. During the past week eight cars of United States first have arrived in Toronto.

MONAGHAN COUNCIL IMPOSES POLL TAX

Members Pass Many Charity Accounts at Regular Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the North Monaghan council was held at the Court House on Monday, all the members being present with Reeve Rye presiding.

George Lundy appeared before the council and submitted a plan to them for approval of park lot number 25, in the township, lot 12, concession 11, North Monaghan, which he proposes for registration.

A motion was passed that the treasurer pay for the grant passed last year to the City of Peterboro for $400, for the work done by the city on Lansdowne street. The amount due and payable on January 1925, by the city of Peterboro to the township of North Monaghan being $429.92.

The question of imposing a poll tax on those eligible to pay it was then full discussed by the council. A resolution was passed that a by-law shall be prepared authorizing the township to collect a poll tax of $5.00 from all persons subject to the same and that the poll tax be placed in the hands of the tax collector to be collected forthwith by him.

A resolution was passed giving the clerk full power to act in a settlement and discharge of a patient from the Freeport Sanitarium. The following charity bills were passed and ordered to be paid:

W. J. Byers, groceries, $15.81; W. J. Byers, groceries, $2.19; W. J. Byers, groceries, $1.90; W. J. Byers, groceries, $1.97; A. E. White groceries, $12.20; J. A. Holden, groceries, $1.75; J. A. Holden, groceries, $2.13; A. E. White, groceries, $5.34; A. E. Saunders groceries, $23.27; L. Minicola, bread, $19.36; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, coal, $50; W. J. Fitzgerald, wood, $72; St. Joseph's Hospital, $21; St. Joseph's Hospital, $25.30; St. Joseph's Hospital, $25.50; Nicholls' Hospital, $45.

The following general accounts were passed for payment:

Peterboro Review, $8.40; Municipal World, $1.34; Davis-Thompson Co., insurance, $5.95; H. B. Rye, expenses to Toronto, $9.10; Bruce Johnston, expenses to Toronto, $9.30.

A resolution was passed that the reeve be authorized to have a by-law prepared setting apart certain areas for certain streets for the monthly collection of night soil, and making the monthly collection compulsory. The meeting then adjourned.

The next regular meeting is to be held on Monday, March 9, 1925, at 1.30 p.m. at the court house.

Renovation Brings Out Westminster's Hidden Art

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press).—With the renovation of the interior of Westminster Abbey, Englishmen are finding out that they have a much richer art treasure in the ancient structure than they had supposed. As the delicate work of renovating the fabric progresses, many new unsuspected pictures and colors are being brought to light.

The latest discovery is a large painting on the wall of the Henry V. chantry chapel. The painting had been covered with a thick coat of paint probably for more than a century, but is now entirely exposed to view and the colors restored by the modern processes of renovating. The picture was painted evidently by some obscure monk and depicts the coronation of the king.

King Henry V.'s chapel, little known by the public, is built above the tomb of the king and contains six old statuettes surrounded by a group of smaller ones. The statuettes are being restored to their natural whiteness and have been found to be among the most valuable of the early examples of sculpture in the Abbey.

The work of removing the varnish and dirt from the walls has taken several months, but now the roof and heraldic shields in the choir aisles have been brought into relief in their original medieval coloring.

FERGUSON BEER "NOSE OF CAMEL" SAYS BEN SPENCE, DRYS' LEADER

Soon the Head and Then the Whole Body is Prohibitionists' Alarm.

ONLY OLD LAGER.

Stronger Brew Not Intoxicating—Complies With the O.T.A.—Raney to Fight.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).—All the pageant and ceremony connected with the opening of the second session of the 16th Legislature of Ontario Tuesday sank into insignificance in the speculation and opinion regarding the effect of the proposed amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act, whereby the strength of beer sold legally is practically doubled. Politicians and members of the Legislature have forgotten all other questions in discussing the proposed liquor amendment. In the Speech from the Throne the proposal is so worded that its effect is not at once apparent. The little paragraph in the Speech from the Throne buried near the latter part of that document, simply raises the alcoholic content of a drink which is deemed intoxicating from 2.50 per cent. to 4.4 per cent. by the standard of measurement under the present prohibition law. The new law still states that the percentage is two and one-half, but it is two and a half per cent. "alcoholic content" instead of "proof spirits."

It is understood that the government at the present moment has no intention of restricing the sale any more than that at present in force for the sale of two and a half per cent. beer. This means that hotels, restaurants and small stores may sell the higher strength beer. However, the bill is not yet framed and the Conservative caucus meeting today may decide upon a restriction to standard hotels and perhaps some other agencies. The standard hotel-keepers through their spokesmen, have been asking for years that even the present beer be sold exclusively through them.

Government Control Motion.

Although private members of the Legislature who are supporters of the Government may have had some knowledge of the Government's intention they professed to have been somewhat surprised by the announcement in the speech. Members for wet ridings are quite free with their opinions, but members for "dry" ridings decline to talk without further consideration. As a matter of fact, some members representing wet ridings are convinced that the government should have gone further. The attitude of many of these members is clearly reflected in the notion of motion given by F. W. Wilson (Con., Windsor) that he will move in the House that the sale of beer, spirits and wine be allowed under a system of government control on the principal of local option. That motion was given after Mr. Wilson knew of the proposed government amendment to the O.T.A., and indicates that the avowed wet members will try to force the hand of the Legislature to get a greater freedom in the sale of liquors and beers.

Raney to Oppose It.

The attitude of the Opposition groups is still a matter of doubt, although, without doubt, the Progressives will oppose the proposal practically as a body. W. E. Raney, the new Progressive leader, last night declined to say anything about the stronger beer proposition, stating that he would have something to say in due course. This probably means that he will oppose the proposal in his speech on the reply to the Speech which will likely be made Thursday. There is no doubt that practically all his following is against the measure. W. E. H. Sinclair, Liberal leader, also declined to comment. In his party there are also some avowed wets. J. A. Pinard (Lib., Ottawa East) demands seven per cent. beer. E. Proul, Liberal member for Prescott, says that the proposal is exactly what he advocated at the last session. However, there are many members of the Liberal group who will oppose the proposal if not on the Speech from the Throne at least when the bill comes up. The three Labor members will probably support the proposal, although none of them committed themselves to any definite action yesterday.

Conservative Support.

It is assumed in the lobbies at the buildings that the Conservative members will all support the measure, particularly in view of the attitude taken by Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney-General. According to a few remarks made by Mr. Nickle, the change in the strength of beer is on "a sound scientific basis," and he states that it is held by doctors and experts of the strength proposed in the amendment is not intoxicating. In this manner he claims the true intent of the original Ontario Temperance Act is being upheld. He also stated emphasizing the last clause of the announcement in the Speech from the Throne that other changes were to be made in the Act to facilitate its enforcement. The Prime Minister, when asked for elaboration on the announcement in the Speech said that by laboratorical and other experiments the beer of the proposed strength was not intoxicating.

Members' Comment.

Only a few members last night were willing to give opinions for publication. W. H. Acres (Con., Carleton) would have the Government go ahead and do away with the medical prescription for liquor. He would have left the beer proposition alone in the meantime. Col. John A. Currie (Con., Toronto) thinks the measure good as far as it goes, but has some difficulty in seeing how beer can stay put at 4.4 per cent. when it has a natural inclination to gain more alcoholic content. He points out that "pre war" beer as sold in the old license days in this Province ran seven and eight per cent. and sometimes higher. The proposed beer he says is the old German lager. Jas. A. McCausland, enthusiastic opponent of the O.T.A., declined to comment, but it is assumed that the proposal doesn't go quite far enough to suit him.

Contrary to Plebiscite.

Rev. Ben. Spence, secretary of the Council of the Dominion Alliance, however, stating his personal opinion, said that such an amendment would "smash the Act." He claimed that the people in the recent plebiscite had voted for a stronger prohibition law and not for stronger beer.

"The stronger the beer the weaker the law. It is the nose of the camel. It will soon be the head and then the whole body," he stated. He pointed out that the non-intoxicant as described by the amendment was five times stronger than that judged to the non-intoxicant by the laws of the United States.

Sam. Leonard, director of the Hotel-keepers' Association, said that he did not think the Government was trying to satisfy the trade but rather the public. He claimed also that the stronger beer was not intoxicating. He added that he would like to have seen it made a little stronger. He pointed out that before prohibition the strength of beer was eight and nine per cent. He did not know whether the new law would mean increase in the standard hotel licenses or not. Other hotel-keepers expressed themselves as pleased with the announcement of increase in the strength of beer, although, as one stated, "we would like more."

Voice Of The People

JUSTICE OR BENEFIT.
(By Spectator.)

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: Great questions arise in Canada from time to time. It takes a long time to settle them. That is of course due to the fact that there are divers races and religions in this country.

What is the principle upon which all such questions depend for settlement? The principles of justice or of the general public benefit, without regard to the principles of justice? The O.T.A. settled that matter for Ontario. Its supporters said, and still say, that what the majority says is for the public benefit must rule, regardless of the pleas for justice set up by individuals, or by minorities. That is the principle which prohibitionists forced upon this province—and would force upon all Canada.

When the O.T.A. was first mooted this fact was brought to the attention of the people, but the people have decided by a fair vote that what the majority wants it must have—in temperance matters or any other matters.

That being the case the people of this province refuse to listen to pleas made by ministers or otherwise and go steadily on doing what it thinks is for the general weal, regardless of all others.

Hence a plea for the abolition of Rule 17 which limits the teaching of French, and the plea of the Catholic Church that there sall be a private marriage law for Catholics must go to the wall if adjudged by the majority of the electors going to the poll to be adverse to the general public benefit.

This was the principle upon which the O.T.A. was based and, as we have said, it was adopted. It was then claimed, also, that since minorities or individuals have no rights when the majority says so, those rights will be disregarded. This principle was supported, strange to say, by very many of the very people now asking that it should be set aside in their favor.

It is now being urged that it should be set aside as an evidence of a desire to do justice.

But mere "justice" is to be set aside, we repeat, whenver the general interest demands it. That is now the law. How then can it be expected that any minority, French or English, Catholic or Protestant can have rights which the majority think well to ignore?

We cannot play fast and loose in these matters. We must go according to the principles of justice or according to the principle of force, one or the other, and the latter having been adopted, all objectors should cease objecting.

I do not say that we all approve of this turn of affairs. This statement which I am now making is merely to emphasize the fact that it is not what people may be entitled to that exists in this province, but what the majority declared to be for the public benefit.

Why therefore maintain a continual and useless agitation?

It will no doubt seem to many a strange law, but it is the law—in Ontario. If Quebec adopts this plan it will reverse in that province the decisions of the people of Ontario. If, however, it adopts the principle of justice, then it will decide on the great common and general principle of justice and not on the very various grounds of different ideas of the public benefit.

Is it better then, to reply upon the principles of justice which are the same for the whole world and alone make a world court or a league of nations possible? Or should we all do as we think best for our own benefits. Where is this new principle going to land us?

By a recent decision the church in Quebec must have the civil marriage law there altered if it wishes to maintain Catholic rights in that province. And why shouldn't it? Have we not taught it that we do what we think is best? And shall it not do the same? And in all Canada if it secures a majority.

LEGISLATURE AND UNION.

The Examiner has been requested to publish the following letter:

To the Editor.

Sir,—Now that the proponents of Church Union have filed the bill which they intend to bring before the Legislature of Ontario for consideration, it may be of interest to point out what the field of legislation in Ontario is and what funds and properties fall to be dealt with there.

The Dominion Act incorporates the United Church of Canada, to consist of the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church and the Congregational Churches, an entirely illusory proceeding as far as the Presbyterian Church is concerned, as there is no such entity known to the law. Individual Presbyterians may by voluntary choice join the United Church, but the Dominion Act cannot carry them into that body, or in any way make them statutory members thereof.

Then the Dominion Act, in so many words, vests in the United Church all property, real and personal, belonging to or held in trust for or to the use of the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church and the Congregational Churches; again almost an entirely illusory proceeding as far as the Presbyterian Church is concerned, as the Dominion Parliament has no jurisdiction over the property, real or personal, held in trust for or to the use of the ecclesiastical association, or religious community, which is, for convenience, spoken of as the Presbyterian Church, except to the very limited extent of some trusts of small amount which were formed prior to Confederation.

In spite of the persistent and flamboyant misrepresentation by the leaders of the Unionist Party that the Presbyterian Church is entering the United Church as a whole and leaving behind a derelict and revolting minority, the professional advisers of these leaders, not being deficient in legal knowledge, or wanting in common honesty, do not attempt to take with the Ontario Legislature that misleading and untenable position, but in their proposed Ontario legislation recognize, as they must, the fact that the individual must decide whether or not he will leave the Presbyterian Church and enter the United Church and that the individual must also decide what the destination shall be of the properties and funds which these leaders would fain sweep holus bolus into the wide open maw of the supposedly altruistic aggregation which is to be known by the modest and appropriate name of The United Church of Canada. The main feature of the proposed legislation is the enunciation of the rules by which that destination is to be ascertained and determined.

What then have to be dealt with by the Ontario Legislature? Practically three classes of property: (1) general trust funds; (2) college lands, buildings and endowments, and (3) congregational lands, buildings and endowments.

(1) General trust funds: In each Province of the Dominion a body of trustees has been incorporated to hold and deal with the funds of the Presbyterian Church in that Province. In Ontario this body, incorporated by a special act of the Ontario Legislature in 1900, is known as "The Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian Church in Canada" and most of the general resources of the Presbyterians in Ontario are vested in and under the control of this corporate body. A creature of the Ontario Legislature, with its office and investments in the Province, it is clearly subject to the jurisdiction, and subject only to the jurisdiction of the Ontario Legislature. It will be for that Legislature, having regard to he views and wishes of the Presbyterians of Ontario, as indicated in the votes which have already been cast, or, if deemed by the Legislature advisable, by a further general vote without congregational affinities and the pressure of pastoral pleading to decide what apportionment shall be made of the funds held by this Board of Trustees. There is much to be said in favor of allowing the continuing Presbyterian Church to retain the whole of these funds, but probably a division on a proportionate basis between the Presbyterians in Ontario who remain Presbyterians and those who intend instead to become United Churchmen would be on the whole fair and equitable.

(2) College lands, buildings and endowments: As to these the position is not by any means the same as in the case of the general trust funds. The colleges in Ontario are three in number, namely, Knox College, Queen's Theological College and the Ottawa Ladies' College. Each of these is a separate incorporated body and as to the first two there are special provisions which require consideration.

(a) Knox College: This college was incorporated in 1858 under this name by a special act of the then Province of Canada and this act, after reciting that the property held in trust for the institution has been acquired or granted from persons who granted or conveyed the same for the purpose of creating an educational establishment wherein the theological principles and doctrines of the Presbyterian Church should be taught, authorizes the synod to declare (as it thereupon did) these theological principles and doctrines and then provides that "that declaration shall be irrevocable and shall be held at all times thereafter to contain the theological doctrines and principles to be taught in the said college and for the propagation of which the property then held for the said college or thereafter to be acquired for it, shall be appropriated, and to no other." Knox College and its buildings in Toronto and its funds held in Toronto, are under the jurisdiction of the Legislature of Ontario. That Legislature has jurisdiction to disregard and abrogate a trust, however sacred, however irrevocable in the hope and expectation of its creators, but will it do so? Will it give to the exponents of an untried and novel creed the lands and funds dedicated to the upbuilding of the Presbyterian faith? Surely not.

(b) Queen's Theological College: This college was incorporated in 1912 under this name by a special act of the Dominion of Canada, as the successor of the Faculty of Theology of Queen's University. As to its mode of government and degree-conferring powers it is perhaps under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament, but as to its property rights it must bow to the jurisdiction of the Province, and all its property, real and personal, which by its constitution is expressly directed to be held "in trust for the promotion of theological learning and education of youth for the holy ministry, under the authority and according to the principles and standards of the Presbyterian Church in Canada," must be dealt with as the Legislature of Ontario shall decide. Are those who are relinquishing the principles and forsaking the standards of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for the more elastic and more easily lived up to principles and standards of the United Church to have this property? There can be but one answer.

(c) Ottawa Ladies' College: While this is an institution created and developed under Presbyterian auspices and carried on under the control of the Presbyterian Church, there are not in its case as in those of Knox College and Queen's Theological College a special dedication to and reliance upon the teachings and standards of the Presbyterian faith and the Legislature of Ontario can therefore as to it make such disposition as it may see fit without over-riding and abrogating sacred trusts such as are attached to the properties of Knox College and Queen's Theological College.

(3) Congregational lands, buildings and endowments: All these the Unionist legal advisers would in their proposed bill vest in the United Church, subject only to the exception that in any congregation in which there has been in the sentimental vote under the Dominion Act a majority against union the lands, buildings and endowment shall remain Presbyterian. But in any congregation in which there has been a majority of even one vote in favor of union the lands, buildings and endowment are to pass forthwith to the United Church. Surely a courageous suggestion, but one which it is submitted with confidence the Legislature of Ontario will not give effect to.

Are the lands and buildings acquired in part in years of self-denial by those desirous of forming a centre for the worship of God, according to the faith and traditions of their fathers, and in part by gifts and bequests from those who have died in that faith and in those traditions, to be transferred to a new and untried organization, it may be by one vote? No, surely the Legislature of Ontario will not assent to that. If there were a weak and factious minority opposing the scheme of church union something might be said in favor of the limitation of the power of that minority, but the rights of the many who have now so clearly shown that they wish to continue in Ontario the work and worship of the Presbyterian Church should assuredly not be taken from them without substantial and undoubted indication of opinion.

At the least as much should be required to effect a change of title in Ontario to congregational lands, buildings and endowments, as is required now by the law of the Province to enable a change to be made in the work-a-day and less immutable objects of a mere mercantile enterprise or to terminate such an enterprise by a sale of its undertaking to, or by its merging with another mercantile enterprise, even when that other mercantile enterprise may have objects and a mode of government similar to its own. The prior approval and assent of at least two-thirds of all those who are voting upon the question is in such a case essential and surely no less should be required in the more special realm of an attempted uprooting of cherished traditions and sacred associations.

In other jurisdictions a similar rule prevails. There cannot be under the Bank Act a merger of one bank with another, or a sale of the undertaking and assets of one bank to another, without the approval of two-thirds of all those holding shares in the institution. Under the Bankruptcy Act the approval of the higher proportion of three-fourths of all those interested must be had to interfere with the pre-existing contractual rights of debtor and creditor. And in the Free Church of Scotland case, close in analogy to the present one, the two-thirds rule also held good.

Why indeed should these out-going Unionists be allowed to take anything with them? They leave voluntarily on, as they say, a divine mission of regeneration. Why do they not, as did their apostolic prototypes, go forth providing neither scrip nor staves, neither gold nor silver nor brass? Why do these pilgrims of the new crusade of illumination and unity wish to cumber themselves with goods and gear? Do they doubt the warmth of the reception to empty-handed adventists? Whatever the reason, whatever the demand, the Legislature of Ontario will not, it is to be hoped, allow to be taken lightly from the Presbyterians of the Province that which belongs to them, merely because asked to do so by these weather-vane weaklings who are carried about by the wind of Union doctrine.

Yours, etc.,
R. S. CASSELS.

A JOLLY AT HOME HELD AT NORWOOD

Progressive Euchre and Concert Programme Much Enjoyed.

NORWOOD, Feb. 11.—The Canadian Order of Foresters held a very successful "at home" in their lodge rooms in the Whyte block on Friday evening last.

Progressive euchre and an impromptu program were enjoyed by all present, after which a delightful lunch was served by some of the members and their wives.

Enjoyable Assembly.

An assembly under the auspices of Catholic Women's League was held in the Government Armouries on Friday evening last, when a big crowd was in attendance. The six-piece orchestra of the Norwood High School furnished the music. The boys composing the orchestra—Mr. H. Munroe, violin; Mr. C. Copen, violin; Mr. R. Fry, cornet; Mr. C. Adams, saxaphone; Mr. K. McLaughlin, traps, and Mr. R. Elliott, piano—are receiving the congratulations of a large number of those who attended the gathering. The ladies of the league are also to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

Personal Paragraphs.

Birth Rate Decline Is British National Peril

MANCHESTER Feb. 11.—(Associated Press).—Decline of the birth rate in England has become a national peril in the opinion of Sir Robert Blair, former chief education officer of the London County Council, who, speaking at a Manchester educational conference, estimated that within the next eight years there would be 2,000,000 fewer workers in this country.

"Within the last few years, the birth rate has fallen off tremendously," he said, "and appears even yet to be going down. We are losing 100,000 children year from each age group in the schools and on this basis, from calculations I have made, by 1932 there will be some 2,000,000 less workers in England."

Taking this year as an example, asserted Sir Robert, the Board of Education is budgeting for a million less children than in its budget of 14 years ago.

Decrease of the birth rate during the years of the war in some measure accounts for the reduction in the number of children who are now attaining school age, according to Ministry of Health officials.

ADVANTAGES OF CITY MANAGER EXPOUNDED BY DR. H. BRITTAIN BEFORE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Prevents Overlapping And Raises City Work to Peak of Efficiency.

REAL DEMOCRACY

Mayor Turner, Aldermen and City Officials Present To Hear System.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of efficiency," said Dr. H. L. Brittain, of the Citizen's Research Institute, Toronto, in his address on the City Manager Form of Municipal Government, delivered before the Chamber of Commerce last night, when he urged the members to seek the best in city government.

G. A. Gillespie opened the meeting and introduced the business of the evening, but after the lights had been dimmed for a curtain raising lantern display by F. J. York, it was found that J. Wells Fraser had captured the chair.

Mr. Fraser's first duty was to report unofficially the vote in St. Paul's church, where he had been detained as one of the committee.

There was a splendid attendance of members of the Chamber of Commerce with a number of visitors. Several members of the City Council, and nearly all the city officials, were present and expressed appreciation of the concise and interesting presentation of the system of municipal government that is making big strides in popular favor.

Dr. Brittain was an able advocate of the city manager plan. Firmly convinced of its superiority to any other system yet tried and having a fund of experience on which to draw, with a ready wit that pointed his address effectively, he was ready too with figures and data to meet the questions asked by his interested audience.

History of Growth.

Having adopted their municipal institutions in the United States from those in Great Britain, the people did not change their systems for many years, Dr. Brittain said in outlining the history of the plan. Canada had imported these systems through the United Empire Loyalists and from England, setting up almost universally the Mayor and council form of municipal government Later there were developments of differences between the Unitd Setates and Canada and between both and Britain In the United States and Canada and bements were influenced by the Federal system of government, even having two houses in the city council, and the mayor had great powers In Philadelphia he is the head of large spending departments and is a powerful executive

When Dr Brittain remarked that in Canada the mayor is largely an ornamental officer there was a general laugh at the expense of Mayor Turner, who was one of the audience, and was prone to blush at the honor thrust upon him, but the speaker explained that he did not mean the mayor is ornamental in his personal appearance

The duties of the mayor of a Canadian municipality include representing the community at social functions, presiding at meetings of the council, and, as chief magistrate, acting officially in great emergencies like riots He has not much more power than individual members of the city council, but is more in the public eye and is expected to be more of a leader

With the passage of time weakness developed in the mayor and council form of government, more noticeable on the United States side of the line They imported Federal politics into the councils, and weakened the strength of the municipal governments to give honest representation

The two main functions of a city government are: (1- Decision as to policies, and (2- Carrying out the policies; and it is possible and necessary to keep them separate and give the deciding body control over those who are to put the policies into action "It is through lack of appreciation of this difference that civic bodies fall down," Dr Brittain said. "We have too large city councils. They think they are little parliaments and that they have to make speeches. Instead of being government by deliberative assembly it is government by gab rather than government by deliberation. With five or seven men sitting around a table there is less chance of assault I don't supoose such a thing ever happens in Peterboro there is a better exchange of ideas and a whole lot better government."

Condemns Ward System.

In condemning the ward system of politics as being largely responsible for the debts of municipalities, Dr. Brittain said ward politics in many respects is the curse of municipal, provincial and national government. Sectionalism is one of the curses of Canada and United States, and is a stumbling block to good government everywhere.

"There is not a clear enough line drawn between the functions of deciding and carrying out politics," he continued. "Every once in a while you find an Alderman who thinks he was elected to run a department. He wants to tell the Chief of the Fire Department, the Chief of Police, or the head of the public works department how to conduct his business. In private business you tell the head of the department he is responsible for carrying out your policies, and if he doesn't do the job right you fire him. The only way to distinguish between these two classes is to make the executive responsible for carrying out the policies laid down by the deliberative body."

With the growth of cities the old form of government became antiquated and cumbersome, and search was made for a new plan. Some cities tried appointed commissions, and in 1914 there were 600 under this system. Usually five men were chosen, and they not only determined but carried out the policies of the people. They were absolute czars, and from this developed the weakness that discredited the plan.

"It is impossible to elect experts," Dr. Brittain remarked parenthically. "The only kind of expert that can get elected is the expert in getting elected."

There was a sudden drop in the growth of the commission movement, and it was decided that the commission should have nothing to do with the carrying out of the policies, but should hire a man to carry them out and fire him when he didn't. There are now over 300 carrying out the city manager form of government, and only four have discarded it after trial. In Canada there are at least 13 municipalities working under the system, 3 in Nova Scotia, 1 in New Brunswick, 5 in Quebec, 2 in Ontario, 2 in Manitoba, and some in the prairie provinces that are practically, though not theoretically, city manager governed.

Functions of Manager.

Quoting from the city manager law of the state of New Jersey, Dr. Brittain said he is the chief executive of the council, responsible for the carrying out of all of the ordinances and laws of the municipality. He compiles and submits the budget. He appoints and removes all department heads and their subordinates, except such as are protected by other laws, such as the police department in Ontario. He supervises and controls all appointees and reports any appointments and removals currently to the Council. He negotiates contracts subject to approval of the Council and sees that their terms are faithfully carried out. He attends all meetings of the Council, taking part in the discussion but not having the right to vote.

The manager acts under the direction and supervision of the council and subject to its approval, but the council is not permitted to interfere with the official acts and duties of the manager or other officers. In this way the line is drawn between the policy-determining responsibilities of the council and the administrative duties of the manager and his subordinates.

"Some people have the idea that the city manager plan is not democratic," the speaker said. "In my opinion, that is all poppy-cock. What is the idea of democracy? Is it to pass the jobs around?

The secret of democracy is really control of the men elected by the people. The essence of control is knowledge. The secret of control of a policy-forming body is to have a small body and such a reporting system that the people get the true facts. One man—the city manager—is easier to keep track of than ten or fifteen or twenty-nine men on the council. Put all your eggs in one basket, and then watch the basket."

One of the reasons why efficient managers are not installed, Dr. Brittain found, is the reluctance of municipalities to pay good salaries. The Aldermen cannot see why a man employed by them should get more than they do.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "if a city official is a good one, he has to take most of his salary out in satisfaction. If he is inefficient, he has a good job."

Five men would be sufficient to designate the policies to be followed in Peterboro, Dr. Brittain thought, and the city manager should be paid $5,000. He should be able to earn this in spending Peterboro's budget of $250,000. Police and schools should be kept out of politics.

Vote of Thanks.

Mayor J. J. Turner, in moving a vote of thanks to Dr. Brittain, said the interest in the city management plan is caused by the search for efficiency. He agreed with the speaker that if the plan is tried it should be for a certain period of years, so that it might be given a fair chance.

P. P. Westbye seconded the motion, and confirmed Dr. Brittain's good reports of the effectiveness of the city manager plan in cities with which he is acquainted.

Mr. Fraser expressed pleasure in seeing so many present, and welcomed many who were not members. "The Chamber of Commerce is not a closed corporation," he said, "and these visitors are welcome at any time."

The President paid a tribute to Ryerson Ritchie, who had much to do with the Board of Trade and with the success that has attended the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Ritchie briefly told his appreciation of the address and of the kind words of the President.

Nominating Committee.

This being the last regular meeting of the Chamber before the nomination of officers for the next business year, a nominating committee was elected as follows: V. J. McElderry, Roland Denne, Dr. E. H. Wood, W. A. Richardson and Harry W. Cressman.

A judging committee was appointed, composed of J. A. McNab, chairman; J. F. McFadden, W. S. Dodds, Walter Stocker and J. E. Pattie.

The audit board for the year is composed of R. E. Layfield, C. E. Pennefather and C. S. Cummer.

Travel Talk.

F. J. York, of Toronto, gave a very interesting illustrated travel talk in which he lauded the opportunities in Canada's golden west. He presented slides that showed the principal points of interest from coast to coast, including the Hydraulic Lift Lock at Peterboro.

GERMAN BOYS MURDER PARENTS AND SISTERS

Kill Them in Sleep With a Hammer and Hatchet.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Recently the bodies of a man called Masel, his wife and two little daughters were found pounded and hacked to death in their home in the village of Weiher, near Kulmbach, Bavaria.

Two sons of the murdered couple, one 14 and the other 16 years old, were found at the scene of the murder, but suspicion fell on neither of them at first, as believing them to be the murderers seemed altogether too far-fetched. Gradually, however, the police began to suspect the two boys, until finally, a few days ago, the youngest, when told that his parents in the other world would forgive him if he owned up to the murder, made a clean breast of it. When the older brother heard this he, too, confessed.

On the night of the murder the older brother took a hammer and a hatchet into the room where he and the younger brother slept. When sure every one was asleep he waked the younger brother and they crept together into the room where their parents and little sisters were sleeping.

The younger knocked the sleepers on the head with the hammer to daze them and then the elder boy killed all four with the hatchet.

Both boys refuse to tell the motive, but it is thought that they desired to appropriate their parents' possessions, since one boy is said to have been overheard to remark: "Now all the stuff is ours."

SHOULD LANDLADY PAY?

Kingston Council Questions Liability When Tenant Jumps Light Bill.

KINGSTON, Feb. 11 (Special).—Alderman Peters states that it is very unfair for a landlord to have to foot a bill for a tenant who skips out without paying his gas or electric light bill and the city council passed a motion he presented to the effect that the city solicitor be asked his opinion as to the right of the public utilities commission to charge these bills to the property owners when the property owner does not pay the account.

"Henry, are you crazy?"

"I'm sore."

"You stay right here. I don't care whether you're sore or not. You're not going near Mr. Underwood."

"Why doesn't he stick to the truth, then?"

"I haven't the least idea. I don't particularly care. But you keep away from him."

The Wreck shook himself loose from her grip and went back to the table. Charley McSween nodded his approval.

"There ain't any occasion to get excited," he said. "You might go up there and tell him he's a liar and bust him in the eye. But that wouldn't be no compensation for sittin' in jail over at the county seat, waitin' for 'em to give you the rest of your natural life."

"I'm not going to stay here for the rest of my natural life," growled the Wreck.

"There ain't any need."

"How long are you figuring on?"

"I figure I'm goin' to need you and Mis' Williams so long as the boss and his family are here."

"How long is that?"

Charley seemed to be calculating.

"Not moren't a month, it ain't likely."

Sally gasped.

"A month!" she cried. "Why we won't dream of it!"

"I'm sure sorry, ma'am. But he 'most always stays a month."

"We've stayed longer now than we had any business to."

"We're all creatures in the guiding hands of Providence," observed Charley. "A month ain't much in the lives of young folks."

Sally was showing plain signals of alarm. She fell to clasping and unclasping her hands and moistening her lips, while her eyes blinked with bewilderment and consternation. Finally she began walking to and fro.

"I won't do it!" she exclaimed. "A month! Not another day, if I can help it. You haven't any business to keep us here. Do you think I'm going to stay here and be turned into a slave, cooking your meals and doing the kitchen work for a lot of able-bodied men who are too lazy to help themselves? Yes, and doing housework, too. I won't stand for it."

Charley looked interested, and so did the Wreck.

"Just because I've been good-natured about it," stormed Sally, "is no reason why I'm going to let anybody rub it in. I don't care what happens. I'm through! I'm going to find out——"

The Wreck was patting her on the arm.

"Ss-h, now," he said. "Go easy."

She flung his hand aside and turned on him with a look of amazement.

"Henry Williams, are you a worm?"

"That's all right," he said in a voice that tried to be soothing. "You're not going to go running yourself into trouble."

"You mean to say you're going to sut mit?" she demanded.

"There, now you mustn't get excited," said the Wreck.

For and instant she was without speech.

"Excited? You say that I'm excited? You? Why—why——"

She sat in a chair and burst into hysterical laughter. The Wreck turned to Charley and shrugged his shoulders.

"Sometimes she gets a little nervous spell," he explained. "She'll be all right in a minute or two."

Sally listened in amazement as she laughed. It was almost impossible to believe. Henry Williams said she was nervous!

"Now I reckon we're all normal again," remarked Charley, with a satisfied nod. "There ain't anything in the world like matrimonial teamwork, ma'am. When Henry busts loose, you soothe him down. And when you bust loose, Henry jams his foot on the brakes. It sort of keeps you both steady and makes for a reasonable amount of peace and quiet."

"But we're not going to stay a month," said the Wreck. "Don't make any mistake about that."

"No," said Sally. "We positively won't stay."

"Well, maybe it won't be a month, ma'am. The family might take a notion to clear out in a couple of weeks."

Sally and the Wreck shook their heads. They were calm again, but they had not changed their minds.

"The main point," said Charley, "is what in blazes can you do? You ain't goin' to navigate very far on three wheels, and anyhow, you're goin' to get hopped on the minute you try. That's the practical side. Now, personally, I'm disposed to be reasonable. I ain't givin' any indorsements to the habit of highway robbery. Bein' law abidin' myself, it may be I'm prejudiced but that's the way I feel. At the same time, I ain't sayin' but what there may be occasions when it's justifiable to make use of gasoline wherever it can be found handiest. That, I reckon, is the sentimental side. They sort of balance off, as near as I see it."

"Get down to cases," advised the Wreck.

"I'm comin' to it. I'll put it brutal, maybe, but I'm sincere, as always. I'm not going to let you young folks go diggin' out of here just because you feel restless. I've got a duty to my boss, and a duty to myself. I ain't goin' to say anything to him, mind. I've done considerable lyin' up to now, which is a sort of guarantee that I'll perform such other lyin' as may be necessary. I've even gone so far as to get myself looked upon with suspicion. But if you try bustin' loose out of here and leavin' me flat, with no cook and no dish-washer, and takin' your flivver with you as a sign of guilt, the whole durned temple is due to be pulled down sudden and ruthless."

He eyed them both with great gravity.

"It may be, Henry," he added, "that when she comes down the foreman of this God-fearin' establishment is goin' to be buried along with them that starts the wreckin' job. But she's comin' down, just the same. I ain't hankerin' for ruin, but on the subject of cooks I'm a desperate man."

CHAPTER XVI.

Find the Wheel.

The breaking point had come, and Sally and the Wreck both admitted it. They spent all forenoon planning the getaway. Charley McSween committed an error in applied psychology when he mentioned the probability of a month at the Underwood ranch. To the Wreck, who was merely west for his nerves, it might have been no great matter, although he did not fancy his environment. But to Sally it was a prospect of unutterable dismay, and the Wreck was there to serve her. She should have been in Chicago before this Ma Morgan ought to be getting the first letters. In the absence of news, there would soon be panic at the Bar-M. Dad Morgan would be rousing the county, or starting for Chicago, or gunning for the Wreck, or doing something else desperate and foolish.

But there was a flivver wheel to be found, and neither of them had even encountered a clue. They devoted part of the morning to searching for it, and tried to be systematic about it. Sally took the house, which was ransacked from top to bottom, while the Wreck gave his time to a close inspection of all the outbuildings and such other possible hiding-places as suggested themselves to him. Both shook their heads when they met to report.

"I could make him put the valves back," said the Wreck, "but I couldn't give him any good reason for it. I suppose I'd have to lock him up after he did it, to keep him from telling."

Sally dismissed the idea with a wave of her hand.

"If we can't find the wheel to our own car," she said, "what do you say about trying to make it on horses?"

"Perfectly simple."

She was doubtful about that.

"I'm not sure about you," she said.

He began ruffling with familiar symptoms.

"Henry, there's no need for you to be sensitive about it. You're not supposed to be a good rider, any more than I'm a good chemist. You haven't had the training. I think you'd make a beautiful rider in time, but you're a very bad one just now. You suffer agony every time you get on a horse."

"You haven't heard me squealing," he said, sharply.

"No I haven't. You wouldn't squeal if you were dying. But so far as making a getaway goes it's not a question of squealing. It's a question of falling off."

He flushed painfully, but she could see no use in dodging the facts.

"I've seen you fall off four times," she said "three times in one day."

"But the second ride I only fell off once," he declared, stubbornly. "I showed improvement, didn't I?"

"You fall off any time the horse stops suddenly, Henry."

"All right, I admit it," he said. "But after we get started we're not going to do any stopping, are we? And after we've made the getaway, what difference does it make if I do fall off?"

There was something about his stubbornness that secretly delighted her, but she did not mention it.

"Well, we may have to try it," she said, "if you really don't mind falling off."

"I don't mind."

They decided, if it came to a question of horses, that the Wreck would take Charley McSween's big bay, while Sally would take the rangy animal that Jerome Underwood rode.

"They're the two best horses on the ranch," she said, "with the exception of that ugly roan that one of the boys rides. But he's out riding fence somewhere, so we can't get it. If we're going to steal horses, we want good ones."

"Sure the best," affirmed the Wreck, speaking as a connoisseur.

"We'll have to leave most of our baggage behind, of course. We'll have to travel light and fast—as fast as we can, anyhow."

"Don't you worry about me. I'm all right so long as they keep going."

"And of course we can't start until it's dark and everybody is asleep."

"Suits me."

The vision of getting away, even though it was not beyond the rough planning stage, brightened her wonderfully. She became as cheerful as though she were already far on the road. Of course, she knew it would be an awful ordeal for the Wreck, but he was so willing, even eager, to undergo the torture that it reconciled her to the prospect. Whatever befell him, she knew that he would take it standing up, like a man—except, of course, when he happened to fall off.

MR. J. PERRY

Why Be Offensive With Bad Breath?

Mr. J. Perry of 792 DeKalb Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my wife that my breath was disagreeable.

"I tried perfumed tablets, mouth washes and other camouflages which gave only temporary relief.

"After consulting my dentist and finding my teeth in good condition, I confided in a friend, who suggested that possibly my trouble was constipation—faulty intestinal elimination. After taking a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, my stomach and bowels were relieved, foul and impure gases eliminated.

"I now enjoy a wholesome breath as well as improved health. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small, easy to take, move the bowels in a gentle manner—without discomfort and distress."

WOMEN IN AGRICULTURE.

Many Opportunities for Those Who Specialize.

TORONTO, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—Many interesting branches of agriculture are open to women who will specialize, said Miss Mary MacMahon, convener of employments for women committee, before the local council of women. Too many young women from the country are ignoring opportunities at their very doors and coming to Toronto to seek employment, thereby adding to the city's problems, Miss MacMahon stated, adding that nearly half of the applicants for business employment in the city come from the country.

In future the local council of women is going to wield its influence in the vital matter of muncipal elections. Non-political municipal elections were an impossibility, according to Dr. Stowe Gullen, while Mrs. W. H. Ferguson declared that if rested with women to set men an example and get away from politics in municipal matters.

ALDERMAN GOT RELIEF GOODS STATES NURSE

Startling Evidence in Judicial Investigation of Guelph Relief Department.

BLANK ORDERS.

Fictitious Names Used to Obtain Goods, Says Former Housekeeper.

GUELPH, Feb. 11. — (Canadian Press).—Some rather startling evidence was submitted during the first day of the judicial investigation into the conduct of the city relief department which opened before Judge Spotton at the Court-House yesterday.

Statements made by one witness, Mrs. Sarah Collins, nurse-in-training at St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, and former housekeeper for City Relief Officer James Cassidy, caused considerable interest in the proceedings.

Mrs. Collins, who was under cross examination for over three hours, told of the workings of the relief department during the year and a half she lived at Cassidy's home. She testified that groceries received on relief orders and delivered at Cassidy's residence, had later been taken to the home of Alderman Phil Evans, and she also said that the Alderman himself had called at the relief officer's house for some of the goods in question.

Other statements made by Mrs. Collins were in effect that ficticious names had been used on relief orders, and that blank orders had been handed out a number of times to her knowledge. She also alleged relief slips had been handed out to certain persons in lieu of money for work done for Mr. Cassidy, who holds the dual position of relief officer and caretaker at municipal headquarters.

NO TOTAL INCREASE IN REDISTRIBUTION

Premier Calls the Proposed Change Merely Readjustment of Representation.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Claims of population and of county boundaries will be fundamental considerations governing a redistribution plan for the Ontario Legislature, which the Government announced yesterday in the Speech from the Throne.

Through it all, however, the membership of the Chamber will be unchanged in its total. Additional seats are declared to be assured to Toronto and to certain others of the large cities, which are at present inadequately represented. "The Government does not desire to increase the membership of the Chamber," Premier Ferguson stated last evening. "It will," he added, "be a readjustment."

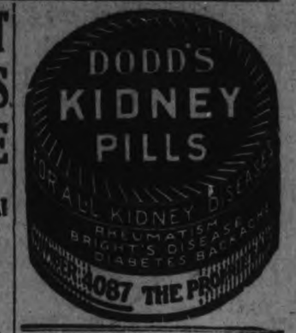
COST OF LIVING RISES.

Many Countries in Europe Show a Definite Increase.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 11.—Canadian Press.)—The cost of living is not generally descreasing, according to a review published by the Labor Department in Ottawa. Quoting the International Labor Review, the review says:

"The cost of living index numbers for the last three or four months for certain European countries show a distinct rise. This is the case in Australia, Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Great Britain, Irish Free State, Norway, Poland, Sweden and Italy. In the Netherlands, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Finland, Canada, the United States, Egypt, India, South Africa and New Zealand, recent figures show slight fluctuations only in the cost of living, there being no definite movement."

In Britain food prices rose 12 1-2 per cent. between June and December. In France and Germany the cost of most of the necessaries of life also rose steeply round the end of the year. In Canada the average price of 29 foods in 60 cities was estimated at 10.78 in January, 1924, fell off slightly in the summer months, and was back to 10.57 in December.



MADOC EDITOR DEAD.

Alexander Watson, Owner of Madoc Review, Died on Monday.

KINGSTON, Feb. 11 (Special).—Alexander Watson, for many years editor of the Madoc Review, died on Monday, which marked his 77th birthday. For many years he conducted this paper and prior to going into newspaper work he taught at the Madoc High School. He was a man of wonderful intellect and his pupils owe much to their former principal. He was a great student of literature, and was a gifted public speaker. He was an arts graduate of Toronto University. Deceased leaves to mourn his loss his wife, formerly Miss A. Ross; one son, J. James, editor of The Madoc Review; and two daughters, Mrs. Davies of New York, and Margaret.

Pains Stopped for millions in this way

Remember this when you feel a pain. Millions have learned how to stop it at once. For 65 years they have done so by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

All the pains allied with rheumatism, with soreness, backache or lameness. And chest colds are checked at the start.

Just rub the sore spot with St. Jacobs Oil. It causes counter irritation. Or it relieves the congestion by bringing the blood to the surface. Then the pain is ended, and you can wait in comfort while Nature cures.

Now there are several ways offered to do this. But remember that St. Jacobs Oil has for 65 years stood the test. It has proved itself to millions. Nobody has ever found anything better and nobody ever will.

Don't wait until the pain starts. Keep St. Jacobs Oil on hand. It may save nights of suffering. Rub the sore spot as soon as pain appears, or a chest cold. Get relief at once. Think what protection this means to you, and the cost is only 35 cents.

NEPAL RULER ORDERS SLAVERY ABOLISHED IN HIS DOMINION

Maharajah Issued Moving Appeal to Free 51,419, Saying Slavery Accursed.

A MOTHER'S TORTURE

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Maharajah Tribhubana Bir Bikram of Nepal, an independent mountain State in North India, has taken the momentous step of issuing a decree for the abolition of slavery. The Maharajah announced his decision in a speech which lasted for two hours and was in the form of an appeal to his people to assist him in carrying out his far-reaching reform.

The Maharajah exempted from all blame those whose slaves were their inheritance, whom they treated in a patriarchial manner, and those who kept slaves for labor purposes. He appealed for the aid of both these classes.

Slave traders, however, he described in biting terms as "those who do not scruple to separate husband from wife, mother from child; who do not scruple to resort to base methods to circumvent the law; who hope to become rich by a trade upon which rests the curse of heaven, a trade which is overloaded with the leaden tears of parents and children. This aspect of it is the most reprehensible, the most revolting of all."

The Maharajah dramatically quoted a number of painful instances.

Children Torn From Mother.

"A mother, a slave, had given birth to seven children, and her master, despite her protests and tearful prayers, had already disposed of one daughter and four sons by sale. The woman, in her petition, wrote that the bitter laments of her children at thus being forced to separate from their mother sent a pang through her heart more acute than any she had ever suffered.

"When, to her dismay, the hard-hearted master arranged to take away the baby slave that still was suckling at her breast, her endurance was broken down completely. She supplicated and prayed, as parents pray, as you and I pray, to the gods on high when the dearest of our children lies in the clutches of grim death—to her master, arbiter of her destiny and, to her, as omnipotent in this crisis as fell Death himself, but all to no purpose.

"His adamant heart did not melt. The master completed the transaction.

The Maharajah declined to consider any proposals to change his decision. He was prepared only to agree to arrangements to make the transition easy. He proposed the fixing of an early date for the liberation, compensation of owners and apprenticeship of former slaves to their masters for seven years.

There are 51,419 slaves in Nepal, owned by 15,719 persons. The Maharajah's speech was delivered on Dec. 3, but only now is reported in messages from India.

State Offers Compensation.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The fact that there are 51,419 slaves and 15,719 slave owners in Nepal came as a startling surprise to the majority of the British public, who have been generally unaware of the existence of slavery in this Indian State, which, although independent, is under the aegis of the British Empire.

The Maharajah's announcement that a date would be fixed when slavery would cease to be legal in Nepal outlined a scheme whereby the Government would assist in the suppression by buying slaves from those owners inclined to sell and liberating them.

He intimated that the scheme would operate gradually, but would look to the ultimate and complete elimination of the traffic. The government of Nepal, he added, had allotted £5,000 for the purpose.

Home of Famous Fighting Gurkhas.

Nepal, home of the famous Gurkhas, lying between the United Provinces of Northern India and Thibet, is one of the few remaining monarchies in the world where the ruler's word is supreme. An order of the Marahajah cannot be question, and from it there is no appeal. He is a despot in the fullest sense of the word.

The State is about the size of New York and Connecticut, and its Gurkha inhabitants are noted as among the greatest fighters in the world. Its history dates back as far as the seventh century, and manuscripts have been found in the ancient temples telling of the reign of Ancuvarma of the Thakuri dynasty, in the year 633. It is only since 1768, however, that any authentic record of the rulers of Nepal has been kept, for on that date the country was conquered by the Gurkhas who were driven from their own country, Rajuptana, by victorious Moslems.

Since the earliest times of which there is any record, slavery has been an institution in that country, and all families of rank possess many slaves —the prices ranging from $35 to $75. Slaves are generally employed in domestic and field work, are usually treated well by their owners, and are carefully protected by the law.

Besides the common slaves bought and sold as chattels, every family of high caste possesses hereditary slaves, whose position in the household is more that of retainers. In much the same manner in which the post of butler in an English family would be handed down from father to son for generations among the servants, so the office of major doma in the household of a Nepal chieftain would pass from one slave to his son, and so on.

The loyalty of these slaves to their masters is unswerving, and many officers of the Gurkha regiments that went to the aid of the allied forces during the world war took with them as body servants men whose families had been slaves in their service for generations.

Historic Friend to Britain.

For more than a century and a half the Gurkhas have been the friends of the British, and since 1815 there has been a British Resident Commissioner at the Court of Nepal. On two occasions, in 1792, and again in 1854, the Nepales invaded Thibet, the second invasion being so successful that the Thibetans were compelled to pay annual tribute of $33,000. The country rendered valuable assistance to the British Government at the time of the Indian Mutiny in 1857, and since that time regiments of Gurkhas have formed valuable units in the British Army.

The Maharajah maintains a standing army of about 32,000 infantry and 3,500 artillery. There are no cavalry regiments, as the mountainous country does not lend itself to the work of mounted troops. The army is well drilled and efficient, and is equipped with rifles and arms of the latest pattern.

The first Gurkha regiments entered the British service in 1815, when three battalins were enlisted from the men who were thrown out of employment owing to the cessation of hostilities with the old British East India Company. These regiments were styled the First, Second and Third Gurkhas and were soon employed on active service. They behaved with much gallantry during the first Sikh war and at the siege of Delhi during the Indian Mutiny won a great name for their loyalty and courage. Other battalions were raised from time to time and now there are about twelve regiments of Gurkhas in the British Indian Army, numbering altogether about 24,000 men.

In verse and prose the praises of the Gurkhas have been sung by Kipling and other noted authors. The men are small of stature, but their hearts are large. It is traditional in the British Army that the Gurkhas have always been brigaded with the Sikhs and Highlanders, and side by side the tall, bearded Sikhs, the kilted Scotsmen and the small, wiry Gurkhas have fought in countless battles.

In First Gas Attack at Ypres

It was a battalion of Gurkhas marching with battalion of the Seaforth Highlanders that fought through the mist of German poison gas that swept over the British lines ab over Ypres in April 1915. For months there after, in the British stand at Ypres it was Gurkha rifle men who fought shoulder to shoulder with the Royal Canadian Highlanders until they were relieved by the Brigade of Guards.

Through the whole of the European war they rendered valiant service, but always remained faithful to their caste and traditions. Besides being armed with the rifle and bayonet of the infantrymen, the Gurkhas carry a double-edged curved knife known as a kukri. Tradition has it that the kukri must never be returned to its scabbard after being drawn until it has been wet with human blood. So the British and Canadian soldiers noticed that whenever a Gurkha showed them his kukri he would always nick the end of his finger and allow a drop or two of blood to drip on the polished steel before he put his weapon away.

The whole country is a veritable paradise for the big-game hunter, and when King George of Great Britain was the guest of the Maharajah on a hunting trip in January 1912, the bag included thirty-seven tigers and nineteen rhinoceri.

The condition of the roads throughout the whole country is execrable and there is only one outlet to the adjoining States in the South. In consequence of the excessive seclusion, the internal administration has remained almost unaffected by European influence or ideas. Restrictions on commerce, prohibitions against European influence or ideas. Restrictions on commerce, prohibitions against Europeans entering the country or traveling beyond certain narrow limits are still as strongly enforced as they were a century ago.

With the exception of the British Resident and a few European officials who live in the Residency grounds at Khatmandu, the capital, no one is allowed to visit the country without a special permit. Visitors are not allowed to go beyond the Valley of Khatmandu, a trace of country about fifteen miles wide by twenty miles long surrounded by high mountains.

The inhabitants of the country are energetic and active, eager to make the most of any opportunity that offers itself. The population is increasing rapidly and the trend of inmigration is toward the foothills along Bhutan and into Assam.

The people are fond of show, both in military display and religious festivals, and the latter are numerous The woman take a prominent part in most of them.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SLEIGH DRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Preston Were Hosts at Enjoyable Social.

SPECIAL SERVICES.

HASTINGS, Feb. 10.—In place of the usual meeting of the Young People's League of the Methodist Church held on Monday evenings the meeting took the form of a sleighing party.

About eighty persons both young and old were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Preston in Asphodel.

Three large sleigh loads and other vehicles conveyed the party to their destination,

On arriving a programme was given which opened with singing and prayer.

The meeting was in charge of the 1st Vice President, Miss Joyce Richardson.

The topic was taken by Miss Jean Macdonald.

The Scripture reading by Mr. Walter Dodd.

A piano solo "The Old Oaken Bucket" with variations was given by Miss C. Doxsee.

Miss Mae Hinton gave a reading "The Gatherer".

Hayden Kelly sang a solo.

A reading "The Volunteer Organist" was given by Miss Ada Bonds.

Mr. A. Shand gave a splendid violin solo.

Miss Madeline Bonds sang "It's not the house that makes the home." Mr. Shand favoured with another violin solo and Miss M. Bands a reading.

A vote of thanks was moved to the host and hostess by Misses J. Richardson and Hazel Macdonld.

Rev. M. L. Hinton gave a short address thanking all who took part in making the evenings entertainment such a success Mr. Preston, the host made a splendid speech and wished the League much success in its future undertakings.

Contests were a part of the programme for the grown ups and the younger one present indulged in games.

Lunch was served and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Preston for their hospitality.

Special Service

On Sunday evening a special service was held in the Methodist Church.

The pastor, Rev. M. L. Hinton chose for his topic the life and work of Sir Isaac Watts, one of the foremost hymn writers.

A brief outline of his work was given together with several of his works.

Several hymns were sung during the service and those chosen were the ones most thought of by writers of his works, including "When I survey the Wondrous Cross," the first hymn to be transposed in the English language.

SET STANDARDS FOR PLOUGHING

Millbrook Men Report on Convention of Ontario Ploughmen's Association.

MILLBROOK Feb. 11.—L. H. Winslow president of the Cavan and South Monaghan Ploughmen's Association and delegates Wilbert Larmer and Thomas McCamus were in Toronto last week attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Ploughmen's Association.

The International Ploughing Match for 1925 will be held at Brockville its situation as a border city encouraging the expectation that many contestants and spectators from New York State willbe in attendance.

Among the reports presented from branch organizations were those from the Cavan and South Monaghan and the Peterborough Association and all showed a prosperous condition with increased attention being given to the junior ploughmen.

In the discussion over the classes for jointer and plain plows and the utility of the high-cut plougn Mr. Winslow and Mr. J. J. Duffus Peterborough were among the directors taking part. As there appears to be a divergence of opinion over the interpretation of the terms "jointer and plain plows" a committee consisting of D. D. Gray Ottawa William Doherty Toronto and Jas. McLean Richmond Hill was appointed "to set standards for use at the provincial match and also for the guidance of the local associations."

It was apointed that the evenness of the furrow is of more importance than width or depth. Rev. Mr. Ross Owen Sound suggested "that the prize-winning ploughmen and the boy who takes up ploughing are not likely to leave the farm because they take an interest and pride in their work. The plower of a straight furrow is likely to be generally 'straight'." As the number of entries at the local plowing match in the boys' classes is increasing each year these suggestions are of particular interest to the officials of the township's association.

Mr. Winslow was appointed a member of the executive this year. Mr. J. J. Duffus Peterborough is the first vice-president.

At Fairs' Convention.

Ex-Warden A. J. Henderson and G. A. Fair were in Toronto last week as delegates from the local agricultural society attending the annual convention of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions. Three hundred and seventy-five delegates were in attendance and fully four hundred guests sat down to the banquet held in the King Edward Hotel on Thursday evening.

His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt and Hon. J. S. Martin Minister of Agriculture with the secretary J. Lockie Wilson were the principal speakers.

The officers for 1925 are: President Jas. McLean Richmond Hill who has several times been in this vicinity judging at the annual ploughing matches Vice-President Dr. Morrow Woodstock 2nd Vice-President R. Whyte Elmsdale Secretary-Treasurer J. L. Wilson Toronto.

A.Y.P.A. Meeting

At the last regular meeting of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Thomas Church the rector Rev. Canon Allen gave an address on "The Relation of the A.Y.P.A. to the Church" and the president Mr. R. Stone who is also district president continued the subject with a talk on "The Relation of the A.Y.P.A. to the Sunday School."

The subject matter presented was most enlightening and gave the young people a broader outlook on the scope of their work in all its affiliations.

Rev. A. H. McConnachie Centreville and Rev. G. S. Gervan go to Campbellford on Tuesday to attend the Presbytery meeting when the resignations of the Presoyterian ministers at Campbellford and Warkworth are to come up for consideration.

Appointed Judge.

Miss May Needham who last year received notice that her name had been listed among the judges employed at the annual fall fairs under appointment by the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions Association was among the delegates who attended the yearly convention held at the King Edward Hotel Toronto last week.

Domestic science ladies' work and dairy products were among the departments in which Miss Needham served last fall Napanee and other points east as well as fairs in the Parry Sound district being among the places visited.

At Home to Friends

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eakins were at home to a number of their friends on Friday evening eight tables of progressive five hundred furnishing entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The prize winners were: (1) Mrs. J. E. Allen Mr. A. H. Barnes. Consolation Mrs. John Allen David Fowler.

Four ladies who supplied as gentlemen during the play were also eligible for a prize Mrs. W. W. Kennedy whose score card showed the highest number of games won being the recipient.

Mrs. E. Whyte assisted her sister Mrs. Eakins in receiving the guests and looking after their pleasure and comfort during the evening.

Mr. C. Lord of Beaverton is spending this week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Lord. Miss Mabel Lord is also expected home for a brief stay arriving on Monday.

Mrs. Arthur Mulligan of Cleveland who has been visiting her mother Mrs. S. Eakins for the past few weeks returned home on Saturday.

The Millbrook council met on Friday evening and adjourned until the first Monday in March for its regular business session.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

WHICH GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROVIDE FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

To the Editor:

Some parties are appealing to the Federal government to provide funds for the relief of the unemployed. A very little investigation will show that this proposal is a great mistake.

As closely as I can reckon every dollar that reaches the treasury from import duties costs the consumer approximately ten dollars. Besides that the Federal taxation falls exclusively on the industrial classes. The owner of a well situated acre in the centre of this city can collect a fortune yearly, for which he need not render the first service for taxation or anything else. He can enjoy all the benefits of society without any of its burdens. The amount that industry must thus pay for the occupation of the land in this city approximates $25,000,000 yearly. This is the honest source from which any relief should be taken. Abundance can thus be obtained without any burden on the industrial classes. Otherwise industry and business will be subject to a charge of ten dollars for every dollar granted for the relief of the unemployed.

I notice that a strong effort is being made to bring about an increase in the tariff, ostensibly to protect industry, from abundant imports. But the advocates of this atrocious policy to place further burdens on those who are already overburdened, are blind as bats and silent as oysters, as to the endless and increasing tribute that industry must surrender for the occupation of "the land, which the Lord their God, gave them." Is it not amazing that in this age of supposed enlightenment, anyone can be found to advocate a policy to add to the burdens of the poorest of the poor and to add to the fortunes of those who gain wealth, not by work, but by the despoiling of industry?

THROAT TROUBLES

When the cold weather begins many people are bothered with minor throat troubles, such as hoarseness.

Smoking or living in smoky, dusty factory towns also brings this trouble to many and other throat troubles are likely to result. Public speaking and singing are also causes.

A simple remedy for hoarseness is a gargle of a boric solution. One old-fashioned remedy consists of allowing a small amount of borax to melt in the mouth.

Take a bit of borax, about the size of a bean. Let it dissolve slowly. Two of these may safely be taken within an hour if a clear speaking or singing voice is to be desired.

Many singers use the white of an egg, beaten to a stiff froth.

EDUCATION IN PALESTINE

A Jewish national library has been started in connection with the Hebrew university. It has received generous contributions from the French and the Spanish Governments, and already has 3,000 readers monthl

SAY FOREIGNERS ENTER ILLEGALLY

Police Uncover Extraordinary Conspiracy Against Immigration Department.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11. — (Canadian Press).—An extraordinary conspiracy involving fraud and impersonation against the Departments of the Secretary of State, Immigration and Colonization and external affairs in illegally obtaining certificates of naturalization passports and immigration permits for the entry of relatives or friends of foreigners from Armenia and other countries, has just been unearthed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

As a result of the investigations, G. H. Alexander, Armenian, was arrested at Galt, Ont., and appeared in Ottawa Police Court this morning on a charge of conspiracy. He pleaded not guilty, elected to be tried by jury and will come up again next week for preliminary hearing.

It is alleged that Alexander has been concerned in securing the illegal admission of aliens to this country.

MAY CLOSE THE ADDRESS WITH A STRAIGHT VOTE

And No Amendments Will Be Before Ottawa House.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—Legislation proposed by the Canadian Railway Brotherhoods was under discussion this morning, when representatives of these organizations met Premier Mackenzie King and members of his government.

When the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne is finished, probably about Thursday of next week, it is thought it will close with a straight vote on the motion of Sir Eugene Fiset (Liberal, Rimouski) and no amendments will be before the House. The first division of the session, therefore, will come directly on the question of the government's policy and will reveal the attitude of the third party and especially of the independent group in the Progressive party, to that policy.

PIONEER WARES LASTING.

Handwoven Coverlets, 100 Years Old, Are on Exhibition.

TORONTO, Feb 11 (aCnadian Press).—Hand woven coverlets, greatly cherished possessions in many homes today, were made over a hundred years ago by pioneer women Mrs. H. F. Stansfield, an Englishwoman, who is at present living in Toronto, in an address to the Occupational Therapy Society, touched on the durability of these beautiful heirlooms. Leisure hours in the pioneer woman's life were few, but some of them were spent over the hand loom weaving the coverlets which today are exhibited with pride. The quaint names of the quilts, such as "The Three Snowballs," "Pine Bloom and Monk's Hood' are always a source of interest. Mrs. Stansfield explained that these names meant something in the old life of homesick women in a strange land, or something of interest around the new home.

HOSPITAL TAX SUGGESTED

Quebec Government Asked to Collect $1.00 Per Capita.

MONTREAL Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—The Gazette says: So much has been written and read concerning the faithfulness of such pioneers of the nursing profession as Florence Nightingale and Jeanne Mance, that the public is prone to overlook the quiet heroism and unbruited faithfulness to duty which marks the daily service of the nurses in their own institutions. In Montreal at the present time nurses who have been on their feet all day working at top speed every moment, are being roused from hard-earned rests at night to assist at emergency operations which sometimes run on into the early hours of the morning, and they are obliged to be up and on duty the next day as though nothing unusual had happened. This is the situation at the Montreal General Hospital.

All the hospitals are greatly hampered by lack of funds and the suggestion has been made that at tax of $1 per year on every one in hte province might be levied; that would feel it unduly and it would give the government $2,500,000 to spend on hospitals alone.

London Man Ask Court for Aid in Dealing With Her.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Amusing stories of police court life were told by J. A. R. Cairns, the Thames Police Court Magistrate, in an address to the Lyons Debating Society at Cadby Hall.

Magistrates, he said, were often asked to solve quaint problems. One of these, which he had failed to solve, recently came before him.

A man, who had lost a night's sleep, sought advice on how to deal with a wife. The husband complained that he found his wife occupying the centre of the bed, and she refused to budge. What was he to do?

NEW YORK GLIMPSES.

Hired Claques Engaged to Applaud Vaudeville Acts Now.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. — Charles O'Hagen is home from the sea and home to stay. For more than 40 of his 60 years he sailed before the mast, one of those old salts who believe God's wind is power enough for any boat. Not so long ago his boat put in at Philadelphia. When it was about to dock two rowdy sailors grabbed him, cuff and collar, and threw him 18 feet to the wharf, breaking both his legs. Now he's a telephone operator in an attorney's office down in Moore Street. The attorney specializes in sailors' affairs and thus O'Hagen keeps in touch with the affairs of the seven seas he once sailed.

The clacques at the Metropolitan Opera are famous. Friends and professional hand-clappers are engaged to make a noise for certain artists. This device frequently is employed by song-pluggers as well. A new song is sung in a variety theatre or in a revue and it receives many encores because of the hullabaloo set up by paid puppets in the audience. Now the custom has entered the vaudeville theatres here. It is reported that one act bought $100 in tickets for the opening performance last week and distributed the seats among friends.

Inconsequential statistics: 71 new public schools will open in New York next September, providing 93,000 additional seats. Berths to Florida have been sold out eight weeks in advance. Travel to Florida from New York is heavier this winter than ever before .... There are now four beauty parlors in the Times Square district which keep open until midnight to trim bobs and wave waves for girls after the shows are out .....Mr. Belasco is getting $18,000 a week at the box office with "The Harem" and $17,600 a week with "Ladies of the Evening." He may make enough out of his smut shows to again produce something artistic.

In Central Park there is a miniature farmyard where cows moo, sheep baa, chickens cackle, ducks quack and pigs squeal. It is here that many New York children gain their only glimpse of domesticated animals and fowl. And there are some New York children who do not see even these. They still believe milk comes from a bottling works, as does soda pop and dad's hooch.

Frenchman Is Not Crazy Enough For Cross Words

PARIS Feb. 11.—(United Press). —Cross-word puzzles are too much for a French psychopathic ward.

Harry McAlhone, who conducts a house of cheer just off the Avenue de l'Opera, popular with Americans, felt sorry for one of his customers who drank too much cognac and had to be put in a straight-jacket. Harry clipped a number of cross-word puzzles from the newspapers and sent them to the hospital. The next day they were returned with this note from his friend:

"Dear Harry: Don't send us any more cross-word puzzles. There is nobody crazy enough here to work them out."

MOVING MOUNTAIN MENACES VILLAGE

Natives Pray For Dry Weather to Arrest Approaching Doom.

BARGOED, South Wales, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press.)—The natives of Bargoed began a series of prayer services recently with the hope of bringing about the advent of dryer weather which it was believed would arrest the movements of Troedrhiwfuwch mountain near here which has done great property damage and become a menace to the community.

Fresh fissures have appeared at the foot of the moving mountain and all the nearby highways have been closed to traffic. Water mains supplying more than 100,000 persons in the Phymney valley have been broken by the pressure of the moving earth and several hundred workmen have been employed to make repairs as rapidly as possible.

Several sections of a newly constructed main trunk sewer which cost more than $3,000,000 have already been destroyed and in some places the pipes were pushed 20 to 30 feet out of position.

Green Frock; Red Hair, Shock British House; Page Agnes McPhail

LONDON, February 11. — Canadian Press. — A politely subdued gasp of astonishment went through the ranks of the newly assembled House of Commons, yesterday, when the only Laborite woman M.P., Miss Ellen Wilkinson, entered, wearing a vivid green frock, the most daring costume any woman has yet shown i. Britain's staid legislature chamber.

It was the sensation of the day, and the only relief in a very dull opening session.

It had the further merit of affording a brilliant contrast to Miss Wilkinson's mass of red hair, which it was noticed the owner had shingled during the Parliamentary vacation.

Miss Wilkinson is fond of striking contrasts. Her height is just four feet eleven inches, so she has engaged a secretary nearly six feet tall, who says he is an American.

MEXICAN LANDS AVAILABLE FOR BIG SUGAR CROP

ACAPONETA, Nayarit Mexico, Feb. 11.—William Dunn, an American, says he has demonstrated that sugar-cane may be grown on extensive areas of the district without the usual necessity of artificial irrigation.

Mr. Dunn is manager of the Hacienda de Quimichis, a California-owned holding of some 85,000 acres located on the Acaponeta river west of this city. Growers say the discovery is likely to prove of economic importance. Production of sugar on a large scale without irrigation will save much money now devoted to pumping plants or gravity canals.

According to Mr. Dunn, there are hundreds of thousands of acres of extremely fertile river bottom lands lying wasted in the deltas of the Nayarit which are capable of producing sugar cane without irrigation. The soil is a fine river silt and very deep. This allows the direct penetration of the heavy rainfall of the summer, without the usual runoff. The ground thus is thoroughly saturated to a considerable depth and a condition of sub-irrigation is found to exist. In the experimental plantings he has obtained an average yield about thirty tons an acre within a year. The region is frostless, with a pleasant climate.

PINEAPPLES FIND FAVOR.

Hawaii Made Record in 1924 —Yield Was 6,825,904 Cases.

HONOLULU, Feb. 11.—Records of production in both quality and quantity were established by the pineapple industry of Hawaii during 1924, according to the annual report of the Association of Hawaiian Pineapple Canners, which showed a total production of 6,825,904 cases.

The yield exceeded by 838,922 cases the output of 1920, the previous high record year, and was 920,137 cases more than the 1923 production.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness, 40c and 75c, at all druggists.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FINDS PENSION STOPS

Only Explanation Found is That Stoppage is Penalty For Thrift.

CHARGE COUNTY.

Tired of Worrying Where the Money is Coming From, Says Mr. Edgar.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of management of the Children's Aid Society was held yesterday afternoon in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce, the first vice president, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, taking the chair in the absence of the president, B. F. Ackerman. The following members were present. Mesdames Stevens, Welsh, Devey, Messrs. J. Edgar, G. W. Powell, J. Abraham, R. H. Parsons, F. H Dobbin, R. W. Cormack, Rev. C. W. Rose, Rev. W H. Young, Dr. E. H. Wood

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, J. Edgar, who also gave the matron's report, showing 26 children in the Shelter during the past month, with seven brought in and nine sent out. No sickness.

The report of the purchasing committee was read by Mrs. J. Welsh.

Mr. G. W. Powell read the superintendent's report, recording six applications for children received during the month, with four children brought to the Shelter (not wards), three children on parole (not wards), and three children (not wards) returned to parents.

Pension Suspended.

Mr. Powell reported on the action of the Governmental Pension Board in suspending the pension granted a family of five children of a deceased ex-soldier. The father died in the service of his country overseas, and later, the mother, a resident of this district, also passed away from pneumonia. The double pension received by the children amounted to about $114 a month. The children were made wards of the Children's Aid Society, after an uncle had harbored them for a short while and then sent them back to the Shelter. Two of the girls have been adopted by private families and the boys are also placed out. The eldest boy, who has not yet reached the age of sixteen, when pension funds usually cease, is on a farm. Trust funds of the accumulated pension money have been saved and invested by the agent of the Children's Aid Society, until they amount now in the neighborhood of $7,000.

Considerable discussion followed the announcement by Mr. Powell that the pension was being suspended, the only conclusion arrived at by the members being that it was in the nature of a penalty for the successful accumulation of such a goodly sum. The secretary was instructed to write the board and enquire as to reasons for such an action. Asked by Dr. Wood as to how the board became acquainted with the facts of the case, Mr. Powell replied that the inspector had access at any time to his books for purpose of investigation.

Free Tickets.

Mr. Powell reported the receipt of a street railway pass book from the local commission, giving a crippled inmate of the Shelter free passage on the street railway system of the city.

A letter was received from J. J. Kelso in Toronto, asking the society to approach the local member for the Provincial Legislature, and ask him to commend the society to the attention of the House. The secretary will write Mr. Bradburn, as requested.

Children Examined.

It was also decided to have each child entering the Shelter thoroughly examined by the physicians in charge, and a written report of its condition kept on file. A detention room for the purpose of segregating arrivals will be utilized for the purpose.

A report received by Mr. Powell on a boy aroused some comment. The symbols "I. Q." used in the report of the examining physician were referred to Dr. Wood who explained that they meant "intellectual quotient," and referred to the boy's mental status. Mr. Dobbin wondered of "I. Q." was a radio term.

Mr. Edgar referred to the approach by the society of the county council, with a request for a grant of $1.000 towards the work of the organization as the county's share of its upkeep. He remarked that the time had come when the board was getting tired of worrying about where such funds were coming from, and thought that, in the event of the council's refusal of the grant, the society should adopt the process sanctioned by law of charging the county for each childr sheltered by it, at the fixed rate of 75 cents per day or $5.25 per week, plus a share of the overhead expense. "The society has for years been making an annual appeal and been obliged to be thankful for what it got."

The following accounts were passed by the board: Grafton & Co., $30.73; F. Rathbone, $25; C. Griffin, $3.75; F. Dawson, $3.25; Routly-Braund $1.35; Bredin's Bread, $21.85; B. Heard, $10.75; telephones, $7.57; G. W. Powell, $2.40. Total, $106.63.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PROPOSES TRAINING

Co-ordinating the National Battles Against Disease Is Its Aim.

GENEVA, Feb 11 (Associated Press).—Coordinating the national battles against disease and delivering sledge hammer blows against those maladies which still seem to defy medical skill, will constitute the essence of the future programme of the League of Nations in its public health activities.

The league's health section has just closed a successful year. It has extended its sphere of action, improved, completed and defined its technical equipment and has carried out with increasing success its special task, that of giving effective help to the various national administrations in their campaign against epidemics and their attempts to improve public health.

In the coming year special attention will be given to instruction in health and social medicine in Europe, America and Japan, together with the development and extension of physical training, with the object of securing the general adoption of rational methods of physical education.

TALK COMPENSATION AT BIG CONFERENCE

Annual International Labor Conference Meets in Geneva in May.

GENEVA, Feb. 11.—Workmen's compensation will be the chief item on the agenda of the next annual international labor conference, which will open at Geneva May 19. Three other items on the program are really maters left over from last year's conference where, in the form of conventions, they were given preliminary approval by the delegates. Now however, they require a final vote. They include equality of treatment for national and foreign workers as regards workmen's compensation for accidents, the weekly suspension of work for 24 hours in glass manufacturing processes where tank furnaces are used, and night work in bakeries.

Albert Thomas, director of the international labor bureau, has issued an appeal to ll governments to see to it that complete delegations attend the forthcoming conference. In addition to treating the subjects on the official agenda, the May conference will elect the governing body of the labor bureau and engage in a general discussion of the question of social insurance.

EVANGELIST ROBBER ADMITS HIS GUILT

Hails From London, Ontario, and Facing Trial in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 11. — (Canadian Press).—Herbert Wilson, former London, Ont., evangelist, and confessed leader of the gang of robbers who looted a mail truck of approximately $1,000,000 here in 1921 yesterday pleaded guilty to 16 counts of mail robbery when the trial opened in the Federal Court.

Three other alleged members of the gang, Frank Wilson, Joe Bertsch of Chicago, and Jack Elerick, faced trial with Wilson, who was brought to Los Angeles from the penitentiary, where he is under life sentence for the murder of his jail companion, Herbert Cox.

CACTUS REPLACES WATER

Cattle in Hawaii Get Moisture from Spiny Shoots.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Beef in large quantities is now produced in the Hawaiian Islands, Hawaii itself having several large ranches on which the white-faced Hereford breed is supreme.

Large numbers of the cattle exported from the island never taste a drop of water as such. The soil is arid and there is no irrigation.

The mystery is solved for any keen observer who, being probably on horseback, finds his steed halt suddenly under a cactus tree and throw up his head to nibble the spiny shoots, which contain the requisite moisture.

During this modest "quencher" on the part of his mount it is a hundred to one that up will thun-

Whites of Eyes Tinged With Yellow? Muddy Complexion? Your Liver is Out of Order!

Mrs. Wm. Bourque, Fox Creek, N. B., writes: "I have been troubled with my liver for a long time, and was so bad I could not do any work. I had severe pains in my stomach that were so bad, at times, I could hardly stand them. My tongue became coated; I had a bad taste in my mouth, especially in the morning; the whites of my eyes were tinged with yellow, and I had a muddy complexion.

I had read a great deal about MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS, so decided I would try a vial, and after taking three of them I was greatly improved and felt more like living, and I can now do my own work without any trouble."

Time Has Dealt Kindly With English Wall Papers

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press). — Antique wallpaper, 200 years old, will be used on the walls of a room being built in the English furniture galleries at South Kensington Museum. The room will be a copy of an 18th century apartment and will contain furniture made at or about the time when Queen Anne died. The wallpaper has been taken from a room in an old house in Gloucester, where it has hung for two centuries.

Combination Doll For Apartment House Child

The little girl who has a porch and a yard may use as many toys as her parents can provide. Not so her playmate who dwells in a flat. Apartment limitations have left their mark even on the family of dolls.

For the modern child has been invented the combination doll. It is many nations, any age and both sexes to the child who has but one doll to caress. Now it is a Dutch girl with flapping cap, long golden braids and bodice, now it is a clown with painted face of a cry baby with tears on its cheeks. It may be a flossy French toddler with long golden curls or a neat Red Cross nurse with bobbed black locks. It may be a slant eyed Chinese, a dusky black boy or an Indian papoose. The doll alters its countenance as well as its frock. Besides a trunk full of dresses, the little mother has a trunk full of heads. She may get a body with a couple of changes then add to her family by acquiring more heads. With each head comes a costume to match. The body is made with a brass plug neck and the heads have brass sockets to fit. With two turns the head is removed and with two more another is fitted snugly in place. Thus a dozen dolls may be had in one.

FARM NEWS AND PROBLEMS

WHY BOYS DON'T STAY ON FARMS; BY ONE OF THEM

Parents Educate Them Away Into Inferior City Jobs.

GIRLS WARNED

Mother Says Farm Wife Has Life of Drudgery—Girl Leaves.

(By Oliver Reid, Frankford, Ont.)

From time to time I have seen in the press articles on why the young people leave the farm. The theory has been advanced that it is lack of social gatherings, amusements, lack of sufficient spending money and sports, and that the long hours of work and drudgery that has driven the young people from the farm; but this is absolutely false.

I have lived in this farming community all my life. I am still a boy and I know what is the cause of the boys and girls leaving the farm. I have talked to many of the boys who have gone to town from here. Those who come back, when asked why they left the farm, never give the reason that have so often been voiced by the press, although there are exceptions in all cases—and I believe that the majority of young people who leave the farm, leave for the same reasons that the boys of this community have.

I have had the privilege of a high school education, and I believe that if the farmers would give their boys and girls an education with the view of coming back on the farm, it would help a lot. But it is either one of two ways, they either tell them an education is no good for a farmer or they say, go to school, get an education and make an easier living than your dad. They preach continually that there is an easier living than farming.

While I was attending high school my father always advanced the theory that farming was the best occupation, and when I got through I came back to to the farm—and I am here to say—although all my friends called me a fool and told me that farming was no life for a person. How, then, with all this trash being preached into the heads of the boys and girls by farmers and farmers' wives, can you expect the boys and girls to stay on the farm? I say it is the farmers themselves that are to blame in the majority of cases.

There is another reason why the boys and girls leave, and the farmers are also to blame in this case. We have some farmers far too many, who are too lazy to live. They are always behind with their work, only half work their land, have poor crops, etc., and if the boys have any ambition at all they soon get sick of the way things are being run ,get discouraged with farming, kick up their heels at the farm and get out.

I have seen this very thing work out, and once, while talking with one of the boys from such a farm, a real bright, ambitious young fellow, he said to me: "There is nothing to be gotten in farming, is there?"

I said, "Why, Jack, sure and there is."

"Well" he said, "do you not make a certain sum," which he named, which would be a city laborer's wages for a year.

"Yes," I said, "we make more." I gave an estimate of the returns from our farm for a year and he would hardly believe it.

"Well," he said, "if I were you I would stick to it."

This same young fellow tried the city and got sick of it and came back to the farm, but he never came home, and I do not blame him, for the way things are run would discourage any boy from farming.

I know of farmers' wives in this community who have instilled into their daughters' minds the idea that a farmer's wife's life is a drudgery, and have warned them never to marry a farmer. How, then, under these circumstances, can you expect the young people to stick with the farm?

Farmers, if you want your sons and daughters to stay with the farm, educate them, but always keep the farm ahead as their goal. Brains and education are as essential to a farmer as to a lawyer and more so than to a factory worker. Preach the doctrine of farming, as it is the greatest and best occupation in the world today.

Flour Prices Reacted After Prolonged Rise

The reactionary tendency in the wheat markets had an inevitable effedt on the buying of flour. In fact, there had already developed considerable hesitancy on the part of British and European buyers on account of the radical rise in prices. While the most recent trade figures available show that Canadian flour was in steady demand in the foreign markets, more recent information indicates caution in commitments. The United States export business has been affected in a similar way. There were rumors there also of large orders coming through from Russia within the last few days, but these proved fictitious, as did also similar rumors here. Fairly substantial shipments left New York the other day for Riga and Salonica, as well as other central and southern European ports, reflecting the shortage there due to a short wheat crop. The price of spring wheat flour scored a decline of 30 cents per bushel in Montreal on the 2nd, being the first downward movement in flour prices since the beginning of the year.

A POULTRY LAYING HOUSE.

A poultry laying house of simple construction has been devised by the poultry department of an agricultural college.

It is adapted to flocks of 100 birds or more. For a 100-bird flock, the house is 20 feet wide by 20 feet deep.

Several units may be added to hold 500 birds, in which case partitions are placed every 20 feet and the original house duplicated for each partitioned space.

The partitions may extend entirely across, thus separating the birds into groups of 100, or they may be put up to extend only three-fourths of the distance from the rear to the front. In the latter case, all the birds have the run of the entire house.

Ventilation Important

An opening under the eaves is almost a necessity during hot weather. The opening should extend full length, front and rear, of each unit. Doors are made to fit tightly against the under side of the rafters.

Both ventilators are usually kept open all summer. The front ventilator should be opened in cold weather if there is any indication of dampness in the house.

The cheesecloth curtains, for the windows, slide down and remain vertical when not in use.

The sliding and roof boards should be matched material covered on the outside with roofing paper.

Kind of Material

A concrete floor is preferred, although a board floor with openings for circulation beneath the floor may be substituted.

The framing of the house may be of yellow pine, hemlock, spruce or fir, depending on availability and price.

Ventilator boards, casing, wndow sills, cornice, etc., may be of whitep eo

Sliding and roofing may be of a cheap grade of white pine ,spruce, hemlock, fir or yellow pine.

The material for this house, designed for 100 hens, consists of the following:

CATTLE SHIPMENT TOOK UP 35 CARS

Thirty-five car loads of cattle left Edmonton last week in one train on the Canadian Pacific, and several more trains of the same size are expected to move between now and May.

The shipment was made by Livestock Producers of Canada Ltd. out of the herd of 3,000 head on feejn Alberta, and is bound for West St. John, with shipments to Belgium, Glasgow and Manchester. A record run was made to Winnipeg, the big train taking only 38 hours from Edmonton.

Feeding tests made every fortnight showed that the cattle had been gaining, on an average, over two pound per head per day.

There are still about 2,500 head on feed.

A VISION OF WHAT $2 WHEAT CAN DO FOR WESTERN CANADA

(By a Western Student of Business Conditions.)

There is a new Western situation. The Western problem as such is passing away. We are likely to have new Western problems soon, which will probably be problems of growth, instead of one big Western problem, which was a problem of rescue.

The old Western problem is being settled rapidly, not by any legislative or other controllable changes, but by a change in the basis of the fundamental economic situation of the West.

Two-dollar wheat might serve as a symbol of the change, but its use as such would be liable to misunderstanding. For, after all, only a small part of last year's crop can be sold at two dollars or better, and there is no great expectation that next year's crop will sell at two dollars or better.

But dollar wheat can be used as a symbol of the basis that has passed, of the basis on which were founded many of the troubles of the West and many of its grievances. And dollar wheat has gone, gone not in the sense that wheat may not again sell at a dollar a bushel, but gone in the sense that it was part of the essential economic structure of the West. Dollar wheat did seem to be a part of that structure. It seemed for a while as if the West must adjust its whole programme to raising wheat to sell at a dollar a bushel on the average, a little more when crops were light, a little less when they should be heavy.

Dollar wheat did not offer attractive prospects. It was not sufficient to attract more farmers to the land, nor to hold all those already there. It was not sufficient to enable some farmers to escape bankruptcy, nor to enable others heart-breaking struggle, nor to offer very rich rewards, even o the fortunate. On the basis of average crops, year in and year out, in the better districts and to good farmers, and to those not too much in debt, dollar wheat did offer a practicable way of life in farming, not too unsatisfactory. It did not offer much more, and to the less fortunate of hope of a rapid increase of settlement to make use of the railway, business, and governmental organization already provided.

Upon the raising of wheat, and of wheat for export, prairie farming and prairie life in general, have been, and are are likely long to be, dependent. The milking of cows, the making of butter, the breeding of hogs, the fattening of cattle, the whole business of mixed farming; all these are very good in their way as supplementing the growing of wheat. But without the growing of wheat on a large scale, Western agriculture must perish, or shrink to such small dimensions that it would seem to have perished.

And it seems now that the world really wants and needs our wheat to a greater extent than before the war. It is evident that it is willing and ready to pay for it It seems as if wheat, the premier food of mankind, is not likely often or for long to be depressed in value to the level of feed for livestock. (For a while last year, wheat and corn sold on a parity, and a considerable quantity of wheat was fed to livestock.) It seems likely that the farmers who raise wheat are likely to be well rewarded for their efforts, and that a country that can grow wheat of such quality and in such quantity as can Western Canada is going to be a desirable place in which to farm.

Wheat may sell at a dollar a bushel again. That might happen soon, although the world situation is against it happening for a year or more. But whatever comes, dollar wheat is gone, gone as a maximum beyond which the price of wheat might not rise. The West can stand wheat at a dollar a bushel when crops are plentiful if there is a chance of securing compensation in price when crops are light.

(Livestock prices are improving, too, but consider that covered in the statement that dollar wheat is gone.)

You can look for these things:

Profits in Western farming.

Farmers now on the land expanding their efforts, and the ones who have lately been thinking of giving it up resolved to continue.

Population attracted to the West, whether or not we have an immigration policy. And if we have such a policy, conditions in which its efforts may bring fruit, instead of being abortive.

A better class of immigrants than we lately dared hope for.

The payment of many Western debts which recently may have seemed hopeless.

Cheaper money for Western farmers because of their improving credit.

More business for the railways.

Improving financial position of provincial and municipal governments.

A market for the goods of manufacturers.

The West again taking the lead in the rapid development of Canada.

The spokesmen for the West when they present the West's needs saying not, "This you must do to save us," but "This it will pay Canada to do that development may be still more satisfactory.

This change in conditions brought about by the disappearance of dollar wheat is not yet realized in the West, and can hardly be realized at all in the rest of Canada. It will be some time before realization catches up with conditions, just as realization lagged behind when the West fell into trouble, trouble so acute that it was uncomfortably close to being very serious. Only now is the seriousness of the situation in which the West found itself two years ago being realized, just as we are moving on to another basis entirely.

Perhaps it was not a bad thing to be slow in understanding the extent of our troubles. But it will be unfortunate if we are as slow in understanding the new prospect that is before us.

Canada has been on the defensive against adverse conditions for a long time. The battle has developed, once more she can take the initiative and act on the aggressive.

To The Editor

SEED INOCULATION

Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Experiments made at Ottawa, Kempville, Guelph, or any other experimental farm, mean but very little to the average farmer, who must know his own farm under natural conditions, both regarding soil and atmosphere, and concentrate his energies accordingly.

In my last article, I promised thoughts on the benefits of inoculation of seed by a bacterial culture, which is necessary to all legumenous plants. I wish to do this in as fewords as possible. Thedo principle reasons for inoculation can be stated in five short paragraphs, viz.:

First.—Inoculated legumes take nitrogen from the air to supply the plant, resulting in faster growth, earlier maturity and larger crops.

Second.—Inoculated legumes take up more nitrogen than the plant requires, the surplus remaining to the benefit of future crops.

Third.—Inoculated legumes develop larger root systems than when not inoculated, and, therefore, reach the immense stores of potash and phosphorous in the sub-soil, bringing them up to supply the plant. When the roots and stubble decay, these elements are also returned to the soil in a form available for future crops.

Fourth.—Inoculated legumes, by taking their nitrogen from the air, save the soil. When not inoculated, they drain the soil of its nitrogen just the same as timothy wheat or other non-leguminous plants.

Fifth.—Inoculated legumes contain more protein matter than when not inoculated, greatly increasing their value for food.

Summary.—Inoculation hastens maturity, increases the crop, improves its quality, enriches the soil and saves fertilizer bills.

Always remember that the plant foods that give vigour to the crop are nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash the greatest of these is nitrogen, and there always should be sufficient humus to put those in action. And if it cannot be retained by cultivation, salt should be used at the rate of about 300 lbs. to the acre.

My next thought will be turned to "Seed, and our Canadian Seed Act," which every farmer should understant.

W H Merrell

WOULD DRAW ON PUBLIC'S PURSE FOR FARM LOAN

Plans Based on Information Gained From United States Reports.

IDEAS OF EXPERTS

Ottawa Will Feel Pressure of Demands for Credits This Session.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—The proceedings at the United Farmers of Alberta annual convention indicate that banking and credits for farmers will receive considerable attention during the approaching session of parliament. The Alberta members have been the leaders in this agitation all through the present parliament, and as they are young and aggressive, may be expected to see the matter through.

As far as can be learned they are after two kinds of farm credits. The first of these is for credits extending from 9 months to 3 years; the second is long term credits. As for credits up to nine months, it is claimed that the banks already provide these effectively.

In the main the agitation follows the lines laid down in the United States. This is natural, for after all the Americans have collected a lot of information on this subect. All the average person has to do to be convinced that he is an authority on the theory of the subject is to read the ponderous documents.

There seems to be a certain amount of indecision as to how the intermediate credits could be worked out, that is the credits from nine to thirty-six months. It will be suggested that the Dominion government should come forward with the required capital for the starting of farm credits banks. In the United States this was done to the extent of nearly $60,000,000. Whether all this was used or not is not known, but the money was made available.

Bevington's Plan

The plan for the working out of the long term credits suggests that Mr. Bevington, the "expert" who spent much time in attendance on the banking and commerce committee two years ago, has had much to do with it. It proposes that the provincial governments, on the authority of their legislatures, shall be authorized to deposit provincial bonds with the treasury board at Ottawa, as security for Dominion notes to be used for farm credits. Money thus secured would be loaned to farmers under first mortgage security to the extent of 50 per cent. of the value of the land in question, the value to be determined by the land's productivity. The farmers would get their money at not more than one per cent. higher than the province paid for it. The principal would be repaid on the amortization plan.

It would seem as though one of the difficulties in putting through these proposals would be found in the reluctance of the government under present conditions to undertake new commitments. As has already been pointed out, the federal government in the United States placed $60,000,000 at the service of its long term scheme. Then a large sum of money has been secured through the selling of federal Farm Loan bonds, which are attractive to investors in that they are tax-free. In addition the agricultural situation has been relieved through the operations of the War Finance Corporation.

Cool on Farm Credits

Not so much is heard here now about agricultural credits. This gives rise to the impression that there has been a cooling off towards them. There is no doubt that many believe that with the improvement in the western farm situation, due to the high wheat prices, matters may be allowed pretty much to take care of themselves. On the other hand the fact that the old wheat board surplus has been divided among the needy farmers is an official admission that need exists.

If the government goes into the scheme on a worth-while scale it will have to make advances that in the aggregate might amount to $40,000,000 or $50,000,000. To give anything like accurate estimates were impossible, but for temporary relief alone $15,000,000 was mentioned as a probable sum last year.

President Tory, the government's advisor on the farm credits problem, has been here and it is considered probable that he took up the subject with the acting minister of finance. It is understood that he will come again next month. It is certain that he will be subjected to a great deal of questioning before the banking and commerce committee. The government will also come in for its share of attention on this subject in the house.

VARY COW DIETS

Dairy cows like varied diets. Cows fed on the same mixture for time on end will eventually refuse their food and lose in flesh and vigor.

TIME FOR INVENTORY

Now is the best time to take an inventory of your stock, equipment and other material on the farm. It tells where you stand financially.

Best Conditions For Incubating Chickens

DURHAM, N. H., Feb. 11.—Investigations in incubating chickens, brought out at the poultry show here, developed the following facts:

Best temperature for incubation is 103 degrees F.

Best moisture conditions are 50 per cent. relative humidity.

Cooling the eggs does more harm than good.

Eggs should be turned twice a day.

Best ventilation is five cubic feet per hour.

Eggs will do best if not held for more than ten days.

Best temperature for holding is 50 degrees F.

Ten hens to one male in the flock is the best ratio.

Temperature of cellar is best at 65 degrees F.

If the incubator room runs low in temperature, the heat should be supplemented by an additional stove, or other means.

SNAGS ARE MET BY GRAIN POOL

Technical Difficulties Greater in Way of Coarse Grains Than Wheat.

SOME OVERCOME

WINNIPEG Feb. 11.—The directors of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, more ambitious than those of the pools of Alberta and Saskatchewan, have commenced organization for the purpose of operating pools for the selling of coarse grains, to cover the marketing of oats, barley, and possibly flax.

The technical difficulties in the way of operating pools in coarse grains are much greater than in the case of wheat. Most of the coarse grains grown in Western Canada are fed to livestock on the farm where grown, and only a small percentage finds its way into commercial channels. A farmer's plans for feeding stock are enlarged or reduced with variations in the price of grains and of livestock, and will also vary according to other conditions. The pool management, therefore, would have little indication from the amount of acreage under contract as to how much grain would be delivered to them, and would be unable to make contracts in advance, as they may do with wheat when desirable. Again, the price of such grains is not uniformly based on prices prevailing at Fort William or Vancouver, but premiums above the basic prices will often prevail in districts where such grains are scarce, or in districts which can supply short crop districts with a minimum freight haul. Oats might be scarce in a district which was extremely favorable to the pool, so that contract holders, instead of being able to deliver grain to the pool would actually be buying grain from it. Such members of the pool might easily feel aggrieved if it seemed to them that the pool was holding them up for unnecessarily high prices, as might easily appear to be the case, for the benefit of other members of the pool.

Lovers Of Animals To Abolish Cruel Traps

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. — A three-year campaign before state legislatures, with the backing of prominent humanitarians and humane workers, is about to be launched for the suppression of the steel trap and other non-killing devices for capture of fur-bearing animals.

The American Humane Association heads the list of organizations supporting the movement, and Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske heads the list of individual workers who will lend their support. Commander Edward Breck of the naval reserves, a historian and woodsman, will direct the campaign, announcement of which recently was made before the Humane Education Society of Washington.

Outlining the work, Commander Breck told the society that while 100,000,000 fur-bearing animals were taken yearly in steel traps and suffered days and sometimes weeks of agony, not 10 per cent. of those taken were required to furnish furs for the actual needs of human beings in cold weather. The history of the fur trade in America, he said, testified that the craze for summer furs increased the killing fourfold. Public conscience, when aroused, the speaker declared, would demand the abolition of the non-killing trap.

EARLY SWEET CLOVER

Sweet clover should be sown in the spring as soon as the seed bed has been prepared. Disking of wheat stubble ground is preferable to plowed ground.

COOKING FOR HOGS

Cooked soybeans will more than double their value as swine feed, according to tests. This would be especially practicable for large-scale producers of pork.

COLD WATER HURTS

Fall pigs, forced to drink cold or icy water, show delayed growth and development. They do not drink as much water as they should, and it chills them so badly that they can't eat as well as otherwise.

FARMS OF WEST AGAINST TAXED WHEAT EXPORTS

Farmers Claim World Needs Blending Wheat More Than Flour.

DESTROY VALUE

Hard Wheat is of More Use as Mixture Than for Milling.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 11.—Why not put an export duty on Canadian wheat in order to insure that more of our wheat shall be ground into flour in Canada before export? Why let United States millers continue to obtain good Canadian wheat which they mix with inferior varieties in that country and then export in competition with Canadian flour, getting back when they do so 99 per cent. of the duty they paid when Canadian wheat crossed the boundary into the United States?

In the first place, the farmers who grow the wheat want the widest possible market for it, and would bitterly oppose any move that seemed to restrict the market. Indeed, it is almost dangerous to bring forward the proposal at all, lest it be taken in Western Canada as additional evidence tht the East does not understand the economic problems of Western Canada. The second reason is that such a duty would not bring about the desired result, which presumably is to get the maximum value for Canada out of her wheat crop. It would probably result in the country getting less out of its wheat than it otherwise would.

The explanation is that the rest of the world, generally speaking, wants Canadian wheat more than it wants Candian flour, and will pay more for it. The great value of our Western hard wheat lies not in the fact that it makes the best flour in the world, which, with some reservations is probably the case, but because it can be mixed with other varieties of wheat to make flour suitable for bread making. Mixing, as a general rule, is more cheaply and satisfactorily done with wheat before it is ground, in order to produce a uniform blend of flour, than by mixing flour after it passes into the hands of the baker. Some Canadian flour, because of its great strength, can be sold in Great Britain and Europe in successful competition with flour from mixed wheat but on the whole it would be too extravagant and costly a proceeding for the rest of the world to use Canadian flour to the exclusion of flour from mixed wheats.

It is only in British and European mills that the process of mixing is carried on to its highest degree. Some countries which import our wheat for milling purposes, notably China, which is well provided with excellent mills, either have not attempted or do not understand the art of mixing, and they simply grind Canadian, Australian, or other wheat straight, as it is received, and make no attempt to turn out a uniform blend. There are other countries to which we export flour where milling is not carried on to any extent, and our flour is valued because of its high quality, and especially in tropical countries because it keeps better than flour from softer wheat.

The highest use, that is, the use for which the world will pay most for our wheat, is for mixing with other wheat for the manufacture of flour. When our crop is exceptionally large, as was the case in 1923, it tends to exceed the world's demand for mixing wheat. Then it has to be sold simply as wheat, more or less on the same price level as other wheats. Such situation is all to advantage of the Canadian mills, which can mill our wheat straight and sell the flour in at prices that will compete with prices for wheat from mixed flour. At other times, such as this year, there is a scarcity of high protein hard spring wheat, and the rest of the world competes for the limited supply, and will pay a considerable premium for such wheat over the value of other wheat. Canadian wheat goes to a premium over the value of Canadian flour, and creates a difficult situation for Canadian mills in their export trade.

When millers in the United States buy Canadian hard wheat for mixing with their own softer wheat, they our putting our wheat to its natural and highest use so far as world commerce is concerned. If it were not mixed here it would be mixed elsewhere. Prevent our wheat from being used for mixing, and you destroy its value, and you will get less, on the whole, for it.—Financial Post.

PIG FEED PROFITS

A little linseed meal and alfalfa meal, added to a feed corn and tankage, increased the daily gain and reduced the amount of feed, per pound of gain, in pig feeding tests.

BLASTING STUMPS

The best time to blast stumps is when the ground is full of water. A pound of powder in wet ground will do as much as a pound and a half in dry soil.

CURE FOR EGG EATERS

To stop hens from eating eggs, provide plenty of oyster shell and feed the scratch grain in the litter so the hens will be kept busy. Feed a balanced ration containing plenty of meat food, and darken the nests so the hens will not see the eggs.

PETES LOST FIRST GAME BY 2 TO 0; DESERVED BETTER THAN SHUTOUT

Peterboro Seniors Showed Good Team Work, But Walsh in Goal Was Unbeatable—Visitors Made Fine Impression on Big Crowd.

BAILEY FASTEST SEEN IN THE SOO

(Special to the Examiner)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Feb. 11.—Peterboro Senior hockey representatives lost their first of a two game series to the Sault Greyhounds, Allan Cup holders by the score of 2 to 0, in the fastest hockey game witnessed in the Lock City, on slow ice last night before a crowd of 2000 people. The Peterboro team did not deserve a shut out for they were as great on team play as the far famed Greyhounds.

Tough luck is all that can be credited to the Petes for failing to break out into the win column, for time and again they broke through the whole Soo team only to be beaten by the great Walsh in the net.

Dwyer in the hemp for the visitors put up as fine a game as has been seen here. Time and again he came to the rescue of Petes when the Greyhounds, right on their edge in combination work broke through the Petes, and always he came out of the fray smiling.

Slow ice prevented the teams from playing their best hockey but the fans who crowded the rink were satisfied.

Bailey Stood Out.

Bailey was the outstanding player for the visiting team. He is as fast a skater as Stan Brown and his clever stickhandling was a worry to the Sault defence. He was acclaimed as the fastest skating forward seen in action in the Soo.

Both teams entered the game in the best of shape and finished without a casualty. Peterboro worked hard from the start of the game for a tally and they were still going strong at the close of the game.

In the first period both teams missed several chances to register, the period ending without a goal.

"Babe" Donnelly registered the first goal of the game ten minutes after the second period opened. It was a pretty goal resulting, from a four-man combination rush. Lessard, Donnelly, Brown and Phillips taking part. Peterboro came on the ice in the third period determined to find the weak spot in the Sault net. Burgess got through the Soo defence but overskated the puck as he was about to shoot. Rose and Collins combined in a pretty combination rush, but Walsh saved.

Brown Scored Second.

Stan Brown who had been working all evening for a goal made the score 2 to 0 for the red and white on a lone rush, five minutes after opening of the third period. With greater determination than ever the Petes came back fighting to overtake the two goal lead against them. Parker and McLeod had tough luck in not scoring. Ranger and Bailey combined but were checked by the Soo defence. Collins and McLeod were called back for off side after stickhandling their way through the whole Soo team.

"Babe" Donnelly, and Stan Brown were the outstanding players on the Soo team. Collins played Bill Phillips at centre to a standstill and Ranger on left wing took care of Roy Lessard.

The game was crimeless and the Peterboro team made a most favorable showing here. They are a snappy crew and gave the Hounds trouble through the entire sixty minutes.

Cold weather is predicted for tonight's game and with hard ice the Petes will give the Greyhounds the fastest game they have had during the season.

The Greyhounds took no chances on last night's game. They played their strongest lineup and were forced to play their best to get the 2 to 0 decision. While they showed better organization, the Petes had mode aggressiveness, Ranger, Bailey and McLeod forming a trio which gave the Hounds the busiest sixty minutes they have had on local ice.

Petes Please Fans.

The Petes are having a good time of their stay in the Soo. They were somewhat disappointed that the game was called off Monday night on account of soft ice but their day's rest put them in good shape to stand the pace against the Greyhounds tonight. The fans were unanimous in their praise for the visitors for they dished out the cleanest hockey seen on local ice.

Tuesday afternoon the Petes and the Hounds were guests of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon.

The line up:

Peterboro—Goal, Dwyer; defence, Parker and McLeod; centre, Collins; left wing, Burgess; right wing, Bailey; subs, Ranger, Rose and Foley.

Referee—Roy Chisholm, Sault.

First Period.

No score.

Second Period.

Soo—Donnelly, 10 minutes.

Third Period.

Soo—Brown, 5 minutes.

TWEED VERSION OF FINAL GAME

Ill-feeling That Led to Fight Was Not Caused by Tweed Players.

Tweed, Feb. 9, 1925

To The Sporting Editor,
Peterborough Examiner.

Dear Sir,—There appeared in your issued of last Saturday an account of the final game in the Trent League. This account was decidedly unfair to Tweed. We would consider it a favour if you would publish this criticism in your paper.

On the strength of the night's play Tweed bowed to a better team and the score would have been much larger had it not been for the magnificent work of Wagger in goal. Alec Geraldi as a defence man, was in his proper position and even better than Havelock's defence men. We offer no alibi but we believe that Havelock owes its victory to Pollock. He broke up every rush in its infancy, and yet the name of Brennan predominates in the account of last Saturday.

We also agree with the Havelock correspondent that it was the best game of the season—until the last five minutes. "Bill" Jackson handled the game well until the third period and even then if he had handed out a few penalties to those who began to charge down the ice and roughen things us there would have been no regrettable ending. The ill feeling started with Barney Quinn, who reverted to tactics adopted by him in almost every game and he started the flame and, what is more, got away with the "rough house" tactics.

In regard to the incident behind Havelock's net Ray Quinn had to defend himself and it would have passed over had not friend Barney "roughed things about" there also.

As to what happened in the penalty box the writer was not present but he has Tom Beatty's emphatic denial that he ever called Brennan any name. Now as all who know Tom can testify that he is not quick tempered and prone to "fly off the handle" we can only conclude that there must have been provocation on both sides.

Your Havelock correspondent after "proving" that the Tweed players started the trouble "forgot" to say that a Tweed player had his head cut open with a hockey stick wielded by a Havelock player on the ice before the penalty box. Furthermore he was allowed to leave the ice and the town without the offending player coming forward and apologizing for his hasty action.

We thank you, Mr. Editor, for your courtesy and hope that your readers will see that Tweed was not all to blame. We would advise your Havelock corespondent that when assigning the blame in future would consider this famous passage:

"Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

JUNIOR SOCCER ANNUAL MEETING

Cups Will Be Presented at Chambers of Commerce Saturday Night.

The annual general meeting of the Peterboro and District Junior Football Association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, February 14 at 7.30 p.m.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, will present the Gordon medals to the winner of the County Cup.

W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P. will present the Bradburn Trophy and His Worship Mayor Turner the honorary president of the Association will present the Association Medals to the winners of the League.

Immediately after the presentations, the meeting will proceed to elect officers for the ensuing season.

Last season was an excellent one, and the boys are looking forward with enthusiasm to the opening game of 1925.

A hearty invitation is extended to every one interested in the game to attend and take part in the proceedings.

$100,000 FOR HORNSBY.

St. Louis Slugger Signs Contract for Three Years.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 11.— Rogers Hornsby, star second baseman of the Cardinals, leading hitter of the National League for five years, will receive $100,000 for his next three years' work under a new three-year contract.

This is the largest salary ever paid an infielder in the history of the national pastime. Hornsby, in getting $33,333.33 a year for three years, ranks next to George Herman Ruth as the highest salaried player in baseball. Only one manager gets a larger salary than Hornsby and he is John J. McGraw of the Giants.

Ruth is reported to be working on a contract that pays him $52,000 a year, aside from his interest in the earnings of the Giants.

You won't have much luck with anything you don't enjoy doing.

Exceeding the speed limit along the road to success is just as dangerous as along any other road.

Arno Borg, Swedish Champion, Will Enter A.A.U. Events.

ARNE BORG

Presenting Arne Borg, champion swimmer of Sweden, who recently arrived in this country to begin training for the national A.A.U. championships at San Francisco in April. Borg will enter the 220 and 500-yard free style events, which are his best distances. Incidentally he hopes to take the measure of Johnny Weissmueller while in the United States.

Amusement Tax On Radio.

Vienna Seeks to Raise Revenue from Wireless Sets.

VIENNA, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press).—Vienna is in the throes of a conflict over taxes. The city administration, which is Socialist, holds that the amusement tax levied on theatres and concert halls is also applicable to the radio service. It therefore seeks to collect a tax upon the use of radio sets in restaurants and coffee houses.

SPRING SERIES OFF IN FUTURE

American League Will Permit Forthcoming Games Between Giants and Senators.

JOHNSON PRESENT.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Club owners of the American League, meeting with President Ban Johnson for the first time since the joint major league session when they publicly reprimanded him for his criticism of Commissioner Landis' administration, voted yesterday to withdraw their offer to build a $100,000 monument to baseball in Washington, D.C., and adopted a resolution prohibiting future spring exhibition games between winners of previous world's series.

The club owners, after ratifying the 1925 schedule, also adopted a plan for a definite schedule for world's series games, and ratified the proposal of the baseball advisory council that the club finishing fourth in the pennant race should be permitted to participate in the world's series pool.

The proposal to increase the pay of umpires in the world's series from $2,000 to $2,500, and in the city series from $500 to $750 also was approved.

The meeting, with President Johnson sitting in as the directing head, was harmonious in every respect.

Giants Play Senators.

Action to prohibit exhibition games between world's series contestants was taken after the Giants and Senators participants in the 1924 series, had arranged an extensive schedule of games during their spring training. The action of the club-owners will not necessitate the cancellation of the Giants - Senators games, but no such games will be permitted in the future.

President Johnson, in his recommendations, said the games were arranged by the Washington and New York clubs without seeking to learn what the wishes of the other clubs in the two leagues might be and that the games had been announced as a "continuance of the 1924 world's series."

Cheapen the Classic.

"These games are to be played in the south and in Washington and New York, on the same fields on which the world's series was played last fall." President Johnson's report said. "The criticism has been made that this would tend to cheapen the world's series and to take away from that event the greatest charm from making it a climax—a baseball classic. There is no question as to the evils that can arise from such a series, and we should prevent them in the future. To do otherwise would be to cheapen the baseball classic."

The offer to build the monument in East Potomac Park, Washington, was withdrawn in view of the fact that the proposal had met with opposition each time it came up in Congress."

TURKS TO PLAY HOCKEY.

Join International Federation and Will Enter Title Team.

Turkey has joined the International Hockey Federation and when the championships of Europe are held next year will enter a team. The news that Turkey joined the federation came as a surprise to all the members of the organization. Some years ago a representative of the federation had made an inspection of Turkey, stopping at the larger cities, in an effort to get the Turks to take up the sport, but he returned to Europe with the report that not only did he not see any chance of getting the Turks to try the sport, but that he was led to believe from what he had seen that the country never would engage in such a game. Therefore the announcement that Turkey had joined the federation came as a distinct surprise.

Eight countries now are members of the organiaztion. They include Belgium, Switzerland, Spain, France, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Turkey. Negotiations now are under way between the executives and Holland and Denmark, and it is expected that these two countries will be members before the next title series is held. It has been pointed out that Holland once held membership, but that since the war it has taken no interest in the sport as such, but that a revival on a small scale already has taken place and that by next year that country would be one of the leaders in the game, a place it held for a number of years almost without interruption.

Denmark's delay in taking out membership has been explained by the fact that there is no national organization in charge of the sport there and one will have to be formed before the country can rightly apply for membership in the international organization.

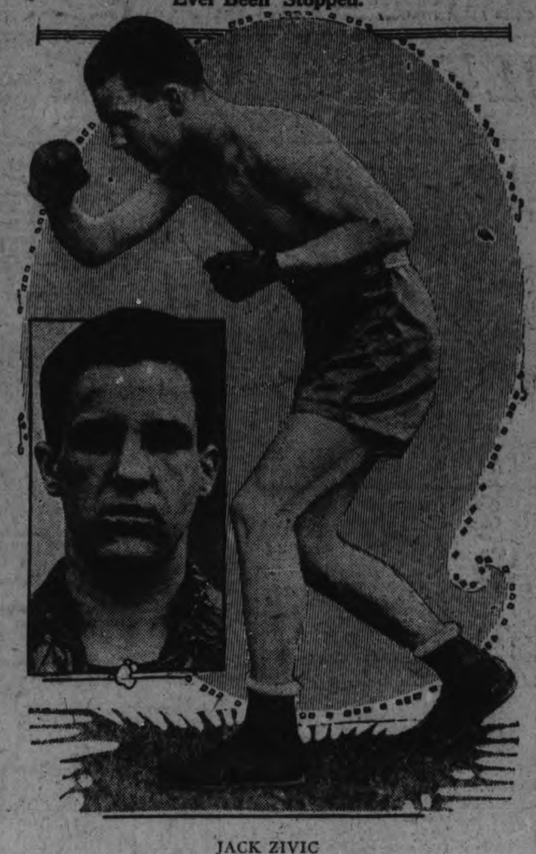
Banff Ski-joring Race Won By Woman of Fifty

Mrs. Jennie Edwards Tied on First Skis Month Ago.

BANFF, Ala., Feb. 11.—A woman who is nearing he half century mark and who donned her first skis four weeks ago, sprang a sensation on the Banff winter carnival Monday afternoon by winning the grand championship in the dangerous sport of ski-joring. She is Mrs. Jennie Edwards, a slim wiry mountain woman, whose skin bears the healthy tan of an orange peel. In winning the championship, she beat such noted Rocky Mountain skiers as Pete White and Cyril Paris.

TENDLER'S KAYO SURPRISE

Knockout Defeat By Jack Zivic First Time Southpaw Has Ever Been Stopped.



JACK ZIVIC

The new year wasn't long in furnishing a fistic surprise.

The form upset has to do with Jack Zivic of Pittsburg, who knocked out Lew Tendler in their recent bout.

In stopping the veteran southpaw, Zivic turned a trick that was too big a task for even the great Benny Leonard.

A dislocated shoulder has been a handicap to Zivic's ring work. Several bouts have been suddenly stopped when Zivic threw out the shoulder, rendering him practically helpless. Zivic weighed 141 for Tendler and probably has outgrown the lightweight limit.

VARSITY UNLUCKY.

Close Game in Local Senior Group Won by Parkdale 2-1.

TORONTO, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—Parkdale did not have anything to spare in pulling out a 2 to 1 win over University of Toronto in a Senior O.H.A. game at the Arena last night. As a matter of fact, Varsity could have turned up winners without any body accusing them of being lucky and there were plenty of fans at the game who thought the Collegians were unlucky in not winning. However, the Paddlers had Harry Watson and Glad Thompson and to these two must go the lion's share of the credit for the victory. Parkdale are practically assured a place in the play-off for group honors and they cannot finish worse than tied for second place.

ST. PATS CLINCH PLACE.

Win Weird Game From Boston by 5 to 1—Two Penalty Goals.

BOSTON, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—St. Pats clinched second place in the National Hockey league standing last night by defeating Boston Bruins in a weird game, 5 to 1. It was one of the most remarkable contests ever staged at the Arena in Boston. Among the features being two penalty goals, one for each team.

Walter Smaill of Montreal, as referee, failed to please the supporters of either club. In case of the forfeit goals, he awarded the extreme penalty for interference in the second period.

The second forfeit goal was in the third period. Shay threw his stick to stop one of Dye's dashes and cost his team a tally. The crowd which was approximately 2,500 jeered some of the referee's decisions and left the rink at last in a sour mood.

JOHNSON WITH HARRIS.

Senator's Great Pitcher Will be With Team Again.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 11. — Walter Johnson has announced here that he will pitch for the Washington Senators next season.

This puts a stop to all the rumors that Johnson will buy a club in the Pacific Coast League or the American Association. The great Walter is going back with Clark Griffith and "Bucky" Harris to do his nineteenth year of pitching in the American League. The big league will not let an attraction like him get away until his pitching arm is gone. Then he may become an owner in some circuit.

Johnson's announcement makes no mention as to salary. It is believed that Washington will pay him $20,000 or more the coming season.

Champions From All Over North America Will Participate—Many Prizes.

BIG ENTERTAINMENT.

QUEBEC, Que., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—One of the biggest and most spectacular amateur figure skating contests ever seen in Canada is scheduled for Febuary 23 and 24 in this city, when champions from the leading clubs of New York, Boston, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Quebec, will compete for cups and medals donated by the Frontenac Winter Sports Club here, and for a silver medal offered by the Canadian Sports Society of Montreal.

All Quebec will be en fete, as lavish entertainment is planned for the skaters and winter sports visitors, including a reception by his Honor Lieut. Governor H. Perodeau and Mrs. McKenna and A. Charley Cabret on the 23rd, followed by a reception and tea in the historic citadel by the Quebec garrison officers, a grand fancy dress carnival, including skating displays by the teams, a supper dance and Mardi Gras on the 24th.

BOUTS FOR GIBBONS.

Engagements With Madden and Firpo in Spring.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 11. — (Canadian Press)—Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, contender for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight boxing crown, has two important matches in prospect for the coming summer, he announced here yesterday on his return from New York, where he discussed with Tex Rickard, promoter, the possibility of meeting Dempsey for the title.

Gibbons said that he had agreed to fight Bartley Madden in New York early in May and Luis Angel Firpo in Detroit in May or early in June.

TOOLE CIRCUIT MEETING QUIET

Not a Discordant Note at Conference of International League.

OPENS APRIL 15.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).—International League club owners yesterday adopted a playing schedule of 168 games for 1925 in one of the most peaceful sessions they have held in recent years.

In the words of President John Conway Toole, there was not a discordant note in the gathering which completed plans and cemented its ranks for the campaign that opens April 15, a day after the major league gets away.

Prior to the meeting reports were current that shifts might take place in the circuit, possibly involving the franchises at Syracuse or Newark, but Mr. Toole announced nothing of this sort was considered. He added that both Newark and Syracuse clubs, as well as the other six outfits, had given assurances they would be fully prepared to start the season.

The 168-game schedule was adopted in favor of a slate of 154 games because of the existence of too many open dates in the latter list. The opening games will find Toronto at Baltimore, Buffalo at Jersey City, Rochester at Reading and Syracuse at Newark. The same order of opposition will prevail in the first games played at home by the clubs in the northern end of the circuit on April 29.

Sweden Seeks Air Safety.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 11.—(Associated Press).—Experiments on a large scale are being carried out by the Swedish military authorities in an effort to discover the best kind of parachute. It is the intention of the Government, should the result of the experiments be satisfactory, to make the carrying of parachutes by air pilots and passengers passing over Sweden compulsory.

RESCUERS NEAR COLLINS' PRISON

No Breathing Audible This Morning, But Hope Is Not Lost.

DIGGERS EXHAUSTED.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 11. — Canadian Press. — Hopes for the rescue soon of Floyd Collins, the imprisoned cave explorer, ran high early to-day with the diggers in the rescue shaft working through a dry sandy stratum, presumed by the geologists to overlay the roof of Collins' cave.

The odor of the banana oil which was sprayed down Collins' tunnel on Sunday night and again on Monday, rose through the floor of the shaft to hearten the tired diggers.

Extra precautions in timbering the shaft were made to protect the work men should the roof of the cave be suddenly broken through.

A small cleft in the side of the shaft towards the north of the sand cave side was discovered at 38½ feet indicating that the underground honey combed section was near at hand.

For the first time the amplifier tests across the electric light wire leading down to Collins, failed this morning to record anything in the head phones.

The last successful test at midnight repeated "breathing" sounds at the regular rate of 18 per minute but H. G. Lane, manager of the electric apparatus at the cave, said that the test indicated that the globe was out of the socket or was burned out..

Heartening Signs.

Definite connection between the rescue shaft and the tunnel was expected to be reached very soon, it was declared this afternoon by H. T. Carmichael.

"I am prepared at almost any time to find a definite connection between the shaft and the cavern," Carmichael said.

More crevices are being found, the rocks are getting larger, the sand has given way to gravel, and more cave crickets are reported.

LOOKS LIKE PETES AND THE PADDLERS

Parkdale Sure of a Place in the Play-off Series for Group Honours.

Parkdale's victory over the Varsity crew last night practically assures the Paddlers of a place in the play off series, as the worst they can get now is a tie for second place. The Paddlers have but one more game to play, with Aura Lee on Friday night, while Varsity's remaining game is on Monday night against the Petes at Brock Street Rink. A three-cornered tie is possible should Peterboro lose to Hamilton and Varsity and Parkdale drop their game to Aura Lee but the chances are against either of these possibilities and it looks like the Petes and Parkdale for the play-off with the local crew needing both games to finish in front at the end of the group schedule.

The standing is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	To play
Peterboro	5	1	2
Parkdale	5	2	1
Varsity	4	3	1
Hamilton	1	6	1

Messages received from Eddie Wright and Frank Convery with the Petes at the Soo say that the Peterboro crew have been royally entertained by the people of Sault Ste. Marie and came through last night's game in great shape. They meet the Greyhounds in the second game of the series tonight and leave tomorrow for Hamilton, where they will play the second last game of the group schedule on Friday night. Last night's game was very clean and not a penalty was imposed on either side.

TREASURE MAP LURES EX-MAYOR.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—Staking his faith on a map portraying the location of an Arctic bonanza James Townsend Fullerton, former mayor of Port Townsend, Wash., and the founder of a loganberry industry on the Olympic Peninsula of Washington is to make a search with a friend in April for a rich mine in Alaska. The mine was discovered and mapped many years ago by a prospector who died suddenly after bringing out 282 pounds of nuggets, said Mr. Fullerton.

MIXED FEELINGS ON 4 P. C. BEER

Commendation and Disapproval in Province—Another Proposal.

WINE AND LIQUORS.

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—The intimation in the speech from the throne at the opening of the legislature yesterday that the Government would permit the sale of stronger beer met with a somewhat mixed reception. One immediate result was the calling of a number of meetings by prohibitionists in Toronto as elsewhere last evening and at these the majority of the speakers took the ground that as the O.T.A. had been sustained last October, Premier Ferguson should strengthen the enforcement of the law rather than make even a modest concession to the minority. On the other hand a number of advocates of Government control of liquor traffic expressed satisfaction with the proposed change, though J. A. McCausland intimated that he would press in the legislature for a further statutory amendment that would permit the sale of native wines on the basis of beer.

"I have learned to love the Prime Minister. I wanted to say to-night, that we must all stand by him and I will say it. I have confidence in the Prime Minister and I am sure that if he can be brought to hear the voice of the people he will see that no such amendment is passed." In these words, Dr. Albert Moore, head of the temperance forces in the province addressing the Parkdale prohibition association in High Park Presbyterian Church last night summed up his attitude regarding the amendment to O.T.A. suggested in the speech from throne to permit the sale of stronger beer.

Not Far Enough

F. W. Wilson, M.L.A., Wndsor, who has a motion on the order paper calling for the sale of wine, beer and liquors under a system of government control, stated this morning that he intended to stand firm on his intention to introduce it in the house. "I do not think 4.4 beer goes far enough and I certainly will go ahead with it," he said.

To Modify Penalties

Abolition of drastic penalties upon the individual who in no way trafficker may be caught with liquor upon his person is strongly mooted. More rigorous penalties for bootleggers are also credited to the government as being part of its program. Both changes will be related to Government's expressed determination to have temperance a measure which will be reasonable in its clauses and creditably serve the interests of true temperance. The necessity is seen for a scale for penalties which will estimate O.T.A. violations with taching to a person who may carry some regard for proportion, not at a bottle upon his hip a penalty unwarrantably exaggerated in light of the offence. Similarly, a bootlegger is recognized as one against whom legislation should bend its weight and greater stringency will be exercised towards him. During the day the Prime Minister stated that stronger beer would be sold generally in hotels and other places just as 2 1-2 per cent. is at present.

Boston Objects to Two Decisions of Referee in St. Pat's Game.

BOSTON, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press)—President Charles Adams of Boston professional hockey club today filed formal protest of last night's National hockey league game here in which St. Patrick's of Toronto defeated Boston Bruins, 5 to 1. The protest is based on two decisions of Referee Waiter Smaill of Montreal.

Probe Road Expenditure Under E. C. Drury's Regime

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Although Hon. W. A. Price, Provincial Treasurer, would not commit himself to any declaration this morning that there would be further deep probing of affairs under the late Drury Government, it is understood that the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature will do some investigating. It is intimated unofficially that road expenditure under the Drury regime will be examined.

Speed Table Of Interest.

Fred Holmes of this city, has recently compiled and copyrighted in Canada and the United States, a table on speed which reveals some informative relative figures.

This speed table which shows the distance one travels per second by auto, train or street car, is printed on a card in folder form of convenient size, for carrying in the pocket. By referring to it we can tell at a glance just exactly how many feet and inches each second one is covering when travelling at a given number of miles per hour. The scope of the table extends from one mile to 120 miles an hour, inclusive. For instance, a speed of one mile an hour represents 1 foot 5 3-9 inches of road or rail traversed every second; 10 miles an hour, 14 feet 8 inches; 20 miles, 29 feet, 4 inches; 25 miles, 36 feet 8 inches; 50 miles, 73 feet, 4 inches; 60 miles, 88 feet. 70 miles, 102 feet, 8 inches, 100 miles, 146 feet, 8 inches; 120 miles an hour, 176 feet the second—and all intermediate mileage accounted for.

Mr. Holmes is an expert mathematician and his handy speed table can be relied on as absolutely correct.

Closing Quotations on Principal Active Stocks.

CHICAGO.

Leading operators in wheat looked for recoveries in prices. They did not appear confident of a large swing upwards, however. While the foreign cash situation appears to have been improved on the decline, domestic spot demand has not yet revived. A two-sided market appears likely. It was said that export interests were reported as heavy buyers of futures presumably in connection with something that has not yet been closed. There will be no session of the board on Thursday.

NEW YORK

It was generally agreed that the market showed a heavy tone at the close yesterday, many stocks being in largely increased supply in late trading and it was assumed by those concerned in the market that much of the selling consisted of profit-taking.

This was a natural result of the manner in which so many specialties had been forced up during the preceding part of the day, making many believe the situation would be weakened by a contraction of bullish activities to the small groups of issues that had become so prominent.

Y.W.C.A. PARTY.

Short Skirts Permitted For Valentine Day—Back to Childhood.

The Y.W.C.A. parties are always jolly affairs. This Friday night will be no exception, for it is the Big Gymnasium Valentine Party and the girls of the "Y" are extending an invitation to all the girls of the city to come and enjoy the party. Everyone is asked to come dressed as a child, for those who are planning the party have decided that no one who looks more than eight or ten may enter the sports. There will be games, races and frolics and for the night all will forget that they are grown up.

If you have enjoyed other parties at the "Y" you will enjoy this one and if you have never been to one before don't miss this good time, on Friday night, starting at eight o'clock.

AIRSHIP WILLS LEGAL.

Germany Legalizes Making of Will When Writer is Up in the Air.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Wills may be made legally in airships, according to Dr. Goldman, who contributes an article to the Deutsche Juristen Zeitung in which he discusess the making of last will and testaments in midair.

Under the German law a German citizen may make a legal will in either a German or a foreign airship. He must write and sign it himself. It must be indicated what ship the document is written on, but the actual position of the ship need not be indicated. For example it would be sufficient to write "On Board ZR3 onthe way from Friedrichshafen to New York."

MIX CAPS ANOTHER CLIMAX IN NEWEST PHOTODRAMA HIT

Every artist has his masterpiece. There is an apex in all our careers when we reach or attain the best that is in us. The same rule holds true among motion picture stars. Like the rest of us mortals they have their limitations.

But every rule has its exceptions.

For years the public, the exhibitors and the dramatic critics have been saying "so-and-so" is Tom Mix' best picture; it is the apex of his career; it would be unfair to expect one man to produce another such film, etc.

But every new Mix production sees these same people eating their words or repeating them. Tom Mix goes on making bigger and better pictures.

Now comes "The Deadwood Coach," a picturization of Clarence Mulford's celebrated novel, "The Orphan," and after seeing it we are almost tempted to make the oft-repeated prediction that it is Tom's best, and we never expect to see him produce one quite as good again.

The reasons we are tempted to do this despite the lessons of the past are this that it really is the most ambitious production Mr. Mix has ever appeared in and William Fox, Mr. Mix' boss, has spared no expense in making it.

Next to Tom's acting, which shows an altogether new character, the scenic beauty of the film borders on being stupendous. Never were such "shots" of the beauty of the country thrown on the silversheet.

Flashing through these beautiful panoramas is the usual Tom Mix action in double measure. From the moment Tom becomes an outlaw known as "The Orphan," after the brutal murder of his father and the tragic death of his mother, thrill follows thrill with almost bewildering rapidity.

Gun fights, Indian fights, hold-ups, chases, captures, surround a love theme that moves one to tears as it progresses through what seems a hopeless course.

A sweet little girl from Boston, cultured and refined, and a Western outlaw with a price on his head. Bringing them together seems an impossible task. But it is done in an amazing manner. Mr. Mulford is without a superior for weaving plots that don't insult our sense of logic and in "The Orphan" he extended his imagination to the breaking point with exceptionally good results.

"The Deadwood Coach" will open at the Regent Theatre for a run of four days, beginning to-night.

Lynn Reynolds directed the production.

PROBLEM DRAMA STAGED ON NEW YORK'S WHITE WAY

"Greater Than Marriage." Film Is Ablaze With Colorful Scenes and Thrills—Royal To-morrow.

The Victor Hugo Halperin production "Greater Than Marriage" which will be shown at the Royal Theatre on Thursday is ablaze with colorful scenes thrills and surprises. It shows glimpses of the Great White Way in New York at night with the fairyland of electric signs flashing above the vast crowds that throng the Times Square district during the theatre hours. There are flashes of Fifth avenue with its buses and picturesque buildings the interior of Grand Central Station with its restless crowd moving to and from trains a flash of the old De Witt Clinton the first train to run over the New York Central tracks the grand concourse before the station and sections of Riverside Drive. All of these locations are familiar and endeared to the hearts of film patrons through fiction stories and newspaper articles. Few films give as intimate a touch of New York life as "Greater Than Marriage."

ANDY GUMP AT ROYAL TO-MORROW.

Children's hour at the Royal Thursday Friday and Saturday will again feature Andy Gump in his latest comedy "Andy's Stump Speech" also Snooky the trained monk in "Kid Days." "The Iron Man" is the extra added attraction.

EUROPE'S SENSATIONAL STRONG MAN AT ROYAL, THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

TORONTO EVENING TELEGRAM CRITIC LIKES NORTH OF 366

Emerson Hough whose thrilling tale of pioneer days in America made one of the screen's greatest pictures—"The Covered Wagon"—is the author of "North of 36" another virile story of early times which is being presented at the Hippodrome this week.

The new drama has the Texas cattle country as a background and deals with the era just after the Civil War when the Texan ranch owners were seeking markets for their immense herds. "North of 36" tells of Taisie Lockhart a very remarkable girl who is owner of a huge herd and her determination to go north and find a purchaser.

She sets out with her cattle men and over four thousand cattle and faces with them almost unsurmountable difficulties from the first. All the familiar hardships characteristic of the times are encountered — unknown trails rough unbroken country strange waterways thieving outlaws and Indians belonging to tribes unfriendly to the white man. Attacks are common and stampeding among the cattle affrighted by firearms provide some of the high spots in the picture. The love story of the piece and the strong character delineations demand of the brilliant cast some remarkable acting.

Lois Wilson as the girl rancher is charming and typical and repeats her triumph of "The Covered Wagon" albeit in a less spectacular setting. Ernest Torrence as Jim Nabours is glorious and Noah Beery is the sinister Rudabaugh foe of Indian and white. Jack Holt as the misjudged McMaster is unfamiliar but for the most part satisfactory side-burns sombrero and all. Some delicious bits of comedy are deftly handled.

The above is the review of The Toronto Evening Telegram's critic. "North of 36" comes to the Capitol Theatre here to-morrow.

"MIAMI" CLOSES RUN AT THE CAPITOL.

"Miami" one of the greatest society dramas ever screened closes its run at the Capitol Theatre to-night.

It is a story of the ultra-smart set who frequent the famous winter resort which is depicted in all its glory.

Betty Compson is starred and Benjamin F. Finney Jr. a social leader and a newcomer to the screen has the principal male role. Others in the supporting cast are Lawford Davidson Hedda Hopper J. Barney Sherry and Lucy Fox.

"Miami" is an Alan Crosland production from an original story by John Lynch.

"DUMB DORA."

The second performance of "Dumb Dora" at the Capitol Theatre last evening saw a crowded house that seemed to enjoy to the utmost the comedy and the interest of the entertaining one-act comedy that is an added attraction to the picture programme. The efforts of the cast were better, if such could be the case, than on the first night, and they received plenty of applause and two curtain calls at the conclusion. The dance by Miss Jessie Hodgson and the songs by Mrs. Park were received with enthusiasm. Mrs. Park, whose vocal selections add much to the enjoyment of the playlet, sings three folk songs; one of Scotland, one of Ireland, and one of England, in "Leezie Lindsay," "Kitty of Coleraine" and "The Keys of Heaven." The production, which bears the earmarks of the careful and satisfying direction of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham, will be repeated for the last time tonight, when frends of the actors will have a last chance to see just how splendidly amateurs can measure up to the limitations and exactions of a dramatic production of this type. Every part is taken in a manner that is remarkably good.

READ THIS ONE
I have suffered from Kidney and Rheumatic trouble for the past ten years, and during that time I spent more than a hundred dollars for different medicines, and was unable to procure any relief.
I was beginning to lose faith in medicines and I considered my case more or less hopeless. Hearing so much about Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills, I decided to give them a trial, and before I had finished one box, I felt like a different man; and am now completely rid of an ailment which had bothered me almost day and night for the past ten years.
I procured Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills at Lynch's Drug Store, and when I purchased them I was told to return for my money if they did not help me. I can recommend these pills and I would willingly pay a good deal to get the relief that I did from them.
This testimonial is given at my own suggestion, and I take pleasure and I consider it my duty to recommend Dr. Banta's Pills to anyone suffering from kidney or rheumatic ailments of any description.

A GALA NIGHT IN ORANGEISM HERE

Star of Bethlehem L. O. L., No. 650 Instituted by Sister Bevan.

Victoria Hall was the scene of another successful night in Orangeism last night, when Star of Bethlehem, L.O.B.A., No. 650, was instituted by Sister Bevan, R.W. Jr. D. G.M, of Ottawa; assisted by Sister Henley, R.W.G.A., of Lindsay, and the degree team of Eastern Star. L.O.B.A., No. 525.

At the conclusion of the election and installation of officers of the new lodge, Sister Bevan was called to the platform, where an address was read by Sister Burnham, W.M., and a beautiful bouquet of roses was presented to her by Sister Tait, D.M. Sister Bevan replied in a few well-chosen remarks.

The degree team of Eastern Star L.O.B.A. was highly complimented on the very efficient manner in which they exemplified the degree. Sister Bevan personally invited the team to visit Ottawa in the near future to exemplify the work for L.O.B.A., No. 12, the banner lodge of that city.

Election of Officers.

The next order of business was the election of officers and resulted as follows:

Sister Burnham, W.M.; Sister Tait, D.M.; Sister Langton, Chap.; Sister Jeane Thorne, recording secretary, Sister Cheu, financial secretary, Sister Chatten, D.C.; Sister Thorne, lecturer; Sister Shaw, deplecturer; Sister Fowler, 1st com.; Sister Harrison, 2nd com.; Sister Welch, 3rd com.; Sister Armstrong, 4th com.; Sister Bettes, 5th com.; Bro. McCullough, I.B.; Bro. Clarke, O.G.; Bro. Morrow, guardian.

The W. M. elect was appointed dele gate to the Grand Lodge

After the installation of the above officers the members and their guests then adjourned to the banquet prepared by the sisters of the new lodge.

The tables were decorated with a profusion of roses and maiden hair ferns, and laden with every good thing known to satisfy the appetite.

At the conclusion appropriate speeches were delivered by the following: Sisters Bevan, Henly, Sexsmith, Huffman, Staples, Frost, and Burnham; also Rev. Mr. Young and Bros. Mayor Turner, R. Denne, F. Brown, H. Freeman, T. Sproats and G. McCullough.

The meeting was then brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The officers of "Star of Bethlehem" L.O.B.A. No. 650 desire to thank the Degree Team of Eastern Star L.O.B.A. No. 525 for their many kindnesses and assistance.

Mr. J. V. Masterson has returned to St. Augustine Seminary, Toronto, after spending the last two weeks with his parents at 93 Park Street N.

PETERBORO' PROHIBITION UNION COMMENDS ENFORCEMENT OF O.T.A. PROMISED BY PREMIER FERGUSON

Passes Resolution Urging W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P., to Support Movement.

FIGHT WETS.

Member For West Peterborough Reiterates Determination to Stand by Premier.

The Peterboro' Prohibition Union heartily commends the stand taken by Premier Ferguson and Attorney-General Nickel, assuring a vigorous enforcement of the O.T.A. and further strengthening of the measure where possible.

The temperance sentiment of Ontario is questioned, as has been proven over and over again. All it needs is a Government that will implement and express in legislation and its enforcement the wish as expressed to eliminate facilities for liquor drinking and vending.

In view of the fact that the present act repeatedly endorsed by the electorate of the Province, and the further fact that West Peterboro has five times in succession voted dry, we therefore respectfully urge our representative, Mr. W. H. Bradburn to support the Government in its expressed purpose of further improvement of the measure and to oppose any further effort that may be made in opposition to the Government carrying out its declared purpose, or any attempt to make this Provincial measure abortive by introducing local option clauses that appeal especially to the foreign born voter upon which the liquor interests depend largely for a majority in the more densely populated centres, and which if allowed would be a constant menace to the other sections of the Province.

The above resolution was presented to Mr. Bradburn by a deputation from the Prohibition Union and he stated his purpose was to stand by Premier Ferguson and his policy regarding the O.T.A.

The Prohibition Union has appointed Mrs. S. R. Armstrong, and Mr. A. B. Cunningham, delegates to the Provincial Convention meeting in Massey Hall, Toronto, February 17 and 18. Mr. Cunningham will also attend a meeting of the Provincial Executive that convenes a day previous to the Convention.

MAYOR TURNER VISITS PLANTS

Sees How Varied Manufactures Are Produced in Peterborough.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Mayor Turner started yesterday on a tour of the various industries of the city. Accompanied by Alderman Meyers and City Clerk Armstrong, he visited the Canadian General Electric Plant and the De Laval Company.

E. G. Patterson, works manager, conducted the visitors through the Canadian General plant, showing them through the new buildings just erected and explaining the operation of the huge new boring mill, the largest in Canada, which has just been put in operation. This boring mill is entirely motor operated, all tool adjustment being done by small motors. The Canadian General Electric Company has spent an amount of money far in excess of the sum promised when these buildings were planned and is now well prepared to handle all kinds of work, both large and small. Unfortunately there is no improvement shown in this line at present.

At the De Laval Company, W. R. Breyfogle received the visitors and conducted them through the plant, explaining the workings of the many machines produced there. This company has also made extensions to its buildings and hope to fill all the available space. The De Laval Company has had some business improvement lately and has added some workmen to its staff.

Ate Poisoned Candy; Die.

Two Children Dead in Montreal and Mother and Sister Ill.

MONTREAL, Feb. 11. —(Canadian Press.)—Fifteen year old Symone Gubord, and her sister Yvonne are dead as a result of eating chocolates thought to contain poison. The mother of the girls and a married sister, Mrs. Summock, were sick after eating the candies, but recovered. Attempts are being made to trace the origin of the candy.

Link Up With the C.N.R. Peterson Steamship Line

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (Canadian Press).—That it is the intention of the government to link up with the National Railways the proposed Peterson Steamship service, for which a subsidy of over $1,000,000 a year is to be paid, is made evident from the report made by W. T. R. Preston on this subject to the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

ENGINEERS MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Address on Factory Management Will Feature To-morrow's Meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada will be held in the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, February 12th, to commence at 8.15 p.m.

Through the good offices of Jos. J. Duffus of the Duffus Motor Sales, the branch have been successful in securing for the occasion the services of W. R. McGie, of the engineering staff of the Ford Motor Co., of Ford, Ont., who will address the meeting on the subject of "Factory Management."

In a city of such diversified manufacturing interests as Peterborough, there must be many to whom an address such as this will be of special interest, therefore the local branch extends to any interested person a cordial invitation to attend this meeting.

The Ford organization is admittedly the greatest, of its kind, ever known in industrial history, owning and operating as it does coal and iron mines, blast furnaces, timber lands, saw mills, foundries and other industries for the development and fabrication of the materials used in the construction of this well known automobile.

The novel methods used in the various Ford plants, both in respect to the human element and in the engineering processes have been copied in hundreds of other industries, so that the name "Ford" has become almost synonymous with the latest practice in mass production.

The branch has not been advised definitely as to the exact scope of the paper which is is to be given, but Mr. McGie has notified them that he will bring with him some very interesting reels of films, and the executive feel sure that the evening will be profitable and pleasant.

CHILDREN AT PLAY CAUSED HIS ARREST

Youthful Robber is in Police Toils Through Little Folks' Alertness.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. — Children at play get most of the credit for the arrest of a youthful robber, who with two companions (all three disguised as negroes) tried to hold up the home of Edward J. Sullivan, a banker and exporter.

Disguised as delivery boys the trio drove up to the Sullivan home in Staten Island late on Tuesday, after verifying by telephone that Mrs. Sullivan and her daughter were the only persons at home. Richard McNamara, 22, the leader of the gang, then delivered a package to Miss Sullivan, and when she handed him the signed receipt, pointed a revolver at her, telling her to deliver all the jewelry and silverware in the house.

Mrs. Sullivan, hearing the commotion, screamed, and the bandits fled. A boy in front of the house noticed the numbers on the license plate, which led to the arrest of McNamara as he drove to the ferry.

Society

On Monday evening the officers and staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in Toronto, held a most enjoyable dance in the Crystal Ballroom of the King Edward Hotel. Patronesses were: Mrs. J. A. MacLeod, Mrs. W. D. Ross, Mrs. H. S. Patterson, Mrs. E. C. Crockett, Mrs. G. McIntyre, Mrs. H. L. Enman, Mrs. W. A. Silver, Mrs. T. G. McMaster, Mrs. W. Duthie and Mrs. G. G. Glennie. Out-of-town managers and members of the staff of the bank were present, amongst them being Mr. J. W. Fraser, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Knight, of Galt, formerly of Peterboro.

Rev. J. G. Lewis and Mrs. Lewis, of Vancouver, B.C., are in the city, and will make an extended visit. They are the guests of Rev. Mr. Bamforth and Mrs. Bamforth, 378 Mark Street.

Messrs. P. J. Moloney, of Sault Ste. Marie, Brick, M. Gown and Young, of Windsor, who attended the ordination ceremony of Rev. J. Moloney on Sunday last, were the guests, while in the city, of Mr. and Mrs. J. Guiry, Homewood Ave.

Miss K. M. Dawson spent the past week in Bridgenorth, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt Mann.

WEDDING BELLS.

McCARTHY—SWEENEY.

A pretty wedding took place at eight o'clock yesterday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Hazel, daughter of Mrs. Mary Sweeney, of Peterborough, and the late Mr. Sweeney, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to James P. McCarthy, of Chelsea, Michigan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. McCarthy, of Hastings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. Costello. The wedding march was played by Miss Lillian Hurley, and Mr. E. Picard sang during the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Dr. Jas. Gallivan, wore a lovely frock of white beaded georgette, with a white French hat and a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of ophelia roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Scott, wore poudre blue canton crepe, with black taffeta hat and columbia roses.

Mr. Walter Hummel of Jackson, Michigan, acted as best man.

After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast for the bridal party and their friends was served at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Gallivan. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on the noon train for a honeymoon in eastern points. They will reside in Chelsea, Michigan.

The bride, who is a graduate of Far Rockaway Hospital, New York, travelled in a stylish ensemble suit of dark green Poiret twill, trimmed with Oriental embroidery and fur, and wore a small green hat of grosgrain ribbon.

OBITUARY

MRS. A. R. CAMPBELL.
(Contibuted.)

At the memorial service of Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, held in Belleghem's chapel on Monday afternoon, the place was filled to capacity by the sorrowing friends of the deceased. In the brief and very impressive service the outstanding features were referred to, as mighty power in prayer, loving sacrifice and service for her church, generous support of things moral and spiritual, and untiring activity in temperance and missionary work.

In the Women's Missionary Society she held the offices of Auxiliary President, District Organizer, Branch Treasurer, Branch Vice-President and Honorary President.

Other facts briefly stated were that she was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Hunter, born at Oshawa, 1835, spent 40 years in the Methodist ministry, as the wife and able assistant of Rev. A. R. Campbell, who predeceased her in 1901.

After her husband's retirement from the work of the ministry, she settled in Peterborough, where she resided for nearly 20 years, being an active and influential member of the George street Methodist church and Sunday school. Here she formed many close and lasting friendships to which Mr. D. W. Dumble and Mrs. James Kendry bore testimony at the service.

For the last eleven years she lived with her only surviving child Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Lewis, of Vancouver, B.C. In the home as elsewheer her words and deeds were ever marked by the kindliest consideration for others.

In addition to her daughter she is survived by three grandsons, Hunter and Burton Lewis of Vancouver, and Dewart Lewis, of Lewiston, Idaho; one granddaughter, Miss Attie C. Folds, of Venice, California, and one great-granddaughter.

MRS. ISABEL MOORE.

The death occurred last night very suddenly of Mrs. Isabel Moore, widow of C. H. Moore, at the residence of her daughter Mrs. J. Comstock, 356 Rubidge Street. The deceased was an ardent worker in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, being at the time of her death the president of the Ladies' Aid of the church. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. Comstock and Mrs. W. T. Regan, both of this city. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from 356 Rubidge Street at 2.30, service commencing at two p.m.

MRS. WILLIAM ANDREWS.

The funeral of Mrs. William Andrews will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of Mr. Thos. Lush, Gravel Road, Rev. Mr. Graw officiating. Service at 1.30.

PREMIER SEEKS HEALTHY SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION

In Seconding Reply to the Throne Speech, Fallis Lauds Ferguson.

APPEALS FOR UNITY.

He Deplores Entry of Class Group Into Ontario's Political Field.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Examiner).—In seconding the reply to the Speech from the Throne, A. J. Fallis, of East Durham, confined himself largely to the agricultural needs of the Province and to an appeal for unity of effort and sentiment between urban and rural sections.

Such a healthy spirit of co-operation, he declared, was fostered by the action of the Prime Minister in choosing a representative of a rural constituency to second the reply.

The time had been in the past when rural members had not received such consideration at the hands of the Government.

Deplores Class Groups.

He pledged to Premier Ferguson the support of rural Conservatives in the House and deplored the entry of class groups into the political field.

"Any movement that tends to divide our people into groups or opposing factions to my mind is moving in the wrong direction," he declared.

Get Right Ideals.

"Our first duty is to get the right ideals regarding our province, and then to work co-operatively to put them into effect."

"If the Province of Ontario is going to make progress, if it is going to realize the high point in its development, it can and will only come through the united efforts on the part of all its people."

"A lot of team work is necessary. I cannot conceive of good business and thriving industries in the towns and cities with an impoverished agriculture. Agriculture in Ontario is to a large extent the power behind that keeps the wheels of commerce moving."

Mr. Fallis paid high tribute to the work of the Agriculture Department and of the Agricultural College at Guelph. He advocated representation for the rural districts upon the Boards of Trade in the smaller urban centres.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving mmory of our dear Father, Joseph H. Taylor who passed away Feb. 11, 1924.
—Fondly remembered by the family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Victor C. Curtis, who was called home to be with Christ, February 11th, 1922.

1st Thess, 4-13: "But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

"For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus, will God bring with him.

"For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

"For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

"Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

"Wherefore comfort one another with these words."

"We'll meet again—perhaps today—
The dear one who have passed away,
The loved ones who now softly sleep,
Whom Jesus now doth safely keep;
Oh, wondrous joy to meet them there
At that blest union in the air."

—Sadly missed by Mother, Father Sisters and Brother.

Give her a chance to get through early.

FERGUSON TO SNATCH STRONGER BEER FROM WETS' SMACKING LIPS IF IT ISN'T A TEMPERANCE DRINK

President's Statement to the Press a Warning That "There's Many a Slip, Etc."

FALLIS CAUTIOUS.

East Durham Member Reserves Opinion on O.T.A. Change Till Bill Appears.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—With the introduction of several bills by members of the Government and the reply to the Speech from the Throne duly moved and seconded, the second session of the 16th Legislature of Ontario got away to a good start yesterday. E. C. Graves (Con., St. Catharines) moved the reply and A. J. Fallis (Con., East Durham) seconded it.

Mr. Graves approved the Government proposal for the strengthening of beer sold legally, and Mr. Fallis reserved judgment until the bill is before the House. W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, moved the adjournment of the debate, and will speak to-day. He will be followed by W. E. Raney, Progressive leader, who is expected to move amendment on the beer clause with the intent of having the Ontario Temperance Act remain as it is.

Wednesday the "beer proposal" has been the subject of discussion in the lobbies. Some members who got letters from their local prohibitionists to support the Goovernment in the enforcement of the O.T.A. have received wires protesting against the stronger beer clauses after the country had received word of it. The last word on the proposed amendment was made just after the session yesterday by the Premier to the press. Regarding the stronger beer, he said: "If we find that it is not a temperance drink we put it out of business."

O.T.A. Majorities Declined.

Mr. Graves, in moving the reply, reserved his talk on the O.T.A. to the last part of his speech. He declared that the O.T.A. wasn't the only big problem before Ontario, and thought that unemployment was of greater importance. He referred to the decreased majorities for the O.T.A. on several votes by people claiming that this was evidence that the Act was not doing all that was expected of it. Many men who had never taken a drink had voted for government control. He was sorry that the last majority had not been 300,000 one way or the other. In view of the small majority he said that it was almost impossible to enforce the Act. Mr. Graves objected strongly to being called "wet," but he believed that if something better than the O.T.A. could be evolved it should be.

"We can't object to the selling of this beer when wine that would knock your hat off is allowed to be sold. This beer is not intoxicating and is a step towards true temperance, and temperance people if they are honest will be pleased with this legislation."

Deficit $8,000,000.

Mr. Graves congratulated the Government on reducing the provincial deficit of $15,000,000 to $8,000,000 in a year. He believed that in two years the Province would be on an even keel and that then the debt could be reduced rapidly. He declared that the unemployment situation was almost unbearable. He was not a believer in government doles except as immediate remedy for immediate evil. Unemployment could be absorbed only on the farms and industry. Going into Federal matters he advocated a tariff commission.

"We must show the Western free trader that the industries are not making fortunes the West thinks they are," he said. He was glad to see a tax on gasoline and spoke in praise of the forestry patrol last year confining the loss by fire to 125,000 acres. He also urged the Government to all possible action in maintaining the water rights of Canada against the Chicago 'steal.'

Mr. Fallis' Address.

Mr. Fallis pressed thanks that a rural member was chosen to second the reply and dealt largely with agricultural problems. He appealed for unity and more co-operation between city and country. He asked for greater consideration by Hydro for rural sections.

"The O.T.A. is a delicate question to handle," he stated. "I favor the means that will promote the most temperance among the people. We do not all agree on the form such legislation should take. I did not know the attitude of the Government until the address from the Throne was made. One of the principles of the Conservatives is cautiousness and I am a Conservative. Before moving I want to know what is going on. Speaking for myself I do not believe that the Government took this step without a great deal of consideration. I believe that the Government thinks this is in the

RAILWAY ASKS LARGE SUBSIDY

The Quebec Government Receives Deputation From Abitibi Railway Co.

250 MILE STRETCH.

QUEBEC, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — Premier Taschereau and several of his colleagues received a delegation yesterday in connection with the project of the Abitibi Southern Railway Company, which wishes a charter and subsidies to build a line from Amos, on the Canadian National Transcontinental line, to Mount Laurier and Maniwakigny, a distance of some 250 miles.

It is asked that the subsidy granted be 5,000 acres a mile. The cost of the project is about nine millions or at the rate of some $40,000 a mile. Premier Taschereau said that all were in agreement with the project of a railway, but it was a matter of means. He calculated that the lands asked for in subsidy were worth $6 an acre, being all good timber lands, so that the Government was asked to contribute lands worth $30,000 a mile to the cost of a railway which was to cost $40,000 a mile.

The Government, he said, was being asked to be more generous than the promoters. However, he suggested that the promoters talk the matter over with Hon. Mr. Galipeault, Minister of Public Works and Labor, and also suggested that Ottawa be approached in the matter of subsidies.

BICYCLIST KILLED.

Fell on Slippery Road in Front of Automobile.

CHATHAM, Ont., Feb. 12.—Clement St. Pierre, 18-year-old Dover youth, died in the public general hospital late yesterday as a result of injuries sustained last night when he fell from his bicycle in the front of a car driven by Charles Buck of Paincourt. The accident occurred on the Winter Line, Dover, rendered slippery by a drizzling rain. His skull was fractured, and his jaw was broken. He died without regaining consciousness.

COURT MOVED BY GIFT OF ALE FOR RELATIVE

Windsor Man Acquitted of Charge of Running "Blind Pig."

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 12.—The story of how he was sending a dozen bottles of ale to his 72-year-old foster-father at Watford touched the heart of the court and won an acquittal for J. Manus, 10 Park street east, in police court yesterday, when he was accused of running a blind pig at his home.

Manus was arrested by provincial police, when he and John Milligan of Watford were found with a suitcase of beer at the Canadian National Railway station. A search of his house revealed eight quarts of whiskey and a pint of beer.

"It appears that all the people living in rural communities are not so dead against a little ale at times, in spite of the results of the voting on prohibition legislation," Magistrate Gundy remarked when he dismissed the case.

FOUR DAY WEEK TO THE MINERS

Counter Proposal Made by the British Empire Steel Corporation.

AT 1924 WAGE.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 12.—Canadian Press).—The British Empire Steel Corporation has made a definite counter proposition in reply to the proposal of the United Mine Workers of America that a minimum of four working days per week at the 1924 wage scale be guaranteed for a period of four months, in order to permit an investigation by royal commission into the Cape Breton situation. But just what constituted this definite counter proposition, neither J. W. McLeod, district president of the United Mine Workers, or J. E. McLurg, vice-president of the Corporation, would vouchsafe over the long distance telephone last night.

Mr. McLeod acknowledged receipt of a communication from the Corporation, but said he did not propose to make it public, pending the framing of a reply, and Mr. McLurg said he proposed withholding publication of the communication "for a reasonable time," in fairness to the United Mine Workers' executives.

He admitted, however, that the letter contined a definite proposal for the settlement of the dispute over the 1925 wage scale, which became acute with the expiration of the 1924 contract early in January. Since that time the colleries have been working part time under a working agreement between the Corporation and miners. The proposal submitted the miners is believed to have been the result of a conference held here early this week between Roy M. Wolvin, president of the Corporation, and J. E. McLurg and other officials.

WANTS MIXED JURY.

Defense Petition in Delorme Insurance Action.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—The hearing of the petition of the Sauvegarde Assurance Company for a mixed jury trial in the case taken by Rev. Father Adelard Delorme to recover $25,000 insurance in his favor on the life of his half-brother Raoul, for whose slaying he was tried three times and finally acquitted was postponed yesterday until next Tuesday by Mr. Justice Bruneau.

The company contends that the action, being a commercial one, entitles the defence to ask for a jury which should be both French and English and chosen among those the jury list designated as merchants or those engaged in some kind of commerce.

Well, Old Terra Firma is still orbiting, and the sun rises and sets on schedule. Which must be a sore disappointment to those members of reformed sect of the Seventh Day Adventists who so confidently awaited the end of the world. At Patchogue, Long Island, Robert Reidt was the leader of those who expected the end. He sold all his property to pay off his debt, and with his family repaired to a neighboring hill, from whence he believed he would be wafted on a cloud to a mountain near San Diego, Cal., where with the 144,000 elect, he would watch the end of the world. The photo shows him and his family on hillside near Patchogue, where they constantly engaged in prayer.

SLAYER'S LAST KISS BORNE ON FLOWER TO MOURNING MOTHER BEFORE EXECUTION

Marshall Bevis, Hanged at Halifax, Made His Peace and Was Resigned.

BURIED IN CEMETERY.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—The body of Louis Marshall Bevis, who was executed early yesterday morning for the murder of Police Officer Fulton, was buried late in the afternoon, in Camphill, the cemetery in which the man surrendered, following a twenty-four hour running gun fight with the police on July 14 of last year. The decision was made by Sheriff James Hall as the result of an order in council passed by the provincial government, directing him to see that the remains were decently interred. Had the order in council not been passed and the body not claimed by relatives, it would have been buried, according to custom, in the jail yard. The Salvation Army was in charge of the burial services.

A letter from Bevis was carried yesterday to his mother by Adjutant Harding of the Salvation Army. The letter was written ten minutes before the execution. It was as follows:

"Hello, my sweet mother—Now you be a good mummy and don't you worry as all is well, because your precious boy is going to heaven and he will pray for you there and meet you there some day. Now, mother dear, here is a flower that my lips have kissed. I am sending it to you, you can say you had the last kiss from your boy's lips. I just had a cup of tea and a piece of pie. I feel great. Mr. Harding is staying with me all night, so, bye-bye, dear mother of love, with oceans of love and a kiss on every wave. I close for ever more."

BIG ICE HARVEST.

QUEBEC, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).—One of the most successful seasons of ice cutting operations in the St. Lawrence River is freely predicted for 1925. It is said that the quantity will exceed by some thousands of tons that of many former seasons. In many places the ice is four feet thick.

New Overalls Too Much Over All Declare Girls

LIVERPOOL, England, Feb. 12.—(United Press).—The first overall strike on record has just finished its stormy career here.

An employer in a cotton works decided to supply all his girls with overalls. Unfortunately, his wife designed them, and she had strong ideas as to how much ankle and neck should be shown.

The girls when they saw the new overalls, revolted. There was a strike. The slogan was "Overalls are all right, but they mustn't be over all."

Arbitration as to length and cut of the garment forced the employer's wife to back down.

Spring Plowing Starts On Farm Near Chatworth

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—All records were shattered for this section of the country on Tuesday, when spring plowing was started on the farm of Adolphus Matthews, near Chathworth, and one or two other farmers in the neighborhood were also enabled to break ground. There is very little frost in the ground.

NATION'S LEAGUE IS PLANNING TO MEET IN CANADA

Proposition Originated With Sir H. H. Ames, Canadian Finance Director.

A VEXED QUESTION.

Turkey Queries the League's Power to Intervene in Internal Affairs.

GENEVA, Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—The idea of holding some future assembly of the League of Nations in Canada, presumably in Ottawa, is being quietly broached at Geneva. It was learned last night, the suggestion originated with Sir H H Ames, Canadian director of the league's finances, and it is said if it is adopted, it would have the hearty support of the Canadian government and the British dominions.

Can League Intervene?

The entire question of whether the league of nations is competent to intervene in internal affairs if war is threatened, was resurrected yesterday, when Chukry Aya Bey, Turkish Foreign Minister, announced Angora would fight the Greek appeal for the league's intervention in the Patriarchate controversy.

Turkey claims her expulsion of Patriarch Constantine is purely a domestic question. Angora will send a representative to the council sessions if the case is taken up, but he will insist that the league is not competent to consider it. This will force the league to establish a precedenet.

PATROL BOAT FOR THE ST. LAWRENCE

Plan to Check Rum-Runners and Other Smugglers.

QUEBEC, Feb. 12. — A fully equipped police patrol boat for the St. Lawrence River insofar as the Quebec district is concerned will be the next important step to be taken by the interested authorities to assist in checking the importing of contraband liquors into this province, as well as serving the purpose of keeping a sharper watch on the activities in connection with the smuggling of alien immigrants into this country by water route.

It is said that the operators of the craft will have much the same invested powers as the revenue officials undertaking similar duties in ports like New York, Boston and other Atlantic harbors; that is they will be given carte blanche in holding up and examining any steamer, schooner, barge or other vessel that may come under suspicion.

Such river police service would not come under the control of the municipality, but would be supported and carried on by the federal government, it was learned.

WERE "MAKING" MONEY.

Two Men Guilty at Montreal of Counterfeiting.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—Louis Robidoux, Yamaska bargeman, and Theodule Hamelin, ex-pilot and hotel keeper of Grondines and Quebec, were found guilty in the court of King's bench here yesterday on charges of conspiring to counterfeit $10 bills of the United States federal reserve bank and of having and possessing material for counterfeiting purposes. They will be sentenced later.

Went Through Ice; Died.

Frank O'Leary Died as Rescuers Pulled Him From the Water.

HALIFAX, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — Frank O'Leary, 31, went through the ice of the harbor yesterday and died from shock as rescuers were hauling him from the water.

GAS EXPLOSION.

Searching For Gas Leak With Match Causes Fire.

Looking for a leak in the gas-pipe with a lighted match caused a slight blaze at the home of A. Gibson, 583 George street, yesterday. The fire brigade was called and extinguished the flames without damage.

THE WEATHER

The mild weather that has been with us since last Saturday has played havoc with the sleighing in many places, and settled the snow greatly. As the ground was not frozen very deeply, much of the moisture has soaked into the ground, to the great benefit of low wells, which were said to be unusually common lately. The rainfall of the last few days, which has been considerable, will also help to improve matters along this line.—W.P.

BRIDGE AND THEATRES FORBIDDEN FOR CHOIR

Woodstock Minister Will Also Censor Church Plays.

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 12.—Rev. F. E. Davies, pastor of the Plattsville Methodist Church has caused somewhat of a sensation in his congregation by a bitter denunciation of cards, dancing and theatres. He has announced to the members that no persons could become members of the choir and assist in the regular service of worship during his pastorate unless they abstained from attendance at dance and at the card table. He also intimated that he does not approve of theatrical plays in connection with the church, and in future all entertainments arranged by the societies of the congregations must first have his sanction. This announcement followed upon Mr. Davies' acceptance of an invitation extended to him by the official board of the church to remain as its pastor for another year.

40,000 CHILDREN VICTIMS OF "FLU"

British Isles in Grip of an Epidemic Rapidly Spreading.

MEASLES AS WELL.

LONDON, Feb. 12. — (United Press). — Forty thousand London school children are influenza victims in some cases less than half the average attendance being in their classes.

The British Isles are in the grip of an epidemic, that is spreading with alarming rapidity, although the disease itself is comparatively mild. The influenza has made serious inroad in business, society and government work.

Many functions have been abandoned and many committees lack quorums, as their members are stricken with the 'flu."

In many districts throughout England and Scotland there is a severe epedemic of measles as well.

BIG FLOUR ORDER TO HELP LOCALLY

No Advices Received This Morning—Would Require Four Years' Work Here.

News of the big order for 1,150,000 barrels of flour received by the Maple Leaf Milling Co. had not reached the local subsidiary, Campbell Flour Mills, Ltd., this morning, but Manager D. J. Holland told The Examiner that such an order would undoubtedly aid in keeping the Peterboro mill running for some time.

The order, as explained in a cable despatch in another column, is from Soviet Russia, and is for immediate delivery.

Mr. Holland expressed the opinion that such an order would have a stabilizing effect on the wheat market, although the Maple Leaf Company has the necessary stock of wheat to make this flour.

Take Four Years.

An idea of the size of the order can be gleaned from the knowledge that its completion in the local plant would take approximately four years and ten months, with the plant working to capacity every working day. This computation is based on the statement recently given that the capacity of the mill is 750 barrels a day. This means a 24-hour production.

Of course the whole of the order will not be produced in Peterboro, and the figures are merely given to indicate the size of the order. It is probable from information obtained to-day, that part of the production will be done in this city.

MINE EXPLOSION KILLS OVER 130 GERMAN MINERS

Women Fight to Get to the Rescue of Their Entombed Husbands.

RESCUER KILLED.

Message on Wall Tells of Nine Alive at Midnight —Found Dead.

(By Carl D. Groat, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—One hundred and thirty-one miners were killed in a mine explosion at Dortmund shortly before midnight, one of the worst disasters in German history.

Rescuers, cutting their way into the gas-filled mine were asphyxiated.

Out of the 138 miners trapped when the blast let go only seven were brought out alive.

The entire industrial region around Dortmund was plunged into gloom by the tragedy and crowds gathered in an ugly mood at the mine entrance threatened to lynch the directors who were making every effort to keep news of the disaster from gaining circulation.

The Government sent its condolences to the community.

Pitiful Scenes.

Pitiful scenes were enacted as scores of wives and mothers, with little children at their skirts, clambered to be allowed to enter the pit mouth and help the hundreds of volunteers who were risking their lives in the shafts. Rescue workers with torches and oxygen tanks had to cut their way through rocks to the rear of the death chamber, where the explosion buried most of the victims.

A series of explosions had blown a score of miners to pieces and blocked the entrance to the second and third levels of the mine.

Damp then caved in the walls of a pit where survivors were huddled together, and more than 100 others were crushed or asphyxiated.

Dying Message on Wall.

Breaking into one gaseous passageway, rescue workers, including firemen with resuscitation apparatus and gas masks, found chalked on the wall, "Midnight, nine of us still alive."

These nine were found dead, huddled together in a heap at the end of the shaft from which they had tried vainly to escape as the gases spread.

Nurses, doctors, firemen and police came from neighboring cities at dawn, when rescue work actually got under way.

Body after body, some so mutilated that they were well nigh unrecognizable, was brought out until ninety lay stretched beneath white sheets in tragic rooms.

Rescue Worker Dies.

Those who went into the mine seeking miners who might possibly be alive, risked their own lives every minute, for other explosions occurred at intervals. One rescue worker died of gas poisoning.

By 1 p.m. 100 bodies had been brought up from the pits. Some of these were so charred and mutilated that they were identified only by tags or the numbers of lanterns. The explosion appeared to have hurled some victims a distance of 20 yards, breaking them to pulp.

Many hours' work lay ahead before the rescue workers could cut their way through to all the way shafts and make certain that no one remained alive in some distant recess.

The cause of the catastrophe was laid to sparks from a machine in one of the shafts igniting the gas in the mine.

Fire broke out following the blast and was raging in one shaft as late as 10 a.m. today.

NEARING ROOF OF COLLINS' CAVERN

Workers Hope to Sight the Imprisoned Explorer Any Moment Now.

RAPID EXCAVATION.

CAVE CITY, Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—An official bulletin at nine o'clock this morning, issued by M. E. S. Posey, engineering representative of Governor Fields, said that the depth of the sand cave rescue shaft was "about 45 feet" He gave nine o'clock Saturday night as the maximum time in which the shaft would reach the maximum depth to which it will be driven. "We appear to be close to the roof of the cave and have speeded up excavation to the rate of ten feet in 24 hours," Posey's statement said. "There is great possiblity of finding an opening at any time. Tunneling will start if Collins has not been uncovered when the shaft reaches 68 or 70 feet."

The finding of limestone in the shaft this morning inspired the belief among the diggers that the diggers that the roof of the cave was not far away. Each crew entering the shaft is hopeful of being the ones to sight Collins. A down draft in the shaft today gave workers hope that some crevice was near which would open into Collin's cavern.

Meantime the state military board continued its enquiry, hearing ten witnesses yesterday, who described early efforts to rescue the imprisoned man.

BRIDGENORTH NEWS.

Many Social Activities Help to Pass Winter Days on Lake Shore.

BRIDGENORTH, Feb. 12.—Mr. James Beatty motored to Bridgenorth on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. W. McConkey, of Peterboro, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Black.

Nurse Dawson, of Peterboro, is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mann.

Mr. Norman Bradley, of Peterboro, spent a few days this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley, in the village.

Miss Laura Jones, of East City, spent Sunday with Frieda Jobe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mann entertained their friends to the number of about 25 to a card party on Monday evening. The tables were kept busy. Mr. J. A. Jobe started at table No. 1 and had the pleasure of starting the game by ringing the bell but he was soon moved down and did not return again during the evening. Mr. Fred. Jopling, with his wife, won the final play-off and received a beautiful piece of china as first prize. Miss F. Jobe won the booby prize, after which dainty refreshments were served, when a very pleasant evening was brought to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville McWilliams were at home to a number of their friends last week. Cards and dancing, including dainty refreshments, brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. James Preston and family, of Windsor, Ont., are visiting with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fowler.

Mrs. Jack Sullivan, who lives at Detroit, spent the past week visiting her mother, Mrs. L. G. Fobert, at the Park.

Cliff Fitzgerald entertained a number of his friends to a sleigh ride and dance in the Foresters' Hall on Tuesday night. Art Johnson, who was trying to navigate Chemong Road with a sleigh-load coming out to the party, lost control of his team, and did not arrive just on schedule time. However, no person was hurt in the mix-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Black entertained a number of their friends to a euchre party on Saturday night. Among the visitors present were noticed Mr. and Mrs. Preston, of Windsor, Ont.

Some of the members of the Methodist Church in Bridgenorth were anxious to get an estimate of what it cost to heat the church for one Sunday, and after a careful test, discovered with a wood furnace burning dry maple it cost just $5.

A quantity of hay is being weighed on the scales in Bridgenorth. The average price the farmers are asking is from $12 to $15 per ton. The hay looks to be in the pink of condition, as the hay crop was cut and cured in good weather during the past summer. Some green mixed wood was sold for $7 a cord, 4 feet long, and dry poplar with an odd stick of birch was sold for $6.

The Beatty-Bell dance on Thursday night was one of the best of the season, over one hundred being present. A good orchestra supplied the music. A good lunch was provided. The Foresters' Hall seems to be an ideal place for these social functions.

Mr. Albert White is quite busy these days down at the lake cutting ice. At present it is 20 inches thick and is sawed 18 inches square.

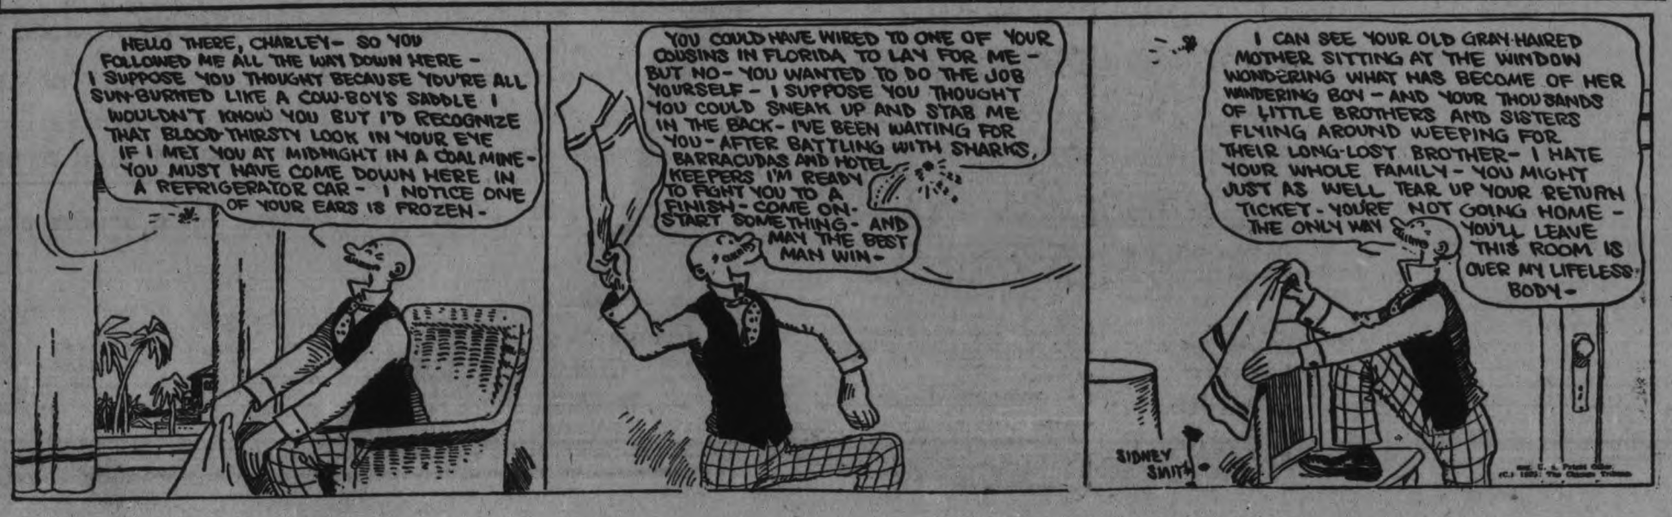
THE GUMPS—THE FLY SWATTER



LARGEST ORDER EVER GIVEN TO CANADIAN MILL

Soviet Russia Wants 1,300,000 Barrels of Flour on Cash Basis.

STAVE OFF FAMINE.

Maple Leafe Milling Co. Gets Bulk of Business—More Coming.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—What constitutes the largest order for flour ever given at one time on this continent was placed yesterday by Russian buyers, with two Canadian Milling Companies.

The total business placed amounts to 1,300,000 barrels, to be shipped as early as possible to Black Sea ports. Of this, the Maple Leaf Milling Co. secured 1,150,000 barrels with another Toronto Company taking the balance. The transaction is on a cash basis and it is understood that the Soviet authorities have arranged credits at New York to cover this and previous orders.

Further purchases are believed to be pending.

The large quantity of flour being bought by Russia is due to near famine conditions prevailing in that country and it is estimate that the supplies bought yesterday should, under famine conditions, feed 1,950,000 persons for one year or 7,800,000 people for a period of three months, allowing one barrel to one individual as sufficient for eighteen months under such conditions. The order should make in the neighbourhood of twenty two ships cargoes. Added to a previous purchase by Soviet authorities, the total quantity of Canadian flour bought from Canada by Russia since the middle of December amounts to 1,900,000 barrels.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

Thaw Brings Water to Citizens Who Have Been Going to Water.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 12. — Many of the citizens and people in the surrounding country are glad to see the thaw and rain as it is filling up their cisterns and wells. Many of the families have had to draw water some distance.

The bad roads and the rain have made business very dull, especially on Wednesday.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Girl Guides and Rangers on Tuesday night. After the business of the evening they completed the plans for their tea and cooking sale on Saturday afternoon in the Public Library.

Bills Introduced.

Government measures introdruced would give the Victoria Park Commission, Niagara Falls, the right to borrow money over long periods for permanent construction work in the park; give the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission the right to raise money by bonds for construction work; establish a Boys' Welfare Board for the Province.

Hon. Chas. McCrea brought in amendments to the natural gas conservation act giving the Minister power to regulate and control the supply of helium and other rare gases should such be discovered in large quantities in the province. The measure also provides for appeals from all rulings of the natural gas board, and extends the definition of natural gas to cover a brand now being produced in the Niagara peninsula.

Bills to amend the land titles act and the mining act of Ontario were also given first reading.

Hon. W. H. Price introduced a bill to amend the corporation tax act by exempting gas and electric companies generating and transmitting electrical power when the value of the investment and the capital stock is less than $20,000.

The licensing of 'buses operating on all highways is provided for in a bill introduced by Hon. G. Henry to amend the public vehicles act. The present act only provides for government supervision of 'buses operating on provincial highways.

LAKEFIELD FIREMEN'S BANQUET TO COUNCIL

Gift of $25 From A. E. Dawson Brought Public Servants Together.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12.—A most enjoyable time was spent on Tuesday evening at the Commercial House, when the volunteer fire brigade entertained the village council to dinner. Twenty-seven persons sat down to the ample and appetizing repast, which mine host, W. H. Peacock provided. After full justice had been done to the tempting viands, the Reeve, J. C. Strickland, who acted in the double capacity of chairman and toast master, called the company to order and in a neat speech congratulated the brigade on the esprit de corps which existed in its ranks. He assured them of the backing of the council and promised that the matter of a new fire alarm which was badly needed in the village should have close attention.

He proposed the first toast, "The King," which was duly honored, and Councillor U. A. Moore proposed the toast to "The Fire Brigade," congratulating the brigade on its efficiency.

Fire Chief Webster replied stating that the boys fully appreciated the help of the council, which statement was emphasized by a hearty clap of the hands.

Mr. C. Ridpath proposed the toast to the council, to which Mr. T. W. B. Marling in a humorous speech replied.

Mr. Marling touched on the various members of the council, ending with the remark, "they are not a bad bunch"

A toast to Mr. A. E. Dawson was drunk heartily and honored duly, as it was to the generosity of this gentleman that the banquet is due After the Hill fire, Mr Dawson, general manager of the Toronto Casualty Insurance Co., Toronto, and formerly of Lakefield, sent the boys of the brigade a gift of $25 in appreciation of their work. This money was used for the banquet, as it was considered the most satisfactory way of dividing it.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Chief of Police R. Webster in a neat speech on the credit side of the fair sex. Messrs. E. Robertshaw, J. Hull and T. Simpson replied, all endorsing the chief's remarks as to the value of the ladies in the community.

This brought the toast list to a close, and after a few songs and stories by various members of the brigade and their guests, the proceedings were brought to a close and the function was voted by everyone to have been a real good time and a huge sucess. One cannot help hoping it will be an annual event, as the good effects of these "get-together meetings" are far reaching.

SENATE REFORM IS ONLY RED HERRING

Across Trail of Federal Administration, Says Senator Taylor.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—Feeling impotent to handle the matter on land the Canadian Government was now devoting itself to the high seas, Senator J D. Taylor, Conservative, New Westminster, told the Senate yesterday in the debate on the address in the Upper House.

He had not observed that the government, proprictors of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, was giving any indication of a desire to give lower freight rates on its own ships.

"The scheme," he said, "is worthy of its author, and its long record in the promotion of fantastic enterprises both in this country and in Europe."

The conference with the provinces and proposed amendments to the powers and constitution of the Senate as mentioned in the speech from the throne, were simply "a red-herring across the trail of this administration" and very lame after the prime minister's announcement of last summer.

Smiles Of Fortune Drive Brothers Into Hiding

PLEVEN, Bugaria, Feb. 12.—(Associated Press.)—Two brothers, plowing a field to plant it to grapevines, recently turned lup some heavy objects that ot their ignorant eyes seemed like gold. They were vases and statuettes, 15 in all. To be on the safe side the two men gathered up their finds and disappeared.

But rumors of the occurrence got out and the local authorities started to investigate. They found in the field the cover of a vase that had been overlooked. It weighed 90 grams and an assay proved it to be pure gold.

German Colleges Report Registration Decrease

LEIPSIC, Feb. 12. — Educational statistics for German universities covering a period of ten years show an increase of women students, a falling off in total enrollments and a neglect of the ministry.

The women to-day are about twice as numerous as the were in 1914; 7467 as against 4056. After the war a large number of young people rushed blindly to the schools, many of them unfitted for university work; these have now departed, and the attendance is becoming normal

Medical and theological schools report great declines, the attendance to-day being less than half what it was ten years ago.

MARX PRUSSIAN PREMIER.

German Ex-Chancellor Appointed to New Post.

MARX PRUSSIAN.

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—Ex-Chancellor Marx was named Prussian premier. Thus Dr. Marx enters a political arena which, though smaller than that where he recently was worsted by Foreign Minister Stressemann, may give him some more lively moments.

Dr. Marx was named in the hope he can form a Prussian Cabinet which will get a majority in the Prussian Diet. He will doubtless retain Minister of Interior Severing who is a Socialist, thus hoping to get Socialist backing while simultaneously placating the right parties by having no other Socialists.

It remains to be seen though whether Dr. Marx can get a vote of confidence when he presents the new Prussian Cabinet to the turbulent Diet.

Among those slated for a cabinet post is Captain Von Papen, former German military attache at Washington.

CATTLE BUSINESS SEES BETTER DAY

Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association Has Confidence in Future.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—Improved conditions in the cattle breeding industry were foreshadowed in various addresses delivered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association which took place here yesterday. Dr. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, expressed confidence that better times were coming for cattlemen. The opening of the British market had meant much to the industry, and opportunities for foreign trade were increasing. He had hopes that freight rates on cattle to Britain would be sufficiently reduced to permit the shipping of lighter Canadian bred cattle for feeding in Scotland.

Cupid Had Hand In Stolen Corn Case Was Dismissed

BUDAPEST, Feb. 12.— One of the most unusual cases ever heard in Hungary recently was before the court in the little provincial town of Osli, when eight farmer boys, caught in the act were charged with walking off with 20 pounds of corn stolen from a widow named Voeroes. They not only pleaded not guilty despite the fact that they admitted the theft, but produced a sealed document from the widow in which she declared that 'she and her daughter Sarik acounted it an honour that Franz Kiraly (the ringleader of the eight) had considered their house worthy of this distinction."

The judge was nonplussed. "I suppose the widow fears your revenge?" he asked.

"No, Your Honor," Franz Kiraly replied, speaking for the group. "You see, in our part of the country there is a custom by which every year after the corn has been harvested a large pot of corn meal is placed on the stove in houses where there are grown-up unmarried daughters. The lover of the oldest daughter must steal this corn. To facilitate the theft the family leaves the house for half an hour after the corn meal has been placed on the stove. The greatest disgrace that can happen to the family consists in the corn being left unstolen."

The judge dismissed the case.

Nictheroy Shuts Up Shop, Protest Against Taxes

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 12.— As a protest against a heavy increase in municipal taes for 1925, the business concerns of Nictheroy, across the harbour from Rio de Janeiro, shut their doors a few days ago and refused to open them for three days. Everything closed down including coffee and milk shops and vegetable and fruit stores, and the taxicab drivers went on strike.

Taxes on many industries and articles have been increased from 50 to 500 per cent and many new items included, such as sewing machines and pianos in private homes. The mayor has defended his action in signing the increased tax bill according to one of the local newspapers, by saying that the city was badly in need of an improved sewage system and better paving.

At the end of the third day a delegation from the commercial houses visited the persident of the state, who promised to investigate the situation and then call a session of the municipal council

DEER HARASSED BY FRONTENAC WOLVES

Will Be Exterminated Unless Some Protection Given.

KINGSTON, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—Wolves have been seen within two miles of Mississippi in the past week. Unless something is done soon to curb the wolf nuisance they will exterminate the deer in that district, is the opinion of men who have spent a lifetime in that country.

A hunter in passing through the woods near Ragged Chutes a few days ago came across a badly wounded deer which was trying to escape from the pursuit of a big timber wolf. Out of compassion with the sufferings of the deer, which had been badly mauled, the hunter shot it, intending to shoot the wolf too. But when he turned to put it out of the way, it was nowhere to be seen, it had simply disappeared behind a bush or some other equally useful shelter. Still later a number of wolves chased three deer across a well travelled road between Mississippi and Clarendon. Teamsters drawing timber from Ardoch to Robertsvill report seeing hundreds of tracks of wolves crossing the roads on that route in the vicinity of Fawn Lake.

TOUCHED LIVE WIRE.

Lineman Hurled From Pole Badly Burned.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—William McNally, this city, was seriously injured yesterday when he came in contact with a live Hydro-Electric wire, in Pond street. He was working on a Hydro pole, when his hand came in contact with a highly charged wire. He was hurled to the street and struck on his back in the ice and slush. He was taken to the hospital. One of his hands and his feet were badly burned.

RETIRE SIXTY TEACHERS.

Toronto School Committee Lets Out Men Over 65 and Women at 62.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.— (Canadian Press). —Toronto school management committee yesterday established a rule for the retirement of men and women principals, supervisors, inspectors and teachers, at the age of 65 and 62 respectively, adopted a motion for the establishment of part time classes in all schools, to be attended twice a week by girls, who are now allowed to stay at home by reason of special permits the school board thus showing the government it is making a start toward complying iwth the adolescent school attendance act. The new rule will retire sixty teachers.

Plebiscite Committee Disapproves New Beer

KINGSTON, Feb. 12 (Special to The Examiner).—At a meeting of the executive of the Kingston and Frontenac county plebiscite committee, the members expressed their disapproval of the action of the Ferguson government in increasing the strength of beer, and a resolution committee of which Rev. Mr. Baldwin is chairman, was appointed to draft resolutions which will be presented to the government. The members object to the increase in the strength of beer, and Premier Ferguson and Attorney Nickle will be asked to stand by their promise claimed to have been made after the vote on the temperance question last October, that the O.T.A. would be strictly enforced. A petition will be circulated in the churches here Sunday regarding the protesting against the action of the Ferguson government and eight delegates have been appointed to attend the prohibition convention in Toronto.

OPIUM CONFERENCE ENDS.

No Date Set For Resumption —Smoking Is Permitted Temporarily.

GENEVA, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — The International Opium Conference adjourned last night without date after adopting both protocol and convention concerning opium smuggling which reaffirms the obligations of The Hague Convention and makes it clear that opium smoking is merely temporarily permitted.

RUN IN PHILADELPHIA CLOSES NEGRO BANK

Assets and Liabilities Put at $1,000,000 Each— 6,000 Depositors Offer $150,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12. — William R. Smith, Deputy Secretary of Banking, was appointed temporary receiver of the private bank of Brown & Stevens by Judge Davis.

The bank, a negro institution with approximately 6000 depositors and deposits of $750,000, has closed its doors early on Tuesday after a run.

Colonel Fred Taylor Pusey, who was named as counsel for he receiver, placed the bank's assets and liabilities at about $1,000,000 each. A large part of the asset h said, was invested in real estate which could not be realized on quickly.

He added that the receivership was voluntary and that under the law the private fortune of E. C. Brown, the president, may be sacrificed to make good any losses to the community. Brown is credited with being one of the wealthiest negroes in Philadelphia.

Depositors who had been clamoring outside the closed doors of the bank for their money, later pledged $150,000 of their money to safeguard the credit of the bank. President Brown told them every depositor would receive "dollar for dollar."

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Campfire Girls to Run Homes on Their Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(United Press).—The Camp Fire Girls will celebrate their thirteenth birthday, beginning Sunday, March 15.

This celebration according to the plans made by the National Headquarters, will be dedicated to the home and will take place all over the county.

Camp Fire Girls will take as much of the load of homekeeping from the shoulders of their mothers as is possible during the week, but during the week-end, they will be expected to take complete charge, doing all those things that their mothers usually do for them, such as mending clothes, darning stockings, pressing clothes cleaning up rooms, putting up lunches and seeing that various members of the family are made comfortable.

The official magazine of the Camp Fire Girls, suggests that first the Camp Fire Girl ask her father and mother to be her guests for the week-end. Then, after finding out how much money can be spent on the house from Friday afternoon until Monday morning, she will make her budget and plan accordingly.

The Camp Fire Girl will market after she has planned meals. Then, she will cook and serve.

DRUGGISTS RAISE $400,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.— (United Press.)—More than $400,000 of the $1,000,000 required to establish a national clearing house for pharmacy has been raised, it is announced by the American Pharmaceutical Association. Fifty thousand druggists are being enlisted as workers for the project, which aims to erect a national headquarters building in a central city yet to be selected. This building, it is planned, will be equipped with research laboratories.

HEALTH INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS STOPS

Harvey Township Makes Change in Policy—Tax Roll Extended.

The Harvey Township Council held their regular meeting on Saturday. Mr. Chambers appeared before the council to speak about the post of pathmaster on beat number 19 for 1925.

The application of G. Brumwell for pay for cutting brush was laid over. The clerk was authorized to write the board of health requesting it to discontinue medical inspection in the schools during 1925.

Mr. Dewdney was granted three years extension of time for cutting timber on the fifteenth concession.

A by-law to make a colonization grant to main roads was given first and second readings.

The collector was granted an extension till March 14, 1925. The Bank of Montreal, Bobcaygeon Branch, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Peterborough Branch were asked to create an overdraft of $400.00 each. After several accounts were passed for payment the council adjourned to meet on Saturday, March 14.

SUCCESSFUL MANDATE.

Palestine Prospers Under the Rule of the British Commissioner.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—The British mandate in Palestine can bedescribed only as a great thing and a glorious success if I interpreted the signs aright." So said Mrs. Philip Snowden in answer to a question put her by Rabbi Samuel. She said she was speaking just for herself and went into conditions at some length. She spent about five weeks in Palestine and worked 12 hours a day.

Is This Your Birthday?

THURSDAY, FEB. 12—Born this day, you are a lover of absolute justice to all. Racial hatreds and religious prejudices have no place in your make-up. You are broad-minded, liberal and charitable. You have a keen sense of humor. You have much ability and can work up to high positions from a most lowly beginning, if you keep up your courage. Women whose birthday is today love children and are exceptionally good housekeepers.

VETERANS MAY ASK RETRIAL FOR PIRIE

Ottawa Branch Considering Action for Condemned Man.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).—The advisability of asking for a new trial for John Buchanan Pirie, who at the last assizes was found guilty of a charge of murdering his wife, Carolrine, and her two children, and who was sentenced to be hanged on March 24, is, it is understood, being considered by the local command of the Great War Veterans' Association.

Confirmation or denial of the report that a new trial might be asked for could not be obtained yesterday from members of the Executive of the local command, who, on advice given to them recently, were instructed not to divulge any steps they were taking.

R. A. Olmstead, who defended Pirie, stated that so far he had not received any instructions from the local command of the G.W.V.A. in regard to the condemned man.

HEAVY STEEL OUTPUT.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. — (United Press.)—Night and day shifts, overtime employment and orders that are taxing the capacity of the mills mean a production of 450,000 to 500,000 tons of rail steel reinforcing bars in 1925. This is the forecast just made by the Rail Steel Products association. Production is expected to double the tonnage of last year.

CLEAN THE STREETS.

During the thaw of the past week the conditions under foot in most sections of Peterboro have been decidedly bad, and there is no reason why such conditions should be tolerated.

The accumulation of snow and ice on the sidewalks, softened by the mild weather, could easily be removed, but the majority of householders seem content to let the elements do the cleaning, and for a week the citizens have been wading through slush and water.

The adoption of the system used in Belleville most satisfactorily for the last two or three winters would eliminate this nuisance most effectively.

The citizens there are merely warned to clean their sidewalks, the notice being accompanied by an intimation that in the case of those who fail to comply with the order the city engineer's department will do the work and charge up the expense in the tax bills of the delinquents.

Peterboro should have the benefit of a similar system and thus banish the conditions that have made walking such a disagreeable task during the mild weather.

At the same time the city authorities could set a good example by paying some attention to the crossings, especially in the down-town sections, which have been almost impassable in some cases because of the depth of slush, water and ice at the intersections.

MR. FORKE'S POSITION.

Mr. Robert Forke, the Progressive Leader, has taken the first opportunity available to him to make a gesture of independence on behalf of his party.

The Progressives, he declares, in effect are disappointed in the Speech from the Throne, because it contains no reference to further tariff reductions.

At the same time he warns Hon. Mr. Meighen that no argument can convince the party he leads that protection can be of any service to them or their constituents.

So that's that.

The course of the Progressives during the present session will be followed with interest.

They are committed to lower tariffs, and Mr. Forke has already made it plain that they propose to press for further cuts.

"I want to give notice to the Government," the Progressive Leader declared, "that members who sit in this part of the House at least have not yet given up the idea of tariff reductions, and do intend to press for further reductions along this line."

That may mean much or it may mean very little, depending largely upon whether or not there will be a genuine election this year.

If no election is in sight, it may be taken for granted that the Government can continue to count on the support of the Progressives, despite the desire of the latter for lower tariffs.

VIGILANT COMMITTEES.

Prohibitionists in Tweed have organized a vigilance committee to interest itself in law enforcement, and particularly it is presumed to assist in the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act.

The launching of such organizations is a step that is to be viewed with a great deal of misgiving.

At best it is not likely to contribute very largely to harmony and good-will in the community—and it is more than probable that the dividing of the people into two camps will have a decidedly bad effect.

Vigilance committees may have been necessary in unorganized districts in the old days when the officers of the law were few and far between and some curb had to be placed upon the lawless, but with village, county and Provincial police, revenue officers and license inspectors, an army of law enforcement officials, available, it is a difficult task to produce any logical argument in favour of the formation of local committees of amateur Sherlock Holmes', primed with the ambition to catch their neighbors in some terrible offence, such as drinking hard cider in a public place.

It would be much safer in the long run to let the conviction of such offenders be handled by the men sworn in to enforce the law.

Community harmony will be best helped by having vigilant committees confine their vigilance to being sure everything is all right at home.

FAST YOUNG MEN.

Rev. G. K. B. Adams will address the young men's meeting in Association Hall on Sunday afternoon. Subject: The Fast Young Man. (From the Spectator, February 10, 1900.)

The above is culled from our Twenty-Five Years Ago Today column and respectfully submitted for the consideration of the fathers of the present crop of youngsters—the fathers who sigh and wonder what the young people of today are coming to, says the Hamilton Spectator. Search of the files of the Spectator has failed to reveal an account of Rev. Mr. Adams' address, but we'll wager he turned his vocal guns on the slickers who dissipated their wages on buggy rides, who smoked "coffin nails," disrespectfully designated the young ladies of the community as "skirts" and gathered under flickering corner arc lights to harmonize Sweet Ad-a-line. How many of the fathers of today were the fast young men of twenty-five years ago—and how many of them will admit it? Experience teaches that the youngsters whose futures you are worrying about today will be doing the same kind of worrying twenty-five years hence about their own offspring. The old world has jazzed up a bit in the last twenty-five years, but the "sheik" of today is just the "slicker" of a quarter of a century ago, and the "sheba" is the "jane" brought up to date. Raiment and haircuts have changed, but human nature hasn't undergone any remarkable transformation. The Fast Young Man whom Rev. G. K. B. Adams catechised twenty-five years ago sits out in the kitchen now of nights and wonders what he ever did that he should be burdened by a saxophone-playing son who thinks Doodle-Doo-Doo is music. No sense to the darn thing. Now, when he was a boy the songs had a real swing to them—Mr. Dooley, for instance, or Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey, and for real genuine sentiment could you beat Just Break the News to Mother or a Bird in a Gilded Cage? Not on your tintype, you couldn't. What's the world coming to, anyway?

ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

Whatever may be the opinion of Premier Ferguson's stronger beer amendment, those who have given any thought to the subject will not hesitate to approve of the changes the Premier announces are to be made in the Ontario Temperance Act, with a view to dealing with offences under the Act with some thought for proportion.

The Examiner has consistently argued in favour of such amendments, believing that the Act in its present form does not sufficiently differentiate between the bootlegger who flagrantly violated the law for his own gain and the citizen who happened to be caught in a more or less technical breach of the Act.

The genuine bootlegger, the man who is in the traffic for what he can get out of it, should be the individual upon whom the brunt of the punitive aspect of the Ontario Temperance Act should fall.

It is by no means certain that in its present form that the O. T. A. has had this effect.

In fact, the evidence all points the other way—that the bootlegger in general has escaped rather lightly, while other citizens whose offence was nothing more heinous than taking a drink in a public place or being in possession of liquor in a place not regarded under the Act as legal, has been unduly punished.

These harsh sentences upon such minor offenders have done much to increase antagonism toward the O. T. A. and account in a large degree for the very large vote polled against the measure in October.

Apparently Mr. Ferguson proposes to do exactly what the Examiner has been pleading for during the last two years, i. e., make the Act much more drastic in its application to the real offender and more reasonable toward those whose violation of the measure is of a minor nature.

Such a change will do much to inspire respect for the Ontario Temperance Act among those citizens who, while not anxious to have old conditions to this Province, have been angered by the spectacle of men going to jail because of inability to pay an exorbitant fine inflicted for something that in other sections of the Province and throughout the greater part of the world is regarded not only as legal but natural.

WHY BE AFRAID?

In some quarters fears are being expressed that should Canada take steps to place an embargo on pulpwood, the United States would retaliate with an embargo on coal. The Montreal Financial Times disposes of this fear in a single paragraph, thus:

> The United States, calmly, and without any apologies to this country or even conferences, imposed increasing duties three times in succession upon Canadian wheat, so excessive that under ordinary circumstances that market would have been shut off to the Canadian producer absolutely. They taxed to the limit our flour and our butter and eggs and cream and other farm products at the demand of the agricultural "bloc." Yet we were not foolish enough to proclaim them as hostile, nor did we give ourselves up to angry recriminations nor to heated threats of measures of retaliation. If conditions that apply favorably to United States producers against Canadian producers have been put into operation so freely, and without the bogey being raised of the straining of international relations—such as is being done now so industriously—is there any reason why the average United States citizen should not be conceived of as looking on fairly complacently as we play them at their own game?

Every nation in the world is taking steps to protect its own interests—none more so than the United Staes. Isn't it but folly, therefore, to suggest that if Canada follows the example, the United States will try to freeze us by refusing us coal? asks the Ottawa Journal. All the more so seeing that that would deprive American coal mines of an excellent market.

FREIGHT RATES.

Having placated western Progressives in the matter of tariff reductions, the Government is going to devote this session to an attempt to satisfy their desires in the matter of lower freight rates. The Speech from the Throne, brief as it is, gives great prominence to this question. "It is the opinion of my advisers that the attention of Parliament at the present session should be directed more particularly to the desirability of effecting a freer movement of commodities through an equalization of railway freight rates between Provinces and localities, and through a lowering of carrying charges upon shipments by water of the products of the farm, the mine, the forest, the fisheries and of our manufacturing industries," we read. Transportation is undoubtedly a very important consideration, but it is a little disconcerting to find attention practically confined to that, as if all were well in other respects. The opposition can be trusted to remind the Government that all is not well, however, and the resolution in Mr. Meighen's name will give the opportunity, not provided in the Speech from the Throne, of ventilating tariff matters.

This question of a downward revision of freight rates is of an extremely complicated nature. It is rendered still more complicated in Canada by reason of the fact that the Supreme Court has yet to decide whether Parliament or the Railway Commission has control over the rate structure. Presuming that the authority belongs to Parliament, "the encumbered position of the National railways," to use the phrase employed in another part of the Speech, makes it very difficult to comply with the wishes of those who are clamoring for reductions without imposing a still further strain on taxpayers. A similar agitation for a revision of freight rates in the United States provoked a strong resolution from the National Industrial Traffic League, one of the clauses of which declared that "any wholesale revision of the rate structure of the United States at this time would seriously handicap the carriers of the country, render uncertain their prospective earnings and cripple their efforts to finance needed improvements of facilities; and would seriously hamper manufacturing industries and commercial enterprises in developing markets for their products; disturb every character of business endeavor and precipitate an era of business depression." It may be taken for granted that the railway interests of the Dominion will entertain similar sentiments in the matter.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The O. T. A. crowded the Lieutenant-Governor out of the picture at the opening of the Legislature.

"Every little bit added to what you've got means just a little bit more" is an old song that some of the wets in Ontario are humming just now.

Wise and Otherwise.

A philosopher is one who can be modern with a clear conscience.

There are many arguments in favor of matrimony, the best two being an old bachelor and an old maid.

Some men talk so much they are effeminate.

A sheik is a man whose coat lapels wear out first.

A THOUGHT.

FROM THIS POINT ON, THE TIDE IS WITH YOU.

Give a man time enough to blunder enough and he will eventually have time enough to learn enough, he usually has enough success.

By a series of small but legitimate successes, and by "legitimate", I mean successes that are not accompanied by self-condemnation—when a man reaches this situation, he has reached success, be it great or small.

The writer is not educated nor equipped to be an electrical wizard, neither are most men capable or constituted to be world-beaters; but when you work hard and make a series of, perhaps, small but legitimate successes, in proportion to your power you are, in every sense of the word, a success.

The trouble is with most of us, we aspire to be what we are not equipped to be, and perspire just enough to suffer later from a cold sweat.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—There was a very light run of fresh cattle in, due to bad roads. A rather heavy holdover brought the total offering up to about 1,300 cattle. There were few choice quality available, but what there were sold firm at about 10c to 15c higher. A choice lot of 1,100 lb. steers sold at $7.25. The common stuff was holding steady, but moving out slow.

Export trade quiet, with practically all requirements for this week already filled. Rogers & Maybee have bought out of the market so far this week about 940 cattle at steady prices from $7.50 to $8.25 for fat steers, $4.50 to $4.75 for bulls, and $6.50 to $7 for good store cattle.

Calves closing very dull and a dollar lower than last week.

Sheep and lambs steady.

Hogs steady to firm.

Prices in the various sections are as follows:

Export cattle, choice and heavy steers, $7.50 to $8.25; bulls, $4.50 to $4.75; heifers, $6.50 to $7.25; stores $6.50 to $7.

Choice butchers, $6.50 to $7.25; medium, $5.25 to $6; common, $2.50 to $3.85; baby beeves, $8.50 to $9.

Choice fat cows, $3.50 to $5.

Stockers and feeders, choice shortkeep feeders, 1,000 to 2,000 lbs. $6.25 to $7; choice stockers, 830 to 950 lbs., $4.25 to $5; light western stock, $3.50 to $3.75; choice western, $4.50 to $5.50.

Calves dull.

Sheep and lambs steady.

Hogs, steady at $10.75 f.o.b.; $11.75 off cars; selects off cars, $2.22 per head extra.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11—Wheat prices crashed today in a wild race to sell that swept through all the main pits beginning with oats and corn. May delivery of wheat lost 10 1-4 cents a bushel, compared with earlier in the day. Piling up of stocks of feed grain with no sufficient outlet in sight appeared to have started the selling which quickly toppled down breadstuffs to a much worst extent than feed. Wheat closed excited, 4 1-2 to 6 1-2 cents net lower, May 177 1-2 to 17, and July 151 1-2 to 152. Corn finished 2 1-8 to 3 cents down; oats showing 2 3-8 to 3 7-8 setback and provisions varying from 27 cents decline to a rise of two cents.

EGG PRICES

OTTAWA, Feb. 11—Temporary scarceness of fresh is reported from Montreal, but this is a condition that probably won't exist beyond a day. The market is fairly steady at the lower levels recently reported. No further carlot shipsments of United States eggs are reported having arrived. Owing to European fowl pest having been reported in the State of Indiana a further Canadian ministerial order has been issued barring live poultry entering Canada from this state unless accompanied by a clean bill of health from the United States Bureau of Animal Husbandry.

Montreal—Dealers paying delivered extras 53 to 54, first 48 to 50.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan markets unchanged.

STERLING RATES

MONTREAL, Feb. 11—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here today as follows:

Sterling demand $4-78 5-8.

Sterling cables $4.79.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 11.—Arrivals, 495 cattle and calves; 5,175 hogs; 7 sheep.

Light receipts on the cattle market this morning imparted keener activity to trading. Prices held firm and were well in line with yesterday's close.

On the hog market thick smooths sold around $10.35 and select bacons $11.38 1-2.

Due to lack of supplies, there was no trading on the sheep and lamb market.

MONTREAL GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—The export trade in all lines of Canadian grain here today was quiet owing to there being few firm bids from foreign buyers. The local market for cash grain was weak and dealers generally reduced prices on oats another 2 1-2 cents per bushel.

The feature of the flour market was the weaker feeling in spring wheat grades, and prices scored a decline of 40 cents per barrel, which makes a net drop of 90 cents since the first of the month. Winter wheat and white corn flour were unchanged.

Prices for all lines of mill feed were well maintained under a fair demand. An easier feeling prevailed in rolled oats and prices were reduced 10 cents per bag.

The egg market was featured by the scarcity of supplies on spot which created a stronger feeling and prices were marked up three cents per dozen. There was some enquiry from foreign buyers for butter, although business transacted was not large.

The cheese market was quiet and firm, with fodder made No. 1 white and colored goods quoted at 20 1-4 to 20 1-2 cents per pound and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19 1-2 cents per pound.

Beans were steady at $2.90 per bushel.

NEW SUBJECT ADDED.

Halifax Technical School Will Teach Home Nursing.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—The School Board has agreed to add home nursing to the already long list of subjects in the evening technical school and will bear its share of the expense for teaching services. Restoration of teachers' salaries by 50 per cent of the cut made last May was approved by the committee and will be submitted to the School Board.

VALENTINE TEA AT LAKEFIELD

Held Under Auspices of St. John's Church Women's Auxiliary.

LAKEFIELD, Feb 11. — The annual Valentine Tea, held under the auspices of St. John's W. A., was the event of Tuesday afternoon and was patronized by a large number of people mainly of the fair sex. In point of attendance and financially, the affair measured up well and with other years. A feature of the Valentine tea each year has been a novelty booth which takes a new form at each succeeding Tea. This year the parcel post table, which contained parcels donated by members friends of the society and former parishioners, supplied the novelty. Each parcel contained at least 25c worth and the parcels quickly disappeared from the heavily loaded table which was in chargeof Miss F. Atwood and Mrs. T. Watson.

The table of sweets was the special charge of Mrs. W. Watson and Miss L. Hampton. The home cooking with its tempting cakes, cookies, individual mince pies, etc., was in charge of Miss S. Hetherington and Mrs. Sanderson.

A capable committee were in charge of the tea room, viz: Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Mahood, Mrs. Stenner and Mrs. T. Waldon.

Mrs. (Rev.) Cox and Mrs. Marling were the reception committe.

The ladies expressed their gratification at the success of their efforts and aside from the financial success a pleasant social afternoon was provided.

A. Y. P. A. Meeting.

On Monday evening, the members of the A. Y. P. A., whose birthday fell in January, February and March enfertained the society at a social evening in which games and contests furnished the amusement. A heart throwing contest was a novelty which provided much merriment. Mrs. J. Sanderson received the prize for the highest score and Miss Mae Mahood received the consolation prize. Refreshments were served by the committee. A beautifully decorate birthday cake occupied the centre of the table surrounded by 14 candles (the age of the Lakefield branch). A hearty vote of thanks was given the committee for the delightful evening which ranks among the most enjoyable socials in the history of the society.

The committee consisted of Mrs. (Rev). Cox, Mrs. Stenner, Mrs. T. Waldon, Missss A. Watson, L. Smith, Ogilvie, M. Hampton, Graham, Fern Wannamaker and Helen Watson and Mr. R. Murduff.

Personals.

Miss Molly Young who spent the past seven months on an extended visit to friends in Denver, Cal., San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal. has returned and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. J. Gibson, Miss Young enjoyed her trip very much but says that she is very glad to be back in Canada.

AWAIT ACTION BY THE LEGISLATURE

East Durham Prohibitionists Prepare For Battle Against Stronger Beer.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 12.—E. R. Rowe, of Newcastle, has been appointed "key man" for the riding of East Durham by the Central Prohibition committee. It is not thought that any gathering of prohibition workers will be necessary in this riding at present. The organization called for by the Central committee was effected last fall after the victory for the O.T.A., and the condition of the roads makes it inadvisable to attempt a convention at present.

The president, F. W. Galbraith, Port Hope, and the secretary, Rev. R. T. Richards, Cavan, with other workers, have been in consultation and action will be deferred until it is seen what course will be pursued at the current session of the legislature.

The other officials of the Durham County Association are: Treasurer, B. Oliver, Port Hope; Vice-Presidents, H. Fulford, Port Hope; H. Lawson, Hope; William Lee, Manvers; T. W. McIndoo, Cavan; G. E. Burnham, Millbrook.

HEAVIER TARIFF ON FRUIT URGED TO AID GROWERS

Protect Home Market For Canadian Grown Fruit is Conservative's Plea.

QUOTES FIGURES.

Small Fruits and Vegetables From U. S. Worth $16,000,000 in Three Years.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — Canadian Press. — The debate on the address continued in the House yesterday with speeches from members of all three parties. Dr. R. K. Anderson, Conservative, of Halton, Ontario, urged a higher tariff on American fruit commensurate with its price, and observed that if an embargo on exported pulpwood resulted in reprisals from the United States, "we have had reprisals before."

A. J. Lewis, of Swift Current, Saskatchewan, gave a Progressive view of the proposals to subsidize Petersen Line of ships to break the North Atlantic "combine." He applauded the idea of government intervention to reduce the ocean freight rates but as against subsidizing any more steamships. That urged Mr. Lewis, was simply asking the whole of the Canadian people to bear a part of the burden of those steamship companies fortunate enough to receive a subsidy.

From the Liberal ranks, Pius Michaud of Restigouche pleaded the cause of the New Brunswick potato grower. He was confident the government would find a solution of the freight rate problem, which was a very grave one to the potato growers of his province.

In a later debate, John Evans, the Progressive member for Saskatoon, attacked the protective principle. There was a higher percentage of unemployment in protectionist Philadelphia to-day than in free trade London he insisted. He expressed disappointment that there was no indication of further reductions in the tariff in the speech from the throne.

Tariff on U. S. Fruit.

Dr. Anderson saw in the protective policy the only solution for Canada's industrial problems.

He urged a higher tariff on United States fruit, "commensurate with its price." If fruit from the United States continued to enter Canada under a high tariff, then at least the country would have an increased revenue, but he thought that the more likely effect would be to preserve the home market for Canadian grown fruit.

To the Canadian fruit-growing industry, the home market was absolutely essential, Dr. Anderson said. Canada could not compete in the United States market because the cost of fruit production in the Dominion was higher than in the United States, owing to the differences in climate. The Canadian people were not penurious but were willing to pay a fair price for fruit. His complaint was that this price was now being paid to the United States' producers instead of to Canadians. He pointed out that anything which hurt the fruit growing industry of Canada also injured the Canadian canning industry.

Value of Imports.

The total value of small fruits and vegetables brought from the United States in 1922, 1923 and 1924, was over $16,000000. While during the same years Canadian exports of these commodities to the United States were valued at but something over $1,000,000.

One hundred and forty-three industries were located in Halton, none very large, but of great importance to the community, as 4,000 people would be thrown out of employment if they were closed.

A similar condition existed throughout Canada and he believed that the principle of protection should be applied.

Conditions were sad, but "the only bright spot on the horizon is that the people will soon have an opportunity to name a successor to the Government."

A. J. Lewis, (Progressive, Swift Curent, Sask., said that it was obvious that the general public were not giving proper study to the question

FANTASTIC SHOES.

Brocades, Seed Pearls and Begemmed Heels in Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Fantastic looking shoes are being made by the fashionable Paris bootmakers, and, naturally, the prices will be high. Not only are rich brocades and carved and colored leathers and all sorts of imitation jewels to be used, but real seed pearls are prescribed for those who would be distinctive.

The custom shoes makers also are trying out symmetrical designs, in which one side of the shoe is cut very low while the other side is shaped differently, with a strap covering only one side. There are also many elaborate cut-out designs, the straps always being in contrasting colors.

Some idea of what Parisian shoe houses expect of fashionable women is seen in the advertising of one of the chain-store firms, which says that the well dressed woman should have at least twelve pairs of slippers and shoes.

Tassels, bows and even large artificial flowers are offered as decorations to vary the usual cut steel and jewelled buckles, while gem-studded heels add to the glory of the newest footwear. This richness in shoe styles has prompted one Riviera casino to plan an elevated dancing floor in the centre of the dining room so that the ankles of the dancers will be on the level with diners' eyes.

"Exhausted Nerves and Palpitating Heart"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I tried several doctors, but it seemed nothing they gave me helped. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I tried it, and can say it certainly has done wonders for me. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes."

COMMON COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

Ordinary Chill is Really One of Menaces of Childhood.

NEED FRESH AIR.

(By Dr. Stanley Gibson.)

What is popularly spoken of as the ordinary cold is one of the serious menaces of childhood. It is an extremely common ailment, being more frequent perhaps than any other illness among children living in temperate climates. It is most frequent in the winter and early spring months, but occurs at all seasons of the year.

What causes a child to "catch cold" There are many factors which must be considered.

We know that the child that is guarded too scrupulously against colds is the very one who is often rendered most susceptible. Perhaps he is kept almost constantly indoors in overheated rooms. Little ventilation is allowed day or night.

Excessive Clothing.

Perhaps the clothing is excessive so that if he perspires freely during his play, and becomes chilled when his play is ended. Being so pampered that his resistance is low, the slightest exposure or a sudden change in the weather finds him an easy victim to colds.

We know too that there is a great difference in the susceptibility of different children to colds, even though their habits are the same. This is oftentimes due to unhealthy conditions of the nose and throat, such as diseased tonsils and adenoid growths.

Even more important than the above factors is that of direct exposure by contact with someone who is already suffering from a cold. It is literally true that we "catch cold." How often it happens that one member of a family contracts a cold, to be followed in a few days by a similar condition in every other member of the household.

There are quarantine regulations against chicken pox, measles and many other well recognized contagious disease, yet the person with a cold is allowed to go on his way coughing and sneezing, scattering germs to everyone near him. The adult continues his work, the school child remains at his desk, and the run-about child continues to mingle with his playmates.

Perhaps the reason for this carelessness lies in the fact that a cold is looked upon as a trivial ailment. In many instances this is true.

Yet there are so many exceptions that it is never wise to neglect a cold. Many serious complications may develop. How frequently one hears the statement from the mother, "It began just as an ordinary cold and I didn't think it was anything serious."

Complications.

What are some of these complications? Among children one of the most frequent is inflammation of the ear. The older child complains of earache, the infant shows its distress by wakefulness and crying, and by pulling at the ear. The fever may be high, and convulsions are not uncommon. The condition is a rather obscure one, and may be overlooked unless the physician makes repeated examination of the ears. Sometimes the ear drum ruptures spontaneously, and pus is discharged. In other cases it is necessary to lance the drum to allow the pus to escape. If the ear condition is neglected, mastoid disease may result

The common cold may usher in bronchitis or pneumonia. It may be the starting point for disease of the kidneys or bladder. Valular heart disease in children may arise from colds, particularly in children with a family history of rheumatism.

Blood Poisoning.

Once in a while germs from the nose or throat may find their way into the blood stream, resulting in what is known as general sepsis, or blood poisoning. Many other complications arising from colds could be added to this list.

It is this variety of serious secondary conditions which should make the mother realize the possible danger from colds. The child who has a cold should be kept away from other children. By so doing other members of the family may escape, and at least children outside the home will not be endangered, except in the mildest cases rest in bed is advisable. The child that is subject to frequent colds should have a thorough examination. Physical defects or bad health habits which have lowered his vitality should be corrected.

TOM MOORE COMMENDS EMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Suggests Ottawa Follow Example of Provincial House.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).—"I am glad to note that the Ontario Government is at least taking cognizance of the situation and has intimated in the Speech from the Throne that it will assist municipalities in the extra cost incident in providing some measure of relief for those out of work," stated Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, yesterday.

"He noted that the decision reached by the Ontario Cabinet is in harmony with the recommendations made by the recent unemployment conference in Ottawa.

"If the Dominion Government," he said, "will take a lesson from the Ontario Legislature and do something, there is yet some hope. While the offered help is somewhat late, still the politicians can always console themselves with the thought that it comes better late than never."

LEAGUERS HAD A MERRY EVENING

Omemee Young Folks Played Host to a Sister Organization.

PERSONAL ACTIVITIES

OMEMEE, Feb. 12.—On Monday evening the Methodist Sunday School room was the scene of a merry gathering, when the Young People's League played host to the A. Y. P. A. of Christ Church and the Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Owing to the condition of the roads, the crowd was not a large one, numbering in all about seventy-five.

When the invitations were issued, the evening from 7 p.m. until 9.30 was to have been devoted to a coasting party, with a hot baked bean supper to follow. Old King Sol, however, having played havoc with the roads, it was necessary to make other plans, with the result that a jolly evening was enjoyed in the following short programme, followed by three amusing games:

Doxology.
Prayer—Rev. E. W. Rowland.
Solo—Miss Pearl Widdis.
Words of welcome—Miss L. Parsons.
Address—Rev. J. A. Black.
Musical monologue—Rev. E. W. Rowland. Encore, solo.
Address—Mr. Harry Lamb.
Reading—Miss Marion Rea.
Address—Mr. Horace Hill.
Piano selection—Mrs. Rowland.

The contests were mirth provoking. The first—musical arm—in which 54 participated, was won by Miss Alta Monerief.

The winners of the "age" contest were Miss Mabel Rowan and Mr. Allan Adams, while a brilliant red bandanna and a dainty peach colored 'kerchief were the laurels won by Miss Mabel Rowan and Mr. Arthur Stephenson in the collar and tie race.

Dainty refreshments, followed by a motion of thanks made by Mr. Harry Lamb, seconded by Mr. Horace Hill and heartily endorsed by a hearty hand-clap, brought the pleasant evening to a close.

Missionary Society Met.

The regular monthly of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Ivory, when twenty-four members and four visitors were present. The President, Mrs. Rowland, led the meeting and conducted the devotional exercises. The Secretary's report was read by Mrs. E. Bradburn, followed by the Treasurer's report by Mrs. T. C. Ivory, which showed that $144.50 had been remitted to the Branch Treasurer thus far.

The Correspondence Secretary, Mrs. J. Widdis, read a letter of thanks from Rev. Whattam of Oshawa for the bale of clothing sent by the society in the fall.

Mrs. Rowland spoke a short time on "The Cent-a-Day Band" which was organized in the beginning of the year.

A new programme committee was appointed for the next three months, namely, Mrs. T. A. McPherson and Mrs. J. Widdis.

The devotional leaflet was read by Mrs. R. Wilson.

The heralds of the "Watch Tower" then responded, which brings the news from the foreign fields in a condensed form. A pretty duet on the Victrola, entitled "In the Garden," was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. J. Widdis read a leaflet on the sixth chapter of the Study Book, "Beneath the Smoke Stacks," which proved very interesting. Another selection followed on the Victrola, "Lead Kindly Light."

The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer by the President.

A social half hour was enjoyed with Mrs. T. Fee, Mrs. A. Rutherford and Mrs. Rowland as hostesses.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Parsons.

Former President Dead.

News of the death of Mrs. A. R. Campbell reached Omemee on Friday night. The late Mrs. Campbell was well known in Omemee, having resided with her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Lewis, during the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Lewis in Omemee a few years ago.

Mrs. Campbell was the widow of the late Rev. A. R. Campbell, a member of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference, who predeceased her in 1901.

The late Mrs. Campbell lived in Peterborough for about twenty years prior to her residence in Omemee. On leaving here, she accompanied Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis to their new charge at Ladnor, B. C., but for some time has been living in Vancouver, where she passed away at the good old age of almost ninety years.

Deceased lady was an ardent worker for missions, and was Honorary President of the Branch Executive of the W.M.S. of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

The funeral service was conducted at Belleghem's funeral parlors, Peterborough, on Monday afternoon by the Rev. R. Bamforth, assisted by Rev. G. Greatrix, and was largely attended by former Peterborough and Omemee friends, who extend their sympathy to the only surviving child, Mrs. (Rev.) Lewis, in the loss of a loving mother.

Personal Mention.

Mr. F. G. Sandy was in Toronto on Friday and Saturday on business.

Mrs. Trebilcock of Peterborough paid a short visit with her niece, Mrs. (Dr.) Carmichael, last week. Her sister, Mrs. Greenwood of Toronto, who has been visiting here, accompanied her home, where she spent the week-end.

Mr. James Wilson of Toronto is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Robert Wilson, in town.

Mrs. Fallis has returned to her home in Bethany after visiting her daughters, Mrs. E. Bradburn and Mrs. J. Shields.

Mr. Vincent Howden has returned to Detroit after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Howden.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Poast, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bannon and Mr. and Mrs. W. Connell attended the funeral of the late Mrs. MacIntosh (nee Eva Seymour) of Ida on Friday.

Mr. J. Ray of Peterborough was a business visitor in town on Tuesday.

Miss Eva Race is spending a couple of days with Lindsay friends.

Miss Etta Jewett left on Monday for the Lindsay Hospital, where she will undergo treatment for a couple of weeks. Nurse Susie Clarke accompanied her.

Mr. F. Jones of Toronto transacted business in town Tuesday.

A number of Omemee young people attended the hard times party at Downeyville on Friday evening.

Mr. Jim Fee left on Tuesday for his position in Vancouver, after a short holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fee.

Mr. Ira Toole of Western Ontario is spending a few days at his home in town.

Mr. Kenneth Griffin of Bobcaygeon was a recent visitor to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin.

DRUGGIST RECOVERING.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 12—Physicians in Detroit hospital said yesterday that Edgar Brown, Windsor, who was shot and seriously wounded in the robbery of a Detroit drug store Tuesday will recover Brown was shot through the cheek and suffered a broken jaw One of the bandits was killed in the robbery. It was the third time in two weeks that Brown, who is a clerk in the store, has been held up.

SURPRISE PARTY BROUGHT SILVER

Presentation to Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. S. Fallis of Millbrook.

25 YEARS MARRIED.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 11.—A very pleasant social occasion, which took the form of a "surprise party", was enjoyed at the home of Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. Stuart Fallis on Monday evening when about fifty of their friends gathered to celebrate with them the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding-day.

The pleasure of the event was considerably enhanced by the genuineness of the surprise, the "bride and groom" not having made any plans for especially observing their "Silver Wedding." Nothing was lacking, however, in the warmth of the welcome extended, and there could be no doubt of the thorough enjoyment, and appreciation, of the host and hostess of the accompanying festivities.

Mr. W. Fred Fallis acted as chairman, and after community singing had been enjoyed, the "bride and groom" of a quarter of a century were asked to come forward the presentation of a handsome pierced silver cake plate, butter cooler and knife, and set of china dishes being made by Mr. Wilfrid Howden, of Fowler's Corners, a brother of the bride and Mr. Melville Ball. Ex-Warden A. J. Henderson read the following address:

To Deputy-Reeve Stuart Fallis and Mrs. Fallis.

Dear Friends.—Your friends and fellow citizens here assembled have kept in mind the date of the twenty-fifth anniversary of your wedding-day and have come here to-night that we may join with you in celebrating this important, and happy event.

It is with somewhat more than usual pride that we refer to the fact that you, as well as most of the citizens of our community, are descendants of the old pioners, the men and women who came from the Old Land, to toil and brave the hardships of the wilderness and hand down to us the wonderful heritage which it is now our privilege to enjoy.

The pages of Canadian history glorify our statesmen, our soldiers, and other leaders in the different spheres of action for the part they have played in the development of this country, but they can never fully record the heroism and self-sacrifice displayed by our forefathers the pioneers who laid the foundations broad and wide and deep in order that "this Canada of ours" might become a truly great nation.

The privations and hardships that they endured, their co-operation with each other in their daily tasks of life, their camp-meetings, their religious convictions, and their sterling integrity, have all left a deep impression on the high standard of life in the community in which we live.

We heartily congratulate you upon the completion of a quarter of a century of happy wedded life. We are glad that you have upheld the best traditions of a noble ancestry, and have not lived to yourselves alone but rather to the service of your fellow men.

In times of trial and distress you were ready to lend a helping hand and to every cause that appealed to you as worthy you gave your hearty support. In the broader public sphere you, Mr. Fallis, ably supported by your loyal helpmate, have fully assumed the responsibility and have rendered splendid service to your municipality.

In these modern days of telephone, rural mail delivery and the rapid adoption of the radio, the tendency in our rural districts is not toward a closer or stronger, social life. We have on many occasions in the past visited your home, and have always been accorded a whole-hearted welcome; and so we come here in such goodly numbers to-night to revive the old, social spirit in celebrating with you your "Silver Wedding-Day."

We present you with this silverware and set of dishes, as a memorial of twenty-five years of wedlock. We pray that God may preserve you. We wish you many happy returns of the anniversary of your happy union, and hope that future years of your married life may prove as happy ad prosperous as those of the past.

Signed on behalf of your friends, and fellow-citizens,

Mrs. I. Magee, A. J. Henderson, Wilfried Howden, W. Fred Fallis.

Fallis Line, February 9th, 1925.

Mr. Fallis made brief, but suitable reply on behalf of his wife and himself and a short programme followed consisting of music, and speeches by Mr. Wilfrid Howden, Warden J. L. McCamus, N. Belch, R. M. Howden, L. W. Fallis, J. H. George and Mrs. Magee, a sister of the "bride".

A number of others who were to have taken part were precented from being present owing to the bad state of the roads.

At the conclusion of the programme the ladies served refreshments, cards and dancing were enjoyed by those who cared for this form of entertainment, and a very delightful evening was finally brought to a close with reiterated good wishes for the years ahead.

Among those from outside points who were present were: Mr. G. Howden, the "bride's father now in his 86th year; Mr. W. Howden, of Fowler's Corners, Mrs. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howden, Mrs. William Howden and Mrs. H. Howden of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Howden, Twelfth Line, Cavan, and Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Port Hope, who presented Mrs. Fallis with a beautiful pearl necklace as a personal gift.

Congratulations were received from Mr. and Mrs. and Miss McHugh of Markdale, who were unable to attend owing to illness in the family.

Mrs. W. Howden of Best's Station presided at the piano during the evening.

ST. THOMAS' VESTRY ELECTED OFFICIALS

Wardens' Report Showed Millbrook Church in Flourishing Condition.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 12.—The annual vestry meeting of St. Thomas' church, was held in the Sunday School room on January 26th with a well represented number in attendance. The rector, Rev. Canon Allen in the chair.

The church wardens' report showed the church to be in good financial standing.

Mr. M. T. Wood was again elected Peoples' Warden, and Mr. A. A. Smith apopinted Minister's Warden. Both felt that since they had filled the offices so long, some one else should be appointed. The matter was left over until the adjourned meeting.

Mr. T. H. Brady was elected Vestry Clerk for 1925.

The following sidesmen were appointed: Messrs. H. B. Allen, J. J. Clarke, A. J. Fallis, G. Fowler, G. F. Harrington, L. M. Fallis, J. Dawson, J. A. Vance, H. J. Grassett, F. Lowery, D. Fowler, N. Lamb, R. I. Fallis.

Lay representatives to Synod: Messrs. A. J. Fallis, H. B. Allen, J. J. Clarke.

Cemetery Committee: Messrs. J. J. Clarke, T. J. Lang, A. A. Needler, H. B. Allen, J. Mitchell, T. H. Bradley, J. A. Vance.

Auditors: Messrs. T. H. Collins, H. J. Grassett.

Executive Committee: Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. G. F. Harrington, Mrs. C. McNeil, Mrs. A. J. Fallis, Miss M. B. Turner, Miss E. Grandy, Miss C. Fitzgerald; Messrs. H. B. Allen, J. E. Allen, H. C. Attwooll, Jno. Dawson, A. J. Fallis, L. M. Fallis, G. Fowler, H. J. Grassett, G. F. Harrington, A. A. Needler, R. Stone, J. A. Vance.

The Adjourned Vestry.

An adjourned vestry meeting was held on Monday, February 9 at 8 p.m.

The following resolution was passed: "That the members of St. Thomas' church vestry, on this occasion of the resignation of Messrs. A. A. Smith and W. T. Wood, of the office of Church Wardens, whose duties they have discharged for so many years with great efficiency and success, express to them our hearty thanks and appreciation, for their long and faithful service. We are glad to know that though no longer Church Wardens they are still with us as members of our congregation and that we can still claim their interest and co-operation in every good work for Christ and His Church."

Election Of Officials.

A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., was elected Peoples' Warden; J. J. Clarke, Minister's Warden; H. J. Grasset, secretary-treasurer.

The last named is a new office created this year, the holder to give assistance to the newly-elected Wardens who are entirely unaccustomed to the requirements of their respective positions. The previous officials, Messrs. A. A. Smith and Reeve W. T. Wood had discharged the duties of these offices for twenty-five years.

C. W. MITCHELL EXTRADITED.

Mexico Delivers American Banker Accused of $100,000 Embezzlement.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11.—George W. Mitchell, charged with embezzling $100,000 from a Dakota bank, has been delivered to American detectives.

Mitchell was traced to the mountains in the State of Tamaulipas by the Chief of the Department of Justice of Texas and was arrested and brought to Mexico City. He engaged lawyers, who waged a bitter fight against an order of extradition issued by the Foreign Office. After several temporary stays had been granted the local courts finally decided that the extradition treaty with the United States was in force, and Mitchell was turned over to American agents.

OVALTINE

TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE

Builds up Brain, Nerves, and Body

The surest and shortest way back to good health after illness is to make "Ovaltine" the daily beverage during convalescence.

"Ovaltine" is a pleasing beverage made from creamy milk, fresh eggs and barley malt, flavoured with cocoa. It supplies the enfeebled system with concentrated nutriment, making little or no tax on the digestion in the process. A single cup of "Ovaltine" brings you 12 times as much nourishment as would a cup of beef extract, yet your system assimilates it more easily and quickly than a glass of milk.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS ACHIEVED GREAT THINGS IN YEAR 1924

Preventing War by System of Arbitration— Settling Political Questions.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

GENEVA, Feb. 12 (Associated Press) —The problem of preventing war by a carefully organized system of arbitration, of reduction of armaments, and of mutual assistance against a covenant-breaking nation, ranks foremost among the questions before the League of Nations in 1924, says an official communique issued here which presents a detailed review of events which came last year before the Geneva peace organization. But while bringing its main efforts to bear on this peace problem, the summary goes on to say, the league settled a certain number of political questions, pursued its administrative work, and by the agency of its technical organizations, promoted international co-operation in the most varied fields.

A summary of the review follows: The League's work during the past year in connection with the prevention of war may be said to begin with the draft treaty of mutual assistance prepared by the fourth assembly, and to culminate in the protocol for the pacific settlement of international disputes, drawn up by the fifth assembly. The draft treaty of mutual assistance, was debated in September, and subsequently the assembly adopted a joint resolution "to strengthen the solidarity and security of the nations of the world by settling by pacific means all disputes which might arise between states." On the basis of this resolution the assembly drew up the protocol for the pacific settlement of international disputes, which contained a system of arbitration from which no international dispute, whether legal or political, should escape. It provided for a military, financial and economic co-operation, which, by guaranteeing the security of states, would render possible a considerable reduction of national armaments. Thus the three factors of the problem, namely, arbitration, security and reduction of armaments were combined.

Investigate Armaments.

With regard to the investigation of Austrian, Bulgariam, German and Hungarian armaments, the council drew up a scheme for the exercise, if and when required of its right of control as contemplated in the peace treaties. This control would be exercised through commissions appointed by the council.

A draft convention on the supervision of the arms traffic was elaborated during the year and will be finally discussed at an international conference convened for May 4.

In the political field several disputes were submitted to the council for mediation, as provided by the covenant. The status of the Memel territory, long in dispute between the principal allied powers and Lithuania, and the Jaworzyna boundary dispute between Czechoslovakia and Poland were both settled in March.

The question of the frontier about Mosul, between Irak and Turkey, came before the council, which sent a special commission of three members to investigate on the spot. As frontier incidents had taken place, the council laid down a provisional boundary between the territories occupied or administered by the British and Turkish governments.

The question of the Greeks of Constantinople also was brought before the council in virtue of the Treaty of Lausanne. The permanent court of international justice has been requested to give an advisory opinion on this question.

Finally, the council intervened with the conference of ambassadors with a view to obtaining a prompt settlement of the Albanian frontier question.

Permanent Court.

The permanent court of international justice, in June of 1924, dealt with the Mavromatis affair, with the Greek and British governments as parties before the court a dispute between Greece and Bulgaria, and the question of St. Naoum, involving the frontier between Serbia and Bulgaria.

Important progress was made in the domain of international law, a committee of experts representing the principal legal systems of the world, being constituted for the purpose of drawing up a provisional list of the subjects of international law, the regulation of which by international agreement would seem desirable and realizable at the present moment.

A series of questions relating to the protection of minorities was dealt with by the League during the year. On the basis of an agreement with the Polish government, the council succeeded in settling the question of the German settlers in Poland.

As a result of the coming into force of the treaty of Lausanne and of the treaty of Sevres concern ng the protection of minorities, the provisions contained in these treaties with regard to the protection of minorities were placed under the guarantee of the League of Nations. Consequently the questions of the Moslems of Albanian origin in Greece Greece minorities in Bulgaria, and Bulgarian minorities in Greece were dealt with.

The economic and financial organization of the League framed a schedule for the financial reconstruction of Hungary and continued the financial reconstruction of Austria. Also it drew up a programme for more effective protection against unfair competition, and provided for the protection of consumers against worthless goods.

During 1924 the organization for communications and transit was called upon to act as an organ of conciliation in the settlement of inter-state disputes in connection with the application of articles of the peace treaties concerning the jurisdiction of the Order and the European Danube commissions.

Preservation of Health.

The health organization, in the course of the year, prepared drafts for international conventions on various urgent questions. It initiated anti-malarial research work, placed technical advisers at the disposal of the Albanian, Greek and Persian governments and authorized the League epidemic commission to pursue its investigation into outbreaks of plague, typhus and cholera.

The committee on intellectual co-operation developed its system of national committees serving as intermediaries between the international committee and intellectual workers in the various countries.

This committee dealt with the question of the equivalent value of diplomas and the co-ordination of the courses in different universities. It also endeavored to promote the exchange of professors and students.

Two international opium conferences met in Geneva in November and were still in session at the end of the year one dealing with prepared opium the other with manufactured narcotics. A delegation from the United States took part in the work of the second conference.

In the course of the year the council furthermore took various measures with a view to facilitating the work of the advisory committee on traffic in women and children which has been reconstituted as the committee on traffic in women and protection of children.

A committee of experts began an investigation on the subject of slavery. It drew up its plan of work and classified the various forms of slavery known at the present day.

Finally the membership of the League was increased to 55 states by the entry of the Dominican Republic. During the year also the German government addressed a note to the League as to its membership. The United States took part in a number of conferences and commissions while the Soviet Republic was represented on the health committee and in connection with naval disarmament.

GAS ON STOMACH WON'T LET YOU SLEEP

Gas pressing on heart and other organs sometimes causes a restless, nervous feeling and prevents sleep. Adlerika helps any case gas on the stomach, unless due to deep-seated causes. The QUICK action will surprise you. Because Adlerika is such an excellent intestinal evacuant it is wonderful for constipation—it often works in one hour and never gripes. McDermid & Jury and E. L. RELIEF OFFICER HELPED HIMSELF

Charity Began at Home, According to Evidence in Guelph Enquiry.

GUELPH, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).—The inquiry into the operation of civic relief continued yesterday, but little of a sensational character developed. Some of the testimony showed that the relief was of an unusual sort, including chocolate candies, oranges in quantities and even bottled beer and tobaccos, and also that many baskets of relief was consumed in the home of the relief officer himself and in the home of one city alderman.

The feature of the session was a straight denial by Mr. Tudge, who was alleged to have bought a house partially from the receipts of relief by himself while on the city's payroll, as well as by members of his family. Mr. Tudge denied that he had ever received relief and that he had protested the payment of his daughters with relief orders for work performed as charwoman. Some sensations are hinted at for some later sessions this week.

WHY BROADCASTS ARE FAMOUS

MONTREAL, Feb 12.—Canada is letting itself be known to the world through station CKAC.

This station is unique, in that it makes all its announcements in French and English, for it is in the midst of the pioneer French colony of America. French artists broadcast from the studio, the station is conducted by men of French descent and it is owned by one of the leading French newspapers in America.

Yet announcing in French and English is only one of this station's features. Others are:

1. Conducting a course in Ilo, the international radio language which this station is sponsoring for world-wide adoption.

Brewery Studio.

2. Running a band concert for cities in Quebec, outside of Montreal.

3. Broadcasting from a unique brewery studio.

Several courses have already been completed for the education of listeners in Ilo, the world radio language corresponding with Esperanto and Ido. The courses are conducted in both English and French.

Cities throughout Quebec have been taking advantage of the offer for a prize to the best city band in that province. Every Sunday afternoon a new band comes to CKAC to entertain critical ears. A popular vote will be taken at the end of the contest, some time in April, to decide on the winner.

In Washroom.

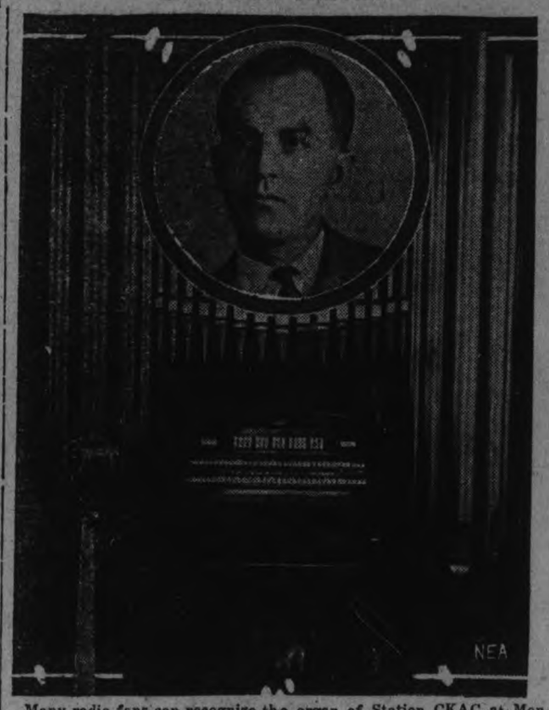
The brewery studio of CKAC is in Montreal, a short distance from the transmitting station. It feeds remote control entertainment through CKAC.

It is unique in that the studio is actually the brewery washroom. Whenever a show is to be hurled into the air, the studio ceiling and walls are lowered by a pulley system, the floor is covered with a thick rug, kegs are used for seats and the microphone is set up for the music.

The concerts from this studio have appealed to listeners to such an extent that three stenographers are required to take care of it.

All this and more—such as children's bedtime stories twice a week, in French and English, and a weekly program by the Canadian National Railways, when the call letters are changed to CNRM.

CKAC ON THE AIR



Many radio fans can recognize the organ of Station CKAC at Montreal by its sound. Here it is on view. Inset shows photo of J. N. Cartier, director and chief announcer at CKAC.

APSLEY RESIDENT BURIED ON SUNDAY

Henry Prouty Died Last Friday After Long Illness.

APSLEY, Feb. 11. — Henry Prouty a well known and respected resident of Chandos Township, died on Friday night, after a protracted illness. Besides his widow, of his immediate family there are left to mourn his loss one son Percy, at Owenbrook, and two daughters, Viola, at home, and Lena (Mrs. Earl Whitmore) of Lasswade. The funeral took place on Sunday, the service being conducted by Rev. J. Ogden, Methodist minister, of Apsley.

There was no service on Sunday evening at the Methodist church,the minister being unable owing to the bad condition of the roads to make the journey from Owenbrook.

Although the wolves have not been heard often this winter that they are still prowling around is evidenced by the fact that Tommy Harris secured one last week, that fell a victim to bait placed out for their benefit.

Arthur Earnshaw will be laid up for a few weeks, the result of a severe cut on the foot with an axe, while working in the woods.

Norman Lean completed his contract for hauling about 6000 logs for the Macdonald Company, from the woods to Eel's Creek, on Saturday, last. Four teams have been engaged in the work, which finished just in time, as the draw road is now quite bare, owing to the thaw.

On Thursday evening the parish room was open to the community for a social gathering, and about thirty-five availed themselves of the invitation. A pleasant time was spent in various games. The ladies supplied refreshments which were served at 10 p.m., and much appreciated. This event will likely become a regular monthly one.

Born, on January 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner, a daughter.

CURED HER RHEUMATISM

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. E. Hurst, who lives at 204 Davis Avenue, B428, Bloomington Ill., is so thankful at having cured herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other suffers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely cut out this notice, mail it to her with your own name and address, and she will gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.

SOCIAL AT MARMORA.

Held at Home of Robert Jones, North Marmora.

MARMORA, Feb. 12.—The home of Mr. Robt. Jones, North Marmora, was the scene of a very pleasing and well-attended social on Tuesday evening. The attractions were varied. At euchre, Mr. John Crawford and Miss Mamie Bedore carried off the prizes. A bean guessing contest was won by Miss Lula Campion. An excellent oyster supper was served from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The evening was given over to dancing after midnight. The event was put on by the congregation of Holy Trinity Church, and the proceeds go towards their quota of parochial expenses. The congregation of St. Paul's, through the Ladies' Guild, hope to raise a substantial sum on Saturday afternoon next through a sale of home-made cooking, etc., at the Maloney and Forestell block.

GERMANY BEHIND INDUSTRIALLY; NOW TURNS TO THE FORD PLAN

Famed German Efficiency Largely Empty Phrase, Says Groat, and Employers Preparing for the Jolt That Must Come Soon.

MUST FACE HIGHER WAGE LEVELS

By CARL D. GROAT.

BERLIN, Feb. 11. — (United Press).—Germany's industrial generals are beginning to apply "Fordisation" and "Taylorisation" to the vast German producing machine.

Ford's life story, published in German, is one of the biggest sellers of the last decade. No businessman, be he small or big, is without this volume, which is tending to color the economic thought of the whole nation.

German business and banking men realize that Germany, on the whole, is about ten years behind the times in industrial technique. They realize also that, if Germany is again to have "a place in the sun," new methods must be applied.

"German efficiency," one of the great national advertising slogans in which the whole world believed for many years was in reality only German ability to operate with cheap, contented, disciplined labor. The labor market was always able to meet the demand. And, the laborer, trained in the district school of Kaiser Wilhelm's compulsory military service, did what he was told when he came out of the army and went into the factory or the mine. He was satisfied with small money wages so long as he had a good dwelling, cheap food and clothing and plenty of beer at low prices.

That has been the real inside secret of the much vaunted "German efficiency."

But German industrialists know now full well that this same "German efficiency" is up against real obstacles. The laborer still takes paltry money wages, but the time is coming when even the ingrained discipline will falter. German industry knows this, and knows that with time it will be forced to face higher wage levels.

This thought, coupled with the fact of sharp industrial technical development outside of Germany, is making German leaders ponder about their next steps.

These leaders see the handwriting on the wall and are turning to improved industrial and financial methods in order to put Germany full swing into the world's commercial race.

Many factories are trying out the Taylor system.

Many others are beginning to introduce labor-saving machinery and to apply "Ford principles."

The process is slow. But it is growing. And the chieftains are planning not only to make up the hole in Germany's internal economic life, but to supply an excess with which to meet the Dawes obligations.

"German dumping" is in the opinion of skilled American observers only a myth. Germany lags far behind in the commercial battle, due to the war and to the stagnation of post-war days. Her competition need not be a cause for alarm in other lands.

Germany herself will be content if she can make both ends meet under the Dawes regime. At present, her industrial situation shows signs of a boom, but much of the product of this boom is being consumed at home. Folks are getting more shirts and shoes and socks than at any time since the war. They have needed them. And they are furnishing their homes, or replacing worn-out furniture gradually. They are constructing houses which they need very badly.

All this activity may appear feverish on the surface, but, so far at least, it constitutes no danger to the industrial systems of other lands.

In fact, many skillful economics say that the revival of German business is a healthful sign for the whole world. Germany will again take her pre-war place of consumer, particularly of American and British wares. The world will be able to absorb Germany's excess without too great trouble, and the fact that Germany consumes again will be a hopeful sign, not alone for the outside world, but likewise also for Germany.

Incidentally, considerable thought is given here to the subject of American tariffs against German goods. The American Chamber of Commerce is strongly advocating a reduction in American tariffs, pointing out that these were laid at a time when the paper-mark inflation made it possible for Germany to sell at ridiculously low prices. Stabilization of her currency, however, has robbed Germany of this advantage—if it were at all an advantage. Under these circumstances the Chamber advocates a revision of tariffs, claiming that without a revision America may suffer from a sort of "gold suffocation."

The United States has about 25,000 miles of concrete road but it seldom reaches to where you are going.

LAKEFIELD MILL HAS PROSPECTS

Develop Non-Metallic Deposits of This District, Producing Valuable Minerals.

AID COUNTRY

Although Canada possesses deposits of practically all the known minerals more especially the non-metalic minerals, and those, in some cases, of larger extent and of much higher grade than any other country, trade statistics show that she is a debtor nation in trade in minerals and products of mineral origin. The increased importations of non-metallics are responsible for this, the debt being only partially offset by the exports of metallics, e.g. gold, silver, copper-nickel, lead and zinc.

From Dominion Government reports the value of imports of non-metallic minerals into Canada during fiscal year ending 31st March, 1924, amounted to over $119,000,000. As a great deal of raw ore or material is shipped from Canada to the United States and re-imported into the country, after being milled or otherwise treated, it is only right that this huge total ought to be, and can be, retained and manufactured in Canada for its own uses, thus aiding in the development of the country and also towards solving the ever increasingly important unemployment problem in Canada.

With a view to such industrial development of the non-metallic resources of our county a number of business men have organized the Spar Mining & Milling Co. Ltd., Head Office at Toronto, and mill at Lakefield, to produce finely ground, and otherwise prepared, dolomite, pure crystalline limestone, barytes, talc etc., of such degrees of fineness and purity as to be suitable for the requirements of many various trades, and so obviate the necessity of exporting our own ores and then re-importing the finished product back into Canada. As both duty, sales tax and often long freight each way is incurred on such commodities, the Canadian finished products will be capable of being marketed at a much lower cost than any imported material.

Arrangements have been made for the installation of an up-to-date system of milling such ores, which often require to have a guaranteed fineness of not less than 300 mesh (that is to say will pass through a screen having 90,000 holes per square inch). The coarser grades are eminently suitable for many purposes, e.g. facing artificial stone, poultry grit, etc.

The Company will operate a huge deposit of exceptionally pure recrystallized limestone situated in South Burleigh Township, which has been examined by a number of engineers and authorities and subjected to various tests and pronounced to be of the highest grade and ahead of any imported article in quality and commercial value.

F. D. S. Robertson, A.I.M.M.E., is President, J. C. Strickland Reeve of Lakefield is Vice-President and A. W. Taylor, 331 Bay Street, Toronto is Secretary-Treasurer.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid" indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Jas. E. Carey Committed at Hull for Farmer's Death.

HULL, Que., Feb. 12.—James E. Carey, 2? years, of Perkins' Mills, Que., was committed by Judge Roland Miller in Hull police court yesterday, to stand trial at the next term of the court of King's Bench, in Hull, on a charge of murdering Joseph Bouchard, aged farmer of the township of West Portland, Hull County, on or about December 24, last.

The accused, who was given a preliminary hearing some days ago, appeared today for voluntary examination. "I have nothing to say" Carey stated, when asked by the court if he wished to give evidence.

RED ROSE COFFEE "is good coffee"

BOOTS SCARCE ON BROADWAY

New York Shops Don't Keep Ankle Boots—Only Low Shoes.

MADE TO ORDER

Footwear shops continue to advertise boots and shoes yet the once familiar boot is not there. As the dictionary puts it a boot is an outer foot covering coming above the ankle. Such things may be had in abundance and some variety, but they are gum-boots or Russian boots or goloshes, not the type more familiarly known as the high shoe. As well ask for a one-horse shay as for a leather boot or a high shoe in most of the shops of New York.

"We don'(keep them any longer," is the astonished rejoinder. "Nobody wears them now. Let me show you something in a low cut."

High shoes are seen now and then. A sensible housewife on Avenue A comes out for her marketing shod neatly in a pair of gunmetal boots. An old lady of Gramercy Park steps into a hired victoria with calfskin concealing her ankles. And in those small-town centres for farmers' purchases, farm women tread the pavement in buttoned shoes or high laces.

There are stores that make a point of keeping high shoes. They usually fall in the crossroads class, be they situated even on a metropolitan street. Among their lamp wicks and linoleum they find room for a few pairs of leather boots. More pretentious establishments and specialty shoe shops may have some pairs left over from other years—high shoes have not been gone too long for that. And numbers of them are still made to the customer's order.

In those shops where wealth and fashion have exclusive models made, workers are seen stitching linings some ten inches high. These shoemakers are by no means through with the fashioning of high shoes, but those who order them differ ressentially from most of the patrons of the custom-made shoe trade. They never seek a change. Interested only in comfort, they ask merely for a style that fits, then wear it year after year. These customers are said to be for the most part aged, crippled, rheumatic, or sufferers from overweight.

Decline of H'Jh Sales.

Despite the simplicity of their tastes, they must be prepared to pay quite dearly for their comfort. High shoes take more leather, the shoe man points out. It is otherwise with her who is content with the leavings from the mode of other years. She may get an excellent, durable high shoe from the bargain counter at one-quarter the price of a thin slipper of today, if she is fortunate enough to find her size. This is the difficulty of the wearer of high shoes. The dealer concerns himself not at all. There are too many customers waiting to be fitted with the low cuts that abound on the shelves.

There is little reason to replenish the high-shoe stock. Shoe men believe such shoes will never come back. The vogue of woolen stockings put an end to the need of high shoes for comfort and health.

A shop girl contributes a word:

"Who would ever want high shoes to come back, anyway? Anybody that's got to get to work a certain time is thankful enough to be able to slip into their shoes in a jiffy without stopping to lace them up. I'm glad they have gone. I can sell five pairs of low cuts in the time it used to take me to fit on one pair of high shoes."

HEAVIER TARIFF

of taxation. It was noteworthy, that when the Prime Minister addressed a public meeting in Regina, and said that taxation had been decreased by $27,000,000 within the last year, his audience applauded and asked no questions. The Prime Minister added that perhaps the Government had gone too far in reducing taxation, had hewed too close to the line. Still his audience asked no questions. Mr. Lewis thought that somebody should have borne in mind that taxation had advanced $50,000,000 above normal and that a reduction of $27,000,000 did not right the balance.

Mr. Lewis complained that farmers were not given a fair chance to work on branch lines of railway construction. Last year a number of drought-stricken farmers in his constituency had applied for grading work on a branch line which the Canadian National Railways were building there. The farmers were denied the work and men were brought in from outside.

In passing, Mr. Lewis advocated a retrenchment in the cost of government. He thought that something could be done towards housing Provincial Government staffs of the three prairie provinces in one of the three parliament buildings in the middle west. The cost of upkeep of these three buildings, he thought must represent a very considerable sum of money.

Have Own Ships.

Before any drastic action was taken in the way of subsidizing any privately owned steamship line, it should not be forgotten that Canada had its fleet of Canadian Government merchant marine ships, which had cost the country approximately $70,000,000, and expert advice should be secured.

Mr. Lewis did not see how any argument could be raised against extensive immigration of the right kind. The population of Canada today was totally inadequate to bear the burden of the Dominion's taxation. The United States offered an excellent recruiting ground for immigration as the big protection of that country had rendered thousands of farmers dissatisfied, and there were one million and a half French Canadians who should be brought back to their native soil.

Attacks Protection.

John Evans, (Progressive, Saskatoon), attacked the class advantages created by protection concentrating wealth in one small group and creating widespread poverty.

England, said Mr. Lewis was paying her way through her export and setting a moral example which the protectionist countries of the world should take note of. The "National Policty" of 1878 had been tried and found wanting. The protective principle invariably caused an increase in the cost of living, and eventually defeated the purpose even of the protected industry. There was a higher percentage of unemployment to-day in protectionist Philadelphia than in free trade London. The centralized control which was always a feature of protection, produced price fixing and the higher cost of living. In the United States agriculture was suffering very severely, and yet there were still those who would ask Canada to follow the example of a country which had driven 1,250-000 people from the farms through a policy which deprived the farmer of a fair profit on his work.

"I confess that the mind of the protectionist advocate has always been a mystery to me," said Mr. Evans. "It can only be that his intellect is clouded by a hope of immediate personal gains.

Mr. Evans was disappointed to find in the speech from the throne no promise of further reductions in the tariff. The progressive party, he said, had accepted the Governments policy last year as an earnest of its intention to proceed towards reduction in the tariff. This year the Government had indicated that it would go no further at present. "It upholds the hands of the protectionists while ominous sounds of disappointment are heard from the middle west," I said. Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans also criticized the method in which the customs tariff is administered, as tending to discriminate against private individuals in favor of combines. He quoted the case of United States fruit dumped in Canada by growers combines who succeeded through the manner in which he tariff was administered in getting concessions in the matter of duty which were denied to private individuals on co-operative societies.

Says The Party The Same.

The Government is maintaining the same old ruinous policy as the Conservatives maintained from 1911 to 1921. The only change is a microscopic cut in the tariff" stated Mr. Evans, there was no difference between the two parties.

Under the present conditions, agriculture was bound to languish, and the agricultural worker had a real grievance, he way the dumping act was administered was a disgrace

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine

SUN LIFE HAS PROUD RECORD IN THE EMPIRE

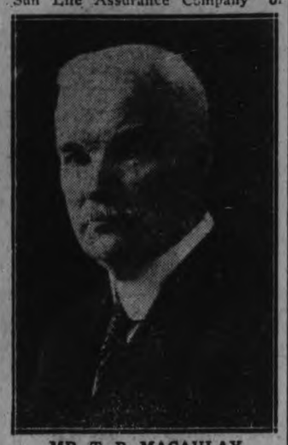
Annual Reports Show That This is Largest Company in Its Line.

STORY OF PROGRESS.

Strength Increases and Field Expands, Eclipsing Splendid Old Records.

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—New records in Canadian life assurance history were established by the Sun Life of Canada during 1924, when the company made the greatest advance since it began operations over half a century ago. It therefore maintains the proud title of being the largest company in the British Empire writing ordinary life assurance.

At the 54th annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company of



MR. T. B. MACAULAY
President
Sun Life of Canada

Canada, held at the head office here, President T. B. Macaulay presented the annual statement for 1924. Notable increases were made during the year, every feature of the statement telling a story of progress, indicative of strength. In fact the company yearly adds strength to strength achieving remarkable progress and eclipsing its own wonderful records of the past.

The Sun Life is a great financial institution of which all Canadians should be proud. It has carried the name of Canada to all parts of the globe, practically making the whole world its field. This farsighted efficient organization transacts a large volume of business in Canada and in all parts of the British Empire except New Zealand and Australia. Last year the company extended its operations in the United States with increased activity, opening divisions in many large centres. It also maintains active organizations in the West Indies, Argentina, Central America, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Egypt, Japan, China, India, the Philippine Islands Hawaii and Cuba.

During 1924 tremendous gains were made bringing the total amount of assurance in force, after deducting reassurances, to nearly nine hundred million dollars, an increase of approximately one hundred and sixty-eight millions over 1923. It is safe to predict that the billion mark of

MR. ARTHUR B. WOOD
Vice-President and Actuary
Sun Life of Canada.

assurances in force will be passed in the near future.

At the end of 1924 the assets totalled $274,130,407, an increase of nearly 65 millions. New policies actually issued and paid for during 1924 reached $137,466,384.

Since the Sun Life began business $183,798,128 has been paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in death claims, matured endowments, etc. Of this amount over thirty-one million was paid out in 1924. Profits paid during the twelve month period amounted to $6,681,552. After making heavy allocations of over nine millions to reserves and contingency funds, the undivided surplus of the company increased by over four million dollars, bringing the total to $22,107,357.

The cash income from premiums, interest, rents, etc., amounted to $62,245,681, an increase of $15,280,042 over 1923.

For the fifth year in succession the Sun Life announced a material increase in the scale of profits to policyholders.

In referring to the financial statement President T. B. Macaulay in the Directors' reports says:

"While many factors have contributed to this remarkable showing, the most noteworthy has been the large earning from investments. As has been mentioned in previous reports, it has for many years been the policy of the company to invest in long term bonds and similar choice securities in order that by this means the high rates of interest then prevailing as a result of the abnormal conditions produced by the war, might be projected into future years. This policy is now bearing fruit. Current rates of interest, though still very satisfactory, are materially lower than those of former years and as a consequence there has been a marked rise in the quotations for most of the securities owned by the company. During the past year some of these increased values have been capitalized by sales, and a net profit of $2,891,250.48 has been realized from this source. In addition there has been an increase of $6,331,377.69 in the market value of the securities still held. Although most of this increased value is undoubtedly permanent, and due merely to the readjustment of interest rates to a more normal basis, it will be noted that the company has carried $4,000,000 of the amount to contingency accounts."

The remarkable growth in the company's operations is perhaps best told in the following table. It clearly tells a story of progress, which can easily be characterized as wonderful. It is a story not of luck or chance, but of management and method of which Canada is proud.

The Company's Growth, Since 1872 —One Year After It Began Business.

CHEAPER POWER HELPS INDUSTRY

Plan to Stimulate Business is Being Prepared by the British Government.

SUPPLY AT COST.

LONDON, February 12. — A plan to stimulate British industry by the production of much cheaper electricity is being prepared by the government, says the Daily Mail, which adds that the authorities are considering an issue of electricity bonds guaranteed by the government to the ultimate value of 50,000,000 pounds.

The paper asserts that the scheme apparently replaces the one contemplated by the late Labor government based on the principle of nationalization of the means of production.

It aims to bring electricity within the reach of every industry and every private individual in the country at cost.

There are more than 500 power stations supplying certain areas and experts figure that the entire country can be cared for at a fraction of the present cost by only one hundred stations.

LOST EYE AT FAIR SUING DIRECTORS

Pageant Gunfire Disfigures Kingston Man Who Seeks Damages.

KINGSTON, Feb. 12.—(Special).—Thomas Smith, of Elginburg, who was injured by the firing of a cannon at the Kingston Fair Grounds during the Exhibition last fall, has entered an action against the Fair Association directors for unstated damages for the loss of one eye, the serious impairment of the other and facial disfigurement.

The accident in which the plaintiff figured, occurred during the final dress rehearsal for the pageant put on at the exhibition. Just as "Britannia" came forward and mounted the dais, a salute was fired by the gunners of the R.C.H.A. Mr. Smith who was employed on the grounds, came along just as the gun was fired and though the main force of the explosion passed over his head, he received severe powder burns on the left side of his face and lost the sight of his left eye as a result. No negligence is charged to the artillerymen, but the action is based on the assumption of negligence on the part of the Fair directors in not affording sufficient protection.

POISON SUSPECT FREED.

University Student Who Gave Wrong Capsules Released.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 12. — (Associated Press).—With the release of Louis Fish, nineteen-year-old Canton (Ohio) student at the Ohio State University, City Prosecutor John J. Chester, investigating the mysterious deaths of two university students by strychnine poisoning, announced that Fish was not implicated in the affair and that he had been the victim of unfortunate circumstances.

Fish admitted to the authorities that he had entered the university dispensary without authority and obtained capsules, supposedly containing quinine, for his friend, David Pushkin, in an effort to save him a few cents by not getting them through the regular channels. Pushkin died from strychnine poisoning.

The authorities are satisfied that Fish obtained the capsules from the bottle supposed to contain nothing but quinine and that he had nothing to do with the poisonous capsules, which are believed to have been put in the quinine bottle.

How the strychnine capsules came to be in the quinine bottle still is a mystery.

Prosecutor Chester said the authorities had one or two other students to question. Should they fail to throw any light upon the mystery, he admitted that he did not know what steps would be taken next.

Announcement that another student might be taken into custody failed to materialize, and there was every indication that no such action would be taken.

Rheumatism

Stops pain at once

Any rheumatic pain calls for Red Pepper Rub. Not mustard, not plasters, not liniment. Not any old-time method. Men have found a better way, and everybody should use it.

Nothing else supplies such concentrated such penetrating heat. And heat that doesn't hurt you. You feel it instantly. In three minutes it seems to reach the depths. Circulation starts, congestion is relieved. Pain and the soreness go.

Why suffer torture when such relief is at hand? Why cling to the old methods when a new one is better? You can prove in one hour that it is. This is the quickest relief men know.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. STRIKERS MAROON TRAIN.

Attack Volunteer Trainmen and Wound Twenty—Tear Up Rails.

THING TAO, China, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — Railwaymen, who went on strike on Tuesday as a protest against the discharge of 200 men, to-day attacked a volunteer crew which was operating a train on the Tsinan-Kisochow Railway, injuring twenty persons, including some Japanese. The strikers tore up the rails and marooned the train.

PEPALL STAYS IN JAIL.

Hearing Continued a Fortnight on Agreement of Counsel.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 12. —(Canadian Press).—The hearing of Andrew Pepall was continued until the morning of February 25, at the request of the Attorney for the British Consul here yesterday.

The defence agreed to this continuance, both sides declaring that they require additional time to bring witnesses and evidence from Canada, as a bitter fight over the removal is expected.

Pepall will remain in the county jail.

Local Druggists Have Modern Remedy for Colds

A Vaporizing Salve which is Rubbed Over Throat and Chest for Colds.

When Vicks VapoRub, the "external" method of treating sore throat, bronchitis, deep chest colds, or croup, is applied over throat or chest, the ingredients are released as vapors by the body heat.

These vapor, inhaled with each breath carry the medication directly to the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and relieving the congestion.

At the same time Vicks acts as a counter-irritant, stimulating the skin, and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the inflammation.

Colds are usually relieved over night.

FROST STOPS FLOOD.

One Man Drowned in His Flooded Home—Hundreds Submerged.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 12. —(Canadian Press).—A sharp fall in temperature late last night and early to-day checked the thaw that had caused one of the worst floods in the history of the city and the waters began to recede. The deluge flooded hundreds of homes in the Onondaga Valley and the southern part of the city. Large areas are still submerged. One man died in his marooned home.

MOST OLD FOLKS REQUIRE A HEART AND NERVE TONIC

After middle age little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly as the heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves are not as steady as they were in the younger days.

Now is the time when all aged people who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy unimpaired should use

DAMAGES ALLOWED IN MOTOR SMASH

His Honor Judge Huycke Gives Judgment for $850.

His Honour Judge Huycke yesterday delivered judgment in an action brought by Mrs. Olivine Brooks, against William Baker, of Bowmanville, being an action arising out of the collision of two cars, in the Township of Smith.

Mrs. Brooks, with members of her family, was a passenger in a car owned by Mr. Hickey. The two cars collided, and some of the occupants of the car owned by Mr. Hickey, were seriously injured.

Mrs. Brooks, through her solicitors, Messrs. Gordon and O'Brien, instituted an against against Mr. Baker, and the action came on for trial before His Honour Judge Huycke.

His Honour found that Mr. Baker was responsible for the accident, and awarded Mrs. Brooks damages in the amount of $350.00.

Mr. Hickey, the owner of the car which was practically wrecked, also instituted an action against Baker, and the two action were tried together, and Mr. Hickey was awarded judgment for $500.00; costs of both actions being given to the plaintiffs in both cases.

Mr. G. N. Gordon acted as counsel for the plaintiffs, Mr. M. J. Hickey and Mrs. Olivine Brooks.

Mr. D. A. J. Swanson, of Oshawa, acted for the defendants in each case.

BOOTLEG LIQUOR IN BRITAIN.

Smuggling of Spirits From France Said to Be Increasing.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—England has a bootlegging problem, says The Westminster Gazette, which, although small as compared with America's, threatens to grow, and may necessitate the adoption of special measures.

The trouble arises from the fact that the price of spirits in France is only about half that in England, where the duty is very high. This encourages smugglers to run contraband spirit cargoes across the Channel in small motor boats and land them in unfrequented parts of the English coast, whence they are taken to London and other large cities in motor lorries.

These ventures are substantially financed and bring big profits, according to the paper.

One of the mysteries of natural science is what a horsefly thinks when he gets desperate and tries to bite a flivver.

UP TO FRANCE TO MAKE FIRST OFFER

Chancellor Churchill's Debt Note to Paris Mentions No Figures.

LONDON, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).—Although Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill's debt note to France mentioned no figure, but only principles, on theory, it is up to France, as debtor, to make the first definite offer. The British Treasury has clearly in mind the sums France and Italy are expected to pay.

In Paris, apparently inspired statements have appeared that the British demand on France only amounts to 110,000,000 pounds, but Churchill expects to collect from France sums amounting at present-day value to 300,000,000 pounds from Italy 100,000,000 pounds and from the small debtors 10,000,000 pounds and 50,000,000 pounds.

ENGLISH SUPPORT RATE COMPLAINTS

Commercial Men Have Repeatedly Asked Reductions —A Shipping Official's View.

LONDON, February 12. Canadian Press.—Commercial men in England support complaints contained in the Preston report on the North Atlantic ocean freight rates situation, regarding the anomalies in the freight rates, the Westminster Gazette says to-day.

The Gazette adds that the association of British Chambers of Commerce have repeatedly approached the shipping companies with a view of obtaining a reduction of rates but have hitherto been unsuccessful.

The Liverpool correspondent of the Daily Telegraph quote a prominent shipping official of Liverpool as saying regarding both passenger and freight rates, that the Canadian trade is the most free in the world.

Freight rates according to this official, have been reduced to an almost unremunerative level and the profits on ocean passenger trade were never so small.

They are also fighting not only the North Atlantic Shipping Conference but the open market as well.

British shipping companies in the North Atlantic trade are not alarmed by the talk of government aided shipping, the Telegraph says. The efforts of the United States in this direction have proved to be anything but a success.

WOMAN' DANGEROUS AGE IS 40

Not 18, Says Cynthia Grey—The Time She Stops Putting Candles On Her Birthday Cake — Gloria is Wise.

BY CYNTHIA GREY

"The dangerous age of women is 40."

For this we have the word of the most brilliant woman in Denmark, Karin Michaelis.

However true it may be, there is no doubt that 40 is far and away the most discouraging time of a woman's life.

It is the time when she stops putting candles on her birthday cake ....and starts putting cold cream on her first wrinkles.

Ah those first wrinkles! Whole books could be written on them.

For they are one of the supreme tragedies of a woman's life ....or they can be! It all depends on the woman.

"Yes, I'm pretty now," says Pinero's Paula Tanqueray. "But even now I notice that the lines in my face are getting deeper. So are the hollows about my eyes ....Soon I'll be a worn-out creature ....my hair too bright, my eyes too dull, my body too thin or too stout, my cheeks raddled and ruddled! A ghost, a wreck, a caricature!"

And there in a nutshell you have the whole tragedy of a great class of women ....the butterfly type that has neither job nor children to keep her young. Usually her family consists of a husbands who pays the bills.

She has nothing in life to depend upon except the things that a pretty face gives a woman....admiration from men, envy from other women and good times.

And when her looks are gone, those things are gone with them.

At 40, the butterfly woman pers into the glass and knows that in a few years she will be like Longfellow's "yellow leaf in autumn"....sere and wrinked.

And with one last clutch at her vanishing youth, she plunges into wild gayety and belated romance.... the only things that mean anything in her life.

And that is what Karin Michaelis means, I think, when she says that 40 is the dangerous age for women.

But not for all women! For the worker type it is the time when she begins to score on life.

Such women as Ethel Barrymore and Kathleen Norris are at the very height of their fame and power at 40.

In another eight years, when the childlike Mary Pickford will be 40, she will probably be the greatest filmplay-producer in the world as today she is the greatest actress.

For at 32 she is wisely getting ready to do that very little thing!

"I shall soon be 35," Gloria Swanson said the other day when she married a French marquis. "And then I shall leave the screen for good and have a large family of children to keep me young in my old age."

I think that, without exception, that is the most sensible remark that ever fell from the rouged lips of a film actress....those women who know beter than any others what a tragedy a wrinkle or a double chin can be!

For middle age has no terrors for the woman with a family. At that time children have usually passed beyond the bothersome age and have become a source of pride and keen pleasure.

And it is one of the tricks of fate that, nine times out of ten, the mature woman who has been too busy to bother about her complexion and figure, has kept both of them to a far greater extent than her idle sister who has spent both time and money on face masage, hair dyes, and milk-packs.

"Grow old gracefully" was the slogan of our grandmothers.

"Grow old busily" is the more modern one ....and the chances are that you'll grow old very slowly too!

UMBRELLA VANITY CASES.

Cosmetics Now Carried in Wide Thick Handles.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(Associated Press).—Umbrellas with handles flat as pancakes have appeared in London and are considered quite the thing among fashionably dressed young women.

The umbrellas are altogether too unwieldy to be carried by the handle, so are attached to the arm by means of a heavy silk cord. But they have the advantage of doing away with the vanity case, for within the flat handle the owner carries her powder box, lip stick, eye lash crayon, a dainty little box of perfume, a three-inch comb, a mirror, and enough hair pins to last her several hours.

ATLANTIC SALMON ARE DOMESTICATED

Devoted to Their Homes and Have Habit of Putting on Weight.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.— (Canadian Press).—Atlantic salmon are revealed highly domesticated fish devoted to their homes and subject to increases in weight at a speed that would alarm most humans who are interested in the slim figure, in the annual report of the fish culture branch of the department of marine and fisheries. After sojourning in the fresh water streams for spawning purposes, they travel hundreds of miles by sea, putting on weight like luxurious globe trotters and return again to their home waters for the height of the season.

It is recorded that a salmon weighed only 5 1-2 pounds when it was caught and marked in the Resigouche river in May and weighed 19 1-2pounds when caught the following June. Another salmon from the Miranichi put on twenty pounds in two years. Five that weighed only 6 lbs. each when they were caught in the St. John River more than trebbled their weight in two years.

The homing instinct of the salmon is strong for most of the recaptures were made within a short distance of the home streams. The distance that they may have travelled is indicated by one fish that was marked at Taboussac, Quebec, in October, 1921, and recaptured at Henley Harbour, Labrador — 850 miles by the direct route along the coast—in August, 1922. One salmon marked at Tadoussac, Quebec, in In October, 1919, was recaptured in Placentia Bay, Newfoundland, in June, 1921, a distance of approximately 1,000 miles.

North Honors Lincoln South Carries On Work

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—To-day, Lincoln's birthday, was observed as a legal holiday throughout the northern states. Orators delivered tributes to Lincoln at special commemoration ceremonies in many cities. Three members of the Cabinet were among the speakers in Washington. The most pretentious of the observances were in Chicago, where Lincoln was nominated for the Presidency in 1860, and at Springfield, Ill., where he was buried. All business establishments and schools were closed in the north. The south carried on business as usual.

The Wreck, despite his brave front, was not looking forward to the exploit with joy, even though it might bring discomfiture to their enemies. He would never love a horse. He knew too well what they did to him. But with Sally determined to make an early departure, he was the last person to interpose any objection as to method. If it became necessary to crawl all the way to the Bar-M on hands and knees, or even to Chicago, he would have taken the same attitude. It was his business to see that Sally reached her destination, whatever it was, and he proposed to attend to it.

"I'll put up all the grub that we can carry," said Sally. "That'll be more important than spare clothes. It will be mostly sandwiches, I'm afraid. What kind do you like?"

"Any kind."

"But you must have some preference."

"I'm not particular."

She beamed at him, and he did not know why.

"You're not fussy about your cooking, are you, Henry?"

"Not that I know of."

"It's not the main thing in your life, is it?"

"No."

"And if you were marrying a girl that isn't the first thing you'd think about?"

What in thunder was she driving at, he wondered? Was she making fun of him? He was not marrying cooks or anybody else. Why couldn't she let him alone?

"No. I wouldn't think about it at all," he answered, rather stupidly. "Would I be supposed to?"

She laughed without restraint. he was such a queer, awkward person.

"No; it would be rather nice not to think about it," she said. "But, just the same, I'm going to put you up the nicest sandwiches I know how to make."

"All right. Anything at all."

"And I may even expect you to praise them."

"Sure. I will."

She laughed again, but there was not the least hint of teasing in her eyes.

"Henry Williams," she said, "sometimes you can be perfectly lovely. No; I know you don't understand. It makes it better because you don't."

He had no answer for that, and was uncomfortable. For some reason he could not explain, he was red in the face; he could feel it. He could not stand women, and he would never learn how.

"I guess I'll have another look for that wheel," he mumbled.

"All right. Good luck, old timer."

She watched him go, a half-amused, half-puzzled look in her eyes. There was a hint of motherliness in the smile on her lips; but it was not all motherliness, either.

The Wreck was making another search of the outbuildings, squinting through his spectacles at places where the wheel might possibly be.

He had looked in all the likely places, so far as he could remember now he tried looking in the unlikely ones. The part that puzzled him most was his patience and lack of temper. Ordinarily, he ought to have been fuming, with his nerves raw and his muscles twitching with irritation. But a stolid mood seemed to have settled upon him, and he continued his task with a phlegmatic calm that astonished him.

He saw Chester Underwood emerging from the shed where the flivver stood on its crutch, but took no notice of him. There was nothing that Chester could contribute in the way of information, and he felt that 't was politic to let him alone. The more he searched the more probable it seemed that he would ride away on Charley McSween's horse. He would not allow the small matter of a bet to detain him, although he would have found pleasure in triumphing over the foreman of the Underwood ranch.

Sally informed him at lunch time that the sandwiches had been made and put away, and that she hoped he would not complain about them. He merely shrugged. She also told him that she was going for a little ride in the afternoon with Chester. He shrugged again, but there was a scowl that went with it.

She did. He saw them ride away toward the hills, and then spent a part of a miserable afternoon in further quest for the missing wheel. It was none of his business, of course, but it did not seem to him that a girl who was engaged to the sheriff, or anybody else, ought to be galloping over the range with any young man who happened to come along.

The afternoon of Jerome Underwood was equally unpleasant. He wanted to get hold of Bob Wells and acquaint him with discoveries, but the sheriff was somewhere on the road and could not be reached by telephone. It seemed to Underwood that the whole system of suppressing crime was unnecessarily primitive. He saw the situation entirely in terms of New York· he expected metropolitan service. He fumed and exploded, and he shot grim innuendoes at Charley McSween, who maintained his calm, although he began to be sorry that he had ever bothered himself about obtaining an emergency cook.

Sally came back from her ride, flushed and charming. She told Chester that it had been delightful, every foot of the way, even saying it in the presence of the Wreck, who happened to be in the vicinity of the corral, apparently still looking for an essential part of his flivver.

Back in the kitchen again, she became serious and restless. She waited awhile for Henry Williams: she had something to say. But the Wreck was evidently minded to keep aloof. He did not appear until after she had sent Timothy fo find him, with a message that she wanted to talk to him. He came into the kitchen with a sullen look on his face, and without a word, began putting on his apron, grimly resigned to the performance of at least one more hateful task.

"Never mind the apron yet," she said. "There's something more important."

He waited for the explanation.

"We may not have to ride horses," she whispered, after a cautious glance to make sure there were no eavesdroppers.

"Huh?"

"Chester has found the wheel."

He merely stared.

"I knew he had something on his mind," she said. "That's the main reason I went for a ride. He was all puffed up with importance. He has the idea that he's going to put something over on the sheriff."

"Where's the wheel?" demanded the Wreck.

"He wouldn't tell me."

"Well, what did he tell you?"

"In the first place," said Sally, lowering her voice, "he told me all about his wonderful discovery of the flivver, and all about what happened between his father and Charley McSween. He's terribly proud of what he had done. He thinks he's a sort of detective. So, having found the car and stirred up a lot of excitement, he thought the next thing to do was to find the wheel. He told me that he found it inside of ten minutes."

The Wreck had a twinge of chagrin. He had spent whole hours on the job, without obtaining so much as a trace.

"Of course," added Sally, "it wasn't for me to show that I was especially interested. I wasn't going to stir up any suspicion. I got just as interested as I could afford to be, but not any more. I told him I thought he was wonderfully clever, and I even asked him where he found the wheel. But he said he was not going to tell anybody until he caught the hold-up gang—not even his father. He has an idea that if he doesn't say anything about the wheel it will help him to find the people who own it."

The Wreck considered the information.

"Anything else?" he asked.

"Nothing else, except——" She hesitated.

"What?"

"Well, I thought if Chester knew where the wheel was, that perhaps you could find out, too."

There was an interchange of glances.

"I think I get you," said the Wreck.

"I think you do, Henry."

"Much obliged."

"But not till after supper," she warned him. "We've got to wait for dark. And, of course, I'll help any way I can."

So Chester Underwood had discovered the wheel, had he? The Wreck began to study the situation, and became absorbed in it.

"It was all right for me to go riding, wasn't it?" interrupted Sally.

He came out of his reverie and looked at her as if he did not get the point.

"All right?" he echoed. "Why not? I guess anything you do is all right, isn't it?"

"It all depends, Henry Williams. You're so awfully queer."

It should be noted, says the committee, that the present voting is not a plebiscite on Church Union. The Presbyterian Church goes into the Union on June 10 next. The voting is being conducted under the provision of the United Church of Canada Act which permits non-concurring congregations to withdraw before the Union is consummated. Hundreds of congregations will go into Union without voting.

SHEEP BREEDERS MEET.

Ontario Is Ideal Location For Raising of Sheep—Wool Needed.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—In his review of the year's operations yesterday, at the annual meeting of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, held at the Hotel Carls Rite, President James Bowman, of Guelph, stated there was a marked shortage in wool and breeding stock, while the consumption was becoming greater each year. The wool shortage in the world was estimated at over 5,400,000 pounds, while the consumption in Canada reached 1,000,000 pounds annually, as against 10,000,000 pounds of wool in the United States. Mr. Bowman declared Ontario, with its vast stretches of unused territory, offered ideal conditions for sheep ranching and he suggested that more farmers enter the industry because of the enormous demand for wool.

Rescuers Reach Roof of Tunnel This Morning at 45 Feet.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—The limestone roof of Floyd Collins' cavern was reached at the base of the tunnel early this morning at the 45-foot stage, and "any minute" the diggers expect to find a crevice or cavern which can be opened sufficiently for the rescuers to work their way down to Collins, pinioned in a rock vise at the foot of the sand cave.

Conference On Morocco?

Rumor Says All Nations Interested May Meet in Discussion.

LONDON, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — Rumors which have been current in diplomatic circles recently to the effect that a conference between all the nations interested in Morocco was contemplated at which the whrole Moroccan situation would be discussed, were given point yesterday in the House of Commons when Commander Kenworthy, Liberal member for the Central Division of Hull, asked whether such a conference was under consideration.

Ronald McNeill, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, was unable to give a direct reply and asked for notice of the question.

WEALTH

Hal Cockran's Daily Poem

You kin talk about riches, in money and such, and wish that you had lots of dough, but shucks, after all, does it really mean much, is the thing that I'm aching to know

There may be a clink in your jeans every day and, no doubt, that is pleasing to you It helps one to happiness, likely you'll say, and I'll have to admit that that's true

But listen, old topper, the coin that you own and can spend with the wink of an eye, is really quite weak when considered alone 'cause there's something it never can buy

The real road to happiness lies in your friends, and not in the jingle of jack It's friendship on which every fellow depends, when he wants to hold loneliness back.

You can makes heaps of dough as the days come and go; you may have all that money can buy. But your life's not complete lest, with people you meet, you're the friendshipy type of a guy.

MISSING MAN RETURNS.

Committee Clerk of Parliament Lost Since Wednesday.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press). — H. Douglas Dewar, who had been missing since last Wednesday, during which time his appointment as committee clerk in the House of Commons was announced, returned home from Montreal yesterday. He was suffering from mental unrest over financial worries and nervousness brought on by excessive studies, but when he saw in a Montreal newspaper the announcement of his success in the Civil Service examinations, much of the source of his worries was lifted, and he returned home.

Famous last words,—"I'll catch him at the next corner."

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE - - - MONTREAL

A Statement of Remarkable Progress

Extracts from Directors' Report

Your Directors present their fifty-fourth Annual Report with unusual satisfaction. The rapid expansion of operations, and the steady upbuilding of resources, which have so markedly characterised the Company's transactions in previous years, have continued during the past twelve months, and at a greatly increased rate of progress. . . .

. . . . These figures [herewith quoted] show the growth which has taken place in the volume of the Company's operations, and in its resources. The figures as to profit-earning power and financial strength are even more impressive.

As to profits actually paid, the sum of $6,681,652.49 has been disbursed during the year to policyholders under this heading.

As to provision for the future, the Company's position has been materially strengthened in all directions.

There has been a further upbuilding of the life policy reserves. Heretofore policies issued prior to 1903 have been valued on the basis of assuming three and a half per cent. interest, as the discounting rate for the Company's obligations, but this year the entire life assurance contracts have been valued at three per cent., the extra amount thus set aside being $1,111,032.

There has also been a strengthening of the Annuity Reserves. Recent investigations have shown a progressive increase in the average lifetime of annuitants. A special annuity reserve of $750,000 has this year been set up beyond the amount required by the Government standard.

The Company's Head Office and branch buildings and other real estate, have been written down by $750,000.

The Contingency Reserves have been strengthened by the addition of $4,000,000 taken from the earnings of the year, $3,000,000 of this amount going to the fund to provide for possible fluctuations in the market value of our securities, raising that fund to $5,000,000, and $1,000,000 going to General Contingencies account, raising that to $2,500,000. These contingency accounts thus amount now to $7,500,000.

After making these heavy allocations, the undivided surplus has yet been increased by $4,234,490, bringing it to a total of $22,107,358.

The Company is, of course, in a position to increase its already generous scale of profits to policyholders, and your Directors have pleasure in announcing, for the fifth year in succession, that such an increase will be made.

While many factors have contributed to this remarkable showing, the most noteworthy has been the large earning from investments. As has been mentioned in previous reports, it has for many years been the policy of the Company to invest in long-term bonds and similar choice securities, in order that by this means the high rates of interest then prevailing as a result of the abnormal conditions produced by the war, might be projected into future years. This policy is now bearing fruit. Current rates of interest, though still very satisfactory, are materially lower than those of former years, and as a consequence there has been a marked rise in the quotations for most of the securities owned by the Company. During the past year some of these increased values have been capitalized by sales, and a net profit of $2,891,230.46 has been realized from this source. In addition there has been an increase of $6,331,577.69 in the market value of the securities still held. Although most of this increased value is undoubtedly permanent, and due merely to the readjustment of interest rates to a more normal basis, it will be noted that the Company has carried $4,000,000 of the amount to contingency accounts, as already explained.

The rate of interest earned during the year on the mean invested assets has been 6.38 per cent., exclusive of profits from sales. This is a substantial increase over the rate of the previous year, and has resulted from our having realized on some of our holdings of government and other bonds which had risen to high figures, the proceeds being then reinvested in securities yielding better returns.

BUDGET OF LIVE NEWS FROM THE OLD LAND FOR EXAMINER READERS

GREAT CATHEDRALS OF ENGLAND ARE CRUMBLING AWAY

Ravages of Air, Acids and Deadly Beetle are Evident

THE "HOUSE" TOO

But Parliament Buildings are in No Danger of Collapse

Britain's crumbling cathedrals present a problem raised in acute form once more by a new restoration appeal —£10,000 for the rapair of the roof and stonework of Wakefield Cathedral.

Nearly every cathedral in the land is either being repaired or in vital need of such attention.

Either their foundations are insufficient for the weights they bear, the stoneworks are collapsing under the attack of acids in the atmosphere, or else the roofs are being ruined by dry rot or the death watch beetle.

In the case of Wakefield, Sir Charles Nicholson and Mr. Wrigley, who have thoroughly examined the roof, find that it is a case of dry rot.

The trouble at Lincoln is a series of great cracks in the towers. Hundreds of tons of liquid cement have been poured into them to strengthen the columns, and the work has been so successful that a commission from St. Paul's has visited Lincoln to see how it is done.

At Peterborough the roof had suffered from attacks by the death watch beetle; at Salisbury the insecure foundations threw the spire out of the perpendicular; Winchester is just ending great restoration work rendered necessary by poor foundations; York Minister has had to have its famous Five Sisters window releaded and cleaned; Elgin, Durham and many others are—like the Houses of Parliament—peeling off in flakes owing to the action of the atmosphere.

Professor Laurie, of Edinburgh, has made several tours in England and Scotland for the Office of Works, and has found that sulphur dioxide gas, produced by coal-burning and invading the atmosphere, combines with lime in the stone and forms crystals, which cause the stone to break off in flakes. The flakes are sometimes large pieces of stone an inch thick.

Experiments are now being carried out to find a means of combating the process.

"ATMOSPHERICS."

The external beauty of the Houses of Parliament is also threatened with decay, and the deleterious London atmosphere is the chief cause of the trouble.

It plays havoc with the pinnacles, and its baneful effect is becoming so marked that eventually a general scheme of restoration may be rendered necessary to preserve the symmetry of the exterior.

Sir Frank Baines, chief architect to the Office of Works, is engaged in preparing a report on the matter.

"It is not a problem of subsidence, as in the case of St. Paul's Cathedral," said Sir Frank. "The foundations are safe, and the structure itself is perfectly sound.

"But almost from the time the Houses of Parliament were built, the process of external decay became manifest, the soft stone crumbling owing to the action of the soot and sulphur in the London atmosphere."

Questioned as to the advantages of Portland cement, Sir Frank replied that even Portland stone has been proved to be not impervious to the influence of London's atmosphere.

"The public may rest assured that the Houses of Parliament are in no danger of collapse," he added, "and that all possible means are being employed to preserve in all its beauty a building which is rightly regarded as a priceless heritage."

AUCTIONEER HAS UNPLEASANT TIME

Proceedings Under 370 Year Old Law Angers Fen Farmers

Lively scenes took place at an auction sale at Cambridge, arising out of the trouble between Fen farmers and the Ouse Drainage Board, which is distraining for rates.

A sale was held in the yard of the Little Rose, once a famous coaching inn, of three horses, a trap, and some harness, part of a large haul from the Bedford district.

Bedfordshire farmers turned up in large force to protest. For some time the chaffing was good natured on both sides, but towards the end the auctioneer, Mr. Love, came in for a certain amount of abuse.

"If you come to Bedford, as sure as your name is Love, you will be thrown in the river," someone shouted.

A rush was made for the auctioneer, and it was only by getting him through the grounds of some university buildings that the police succeeded in getting him away.

AN ACT 370 YEARS OLD.

Before the proceedings started Mr. Goodman, secretary of the Farmers' Union, protested against the legality of the sale, quoting an Act of 1554 which had never been repealed.

It was only with the greatest difficulty that the auctioneer could make any progress at all.

Two of the horses were bought in by their owners, but the remainder of the goods was knocked down to the Ouse Drainage Board. This brought forth many protests.

A further sale is to take place probably next week.

George Holmes, who had worked on the same farm at Milton, Beds., for 60 years, died as the result of a fall from a horse.

Remains of what are said to be the oldest iron works in Wales are to be found on the banks of the Llwchwr, near Llanelly.

Dead Miser's Hoard Was £3,000; Declined To Call in Doctor

It was stated at an inquest held at Tottenham, on Charles Lamb Toynbee, aged 77, a bachelor, that the Coroner's officer who searched the single apartment in which he lived alone found bank books, shares, etc., representing £3,000.

Toynbee, who lived in Seven Sisters road, was found dead in bed, and the Coroner remarked on the wasted appearance of the body.

Evidence was given that the man was apparently poverty-stricken and miserly. He refused to allow a doctor, who had a surgery in the same house, to be called, because he would have to pay.

Toynbee was said to have been in the drapery trade.

BOY'S PRANK WITH CORNISH EXPRESS

An 11-year-old boy's escapade in front of the Cornish Riviera Express led to his appearance in Devonport Police Court.

Evidence was given by the express driver that near Ford Station the boy stood in the middle of the track waving his arms about and causing the witness to apply the brakes.

When the train was about three coach lengths off the lad suddenly dived under a platform and the express proceeded.

The boy was put on probation for twelve months.

LOST RAMBLER IN DERBYSHIRE FOUND

The body of James Evans, the railway worker who had been missing on the Derbyshire moors, was found between Snake Inn and Hayfield, on Kinder Scout, by a party of searchers.

Evans became detached from a party of walkers on the moors and all attempts to trace him failed.

A "comb" of Kinder Scout began early, when hundreds of ramblers from Manchester, Sheffield and other towns took part in the search. They were assisted by the police and experienced gamekeepers.

Mr. Evans is the third walker lost on Kinder Scout in the last few years. The other two were found dead after a few days' search.

GLAMORGAN MAN LEAVES £401,793

Probate of the will of the late Thomas Taylor, of Pontypridd (Glamorgan) has been granted to his daughter, Gwladys Mary Taylor, and two trustees. The net personality has been returned at £401,793.

Mr. Taylor started in very humble circumstances at the local chain works, and became one of the largest public works contractors in Wales.

He was the owner of one of the deepest steam coal pits, Nantgarw, which he sold to Baldwins, Limited.

He bequeathed to his daughter his residence and contents, with a bequest of £500 a year for the maintenance of the home for a period of four years after his youngest child had attained the age of 21. With the exception of £1,000 to his confidential clerk, Edwin Phillips, the remainder of the estate was to be equally divided between his eight children, one of whom is dead, and their issue.

PRINCE BONAPARTE'S ESTATE £142,000

Prince Roland Bonaparte, of Paris, a grand-nephew of the Emperor Napoleon, and a distinguished scientist and traveller, left £142,596 in England.

He left an annuity equal to the value of their annual appointments to his secretaries, employes, librarians, valets, domestic servants, cooks, doorkeepers and laborers.

Prince Roland was descended from the Emporer's brother Lucien, King of Westphalia. He was said to be prouder of his scientific attainments than of his family tree.

WOMAN'S COURAGE HAS CASH VALUE

"I am going to make an order for the payment to you of £5 in recognition of your courage," said the Recorder (Sir Ernest Wild, K.C.,) at the Old Bailey, to Mrs. Lizzie Nash McEwen, who found a housebreaker in her flat at Barnes and handed him over to the police.

The prisoner, Walter Stanley, a dealer, broke into Mrs. McEwen's flat while she was out shopping. When she returned she found him, seized hold of him and gave him in charge. He was sent to gaol for 14 months.

CURTIS BENNETT'S OFFER OF KISSES

Sir Henry Curtis Bennett, K.C., M.P., was startled when he was charged by the chairman of a Conservative meeting at Brentwood with having failed to carry out one of his election promises.

He inquired in what way he had failed.

"You promised that if you were elected member for mid-Essex you would kiss every lady in the constituency," said the chairman.

"It was a most rash promise if I did really make it," replied Sir Henry, "but if I never have a more serious charge made against me I could easily get out of it. I am most anxious to carry out the promise. In fact, I am quite willing to start at once."

GOV'T HOUSE FOR ULSTER HEAD

North of Ireland Won't Put Off With Villa

TO COST £46,000

Park of 340 Acres Will Need Force of 32 to Police

A "breeze" arose at a meeting of the Select Committee on Estimates when it came to discuss why the Office of Works had provided for £46,000 for a residence for the Governor of Northern Ireland.

According to the report just issued, one member described this as an "enormous amount."

"You can buy a good house in Northern Ireland for £46,000, can't you?" asked Sir Frederick Wise, of the Office of Works witness. "I'm not so sure of that," was the answer.

It was explained that the Imperial Government was giving a residence to the Government of Northern Ireland, who would keep it up.

"We tried to get them to have a large-sized villa," said the witness, "but they would not hear of it. They said they would not be put into a worse position than the Sinn Fein Government as regards the Vice-Regal Lodge.

"In their opinion, the South have been very disloyal, and it seems very difficult for any Government to resist the demands to provide a decent house for the Governor of Northern Ireland."

Sir John Marriot asked why Northern Ireland was to be favored in this way, seeing that the Office of Works did not provide houses for governors in all the Dominions.

"We have to provide everything in Northern Ireland, I am sorry to say," replied witness. "It is one of the things which have been imposed on us."

The place it is proposed to buy belongs to Lord Downshire, and has a park of 340 acres. Among other things, provision has to be made for 32 resident police.

In contrast, mention was made of the British Legation house at Budapest, for which £14,000 was provided. This was bought "amazingly cheap" for £6,900, and last summer "there were 36 families living in it, including two great dignitaries and small fry like refugees." It was "the most notable Legation in Europe, and certainly the cheapest."

CHANCE OUT WEST FOR TOUGH NUTS

Miss Carlyle, a young woman who went to Canada last February and took a farm 17 miles from Calgary, has just issued an invitation at the Soroptimists' luncheon in London to "six tough nuts" to go out and learn farming at her ranch. She is satisfied that farming in Canada offers good prospects to women who are intelligent and not afraid of hard work, and is anxious to train six with a view to these farming their own land at the end of the year.

TOOK MUCH GAME WITHOUT LICENSE

For being in pursuit of game on the land of Earl Iveagh, Harry Davey, a dealer, of Garboldisham, was fined the maximum of £2 and costs on each of two charges at Mildenhall, Suffolk.

Davey admitted, in cross-examination, that he had sent 1,200 brace of partridges and pheasants to London.

He had no game-dealing license, and had only 300 acres of shooting land.

BEQUEST PROVIDES LOANS TO YOUTHS

The village of Foxton, near Market Harborough, Leicestershire, has been left £20,000, or about £1,000 a year, under the will of the late Robert Monk, a native of the village, who made a fortune as a publican in Leicester.

The interest on the money is to be devoted to loans to villagers under 35 of sums of from £50 to £200 for 9 years, the recipients to give guarantees for the return of the loans.

A borrower who leaves Foxton must repay his loan at once.

The villagers say that there is not sufficient scope among the 300 inhabitants for the use of the money in this way.

DEATH CERTIFICATE WITHOUT VIEWING

According to a Somerset House official, the new form of death certificate, decided upon some time ago, will come into use in some parts of the country in a few months.

In London the stocks of the present form may last for two years.

The main change is that in the new form an opportunity is given to the certifying doctor to indicate whether he certifies from his own knowledge or merely reports the statement on information from others. He must also give the date on which he last saw the patient alive.

A point much criticized by coroners and medical officials is that the new certificate does not make it compulsory to inspect the body.

CROSS ENGLAND CANAL PROPOSED

Engineer Offers Plan for Joining North Sea with Bristol Channel

A ship canal, striking a line across England and joining the North Sea at Yarmouth with the Bristol Channel at Bridgewater Bay, is part of a mammoth scheme for improving inland water transport placed before the Government and county authorities by W. J. Botterill, a civil engineer of Norwich.

His proposals are in two parts, first, a ship canal from Yarmouth Harbor to Norwich, and, secondly, a cross-England canal for smaller vessels, from Norwich, via Cambridge, Bedford and Oxford to the Bristol Channel. Docks for turning ships would be built at important points along the route.

"The total length of the canal from sea to sea, would be 240 miles," says Botterill, "with an extra sixty miles of canal from Oxford to Birmingham. If the Government formed a canal trust, the necessary capital could be subscribed and would easily bear a guaranteed 6 per cent. interest."

Botterill is particularly anxious to make Norwich an important port, with quays, dock basins, drydocks and ship repairing yards, etc., and he further proposes converting Rockland Broad, near Norwich into a naval base. He wants to see a railway tunnel under Norwich, connecting his canal docks with the railway junuction on the other side of the city. The plan is being given careful consideration by central and local authorities.

BANK CLERK'S BETS OF £4,000 WEEKLY

Habit Started With Half-Sovereign Stakes—Ends in the Dock

A bank clerk with a salary of £350 a year was stated at the Guildhall to have indulged in horse-betting at the rate of £4,000 a week.

Walter Schwendener, 26, of Wanstead Park Road, Ilford, a clerk of the Swiss Banking Corporation, was charged with conspiring to steal £2,150, £835 and £774 from a firm of City bankers.

Harry Levine, a commission agent, stated that Schwendener started with small bets of 10s. to £5, and gradually increased to £1,000 or £2,000.

One week, said Levine, Schwendener won £4,398, and the following week he lost £4,517.

Levine declared that he did not know his client was a bank clerk with a salary of £350, otherwise he would not have accepted the bets unless Schwendener had been acting as an agent for others.

Schwendener, who reserved his defence, was committed for trial.

BRIGHTON TWINS REACH AGE OF 92

Matthew and Mark Gunn Survivors of Family of Biblical Names

Matthew and Mark Gunn, the famous Brighton twins, are 92.

They are survivors of a family of eleven, who were all given Biblical names, and the quartette of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John were well-known fishery figures on the Brighton beach.

From the age of 14 until past 80, Matthew and Mark worked together. Neither has had a day's illness apart from accidents, and they scarcely know the meaning of headache.

Matthew makes light of the fact that a few months after he retired at 88 he fell and broke his leg, and was in hospital for months. Twelve months later he had a serious fall in the dark, and was in hospital nine months, yet today he is hale and hearty, and looks upon life as a very cheerful affair.

Mark is extremely well, and the pair often meet to stroll together on the front.

Despite their great age, they take a deep interest in local and national affairs; they attribute their longevity to the fact that they lead a quiet and regular life. Matthew enjoys a smoke, and says he can "eat anything."

NEW PEER'S TITLE FROM DEVON VALLEY

In taking the title of Lord Merrivale, the President of the Divorce Division, Sir Henry Duke, assumes the name of a well-known western Dartmoor valley under Mis Tor, down which the Walkham flows.

Granite quarries in the hamlet of Merrivale have long been worked by the new peer's family. It was at Merrivale Farm, near Princetown, that the new peer was born.

FLIGHT TO POLE BY B.C. AVIATOR

Grettir Algarsson Will Hop Off in May on Great Adventure

NEW TYPE 'PLANE

Man Who Commanded Shackleton's Ships in Venture from Liverpool

The possibility of a five-fold aerial fleet to the North Pole this summer is raised by the announcement that Grettir Algarsson, a British Columbian, proposes to set out in May from Liverpool with an expedition, the last stages of which will be by airplane to the North Pole.

Roald Amundsen had already announced his intention of undertaking an aerial flight from Spitzbergen this summer (early in May, if possible) and there is a projected Japanese expedition under Hammer, who was Amundsen's lieutenant on previous Polar journeys. There is also talk of American and French expeditions.

The British Columbian Algarsson proposes to take ship from the Mersey to Reykjavik, Iceland, thence to Spitzbergen, where after coaling the vessel will skirt the west coast as far as the ice permits, which if the summer is a good one, should be somewhere in the neighborhood of 81 degress north. A base will then be formed, an airplane assembled, and the last stage, the polar flight, will be undertaken.

COLLECTIONS FOR MUSEUMS.

Shore parties from the base will take observations and make natural history and geological collections, which on the return of the expedition will be at the disposal of Liverpool museums and various scientific institutions.

Commander F. A. Worsley, who commanded Shackleton's ships, Endurance and Quest, will command the ship and act as second in command of the expedition.

The venture will demand an airplane of special design, which it is proposed shall embody developments arising out of the recent light airplane tests at Lympne, but more powerfully engined than any used in those experiments. The plane will be fitted with skil for landing on ice, and will be provided with floats for enforced landings on water. Reception wireless will be carried, and if overcome, apparatus capable of sending messages a limited distance.

PLAN 600-MILE FLIGHT.

The expedition will return along the east Greenland coast, delimiting the coastal ice barrier, and proceed home via New York. When in the ice area it is proposed to make important tests with petrol tractors, so that Commander Worsley may see what modifications in their design may be necessary for the trans-Atlantic journey he proposes to make next year across the Polar basin.

The final dash to the Pole by air, the novel and most hazardous stage of the venture, will be undertaken by Algarsson with one companion, and it will be to the perfecting of the arrangements for this that the experience and ingenuity of the explorers will be mainly employed between now and the time for departure. Algarsson, who has had a long association with Liverpool, having served his apprenticeship with the Glue Funnel Line of steamers, is raising funds in that city, and the bulk of the consumable stores have already been promised.

GOLFERS HAVE TO CARRY FOUR CLUBS

Unique Rule in Ancient Game Recorded on Sheffield Course

A new rule, probably unique in golf, is recorded by the Parks Committee of the Sheffield Corporation.

It provides that a complement of at least four clubs must be carried in future by golfers playing on the Tinsley Park course on Saturday afternoons, bank and public holidays, and during the evenings of June, July and August.

This rule is probably intended to prevent people going round the course with one, or perhaps two, clubs. As a rule, anyone playing the game so badly equipped as that is only "fooling about." It means that no one can play on the course unless properly equipped for the game.

It will help to eliminate the pest who makes a habit of walking round municipal courses with what appears to be a walking-stick, but is really a golf club, and, whenever he gets the chance, playing a few holes. He never takes out a ticket ,and thinks nothing of "cutting in" in front of other players.

William Dudley, who served for two years in the Crimean War, died at Birmingham, aged 87.

A guest aged 90 and 36 octogenarians were included in a party of 102 old folks at Wycombe.

DRUNK DEFINITION BY FAMOUS DOCTOR

Is Man Fit to Perform His Ordinary Daily Duties?

SCORES "TESTS"

Sir James Purves-Stewart Criticizes Methods Used by Police

Strong criticism of the tests usually employed in police stations to determine whether a person is drunk were made by Sir James Purves-Stewart, senior physician at Westminster Hospital, at a meeting for the Study of Inebriety in the rooms of the Medical Society of London. Sir James said that, to his mind, "a drunken person" could only be "One who has taken alcohol in a sufficient quantity to poison his central nervous system, producing in his ordinary processes of reaction to his surroundings a temporary disorder which causes him to be a nuisance or danger to himself or to others."

Referring to the examination of supposed drunken persons by police surgeons, Sir James declared that "medical officers vary considerably in their temperament and in their susceptibility to the dogmatic suggestion of drunkenness propounded by police constables," but he added that police constables were in nine cases out of ten correct in their diagnosis.

SECOND EXAMINATIONS.

"A great deal of loose thinking has been going on upon the subject of so-called tests for drunkenness.

"In doubtful cases the court, in my opinion, should insist on a second examination being carried out more frequently than it is at present, which is almost never.

"Failure to stand on one leg with the eyes shut, which, I have recently read, is a supposed test of cerebellar disorder, is a mild acrobatic feat which the most sober of us might easily fail to execute during the emotional excitement following police arrest."

Sir James also discredited the ordinary tests of eyesight and speech when a person was taken to a police station as a "drunk." He declared that in his opinion the importance of the symptom of dilated pupils was "often exaggerated."

WORD TESTS THAT COUNT.

Disordered articulation, to be of value in establishing the diagnosis of intoxication, should be present in the pronunciation of words which the particular individual was likely to use in his ordinary conversation. As to the test of walking along a straight line, the excitement of having been arrested would be sufficient to prevent a straight course being taken.

"Where the decision is doubtful," Sir James Purves-Stewart urged, "it is the duty of the medical officer, resisting the human tendency to corroborate without careful consideration the 'snap-shot' diagnosis of the police constable, to give the patient the benefit of the doubt .... There is no short cut to accurate diagnosis. Our only safe guide is by means of careful and systematic clinical examination."

The only satisfactory general test of drunkenness was whether a man was in a fit condition to pursue efficiently his ordinary daily avocation in life.

MAJOR ACCUSED OF MURDERING SON

Perthshire Tragedy Surrounded by Mystery Excites Interest

Mystery surrounds the death of Captain John M. Middleton, who was found shot in his home at Baldarroch, Murthly, Perthshire.

His father, Major W. F. Middleton, a man over 70 years of age, has been arrested by the police and charged with the murder of his son, but they refuse to divulge the circumstances.

Major Middleton appeared before the Sheriff for private examination, but medical men who were in attendance certified that he was unfit to be examined, and he was remanded.

A GUN SHOT.

Captain Middleton was at Perth market in connection with farm affairs. He returned to Baldarroch in the evening, and soon after his arrival members of the household heard the explosion of a gun, and found Captain Middleton in a room on the ground floor, mortally wounded.

There are indications that Major Middleton discharged the gun at his son unwittingly. At all events, it is stated that afterwards he seemed quite unaware of what had happened.

He collapsed and had to be assisted in all his movements.

Major Middleton has been in feeble health, unable to move about much, for a considerable time.

SKYSCRAPER FLATS IDEA FOR LONDON

"Apartment buildings" on the American plan are being seriously considered by the London County Council housing experts as a solution of the slum problem.

As there is not enough room to build the ordinary type of dwelling in the heart of London, plans are in hand for building upwards instead.

Almost every American city of importance has its great "apartment buildings"—skyscrapers converted into flats with express lifts and all the latest conveniences. Some are designed by eminent architects and are classed among the most beautiful buildings in America.

Our own L. C. C.'s nearest to these are the five-storied workmen's dwellings which rise to a height of 80 feet. Buildings now in the experts' minds will be much better and higher.

A close study has been made of the American "apartment buildings," and a full statement will be made to the County Council as soon as possible. A site for an experimental building has been chosen, but, for obvious reasons, the place of the site is being kept private.

ENGLISH BISHOP ON PAGAN GODS

Great Mass of People in Britain Think Religion Useless

CHURCH'S FAILURE

Half Million Lost Communicants in London Diocese Recorded

Is an era of paganism beginning in Britain? "We are faced with a recrudescence of paganism," said the Bishop of Chelmsford at the Islington Clerical Conference in London," and to some extent at least with the failure of the Church..

"The war," he continued, "has changed the whole situation in this country, though it is possible to exaggerate the character of the change. There has settled on the community a profound discontent with things as they are and a restless, inchoate longing to put them right.

"The great mass of the people of this land have either considered and found no use for religion, or they have accepted at the hands of others the notion that it is useless.

"From what they have seen of the churches they are indisposed to think that the help they need is to be found there. The reason for this lies partly in the failure and incapacity of the Church and partly in the materialistic methods in the life of the world.

"Individually and co-operatively we seem to live on the edge of a precipice. A great politician laughs at ideals. A sudden strike or lockout upsets an industry. A girl commits suicide after a dance. All these things are a part of the self-same intricate situation.

"Money is scarce. Unemployment seems to have become permanent. Marriage is a problem — or is postponed. The struggle for existence is fiercer than ever, and the result is immorality, immersion in pleasure, and callous materialism.

"The pagan gods are fighting for their own again, and they seem to be fighting with the odds in their favor."

Prebendary Sharpe declared that in the diocese of London they had been conscious for some time that all was not well with their young people. After an inquiry it was estimated that there were about 440,000 lapsed communicants and experience proved that these had mainly lapsed in their teens.

"There is overwhelming evidence," he added, "that, speaking generally, home influence is not on the side of religion, and that the adolescent youth and maiden receives little help or encouragement from the home.

"The deficiency of young men in the Ministry is very striking. There are few ministers under thirty-five years of age, and the average age of those on the active list is fifty-two years."

BABY THAT WAS REARED ON SHERRY

Tiny Tot Weighed Only One Pound at Birth

Light-weight babies whose records have appeared recently will feel bitterly envious of a Derbyshire infant who is said to have weighed only one pound at birth and to have been reared on sherry.

Mrs. H. Sanders, Mill lane, Belper, near Derby, writes:.

"Having read of a tiny tot (a twin that weighed one and one-half pounds at birth) I feel that I must let you know that I have a boy who will be ten years old in May, who at birth just turned the scales over one pound, and just two pounds when a fortnight old.

"He was not a twin, and was not wrapped in cotton wool, but was reared on sherry. No one gave me any hope of rearing him, but I did not give up, and now we have him as bright and witty as any."

"A Vary Proud Mother" writes:

"My girl was a premature twin, and when the boy died, three weeks old, she weighed two and a half pounds. The doctor said she could not possibly live; in fact, my husband one night thought she was dead. Her arms and thighs were the size of my thumb.... At one year old she weighed 20 pounds. Today, at 18, she weighs 10 st. 8 lb., and is still going strong.

Mrs. Read, of Tarporley, Cheshire, is 100 years old. She has six children, 20 grandchildren, 26 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Drying a letter in front of the fire, Mrs. Kine, aged 73, of Goole, fainted. She fell into the fire and died of burns. Death by misadventure was the verdict at the inquest.

CURIOUS "WANT AD" BROUGHT REPLIES

London Photographer Sought "Gentleman" as Advertising Stunt

COMIC CONCEIT

Etonian Had Good Figure and Belonged to Very Old Family

"Wanted.—Typical English gentleman; young; tall; fair; to pose for photographic advertising."

This advertisement appeared in the personal column of a leading London newspaper and a long leader was promptly written on the subject in the Times.

But what is a gentleman? And, further, what is a typical English gentleman? Some say that a gentleman is one who is entitled to bear arms. The real definition is the proof of "seize quarters." That all your sixteen great-great-grandparents were legally entitled to bear arms. A reporter called on the advertiser, a famous Dover street photographer, to discover the ideal for which he was searching and whether he had found it.

"My ideal," said the photographer, "is some one with blue grey eyes. Tall and fair and clean shaven, with a kink in the hair which he tries to stop but cannot. Not too prominent a chin and not too florid a coloring. With square shoulders and a nice voice. A well-shaped head, a straight nose, good teeth and no sidewhiskers.

PURPLE PAPER.

"We have had the most astonishing applicants," he added. "Look at them."

Yes, they were certainly amazing: on blue, green, yellow, pink, and purple paper. There was a man on the dole in the north who had written and enclosed a photograph—cadaverous as a scarecrow.

"I am English, fair, young, and tall," wrote another, "and have been told that I bear a likeness to the Prince of Wales."

One cautious man from Staffordshire wrote through his solicitor. Some were less modest than others. One letter claimed that the writer had an excellent wardrobe. "Some say I look best in evening dress, others prefer me in plus fours. Myself I think that fawn flannels and a Fair Isle jumper show off my youthful beauty best."

MODEST "O. E."

This is in contrast to a letter from an old Etonian, who wrote, "I had better tell you I have a good figure, and by some people I believe I am supposed to be good looking. I am sorry to tell you these conceited sort of things, but I don't know at all what you need." He prefaced this, however, with the statement that he was a member of one of our oldest families.

"Surely one of these will suit you?" the reported asked the harassed photographer.

"Well," he said, "you know the saying that no man is a hero to his valet. Imagine how hard it must be to look like a gentleman in a vest. I doubt whether any one can. For, to tell you the truth, I inserted the advertisement for a gentleman in order to photograph him in a new type of underwear shortly being put on the market."

SEEK OWNERSHIP OF ART TREASURES

Old Masters Found at Windsor, Ont., Engage Scotland Yard Attention

Scotland-Yard detectives and the French police in Paris are trying to trace the ownership of a number of valuable pictures ,including two Murillos and a Velasques, which have come to light at Windsor, Ontario, in a curious manner.

The pictures are: "The Immaculate Conception" and "Judith," both by Murillo; "Christ Crowned With Thorns," by Velasques; and a number of pictures of old-fashioned ships in full sail.

WITHOUT FRAMES.

They were discovered in a house kept by a German. The pictures were without frames and bore marks which suggested they were taken away from their frames hastily and unskilfully. One of the Murillos was badly cut with a knife. They were all rolled up in their canvas and were otherwise in good condition.

Canadian police were informed locally that the pictures were purchased some years ago at an auction room in London.

Inquiries, however, tend to disprove that statement.

It is possible either that the pictures were stolen from an English country house and their loss has not yet been detected, or that they form part of property seized from the devastated areas in France.

DWARFS' WEDDING ATTRACTS CROWD

Officiating Priest Called Three Times for Silence in Church

Five thousand people flocked to Holy Trinity Church, Weymouth, for the marriage of two dwarfs.

The bride, Miss Eliza Victoria Walbridge, is 3 ft. 2 in. in height, and the bridegroom, Alfred Goodwin, a showman, 3 ft. 7 in.

Their heads did not come up to the altar rails, and hundreds of people in church stood on seats to get a view of them.

The noise became so great that the clergyman performing the ceremony had three times to call for silence.

The bride was dressed in white satin, and the bridegroom wore a frock coat and top hat. They were followed by a page and two bridesmaids.

The crowd held up the traffic, although police attempted to keep the people back.

five from each Province, would be quite sufficient. Ontario and Quebec had come to think of Canada as made up only of themselves.

"What about the West?" asked Col. James Arthurs, Conservative, Parry Sound.

"Sectionalism can only be combatted by sectionalism," replied Mr. Evans. In concluding his speech, he advocated an elective Senate, and hoped that the conference between the Domiion and Provincial Governments respecting Senate reform would meet with success. Until such reform came about the problem of sectionalism would become increasingly acute.

Marler's Adress.

"It may be properly said of almost any country, and particularly of new country like Canada," stated Herbert Marler (Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George), in opening his speech, "that a country's wealth and [illegible] to the extent [illegible] Marine, the increase would [illegible] uation of affairs and not be misled by garbled accounts from party platforms or from a partisan press," he said.

Dominion's Accounts.

In order to ascertain whether or not taxation could be reduced, it was necessary to have some knowledge of our accounts. Mr. Marler gave a statement, excluding railway expenditure, illustrating receipts and disbursements of the Dominion for the fiscal year 1923-1924. Total revenue he placed at $370,208,285, derived almost entirely from taxation. Expenditure he placed at $310,194,598, leaving a baalnce of $60,013,687. Increase in taxation must follow increased expenditure. In 1914 Canada's taaxtion was $128,000-000. In 1924 it was 370,00,000, an increase of $242,000,000. This increase was caused, Mr. Marler said, by an increase of expenditure from $106,000,-000 in 1914 to $310,000,000 in 1924, exclusive in both years of railway expenditure.

Discussing the question of Governmental economy, Mr. Marler stated that "the reduction in controllable expenditure comparing the years 1921 and 1922 with 1923 and 1924, was nearly $62,000,000." Had the present Government not had to disburse amounts for such items as the Canadian Government Mercan-

Tweed Business Men Organize With New Strength—Big Attendance.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

TWEED, Feb. 13.—A printed dodger passed around a few days ago had the effect of drawing a large body of Tweed's business men and others to a meeting of the Board of Trade in the Municipal Hall on Tuesday evening. For a year or more the board had been in a state of coma, but on the President, C. H. Kerr, issuing this dodger, new life has been interjected and the board starts afresh with a paid-up membership to date of 37.

At 8.15 C. H. Kerr took the chair, stating he had issued a dodger announcing the meeting. He was surprised and pleased to see the large attendance of villagers. During the past year there has been nothing of interest to bring before the board, consequently meetings had not been held.

On motion of Wm. O'Keefe, seconded by Reeve Rollins, F. A. Bartlett was asked to fill the duties of secretary pending the election of officers.

In order to have the privilege of voting, it was necessary for members and others who desired to become members to pay the fee. At the present time the paid-up membership is 37. Wm. O'Keefe acted as cashier.

Election of Officers.

For president, W. S. Gordon proposed, and Wm. O'Keefe seconded the nomination of S. G. Way. There being no further nominations, Mr. Way was declared elected.

For vice-president, Wm. O'Keefe was nominated; S. G. Way being proposer, while John Sager seconded. Others were nominated, but all declined, leaving Mr. O'Keefe duly elected.

LEADERS' CLASS SOCIAL EVENING

Dancing and Programme of Music Proved Very Entertaining.

SOCIAL NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The Leaders' Class of Christ Church held another social evening Thursday night in the Parish Hall. There was a good attendance from Christ Church and also other guests. A good programme was given and there was dancing both before and after the programme, which was as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss H. Bonnycastle.
Piano solo—Miss Cherrie Turner.
Guitar selection—Mr. D. Hutton and Mr. Sarginson.
Vocal solo—Miss H. Atkinson.
Piano solo—Miss Isabel Bygott.

Lunch was served, after which Mr. John Storie sang two comic songs.

Rev. G. C. Clarke, the rector, gave a short address.

The orchestra, Mrs. F. Daly, Messrs. L. Clegg and G. Frederick, played for the dancing. Mr. Pearson also assisted.

A pleasing feature during the evening was the presentation of a bouquet of carnations to Mrs. Burling. Mrs. Burling has always in so many ways been a great help to the class, and as this was her birthday, they took this opportunity of showing their appreciation of her great kindness and helpfulness to them.

Is Delegate.

Mr. W. I. Stillman, Rear Street, has been appointed delegate to the meeting of the Grand Council from Truth Council No. 202 of the Royal Templars at Campbellford. This Council is held in Toronto February 24.

Personal.

Mrs. H. A. Bambrick and son, Harry, who for the past three months have been visiting relatives in Campbellford, left on Thursday, February 12th, to return to her home in Cobalt. On her way she will stop at Detroit and spend a week there before going on.

Mr. and Mrs. James Small, Ranney Street, left on Wednesday for Cardinal, where they will spend [illegible] with their daughter, Mrs.

RESIGNATION LAID OVER UNTIL MARCH

Presbytery Meets in Campbellford and Discusses Union Ministers' Position.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The Presbytery held a meeting in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday afternoon, when the following ministers were present: Rev. F. W. Andrews, of Port Hope, Moderator; Rev. W. A. Bremner, Cobourg; Rev. J. S. Ferguson, Baltimore; Rev. G. S. Girvan, Millbrook; Rev. A. H. McConnachie, Centreville; Rev. G. I. Craw, Springville; Rev. J. W. Gordon and Rev. M. C. Mackinnon, of Peterboro; Rev. P. C. Jull, Lakefield; Rev. T. M. Wesley, Norwood; Rev. D. A. Thompson, secretary, Hastings; Rev. G. S. Hammond, Warkworth; Rev. C. F. McIntosh, Campbellford.

The following elders were also present: Messrs. Cameron, Cobourg; Benson and Dutton, Peterboro; Dick, Warkworth, and A. H. McKelvie, Campbellford.

There was also a delegation from Warkworth, relative to the resignation of Rev. G. S. Hammond, as follows: Messrs. Black, Carlaw, Dick, Osborne, Wilson and Weatherson.

The delegation from Campbellford relative to the resignation of Rev. C. F. McIntosh was composed of Messrs. I. A. Anderson, Jas. Allan, W. W. Clarke, Dr. H. B. Longmore, Dr. G. A. Hay and D. W. Douglas.

The resignations were read and the delegations heard regarding these.

have a good time. He did not grudge the Prince the trip, but it would be a standing disgrace to spend money for the trip while thousands were on the borderline of subsistence.

The amount estimated as necessary for the Prince's trip is £15,000.

Kirkwood's Request.

Mr. Kirkwood proceeded with a rather rambling complaint that on the occasion of one of the Prince's visits to Glasgow, he declined an invitation that Mr. Kirkwood, as councillor, sent him to come and dine with others in a Glasgow tenement where they "could talk to him about those parts of the city they were desirous he should see." (This was an allusion to the notorious Clyde slum scandals).

Mr. Kirkwood continued that he still extended that invitation to the Prince to come, and see places and conditions such as he would not see either among the Aborigines of Africa or Australia, nor in Argentina, but among the working folk of West Scotland.

A point of order was raised from the Conservative benches asking what this had to do with the Prince's tour.

John Wheatley, Labor member for Glasgow, intervened in support of his Scottish colleague, who he said was entitled to show there were better ways of spending the public money and educating the Prince of Wales than sending him to Argentina. The chairman, remarking he understood Mr. Kirkwood's argument to be that, he thought the vote should not be given until the Prince was invited to parts of his own country said the member was entitled to express this, but not in such detail.

Sorry for Prince.

Mr. Kirkwood, saying he had given the Prince, for whom he was rather sorry, an invitation to visit the locality he had mentioned continued:

"Here you are trotting him all over the world, making a clown of him and taking him on show."

This caused bursts of laughter and cries of "Shame."

The chairman intervened exhorting the member to keep nearer to his subject.

Mr. Kirkwood then dilated upon what he characterized as extravagance. He said the £15,000 mentioned in the vote was a mere bagatelle, since the real cost of the tour [illegible] defrayed from the navy [illegible] going on

PETES PLAYING BEST HOCKEY OF SEASON TIED GREYHOUNDS 6 TO 6

Overtook Three Goal Lead in Final Period—Were Splendidly Treated.

POPULAR IN SOO.

Parker, McLeod and Bailey Each Scored Two Goals in Memorable Game.

SAULT STE. MARIE Feb. 12.—(Special to the Examiner).—Peterboro and the Soo Greyhounds played to the tie of six-six here last night in the fastest game of hockey seen on local ice this winter. The full sixty minutes was packed with thrills and both teams dished out championship hockey.

The Petes came out from behind a three goal lead in the last period and McLeod evened the score two minutes before the final bell on a pass out from Rose. Parker registered two goals for the Petes, McLeod two, and Bailey two. For the Soo Lessard tallied two, Woodruff one, Donnelly two, and Campbell one.

The Hounds got away in the first period and before the Petes realized it three goals were notched against them. The Petes scored two goals in the second period and the Greyhounds scored the same.

Championship Form.

The last period will long be remembered in the Sault. With three goals behind the Petes came out on the ice more determined than ever. Every man played as if a championship was at stake and, showering Walsh with shots came through with four goals and tied the game.

The ice was fast, giving both teams the chance to show their speed. There was very little difference between the two teams tonight. The Sault showed better team play, the Petes playing the boards too frequently and lacking in combination work.

Thirty seconds after the game opened "Gloomy" Lessard scored for the Soo on a rebound. Parker, Bailey, Rose and Collins went down on a pretty combination rush, but Walsh cleared. Donnelly scored the second goal for the Soo in 17 minutes on a pass from Lessard and the "Babe" made the score 3 to 0 for the Hounds two minutes later, when he worked his way through the Peterboro defence.

McLeod Shows Class.

Parker registered the first tally for the Petes two minutes after the second period opened on a pass from Ranger. Three minutes later McLeod took the puck at his own end stickhandled his way through the whole Soo team, drew "Flat" Walsh out of the net and scored. It was a great goal, the result of heady playing and the Sault fans rose as one in a mighty cheer.

Lessard scored for the Soo two minutes later on a pass from Campbell. Rose got right in on the net but overskated the puck. Woodruff slipped the gypsum past Dwyer for the Soo's fifth goal eight minutes later, on a pass from Donnelly.

Bailey started the scoring for the Petes in the third period. It was the prettiest goal seen in the Soo this winter. Stickhandling his way alone through Lessard, Campbell, Donnelly and Brown, he shot the rubber past Walsh landing in a heap in the net. Campbell batted the puck into the Peterboro hemp ten minutes later on a pass from Donnelly for the Soo's last goal.

Bailey came through for a goal five minutes later when he batted the Gutta Percha in the Sault net from the face off in front of Sault net.

Parker scored on a shot outside the defence, six minutes later, that caught Walsh off his guard, and McLeod evened the score three minutes later in a pass from Rose.

Petes' Best Game.

In the judgment of the Peterboro management, the Petes played their best game of the season last night, every player worked in perfect harmony with his mate and it was through their aggressive playing in the last period that they were able to even the score.

The Greyhounds entered the fray without Bill Phillips, who is laid up with a cold and his stellar backchecking was greatly missed by the Allan Cup holders.

Burgess was a great favorite with the crowd. He drew a big hand whenever he appeared on the ice.

Burke drew the only penalty of the game for tripping Bailey. Stan Brown played his best game of the season. He was like a flash as he went down the ice, feeding the forwards perfect passes.

Petes Popular.

As in Tuesday night's game both goal tenders put in good games. Two thousand enthusiastic fans packed the arena rink and the Peterboro boys were just as popular with the Sault fans as their own admired Greyhounds.

Captain Dwyer stated that his team received, in the Sault, the best treatment they ever received.

Yesterday afternoon the boys were taken through the steel plant and the paper mill and some of the players visited Sault, Michigan.

The team left immediately after the game on a special for Hamilton where they will play Friday night before returning home.

The line up:

Peterboro—Goal, Dwyer; defence, Parker, McLeod; centre, Collins; left wing, Rose; right wing, Bailey; subs, Ranger, Burgess and Foley.

Sault Ste. Marie—Goal, Walsh; defence, Donnelly, Brown; centre, Campbell; right wing, Woodruff; left wing, Lessard; subs., Burke, Peterman.

Referee—Chisholm, Soo.

CAMPBELLFORD HIGH SCHOOL WON DISTRICT

Defeated Belleville 5-1 at Trenton in Slushy Game.

CAMPBELLFORD. Feb. 12.—Campbellford High School team splashed their way to the championship of the Belleville, Deseronto, Campbellford group of the Interscholastic Hockey League by defeating Belleville 5 to 1 at Trenton Tuesday night.

The ice was covered with water in places, and as a result good hockey was out of the question, but the local youngsters left no doubt as to which was the better team.

Red. Townsend, the Belleville ace, was on his bad behaviour, and spent 15 of the 60 minutes with the penalty timers and when he was on the ice, Basil Reynolds checked him so effectually, he was never very dangerous.

The rest of the boys gave all they had to bring honor to their school and town. Ross Burt refereed in his usual efficient manner.

Campbellford will not play Trenton in the next round home and home games, the first in Trenton Friday, weather permitting.

Line-Up.

Belleville.—Goal, Collings; left defence, Cole; right defence, Hurley; centre, Ross; left wing, Galloway; right wing, Townsend. Subs., Grey and Katcheson.

Referee, Ross Burt, Trenton.

THE CALL HIM "HANDS"

This Prep School Star Picks Up Pair of Basketballs at Same Time.

MATT WALKER

Presenting "Hands" Walker, 17-year-old guard on the Bruceville (Ind.) high school quintet, who picks up at one time two stranded basketballs, holding them at arms' length with ease. Long fingers and a strong grip of each hand makes the unique feat possible.

Walker, obviously is especially adept at the court pastime, for the size of his hands enables him to handle the spheroid with the dexterity of a pitcher carressing a baseball. He grabs all kinds of passes with either hand and ranks as one of the greatest players the school has had in many seasons.

CANADIENS TRIM OTTAWA SENATORS

Worst Defeat in Many Years Administered to Visitors —10 to 3.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12—(Canadian Press).—Canadiens administered the worst defeat suffered by Ottawa Senators in many years when they took last night's important national hockey league fixture 10 to 3. Starting with a rush, Canadiens literally swamped the Senators, scoring six goals in the first period without a reply and in the latter two periods held the edge throughout. Their speed simply bewildered the Ottawa defense. Joliet and Morenz were all over and could not be held in check. With Billy Boucher they each counted three goals, Matz getting the other. Mantha replaced Sprague Cleghorn on Canadiens defence and turned in a clever game. Clancy was sadly missed off the Ottawa defence.

HAMILTON WON.

Soft Ice Kept the Line-ups Changing—Score Was Three to Two.

HAMILTON, Feb. 12. —(Canadian Press). Handicappedby loss of Billy Burch and Dunc. Munro, Hamilton and Montreal battled strenuously to a 3 to 2 decison here last night with the league leading terrors having the one goal margin on the right side of ledger. The game was fairly fast and provided many thrills despite close checking that featured the first two periods.

Both teams were forced to make many substitutions, owing to soft ice. Shorty Green and Forbes were outstanding men for the locals. The former scoring two goals, while the rest of team played a strong game. Benedict never was better while Gerald Munro scientillated. Eleven penalties were handed out Broadbent and Spring getting five minute ones.

BUSY SELLING SCOTLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(Associated Press).—During the past six years one-third of Scotland has changed hands through the real estate market. Last year was the poorest since the war; only 300,000 acres were sold as compared with 900,000 acres in 1923.

Since the wholesale disposal of Scottish lands began immediately after the armistice, about 6,500,000 acres have passed into new owner-

ROADS ARE BAD.

KEENE, Feb. 12.—A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chapman, on Tuesday night by the Y. P. A. club. About seventy-five guests attended and passed the time dancing, cardplaying and games until twelve o'clock when everybody partook of a dainty repast, after which there was dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter are leaving for Long Point this week, where they will assist in the operation of a farm there.

Owing to the mild weather there has been no curling or skating. during the past few days.

The farmers are busy drawing out their wheat while the prices are good. Prices ranged from $1.75 to $1.92, according to quality. Buyers from Campbellford are loading cars at Keene station.

Invite Pastor to Remain.

Rev. Andrew McLauchlin has been invited to remain for another year as pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. Charlie Nelson had the misfortune to have a fork run into his foot. Mr. Nelson has been unable to do anything during the past few days.

Owing to the bad roads Mr. M. McCarthy and Ivan Fletcher upset with a load of straw.

The roads are cutting up very bad and anybody leaving the track is liable to go nearly out of sight.

Coming Events.

A. St. Valetnine's dance will be held in Lang town hall on Friday evening. Crowe's five-piece Hawaiian orchestra will provide the music.

The Young People's meeting will be held in the Methodist church on Friday evening at 7.30.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Howson on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. After the business meeting a ten cent supper will be served.

BELGIANS TO VOTE APRIL 5.

Deadlock on Woman Suffrage Forces Dissolution.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 12.—The Government will dissolve the Belgian Parliament at the end of the present month and hold elections for the new body April 5.

A deadlock among the parties upon the question of woman suffrage in provincial elections is the reason for the dissolution, which will take place about a month previous to the expiration of the terms of the members.

The Catholic Deputies, allied with twenty-one dissident Socialists, favor granting the suffrage, while the Liberals and the bulk of the Socialists are opposed.

THRILLING DOG DERBY.

Ike Mills Leading After 43 Miles of Hard Going in Snow.

BANFF, Alta., Feb. 12 (Special to The Examiner).—After covering the first forty-three miles of the Calgary to Banff dog Derby for the Strongheart Cup in five hours and twenty-nine minutes, the mushers are today battling their way westward across the Rockies through six feet of virgin snow, with Ike Mills leading three quarters of a minute ahead of Harry Knight.

The five competing teams left Canmore in the foothills at 8.45 this morning and are expected to reach Banff some time this afternoon, after treading up and down forty-four miles of the most lofty and thrilling mountain course ever attempted by a dog team.

The winner will be awarded the $500 Strongheart Cup given by Mr. Trimble, owner of the famous movie dog.

C., Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press).— Vancouver extended a royal welcome to the New Zealand All Blacks on the arrival here from Banff of this fine aggregation of huskey ruggers, the city band blared out the familiar strains of "Hail, hail, the gangs all here" cheering crowds lined the streets and thronged the Canadian Pacific depot to catch a glimpse of the long heralded Anzacs who will meet a picked squad of Vancouver players here on Saturday afternoon.

CHANGE ALLEN CUP?

Play-off May be in Ottawa This Year—Vote by Telegraph.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—A change of venue in the Allen Cup play-off this spring is probable, according to officials of the Canadian Amateur Association. The executive of that body will express its view on the question by telegraph vote, and if endorsed, the finals will be played in Ottawa.

ANOTHER REMAND

Young Man Charged With Vagrancy; Gave Trouble to Relatives.

One case was called in the police court this morning, that of the young woman charged with vagrancy, whose case was enlarged last week until this morning. On this charge she was again remanded for a week, this time to jail.

A charge of insanity, which was suspended on the first hearing after an examination by two local doctors, was again laid this morning, and Magistrate Langley appointed two other physicians, Drs. Cameron and Hewett, to re-examine the girl as to her mental condition. Her actions during the past week, while she was in the custody of her brother and his wife, were such as to cause them to refuse to look after her again.

Crown Attorney Hatton and Mr. J. A. O'Brien appeared in connection with the case.

BUFFALO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—Paavo Nurmi to-night will attempt to shatter two more world's track records. In a special 1¼-mile race the phantom Finn will try for marks both at 1¼ mile distance and at the 1,500 metres.

Since his arrival in Buffalo early yesterday, Nurmi has been almost constantly at the Armory, where the meet is to be held, and has spent much of his time on the boards.

MUNN WON EASILY.

Defeated Zbysko in Straight Falls Last Night.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—Wyane "Big" Munn defeated Stanislaus Zbyszko easily in straight falls last night in his first defence of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

The ease of his victory lent further impression to the Kansas City idea that Munn will be the real champion, although but small doubt was entertained after Munn recently defeated "Strangler" Lewis in a match here.

Munn took his first fall in 16.40 and the second in 12.45, using the crotch and body hold each time.

STRENGTHEN O.T.A. SAYS ASSOCIATION

East Northumberland Asks Member to Stand Firm on Act.

WARKWORTH, Feb. 12.—At a representative and well attended mass meeting of the temperance workers of East Northumberland, held in Warkworth town hall on Tuesday, a resolution was passed commending the stand taken by Hon. Howard Ferguson, Premier, and Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney General, on the O.T.A., and promising them undivided support in the enforcement of the act and urging that itis weak points be strengthened and asking that nothing be done that would in any way destroy its prohibitory powers.

Also a resolution requesting the riding representataive in caucus and on the floor of the house to stand firm behind the O.T.A. An organization was effected in each township for temperance propaganda work, and the following officers were chosen for the riding. President, B. C. H. Backer, Brighton; first vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Harper, Warkworth; secretary, Roy Bird, Brighton; Treasurer, John Irwin, Campbellford.

Text of Resolution.

We, the representatives from the various muncipalities of East Northumberland, assembled in a mass meeting in the town hall, Warkworth, do hereby place ourselves on record as affirming our profound confidence in the O.T.A. We are cognizant of its weak points and hope that ultimately these will be strengthened, we believe, however, that the benefits derived from the Act have exceeded the hopes of its bealous advocates and that its influences have effected even the most degraded conditions of life with wonderful results. The whole moral tone of many families has been changed; poverty has been replaced by prosperity and comfort which has been evidenced in the increase in savings accounts, merchants testify to the more prompt payment of bills. Children once ragged and hungry are now clothed and fed, and given greater school privileges.

Fathers degraded by liquor have become splendid citizens since the temptation was removed.

We further declare our loyalty to the cause of temperance and pledge our support with our ballots to the government in the enforcement of the law and we are ready to assist them in carrying out a programme of education.

Further we commend the action of Premier Ferguson and the Attorney General for their courage in the past and the fearless stand they are taking today in the face of the strong opposition that is being brought to bear by the liquor interests in an organized attempt to break down the straight-forward and clear cut policy agreed upon by the Premier in conference with the representataives from the Prohibition Union.

Strong Soccer Team For University of Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—Announcement is made today that the University of Toronto Soccer Club will put a strong team up to contest the honors of the season in the Canadian Football Association. It is stated that if the C.F.A. does not operate the Varsity team will not go to the Toronto and District Association Under what auspices the team will play in that eventuality is not given out

W.E.N. SINCLAIR MAY MOVE AMENDMENT

Will Be on Proposal to Increase the Strength of Ontario Beer.

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—There will be an amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne in the Legislature this afternoon, but whether it is coming from Liberals or Progressives is still a matter for speculation. Liberals have first chance, as W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, continues the debate when the House opens at 3 o'clock. If he moves an amendment then, by all precedent, the Progressives are debarred from moving another.

The amendment will be on the proposed Ontario Temperance Act amendment, increasing the strength of beer. There are two lines of amendment open. The one is that amendments shall definitely state that the present two and one-half per cent. beer be maintained, and the other is an amendment voicing criticism of the Premier and govcrnment for what has been alleged is a breach of promise that the government would strengthen the Act.

This afternoon will be taken up with the speeches of Opposition group leaders. It is not likely that Premier Ferguson will follow immediately. Peter Heenan (Labor) will probably come after Mr. Raney and then there will be few private members before the Premier or one of his chief lieutenants follow.

BOXING CLASSES START.

Instructor Jones Is Making Ready For Ontario Championships.

Boxing Instructor Wilfred Jones of the P. A. A. A., is making preparation for the Ontario Championship bouts to be held shortly and will resume his boxing classes immediately. All the mitt pushers who contemplate entering the Provincial bouts should get in touch with Mr. Jones right away as he is anxious to get a good class going.

DAYLIGHT HOLD-UP IN NEW YORK CITY

Robbers Get Clear With Express Truck and From $15,000 to $18,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (Canadian Press).—An American Express railroad truck containing merchandise estimated to be worth between $15,000 and $18,000 was stolen in a holdup here today.

A touring car crowded the truck to the curb, and four men in the machine forced John Kirk and Edward Harrington, manning the truck, and J. L. Lusk, an express messenger, to get into the touring car. The fifth man then drove the truck away.

2 GUNMEN HOLD UP CIGAR STORE CLERK

Third of Same Chain of Stores Robbed Within a Month.

TORONTO, Feb 12 (Canadian Press).—Two gunmen enered a cigar store in the Danforth district last night, pointed automatics at Clerk Walter Harman, ordered him to lie down on the floor, rifled the cash register of $25 and then got clear away.

This is the third of the same chain of cigar stores in this that has been robbed within a month.

THE DEPTHS.

By ALICE ROHE

(Written by the United Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.— Aside from being psychologically untrue, the main trouble with 'The Depths' is that it isn't by any means a play worthy of Jane Cowl.

So far as the falseness of the play is concerned, however, I can mention half a dozen plays enjoying a settled success on Broadway that are based upon psychological improbabilities so much more glaring than "The Depths" as to make this realistic by comparison.

The play, if it offers little else, does give opportunity to meditate upon the casualness of both public and playwrights when it comes to psychology. Realism to many means a couple of sordid sets, a little profanity, a little tragedy—and there you are.

In "The Depths" we have the story of a prostitute. Like Camille or Sappho, or Manon, or any of them, she falls in love has noble impulses of reform, but falls again. Now in "The Depths" there isn't a single event that couldn't have happened—the thing is that none of them would have happened for the reason given. For instance, the author, Hans Mueller, works entirely upon the basis that these women of the street regard their profession as the gay life. They are motivated by Eros and a one hundred per cent Eros at that. Whereas the youngest cub reporter or social worker knows that these unfortunates worship at the shrine of Mercury, God of trade rather than of Eros.

With all its faults, however, "The Depths" doesn't impress me as unfavorably as it did many of the New York critics. The play is quite inadequate to the talents of Jane Cowl, but there are flashes of interest which sustain it to its tragic end. It's a strange vehicle, however, for this beautiful and gifted actress to choose, especially as Jane Cowl is one of the best read and the most studious and scholarly of the young women of the stage.

Why can't she see the improbabilities which weaken the realism of this play? Rolo Peters is the young musician who takes this girl of the streets to live on the floor above his own mother a strange arrangement even for Vienna, one would think.

There are two excellent performances by Marion Evensen and Edith Van Cleve as the companion of Anna—Jane Cowl. In plays dealing with this subject it is a very commendable idea to prove something—even a sentimental point—but "The Depths," based upon false premises doesn't quite convince one of the tragic denoument—the suicide of Anna, rather than bring a child into the world to follow in her steps.

Cheer up. When all the neighbors buy automobiles you can get a seat on a street car.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

MANY SCREEN STARS IN "RACING FOR LIFE."

When "Racing For Life" comes to the Grand Theatre for a three-day engagement beginning next Monday motion picture fans will have the opportunity to see many favorite screen stars in a mile a minute speed action drama that will thrill them from beginning to end.

The story depicts the trials and tribulations of a God-fearing and honest citizens in a rural community as a result of an indolent and cowardly bully who is masked in sheep's clothes. Some real honest-to-goodness scrapping takes place, free-for-alls that will hold you to your seats every minute.

The big race for the speed championship is a spirit affair where the cars whiz by as if speeding from impending doom. In overcoming Ralph De Palma, veteran speed king, and one named Murray, a double-crosser who is a daredevil in his own way, the hero not only becomes champion speed king but rids the community of a bunch of undesirable roughnecks.

Eva Novak and William Fairbanks play the leading roles. In the supporting cast are such able screen players as Philo McCullough, Wilfred Lucas, little Frankie Darro and a host of others.

Also three of the best double vaudeville acts direct from Detroit.

AT THE CAPITOL

ALL-STAR CAST IN PARAMOUNT VERSION OF "NORTH OF 36."

Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson and Noah Beery Featured.

When a motion picture company assembles four of its biggest box office stars for one production it can mean only one thing—that that company has faith in the story and believes it has public appeal.

Just such a thing has been done for the Paramount production, "North of 36," produced by Irvin Willat, which will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

Jack Holt, as Dan McMasters, plays a role that will hold one enthralled, the role of a stern and fearless man—yet beneath the surface possessing the gentle qualities that go to make him beloved by all.

Ernest Torrence, scout of "The Covered Wagon," has fully as interesting a part in this picture. As Jim Nabours, ranch foreman, he is given an opportunity for a characterization entirely different and far superior to anything he has done in his entire career.

Lois Wilson, as the orphaned ranch-owner, Taisie Lockhart, offers a characterization that is a combination of sincerity, loveliness, determination and grit.

Noah Beery, playing Sim Rudabaugh, the villainous state treasurer, is a type exact in every detail.

All the above mentioned appear in featured roles in the production. A few of the big names playing in support include David Dunbar, Stephen Carr, Guy Oliver, Wm. Carroll, Clarence Geldart, George Irving and Ella Miller.

The picture is an adaptation by James Hamilton of the popular novel by the late Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon."

FAMILY NIGHT.

Tonight sees the commencement of what will probably be a very popular innovation at the Capitol Theatre, in "Family Night." When the father and mother of a family purchase tickets at the local playhouse this evening, they are privileged to bring the children in free. A gentleman who has a real old-fashioned "quiver-full" announces his intention of bringing all the round dozen of children along with him, but the Capitol do not anticipate many demands of this nature in Peterboro. However, all parents with children will receive a warm welcome this evening, and the whole lot may get in for the price of the adults' admission tickets. Bring the boys and girls along and have a real family theatre party, for "North of 36," companion picture to "The Covered Wagon."

AT THE REGENT

TOM MIX RETURNS IN HIS BIGGEST FILM AND SCORES BIGGEST TRIUMPH.

There probably will never be any story-book character more apealing —especially to the feminie mind — than a good bad man a beloved outlaw, a generous bandit. For that reason, if for no other, "The Deadwood Coach," the William Fox production, which opened on Wednesday night at the Regent Theatre is destined to be popular.

This story is adapted from the famous stage play, "The Orphan," and Tom Mix on Tony, rides triumphantly through scene after scene filled with hair-raising incident with all the gay abandon of his old time films.

There has been some attempt of late to make a kid-glove hero of the virile Mr. Mix. Somebody discovered that he could wear a tuxedo and spats with quite as much case as he could wear chaps and sombrero, and sought to cash in on the phenomenon. It didn't work. Or, at least, it didn't work with the real Mix fans. From an impersonal point of view, it may be interesting to note the versatility of one's favrite hero. But Tom Mix long ago enthroned himself in the hearts of his audience, as king of all cowboys; and that audience knows that a real cowboy doesn't take kindly to a "boiled" collar.

So Mix is back again on Tony, riding hard, shooting straight and leaping from crag to crag to make fast and the pulses thrill.

Mix is back again in the old role

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 40c and 75c, at all druggists. The Musterole Co. of Canada, Ltd., Montreal.

AT THE ROYAL. SPECIAL DIRECT WIRE AT ROYAL TO-MORROW NIGHT FOR GAME IN HAMILTON.

All the details of the game tomorrow night at Hamilton will be given out at the Royal. A special direct wire has been installed and a running story of the game, with all details and side issues. No admission prices over 25c will be charged. This is one of the real important games and the next best thing to seeing it in person will be to root for the boys at the Royal to-morrow night.

"GREATER THAN MARRIAGE" AT THE ROYAL TO-NIGHT.

Louis Joseph Vance, author of "Joan Thursday," the novel from which Victor Hugo Halperin's "Greater than Marriage," which will be shown at the Royal to-night, was adapted, is one of the popular authors of the day He has to his credit such popular novels as "Mrs. Paramoor," "The Lone Wolf," "Tannehil," and "The Brass Bowl." He was born in Washington and in ten years of literary career had won the enviable distinction of putting on the market eighteen popular novels in addition to a number of short stories, verses and serials which were published in the periodicals.

Unlike many authors, Mr. Vance does not confine himself to one type of fiction. His novels cover a wide range of subjects and character studies varying from stories of the the stage like "Greater than Marriage," to such works as "The Lone Wolf,' and "No Man's Land."

The story of "Greater than Marriage" tells of a girl who craves a career upon the stage and is driven from home because of her ambition. She makes good upon the stage and then marries but the old desire to appear before the footlights returns to her and she is forced to choose between her husband and her art.

The cast is headed by Marjorie Daw, Lou Tellegen, Peggy Kelly, Tyrone Power, Mary Thurman, Gadmar Godowsky Raymond Bloomer and Effie Shannon.

ANDY GUMP IS BACK.

The Andy Gump laugh provokers, which have made quite a name for themselves at the Royal, are always welcome and patrons will be pleased to know that another of the series is being added to to-day's programme.

COOLIDGE RIDES A HOBBY HORSE

And All Washington is Agog Over U. S. President's Mechanical Exercise.

CANTER OR TROT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—United States' capital is agog to-day over the disclosure that President Coolidge has been riding a hobby horse for several months. It is an electrically vitalized steed that canters, trots, and bucks without endangering the neck of the rider.

The President's real horse is living a life of ease at the White House stables, while Mr. Coolidge takes his exercise mechanically, riding the electric horse three times a day—morning, noon and night. It has no head or tail, just a body, astride of which the President sits holding the reins attached to the front of the machine, and with his feet encased in stirrups. The horse has gears instead of gaits. By shifting them the President can get an exact imitation of either canter or trot.

Just when the mechanical horse was brought to the White House is a mystery known to only the president and his confidential friends. His reason for riding it instead of a real horse is said to be because he is the victim of horse fever, a malady akin to hay fever The victim's nostrils become inflamed whenever he comes within range of the aura of a horse."

MISSION SOCIETY MEETS AT WARSAW

Interesting Session Held By Methodist Church Ladies —News of District.

WARSAW, February 12. — The Methodist Missionary Society held its regular meeting when the ladies brought their extra dollar and told how they earned it. One had raised turkeys, another chickens, another swept the store, others just saved it out of the money they got for butter, eggs or in other ways.

Mrs. Robert Moore read the chapter on "Prove all Things," which dealt largely with reverence to parents and ancestor worship among the Chinese.

Mr. Richard Batten and Mrs. Arthur Edwards read some of the leaflets bearing on marriage and burial ceremonies.

The quarterly Sunday School officers' meeting was held on Thursday evening.

The Union service on Sunday evening was largely attended.

Winter Work.

The sawing gangs are at work. Franklin Jory has had his outfit going in North Dummer for some weeks and will be in Warsaw by the end of the week.

Another sawing gang is at work already near Warsaw.

The thaw has striped the fields fairly bare of snow in many places.

The water is welcome for cisterns and wells were low if not dry.

The boundary was opened on Tuesday. The east and west roads have not been very bad but the north and south roads have been greatly drifted. There have not been any good roads for the snow was so powdery it would not pack and now sleighing is difficult.

The young people hope to have a permanent skating rink another year and there are two sites that are being considered.

Valuable Dog Shot.

On Tuesday morning some one shot James Robertson's hound fatally. As well as being a hunter, the dog had been trained to harness. Some one seems to have a spite at good dogs, as many have been poisoned, some almost at the owners' doors.

Successful Violinist.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Choate have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Julia Choate Graham, Rosetown, Sask., has done exceedingly well with her violin pupils. Three of them won silver medals in their class, among pupils from all over the Dominion, and another won a $300 violin in his class; his competitors also were from all Canada. Mrs. Graham's success is good news to those who remember how hard she worked for her lessons when a young girl at home. Wild and stormy winter days, when, others did not care to venture out, she bravely made the trip to Peterboro for her lessons.

Didn't Want Them.

Ralph Wasson and Clayton Dunford were among some young men who thought to get work in the United States. They got no further than Detroit, and were told to go home and stay there until they were sent for.

Miss Edith Tucker, who trained in the Nicholls Hospital Training School, Peterboro, is gone to New York. She is in the surgical department of the Knickerbocker Hospital.

Archie Crowe expects to be out of the hospital next Tuesday.

Miss Lillian Armstrong, who has been for some years past a valued member of The Examiner printing staff, leaves this week for Los Angeles, California, where she will make her home in future. Miss Armstrong was presented by The Examiner's employees with a beaded bag and address.

After the final performance of "Dumb Dora" at the Capitol Theatre last evening, Manager Crowe kindly allowed the cast to entertain their friends, to the number of about forty, at a dance on the stage.

Mrs. James B. Doran (nee Mary Killen, of Lindsay), held her post-nuptial reception yesterday afternoon, at her home, 608 Walkerfield avenue. Despite the very inclement weather, there was a good attendance. Mrs. Doran was gowned in her wedding dress, a handsome creation of white kittens' ear crepe, trimmed with French lace and pearls, with shoulder train of crepe lined with pink georgette and bouquet of ophelia roses. Miss Eleanor Morrow assisted in the living room, which was decorated with spring flowers, and Mrs. Leo Rogers, of Lindsay, ushered the guests into the tea room, where the table, presided over by Mrs. W. R. Widdess, was prettily arranged with Venetian point lace and Italian cut work, and centred with daffodils. Assistants in the tea room were Mrs. T. Power and Miss Annie Killen of Lindsay, and little Grace McCannan officiated at the door.

SPRING TAILLEUR.

Here is one of the smartest of spring tailleurs consisting of a dress of figured silk with a pleated apron and a coat of tan silk lined with the same silk as the frock. The lines are long and straight, there is that air of quiet distinction that marks the loveiest spring models.

FINDS GERM KILLER SAFE TO SWALLOW

Dr. Leonard of Johns Hopkins Reports Antiseptic 50 Times as Strong as Carbolic Acid.

BALTIMORE, Md. Feb. 12. — Ever since the germ theory of disease was announced it has been the dream of medical men to discover some universal germicide, which taken internally, would destroy all the disease germs in the body, leaving the man himself uninjured and "sterile."

Chiefly as the result of the work of Dr. Veador Leonard of the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health there has been developed a germicide, said to be twice as powerful as any other organic germicide ever made which is not only harmless to man when taken internally, but it has already been demonstrated will kill practically all the disease germs which may be present in the kidneys or urinary tract. Whether it has also the power to kill disease germs in any other portion of the body is not yet scientifically demonstrated, at least, Dr. Leonard and his associates are not yet ready to make any announcement on the subject and they decline to make any predictions.

This work of finding a germicide fatal to disease germs and at the same time harmless to man was begun more than 10 years ago by Dr. Leonard in co-operation with Dr Treat D. Johnson, Professor of Organis Chemistry at Yale. More recently, after the research work had shown some astonishing results, the National Research Council appointed a special committee on "internal antisepsis" the members of which undertook to test and determine the remedial qualities of the new germicide and others of the same character.

In hunting for the desired germicide Dr Leonard had made and tested a large number of compounds. Success finally came while working with chemical compounds somewhat remotely akin to carbolic acid. That acid will, of course, kill any germ with which it comes into contact. It will equally kill the man who swallows it. By slight changes in the molecule the acid becomes the more or less familiar resorcinol, which is also poisonous. From that compound the new germicide has been actually evolved.

Large pearl beads are be coming more popular, perhaps because they may be picked up more easily in the bottom of an auto.

ANNUAL MEETING OF POULTRY MEN

James Ellis Is Again President—Presentation to Fred Holmes.

Fred Holmes, seventeen years a member of Peterborough Poultry Association was last night presented with a solid silver tray, suitably incribed. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Association and the presentation was made by President James Ellis. Mr. Holmes is a past president.

There were present last night seven charter members who have not missed an annual meeting in 17 years. Reports presented showed a healthy condition of finances and membership, and the account of the January show was particularly encouraging. 1,100 entries having been made. George Paxman, the energetic superintendent, was highly praised for the large part of the work that was done by him.

The following officers were elected by acclamation:

President, J. Ellis; first vice-president, H. Lucas; second vice-president J. Moncrief; secretary, W. Nesbitt. After several nominees had refused the position of treasurer George Paxman stepped into the breach and was appointed. The secretary's salary was increased to compensate for the extra work entailed by the growth of the association.

LIBERALS' AMENDMENT AFFIRMS FERGUSON HAS BROKEN PLEDGE

Direct Violation of Covenant to People, Says W. E. N. Sinclair on O.T.A.

QUOTES PROMISES.

Premier Promises Commission to Investigate Any Charge of Home Bank Commissions.

TORONTO, Feb. 13. — Without committing themselves to any declaration on the merits or otherwise of the Government's proposed amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act the Liberals yesterday moved an amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne accusing the Prime Minister of making a direct violation of his pledge given regarding the act.

W. E. N. Sinclair, the Liberal leader, moved the amendment at the close of a two hour speech touching all the points in the speech from the throne.

The text of the amendment follows: "That the following paragraph be added to the reply: 'And that this House views with disapproval the direct violation of the pledge given by the Prime Minister of Ontario to the people by the government suggesting legislation to amend the Temperance Act."

W. E. Raney, the leader of the Progressives will not speak until the debate is resumed next Tuesday. He may propose an amendment to the amendment.

In his address, Mr. Sinclair declared the Ontario government was passing the buck regarding the unemployment situation. He accused the Prime Minister as Minister of Education allowing politics to interfere with the administration of the schools, and demanded that a fair proportion of the revenue to be raised under the tax on gasoline be turned over to the municipalities. He demanded that the Settell letter making charges against the Hydro administration should be published in full, and that the government should investigate and clear up the mystery concerning the payment of moneys as commission by the Home Bank to some one for provincial loans during the last days of the Conservative administration before the Drury government came into power

Premier Offers Letter.

The Premier interrupting said he would let Mr. Sinclair see the Settell letter, and if then he demanded it produced, that it would be laid on the table of the House. He asked Mr. Sinclair to make definite charges regarding the commission alleged to have been paid to some one for the government in 1919, Home Bank loans, and said he would provide a proper tribunal for the hearing of such charges.

Mr. Sinclair also asked for a commission to investigate the spread in food prices between the producer and the consumer. He hoped that the agricultural committee would deal with it. He also accused the Secretary for Northern Ontario and the Advisory Board Committee of playing politics in their duties.

Mr. Sinclair speaking of the proposal to spread early university training to the schools of the province said that the government must be sure that the increased cost did not fall on the municipalities. From the luke warm references in the speech from the throne he wondered if the government were getting lukewarm on Hydro. The service, he said, must be maintained, and continue to give the great service it had in the past.

Regarding the charges made in the Settell letters against the Hydro Mr. Sinclair said the man in the street was wondering why the whole letter was not published.

"We are glad to know there was no reflection on Sir Adam Beck and nobody expected that there would be," said Mr. Sinclair.

When Mr. Ferguson said he would show the letter to the Liberal leader, and produce it in the House, if requested, the Liberal leader said he was glad to see him growing penitent. On the proposal that a portion of the money collected from the gas tax should go to the municipalities, Mr. Sinclair suggested that the money should be kept separate from consolidated revenue, and paid to municipalities so that it could be spent on all roads and not merely on the main highways.

Employment Problem.

On unemployment, Mr. Sinclair said that he agreed with the attitude taken by the King government that it was not a federal matter.

The proposals proposed by the Ontario government, he said, were not sufficient to meet the trouble.

"The Federal government brings in immigration, and is therefore responsible," interjected the Premier.

"So does the Ontario government bring in immigration, and it can't pass the buck," replied Mr. Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair then went into the O.T.A. question. He said that the Premier had stated in his New Year message that "character, intelligence and integrity" were required in men of public service.

He then quoted statements made by the Premier before the vote on the liquor question, some of which were: "Prohibition must prevail until the people by vote change it," 'The Conservative party is not going back on its own offspring;" "We will not change the act one iota until the people demand that a change be made."

Mr. Sinclair quoted from letters written to Dr. T. Albert Moore that if the people voted in favor of the O.T.A. the government would then strengthen the act. After the vote the Premier was quoted by Mr. Sinclair as stating that the government was determined to pursue a consistent course, and that the majority would prevail, and "no self-respecting government could but accept the situation."

Stand by Rules.

"I think the government has voted itself out of the self-respecting class," said Mr. Sinclair. "The rules were made with the representatives of both sides present and the vote was taken, and I think that the only fair thing to do is to stand by the rules, after the game is played," said Mr. Sinclair.

"The government to-day doesn't know what position it is in or what it is going to do so how can I criticise its final act?" asked the Liberal leader.

"Don't side step!" interjected the Premier.

"How can I sidestep when there is nothing to sidestep," was the reply of Mr. Sinclair, who declared that the question to be discussee at this time was: "Is the word of a public man no longer to be taken as a word to be carried out? It is a sorry day for Ontario when we cannot accept the word of public men on public questions. This proposal is a direct violation of the word given by the Prime Minister and he cannot escape, and on every member of the government must fall equal blame."

Challenged by the Premier.

"I challenge you to state here and now what your position is on this question," the Premier interjected.

"When I speak I will choose my own subject, and it ill becomes the Prime Minister to try to thrust me aside," said Mr Sinclair. "The thing for us to consider now is the word of a public man to mean nothing when it comes to a public question? We are now discussing the broken pledge of the Premier of Ontario and when the government bill comes down we will discuss it."

Mr. Sinclair then moved his demand for an investigation of the commission paid by the Home Bank to some one for loans during the latter days of the Hearst government. He quoted evidence from last year's public accounts committee to show that $42,000 had been paid out. "It is up to the government to clear it up," he stated.

Nothing to Conceal.

"We have nothing to conceal and nobody to protect or hide," said the Premier. "The matter was before the public accounts committee last year. Mr. McGarry was there several times and gave evidence. If the Liberal leader will not make insinuations but make charges this government will see that he gets a proper tribunal to hear those charges."

Mr. Sinclair argued that it was the duty of the Legilature to finish an investigation already started.

Speaking to the Prime Minister, Mr. Sinclair said: "If you lay down the reins of office to me I'll soon find out the truth about these matters."

Mr. Sinclair then moved his amendment and Mr. Raney moved adjournment of the debate.

New Legislation.

Legislation was introduced by the government to amalgamate the Northern Ontario Loan Organization and the organization handling rural loans in Old Ontario. There was also a bill to make minor amendments in the Telephone Act.

Two members, A. A. McCallum, Prog., (South Bruce), and William Keith, (Con., North York), corrected interviews published in Toronto regarding their views on the beer amendment.

Mr. McCallum said that he was not in favor of the amendment, it having been reported that he was. Mr. Keith denied stating that the Premier had broken his pledge.

FERGUSON HAS LOYAL SUPPORT

No Bolters From Conservative Side on Question of Liberal Censure.

DEBATE ADJOURNED.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press.)— There will be no bolters from the Conservative side on the Liberal amendment to censure Premier Ferguson for, as Liberals allege, violating his pledge to the temperance people. This is the view gathered from lobby gossip this morning. There are, however, it is said, a few Opposition members who want the O.T.A. amended as the government proposes, but who who will nevertheless support the Liberal amendment on the ground that Premier Ferguson was not free to bring in a measure for stronger beer.

A Brief Session.

This afternoon's session in the Legislature will be very brief unless some one introduces a new topic under special privilege.

It is private members' day, and there are no bills ready for debate. They are all in the petition stage. There will be no continuance of the big debate until Tuesday.

TWO CHURCHES ARE OPEN FOR REV. R. POGUE

Knox and St. Andrews Jointly Invite Pastor of St. Paul's.

HEARTY WELCOME.

Union Minority Is Included in the Invitation from the Elders.

Hearty invitations to Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, to join with them as associate pastor, was to-day issued jointly by the elders of Knox Church and the Union elders of St. Andrew's Church. St. Paul's Church voted not to enter the United Church, while the other two Peterboro Presbyterian Churches voted to go with the church courts into Union.

Rev. Mr. Pogue had not received the invitation when interviewed by The Examiner to-day, but will probably have determined his course by to-morrow. The following is the text of the invitation extended today:

To the Reverend Robert Pogue and the Union Committee of St. Paul's Church, Peterboro.

Dear Brethren,—In view of the decision of St. Paul's Church not to go with the Presbyterian Church in Canada into the United Church, we, the elders of Knox Church and the Unionist elders of St. Andrew's Church, desire unanimously to express to you our sincere regret that as you seek to remain loyal to our Church, you now find yourselves forced for conscience sake to seek another church home. We appreciate how painful it must be for you to have to decide whether to stay with the local congregation or to go forward with the mother church into the Union.

As you face this decision, we desire to greet you in the name of the two Peterboro Presbyterian Churches which are entering the United Church. We extend to you and through you to the Unionist members of St. Paul's a unanimous and hearty invitation to make our two churches your church homes in the future. To Mr. Pogue we cordially extend the freedom of our pulpits in associate pastorship until the 10th of June. We believe you will find with us a congenial atmosphere, a cordial welcome and the opportunity you desire to carry on the work of the Kingdom of God according to those exalted aspirations and ideals which characterize the spirit of the United Church.—Fraternally yours,

M. C. Mackinnon,
Moderator Knox Session.
James Gordon,
Moderator St. Andrew's Session.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Toronto Druggist Trapped in Prescription Room—Door Was Locked.

TORONTO, Feb. 13 (Canadian Press).—John K. Patton, Toronto, aged about 70 years, lost his life last evening when fire broke out in the prescription department at the rear of his drug store near Kennedy Road in Scarboro Junction, an eastern Toronto suburb. Dr. Jewell, who had his office in the building, tried to effect a rescue, but found the door to the prescription room locked on the inside. The building, a one-storey frame structure, was burned to the ground.

Patton had apparently been at work filling a prescription but it is not known whether the tragedy was due to combustion of chemicals or to the overturning of a stove. It is presumed that in trying to escape he evidently clicked the latch on the door and was too far overcome to unlock it.

Patton was a widower and leaves a family.

OTTAWA DEBATE ABRUPTLY ENDS; TO BE RESUMED

Motion For Adoption of Address in Reply Was Submitted After 6 P.M.

MORE SPEECHES.

Herbert Marler Analyzes Dominion's Finances in Discussing Taxation.

OTTAWA, January 13 (Canadian Press). — The debate on the Address will be resumed in the House of Commons to-day. Despite the formal adoption of the motion, a few minutes after six o'clock last night, there will be more speeches.

Following the adjournment of the House there were conferences between party leaders. It was claimed by the Conservative Opposition that the motion had been submitted after six o'clock without the unanimous consent of the House having been obtained.

Contributors to the debate on Thursday were Herbert Marler, Liberal of St. Lawrence-St. George and W. F. MacLean, Conservative of South York. Mr. Marler made a detailed study of Canada's financial position, of national income and expenditure, remarking that, until the railway position substantially improved, there was little probability of substantial reduction in taxation. Mr. Marler thought that the deficit resulting from a reduction in railway freight rates might well be borne by the country as a whole, and should not be assessed in a manner that would injure existing railways. On the tariff, Mr. Marler urged a scientific revision conducted by a properly constituted tariff board.

Mr. MacLean had sharp criticism for the judicial committee of the Privy Council. "I am here," declared Mr. MacLean, referring to the Lemieux Act decision, "to protest against a condition which allows the judicial committee to shoot holes in our constitution. Under present conditions, the Dominion of Canada has no more to do with its own constitution than the man in the street."

It was on the cards that debate on the Address would finfiish last night but so sharp an ending was obviously unexpected. Most of the members, anticipating an evening sitting, had drifted away, and the chamber had the deserted look it usually bears around six o'clock. But just as the House was about to rise for the dinner recess, Mr. MacLean ended his speech.

The Deputy Speaker put the formal motion for the Address. It slipped through, and the debate was over.

Then Premier King rapidly submitted formal motions which pave for the House going later into the committee of supply and ways and means. He announced that main estimates would be brought down today.

Continues Speech.

Resuming his unfinished speech in the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, John Evans (Progressive, Sasaktoon) yesterday expressed disappointment over the delay to Senate reform. He admitted that the very nature of the constitution prevented the House of Commons from carrying out an amendment which would give to the Commons the power to reform the Senate. Even in the House of Commons it might be difficult to get unanimous action because "so many look upon the Senate as a haven of refuge from the uncertainties of party public life." Perhaps the Inter-Provincial Conference was the best way of dealing with the matter, even if it implied another session's delay.

Mr. Evans said that the Senate was looked upon at the time of Confederation as esentially a safeguard for the smaller Provinces against the domination of the Ontario-Quebec federation, which had always dominated the industrial life of Canada. Sir Wilfred Laurier had apparently shared that view, and once in a Speech on Senate reform, while deprecating any suggestion of abolishing the Senate, Sir Wilfred had said that it might be a good idea to follow the example of the United States and give to each Province large or small, the same number of Senators.

Equal Representation.

Equal representation for the various Provinces on the floor of the Senate was the only fair method. A total membership of 45 Senators, Hopes That It Led to Collins' Cavern Are Now Shattered.

LEADS TO NOWHERE.

CAVE CITY, Ky., February 12. —Engineer Carmichael announced this afternoon, on emerging from the shaft that the new found tunnel discovered this morning was a blind hole leading nowhere. The sinking of the shaft will be continued.

Near Rescue Shaft.

Earlier despatches to-day reported that H. T. Carmichael and two miners, at ten o'clock this morning began an exploration of the tunnel discovered early to-day in the side of the sand cave rescue shaft. All spectators and newspaper men were ordered away from the mouth of the shaft to the top of a hill a hundred feet or more distant.

Homer Collins, a younger brother of the imprisoned man, came out of the rescue shaft at 9.45 and said "I have great hopes."

At that time no one had entered the newly discovered tunnel.

Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago in charge of the medical preparations for attending Floyd Collins, if he is found with even a faint spark of life, is to be sent down into the tunnel as soon as Collins is located.

Refused to Talk.

The discovery of the new tunnel was closely guarded, the mienrs refusing to talk about it.

The hole was first discovered about 1.30 a.m. and Carmichael and Dr. Hazlett were awakened.

Meantime the diggers had uncovered the hole about three feet across and extending downward at a sharp slope. Their lamps were blown out by a downward draft.

The engineers made immediate preparations to timber around and down into the new tunnel to prevent a cave in.

As far as the diggers could see the tunnel ran straight away from the northwest corner of the shaft towards the mouth of the sand cave.

The tunnel was discovered just under a thick limestone ledge.

CLYDE MEMBERS ATTACK WALES' TRIP TO SOUTH

Expense Should Be Reduced Because of Poverty at Home, Said Kirkwood.

GOES TO ARGENTINE.

Commons Approved Cost of Voyage by 295 to 87.—Prince on Duty.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The House of Commons last evening by a vote of 295 against 87 passed a supplementary budget estimate to cover the expenses of the forthcoming trip of the Prince of Wales to South Africa and South America.

The vote was taken after the chamber had rejected a motion by David Kirkwood, Labor member for the Dumbarton Burghs, to reduce the £15,000 which it has been estimated will be required for the trip. The vote on this question was 304 against 90.

In the division against the motion of Mr. Kirkwood, former Premier MacDonald, Sidney Webb and William Adamson, as well as James H. Thomas, Labor members, voted with the government. Stephen Walsh Noel E. Buxton and Arthur Henderson, also Laborites, abstained from voting.

Invited to Uruguay.

During the debate the government sprang a surprise on the members of parliament and the country at large by an announcement that Uruguay and Chile also had invited the Prince of Wales to visit these countries. The government spokesman, Walter Edward Guinness, said it was hoped that these invitations would be accepted.

Mr. Kirkwood protested spending the nation's resources on the trip of the Prince of Wales while there was so much poverty at home.

Mr. Kirkwood appeared to be suffering under the annoyance that on the occasion of one of the Prince's visits to Glasgow the Prince had not spect Glasgow's slum districts. The chairman had much difficulty in keeping Mr Kirkwood to the point, and during the member's speech the proceedings became rather noisy. The tact of the chairman, however, averted the further inflaming of the temper of the house, and Mr. Guinness poured oil on the troubled waters by admitting that the Prince should interest himself in internal problems, such as Mr. Kirkwood had mentioned. At the same time Mr. Guinnes paid handsome tribute to the Prince's constant keenness regarding his princely duties.

Unpleasant Note.

Mr. Kirkwood's strictures caused more laughter than indignation, and what was considered by some of the members the only regrettable note came with insinuations from Mr. Kirkwood and others that financial interests were involved in the Prince's tour.

As an instance, George Lansbury, Labor member for the Bow and Bromley division of Poplar, said he had yet to learn that it was a function of royalty to go around the world as commercial bagmen, doing trade. The tour, Mr. Lansbury added was the trade of amusement. He was going on his forthcoming tour, as far as the speaker could see, to

NEW BILLIARD CHAMP.

Jack McMillan, of Vancouver, Wins Canadian Title in Four-Day Play.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).— Jack McMillan, of Vancouver, is the new 1925 billiard champion of Canada, finishing a four-day tournament last night with a lead of 456 points over A. F. Woodward, of Montreal, with a score of 5,000 against 4,544 for the eastern titleholder.

FABLES ON HEALTH.

GET COMPETENT ADVICE.

Do not take the advice of a neighbor on how to care for the baby, Mrs. Mann was told. For what has been good for one baby may not be good for another.

It is hoped that the baby will be breast-fed, but if by any chance this is impossible, a doctor, or a baby health clinic is the only safe place for advice.

Sometimes it is hard to teach a child to like some of the foods recommended for him, after he has grown old enough to take food other than milk, but the child should not be permitted to grow finicky about his food.

To teach him requires patience, and it may take years to establish habits that may save trouble later on.

Mother-love is far-reaching. It should be farseeing, and be willing to insist on some unpleasantness now for the sake of the future happiness of the child.

New foods should be introduced into the diet slowly. The child's stomach is no more prepared to digest heavy foods than his muscles are prepared to do the heavy work of a man.

Therefore be careful of such heavy foods as fried potatoes, doughnuts, sausage, pork, spiced pickles, rich pastry and cake, even after the child is old enough to attend school.

IODINE IS MADE OF BURNED WEED FROM SEA SHORE

Sea Weed Extracts Iodine From Ocean And Yield It in Kilns.

KELP BURNERS

Many Important Chemicals Depend on Poor Beach Folk to Find Basis.

By Donald K. Tressler, Ph. D.

Recently, since science has discovered that iodine is one of the essential elements for the growth and health of man and animals, the public has become interested in this element. A lack of iodine in food and drinking water causes disorders of the thyroid gland, commonly known as goiter and cretinism.

The soil, rocks and plants grown in the earth contain, in general but extremely minute amounts of this valuable element. The only important deposits containing iodine found on land are those of the Chile nitrate beds and those are doubtless of marine origin.

Although the ocean contains 60,000,000,000 tons of iodine which is practically all of the iodine of the earth's surface, no iodine is obtained directly from the sea. Certain sea weeds have the remarkable ability to extract iodine from the ocean and although sea water contains only two parts of iodine per million, the ash of the seaweed called tangles contains over 20,000 parts per million.

Ever since its discovery in 1812 iodine has ben manufactured from the ashes of seaweed. Prior to that time seaweed was burned to produce lye. Since the beginning of the nineteenth century lye has been prepared almost exclusively from salt.

Seaweed burning is one of the quaint industries carried on by the peasants on the coast of Scotland Ireland, Norway. The Japanese also have developed an important iodine industry during the past twenty years and now lead the world in the quantity of iodine produce from seaweed.

The Kelp Burners

The kelp burners, as those who gather the seaweed and burn it to produce ash are called, either cut at ebb tide the seaweeds growing along the seashore or collect the driftweed that is washed ashore. Since the rockweeds are widely scattered, they are cut by the poorer classes of people living in the vicinity of beds of seaweed. Most of the "cutweed" is reaped with sickles and scythes when it is exposed at low tide. Inasmuch as it grows on irregular rocks no machine has been devised for harvesting it.

Some of the larger varieties of sea weed are harvested by men in boats who pull the tangle from its anchorage in water from four to eight feet in depth. In France sickle-shaped knives fastened to long poles are used in cutting the weed which rises to the surface as soon as it is cut. As the seaweed is cut it is thrown into piles on the shore, out of reach of the tide, and later it is dried in much the same manner as hay. It dries rapidly. When it is hot and dry it may be burned within forty-eight hours after cutting. A heavy rain on the drying seaweed washes out a large portion of the iodine and potash contained in the weed, and therefore little is gathered during bad weather. Because of the difficulty in drying none is gathered in the Winter, although large quantities of weed, rich in iodine, are washed up on the shore by the severe storms during that season.

The dried weed is burned in long low kilns built of rock. These are usually about 2 1-2 feet long and their lengths vary from 8 to 18 feet depending on the amount of seaweed to be burned.

Residue of Chemicals.

In burning the weed the kiln is first filled with fuel (firewood or peat), which is kindled. The dried seaweed is then slowly added from time to time. When this has continued from six to eight hours, or until all the dried weed has been added the porous ash is worked with a rake until all of the weed has burned and the resultant ash is entirely melted. The fused ash from a single burning forms a cake from three to six inches in thickness on the floor of the kiln. When more weed has been dried it is burned on top of the kelp cake. Thus a "floor" fifteen to twenty four inches thick is built up. This is broken up by throwing water on it while it is hot. It is stored in a dry place until transported to the chemical plants, which manufacture iodine, bromine, potassium sulphate, potassium chloride and potassium iodide from it.

The process of manufacturing iodine from this fused ash is relatively simple. The ash is coarsely ground and thrown into a vat in which it is leached with water. The solution produced in this way is evaporated, and from it are crystallized potassium sulphate and potassium chloride, two salts useful both in the fertilizer and chemical industries. The residue, which contains the very soluble iodine salts, is heated with manganese dioxide and sulphuric acid. The iodine and bromine distil off and are collected in stone jars.

Iodine and its compounds are valuable in medicine, photography, the manufacture of pigments, dyes and many other chemical products.

five from each Province, would be quite sufficient. Ontario and Quebec had come to think of Canada as made up only of themselves.

"What about the West?" asked Col. James Arthurs, Conservative, Parry Sound.

"Sectionalism can only be combatted by sectionalism," replied Mr. Evans. In concluding his speech, he advocated an elective Senate, and hoped that the conference between the Domiion and Provincial Governments respecting Senate reform would meet with success. Until such reform came about the problem of sectionalism would become increasingly acute.

Marler's Adress.

"It may be properly said of almost any country, and particularly of new country like Canada," stated Herbert Marler (Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George), in opening his speech, "that a country's wealth and progress is measured to the extent of the increase in its population. As a matter of fact, that is not very difficult to analyse when one realises that production can only take place by means of population and it follows from that, that the greater the population, the greater the production, the greater the wealth of the country."

William Irvine (Labour, Calgary East): "Does that apply to Chinamen?"

"Yes, that applies to Chinamen too," replied Mr. Marler, "if my honourable friend wants an immediate answer."

Effect of Taxation.

One of the limiting factors of profitable production was taxation imposed upon anything produced, Mr. Marler said. Such taxation, if deducted from the profit, rendered the profit less or none at all, while if added to the cost it might make the thing produced too expensive to sell.

"Recently we have heard it said on all sides that our taxation was limiting profitable production, and was also preventing greater production," continued Mr. Marler. It had also been said that such taxation was raising the cost of living was preventing the inflow of capital, restricting the purchasing power of the people of small means, and was tending to drive people from Canada. "It must be admitted," Mr. Marler said, "that there is an insistent demand that taxation shall be reduced."

People Want Information.

It was easy to suggest reduction in taxation, but it was an extraordinarily difficult mater to accomplish it. Revenue must be raised. At present there was agreat lack of understanding of Dominion financing throughout the country, and this was natural because the greater part of Federal taxation was derived from imposts which were not in existence a few years ago. Since the war people had begun to realise that there were taxes, and heavy taxes to be met, and they wanted knowledge of why these taxes were imposed and how their earnings were expended.

Mr. Marler suggested that simple statement derived from the public accounts should be prepared and placed before the public of Canada within a month after the close of each fiscal year. "It is only By these means that the people of this Dominion will understand the true situation of affairs and not be misled by garbled accounts from party platforms or from a partisan press," he said.

Dominion's Accounts.

In order to ascertain whether or not taxation could be reduced, it was necessary to have some knowledge of our accounts. Mr. Marler gave a statement, excluding railway expenditure, illustrating receipts and disbursements of the Dominion for the fiscal year 1923-1924. Total revenue he placed at $370,208,285, derived almost entirely from taxation. Expenditure he placed at $310,194,598, leaving a baalnce of $60,013,687. Increase in taxation must follow increased expenditure. In 1914 Canada's taaxtion was $128,000-000. In 1924 it was 370,00,000, an increase of $242,000,000. This increase was caused, Mr. Marler said, by an increase of expenditure from $106,000,-000 in 1914 to $310,000,000 in 1924, exclusive in both years of railway expenditure.

Discussing the question of Governmental economy, Mr. Marler stated that "the reduction in controllable expenditure comparing the years 1921 and 1922 with 1923 and 1924, was nearly $62,000,000." Had the present Government not had to disburse amounts for such items as the Canadian Government Mercantile Marine, the increase would have been greater.

Must Pay Interest.

"Is it possible to reduce taxation?" asked Mr. Marler. "Interest on war debt cannot be reduced until the debt itself is reduced. Pensions may slightly increase and later on will decrease, but the increase is beyond human control." There was little opportunity of saving until the war debt itself was reduced.

Criticism has been voiced of the cost of departmental administration. In 1914 the cost was $65,235,269, as compared with $86,127,737 in 1924, or an increase over 1914 of $21,000,-000. But there has been during the last two years a diminution of $13,-000-000 in the cost of these departments, and it must be said that the cost for last year compared favourably with that for 1924, when there was taken into consideration the heavy cost of labour and commodities which in the meantime had taken place. Increased cost in certain of the departments had occurred, which was explainable by the very heavy increases which was now required on account of the war, and other causes. No one could say that the cost of Government was really greater than it should be.

Railways a Factor.

In the last analysis it was found that our railways were preventing reduction in taxation, and until the railway position substantially improved there was little probability that taxation could be substantially reduced. Speaking of the railroad situation, Mr. Marler said fair competitiop between the roads was beneficfiial to the public, but needless competition was a complete loss. Such competition as existed to-day in the freight and passenger services in luxuries radio, and spectacular locomotives should not be allowed to continue, and while they were, operation would not be sufficiently profitable.

"Is it not time for Parliament to put a stop to this unnecessary duplication between these two roads, if they do not come to an agreement immediately between themselves?" asked Mr. Marler.

In settling problems of the Dominion, each section required special treatment. "It will be found impossible to harmonise unless there is used all the toleration and inventive genius at our command. It will be found that old ideas, old party cries, and the old maxima will not work out and that a new set of policies in this country must be applied. We must use all we have so that there will be no Eastern and Western Canada, but Canada only."

TREASURER MISSING.

Alleged to Have Stolen the Sum of $4,344 From Publishers.

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—A warrant for the arrest of George Bond, former treasurer of the Farm and Ranch Review, was sworn out at the Calgary Police Court yesterday by Lionel C. West, director of the publishing company.

Wires have been sent by the local police to different centres in Eastern Canada and the United States, giving a description of bond, who, it is alleged, stole $4,344.19 from the Farm and Ranch Review, while engaged in his office as treasurer of the firm.

The disappearance of the bond from a Winnipeg hotel early last week after he had forwarded a wire to his wife here, that he was on his way home, created somewhat of a sensation.

S. G. WAY HEADS BOARD OF TRADE

Tweed Business Men Organize With New Strength—Big Attendance.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

TWEED, Feb. 13.—A printed dodger passed around a few days ago had the effect of drawing a large body of Tweed's business men and others to a meeting of the Board of Trade in the Municipal Hall on Tuesday evening. For a year or more the board had been in a state of coma, but on the President, C. H. Kerr, issuing this dodger, new life has been interjected and the board starts afresh with a paid-up membership to date of 37.

At 8.15 C. H. Kerr took the chair, stating he had issued a dodger announcing the meeting. He was surprised and pleased to see the large attendance of villagers. During the past year there has been nothing of interest to bring before the board, consequently meetings had not been held.

On motion of Wm. O'Keefe, seconded by Reeve Rollins, F. A. Bartlett was asked to fill the duties of secretary pending the election of officers.

In order to have the privilege of voting, it was necessary for members and others who desired to become members to pay the fee. At the present time the paid-up membership is 37. Wm. O'Keefe acted as cashier.

Election of Officers.

For president, W. S. Gordon proposed, and Wm. O'Keefe seconded the nomination of S. G. Way. There being no further nominations, Mr. Way was declared elected.

For vice-president, Wm. O'Keefe was nominated; S. G. Way being proposer, while John Sager seconded. Others were nominated, but all declined, leaving Mr. O'Keefe duly elected.

Board of Trade Council is as follows: Reeve Rollins, convenor; Messrs. H E Wagar, Geo. Stokes, John Quinn J. L, Newton, W. A. Donnelly, Mr. Martin, Mr. Seyers, Ed. Wright and P. McIlroy.

In taking the president's chair, Mr. Way thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him. He would serve the Board of Trade to his utmost and asked for the co-operation of the members in all matters taken for the advancement of Tweed's interests. He would like to have the members present at all the meetings and assist in the promotion of the cause for which the board is established.

Agricultural Association.

A large delegation of members of the Agricultural Association were present, the object being to solicit the co-operation of the board in making Tweed's annual fair a greater success and one more in keeping pace with Madoc, Stirling and others of note.

The speakers from the Agricultural Association were Geo. H. Stokes, president; J. W. Kingston, J. L. Newton, C. Graham.

Some of the speakers spoke of the lack of interest shown by the people of Tweed in placing exhibits, the Steel Trough Company being the only manufacturing enterprize exhibiting its wares. In fine arts, the prizes were carried away by outsiders, the residents failing to enter exhibits.

Reeve Rollins was glad to see such a large attendance at the meeting in a get-together. Efforts had been made in the past to provide means for a greater co-operation and better accommodation and improvement in the grounds. In Stirling the business men had entered exhibits and in every way helped to boost the exhibition. Madoc business men had done likewise but in a lesser degree. He expressed pleasure in finding Mr. Way at the head of the Board of Trade.

Tweed Local.

Mr. John Sager drew the attention of the board to the Tweed-Toronto local being discontinued three months during the winter.

Mr. W. A. Donnelly said it was not a paying proposition, owing to the shortage of passenger and freight traffic.

Mr. Way said he had met Mr. Dockrill representing the C.P.R. a short time ago, and had discussed the matter with him. There was nothing definite to report.

Mr. Bartlett said he had been in communication with C.P.R. authorities at one time. It was pointed out to him that the train service would be carried on at a loss.

Mr. Fred Foster wished to know if the train was worth $1,000 a year to Tweed.

Mr. Cotton suggested the organisation of a band for Tweed. He would llike to hear some views from others on the matter.

The board adjourned for two weeks, when a meeting will be held to appoint committees.

RATTLESNAKE HEARS WITH TONGUE.

LOS ANGELES Feb. 13.—The original antenna for radio, according to Jack Allman, Los Angeles curator of reptiles, was the rattlesnake's tongue.

"When a rattlesnake is dormant or sleeping," Mr. Allman said recently' "its tongue is idle. But when aroused it starts shooting that forked tongue from its mouth and seems to both feel and hear through it. I have seen rattlesnakes appear as though uninformed of my approach when their tongues were not moving back and forth from their mouths, but the moment they became conscious of it the tongues started. Rattlesnakes have no ears, but those little tentacles on the end of the tongue serve the purpose."

LEADERS' CLASS SOCIAL EVENING

Dancing and Programme of Music Proved Very Entertaining.

SOCIAL NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The Leaders' Class of Christ Church held another social evening Thursday night in the Parish Hall. There was a good attendance from Christ Church and also other guests. A good programme was given and there was dancing both before and after the programme, which was as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss H. Bonnycastle.
Piano solo—Miss Cherrie Turner.
Guitar selection—Mr.. D. Hutton and Mr. Sarginson.
Vocal solo—Miss H. Atkinson.
Piano solo—Miss Isabel Bygott.

Lunch was served, after which Mr. John Storie sang two comic songs.

Rev. G. C. Clarke, the rector, gave a short address.

The orchestra, Mrs. F. Daly, Messrs. L. Clegg and G. Frederick, played for the dancing. Mr. Pearson also assisted.

A pleasing feature during the evening was the presentation of a bouquet of carnations to Mrs. Burling. Mrs. Burling has always in so many ways been a great help to the class, and as this was her birthday, they took this opportunity of showing their appreciation of her great kindness and helpfulness to them.

Is Delegate.

Mr. W. I. Stillman, Rear Street, has been appointed delegate to the meeting of the Grand Council from Truth Council No. 202 of the Royal Templars at Campbellford. This Council is held in Toronto February 24.

Personal.

Mrs. H. A. Bambrick and son, Harry, who for the past three months have been visiting relatives in Campbellford, left on Thursday, February 12th, to return to her home in Cobalt. On her way she will stop at Detroit and spend a week there before going on.

Mr. and Mrs. James Small, Ranney Street, left on Wednesday for Cardinal, where they will spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) W. E. Wright.

Mr. David F. Robertson, of Montreal, is spending this week with his sister, Miss Mildred Robertson, Queen Street.

Born—In Seymour East, on Tuesday, Feb. 10th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fry, a daughter.

SEYMOUR WEST INSTITUTE MET

Home of Mrs. T. Dunham Was Scene of Pleasant Gathering.

INVITE NORWOOD.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The meeting of the Seymour West Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Thos. Dunham on Thursday afternoon, twenty-two ladies being present.

Mrs. Geo. Vonvolkenburg, the president, presided.

The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and the Lord's Prayer. After the reading of the minutes, discussion followed about getting up a play. It was decided that Mrs. Robert McCullogh choose one and then call an evening meeting for those who will assist in the play.

Communications were read, one a letter from Mr. Edgar McKee, thanking the ladies of the Institute for a plant sent to him when he was ill. Another from the teacher of the school section of Seymour West, acknowledging receipt of the money given by the Institute as a prize at the Rural Fair held in Campbellford last fall.

Moved and seconded by Mrs. Macoun and Mrs. Flemming, that the Institute have their summer series of meetings in June, and that they have a special speaker for the occasion. Carried.

They also decided to write to the Norwood Institute and invite the ladies to join with them for the summer series.

Part of the afternoon was spent in sewing and exchanging patterns.

There was also a button-hole competition in charge of Mrs. Robert McCullogh. Several ladies were about ties for the best button-hole.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Brown on the usual day of meeting, the third Thursday of each month.

FIND A TUNNEL.

May Be Collins' Cavern, Think Rescuers This Morning.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 13. —(Canadian Press).—A tunnel large enough to admit a big man, was found early this morning at the bottom of the rescue shaft near the fifty-foot level, and diggers believe it is Collins' cavern. Explorations will begin as soon as some timbering has been completed.

RESIGNATION LAID OVER UNTIL MARCH

Presbytery Meets in Campbellford and Discusses Union Ministers' Position.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The Presbytery held a meeting in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday afternoon, when the following ministers were present: Rev. F. W. Andrews, of Port Hope, Moderator; Rev. W. A. Bremner, Cobourg; Rev. J. S. Ferguson, Baltimore; Rev. G. S. Girvan, Millbrook; Rev. A. H. McConnachie, Centreville; Rev. G. I. Craw, Springville; Rev. J. W. Gordon and Rev. M. C. Mackinnon, of Peterboro; Rev. P. C. Jull, Lakefield; Rev. T. M. Wesley, Norwood; Rev. D. A. Thompson, secretary, Hastings; Rev. G. S. Hammond, Warkworth; Rev. C. F. McIntosh, Campbellford.

The following elders were also present: Messrs. Cameron Cobourg; Benson and Dutton, Peterboro; Dick, Warkworth, and A. H. McKelvie, Campbellford.

There was also a delegation from Warkworth, relative to the resignation of Rev. G. S. Hammond, as follows: Messrs. Black, Carlaw, Dick, Osborne, Wilson and Weatherson.

The delegation from Campbellford relative to the resignation of Rev. C. F. McIntosh was composed of Messrs. I. A. Anderson, Jas. Allan, W. W. Clarke, Dr. H. B. Longmore, Dr. G. A. Hay and D. W. Douglas.

The resignations were read and the delegations heard regarding these.

The two ministers, Rev. G. S. Hammond, Warkworth, and Rev. C. F. McIntosh, Campbellford, who had resigned were also heard.

They thought that it would be to the best interests of the work so that the majority congregations should be able to follow out their own policies. A motion was passed that these resignations be laid on the table till Tuesday, March 10, when they would be considered at the Presbytery meeting held on that date in St. Paul's Church, Peterboro. The reason given for this was that not only the ministers and congregations of Warkworth and Campbellford must be considered, but the work of the whole Presbyterian Church in Canada. These ministers would no longer be in active service in the work of the Presbyterian Church, and in view of the fact that there would be four more ministers resigning, it was thought wise to leave it over till the March meeting.

But it was made plain that this would not in any way interfere with the plans of Unionist minority being followed, that of worshipping with the Methodist as had previously been arranged.

The ministers with the sessions will provide supplies for the churches till the March meeting of the Presbytery.

OBITUARY.

MRS. AGNES PICKEN.

HASTINGS, Feb. 13.—The funeral of the late Agnes Shearer, relict of the late John Picken, was held on Sunday afternoon from the home of her son, Mr. George Picken, Percy township.

CLYDE MEMBERS ATTACK WALES'

have a good time. He did not grudge the Prince the trip, but it would be a standing disgrace to spend money for the trip while thousands were on the borderline of subsistence.

The amount estimated as necessary for the Prince's trip is £15,000.

Kirkwood's Request.

Mr. Kirkwood proceeded with a rather rambling complaint that on the occasion of one bf the Prince's visits to Glasgow, he declined an invitation that Mr. Kirkwood ,as councillor, sent him to come and dine with others in a Glasgow tenement where they "could talk to him about those parts of the city they were desirous he should see." (This was an allusion to the notorious Clyde slum scandals).

Mr. Kirkwood continued that he still extended that invitation to the Prince to come, and see places and conditions such as he would not see either among the Aborigines of Africa or Australia, nor in Argentina, but among the working folk of West Scotland.

A point of order was raised from the Conservative benches asking what this had to do with the Prince's tour.

John Wheatley, Labor member for Glasgow, intervened in support of his Scottish colleague, who he said was entitled to show there were better ways of spending the public money and educating the Prince of Wales than sending him to Argentina. The chairman, remarking he understood Mr. Kirkwood's argument to be that, he thought the vote should not be given until the Prince was invited to parts of his own country said the member was entitled to express this, but not in such detail.

Sorry for Prince.

Mr. Kirkwood, saying he had given the Prince, for whom he was rather sorry, an invitation to visit the locality he had mentioned continued:

"Here you are trotting him all over the world, making a clown of him and taking him on show."

This caused bursts of laughter and cries of "Shame."

The chairman intervened, exhorting the member to keep nearer to his subject.

Mr. Kirkwood then dilated upon what he characterized as extravagance. He said the £15,000 mentioned in the vote was a mere bagatelle, since the real cost of the tour would be defrayed from the navy funds, as the Prince was going on board a battleship. The actual expense would be nearer £1,000,000, he declared.

"Why all this money?" he asked. "Is the Prince a poor man?" "Isn't his salary adequate to permit him to perform his own functions in the Empire."

He had much more to say to the same effect, which drew another reproof from the chair, that all this had nothing to do with the vote.

The member continued to defy the chair, declaring the Prince was being used by the great financiers and others in subservience to their purgose to weld the Empire together to be a menace to all other empires. His speech ended after numerous rebukes from the chairman and amidst angry scenes, the Dumbarton man gesticulating against the members on the Conservative benches, who were baiting him and who maintained continuous cries of "Order."

G. Buchanan, another Clyde member, supported Mr. Kirkwood with similar arguments, and the House calmed down with the rising of Mr. Guinness, who proceeded to defend the proposal .

Faithful to Duty.

Mr. Guinness admitted the importance of the Prince keeping in touch with such districts as Mr. Kirkwood had mentioned, but pointed out that the Prince's Empire activities had not prevented him doing the work which the Dumbarton man was so anxious to see him perform and neither Mr. Kirkwood nor Mr. Buchanan had uttered a single word suggesting that the Prince in any way stinted his time and energy in such activities.

The speaker said he thought it was a great tribute that nothing but words of encouragement had been heard concerning the way in which the Prince had thrown himself into his duties.

Mr. Guinness expatiated on the importance of British interests in Argentina and the strong desire "of our Argentine friends to have the Prince among them on the occasion of the celebration of the centenary of the Anglo-Argentine treaty of commerce."

Replying to Mr. Kirkwood's criticism on the cost of the navy, he contended that wherever the cruiser Repulse might be, she would be burning fuel and involving expense, because she was one of the great cruisers on the active list.

A number of other Labor members opposed the outlay, arguing that if Great Britain was too poor to do justice to its own necessitous people she could not afford money for such a tour.

Mr. Kirkwood's motion to reduce the £15,000 was then rejected and the House passed the motion to allow the sum necessary for the Prince's trip.

Is This Your Birthday?

FRIDAY, FEB 13.—If today is your birthday, one of your outstanding traits will be a "long" business head. It is seldom that anyone gets the best of you in a business deal. Despite your business ability, which makes your small ventures a success, you seem to lack the courage to step out in much larger ventures, which should be most profitable to you. SPEEDING UP THE LEGISLATURE.

Premier Ferguson has announced that the present session will be a business one, and the proceedings will be hurried just as much as is consistent with the proper handling of the affairs of the Province.

The Premier has given an earnest of his good intentions in this regard by having ten Government bills ready for the first day of the session—an unprecedented event in the history of the Legislature.

This is as it should be.

The Government has ample time to prepare its legislative programme, and when the House meets should have its bills in such shape as to provide a steady diet for the law-makers.

It has long been one of the weaknesses of our form of government in this country that sessions have been unduly prolonged, in the first place, because Governments have been behind in their legislation, and secondly, because of the time wasted in debate that might much more profitably be devoted to the real business of the country.

Mr. Ferguson is determined, apparently, that so far as his Government is concerned the first of these causes of delay will be missing during the present session, which gives some reason for hoping that the House will prorogue in reasonable time, and that business will have precedence over talk in the deliberations of the Legislature.

THE CITY MANAGER PLAN.

The greatest weakness of municipal government was indicated by Dr. Brittain the other night when he declared that the only expert that was elected was the expert at being elected.

Good men, of course, get into office in spite of this defect, and it is a fortunate thing for their communities that they do, but it must be admitted that under our system of government have developed conditions that make it easy for a type of municipal politicians to get elected.

This is perhaps more true of the larger centres, but it applies to some extent to all municipalities where the experienced hand-shaker and issue-evader usually has the advantage over the rest of the field at election times.

His success is made more easy by the indifference of a large part of the electorate to municipal questions, and the refusal of many citizens to exercise their franchise and do their share in selecting a civic government.

Dr. Brittain's plan of having the city's business managed by an expert paid an adequate salary to carry on the affairs of the municipality in an economical and efficient manner has many things about it that appeal to the thinking citizen as business-like and practicable.

AN EXPLANATION NEEDED.

The case reported by the Children's Aid Society of the Pension Board having cut off the pension of the five children of a deceased war veteran whose widow passed away some time ago, calls for some explanation.

Apparently the action of the board has been caused by the fact that the children, having been taken in charge by the Children's Aid Society and the pension having been allowed to accumulate, there is no further need for the state to continue the allowances.

The people of Canada surely do not want the Pension Act administered in that spirit.

The father of these children fought for Canada and gave his life for the cause, the mother has passed on, and the only right, just and equitable thing to do would be to continue the pension in each case until the children have reached the limit under the Pension Act, sixteen years.

It makes no difference that under the circumstances this money has not been needed for the maintenance of the children.

It is their money, and the Examiner is confident that the people generally would not wish them to be deprived of a cent of it.

An explanation from the Pension Board is needed to clear the air.

TRICK SKATING.

The more Mr. Ferguson's stronger beer amendment is studied in the light of the Premier's utterances in regard to it, the deeper comes the conviction that the agitation over the question is premature.

Apparently there is a string to the Government's concession.

It all hinges on the question of whether or not the new beer will be intoxicating.

The Premier maintains that is not—but if on actual trial it proves to be different from his conception of it, it will be taken away again.

So what's the row about?

On this basis the wets have gained nothing and the drys have lost nothing.

The Ferguson beer will be more palatable and easier for the brewers to make, but, according to the head of the Government, the "kick" will still be missing.

Viewed in that light, it is difficult to see where the man who wants a "punch" in his beverage is any further ahead, especially when Mr. Ferguson declares that if it should happen that men do get drunk on the new brew the concession will be cut off and the present standard, presumably, restored.

The whole thing looks like a neat piece of trick skating on thin ice by the worried head of the Government, and judging by the cheers of the drys and the groans of the wets, he has so far succeeded in stirring up a first-class row without gaining a great deal.

ALSACE-LORRAINE.

Announcement is made to-day that the difficult position in France created by the virtual withdrawal of the French Ambassador from the Vatican had been rendered less inflammatory by the concessions made to Alsace-Lorreine, says the Montreal Star. Alsace-Lorraine is a country of peculiar interest to use in Quebec owing to a certain similarity in its problems of the judiciary and of education. The provinces have lived for many years under German laws, to which they have grown accustomed, and the sudden change to the French code which was vigorously advocated in the months immediately following the Treaty of Versailles could not be effected without grave risk of disturbance.

It is in the education system, however, that the similarity is most pronounced. In Alsace-Lorraine there are three kinds of school—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—and the parents have a right to choose what kind of religion shall be taught to their children, although they must pronounce in favor of one of these three cults. In the rest of France, on the other hand, religion has practically been banished from the schools. The announcement made soon after Premier Herriot assumed office that the secular laws which were in effect throughout France would also be applied to Alsace-Lorraine was met with an outcry by the citizens in the affected provinces. The Socialists, who have always been the leaders in the fight against clericalism, found in Herriot a more pliant weapon for their purpose than they had in Briand. But in this case the Socialists seemed to have overreached themselves. They met with the stern resistance of men and women in whom a love of their religion was deeply founded when they proposed the removal of the Ambassador at the Vatican and the Nuncio at Paris, but that disapproval was translated into positive hostility when in their campaign for secularism they attempted to tamper with the schools and the laws of the two liberated provinces.

Meetings of indignation under General Castelnau, an earnest and deeply religious leader have been held all over France and violence occurred at certain of the gatherings in the freed provinces. Alsace-Lorraine feels that it has been made the tool of the politics of France and it scents danger in the sabotage of its industries. In territory it is undoubtedly part of France, and should never have been torn from its mother's side, but economically it must look toward Germany. Alsace-Lorraine can better serve as a link between Germany and France than as a thorn in the side of both. The changed attitude towards the two provinces will win the warm approval of the well-wishers of France.

THE OPIUM TRAFFIC.

The League of Nations has found a hard nut to crack in settling the opium question, and the withdrawal of China and the United States has only served to emphasize the differences that have been apparent in the discussions at Geneva since the matter was first brought up.

Opium is a tangled skein—one of the world's great Gordian knots. Its use is determined by local conditions and customs. Opium smoking is an entirely different matter to drug taking, and this in itself is quite distinct from opium eating. The United States, with an increasingly large number of drug addicts within its borders, would root out opium by prohibiting its manufacture at the source, except for medicinal use. Other countries, notably England, do not believe that any scheme of restriction is practical at this time for various reasons. They argue that Turkey, one of the opium producing countries, is not a member of the league, and that any prohibition of poppy growing in the countries which are members of the league would give a stupendous impetus to the opium trade in Turkey.

The problem of China is really at the bottom of the opium question. Scores of opium monopolies have lately been set up throughout the provinces and the cultivation of the poppy in that country has increased by leaps and bounds. Most of the revolutionary outbreaks and civil wars that have been a blot on the country in the last two years have been financed by money made from the opium traffic. In certain provinces the cultivation of the poppy has actually been made compulsory, so eager are the Tuchuns and Governors to get revenue which can quickly be translated into guns and ammunition.

For a long time the calumny has been broadcast throughout the United States that Britain is not anxious to end the opium traffic, because the Empire is a large producer of opium and derives immense revenues from the poppy. The charge is unfair. The opium which is manufactured into the harmful drugs that it is estimated are consumed by more than a million Americans does not come to the United States from India. Britain thinks that to cut off the production of opium at its source, which is the plan that America insists on, would be merely to drive the traffic underground, since the habits of a lifetime cannot be changed in a day. The Indian Government has already gone a long way towards restricting the traffic and sacrificed many millions by restricting exportation in all cases save with a certificate from the Government of the importing country.

The United States is anxious to do something to check the terrible drug craving which has swept all over that country, and when England says that it is not practically possible to deal so drastically with the traffic as the United States desires there is a deadlock.

International action, therefore, at present is impossible. The British principle of restricting the sale and dealing separately with the problem in each of the countries in which it is produced seems to be the only common-sense method. It sounds very well at a meeting of "uplifters" to talk wildly about the harmful drugs and of "cutting off the supply at the root," but until stable conditions are restored in China, and until there has been a long campaign of education against the evils of opium it is waste of time to give utterance to those doctrines of hazy idealism that sound so well in the mouth of the orator, and look so well on paper, but in reality are worthless.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

One thousand members for the Horticultural Society would mean 1,000 people that are actually interested in the city beautiful.

Give the Progressives a lower tariff and they don't care who makes the rest of the laws.

To paraphase an old motto, "As the days grow longer, the beer grows stronger."

If you listen intently you may hear the Toronto Globe applauding Mr. Ferguson's proposed amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act.

Apparently the only people who do not approve of more drastic penalties for bootleggers are the bootleggers themselves.

Mr. Forke, the Progressive Leader, has lost no time in declaring his party's independence in the Ottawa House. Lower tariffs are the goal at which the Progressives are aiming.

Hastings' newly appointed police constable is to receive a salary of $20 a month. There is a hint for some of our aldermanic watchdogs of the treasury.

Wise and Otherwise.

They say snuff may become popular in soceity again. Perhaps, at last and end to petting parties is in sight.

The arguments over child labor laws show we do more for infant industries than we do for infants.

In Berlin, a doctor sues for removing a double chin. He should be paid. Two chins are not better than one.

The women are rolling their stockings again, we hear.

Don't strain your eyes reading late at night. Take care of them. Skirts will be shorter this spring.

Skirts will have to be shorter. They couldn't be tighter, not without walking on crutches.

A skirt is a garment which always seems to be too long, too short, too tight or too something.

Perhaps this threatened return of snuff is a protection. It will be a great little chaperone.

Huge packing plant in Worthington, Ind., burned. As usual, we say it smelled like a thousand brides cooking.

Australopithecus Africanus is the name a London scientist gives to what he calls the missing link. Remember it, please.

In Belgium, the people want a bread probe. As usual, in bread probes, we say the staff of life is crooked.

In Oklahoma, a woman shot a young man for marrying her daughter. We believe such action a little drastic.

Another great evil of bobbed hair is you can't cuss in a barber shop.

The boyish figure for girls and the girlish figure for boys continue their popularity.

An atom is so small it cannot be measured and more than likely thinks germs are elephants.

A THOUGHT.

AMBITION.

In the valley there are roses,
Yes, and children sweet and fair;
There the kine lie down in clover;
There the church-bells call to prayer.

There are pools, in woodland shadows,
Where great, golden lilies glow;
There are friendships, sweet and holy.
In the valley far below.

But the rugged mountain beckons,
And it sets your soul on fire;
So you climb, and think by climbing,
You shall reach your heart's-desire.

But as ever, there above you,
Peaks and peaks go high and higher,
On you climb, but yet by climbing,
Fail to reach your heart's-desire.

Still the urge is strong within you;
Still your spirit knows no tire;
And you find it's in the climbing,
That you reach your heart's-desire.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Feb. 12. — There were not many fresh cattle in this morning, and nothing of importance in quality. A few of the best were picked out at steady prices, but there was only a partial clean out of over 300 left-overs. The trade is very quiet and immediate prospects somewhat uncertain. Packers claim that the wholesale butcher trade is very dull. For the present at least they are loaded up with supplies.

There was a good export demand the early part of this week, and about 1400 cattle have been shipped to seaboard by Rogers and Maybee, besides heavy shipments direct through from the west by H. P. Kennedy Co. Shippers are awaiting orders for next week.

Calves continue in a dull market.

Sheep and lambs steady.

The light run of hogs this week, in part due to bad roads, has stiffened prices, a few hogs going to outsiders at a quarter above the packers' quotations.

Prices in the various sections are as follows:

Export cattle, choice and heavy steers, $7.50 to $8.25; bulls, $4.50 to $4.75; heifers, $6.50 to $7.25; stores, $6.50 to $7.

Choice butchers, $6.50 to $7.25; medium, $5.25 to $6; common, $3.50 to $4.50; baby beeves, $8.50 to $9.

Choice fat cows, $3.50 to $5.

Stockers and feeders, choice shortkep feedrs, 1,000 to 2,000 lbs., $6.25 to $7; choice stockers, 830 to 950 lbs., $4.25 to $5; light western stock, $3.50 to $3.75; choice western, $4.50 to $5.50.

Calves dull.

Sheep and lambs steady.

Hogs, steady at $10.75 f.o.b.; $11.75 to $12 off cars; selects, off cars, $2.22 per head extra.

LINDSAY DRYS PROTEST BEER

Proposed O. T. A. Amendment Regarded as Violation of Premier's Pledge.

SEND RESOLUTION

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—Prohibitionists of Lindsay and Victoria County gathered in the town hall here and voiced their protest in no uncertain manner against the decision of the Ferguson Government to introduce an amendment to the O.T.A. which will permit the sale of stronger beer. The following resolution was passed:

Moved by Rev. Gordon M. Holmes seconded by Mr. S. Keown: "Whereas in the recent vote the citizens of Ontario have clearly declared themselves in support of the Ontario Temperance Act, and whereas the speech from the throne in the Ontario Legislature indicates in our opinion the violation of the pledge repeatedly given by Premier Ferguson to strengthen and enforce the present law, resolved that we the representatives of the temperance forces of Victoria County, register our earnest protest against the proposed amendment of the O.T.A., and pledge our support to the Premier and his government in the event of his forsaking the amendment proposed and his giving unqualified support to the further strengthening and enforcing of the O.T.A., and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Premier, to Mr. R. J. Patterson, M.P., and Mr. J. R. Mark, M.P.P.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle, ex-chairman of the license board; Mr. Newton Smale, chairman; Mr. Newman of Lorneville, and others strongly criticized Premier Ferguson, some going so far to say that although they were opposed to Mr. Ferguson in politics, they would vote for his government if it abandoned the proposed amendment.

COULD SAVE A MILLION BY CUTTING SALARIES

Montreal Liberal Suggests a Return to Pre-War Indemnities.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Herbert Marler, Liberal member for St. Lawrence-St George, Montreal, suggested in the House of Commons yesterday that the House should give the lead in reducing expenditures by consenting to a reduction in sessional indemnities.

"To what extent would you suggest our indemnities be reduced" questioned Miss Agnes MacPhail.

Mr. Marler: "I would reduce them to the pre-war basis."

Mr. Marler explained that more than one million dollars would be saved if the indemnities of the Senate and the House were reduced to the pre-war figure.

BRITAIN SEEKS GOLD STANDARD

Will Revert at Earliest Possible Opportunity, Says Churchill.

NOT DEFINITE.

LONDON, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—That it is the intention of the British Government to revert to the gold standard at the earliest possible moment was announced in the House of Commons Thursday by Winston Spencer Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who was replying to a question put to him on the subject.

"His Majesty's Government," said Mr. Churchill, "are in full agreement with the declared intentions of previous administrations to revert to the gold standard at the earliest possible moment. But I am not in a position to make a more definite statement at present."

Being plied with further questions, Mr. Churchill maintained that he was unable to give further information and expressed the hope that the members would not press him. Asked about the Italian debt, Mr. Churchill said that while he was in Paris, the Italian Minister of Finance had expressed to him a desire that conversations on this question should be initiated within the next few months.

TWO MINISTERS QUIT CHURCHES

Rev. F. H. McIntosh of Lindsay and Rev. Mr. Davies of Woodville.

PLEDGED TO UNION

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—At a meeting of the Lindsay Presbytery held here Thursday, the resignation of Rev. F. H. McIntosh, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Lindsay, and Rev. Mr. Davies, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Woodville, came up for consideration. The congregations of both churches voted out of the Union, as did practically all the churches in the Union, and as a result both pastors tendered their resignations to the Presbytery. The meeting yesterday was an animated one, and resulted in the resignations being laid on the table, the ministers being relieved of their pastoral duties and the congregations of any financial obligations to the ministers. This action does not in any way interefere with the decision of the Unionists of the Lindsay congregation to worship with Cambridge Street Methodist congregation next Sunday

FLOOD IN QUEBEC.

Ice Jam in Moes River Raises Water Five Feet.

MILBY, Que., Feb. 13.—One of the earliest and worst floods in recent years is being experienced along the Norton-Sherbrooke highway, as a result of the thaw of the past three days. Early Wednesday the ice in Moss River started to move out, and as a consequence an ice jam was brought about in the Salmon River, which rose five feet.

The rural postman was forced to abandon rounds and residents have been unable to get to town from their farms.

OTTAWA Ont., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Grote Stirling, the new Conservative member for Yale, B.C., was introduced in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and C. H. Dickie (Con., Nanaino).

A round of applause greeted Mr. Stirling's entrance, and applause was renewed when having been presented to the Speaker, he took his seat in the House.

COBOURG UNIONSTS JOIN METHODISTS ON SUNDAY NEXT

Pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sends in His Resignation.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT.

Unionists Will Retain Membership in Mother Church Till June 10.

COBOURG, Feb. 13.—Following the vote which was completed in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Wednesday night of last week, which decided against entering the United Church of Canada, the Unionists have held several meetings and will go over to the Methodist Church next Sunday with their pastor, Rev. W. A. Bremner.

Minister Has Resigned.

Rev. W. A. Bremner has sent his resignation of the pastorate to the Presbytery of Peterboro, asking to be released as soon as possible. This will take place at the next meeting of Presbytery on March 10, it is expected, as the resignation was not put in on time to be dealt with at the meeting of Peterboro Presbytery at Campbellford Wednesday.

Meeting Follows Vote.

Following the non-concurrence vote on Church Union, the Unionists met the following evening to decide upon the course to be pursued. In the meantime a cordial invitation has been sent by the pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. R. F. Stillman, and official board, to come and worship with them until June. It was unanimously decided by those present not to remain in the Presbyterian Church, and unanimously decided to accept the invitation from the Methodist Church. A committee of three was appointed from each church to confer upon the matter of the two bodies uniting. For the Unionist body the committee was the minister, Mr. Bremner, Col. J. W. Odell, and Mr. A. W. Young, town clerk. For the Methodist Church, the minister, Rev. R. F. Stillman, Mrs. W. H. Hopper, recording steward, and Mr. A. J. Gould, superintendent of the Sunday School.

Some of the terms of agreement arranged are that the Unionists will retain their membership in St. Andrew's Church until June 10, and will retain their separate finances to support Rev. W. A. Bremner and the budget of the Presbyterian Church, so far as they are able. The superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday School, Col. J. W. Odell, inspector of public schools, will be associate superintendent with Mr. A. J. Gould, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School.

The Unionists of St. Andrews will worship as a unit with the Methodist congregation up to June 10, 1925.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed as suggested in the basis of Union for the United services of the United Church.

It is stated that nine out of the thirteen members of the session have handed in their resignations to the Moderator; also that those who are leaving St. Andrews include over one hundred members and adherents, half of the Board of Managers, a majority from the Sunday School staff of teachers and from the choir, the Sunday School superintendent and the teacher of the Young People's Bible Class. A large number of resignations have been sent in.

Preached Farewell Sermons.

There were large congregations at St. Andrew's Church last Sunday when Rev. W. A. Bremner preached his farewell sermons and defined the attitude which he had taken on the question of Church Union. As his resignation cannot take effect until March 10, he is responsible for a pulpit supply up to that time, but will not preach himself. The membership of St. Andrews before the Church Union vote was 413. The outcome of the vote has been a matter of deep interest to citizens generally here.

EGG MARKET.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — (Canadian Press). — All reports point to increased egg receipts. The quality of arrivals is good, and the demand such that locally produced stock is kept cleaned up. A car of United States fresh is reported at Calgary. The Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, has announced that the European fowl pest is not spreading and headway is being made in its eradication. Several of the separate state restrictions on the shipment of live poultry have been modified during the past two weeks. Many poultry shippers in the United States are finding it difficult to carry on business.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—Arrivals, 272 cattle and calves, 2,600 hogs and three sheep.

Activity was more pronounced on the cattle market this morning, and with stronger demand in evidence, prices were slightly firmer.

The hog market was unsettled and weaker, thick smooths being quoted at $10.15 to $10.25.

There were not sufficient supplies to establish the sheep and lamb market.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 12.—(Canadian Press).—The wheat market continued nervous and erratic during the early part of the session today, but price fluctuations were held within fairly narrow bounds, with the close steady, 2 cents higher for May and July futures, while October closed 1-4 cents lower.

Following the opening, which was 3 cents to 4½ cents higher for May in spite of sharply lower Liverpool cables, the market began to display weakness and prices declined to $1.88, but here good support came out from exporters and shippers. Millers were also picking up considerable wheat. While the buying power was not heavy, it was sufficient to take up the slack as offerings were not pressing. At no time did the market show any particular strength and the bulges were hard to hold.

Liverpool cables, which opened 2 1-4 pence to 3 3-4 pence lower, firmed up later and closer 3-4 to 1 1-4 pence lower.

With the United States markets closed, there was little outside news coming through.

MONTREAL GRAIN

MONTREAL, Feb. 12—(Canadian Press).—Little improvement was noted in the foreign demand for Canadian grain here to-day at the lower level of prices, and as to-day was a holiday in the United States, the enquiry from that source was also of a limited character and the market on the whole was dull. Owing to the continued weakness in Winnipeg for oats, local dealers were again forced to reduce prices for Canadian Western grades another three cents per bushel, and Ontario grades one cent per bushel. Rejected oats sold at 16 1-4 per bushel under the Winnipeg May option track Fort William for shipment. Ontario No. 3 white was quoted at 63 cents, and No. 4 grade at 61 cents per bushel.

The feature of the millfeed trade was the weaker feeling and prices were reduced $2 per ton on all lines. This was attributed to the recent declines in flour. The demand for rolled oats was limited and prices were steady.

While prices for fresh extra eggs were steady, a reduction of two cents per dozen was made for fresh firsts. A stronger feeling developed in butter and prices scored an advance of 6 to 1½ cents per pound. The cheese market was moderately active and firm, with fodder-made No. 1 white and colored cheese quoted at 20 1-4 to 20½ cents per pound, and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19½ cents per pound.

Beans were quoted at $2.90 per bushel.

TAKE OVER BONDS.

Succession Duty Free Bonds Subject of Legislation at This Session.

TORONTO, Feb. 13 (Canadian Press).—The problem of the loss occasioned to the provincial treasury through the frequent use of succession duty free bonds in estates which the Drury Government sought to meet by its commission to Peter Smith and to Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., is now the subject of legislation by the Ferguson Government. The first reading was given yesterday in the legislature to a bill brought in by Hon. W. H. Price, K.C., provincial treasurer, which provides that the government shall have the authority to take over such bonds as they may be presented in the estate at fair market valuation

MENNONITE ACRES SOLD FOR MILLION

Deal, Reported in Saskatoon, With Chicago Capitalists.

SASKATOON, Sask., Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—That an agreement was signed on Wednesday by leaders of old colony Mennonites, of Hague district for the sale to Chicago capitalists of 40,000 acres of their land with livestock and equipment, for stated by F. A. Williams, of Winnipeg, representing the United States interests here yesterday. The price at which the sale is to be made was not stated, but it is believed nearly a million dollars is involved.

While many of the Old Colony Mennonites in the Hague district have already gone to Mexico, there still remains a considerable number of members of the colony who are remaining in Canada, waiting for the sale of their lands before making the trek. A total of some 80,000 acres in the district has remained in the hands of the colony, and the 40,000 acres involved in the contract signed Wednesday is part of this block. It is understood the colony has the right to include as much more of the block as its members can deliver.

The U.S. capitalists undertake to buy the land to re-sell it on terms to the Russian Mennonites, who have come to Canada in the past two years, it is understood.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, LONDON, REPORTED TO BE IN DANGER

Is Crumbling Like Other Sacred Edifices of the Old World.

EXPERTS INVESTIGATE

Did Builders of Centuries Ago Allow Graft to Weaken Work?

By CLIFFORD L. DAY.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(United Press).—Europe's historic cathedrals are crumbling in startling numbers.

Experts are baffled by the increasing toll which a mysterious decay or instability is taking among mediaeval landmarks in isolated parts of the Old World.

Were the old-time builders unwise in their selection of foundations? Did graft and profiteering cause inferior material to be used even then? Or is some gigantic cooling or boiling process underway within the bowels of the earth whereby the crust of the globe in this area is contracting or expanding?

Whatever the reason, the latest victim is St. Paul's, whose familiar dome is the nose on the face of London. Already the giant arc is tilted after the fashion of Lord Beatty's famous cap. The condition is precarious. Any day the huge pillars may crumple up. Sixty thousand tons of dome, carrying thousands of other tons with it, would come crashing down to the busy streets several hundred feet below. Hundreds of passersby and hundreds of worshippers might be crushed.

The danger has been rendered more vivid by previous calamaties of the kind in Europe since 1900. It was only a few months ago that the dome of St. Domonic's Cathedral at Palermo collapsed into an appalling riot of dust and ashes. The magnificent Campanile of St. Mark's at Venice, towering 322 feet above the famous square and the Doge's Palace, met a similar fate in July, 1902. It suddenly crumbled to ruins with a report which reverberated like a dynamite explosion, terrorizing the entire city.

Fissures and cracks have appeared overnight in many another old Continental super-church or church within recent years, sometimes with fatal consequences. In England itself, St. Paul's is by no means the only famous cathedral which is or has been under the shadow of sudden disintergation. The historic fanes of Winchester, Lincoln, Durham, Peterborough and Salisbury have all within recent years been in danger of collapsing, in whole or in part. Only quick action and expert engineering skill have saved them. And there are many Englishmen to whose memory the disaster to Chichester Cathedral tower and spire, in 1861, still is fresh.

The way Chichester went to pieces is typical. A rent appears. A little crushed mortar trickles out. More cracks, more mortar, the ingredients of the inward construction sifting out as does the sawdust from a torn rag-doll. And then the crash.

When Chichester crashed, its tower arches were over 700 years old, the tower itself 650 years, and the spire 450. The arches, like the piers of St. Paul's, had for a long time shown signs of settlement and weakness. Cracks and fissures began to appear, crushed mortar poured from them, flakes of the facing stone fell, and the braces began to bend. All last-minute efforts at reinforcement were in vain. Heavy stones burst out and fell, the core of one pier poured out, crushed to powder. The spire listed slightly, and then, in telescopic fashion, crushed into the middle of the church, 6,000 tons of ruin.

With the details of that catastrophe now recalled, Britons in many towns and cities are fearful of a local duplication. When Winchester Cathedral showed signs of wasting away, there was a marked falling off in the habitual praise of the ancient architects and builders, mostly Norman, for the genius and foresight of their work generally. Winchester was built on the borders of a bog, the walls began to crack some years ago, and the great columns of the nave threatened to let the roof collapse.

Lincoln Cathedral commenced to show the marks of age, and investigation revealed that its stately and substantial-looking columns really were hollow. They had originally been filled with rubble and poor mortar which gradually crumbled to powder as years passed. Some of the cracks in the tower became nearly a foot wide, and 700 tons of liquid cement had to be pumped into them. By last September, seven miles of such cracks had been so filled in, and there is still a lot of pumping to be done.

When disintegration of Salisbury Cathedral was investigated, it was found that the spire and tower added to the building in 1330, seventy years after the main building was erected, had been resting for nearly 600 years on a hallow wall.

The original designers of Peterborough's huge edifice imposed on the superstructure so great a strain that recently the walls began to bulge outwards and threatened to collapse. In this case, as in others, the death-watch beetle, dry rot and wet rot also have contributed to the havoc.

The disintegration has also extended to a number of other historical buildings in England, notably the Houses of Parliament. The imposing Parliamentary edifice is, however, thought to be suffering only on the exterior. Like many humans, it is succumbing to the fogs and general atmosphere of London. Rot is eating its way into the ornamentation and fabric, and the fall of lumps or ornamental work is no uncommon experience. Westminster Abbey is afflicted with a similar malady.

Over many parts of the Continent and England, the work of restoration and preservation is being feverishly rushed before it is too late, but the Britons are worrying mostly over St. Paul's. A wave of sentiment on behalf of this massive pile is sweeping the country, and everything possible is being done to avert disaster.

THE COUGH OR COLD That Settles on the Lungs Is Hard to Get Rid of

These are the kin dthat are dangerous; the kind that weaken the lungs, the kind that allow the germs of consumption to get a foothold in the system.

Mr. John E. Luloff, Golden Lake, Ont., writes:—"Last year I had a cold, and a cough which seemed to stick on my chest. I tried different preparations, but they did not seem to help me any. I was advised, by a friend, to try and when I had taken a few doses I began to feel that it was doing me good, so I kept at it and inside of a week I was relieved of my trouble."

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

NEW ZEALAND EATS RAISINS

Southern Islanders Consume More Small Fruits Than Others.

FRESNO, Cal., Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—New Zealand eats more raisins per capita than any other country, according to a statement issued by a raisin growers' organization here.

Residents of New Zealand average 4.40 pounds of raisins and 1.20 pounds of currants every year. England eats 1.85 pounds of raisins and 2.77 pounds of currants to each person annually. England's large consumption of currants is attributed to their wide use in sweet breads, cakes and puddings.

In the United States the per capita consumption of raisins is 2.96 pounds and that of currants only .34 of a pound.

CHINESE CONTROL TAHITI

Peaceful Penetration of South Sea Isles Going On.

PAPEETE, Tahiti, Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—It seems to be increasingly evident that the destiny of these islands is to become Chinese in the not distant future. A steady immigration from China, together with a heavy birthrate among those already in the colony, indicates an early preponderance of Chinese over the remnants of the native race.

Gradually but surely native lands are passing to Chinese ownership. The vanilla industry is already under their control. It is only a matter of time, in the opinion of all observers, when the whole commerce of the colony will be theirs.

CHAPTER XVII.

Recklessly Thorough.

It was after dark when the Wreck sneaked his ridiculous little grip out of the bunk house and carried it up to the shed where the flivver stood. He tossed the grip into the car and placed an unlighted lantern where he could easily find it. Then he walked back to the kitchen. Sally was there, pretending to be busy, but her mind was not on her task.

"Go upstairs and throw your grips out of the window," he said. "I'll be waiting for 'em."

"I've been thinking," said Sally. "Suppose he won't tell?"

"He will. But I want your gun."

"You've got to be careful, Henry."

"I'll be careful."

She saw that his mood seemed to be wholly calm, and it reassured her.

"The gun will be in the small bag," she said, as she went out of the kitchen.

But before she tossed her grips out of the window, down into the shadow where the Wreck stood, she took the precaution of emptying the cylinder of the six-shooter. She was thinking less about the safety of Chester Underwood than she was of the welfare of the Wreck.

The man who waited in the shadow picked up the grips as they thudded on the ground and hastened away in the direction of the shed. He had several things to do before he was ready to recover the missing front wheel. That would be the final detail, he decided. He was not assailed by the smallest doubt that he would find what he sought.

He went over to the shed where the big Underwood car was kept and found a couple of five-gallon cans. Two big metal drums, filled with gasoline, stood outside, and a hemisphere of moon supplied light enough for his work. He filled the cans and returned with them to the tool shed, where he flooded the flivver's tank to the brim. Then he made a second trip, refilling his cans and putting their metal tops firmly in place. This gave him a ten-gallon reserve, which he lashed firmly to the running-board of the flivver.

A third trip to the place where the big car stood carried him inside the shed, where he fumbled for a minute in the semi-darkness, found something on the work bench and slipped it into his pocket. Outside, he paused in front of the gasoline drums and considered the idea of emptying the remainder of their contents. He decided it was not necessary. Back to the tool-shed, he seated himself on the ground outside and waited.

It was nearly ten o'clock. There were lights upstairs in the ranch house, a light in the kitchen. But the bunk house was dark. He hoped that Charley McSween was in bed. But he wished that Sally would hurry up.

"I suppose my nerves will be all shot to pieces," he grumbled. "Keep me waiting long enough and I'm not fit for anything."

A sound of voices reached him and he rose softly to his feet. Presently he could see two figures in the dim light. They were approaching the tool-shed, strolling, all too slowly to please him. The Wreck was tense and jumpy. He could hear what Sally was saying.

Chester laughed pleasantly.

"All you've got to do is use a little common sense," he said, modestly.

"Indeed, yes," declared Sally, heartily. "Where did you say you found the wheel?"

"I didn't say," replied Chester, shrewdly. "I'm just going to wait until I see whether somebody else can find it."

They were close to the tool-shed.

"But I wouldn't tell anybody," said Sally.

Chester laughed again.

"Perhaps I'll tell you to-morrow," said Chester.

The Wreck stepped briskly out of the shadow in which he had been standing.

"Stick 'em up! Quick!"

There was a smothered exclamation from Chester.

"Up, I said," snapped the Wreck.

Slowly the young man's hands went up, as he stared through bewildered eyes at a six-shooter whose muzzle was within a foot of his stomach.

"Y-you!" he gasped.

"Me," affirmed the Wreck. "Talk low and only speak when you're told to. Sally, take the gun"

She stepped forward and he slipped it into her hands.

"Keep it on him," he commanded. "If he makes a queer move, you know what to do."

He moved behind the prisoner and ordered him to lower his hands behind his back. With a piece of heavy cord he bound them tightly, until Chester squirmed. Then he relieved Sally of the gun.

"You—you're the hold-up man!" spluttered Chester, when he found his voice again. "You're both in it! Now I know——"

The muzzle of the six-shooter was pressed against a tender spot between his ribs.

Chester's glance went appealingly to Sally, but he did not find any encouragement in her face.

"Where's the wheel?',

Chester drew a deep breath.

"I won't tell you," he answered.

"Give you half a minute to tell," said the Wreck. "And remember: I'm desperate and I'm nervous. What happens to you is nothing in my life. If you don't tell me where it is, I'm going to beat you to a finish. And if you don't tell then, I'm going to shoot you."

Again Chester made an appeal with his eyes in the direction of Sally.

"Better do what he says," she advised, coldly. "He's mean when he has a gun in his hands."

"Sally! I didn't think——"

"Don't talk to me. Talk to him."

"Where's the wheel?" repeated the Wreck.

Chester glanced toward the ranch house. There was no hope of help from there, even if he shouted. And something in the tense figure of the Wreck warned him not to shout.

"You give me a fair chance to fight and I'll show you," he said.

"Not a chance," observed the Wreck. "I'm not fighting to-night. Fifteen seconds gone. Come through."

"I—I——"

Chester was not a coward, but he knew when the cards were against him.

"Time's up," said the Wreck, significantly. "Now!"

Chester sighed, and his figure sagged.

"It's in the back of the car," he said.

There was a smothered exclamation from the Wreck, who went to the flivver to investigate. The rear compartment, where baggage was usually stored, was never locked, and he lifted up the lid and thrust a hand inside. He could feel something under an old piece of tarpaulin that he had used at odd times for a tent. It was the wheel.

As he hauled it into view it angered him to think of the hours he had spent in searching.

"Got it?" called Sally.

"Yep. Keep him there until I light the lantern."

The lantern lighted, he placed it in a far corner of the tool-shed, where it would throw an illumination light on the work he had to do.

"Bring him inside," ordered the Wreck.

Chester, with Sally following, walked into the shed and the Wreck closed the door behind them. He motioned Chester to a place against the wall.

"Keep the gun on him," he told Sally. "I'll be through in five minute's."

It took less than two minutes to slide a jack under the front axle, lift it and kick the soap-box aside. He slipped the wheel into place, adjusted the lock nut, carefully inserted the cotter pin and spread the ends. When the hub cap was screwed on and the jack removed, the flivver stood on four wheels again.

"You wait till they get you for this," said Chester, grimly.

The Wreck laughed, threw back the door and began rolling the flivver into the open. He did not dare to start the motor. He tied Chester's feet together.

"We're going to lock you in here," he said. "You're lucky it's no worse. We're not going away just yet. One of us will be outside. If you do any yelling, I'll come back and gag you. Maybe I'll shoot you. I don't know which. Come on, Sally."

She joined him outside and watched him close the door of the shed and slip the padlock into place. He had already extinguished the lantern.

"If he hollers," said the Wreck, loud enough to be heard within the shed, "shoot through the door."

He winked as he spoke, then hurried off in the direction of the ranch house, leaving Sally to stand guard, with the gun in her hand.

There was still a light in one of the upper windows and he moved as cautiously as possible as he neared the house. He remembered exactly where a ladder lay, alongside the wall, and went directly to it. Carrying it to a corner of the building and raising it, he rested it gently against the clapboards. Then he mounted cautiously. Nearing the eaves, he groped overhead, found something with his fingers, then reached into a hip pocket. The jaws of the pliers were sharp and the telephone wire parted with a thrumming sound.

The Wreck did not wait to learn whether anybody within heard the noise, but slid down the ladder and hurried away. Twenty yards distand from the house he bagan groping in the grass and presently found what he sought. As he began walking again he was coiling wire in his hands. The telephone line, until it reached the spruce several hundred yards distant, was carried on a row of poles. He followed it as far as the first pole, cut the wire again, then hurried in the direction of the tool-shed, with the coil over his arm.

Sally, nervous at the delay and not understanding the cause of it, was standing guard at the door. Without a word of explanation, he tossed the coiled wire into the bottom of the car.

"Now, help push," he said, in a low voice. "I don't want to wake the dead unless I have to."

Together, they got the flivver into reluctant motion. Without her, the Wreck would not have essayed the task, for it would have been far too slow but Sally was strong, and between them they got the machine moving at a fair walking pace. Fifty yards distant from the shed they cut into the wagon tracks that marked the trail, and for a while the going was somewhat easier.

"Keep heaving at it," he said, to encourage her.

"I am," panted Sally.

They were some two hundred yards from the ranch house when the flivver began to encounter a slight up-grade. It seemed to become suddenly heavy. Presently, despite their utmost efforts it came to a stop.

"Good enough," gasped the Wreck. "Climb in."

She was in the seat when he laid hold of the crank. The first half dozen pulls brought no response. He paused an instant to recover breath, then set his teeth and yanked again. There was a furious bellow from beneath the hood and the flivver quivered like a frightened horse.

"Better hurry," urged Sally, with an anxious look toward the house.

He was leaping into the seat as she spoke, advancing the gas lever until the flivver roared and trembled appallingly. Then the lights switched on and the car plunged forward, up the grade toward the sheltering spruce.

In a minute they made the turn that shut the house from view. The road became winding, but he did not permit the fact to interfere with speed. Sally held fast to the seat, trying to realize that they were actually in flight. She knew better than to offer a word of caution when the Wreck was driving he resented suggestion. Besides, she was just as anxious as he to put distance between the flivver and the ranch.

After a mile of going he brought the car to a sudden stop and leaped out, leaving the engine running. She saw him rush off among the low trees and thought for half a minute that he must have lost his mind. Then she caught sight of his figure outlined against the moonlit sky. It was perched at the top of a slender pole that rose above the tree-tops. Before she could conjecture what he was doing, he slid from sight again. Bursting back into the trail, he swung aboard again and they were off.

"Just wanted to cut the wire some more," he said, between gasps. "Makes it a little harder for 'em."

BRITISH OPIUM POLICY IS BASED ON INDIA'S HABIT

Fear of Revolt Chief Item—Exportation Stopped, Says Lord Sydenham.

NATIVES EAT OPIUM

Sikhs and Rajputs Show No Injurious Effects—Do Hardest Work.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—India presents a continual problem to the British Empire, a problem that requires delicate handling.

Therein lies one of the reasons for the attitude of the British delegate upon the American demands at the recent Opium Conference in Geneva.

Great Britain seems to prefer criticism from the United States upon her opium policy rather than to risk actual trouble with her Indian subjects by endorsing a too drastic anti-opium programme.

This opium affair has not strengthened Anglo - American friendship. On the contrary, it has led to some small display of bitterness on both sides. There seems to be a lack of full understanding.

Has No Regrets.

Many sound British thinkers endorse the British attitude, and their views are interesting.

Lord Sydenham, once Governor of Bombay, knows India well and discussed the Opium Conference at Geneva, and its possible effects upon the British relations with India, at some length in an interview. Said he:

"Britain has nothing wherewith to reproach herself regarding her opium policy.

"The position at Geneva certainly showed the danger of the League of Nations and of dealing with the sort of tribunals established under its auspices. It seems as if Great Britain was placed on trial before a court where two sentimental anti-opium extremists, personified by Representative Porter and Bishop Brent, acted as accusers. The majority of the rest of those present had no interest in opium at all, but they were entitled to vote against Britain.

Exportation Stopped.

"Under The Hague Convention, Great Britain promised to stop the exportation of opium. That promise was faithfully carried out. There is no export from India now, although an infinitesimal quantity of opium may be smuggled out.

"It cannot be too clearly stated that the entire world's export of opium comes from China and Persia. If opium goes to the United States, it is these countries with which America must deal. As far as the British Empire is concerned there is no exportation in the ordinary sense of the word.

"With regard to India, the position is this: For 2000 years the natives have been in the habit of taking opium internally in the shape of pills, and it is practically impossible to end the habit. It is true our revenue officers might prevent the cultivation to some extent, but it must be remembered that opium also grows wild in the native states, and it is almost impossible to interfere.

Eaten in India.

"Opium is eaten in India by the most virile tribes of the population, like the Sikhs and the Rajputs, men who do the hardest kinds of work. It is most probable that they would be unable to work without it. The injurious effects upon them are negligible.

"In military expeditions in India w eoften had to serve out opium as a daily ration.

"It must be remembered, also, that if opium is suppressed there are many far worse hemp products, especially bhang, one of the most degenerating drugs known. If opium growing were prevented in India, the natives might fly to these substitutes.

"The British case is this: It is impossible to stop opium growing in India, but Britain has prevented its exportation. America should deal with the countries actually exporting opium, not with us."

MALE IDIOTS IN MAJORITY

German Statistics Show More Men Than Women Insane.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—Germania, a local daily with a love for statistics, has collected a lot of figures on German population from which it derives authority for the following statements: Ten out of every 1,000 men and three out of every 1,000 women are idiots. On the other hand, out of 1,000 men there are 10 geniuses, whereas among 1,000 women there are none.

When it comes to average intelligence, the women are ahead, 595 out of 1,000 being in that category, while only 380 out of 1,000 men thus qualify.

Radio Battery Economy

To completely enjoy your Radio set, learn to operate it economically. There are practically only two parts which, with constant operation, wear out—tubes and batteries. Barring accidents, the tubes will give faithful performance for many months. The batteries, because of their ACTIVE part in radio operation, do become exhausted and need to be replaced with fresh batteries.

To get the greatest economy in radio batteries always use Eveready—long life is built into them at the factory, under the supervision of the greatest electro-chemical laboratory in the world. Eveready batteries are made in sizes for every radio purpose—each battery gives the longest service for its size of any radio battery made.

CHILDREN WELCOME WOODCRAFT EXPERT

Canadian-American Naturalist a Recent Visitor to London.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—If you had been passing through the rather dingy neighborhood of Bunhill Fields, in the city of London, one night recently, you would have marvelled to hear the wild cries of children as if in the ecstasies of delightful enjoyment and the roar of young men filled with the joy and happiness of life. Something strange was happening in the Memorial Buildings in Roscoe street, and children stepping airily like fairies were running about in the darkness and writing with lamps of fire a greeting to a very remarkable visitor to London—Ernest Thompson Seton, the Canadian-American naturalist, who has written books on the wild life of the Western world, and is the founder of the woodcraft movement. Mr. Seton is Grand Chieftain of the Order of Woodcraft Chivalry, and this was a grand council held in his honor on the occasion of a visit to this country after many years spent in the United States.

The woodcrafters sat in a circle, with their carved totem poles, and in their green and pink robes and leopard skins and gave their deafening howls, sang their funny little songs and listened to the Indian stories told them by their honored Chief. As Grand Chieftain it was Mr. Seton's duty to light the sacred fire, symbolic of the spirit and of the impulses of woodcraft thousands of years ago. He laid the altar cloth in the centre of the circle and lit four candles, representing the cardinal virtues of Truth, Beauty, Fortitude and Love, and inscribed on the cloth were other symbols representing the 12 woodcraft laws.

The Sacred Fire.

It would have been nothing less than sacrilege to light the sacred fire with a match. So using his "rubbing-sticks" and a buckskin bow, he produced friction and then a spark. He kindled the spark into flame by waving his hands and transferring it to a mouse's nest, chosen for its dryness, and when the nest was well alight lit the four candles, saying "Thus we light the sacred fire," he turned in triumph to the woodcrafters, who howled "Blue Sky, Blue Sky." It was one of the weirdest and yet most inspiring spectacles seen in the heart of London on a winter's evening.

Be on your guard for signs of Pyorrhea

Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so healthy teeth depend upon healthy gums.

Bleeding gums are the first sign of Pyorrhea's approach. Then they begin to recede and the healthy pink color gives place to a pale, whitish tint. Soon the teeth are loosened, pus pockets form and drain disease-breeding poisons through the system.

Forhan's For the Gums contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession) to neutralize oral poisons, and keep the gums in a firm, strong, healthy condition. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

DOCTOR TELLS HOW TO FOIL INSOMNIA

Regular Habits and Diet Are Keynotes, Says District Health Officer.

"If you suffer from insomnia try the following," said Dr. William L. Munson, District State Health Officer, in a radio talk broadcast recently from Station WGY:

"Regulate your diet and eat only well balanced meals, making the evening meal especially light.

"Divert your mind from the work of the day by reading some light literature or playing some interesting game that requires little concentration.

"An hour or so before retiring, and this should be early and regular, take a brisk walk in the open air, followed by a hot bath, and then just before 'settling down for the night' take a cup of hot cocoa and eat a couple of crackers. Be sure that your sleeping room is well ventilated—that means that you have your windows open. See that the bed clothing is sufficient to keep you warm, but not too heavy or too much."

"Insomnia or the inability to sleep," stated Dr. Munson, "is one of the commonest complaints of civilized man. It is not a disease. It is a symptom or manifestation of something else. Most people require eight or nine hours' sleep each night to 'carry on'—to be at their top notch of efficiency. It may be true that there are a few persons who require only five or six hours sleep in the twenty-four, but they are the exceptions which prove the rule. Eight hours for work, eight hours for recreation and play and eight hours for sleep is a fair division of the day. Insomnia may vary from occasional loss of sleep to pronounced wakefulness due to serious physical or mental disease.

"It is rather unusual for physicians to have patients consult them for insomnia alone. For some reason most people do not consider this symptom of enough importance to pay a visit to their doctor. They wait until it is just one of many complaints of a nervous or physical breakdown. This is a wrong procedure. Many times if a person afflicted with insomnia would consult his physician at the beginning, serious impairment of health and great loss of time might be avoided.

"The causes of insomnia are many and varied. Pain from organic diseases, the beginning symptoms of acute communicable diseases, restlessness and headache from certain definite diseases of the nervous system, the discomfort and irritability resulting from skin disorders, athe fer and apprehension common in diseases of the heart and lungs, are frequently the causes of very distressing loss of sleep! There is also a distinct form of insomnia due to the abuse of coffee, tea, tobacco or alcohol. Nervousness from mental overwork, worry or weakness from long and serious illness are also among the common causes of insomnia.

"Many persons have troublesome insomnia and never go to the doctor for help. How large this number is no one knows, but these people are the ones in whom we are most interested. The symptom is usually caused by poor personal hygiene, bad habits of living or customs that have gradually grown upon the individual and which are hard to break. Among these are irregular hours for meals and sleep, hearty meals just before retiring, too much tobacco, or worry, and reading in bed until the 'small hours of the morning,' the lack of proper exercise in the fresh air, lack of proper ventilation during working hours and occasionally overwork in mental endeavors.

"If you want good health—and who doesn't?—you must observe the rules of personal hygiene. Regularity is the first rule—in sleep, diet, work or play. Unless you guard well your diet, take enough exercise and have good ventilation in your 'workshop' you must pay in the loss of 'pep' and efficiency. Unless you follow these simple rules, you cannot expect to be 'in the pink.' Remember the experience of the army—the same routine and regularity reduced the fat fellow and built up the skinny one. This is paradoxical but true.

"There is but one way properly to treat insomnia, that is first to find out the cause. This can be done only by a competent physician after a careful examination. You should have an examination at least once a year in order to check up and 'take stock' of where you stand physically.

"It seems almost needless to advise you not to take drugs or patent medicines prescribed by yourself. If your insomnia is such as to require opiates to control it you most certainly need the supervision of a physician. Drugs that are effective in insomnia should never be taken except upon the advice of a doctor—others are valueless.

"Refreshing sleep is complete mental and physical relaxation."

GERMAN USES X-RAY TO BUILD UP BODY

Berlin Scientist Reports That He Has Been Successful in Retarding Senility.

As a result of the experience gained in the last ten years, Dr. Manfred Frankel of Berlin, roentgenologist and endocrinologist and an instructor at Leopolds-Akademie, Lippe-Detmold, Germany, has reported to the medical profession in Europe that he has discovered a technic for the use of the X-rays by means of which the glandular system is strengthened and its functions stimulated.

Dr. Frankel calls his method of using the X-rays bio-positive or life-giving as compared to the use of the X-rays for destructive purposes such as the eradication of malignant growths.

In the reports of his clinical cases Dr. Frankel has described the results obtained when he has used X-rays to fight cancer, to retard senility and to treat epilepsy.

Hitherto the X-ray has been used in the main in diagnosis and to destroy tumors. In the early cases Dr. Frankel found that the application of the X-rays had a bio-positive effect as well as a bio-negative one. This led to experimentation with the result that he reports he has perfected a method of X-ray application that has been successful in three main directions—the battle against cancer, a treatment for premature senility and senility in general and a treatment for epilepsy.

Says X Ray Prevents Cancer

Medical statistics indicate that a certain percentage of women suffer from cancer after a certain age. Dr. Frankel found that the women patients under his care who had been subjected to X-ray treatment for various purposes were far below the normal number of their age who suffered from cancer. He reported that he found 35 per cent. fewer cancer cases among the patients in his charge than were found among women not subjected to the healing treatment of X-rays. His conclusion is that the endocrine system, through the application of the X-rays, has been restored to a state in which the cancer cannot generally exist. He maintains that the applications of the X-rays has prevented cancer in many instances.

One clinical case reported by Dr. Frankel is that of a woman of 50 who had 160 mm. blood pressure. She had a poor circulation, a swelling of the neck and was nervous and hypersensitive. She took no interest in life, suffered from insomnia and palpitation of the heart. Eight X-ray treatments were administered, three days between the treatments. An improvement was noted after four weeks of treatment. The blood pressure dropped to normal. Heart palpitations ceased. No physical complaints were apparent in the patient. She lost her flabbiness. There has been no relapse in the three years the woman has been under observation.

Dr. Frankel reports other cases in which the X-rays have been used for healing and bodily restoration. The principle used in the treatment, according to Dr. Frankel, is the application of X-rays in very small doses. The doses vary according to the sensitiveness of the various glands to the X-ray.

A report is made by Dr. Frankel on a grave case of cancer. The woman was so far advanced in the disease that operation was no longer possible. She was anemic and greatly weakened. She was treated six months with X-rays, and, according to Dr. Frankel, the cancer was arrested. The patient began to gain in weight and strength. Some of the tumors decreased in size. The patient, who had been given up as lost, continued to live for five years comfortably and died of an attack of influenza.

Reports Cure of Epilepsy Cases

In the opinion of Dr. Frankel cancer becomes possible when the glandular system has become weakened and its resistance lowered. In such cases the X-rays are used locally on the cancerous growth. But that is not enough, says Dr. Frankel. The entire system must be strengthened and revitalized if the cancer is to be overcome. Hitherto, according to Dr. Frankel, the mistake has been to consider cancer a local disease. He says that the problem is not only to treat the cancer but the patient who has the cancer. In this direction he claims to have had considerable success.

Epilepsy has always been assumed to be incurable. Dr. Frankel's opinion is that epilepsy is a disturbance of the glandular system and that it can be cured by improving the functioning of the glands. The clinical reports describe the cure of eighteen cases of epileptic women and of one man. The Women's Hospital of the University of Munich has published statements to corroborate the X-ray treatment of epilepsy by the Frankel method. Steinach and Holzknecht in Vienna and Benjamin in New York have cited cases to corroborate Dr. Frankel's statements on the retardation of senility.

Consumption has been treated by Dr. Frankel by the X-ray, which is applied to the diseased lung itself as well as to the endocrine system. This method has found recognition in some European hospitals, tuberculosis clinics and sanitariums.

Dr. Frankel's book, "Die Verjuengung der Frau" has recently been published in Switzerland. Reports of his work have been made by Dr. Frankel in "Strahlentherapie," Berlin; "Fortschritt fur Roentgenstrahlen," Hamburg; "Deutsche Medizinische Wochen Shrifft, Central Blatt fur Gyaekologie," "Archives for Entwicklungs Geschichte and Vererbungs."

TWO MOTHERS FOR CHILDREN

One Essentially Maternal For Babyhood, Other For Developing Years.

FATHERS HELP.

NEW YORK Feb. 13—Two mothers for each child. Impossible, you say. To be sure, but it would be the ideal way to raise a youngster, according to Lucille Van Slyke, novelist.

One of the mothers should have the home making instinct, and the other the ambition for a career, she thinks. To the care of the former, the child would be entrusted during its infancy and to the latter during adolescence.

"Your essentially maternal woman, all tenderness and solicitation, always on hand with the lineament and kisses when the children stub their toes, is undoubtedly ideal for one's babyhood," says Mrs. Van Slyke.

Business Woman.

"The modern business woman, disciplined and sharpened by contact with the problems of livelihood, more calculating than her more feminine sister, is not so apt to coddle her children in their early years.

"She looks to the future of her children and she knows a few hard knocks will benefit them. She makes her children more self-reliant.

"The difficulty is that the traditional type of ideal mother who sacrifices her own ambitions and development for her children, projects herself into the child's world. She goes back and they go forward. Eventually they meet and pass each other. To such a mother her children are always babies, so she does not grasp their mature problems."

Father Steps in.

Fortunately, Mrs. Van Slyke says, nature makes a compensation here. The father who took no particular pride in his children during their teething and croup stages suddenly becomes intensely interested in the child who asks the why of things. As the mother mourns the lost baby the father greets his child as equal.

Mrs. Van Slyke has just written a new novel, "Nora Pays," which is the story of a modern merchant princess.

Merchant Princess.

"The merchant of today is quite as apt to be a princess as a prince," she maintains. "You need only walk along Fifth Avenue and see the shops owned and operated by women to realize it. But it isn't surprising.

"There are generations of good business instincts bottled up in the women of this country. On the farms it is mother who has kept the books and had her own butter and egg business. She advises father about his crops and expenditures.

"That is why the business woman is not new and hence presents no new problem. We have always had her. And she has always been the type who made the far-sighted, unsentimental mother."

DANTE RED.

Dante or Italian red, is one of the new colors that is being featured for gowns and coats. Epinard green is also a new name on the color card.

NEW SHAPE FOR BAGS

The newest bags are cylindrical shape and finished with a long tassel. Sometimes brilliants or colored stones are introduced.

PLEASURES OF MEMORY

By F. M. DELAFOSSE

There is no situation so conducive to comfort as is contained in the concomitants of a comfortable armchair, a cosy fire, a pipe—and solitude. A few evenings ago I found myself in this pleasurable condition, with my feet stretched towards the hearth and my fingers drumming a tune on the arm of my chair. Outside the snow was coming down in great gusts, blotting out the landscape and covering with wonderful rapidity roadway and sidewalk alike. It was essentially an evening to give oneself up to the delights of reading or of reverie. I drummed on listlessly and bar after bar passed through my mind and floated into the ewigkeit before I awakened to the consciousness that I was humming a ditty to which mind and ear had been strangers for many years. Certainly the stormy scene outside had not brought it back to memory, but, whatever the cause, there it was, escaped from some long-closed prison-house in the brain and exhibiting all of its old-time exuberance of youth and jollity.

The last time I had head that song was in a remote portion of our own Dominion, miles away from the beaten tracks of commerce and in a land peopled with Indians and half-breeds. What a wealth of memories it brought in its train. Scenes, incidents, individuals, began to pass before my mental vision with kaleidoscopic swiftness and opened up vistas in a phase of my early career which the lapse of years had caused to grow dim and indistinct.

The song that had conjured up all these recollections had once been a favourite of the English music-halls. It was not a high-class effusion, nor was the voice that trolled it out on the prairie air that of a high-class vocalist. The cook of our party was the performer, and I can see him now, seated on a soap-box in front of his tent, conducting his chorus and using a wooden spoon for a baton. I remember him so well, an undersized, pock-marked man, with cheeks seared with deep wrinkles, a pimply nose that pointed eternally upwards, and eyes that looked for all the world like small blue beads jammed into a painted pumpkin. In addition he was bandy-legged and red-haired and possessed of ears that looked as if they might have done excellent service as torches, they glowed with such a wealth of colour. He was not an Adonis, by any means, and the probability is that his account of why his wife accepted him, and which he had given with fullest details to the whole party, was a true one.

"Bill, she says to me, she says I aint a lookin' for no fortin, she says, and I aint lookin' fer a man as is more'n ornery-lookin,' she says, What I'm wantin', she says is a man with a kind 'eart, she says, and I guess you'll kinder do, she says—You kin 'ave me, she says"—"Well, I tell yer, boys," he went on, "I've never laid a hand on her in my life, and we've got five of the finest young kids as ye ever seed and I'm proud to tell yous that they everyone on 'em looks like me".

On the particular evening to which my thoughts revert, we were seated on the prairie, waiting for the cook to prepare our evening meal. We had just completed a journey of 120 miles from Swift Current Creek to the Forks of the Red Deer and South Saskatchewan Rivers, and had pitched our tents and tethered our ponies on a lofty plateau immediately overlooking the half-breed settlement that stretched along the banks of the last-named river. It was a beautiful evening, and had it not been for the onslaughts of mosquitoes and other winged torments of the night we might easily have persuaded ourselves that we were in some Paradise new and strange, such as no poet had yet had the imagination to picture. Beyond the dwellings of the half-breeds ran the mighty river, now rushing tumultuously between high banks, now broadening out into shallow and sluggish bayous. On the further side stood some Cree wigwams, sheltered in a thin grove of cottonwood, and, to complete the picture, in the furthest distance, clearly limned against the cloudless sky, loomed the foothills of the Rockies. As we gazed enraptured at the panorama spread out before us, there issued through a hollow of the hills a long caravan of Red River carts, forty in all, making its way slowly, in single fyle, towards the opposite bank. Taken altogether, it was a spectacle calculated to sink indelibly into one's memory.

Our party was made up of a conglomerate set of human beings, there were seven of us, including the chief. Most of us had enlisted for the purpose of adventure, and two because, having just been released from jail, they desired to keep in seclusion and let their wives remain in ignorance of their whereabouts. One or two were backwoods farmers to whom the offer of thirty dollars a month with board had proved a great incentive. In their home surroundings such a sum would have been regarded as stupendous and its acquisition quite beyond the dreams of avarice. We had travelled from various points in Eastern Canada to Winnipeg, and from there had taken our supplies, ponies and carts by rail to Swift Current Creek, the then terminus of the track. Our railway journey had not been without its disillusionments. Knowing that we would be in the wilds for many months, we had provided ourselves with as generous a supply of whiskey as our means would allow, and it was with genuine grief and indignation that we found ourselves forcibly severed from our cherished comforts by the Mounted Police. As soon as we entered the Territories a detachment of them boarded the train, and systematically searched our baggage. Imprecations, protestations, supplications, all were useless. Every bottle was taken off the cars and smashed on the rails. We entered upon our work with nothing to look forward to during the entire six months of the survey save the exhilaration to be obtained from tea or Perry Davis' Pain-killer mixed with water.

We were in the middle of our evening repast when the cook asked for silence. He wanted to make a speech. "Boys'," he said, as nearly as my memory serves me, "Boys, here we is in this blankety country, with nuthin' more than Injuns and Metises and hantelopes and halkali about us and I'm for resolvin' ourselves into a sassiety fer mutial improvement There's some of us as can sing, like me, and there's some of us, I guess, as can recite po'try, and there's some of us as can dance. Now, I proposes to elect myself as president of this here sassiety, by yer leave, and to elect the chief as ornery president, and we'll have a programmy just as often as we feels inclined and the oftener the better. This evenin' I'll pervide the programmy. My selection will be, first a few words from our ornery president, and then a few pomes writ by myself, all of which has appeared in print in the Mitchell Recorder. Then we'll have a song or two, also by myself, and we'll end by singin' God save the Queen and the sailor's hornpipe, also by myself. In order to get this here entertainment started on time, every blamed one of yous can set to and give me a hand washin' and wipin' these here dishes."

The cook was not a star performer and doubtless, under the eye of a more critical and austerer civilization he would have been hissed off the stage. He was a miserable singer, an execrable doggerel-monger and a faulty Terpsichorean. But he was a success on that particular occasion and when he started in his cracked falsetto, to lead us in the singing of "Tommy, make room for your uncle" the tremendous volume of sound that resulted attracted the attention of the Indians and half-breeds in the flat below.

In a very few minutes there were some fifteen or twenty young pagans congregated about us listening to our efforts, but maintaining a stolidity throughout that in an Eastern assembly would have driven the performers crazy. But we had learned a little about the composure and calmness of the red man so that his silence did not mar our enjoyment of our own efforts.

Towards the end of it the chief, whose tent I shared, leaned over to me and whispered, "Slip over to our tent and see if everything's all right, I don't trust these devils." I arrived there just in time to see two young half-breeds stealing out of the tent and running down the hill with their arms filled with whatever odds and ends they could lay their hands on. In the hue and cry that followed everything was left to the mercy of the onlookers, and when we returned from our fruitless chase we found that the place was deserted and that a side of pork and some pots and pans had vanished. The side of pork was returned in a mysterious manner two days afterwards, the result of a complaint to the Mounted Police, but we never saw the pots and pans again and the chief and I had to do without tooth brushes and hair brushes for the rest of the summer.

CHARM.

(By Cynthia Grey.)

A woman may have the face of Helen of Troy, and the figure of Annette Kellerman.

She may have a come-hither look in her eye that would make the stony heart of an Egyptian mummy quiver.

* * *

She may go so far as to possess laughter, like the whisper of water against a gondola, and a voice like a baby saxaphone playing "Tea for Two."

* * *

She may be able to dance like a cloud, and walk like a style-show mannequin.

* * *

But all these gifts will be worthless unless she has the thing we call charm.

* * *

Charm is like the right touch of the right perfume: you know it's there, but you can't tell what it is!

* * *

The habit of being charming must be acquired, like slimness after 40, or a taste for olives. But isn't it a pity that charm can't be bought in bottles like perfume? For it's more important to a woman than sachet powder, style, silks, or a sense of humor.

Black georgette or organdie mounted over silver cloth makes a most distinctive dinner frock.

NEW YORK GLIMPSES.

5th Avenue Shops Show New Valentine Day Favors.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—He's a roly-poly little negro who earns his daily bread by hoofing nightly in a Broadway cabaret. And he is not a dancer so much by inclination as by necessity. As he puffed among the tables the other night one of the patrons asked, "Can't you sing for us?" Between puffs he answered, "No, suh, Ise can hardly dance."

The familiar sight of two top-heavy patrolmen riding around in a flivver is no more. They were popularly known as "Dolly Sisters."

Now the flivver cops work solo. They drive around every street of a police precinct, reporting to headquarters by phone every 20 minutes, thus being able to reach any scene of trouble in a jiffy.

When they worked in pairs they had a much-coveted job, but it's pretty lonely business driving a flivver eight hours by yourself, with no opportunity to chat with anyone.

Valentine Day is becoming quite an occasion for gift-giving, shopkeepers along the avenue tell me. Articles of personal adornment for the ladies and such personal things as cigaret cases and cigar holders for the men are being sent instead of the old-fashioned lacy valentine.

Inconsequential Statistics: 250,000 noonday lunches have been served to underfed children in New York the past year by the Children's Aid Society in its ten health centers . . . $25 will give one child a noonday meal for each schoolday of the year. The Shady Rest Golf Club at West Field, N.J., patronized by many New York negroes, the the largest social organization of its kind for negroes in the United States. The New York Women's League for Animals cared for 11,954 animals in 1924, homes being found for healthy stray cats and dogs and unhealthy ones being put to death. Watering places for 20,000 horses a day were provided during the summer.

Heavy snow piles have been on New York streets for the past month. In those snow piles six deserted babies have been found.

One of the greatest street corner heroes of our blizzard days is a bruising big fellow who strips to his athleeti underwear and delivers lectures on health. Standing there in the wintry blasts he serves as argument for the sale of his book on how to keep well.

EAST EMILY CHEESE FACTORY MEETING

Directors Were Re-elected—Snow Drifts Shrink.

EAST EMILY, Feb. 12. — The annual meeting of the shareholders of the East Emily cheese factory was held in the factory on Friday afternoon, Feb. 6th.

The business of the past year was discussed with Mr. Robert Boate acting as chairman.

The same directors were appointed for the coming year, which are William Fee Pat McAuliffe, Herman Franks and Michael O'Donnell.

Silver Wedding.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moncrief on Saturday Feb. 7th when they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

About forty guests were present for dinner which was served at 4.30 o'clock p.m. The table was prettily decorated with yellow daffodils which made it look very pretty with the cake in the centre of the table, with the dates 1900 and 1925 put on in silver.

The sitting room was also very prettily arranged with hyacinths and daffodils for the occasion.

The many and costly silver gifts show the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief are held by their many friends.

Those present were: Mr and Mrs H S Fee of Toronto; Mr F H Ruth of Peterboro; Mrs S J Sluggett and two little daughters of Peterboro; Mr William Moncrief of South Monaghan; Miss Jean Bell of Lindsay; Mr and Mrs S Fee; Mr and Mrs K Mitchell and son; Mr and Mrs W Fee; Mr and Mrs G Newman; Mr and Mrs L Moncrief; Mr and Mrs A Fee; Mr and Mrs M Shearer; Mr and Mrs W Clark and son; Mr and Mrs. J Hunter; Mr and Mrs S Switzer; Mr and Mrs M Ruth and Mr Eugene Switzer, and sister, Miss Ida.

Auction Sale.

Mr. John J. Doube held an auction sale of his farm stock and implements on Tuesday afternoon, Feb 10th, everything bringing a top price for this year. Mr. William Howden was the auctioneer, and did his best to get the highest price for everything.

Snow Disappearing.

The recent thaw which has lasted for the past four or five days has taken a great amount of the snow away. The fields are nearly all bare and the roads which were drifted full are yet too full to be opened, and there are no roads anywhere, leaving it very hard for people to get any place.

Mr. William Purdy of Lakefield attended the annual meeting of the East Emily cheese factory, on Friday afternoon, February 6th.

Mr. J. Hughes of Peterboro, attended the annual meeting of the East Emily cheese factory on Friday afternoon.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD MEETING

Marmora Methodist Church Had Interesting Gathering —Another Eclipse.

DISTRICT NEWS.

MARMORA, Feb. 13. — The monthly missionary meeting in connection with the Young People's League was held in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening. Mr. W. J. Cottrell had charge of the devotional exercises. Miss M. Topper, in the absence of Miss L. Bell, acted as organist. Mrs. D. R. Clare gave an appropriate talk on Pioneer Missionary Labours of the Methodist Church in Canada.

Despite the cloudy weather of the day, the partial eclipse of the O.T.A. was quite discernible in this district.

Apples and pears were retailed locally on Tuesday at 40c. a peck.

There is no good sleighing left now. The many who drive to Deloro to work have again taken to wheels.

BRITISH FINANCE EXPORT

Traders Reluctant to Come Forward for Credit.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—Several millions of pounds sterling are waiting at the Department of Overseas Trade for British traders to borrow, but they do not come forward. The department has authority, under the export credits scheme initiated three years ago, to finance traders in the export of goods for any sum from $50 upwards, and although several millions have been lent for that purpose there are many more millions available.

British trade is believed to be on the upgrade and the department is at a loss to know why exporters do not take advantage of the facilities. Practically, they are asking people to borrow money and participate in the scheme, which for a small premium guarantees payment of bills drawn by exporters against export of British goods, and under certain conditions participates in any loss.

Just to prove that the world improves, men of the fifteenth century wore rings on their thumbs.

AMERICAN EXCLUDED.

The U. S. Immigration Law Works Hardship on Woman.

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Now practically destitute after spending $800 in the past six months in endeavoring to return with her sister to the United States, the land of her birth, Mrs. Effie Stalker, of Menominee, Wis., presents a problem to the city police. Mrs. Stalker is not barred herself from returning, but she has in charge a sister, who has been an invalid patient of Battleford Hospittal for the past six years. The U.S. Consul refuses to grant the necessary permission for the return of Mrs. Dow, the sister, on the grounds that she is now a Canadian in the eyes of the Immigration Department, her husband, also a former American citizen, having become naturalized.

RINSING CUT GLASS

Never rinse cut glass under the faucet, as breakage is due to sudden changes in temperature. Wash each piece separately in warm water with ammonia, and rinse and dry at once.

GUARD IMMIGRANTS.

Every Means Possible to Protect Them at Ports.

QUEBEC, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Immigrants landing in this country and especially at the Port of Quebec, beginning from the opening of navigation during the latter part of next April, will be afforded a far greater measure of protection against the operations of swindlers than ever before, according to information to hand yesterday. The sheds and docks will be under constant surveillance by not only the railway police, but it is said that plain-clothesmen in the employ of the Federal Government will be detailed to mix in with the immigrants following their examination at the harbor, and every means will be taken to see that the future settlers are not being made the victims of crooks before and after they entrain from Quebec.

AIRMAN AWARDED PRIZE.

PARIS, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Captain Pelletier Doisy, the Paris-to-Tokio flier, was yesterday awarded the Grand Prix of 10,000 francs by the French "Academy of Sports" for the "sporting exploit accomplished in France or by a Frenchman abroad likely to result in material, scientific or moral progress for humanity."

ST JOHN AMBULANCE OFFICERS ELECTED

Col. MacLaren Retained as President at Annual Meeting.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Col. M. MacLaren, C.M.G., M.D., M.P., of St. John, N.B., was re-elected president of the St. John Ambulance Association, Canadian Branch, at the annual meeting of the association here yesterday.

Reports were read reviewing a year of great activity, and showing in results the fruits of a strenuous campaign. The annual report of the General Executive pointed to an increase of more than 42 per cent. in the number of first aid and home nursing certificates.

Many donations of both money and of prizes to be competed for are noted in the annual report, including a gift of $300 from Col. R. M. Leonard, of St. Catharines, Ont., and trophies from Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, R.C., who for some years past has encouraged first aid competitions by a gift of annual prizes.

People of the United States would own 87 per cent of the world's autos if they were paid for.

SEEK A DIAMOND.

Knotty Lee Wants Ball Park For His Proposed Team.

KINGSTON, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—At a meeting of Queen's Athletic Board the secretary, J. S. McDonell, was instructed to have an interview with Knotty Lee with a view to having him meet the members of the board of control of the college, relative to a site for his ball park for the proposed Ontario-Quebec baseball league in which he intends to enter a Kingston team. An effort is to be made to secure the use of Queen's Stadium, where the football games are played.

STEAL LADEN TRUCK.

Four Gunmen Kidnap Driver and Two Messengers—Get $10,000.

DETROIT, Feb. 13 (Canadian Press).—After kidnapping the driver and two messengers, four gun men yesterday drove off with the American Express Company's motor truck carrying merchandist worth between $10,000 and $15,000.

MILD AT MONCTON.

Warmest February Spell in 15 Years.

MONCTON, N.B., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The past three days have been the warmest experienced in February for more than fifteen years, according to the official readings here. Wednesday the temperature reached a maximum of 42 degrees, while at 1.30 o'clock yesterday the thermometer registered 40. The warm spell is accompanied by a heavy fog, which has been persisting longer than any other shown in the records of the city.

DIED OF EXPOSURE.

Old Man Found Half Frozen in Home Succumbs in Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—Benjamin Cowie, the aged resident of Balsover, Victoria County, who was found in his humble home with his arms and feet badly frozen, died from the effects of exposure, and was buried on Monday. The unfortunate man endured great sufferings and contracted bronchial pneumonia after being removed to the hospital.

GENEVA BAN ON DOPED MEDICINE

Heroin in Cough Drops and Patent Medicine Interdicted.

GENEVA, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Cough drops and patent medicines containing heroin will henceforth be interdicted by reason of a decision by the International Opium Conference yesterday. This victory was attained only after a struggle, because the countries permitting the wholesale manufacture of medicines with a certain percentage of heroin, as allowed by The Hague Convention, endeavored to maintain their privilege. The conference finally voted that all preparations with heroin must be subject to medical prescription. The conference practically devoted the entire day to discussing this question and trying to extricate itself from the difficulty created by its recent amendment of the principle that the growth of opium should be limited to medicinal and scientific needs.

Realizing that its recent action weakened the already existing Hague provisions by permitting unlimited reservations to the principle and also put the other states on record as approving such reservations, the conference yesterday discarded both the principle and its amendment.

PREMIER WARNED BY QUEBEC SENATOR

Province, He Says, Has Much at Stake In Constitution.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—"The Government is saying to the country, 'We are assuming the responsibility for the undermining of the constitution' in its attack on the Senate," declared Senator Beaubien, Montreal, continuing the debate on the address in the Senate yesterday.

"Is it not regrettable to see a man like the Prime Minister carried away by a small group of people? Be careful. We are a minority in my Province, and we have much at stake. Those who represent my province in the Government have no right to do this thing."

Senator Beaubien referred to the Government's proposal for reforming the Senate as "nothing but bombastic talk." The Governrment, he added, was not doing the right thing by Quebec, and though dependent upon that Province for its power, it dared to lift its hand against the Senate.

Certain Western people "whose roots were not deep in the soil of Canada," asked the "Almighty Liberal Party" to present to them the head of the Senate as soon as it could be obtained.

LABOR EXCLUSIVE.

Three Members of Legislature Want Own Quarters.

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The three Labor members of the Legislature have asked for a smoking and reading-room of their own as they desire to be separate from the Progressives. The request will probably be granted. The Labor members are Peter Heenan (Kenora). J. F. Callan (Rainy River) and K. Homuth (South Waterloo).

BRITAIN HAS NO SEPARATE PACT

Nor Any Intention of Committing Country to Geneva Protocol.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The government has no idea of committing Great Britain to the Geneva protocol, or any fresh obligations of a like character, without the assent of Parliament, Foreign Secretary Chamberlain declared yesterday. Mr. Chamberlain replying to a question in the House of Commons as to whether the Government was considering a new pact of alliance and security with France, and whether the House would be consulted before Great Britain was in any way committed to an agreement which might involve the country in war.

The Foreign Secretary further stated that the Government has entered into no negotiations for a separate pact with any nation. He asserted that the Government was engaged in consideration of the great questions raised by the protocol and that whatever decision was reached regarding this instrument, would be communicated to Parliament. In semi-official circles it is understood the Cabinet will soon take up the question of the protocol and other possible alternative ways of giving France security against Germany. In the event efforts are made to amend the protocol which appears probable in view of the criticism from the Dominions and other quarters, it is believed that some alternative scheme might have to be considered. It is known that an amended protocol would not satisfy France.

Uruguay Government To Build a Packing Plant

MONTEVIDEO, Feb. 13 (Associated Press).—Uruguay, although geographically the smallest South American republic, has always been something of a pioneer in the matter of up-to-date legislation. Having already established several state-owned enterprises, she is now about to build a meat packing plant which will supply meat at cost price to co-operative associations of butchers, and also export it.

The scheme, as recently approved, involves an outlay of $5,000,000, to be raised by an issue of 6½% bonds. The enterprise will be "an autonomous dependency of the state" to be administered by a board of 12 directors, seven to be named by the government and the rest by the cattle raising interests.

PRESS MEN HURT.

Explosion in Chicago Newspaper Plant Injured Six.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Six employees were injured and several others bruised and cut when an explosion in the engraving department of the Chicago 'Evening American' yesterday shook the Hearst Building. Many windows were shattered and employees were ordered out of the building when flames broke out, although the fire was short-lived and did small damage. No one was killed.

A can of chemicals, said to have been ether, exploded. Besides those injured, none of whom were seriously hurt, according to newspaper executives, several girl workers suffered from shock and hysteria and were treated at a hospital.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Capt. H. Ross Was Cleaning Shot Gun.

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 13.—Capt. H. Ross, a pioneer of the North country, was accidentally killed here Wednesday night, when a loaded shot gun which he was cleaning exploded.

Capt. Ross was formerly a resident of Medicine Hat, but during recent years has been prominently connected with construction and engineering operations at The Pas. During the war he was sent on a special mission to China, by the Imperial Government. Major Hugo Ross international polo player, and one-time resident of Calgary, is a brother.

GRAFT SKIN TO SAVE A CHILD

Parents of Gerald Babcock May Be Called Upon.

BADLY SCALDED.

KINGSTON, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Parental love is willing and anxious to come to the aid of little Gerald Babcock, aged 5 years, of the village of Holleford, who is in a critical condition in the Hotel Dieu here suffering from terrible injuries as a result of being scalded. His father and mother have both offered to give the necessary skin to heal the scalds on his limbs and the attending physicians will decide in a few days whether or not grafting will be necessary. The youngster was on a sleigh near his home when a companion accidentally pushed the sleigh against a pail of boiling water which the lad's grandfather was carrying from the house to the barn. The pail was tipped and the contents went all over the youngster.

TIRE PRICES WILL ADVANCE IN SPRING

Rubber Industry Hopeful of Satisfactory Business.

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—At the annual meeting of the Rubber Association of Canada, held here yesterday, which was attended by executives of the rubber trade from all over Canada, F. E. Partridge, president of the F. E. Partridge Rubber Company, Limited, Guelph, Ontario, was elected president.

R. W. Ashcroft, prominent in rubber manufacturing circles, interviewed after the meeting, stated that all of the Canadian rubber manufacturers were looking forward to a satisfactory year's business.

"Tire prices," he said," will undoubtedly be advanced in the spring. They are fully 20 per cent. lower than their manufacturing cost warrants. Mileage considered, tires today cost the motorist about one-third of what they did ten years ago.

Balloon tires are in heavy demand, both for first equipment and for replacement purposes."

Mr. Ashcroft was for many years business and publicity manager for

Little Pete — Hal Cockran's Daily Poem

Pete is just a common purp, who, some time, must have strayed. He drifted into my back yard, adopted me, and stayed. I guess, perhaps, he knew that I was fond of such as he, and he sort of figured he had best get kinda fond of me.

I like the outdoors so does Pete, and every morn you'll find me a-trailing through the woods and dells while Pete trails 'long behind me. I chatter with the little birls while Pete just stops to whine. Perhaps he'd like to chase them—but he knows they're friends of mine.

I've often wished that Pete could talk; I wonder what he'd say. No doubt, just words of friendship, 'cause he always looks that way. His eyes do more than give him light; they give me light as well, and they make me understand the things that Pete can never tell.

Just dog—that's Pete—and yet to me he means more in the end than camouflaging humans, for he really is my friend. No credit comes from man sometimes for even what you've earned, but I can do no wrong at all as far as Pete's concerned.

Some time, within the future, little Pete must pass away, and when he does I'll know that he has really had his day. And then, my time must also come, and say, I wouldn't care if I went to canine heaven 'cause they'll have Pete livin' there.

CANADA'S RAILWAY LIKE A PRIVATE SYSTEM, BUT IS PUBLIC OWNERSHIP MODEL FOR WORLD; 22,000 MILES OF TRACK LINK EAST AND WEST

Roads in Canadian National Came Into Hands of Government in Much the Manner That a Factory Lands in the Banker's Lap, and for Same Reasons.

THORNTON TELLS UNITED STATES HE BACKS C.N.R. AGAINST WORLD

Standards of Service Are High—Employees Give Their Best—Rolling Stock is on Par With Best U. S. Roads —Public is Behind Efficiency Movement.

By HADLEY BARRON.

WITH 22,000 miles of track, spread across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the Canadian National Railway is the largest single railroad system. Since it is owned and operated by the Dominion Government, it follows that the people of Canada are conducting the world's biggest experiment in the public ownership of railroads.

At least one man competent to express an opinion has stated that upon the outcome of this experiment depends the future of government ownership of railroads in North America. The Canadian Government, after the World War, took over, one by one, railroads comprising altogether about half of all the track mileage in the Dominion, the only important exception being the great transcontinental system of the Canadian Pacific.

The roads that comprise the Canadian National came into the hands of the Government in much the same manner as a factory sometimes lands in a banker's lap, and for similar reasons. When the lines became unable to meet their obligations the Government, as chief creditor and guarantor of their securities, had no choice but to take them over or allow them to suspend service.

Canada did not go into Government operation of railroads by mandate of the people but by force of circumstances. Consequently, the Canadians to-day are thinking not so much about deciding an issue of public policy for a whole continent as how long they will have to appropriate tax revenues to sustain the Canadian National lines. They do not expect success, if it comes, to furnish any cause for a change in our railroad situation; neither do they see that the lack of it can have anything to do with the future of railroads in the United States. The Canadian public is solidly behind the Government in its endeavors to operate the National lines and make them pay, but it is not entirely devoted to Government ownership of railroads in general. The people merely accept the practical situation thrust upon them. Their future opinion will depend much on results.

I discovered this attitude on the part of the Canadians during some 10,000 miles of travel in Canada during the last year. I crossed and re-crossed the continent, from Halifax and Quebec on the east to Prince Rupert and Vancouver on the Pacific Coast, dividing my time about equally between the privately-owned lines of the Canadian Pacific and the Government-operated lines of the Canadian National. I found, moreover, that the views expressed by Canadians I met were fully in harmony with those of the men running the Government railways. The most lucid and interesting presentation was that I obtained from the man at the top of the system, Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., chairman of the board and president of the Canadian National Railways.

Thornton Brought from England.

One does not have to stay long in Canada to learn that Sir Henry is not merely titular head of the Canadian National; he is the "main guy," the "big boss" and pretty nearly the whole works. At least that is what the men who work for him say. Sir Henry was born in the United States, educated in the University of Pennsylvania, and won his reputation as an executive by running the Long Island Railroad. That brought him a summons to England to revitalize the largest system over there, the Great Eastern. Canada drafted him two years ago, on a three-year contract, to tackle the job of creating a transportation system out of a handful of bankrupt railroads.

Sir Henry is a giant of a man—over six feet tall, with a great round head firmly set on enormous shoulders, and a ruddy, genial countenance. Not the type of man to lie awake nights worrying over questions of political expediency. I had hoped to find Sir Henry a man who would talk frankly of Government ownership of railroads, and I was not disappointed.

"I want," said he in almost his first words, "to disabuse you of any idea that what we are doing in Canada has anything to do with the railroad question of the United States. We are not proving or disproving any one's theories; much less are we trying to demonstrate anything new to the world. We are simply trying to run a railroad on a businesslike basis, and at the same time help build up the country. It so happens that a good many thousand miles of our track are in new country, in which population has not yet caught up to railway mileage, but what we are going through is just what the Canadian Pacific experienced thirty years ago.

Moreover, every railroad in the United States west of the Mississippi River had to undergo the same thing before your Western country filled up.

"There is one thing, and only one thing, that we claim to have demonstrated. We have exploded the theory that the officers and men of a government-owned railroad cannot or will not work as hard and as efficiently, with as much enterprise and initiative, as the personnel of a privately-owned railroad. We have also knocked skyhigh the belief that the principles of good management cannot be successfully applied to a government-owned railroad. My answer now is that I will back our organization and service against those of any railroad in the world, bar none.

"The usual charge against a state-owned railroad is that it is inefficient and expensive; that, too many people are employed to do a given amount o work; that they never do anything until they are told; that they sit down and wait for new business; and that carelessness and discourtesy prevail in the treatment of passengers, in handling goods, and in the care of track and equipment.

"I have said that I will back our organization against that of any railroad in the world, and I mean it. One index of the efficiency of a railroad is the proportion of freight earnings paid out in claims to shippers for goods lost or damaged in transit. Our total claims paid in 1923 were less than 1 per cent. of our revenues, or lower, I believe, than on any railroad in North America, except possibly the Kansas City Southern.

"Take the condition of cars and motive power, another index to the efficiency of railroad personnel. Our present percentage of cars and locomotives awaiting repairs is as good as, and perhaps a shade better than, that of the Class I. railroads of the United States. As to the charge that a Government railway keeps too many employees, we have laid off 3,000 men at a time, when traffic conditions made their service unnecessary. Last year we lopped $200,000 from the payroll of a group of our lines by correcting a lax interpretation of working rules which had grown up through years of careless administration.

"As long as shippers tell us that our solicitors are after them all the time for new business, that they never overlook a single bet, I am not going to believe that the men of the Canadian National Railways are sitting down, waiting for business to come to them. As a matter of fact, I don't have to take the shippers' word for it. I have the evidence in my own office that practically every employee is selling our services right along, and turning new business our way by his own efforts. On how many railroads will you find the women who clean the stations giving the management the names of people who are planning trips? Yet that is what all of our employees are doing, even down to the charwomen.

An Example of Service.

"Have you ever heard the story of the collars?" he asked, with a smile. "My people tell me that it is true, and it will give you some idea of our standards of service. It seems a passenger out of Montreal for the West Coast discovered the second day of his trip that he had no clean collars. The train was then up in the North Woods, and the towns ahead were all so small that there was no hope of buying linen collars until the next day in Winnipeg, and then only if the train arrived before the Winnipeg stores closed. The passenger made out the best way he could until Winnipeg was reached. Just as he was preparing to leave the train to hunt up some collars, a messenger handed him a package, bearing his name. Opening it, he found a half-dozen new collars, 'with the compliments of the Canadian National Railways.' The sleeper conductor had learned, without the passenger's knowledge, the size and style of his collars, and had wired Winnipeg. The incident illustrated the way our men take the word 'service' to mean everything they can do for the pleasure and comfort of passengers. They try just as hard to please our shippers, because they understand that a satisfied patron means more business for our lines."

It is often said that the average Government employee feels that he has far less incentive to put forth his best than the man working for a private corporation; that he has less to fear from the consequences of indifference, and less to hope for as a reward for endeavor. I asked Sir Henry how he met this problem on the Canadian National.

"That's easy," was his reply. "We treat our officers and men exactly the same as we would if we were a corporation, privately owned. Our men are employed on merit, and promoted on precisely the same basis. We hire and fire with exactly the same freedom, and on the same business principles as any railroad manager in the United States; we have the same relations with the railroad labor unions as do your roads in the States. We don't have to stick to any rule of seniority or to the regulations of a civil service commission in putting good men ahead. I could make my secretary a vice-president tomorrow if I thought he was the best man for the job. On the other hand, we refuse to pay for work that we don't get, and a man has to be up to his job to stay on, just as in any business corporation."

"Tell me, Sir Henry," I asked, "in your own mind just how do you account for results which are so contrary to general experience in state-owned railroads?"

Free from Politics.

"The answer is simple enough," he replied. "Given proper conditions, a state-owned railroad can be operated as economically and as efficiently as a privately-owned railroad. That is all there is to it. I don't apply any policies or methods in the management of the Canadian National, other than those common to good railroading all over the world."

"And what do you mean by 'proper conditions'?"

"I mean freedom from politics and political control. Once a state-owned railroad is divorced from politics, why shouldn't it be subject to precisely the same principles of business management as a privately-owned railroad? Enjoying, as we do, freedom from political interference, we have, I believe, demonstrated the fact that this is so.

"There is a very definite understanding with the Government on this subject. All our men know and the public knows that freedom from political interference is the first condition of my service with the Canadian National. It is no secret in Canada that if that freedom goes, then I go along with it.

"With that understood, it is my job to go ahead and manage the road so as to get the best results, precisely as would be the case if the Canadian National were owned by a private corporation and I its employe. Now, all but the most thoughtless understand that the human element is the largest factor in the success of any railway. For our results we, like any other transportation system, must depend upon the efficient, loyal and alert service of each of our hundred thousand employees. That can be brought about only if the objects which we hope to achieve are understood by the men and if also they have confidence in our ability and good faith. This, in turn, depends largely upon the degree in which the officers and I can establish contact with our men."

When he went to England to take charge of the Great Eastern Railways, he had a broad rear platform built on the car in which he used to ride over the lines. When out on the rails he spent practically all his time on that rear platform, and waved his hand to every yardman or trackworker his train passed. An Englishman, puzzled at such conduct, asked him why he did it.

"When you start out in the morning," asked Sir Henry, "and meet a friend, don't you say, 'Good morning!' to him?"

"Certainly," was the reply.

"Well," cried Sir Henry, "I want the men working with me on this railroad to consider me their friend, and if I am their friend oughtn't I to say 'Good morning' when I meet them on the job?"

Radio Helps Morale.

In Canada Sir Henry spends a large part of his time out on the lines, but with his men scattered along some 22,000 miles of track he couldn't get around to see them all very often, even if he put in all his time on the road. To get contact with his men he has improved upon the common corporation practice of publishing an employees' magazine. For nearly a year he has been talking to his men over the radio from broadcasting stations put up by the Canadian National Railways. Mixed with the entertainment programmes from these stations are talks by various officials of the road, and Sir Henry himself talks over the radio at least once every two weeks. To enable the Canadian National employees and their families the more easily to share in the pleasures of the radio, and at the same time to bring more of them within range of his voice, Sir Henry arranged for the railroad to sell the men inexpensive sets.

"What I want," said Sir Henry, "is a personal sympathetic, man to man contact with our organization. I want them to feel that they are more than mere employees performing work that is drudgery. I want them to know that each one is contributing an important and useful part toward making our railway a success; I want to give a soul to our job together. To get this contact, to put some soul into our job, I use whatever instrument may be available. The radio is one of them."

In his radio talks, Sir Henry addresses the men of the Canadian National—and whomever else is listening-in—just as though they were members of his Board of Directors. He tells them about earnings for the month, compares them with the record for the same month last year and discusses the reasons for gain or loss. Above all, he urges them to hustle for new business.

"But how do you know if your men take the trouble to listen-in to your radio talks?"

"We know, all right. We get floods of letters and postcards which show it. We have received approximately 75,000 from radio fans in the United States and Canada reporting that they heard such and such a programme broadcast from our stations. We answer every such letter, and incidentally tell them something about our railroad and enclose some literature about the resorts, hotels or farming opportunities on our lines. We have traced considerable new business to this source."

I remarked that I had heard in Canada much talk to the effect that everyone ought to patronize the Canadian National in preference to its competitor because it belonged to the people. "Do you tell your agents to use such arguments in soliciting business?" I inquired.

"Not for one minute," was the emphatic reply. "I hope never to hear of any one in our organization trying to get business on the basis of sentiment. We don't want any special privileges; we want to stand on our own feet. We ask only a fair chance in competition on a business basis."

"Canada Will Retain Lines."

"It begins to look to me, Sir Henry," said I, "as though the personal equation was a considerable factor in such results as you have obtained. You have an understanding with the present Government of Canada which keeps your hands from being tied with red tape and political interference. Suppose a Government comes in with which you cannot agree, or suppose you pass on to some other endeavor? What of the future of these lines then?"

"As to personal equation," replied Sir Henry, "is it ever possible to eliminate that? Isn't it a large factor in every proposition? Concerning the future, that is for the people of Canada to decide. My personal opinion is that they will never give up control of the great transportation system which has come into their hands. I believe that they will not tolerate in office a Government which fails to manage the lines for the development and welfare of the country, or does not give those in authority an opportunity to operate on the principles of sound business management, as opposed to the dictates of political expediency."

In discussing finances of the Canadian National, both friends and enemies of Government ownership in the United States have been guilty, as the Canadians see it, of mistreating the facts. Those favorable to the principle have represented the gain in net operating revenues as so much net profit, overlooking the fact that this income has not been nearly enough to take care of the fixed charges and interest on the indebtedness. On the other side, unfavorable aspects of the situation have been in some instances so emphasized as to present a distorted view. For example, one American publication stated, by implication at least, that the accounts of the Canadian National are kept by the Government in a manner that would not be tolerated in a privately-owned system. To this D. C. Grant, financial vice-president of the Canadian National, makes the following reply, which is concurred in by Sir Henry Thornton:

"Under our accounting system we cannot juggle figures without detection, and it is not proposed to engage in such practice. It is not true, as has been stated, that it is difficult to compare Government operations with private operations. The same accounting rules cover both, with the exception of the interest on the money expended in building the railroads now included in the Canadian National lines. With that single exception, we use the same accounting rules as laid down for the guidance of lines in the United States as well as in Canada."

The outstanding facts of the situation are that, while the Canadian National Railways began with a net revenue deficit last year they earned a net revenue surplus; interest and fixed charges have increased, but appropriations from the Canadian National treasury for the support of the lines have decreased.

RELIEVE CITIES SUBURBAN ROADS

Belleville Demands Lessening of Burden—Cease Road Building Five Years.

SUPPORT PETERBORO.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Relief of cities from the heavy burden of suburban roads and legislation to lessen the responsibility of all municipalities in the matter of liability for accidents on public highways are recommended by the executive of the Belleville City Council. The executive has also recommended the co-operation of this city with other urban centres in petitioning the Ontario Legislature to cease the development of the Provinical highways for a period of five years.

MEN AND WOMEN ARE SEGREGATED

Innovation at Vatican Function—Diplomat's Wife Argues the Point.

POPE PIUS IS SAD.

ROME, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Pope Pius yesterday celebrated the third anniversary of his coronation, but it was observed that he appeared sad, though robust. It is said the withdrawal of the French Embassy to the Vatican weighs heavily on his mind.

One innovation was introduced in this morning's function. Men and women were separated, even the members of the "black" aristocracy which remains faithful to the Papal ideas of temporal power. One of the guards had considerable difficulty explaining to the wife of a foreign diplomat that she could not sit beside her husband.

The aristocracy and diplomatic corps has rows of benches opposite the Papal throne instead of occupying the boxes built for the occasion.

The Pontiff received his warmest ovation from about 1,000 pilgrims from his former diocese of Milman.

ARGUES ABOUT $7; DROWNS BABY GIRL

Aged Slayer Has Had Sentence of Death Passed on Him Before.

VIENNA, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—After an argument over a sum equivalent to $7, Karl Ziedler, pensioner, aged 73, yesterday took his landlord's 18-month-old daughter to a bridge over the Danube, flung the baby to her death in the river, and then gave himself up to the police.

An investigation of Zeidler's record shows that he had once been condemned to death, sentence being commuted to 25 years' imprisonment which he served. On another occasion he was given a short sentence for manslaughter.

LUDENDORFF RESIGNS.

Will No Longer Lead National Socialist Party in Germany.

BERLIN, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—General Ludendorff has resigned the leadership of the National Socialist party, but remains a patron of the Anti-Semitic Nationalist organizations.

The National Socialist party, representing the extreme reactionary element in Germany, suffered badly in the last Parliamentary elections in December.

Control Diamond Trade.

South African Government Has New Measure Under Discussion.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—A Ministerial organ says the Government has under contemplation a measure whereby it would be empowered to assume control of the diamond trade, allotting quotas of production to various producers, imposing minimum prices and appointing a board to buy and sell diamonds or act as agents.

Say Kingdom In Ruins.

Special Report Declares Hedjaz is Destroyed — Wahabi Warriors Busy.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—A special article in the Morning Post asserts that the Kingdom of Hedjaz now is completely in ruin, and that the city of Jeddah, where King Ali's troops have been holding out against Ibn Saud, has fallen.

The article adds that Medina and a city or two in the north alone remain of the domain formerly ruled by ex-King Hussein, and these may pass into the hands of Ibn Saud's Wahabi warriors within a few days.

SEEK EVASION OF WAR DEBTS

Italy Determined Not to Pay Great Britain and U. S. in Fall.

CITE SACRIFICES.

ROME, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—All parties are uniting in praise of the announcement yesterday of the Fascisti Executive Committee that it intends to examine the question of war debts.

The reason is that all Italians are one in a determination not to pay their debts to Great Britain and the United States in full, perhaps not to pay them at all. Even the Liberal Corriere Della Sera, which usually tacitly admits the justice of the American and British claims, now says it is no shame for Italy "to confess the economic impossibility of repaying the exorbitant sums demanded."

Meanwhile the Fascisti Executive have decided to undertake propaganda both at home and abroad, along these lines. Italy's sacrifice of men and money after she voluntarily entered the war long before America did, sacrifices out of proportion to her natural wealth.

INSANE LABORER KILLS EMPLOYER

Brother at Indian School Shot and Murderer Suicides.

KENORA, Ont., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Brother Apolinaire D'Amour, assistant principal of the Indian Boarding School here, was shot dead, and Joes Bernicott, a hired man, was severely wounded by Francois Salou, employee of the institution, early yesterday morning. After his murderous assault, Salou ended his own life with the same weapon.

Authorities investigating the crime are unable to assign any reason for the attack, as there had been no quarrel and no other indication of trouble. It is believed that the murderer had gone temporarily insane. Bernicott, who was wounded in the jaw, is expected to recover.

Bernicott and Salou, according to the former's account, were engaged with their morning duties in the stable, and after milking the cows, Salou left with two nails in the direction of the school. Bernicott thought he was long in returning, but on turning around, he encountered Salou pointing a gun in his direction. The next moment Bernicott was struck on the side of the face with the full charge of the shotgun. The wounded man rushed toward the school, followed by his assailant. Just before reaching the building, Salou stopped to re-load the weapon, and when Brother D'Amour interceded, the latter was silenced with a shot through the left eye. He died instantly.

The murderer fled from the scene, but was later discovered by the police in a small brush close to the farm. He had shot himself through the heart.

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last sixty years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, in Bridgeburg, Ont.

SOVIET BUYING TONS OF WHEAT

North and South America to Be Called on for Shipments.

RESERVE SHIPPING.

LONDON, Feb. 13. — (United Press).—Hundreds of thousands of tons of wheat from North and South America will soon be headed for Russian ports, if the demand for shipping space here is any criterion.

An indication of the extent to which Russia is buying in the world markets is given by financial circles here. Soviet agents have asked space for 100,000 tons of flour and wheat to Leningrade and Black Sea ports, shipments to be made in February, March and April. Another steamer has been chartered to carry several thousand ton loads from the River Plata to the Black Sea, while inquiries have also been made for shipping space from Cardiff, Hamburg, Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

HAPPINESS IN MISERY.

Girl Delights in Being "Sort That Men Forget."

The old, old belief that a girl who has been disappointed in love must be utterly miserable and contemplate poison as the quickest and surest heart's ease must be discarded now, along with other obsolete theories, such as the sign of wickedness being a woman's smoking a cigarette.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-four saw the total eclipse of the "life-is-not - worth-living - without-him" theory. The modern woman, as she expresses herself, is so vastly different from her old-fashioned sister that one wonders, after all, what kinship really exists between them. She seems to revel in being the girl that men forget.

"I've a broken heart," she tells her understanding friend, while standing in the paradise of eavesdroppers, the subway. "I've been in love two months now and he doesn't know I am living."

Expressions of sympathy from the understanding friend.

"He's the most marvelous thing that God ever created, and that's not kidding at all. I have met many men, but none of them has anything he's got. I don't believe that I will ever fall in love with any one else. And, why, the first time he met me he didn't pay any more attention to me than to a fly! He just looked at me and didn't say a word. He's a queer man—but I love him."

"Then," declares the other, "maybe that means he likes you?" Thus living up to her qualifications as comforter.

The melancholy ones shakes her head with much dangling of black earrings. "No. He doesn't care for me at all." She sounds woefully near tears. "He used to be in love with some one, but he is off women for life now. What chance do you suppose I've got?"

"Well," contributes the recipient of confidences, "you had better forget him."

"Forget him!" The girl's voice is exultant. "Why, I couldn't possibly forget him unless he fell in love with me, and I hope he doesn't —because I like to be in love."

"Yes, I know," replies the other. "But it makes you unhappy."

The modern woman looks at her steadily, and from the depths of an overflowing heart: "I know," she says with a catch in her voice, "but I have so much fun being miserable!"—New York Sun.

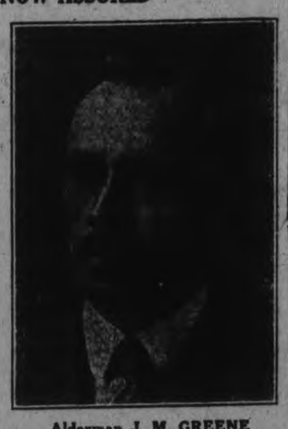
SEATS ARE NOW ASSURED

Alderman ROLAND DENNE



Alderman J. M. GREENE

Whose seats on the City Council were only assured yesterday. Rumors of a possible protest because they were elected to Council while still members of the Board of Education, persisted until a short time ago. Yesterday, however, marked the expiration of the legal time for a protest to unseat them, and they may quietly enjoy the positions to which they were elected six weeks ago.

VALENTINE TEAS

Catholic Women's League

The Catholic Women's League were hostesses at a pretty Valetine tea, held in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum yesterday afternoon, the proceeds devoted to relief work. There was a good attendance during the hours from four to seven o'clock. The guests were received by the president, Mrs. C. J. Snider and Mrs. H. Owen. Mrs. E H. Hickey acted as treasurer. Other members of the executive, Mesdames J. W. Fitzgerald, E. G. Heland, Mrs. F A Hodgson and Mrs. F. J McFadden were also present. Mrs. P. J. Doris acted as convenor of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. J. T. O'Connell and Miss L Mercier At the table, effectively decorated with waxed red cactus dahlias, tea was poured by Mrs. Myles Hamilton and Mrs. F. J. Sullivan. Assistants were Mrs. J. J. Doris, Mrs. A. J. Masel, Mrs. Wm. Hickey, Mrs. B. Law, and the Misses Grace Primeau, Brigetta Conroy, Mary Doris and Fanny Doris The musical programme, in charge of Mrs. H. Owen, included instrumental numbers by Mrs. F. A. Hodgson, Miss Lucille Doris and Miss Monica Maher, with vocal selections by Mrs. J. Dwyer and Miss Geraldine Collins accompanied by Mrs. Hodgson.

Patriotic League

A pretty Valentine tea was held by the Ashburnham Women's Patriotic League yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Elizabeth Scott, 109 Hunter Street, with a good attendance. The president of the society, Mrs. R. H. Parsons assisted Miss Scott in receiving the guests. Mrs. G. McCartney and Mrs. T. H. Adams ushered the ladies into the tea room, where decorations were in traditional bright red Valentine favors, with red carnations on the table and red candles in silver candelabra. Mrs. T. H. Glover was convenor of arrangements. Tea was poured by Mrs. Jas, McDonald and Mrs Wm Graham assisted by Mrs. J. E. R. Munro Mrs S H Holden, Mrs A C Gray, Mrs Gordon Logan, Mrs Nicholls, Mrs C Perry and Mrs H Dodds A sale of home made cooking and candy was in charge of Mrs. J. Butcher, Mrs. J. Kerr and Mrs. J. A. Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary.

A Valentine talent tea, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association, took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Breyfogle, 593 Weller Street, with a splendid attendance. The decorations for the tea, arranged by the president, Mrs. G. H. Roper were exceptionally attractive. They were carried out in the usual Valentine cutouts and fancies in red, with a very effective centrepiece for the table designed with a hugh heart of red and white crinkly paper, its centre opening for a bowl of red tulips. The guests were received by Mrs. Breyfogle and Mrs. Roper, and Mrs. T. Brown acted as convenor of arrangements. Tea was poured by Mrs. G. L Stevens and Mrs. T. H. Hooper. Mesdames J. J Turner, W J Preston, M. A. Morrison, F. Grey and H. E. Foote acted as assistants, and Mrs P. Fitzgerald as treasurer. An enjoyable musical programme included pianoforte numbers by Mrs. P. P. Westbye and vocal selection by Miss Murray of Springville, accompanied by Miss Brown.

All Saints' Women's Guild.

A pretty Valentine tea was held yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. L. G. Dobbin, 267 Stewart street, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of All Saints' Church. There was a large attendance of ladies during the afternoon and evening, when a pleasant musical programme was rendered. The guests were received by Mrs. Dobbin, Mrs. R. Trotter and Mrs. J. D. Paterson. Assistants in the drawing room were Mrs. John Davidson and Mrs. F. Pakenham The tea room was very prettily decorated with Valentine favors in red and white, with long red pendant streamers The table, centred with red carnations, was presided over by Mrs. A. Haskill, with assistants in Mrs. J. Detcher, Mrs. R. Cotterill and Mrs. R J Bolton

A sale of home-made cooking was in charge of Mrs D McLeod, and Mesdames Sabin and Dillon had the candy table During the afternoon and evening, a musical programme was given including instrumental duets by the Misses Morphet and Tom and Barbara Allen; instrumental seclections by Miss Sophie Haggis, Miss Jean Bryce and Mr. R. Devey; songs by Mrs. W. Tanner, Miss Beryl Bates and Miss Geraldine Collins; readings by Mrs. H Connolly and Miss Ethel Cooper, and violin selections by George Gatfield. Accompaniments were played by the Misses Madeline Willis and M. Baumer.

Monument In Honor Of First Californian Padre

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 13. —Another chapter of the story inscribed in the crumbling remains of a chain of 21 missions, the earliest of which were founded more than a century and a half ago in California, will be written soon with the unveiling at the San Fernando Mission of a monument to Father Junipero Serra, Spanish missionary, who established the edifice. The statue, depicting the mission father leading a shy Indian boy into the realm of Christianity is of bronze and is 7 feet 6 inches in height. It is the work of Mrs. Sally James Farham, New York sculptress.

Father Junipero was born on the island of Majorca, off the coast of Spain. From there he sailed for Mexico, thence to California. The missions, erected a day's journey apart, extend from the Mission San Diego de Alcala to one at Sonoma, north of San Francisco. Over the long highway connecting the missions, now known as El Camino Real (the royal highway) padres wound their way to teach the Indians.

San Fernando was one of the missions. It was christened by Father Junipero Sept. 8 1797. The San Diego mission, the first he established, was founded July 16, 1769.

MODERN JAZZ BREAKS GYPSY'S HEART

King of Romany Fiddlers Dies in Budapest.

BUDAPEST, Feb., 13.—(Associated Press).—Jazz music broke the heart of Banda Marci, king of gipsy fiddlers who was recently buried here with 10,000 admirers and friends standing beside his grave.

Count Stefan Tisza and many other famous Hungarians were the intimate friends of the man who was supposed to play Magyar folksongs with more feeling than any other musician of his time.

At the request of Marci, the bands played only folksongs of his native land as his body was taken to the cemetery. He abhorred conventional funeral marches as much as the new syncopated music. Like most gypsy fiddlers he believed the songs which have sprung from the soil in the land of the Magyar express every emotion from ecstatic joy to sweet sorrow, and in his concerts he used to carry his listeners from smiles to tears in a manner much appreciated by the Hungarians, who take keen pleasure out of sorrow.

When syncopation became the rage in Hungary and foxtrots were heard everywhere, Bande Marci laid aside his violin.

Britain Is Now Looking To Asia For Her Cotton

LONDON, Feb. 13 — (United Press).—In her frantic efforts to shake off the cotton yoke of the United States, Great Britain has returned to a supply market of four centuries ago—the fields of Asia Minor.

Liverpool has been all keyed up lately awaiting the arrival of 1,000 bales from the port of Mersina, the first shipment of the kind since the sixteenth century. If the product proves satisfactory it is anticipated that the Lancashire spinning mills will have added an important source of supply as a further means of becoming independent of the American market.

It was from this quarter of the Turkish empire that Britain first began to draw her cotton supplies. These Turkish imports were the mainstay of cotton spinning in England before the days of Arkwright, a father of the industry, and before cotton cultivation in America assumed serious proportions.

But the march of modern progress, with its complex of up-to-date methods, left Asia Minor lagging behind and the old-time Turco-British cotton trade was suspended. Its revival has now become possible through the establihment at the scene of growing of the first cotton ginning factory ever to rear its stack in that area. This plant prepares the output for the English market.

The factory is located at Adana, the headquarters of one of the three cultivating areas, and Mersina is its natural outlet. The two other areas are the hinterland of Smyrna and the valley of Sakaria. It is said that Adana can produce an annual crop of 100,000 bales her potentiality being estimated at a minimum of 800,000 bales to a maximum of 2,000,000.

Cat Guards Dead Kittens Amid Fire Swept Debris

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.— (Canadian Press.)—The workmen excavating the ruins of the downtown block destroyed fifteen days ago, in the fire which cost the life of Lieut. Desjardines of the Montreal Fire Department, found a cat, the pet of the Cowan Chocolate Office, starved to a rack of bones, but still alive, and guarding the bodies of her three kittens which, when the building was swept by flames, she refused to desert.

REPLY TO MESSAGE TO ST. PAUL'S

The Editor of The Examiner:

Wednesday's issue of The Examiner contained, to say the least, a strange appeal to the Unionists of St. Paul's congregation.

We, Unionists, are virtually asked to ignore the motives that actuated us; to forget the principles that have governed our lives; to repudiate the pledges of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to the other negotiating churches; and to drop the word, HONOR, from our vocabulary.

We believe that the Unionists of St. Paul's are made of sterner stuff; we believe that they will place honor before ease and that as they have gone into Union, they will support it and work for it. We believe that they desire to have some small share in fashioning the new Canada that is to be—a duty devolving in a peculiar sense upon the United Church of Canada.

We are not Unionists in name only. We have pledged our support to our Church. We have faith in our cause. The future we believe, is on our side. We can form no alliance with Dissent. Painful as it may be to sever relationships that have existed for years, yet our duty is clear. We must seek homes in the United Church where we shall be free to pursue the ideal of Unity that our Church and its leaders have been striving for during the past twenty years.

The Union Commites of St. Paul's Church.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The Peterborough Branch of the Presbyterian Association is still at work. It has come to my knowledge that many Unionist members of St. Paul's Church have been 'phoned or called upon today by Anti-Union members of the congregation with the object of inducing them to continue as members of an Anti-Union Church. I could hardly believe the report at first, until it had been confirmed from many sources. It is difficult to find words to characterize conduct so despicable as this. That a number of men and women should, by plausible arguments and honeyed words, seek to turn away the people of St. Paul's Church from a great principle which they had espoused and for which people have been willing to shed their blood; that they should seek to invade the secret and sacre precints of conscience and try to persuade people to violate their convictions and cast to the wind their principles, is, surely, to say the least, not Christian. It is but a further proof of the sordid and unworthy character of the propaganda carried on by the St. Paul's Branch of the Presbyterian Association during the vote. These persons now stand revealed in their true light, and people who are seeking to follow the Master must see that no blessing can come to a church whose leaders are capable of such tactics. The Unionists of St. Paul's will be found to be made of sterner stuff than to yield to their seductive appeals.

GIRL STABBED TO DEATH.

Attacked by 29 Year Old Man With a Pocket Knife.

COLEMAN, Mich., Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Marguerite, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Todd, living near here, was stabbed to death when on her way home from school yetserday.

Victor Badgley, 29, has been arrested, and Sheriff Bailey says Badgley has confessed to killing the girl with a pocket knife.

Sheriff Baily and Prosecutor B. E. Morris said Badgley confessed that he killed the child after an attempted assault, fearing she would inform her parents. They quoted Badgley as saying he used a pocket knife, stabbing the girl three times in the neck, severing an artery.

Search for the child started when she failed to come home at the regular time yesterday from school. Her body was found half a mile from her home in a clump of bushes. Badgley is a married man.

Bachelor Tax Suggested.

Montreal Member Brings Up Question in Federal House.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Are Canadian bachelors in danger of having a tax imposed upon them? Evidently the matter is at least in the mind of one member of the House.

"Would you suggest a tax on bachelors?" asked Donald Sutherland (Conservative, South Oxford) in the course of the speech of Herbert Marler (Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George) yesterday afternoon.

"Is my hon. friend a bachelor?" countered Mr. Marler, amid laughter. "If he is, I would put a large tax on them. I would put such a high tax on bachelors that he would —."

ERADICATE EVILS IN EXISTING JUVENILE IMMIGRATION SYSTEM

Miss Margaret Bondfield of the British Commission of Enquiry Into This Matter, Advocates Improvements, Embodying Protection for Canada—Changes Recommended to Imperial Government.

WORTHY OF PUBLIC CO-OPERATION

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The Canadian Council of Child Welfare is issuing an analysis of the report made by Miss Margaret Bondfield and the British Commission of Inquiry into Juvenile Immigration. Several of the points cited in the Council's statement says:

"While the report states that on the whole the present system works satisfactorily, it comes into entire agreement with the body of child welfare opinion in Canada when it states that the system should be allowed to handle only children who have reached school leaving age."

The Council's analysis proceeds: "The report makes unequivocal mention of certain evils. It makes very definite recommendations. It does not go into detail into the question of division of responsibility and activity between the federal and provincial governments. That is Canada's domestic problem and could not be touched. But it mentions more plainly than is usual in a government report, several evils in the present system, and it becomes the responsibility of self-repecting Canadians and Britishers to see that they are eradicated.

Selection By Canada.

"In one particular the report does not deal with fullest justice with Canada's part in the matter. It states that the Dominion Government is entirely responsible for the final selection of the children. On analysis this is not absolutely correct. Our officials are not finally responsible for the election but for the ultimate acceptance or rejection of a child offered by a society, which is a different thing. Any social worker knows that all is involved in the distinction. And we do ask of the British Emigration Societies a little more recognition of the fact that it is rejection not selection which our officials are called on to make and as fellow workers, interested in building up the same Empire, wholesome, strong and healthy not to continue to "press against the sieve" candidates for emigration of whom they have the selection and we the rejection.

"However on this question of rejection the delegation states that the responsibility rests solely with the Dominion officials, and Canadian social workers are told directly where they must exert the pressure of public opinion.

Child Placement.

"The British Report stated: "The demand in Canada for children from Great Britain is due in a few cases to a genuine desire on the part of childless persons, or those whose own children have grown up and left home, to take a young child into their household as a member of their family. We were struck by the fact that legal adoption is comparatively rare. In the majority of cases, however, there is no doubt that the boy or girl is required in the capacity of a help. We found that many of the farms were of such a size that the farmer and his wife did not need and in fact states that they could not afford, adult assistance. In many of the larger farms we found that the farmer was glad to have the services of a boy or girl in addition to the adult help which he hired. The younger children from Great Britain were usually expected to assist the wife in her household duties and to perform the light tasks which the children of farmers are usually brought up to perform. Those boys and girls who were working for wages were, of course, expected to take their full share in the daily duties.

"In connection with these paragraphs, other paragraphs of the report should not be overlooked. As, for instance, one paragraph which in referring to the practice of some of the societies of allowing the boys to take out endowment insurance policies, states that the annual premium on such a policy varied from $17 to $20 per annum and further down comments on their possible incapacity to continue the annual payments, 'which,' the report continues, 'in many cases would absorb the whole of the balance of their annual wages.' This can only mean that many of these boys (and the report mentions a 'large number of cases') in addition to food, shelter and clothing were working for a wage of $17 to $20 per annum. In other words, a boy placed at say 12 or 13 to work until 18 years, on the usual agreement would at that time without family or other support to fall back upon, start into the world with his clothes and $100 after 5 years' hard work. We consider that this section of the report alone would be sufficient to uphold our contentions under this head.

"We feel that the number of boys whose earnings have been somewhat in the neighborhood of this total would predominate and that those boys would indeed be rare who are mentioned as having saved 'enough of their wages to rent and stock a farm, and to purchase it by instalments over a period of year.'

"The Commission in this connection recommends that steps be taken by societies to agree upon certain standard rates of wages, and further that wages should be paid quarterly, and if possible, monthly; and that non-payment of wages should be a sufficient reason for the immediate removal of a child; and also that children should be informed of the wages arranged for them and that an appreciable portion of the wages should be paid to them direct.

"The recommendations re inspection of homes speak so plainly that there is no need to make any comment on the situation.

Protection For Canada.

"The Council's purpose in issuing this pamphlet is not to criticise the report but to point out the general agreement between its conclusions and the practically unanimous findings and claims of social agencies that all is not well with the present system. That is either definitely admitted or implicit in the recommendation is evident by a careful reading of the full report. Canadian public opinion cannot permit those factors of the problem remedial by Canadian effort to remain disregarded.

"In the most serious consideration of 'protecting Canada' there is no equivocation in the report. 'In the various quarters in the Dominion an impression appears to exist that the British authorities are responsible for selection and that the British authorities are responsible for the selection and that Canada is being used as a dumping ground for British children of an unsuitable type,' the report says. 'If we admit those children who will add to our social problems, the responsibility rests with our own regulations and officials, and so finally with Canadian citizens themselves.

Protection From Canada.

"The child must also be 'protected from Canada,' as one worker expressed it. This can be done only by greater supervision and more generous and sympathetic follow-up work. This requires close co-operation among all community forces, official and voluntary, federal and provincial.

"The report recommends that no child be permitted to enter Canada under the school-leaving age of the United Kingdom. It contemplates the same protection as the Council asks when it urges that no child be admitted below the school-leaving age of the province which it enters which in some of our provinces reaches 16 years. The Canadian provinces must not create one standard of child protection for their own children and allow another to be recognized for immigrant children.

"The evidence has now been offered to the Canadian public endorsed by the high authority of a Minister of the British Cabinet, and an independent committee of inquiry. This Committee has recommended certain changes of the Imperial Government. Other changes therein suggested rest within the purview of Canadian administration. On these changes the Canadian public should inform itself, and should be prepared to offer sympathetic voluntary interest and activity to remedy those ills which lie within the scope of the local community and its citizens. The Canadian council on child welfare claims that the situation demands the attention of the Canadian governments, federal and provincial, and the wholehearted support of the public in such action as the government may take, and reiterates its previous stand, "Freedom from child labor, a decent education and such environment and treatment as will not cause neglect, dependency, or delinquency. These are what Canada requires and what she attempts to guarantee for her own children. A Christian citizenship can be content with no other minimum for children brought to our shores."

"Glad To Be Sane Again—"

Says Mr. Burnham in Commenting on Future of O.T.A.

"I am altogether in favor of observing the law, and of allowing beverages permitted by the O.T.A. to be sold everywhere—or by preference at licensed hotels, which ought to get whatever preference we can give. By the time the true inwardness of the O.T.A. was thus exposed people would be glad to be sane again," said Mr. J. H. Burnham to The Examiner to-day.

KIWANIS HEAR SERVICE TALK

W. R. McGie Tells of Work Among Boys in the Border City.

A TRAINING SCHOOL.

W. R. McGie, Chief Engineer of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club to-day. The subject of Mr. McGie's address was Service. He is one of those in charge of the Windsor Booster Club, an association of under-privileged boys, such as newsboys. This club provides help and recreation for these boys who were formerly the official juvenile crap-shooters of the Border Cities. They recently organized among them the Booster City with their own mayor and other city officials. The purpose of the club was aptly put by the newly elected mayor, a boy of thirteen, when he said in his inaugural address, "It's not two for self and one for the other fellow, but one for both."

Continuing, Mr. McGie said there is a law of service and every person has worked it out more or less for himself. It is hard to have faith in service but the career of Henry Ford is an example of the success that comes from putting service for the public first.

Other great men who believed in and practised this law were such great merchant leaders as Marshall Field and John Wanamaker, who were the first to conduct a retail business on the principles of one price for everybody and the customer is always right. Their success is an example of the working of the law of service.

The position a man fills in life is in accord with the service he gives. The little man fits in his own hole, and if he were put in a larger one he would wobble, while in a smaller one he would be crowded out.

Home for Boys.

Kiwanian John Marshall brought up the question of the Bowmanville Training School for Boys. The present means of taking care of the delinquent boy is inadequate as before entering the Mimico Reform School he passes through the Courts and is branded a criminal. A citizen of Bowmanville has donated a farm near Bowmanville, and the Province has purchased the farm next it. On this they propose to erect a training school similar to the Shawbridge School in Quebec, where they will train the boys to take their proper place as good citizens. The various service clubs, including the Kiwanis Club, have pledged themselves to provide funds for various halls to be known by their names.

The local Kiwanians are going to raise their allotment by means of a minstrel show in April.

SEVEN CENTS RISE ON WHEAT TO-DAY

Due to Big Selling, However, Top Prices Failed to Hold.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—With the announcement of export business amounting to 1,500,000 bushels, and with the Liverpool market advancing instead of reflecting recent depression of values on this side of the Atlantic, the wheat market here made a vertical rise of 7 cents a bushel to-day almost as soon as trading began.

Word that the United States Department of Agriculture was authority for the statement that the world wheat supplies would be very low at the end of the crop year, counted also as a decided stimulating factor.

Big selling to realize profits developed on the bulge in prices, however, and top quotations failed to hold.

START DAM FOUR ON TRENT CANAL

G. N. Gordon Has Assurances of Commencement of Work Near Here.

ALLOW $401,000.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13 (Special to The Examiner).—That the government has placed in the estimates four hundred and one thousand dollars for Trent Canal improvements, out of which Dam No. 4 will be started and the old dam removed, G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., said today. It is expected that this work will cost over three hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Gordon has been strongly advocating this improvement and on several occasions has placed the need of this new work before the government.

Mr. Gordon also advised that Sir Adam Beck had promised him that he would put in a generating plant at Dam No 4 to use the surplus waters for the development of power for the city.

The federal member said that he hoped work would start just as soon as weather conditions would permit the starting of operations.

WHITE GIRL WOULD MARRY A CHINAMAN

Minister Refuses to Perform Ceremony—Says Morally Wrong.

TORONTO, Feb. 13 (Canadian Press).—Ministerial objections prevented the marriage of Florence Fisher, aged 20, laundress, to Frank Louis, Chinese chef yesterday, despite all arrangements and the tearful protests of the intended bride.

As announced yesterday the wedding was to have taken place in the evening at a private house and Rev. Bertram Nelles of Dale Presbyterian Church had promised to perform the ceremony. Just before the hour set for the wedding a note arrived from M. Nelles which read, "I have decided to have nothing to do with the matter you and Miss Fisher consulted me about last evening. From a legal point of view it may be considered right, but morally it is wrong, and I refuse absolutely to take any part."

"We are going to find a minister somehow," declared Miss Fisher. "My sister has come up from Buffalo for the wedding, and it is going to take place."

MISSING CLYINDER OF COMMUNITY.

The progressive town is like a fine six or eight cylinder car, purring along evenly as it carries its passengers, the residents of the community over the hills that stand in the way of prosperity.

But sometimes a good looking town, like many beautiful cars, will roll along evenly while the roads are level, but upon reaching a hill of business adversity will slow up, knock and jerk, and finally come to a dead stop before it reaches the crest.

A missing cylinder, you say? Yes, and that missing cylinder is the man or woman who shows no interest in home town business or in the welfare of the community.

GERMAN RAILWAYS OUT FOR PROFITS

Freed From Government Control, They Now Consider Improvements.

BERLIN, Feb. 13 (Associated Press)—German railroads now freed of government control and politics are considering innovations and improvements. Under the general superintendency of Rudolf Oeser, formerly minister of transportation, careful study is being made of the needs and comforts of passengers, the increase of speed, the maintenance of safety, and a proper margin of profit.

When the tourist season opens next May, overseas passengers will be able to take a through train from the docks at Bremerhaven and Cuxhaven for Berlin. Thus will a prewar service be resumed. Wireless telephones have been installed on the trains between Berlin and Hamburg, Frankfurt and Munich.

The average speed of German trains before the war was 41.5 miles an hour, and Germany always has enjoyed the reputation of having fewer accidents than any other country in the world. In 1924 the speed average was 34.7, but Director Oeser is confident this will be increased in 1925. To this end there will be extensive improvements to tracks. Engines and rolling stock already are satisfactory, the director asserts.

The German railroad system employs about 800,000 men. There are 11,250 railroads stations, 33,000 miles of track, 106 construction shops and 3,237 administration offices.

One of the director's chief tasks is to make the lines profitable enough to take care of their share of the reparations burden, and he is confident this can be done. He has a free hand to run the system on strictly business principles. He has dismissed 300,000 men whom he considered superflous; railway officials no longer hold their jobs for life. He is catering to the business of the countries surrounding Germany which need the German lines for trans-shipment purposes.

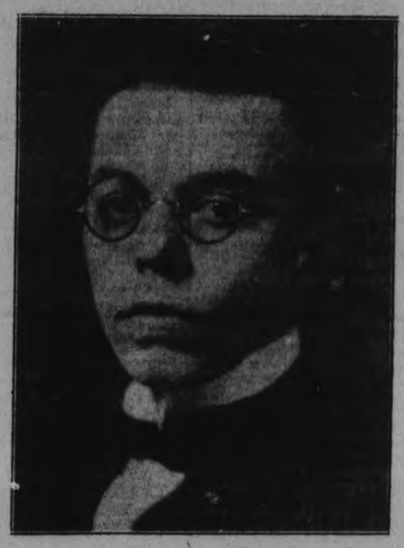
THE JOHN R. CRESSY COMPANY OF TORONTO OPENS LOCAL SALES OFFICE



MR. D. J. GEHAN

recently appointed Branch Manager J. R. Cressy Co.

THE JOHN R. CRESSY COMPANY of Toronto and Ottawa, have recently opened a sales office in Peterboro, and Mr. D. J. Gehan, formerly of Marmora, has been appointed manager of the local branch.

The Cressy Company are Manufacturers of Toilet Articles, and handle a line of Extracts, Tea, Coffee, Cocoa, Spices and Soaps, and these lines are all sold direct to the consumer and at a very small margin of profit.

The local office controls all of Central Ontario and have in the City of Peterboro eight salesmen—all of whom are experienced men in this line, and who are calling on the homes every day. It might be remembered that this manner of merchandising does not come under the classification of peddlars, as the salesmen simply take the orders and deliver at a later date from the local warehouse. All goods are sold under a money-back guarantee, should the customer not be satisfied in every way.

We are in a position to give our customers the best of service, and should you not have one of our salesmen call on you in the near future we shall be pleased to have you phone our office, No. 284 or write 205 Barrie Building, and we shall at once send a man to you—this is only part of our efficient service.

We take pleasure in annnouncing the personnel of our local sellig staff, as follows:

Mr. D. Galvin ..... 745 Water Street, Phone 1429J
Mr. J. Corkery ..... 378 Queen Street.
Mr. C. F. Watson ..... 475 Water Street, Phone 459M
Mr. S. E. Wood ..... 258 Aylmer St., Phone 2099J
Mr. A. G. Herring ..... 184 Dalhousie St, Phone 2032J
H. Crowley. Jas. Conroy. Art. Butler.

Any of the above salesmen will be glad to give you any information as to our goods any time you may call.

A trial will convince you.

Lauds Quality in Sunnysuds

Electric Washer

SUNNYSUDS QUALITY AND SUNNYSUDS SATISFACTION ARE REFLECTED IN THE FOLLOWING UNSOLICITED LETTER:

University Of Toronto Athletic Association

Secretary's Office, Hart House, August 15, 1924.

Onward Manufacturing Company,
Kitchener, Ontario.

Gentlemen.—The Sunnysuds Electric Washer purchased by us for use in Hart House last fall has given great satisfaction, and it is undoubtedly a most efficient washing machine.

Although a small machine in appearance, we find it quite adequate for the work—we turn through an average of 3,000 pieces a week during the session, and to date it has washed some 75,000 without a hitch or service call of any kind.

On this account we feel an expression of appreciation is due to you, as, if the case had been otherwise, you would, no doubt have heard from us.

We can, therefore, recommend the Sunnysuds Washer to anyone who is looking for a good machine that is at the same time easy to manage.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) T. A. REED, Secretary, U. of T.A.A

FINAL GAME OF SENIOR SERIES HERE ON MONDAY

Varsity Will Conclude the Group Schedule Against Petes at Brock Street.

A SNAPPY GAME

Peterboro in Hamilton Tonight for Last Game on the Road.

Monday night's game at Brock Street Rink between Varsity and Peterboro, the last scheduled game in the Senior group race, should be one of the best of the season. The Petes need the game to finish out in front in the schedule while, although there is nothing at stake for Varsity, the college spirit of the Collegians will cause them to exert every effort for victory. The University team according to the Toronto critics, has improved more than any team in Toronto and Connie Smythe has the students going at the top of their form. In Louie Hudson they have one of the fastest skaters in amateur hockey while Porter and Taylor, the defense pair, rank with the best. The Petes will have to show their finest wares to snatch the decision away from the Collegians, and Monday's game should provide the fans with the finest contest of the year in the local ice box.

The plan for subscribers will open at Bond's tomorrow while the general public will get its innings on Monday. A capacity audience is expected.

Tonight the Petes are playing their second last game of the scheduled series in Hamilton, where they arrived last evening from the Soo. Although the blue shirts may be feeling the effects of their long trip and two fast games against the Greyhounds they should have enough left to "take" the Rowing Club and clinch their place in the group play offs. The Petes covered themselves with glory on their Soo expedition, their great showing against the Allan Cup holders on their own ice surprising the Northern fans, who were generous in their praises of the Lift Lock crew.

Mr. G. N. Gordon K.C., M.P., sent a wire a day or two ago to Mayor Dawson of Sault Ste. Marie thanking the people of the Soo for their fine reception and generous hospitality to the Peterboro Hockey Club, and the Soo's chief magistrate replied with a telegram to the Deputy-Speaker in Ottawa which stated that it had been a pleasure to entertain the Petes, whose "fine reputation had been sustained in a splendid game without a penalty imposed."

PASSING OF LOU DILLON

Was One of the Greatest Trotters That Ever Lived.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The passing of Lou Dillon (1:58½) at the age of 27 years, one of the greatest trotters that ever lived, leaves Uhlan (1:58) alone under the eucalyptus trees in the paddock overlooking the Pacific Ocean that he shared with the peerless mare for so many years at Santa Barbara, says the Herald-Tribune. These superb trotters, each a champion, perfect in gait and faultless in form, have been enjoying the closing days of their existence in a manner befitting the parts they played in the life of their owner, C. K. G. Billings, who has counted that day lost that did not include a visit to them while he was in California.

It is many years since Lou Dillon, which took her record in 1903, felt the chafe of harness. Her days as a matron were full of usefulness. Her children achieved distinction beyond the ordinary on the turf. They, in turn, have transmitted to their children the splendid qualities that for nine years made their mother a world's champion, and it is probable that long after the dust of Lou Dillon has mingled with the soil of her native California the fame of the renowned mare will be kept alive by the prowess of still more remote descendants.

Those who have been privileged to note the bond of affection between Lou Dillon and Uhlan and the devotion of Mr. Billings to the two have appreciated to the fullest the strength of the tie that binds a sportsman to horses that have achieved the unusual for him. With his dainty chestnut mate gone out of his life, the black warrior, whose versatility has never been approached by a horse of his type, is left alone and far from the days when crowds acclaimed him champion of the world.

U. S. SKI CHAMPION.

Alfred Orhn Jumped 146 Feet at Canton, S.D.

CANTON, S.D., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Alfred Orhn, Forest Preserve Ski Club, Chicago, late yesterday became national ski champion with two jumps of 146 feet at the national ski tournament.

Halvor Bjorngard, Aurora Ski Club, Redwing, Minn., won the Class B section with jumps of 138 and 137 feet. Shortening of the take-off, which was resorted to yesterday morning to prevent jumpers landing on a flat surface, greatly diminished the length of the jumps, a leap of 191 feet having been made on Wednesday.

NURMI STILL AT IT.

Broke Three of His Own Records in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Feb. 13.—Paavo Nurmi smashed three more world's records last night when he scored a sensational victory in a handicap race at a mile and one quarter, featuring the 106th Regiment indoor games. The phantom Finn, flashing a brilliant race in his first appearance here, erased his own indoor standards for 2,000 yards, 3,000 metres and a mile and a quarter and led his only dangerous rival, Jimmy Connolly, former Georgetown star to the tape by 75 yards.

DRAW FOR THE SCOTTISH CUP

Rangers and Celtic Lucky—Dundee to Entertain Airdrieonians.

The draw for the third round of the Scottish Cup games to be played on 21st February gives promise of outstanding interest.

Luck is still with the Glasgow Rangers, who are due to entertain Montrose, near neighbours of Arbroath, whom they ousted in the second round.

Celtic may also consider themselves fortunate in being bracketed with either Vale of Leven or Solway Star at Parkhead but Dundee, unless things brighten up, may find the visit of Airdrieonians to Dens Park a rather sorrowful affair.

The draw resulted as follows:
Kilmarnock v. Dykehead.
St. Mirren v. Partick Thistle.
Aberdeen v. Motherwell.
Broxburn v. Falkirk.
Hamilton A. v. Raith Rovers.
Rangers v. Arbroath.
Dundee v. Airdrieonians.
Celtic v. Vale of Leven or Solway Star.

WON DIVING CONTEST.

Abe Mitchell, of England, Got 312 Yards in Longest.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Abe Mitchell, of England, averaging 307 yards on three drives, his longest 312 yards, won the driving contest of the Texas open golf championship tournament yesterday. Mitchell scored 47 points for accuracy and distance.

Charley Hall, Birmingham, was second with 43 points, and McDonald Smith third with 32.

SOCCER NOTES.

The Peterboro and District Football Association issue a hearty invitation to all prospective teams to send in their entries to the secretary Jack Cridland, 862 George street, phone 2283-W, on or before the first Monday, March 2nd.

The decision to break away from O.F.A. means that there will be no Ontario or Plenty Cup competitions this year.

It is rumoured that some more clubs contemplate joining the senior body in the near future. Such names "All Canadians," C. P. C., G. W. V.A., C. G. E., and All Scots have all been mooted. At any rate we shall wait and see.

The senior organization will meet every Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 8 p. m. prompt. Executive and representatives take note.

In the discussion that took place at last Monday's meeting, there were three. Mr. Anderson's, who brought out splendid arguments-one on the protest question—one on the players status—and one on the unorganized basis in soccer. "Pentlemen" said one of the speakers, "lets have argument in this room now. Don't wait until we get out on the street. This is the place to spit out your news. We may as well suffer it now as have it all season."

TURF'S GAMEST FILLY

'Miss Meise" Has Finished the Money in 26 Consecutive Starts.

FAMOUS FILLY, MISS MEISE; INSETS (LEFT), TRAINER ROGERS; (RIGHT) OWNER CRAIN.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13.—The gamest and most consistent filly on the American turf.

That's the record claimed by H. L. Crain, owner, and R. L. Rogers, trainer of Miss Meise, the four-year-old bay filly by Ormondale-Margaret Meise, back in New Orleans for her second winter.

Often owners and trainer become enthused over the performances of thoroughbreds in their stables when they beat a field above the ordinary, but Messrs. Crain and Rogers have more than one or two races on which to substantiate their statements.

Cold figures don't lie and race horse followers who like to dig into the old "dope" book will find the following facts:

Miss Meise has not been out of the money once in her last 25 starts.

Thirteen times the game little race has led her fields to the wire.

Ten times she has finished second.

Three times only has she finished third.

A remarkable feature about the filly is the fact that she has gone on since her first victory of her long streak since Oct. 19, 1923, without being laid up, racing summer and winter with no change at all in her form.

"I know of many cases of 'iron horses' making a great record for one season but at the end of the year retiring, but I can't recall such a record for consistency as that held by Miss Meise," said Owner Crain. "It is remarkable how she raced during the summer, shipping from one track to another, then going on just as successful in New Orleans during the winter."

Miss Meise started her record at Latonia Oct. 19, 1923, by beating Oo La La, with Ivan Parke, the leading rider of America, in the saddle.

From Latonia Miss Meise has made the following tracks, Churchill Downs, New Orleans and Hawthorne several of them twice.

In 15 months of racing over all kinds of track and in all kinds of weather, Miss Meise hasn't been outside the money.

In her last start, Dec. 18, Miss Meise clipped a fifth of a second off the Jefferson track record of 1:42 3-5 set by Rocky Mountain two years ago.

The NUT CRACKER

BY JOE WILLIAMS

In addition to Mr. Kearns, it may now be said that Mr. Dempsey has Estelle to support.

We suppose Miss Taylor agreed to tkae the champion for better or worse and yet he could hardly be nay worse than he was the night he fought Bill Brennan.

If Mr. Dempsey is to become a succesful Romeo he will have to do more clinching than he usually does in the ring.

Mr. Dempsey says this, his second marriage, will be his last ..... In other words, it is a wind-up bout.

Not the least remarkable thing about the wedding was that no journalistic genuis used this headline: "Champion Kayoed by Cupid."

We don't know whether Miss Taylor can cook or not ....It is fairly evident however, that she has already cooked Harry Wills' goose.

Mr. Dempsey says he really does love to hang around the house ....Especially when the house aggregates $600,000.

Miss Taylor had to get a divorce to get Dempsey ....Gibbons and Wills are still wondering what they'll do to get him.

For the first time in his life Mr. Dempsey appeared for an important engagement without his red sweater and butter-rubbed whiskers.

You probably noticed that Firpo was not the best man ....Indeed, he was not the best man at a previous affair in which Mr. Dempsey participated.

Tournament Golf Gets Early Start In England

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(AP). The 1925 tournament season in British golf began almost with the start of the new year, the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing Society inaugurating it at Rye with their annual competition for the president's putter. This was won by H. D. Gillies, middle-aged native of New Zealand who bowled over both Cyril Tolley and Sir Ernest Holderness on the last day of the competition, had won the putter on four previous occasions.

The Oxford and Cambridge Society embraces only ex-students of the two ancient universities, but most of the amateurs who have attained greatness in Britain are members. This indicates how much golf has remained a "gentleman's game" in England, no matter how safe it has been made for democracy. Indeed, every amateur champion since 1919 has been an Oxford man. Storey, runner-up in last year's championship is a Cambridge student.

Thousands of persons who are not "gentelmen" in the restricted sense of that term as used in English sport play golf, of course. But few of them, apparently, have the leisure to become brilliant experts.

WARKWORTH GET DOUBLE-HEADER

The Campbellford Girls' and Boys' Teams Bested in Good Games.

GIRLS WERE BETTER.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb 13. — Warkworth boys and girls annexed both ends of the double header staged at Covert's Arena last night.

Dr. Allen's lady puck chasers handed Charlie Davidson's girls a 1 to 0 defeat in their first game this season, while the boys' team trimmed the local bank clerks 7 to 5.

The girls game was an evenly contested affair, both teams showing plenty of speed, some good combination and great back checking ability. The Warkworth ladies have improved wonderfully since their last appearance here and deserved their victory on the nights' play.

Miss Boyce and Miss Copperthwaite were very prominent for Warkworth, showing unusual speed and puck carrying ability, while Eve Irwin for Campbellford was just about the best on the ice. She figured in every play for the locals, had many dangerous shots on goal, and was a tireless worker. She seems to improve with every game. The rest of the girls played good hockey and will improve with practice; they have only had a few work outs this season, while the Warkworth girls have been going steady all winter.

Real Mix Up.

The boys' game contained about everything in the dictionary, a little good hockey, plenty of shinney, a disputed goal, and a demonstration of a one armed hockey player by 'Fat" McCullough. Ingrams and Parsons played nice hockey but got little help from the rest of the brigade.

The line up:

Warkworth boys, 7: Goal, Duncan, l.d., Fruere; r.d., Thompson; c. Phillips; r.w. Oliver; l.w. Campbell; subs. Drury and Boyce.

Campbellford bankers 5: Scriver goal; McCullough, ld., Vanvolkenburg, r.d., Parsons, centre; Ingram, r.w., Young l.w.; subs.Callahan.

Referee: Jack Cowell.

Referee Chas. Holmes.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 13.—The Campbellford bonspiel, which was to have been held this week, had to be postponed on account of the mild weather. It will be held next week, February 17th and 18th, beginning at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Efforts are being made to have this bonspiel the best of any that has been held here.

TELESCOPE FOR AFRICA

Yale Building a Large Observatory at Cape Town.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 13.—(United Press).—The telescope for the new Yale observing station in South Africa is now on the water en route for Cape Town. The object glass, 26 inches in diameter, was taken as personal baggage by Dr. Frank Schlesinger, director of the Yale observatory. The main object will be to determine the distance of stars visible from South Africa. Dr. Schlesinger will remain in South Africa until June, when it is expected that the erection of the telescope will be completed. He will have with him Claude H. Hall, Jr., assistant in the Yale University observatory. Dr. H. L. Alden of the McCormick observatory of the University of Virginia, has been appointed to take charge of the station with Hall as his assistant.

WALKER WITH COLLEGE.

Former Hamilton Outside Wing Will Play With Queens.

KINGSTON, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Norman (Liz) Walker, the celebrated tackling outside wing of the Hamilton Big Four champions, arrived here to-day to resume his studies at Queen's University and will be with Queen's football team this fall. He has been out of college for a year. This now means that he will be here for three years and will be a great asset to the football squad.

JUNIOR PETES PLAY SOON.

Visit Either Brockville or Trenton on Monday Night.

After waiting since Monday for the thaw to end Brockville and Trenton Juniors are playing the second game of the round in Brockville to-night. Brockville won the game in Trenton last Friday and should win at home to-night. The Peterborough Juniors visit the winners on Monday of next week with the home game on Wednesday or Thursday. The winners of this round go into the semi-finals and on their showing so far this season the young Petes look like the team to beat for the junior championship. This Brockville bunch has been running up some big scores in their games, but they are likely to strike a snag when they hit the Petes' defence.

FORD METHODS SEEN IN FILMS

W. R. McGie of Company's Engineering Department Addressed Local Engineers.

MASS PRODUCTION

W. R. McGie of the engineering department of the Ford Motor Company of Canada was the speaker last night at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. The subject of the address was "Mass Production". The great feature of the Ford plants is the great speed of all operations. Almost all the machines are automatic in operation and all heavy labor is done by means of hoists, trucks, etc. When raw material for the different parts enters the plant at one end it travels to the assembly lines at the other end of the plant with a minimum of retracing as all processes follow in necessary order.

Among the huge machines was a punch-press for forming cylinders, which was 20 feet high and exercises a pressure of 900 tons. A great many drill presses, milling machines reamers and other complicated tools were shown in operation.

In the Ford body plant bodies are conveyed on a monorail from one coat of paint to another and the several coats with the baking to dry them takes 24 hours.

The great item in the Ford plant as in all others is keeping down the overhead expense. The ratio maintained at Ford is approximately 60% productive labor on cars and 40% non-productive labor such as construction men, labor and yard gangs, power house workers and sweepers and cleaners.

Mr. McGie showed a great many slides and four reels of film showing the various processes of the Company including the assembly of Canadian Ford number 500,000 on June 11, 1924.

After the principal speaker had finished J. J. Duffus, local agent for Ford cars said a few words. R. L. Dobbin of the Utilities staff was chairman for the evening.

Canadian Authorities Allege Non-Payment of Duties—Captain Mushes to Ottawa.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The Anchorage Times has received a report that Canadian Customs officials and mounted police have seized for alleged non-payment of duties, the United States owned and outfitted schooner Maid of Orleans, the only vessel to reach Herschel Island, 1,000 miles north-east of Point Barrow, Alaska, in a year.

Captain Christian Klingenburg, veteran far north fur trader, and skipper of the Orleans, was reported mushing overland to Fair Banks, 460 miles south-west of Herschel Island, en route to Ottawa, Ontario, to obtain release of the vessel.

WOULD CHANGE CODE.

Quebec Member Would Admit Councillors Who Cannot Read Freely.

QUEBEC February 13 (Canadian Press).— The Municipal Code Committee of the Quebec Legislative Assembly adopted a Bill introduced by Edouard Hamel, ofPortneuf, as regards the qualifications for election to municipal councils under the municipal code.

At present the law states a candidate as councillor must be able to read and write freely.

Mr .Hamel wished to strike out the word "freely."

The committee compromised by stating councillors must be able to read printing and sign their names.

The qualifications for mayor and secretary-treasurer are left the same. They must read and write freely.

The Bill, even as amended, is expected to meet strong opposition in the House.

TEETH AND THE LAW.

POTSDAM, Germany, Feb. 13.—(United Press).—It's no crime here to knock a man's teeth out. A local court decided that there was no "bodily injury" involved when a piano player clipped a guest in a carbaret so hard that eight of his teeth came out.

The court reasoned that the teeth—anatomically speaking—were not a part of the body, the learned judge opined that it was simple enough to buy some store teeth to replace the missing eight.

Yale Tackle Is Married; Kept Out Of His Classes

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 13.—(United Press)—"Century" Milstead, star tackle of the 1923 football team, is being kept from his classes at Yale to-day, pending action of the committee of rules following the announcement that he has been married for some time.

Yale undergraduates are not permitted to marry while in school, and it is understood that Milstead has been dropped from his class. He is a junior in the academic department, and came to Yale from Wabash. He has been working his way through school as a fireman in a New Haven hotel, and efforts are being made to have the rule suspended in his case.

SOUTH SEA ISLAND WORLD PEACE CITY

Owner Will Donate Property If Powers Will Guarantee Protection.

HONOLULU, Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—The Palmyra Islands, some 1,000 miles south of Hawaii will be deeded to the Pan-Pacific union as a gift if the United States agrees to withdraw sovereignty from them and recognize the isles as a neutral inviolate place of refuge for all persons who wish to confer on matters looking to the advancement of all interests common to the Pacific peoples, according to announcement made by the owner, L. Fullard-Leo at a Pan-Pacific luncheon.

Alexander Hume Ford, director of the Pan-Pacific union, said that the offer will be taken under advisement by the union, and its decision as to acceptance will be reserved until the attitude of the State Department at Washington is learned.

The islands were purchased outright several years ago from Judge Henry E. Cooper by Fullard-Leo, who was born in South Africa but now is an American citizen. It has been his idea to provide some one recognized spot in the Pacific, under the flag of no nation but under the protection of all, where in peace or war persons might meet in perfect freedom to discuss any matters of import to the Pacific peoples.

"This opens up a tremendous question that will have to be decided by the Pacific powers," said an announcement from the union. "Will they permit such an independent island in the Pacific?"

"For a quarter of a century there has been a movement on foot in Europe to create a world city, where a permanent parliament of the world would be held. Extensive plans of the world city have been sent to the union from Rome, with a statement that in the centre of the Pacific alone would such a world capital be safe.

"The tentative offer of an independent principality to the Pan-Pacific union, to be under the control of no nation but its perpetual peace assured by the countries bordering the Pacific, will doubtless cause world-wide comment, and possibly a line of international reasoning that may lead to the approval of the Fullard-Leo plan.

"It may be stated in passing that Palmyra is a part of Hawaii, a ward, in fact of the city of Honolulu. Any persons living in Palmyra may vote for officials of the city and county of Honolulu. The city might lose an outlying ward, but if the whole world be the gainer, she can afford to give her assistance."

RITOLA IS ONLY HOPE.

Smashes Nurmi's Record in Two Miles—Two Finns Clash.

BUFFALO, Feb. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Willie Ritola, stout-hearted Finnish-American distance runner, stands out to-day more prominently than ever as the one competitor having a chance to stop the victorious march of his fellow-countryman, Paavo Nurmi.

Competing in the feature events of the 108th Regiment indoor games last night, Ritola in one of the most sensational races of his career, smashed Nurmi's two-mile record to bits after the peerless Paavo himself had sped to three new world's indoor marks in a race at one mile and a quarter that inaugurated another three-night programme for the Finish marvels.

An attractive costume for a cold night is a bunch of blankets thrown over a bed and tucked in.

OSTEOPATHICS TO MEET IN TORONTO

First International Gathering To Be Held Outside the United States.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The doctors who say "it's all in the machinery" are planning to meet in Toronto July 5 to 11. In other words, the osteopathic profession will get together here at that time in its first international gathering to be held outside the United States.

A Toronto committee under the chairmanship of Dr. R. E. Hendson is in direct charge of the plans, backed by the official organization of osteopathic physicians of the Province of Ontario. They plan to entertain about 3,000 doctors, coming mostly from the States, but also representing every Province in Canada, and also England, Scotland, Ireland, France and India.

The President of the international organization is Dr. Chester D. Swope of Washington, D. C. The headquarters office is in Chicago, in charge of Dr. C. J. Gladdis, formerly of California.

The first class was graduated from the first osteopathic college in Kirksville, Missouri, less than 31 years ago, and several of its members are still in active practice. Shortly after that osteopathy became known in practically all States of the Union, and for more than 20 years it has been practiced in Canada. Most of the Canadian Provinces have active professional organizations of osteopathic physicians, affiliated with the American (International) Osteopathic Association. There is also a British association, and in the States there are several regional organizations (such as Eastern, Western, Central States, New England, Middle Atlantic and Rocky Mountain), in addition to the State societies.

Many Affiliations.

There are a number of societies of specialists, affiliated with the international body, and also organizations of those whose professional interests run in special channels. There is the Osteopathic Women's National Association, which is affiliated with the leading organizations of club women in America. The American Osteopathic Society of Opthalmology and Otolaryngology is made up of eye, ear, nose and throat specialists, who apply special osteopathic technic to the treatment of disorders of these organs, in addition to the methods used by the specialists in the older schools. The American Society of Osteopathic Internists does not have any particular relation to hospital internes, as its name at first sight might seem to indicate, but comprises osteopathic physicians paying special attention to diseases of the internal organs, who pledge themselves to do a given amount of postgraduate work every year. The American Osteopathic Hospital Association comprises representatives from most of the osteopathic hospitals and sanitariums in Canada and the States, and studies their problems. All of these various societies, as well as the Associated Colleges of Osteopathy and a few other groups, hold annual meetings, usually a few days before or just after the main international convention, and so Toronto will entertain all of them this summer.

Germs and Parasites.

Osteopathy recognizes the same disease causes as do the other branches of medicine—accidents, bad air, wrong eating, loss of sleep, overwork, bad habits and other hygienic faults. Disease germs and parasites play their part, as well as derangements of the glands of the body. But over and above all, osteopathy looks upon man as a vital machine. The osteopathic physician holds that it is a part of his duty to fight and remove these various disease causes coming from environment or faulty habits. He uses antiseptics when the skin or mucous membrane is broken or cut to admit infection, but for the great mass of disease germs which invade the body and constitute infections, he believes that if the body machine is in proper adjustment, its own glands will make all the medicine it needs. The backbone of osteopathic therapy has to do with the backbone of the patient, and with the ribs and other bones that attach to it.

Migration Made Easy For British Retired Officers

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Associated Press).—To facilitate co-operation in emigration among retired professional classes with small fixed incomes, the Empire Community Settlement has been organized here to care for retired military officers, civil servants, engineers and other professional men unfitted to go to the dominions as agricultural settlers in the ordinary way.

It is proposed to establish them overseas on model farms, something like garden cities, with two to five acres, dwelling, stable and outhouse sites, and club houses where meals may be obtained at a low rate. After five years of this life the settlers would be expected to find a permanent place in the dominion.

Wider skirts are noticed in the new spring fashions, which should give freedom of movement in beating carpets.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"NORTH OF 36."

The old slavery line, "thirty six," is taken as the dividing point between north and south in the cattle drive that forms the motive for the big feature picture at the Capitol for the last half of this week. Readers of the Saturday Evening Post will remember the story of Taisie Lockhart, and the way she drove her forty-five hundred head of horned cattle from Laguna del Sol in the Lone Star State to Abilene, in Kansas, a thousand miles away, in the days when hoop-skirts were in vogue. It makes a wonderful companion to "The Covered Wagon," and there is a strong resemblance in several of the scenes of episodes in the former production. There is a similarity, too, in the lighting effects. The same white, clear light that flooded the treck of the colonists of '49 illumines the march of the horned cattle to the Kansas market. One scene is memorable, with a starlit sky above the quiet herd. And there is an interesting treatment of sub-title backgrounds. Back of the title, in vague, shadowy fashion, appear the advancing beasts in the stampede scene and the fingers of the guitar player strum a melody behind the words that announce his song.

There is a thrilling, stampede scene, where the cattle, alarmed by a sudden night rifle shot, race madly, their horns milling and grinding in the melee. There is humour, too, in the finish at Abilene, where an official reception for the herd gets all tangled up. An element in this picture that has a resemblance to its forerunner of "The Covered Wagon" is the atmosphere or reality. The audience gets just as excited as Taisie Lockhart in the effort she is making to get her cattle safe to the Kansas town, and draws a breath of relief when mounted soldiers ward off a stealthy Comanche attack.

The cast is excellent. Lois Wilson is a charming girl rancher, Ernest Torrence as Jim Nabours is just as splendid as he was in "The Covered Wagon," where he will be remembered as the tall, gangling, tobacco-chewing, hard-riding member of the party; Jack Holt gives a good picture of the hero, McMasters, although sideburns are just a little out of place on his dark countenance, and Noah Beery is the villain, Sim Rudabaugh, striving to wrest from Taisie her cherished land scrip, and leader of a group of Texas land grabbers.

The orchestra has a particularly appropriate musical programme for the big picture, the selections ranging all the way from the Indian love song, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," to "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," and "Pop Goes the Weasel."—Jeannette.

WEST POINT CADETS TURN MOVIE ACTORS.

The United States Military Academy paid an unusual honor to Dick Barthelmess and his director, John Robertson, when the authorities granted leave to cadets in order that they might come to New York and participate in a scene for "Classmates," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

Most of the Academy scenes were staged at West Point, but in order to get the proper lighting effects Robertson had to stage the big dance scene in the New York studio. As it would have been impossible to engage actors to look like West Point cadets or to behave in the correct military fashion he was obliged to ask for permission to use real cadets. Because the picture is carrying the full official endorsement of the Academy the authorities willingly assigned a group of cadets to go to the New York studio.

AT THE GRAND

The Grand Opera House re-opens on Monday, with an excellent programme that includes first-class vaudeville from Detroit, and a big feature picture. There will be a daily matinee and a complete change of programme each three days.

For the first three days of next week, there will be a triple vaudeville act, with Galvin and Diano, in "Musical Moments," Sol and Leslie Burns, in a comedy turn, "I'll Fix That," and Ardell Brothers, in a novelty, "Roman Ring Act."

Flores Diano and Mark Galvin appear in a musical act. Diano is known as one of the foremost steel guitar soloists on the American stage today, and Mark Galvin is without a doubt in a class by himself in eccentric violin playing. The Roman Ring Act is described as a unique novelty.

The feature picture, "Racing for Life," is described as a thrilling drama, the sort that mirrors reality in many ways. It not only contains such thrills as come to each of us once in a lifetime, but the joys of adventure, manifold incidents of mystery and suspense, plus a wonderful love interest.

Those who remember how thrilling and entertaining "The Battling Fool" was will welcome the arrival of this second Perfection Picture, "Racing For Life," featuring Eve Novak and William Fairbanks.

The fact is that the producers have left no effort slip by to make the entire series of Perfection Pictures truly entertaining, with the punch and human interest that the public likes to see.

In "Racing For Life" Fairbanks contributes some real dramatic acting as well as a number of thrills that will hold you in suspense until the very end. His racing to a championship is one of the most tnoable screen spectacles recently filmed. Many Fairbanks fans will be glad to see him again with his usually appealing stunts.

Eva Novak, who plays the leading lady, gives a superb performance, once more supplying ample reason why she has vecome a favorite in filmdom.

AT THE ROYAL

SPECIAL DIRECT WIRE FROM HAMILTON ARENA TO ROYAL TO-NIGHT

Owing to the importance of to-night's game at Hamilton, a special direct wire from Hamilton Arena to Royal audience is being installed. All the plays will be given as they are made.

Nothing higher than a 25c admission will be charged.

"GREATER THAN MARRIAGE" LARGE AUDIENCE.

Film of New York Life Appeals to All. Filled with Thrills and Dramatic Situations.

The title "Greater Than Marriage" has attracted much attention, and drew a large audience at the Royal Theatre, where is was shown yesterday. The film is a Victor Hugo Halperin production adapted from the novel, "Joan Thursday," by Louis Joseph Vance. It is one of those photoplays which stay the attention in the early sequences and hold it to the final fade out. The intimate views of New York used as backgrounds and atmosphere, appeal to old and young alike. There is the lure of the gay white way at night, with the tinted electric signs of Times Square flashing like bright stars in the black sky of night, a trip up Fifth Avenue in a bus, scene along Riverside Drive, the interior of the Grand Central Terminal with its vast throng of travellers, the interior of one of Broadway's famous playhouses showing the famous first night audience and a number of other equally interesting places that the average person has become acquainted with through fiction and news articles.

The story faithfully depicts the life and struggles of a young girl who seeks a career on the stage and makes good. It gives intimate pictures of the life behind the scenes and also the private life trials and tribulations of an actress. It should appeal to all who have had ambitions to go on the stage or write plays and furnishes thrills for those who enjoy intense dramatic action.

Marjorie Daw, in the leading feminine role, is at her best in this production. She takes the role seriously and handles it in masterly style. She is particularly strong in the sequence where she struggles with Raymond Bloomer, as the heavy, and, as a climax, leaps off a balcony ten storeys above the ground.

Lou Tellegen is always good, and as John Masters, the playwright, who, after several years of success, meets with failure, does excellent work.

The entire cast is carefully selected. Tyrone Power, while appearing in only a few sequences, stands out in bold relief as the tyrannical father whose idea of love is to break the spirit of the entire family, and Effie Shannon, as his wife, who sacrifices career, ambition and fame for love and would do the same thing over again, wins sympathy immediately and holds her audiences. Dagmar Godowsky is true to type as a vamp.

There are several novelties introduced into the action, such as the publicity stunts used by stage stars to win fame, and an interesting ballet number which has been tinted to give it a realistic effect.

"Greater Than Marriage" is one of those productions that may safely be recommended to provide an interesting evenjng's entertainment and give the spectator something to carry in the way of new ideas. It tells a straightforward story of life as it exists in New York and the trials and heartaches that often accompany success and achievement.

ANDY GUMP AT ROYAL.

The children will have a good time on Saturday afternoon at the Royal. Andy Gump in "Andy's Stump Speech," is a riot of laughs. Snooky, the trained monkey, supplies some more and the "Iron Man," with its thrills, should make the kiddies happy.

AT THE REGENT

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS POLICE CHIEF AUTHOR OF "INTO THE NET"

Richard E. Enright, Police Commissioner of New York City, Writes Story Showing Police Methods of Tracing Missing Girls and Capturing Criminals.

"Into the Net," the title given to the new ten chapter Patheserial, featuring Edna Murphy and Jack Mulhall, has a double punch, for its story, which is by Richard E. Enright, Commissioner of Police of New York City, shows how many beautiful girls are caught in the net of a gang of clever crooks who seek in the homes of the wealthy and the best families for their victims. And then it shows how the highly systematized and efficient police department of a big city operates to gather the criminals into the net of the law.

The Regent Theatre has booked "Into the Net" to be shown every Thursday, Friday and Saturday for ten successive weeks, the first episode showing on Thrusday next. Nothing like it has ever been seen on the screen before. Its story is based on actual experiences of the police of the world's metropolis, New York City. It shows how girls of wealth and social position, whose associates are apparently above reproach, suddenly and mysteriously disappear; it shows where they are taken and for what purpose, and how the crooks profit by their nefarious trade. But the public are ever close on their heels, pursuing them relentlessly and with a cunning and cleverness matching their own, often frustrating their movements by anticipating them.

During the unwinding of the story, which contains mystery, intrigue and romance, every branch of the New York police department is seen in operation. The strong arm squad is seen in action in raids; the department of criminal identfication;

TOM MIX IN "THE DEADWOOD COACH."

Bigger Hit Than Ever With Local Fans.

If there is a thrill left in you, if your memory can go back to the days of real sport, when the greatest hero of your imagination was the two-gun man of the plains—then you have a great evening's entertainment in store for you at the Regent Theatre. Tom Mix in "The Deadwood Coach," a William Fox screen adaptation of Clarence Mulford's novel, "The Orphan," opened a three days' run last night. It drew a capacity house.

With a superb cast, Mix has made what we believe is the best Western motion picture of his career. It has thrilling action, breath-taking suspense and a comedy relief which is handled expertly and is calculated to make the most case-hardened film fan shake with laughter. Lynn Reynolds directed the picture and made the screen adaptation. He has done a fine job.

"The Deadwood Coach" is a story of an outlaw, known as The Orphan, who has terrorized the countryside and to whom all manner of crimes have been attributed. In reality, he is not a vicious character. He is the enemy of only one man—Tex Wilson, the man who killed his father and caused his mother's death when he was a boy.

The Orphan is accused of a murder and Sheriff Shields starts out alone to apprehend him. Suspecting that the crime would be laid to him, The Orphan expects a posse to hunt him down. Using the keen strategy of a hunted man, he turns a band of warring Indians in the path of his pursuers. Then he sees a lone white man—the Sheriff—ride into the trap. He races to his rescue and when the fight is over he convinces the sheriff of his innocence. The sheriff persuades "The Orphan" to give up his roving life and become a guard on the Deadwood Coach.

It is then that The Orphan meets Helen Shields, niece of the sheriff, and saves her from a band of marauders who try to hold up the stage coach. How he wins the girl and pays his debt to Tex Wilson, who turns out to be head of a renegade band, while posing as one of th upstanding citizens of Deadwood, makes for a swift drama of the West, full of romance and color and attaining one hundred per cent. in entertainment value.

Tom Mix is at his best in this production. He rides Tony like the wind and he shoots and fights like a man inspired. Tony was never more active and seems to enter into the spirit of the play with a vengeance. Doris May makes a very winsome leading lady and when the occasion requires, displays real histrionic ability. Lucien Littlefield supplies a fine brand of comedy as an impetuous, but ardent, supporter of "The Orphan," who knows a good looking woman when he sees one. Others in the cast are George Bancroft, De Witt Jennings, Buster Gardner, Norma Wills, Nora Cecil, Sid Jordan, Frank Coffyn, Jane Keckley and Ernest Butterworth.

SOCIAL HYGIENE COUNCIL.

Address to be Given by W. H. Harrison Next Week.

The local branch of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council has arranged that possibly three lecture-evenings will be held in this city during the next three months. The addresses will be made by men, specialists in the departments which they represent, and able to inform and direct in the work of Social Service in its broadest sense. They will be giving of time, energy and thought, with the purpose in view of informing the public as to what might be done, and should be done, to advance the plane of living and educate along lines of personal, civic, and moral service.

On Thursday evening, Feb. 19th in the Public Library Hall, W. H. Harrison, secretary of the Canadian National Newspapers and Periodicals Association, will speak on the "Influence of Books on Morality." The topic is one vital to parents who should supervise the literature that is accessible to their boys and girls. With the mass of light writing often pernicious in its influence, that is found at hand it is growing more and more essential that the young mind, eager to absorb and hold, may be directed along the right path. Reading as a source of information stands right alongside of oral instruction, and deserves careful attention in the case of the young.

Those who heard Mr. Justice Riddell's able address last November, will be equally interested in what Mr. Harrison as to say.

Further announcement will be made with regard to the address. Silver collection. 1d38 5617

Sutcliffe Shows Cricket.

Brilliant Yorkshire Player With Touring Team Scores 282 for Two Wickets.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press). — Sutcliffe, the brilliant Yorkshire professional, was the main factor in England's good start in the fourth cricket Test match with Australia, commencing to-day.

Scoring a century, and being still at the wickets when play was called, the Englishmen, who batted first, by brilliant batting, amassed 282 runs and lost only two wickets.

FISCAL POLICY OF GOVERNMENT BLAMED BY CONSERVATIVES FOR EMIGRATION AND UNEMPLOYMENT

Concerted Attack in House Friday Afternoon by Three Opposition Members.

TARIFF UNSTABLE

Only Three Blast Furnaces of Twenty in Canada Operating, Says T. E. Simpson.

OTTAWA, February 14 (Canadian Press). — Resuming the debate on the Address in the House of Commons yesterday, T. E. Simpson (Conservative, Algoma), stated that since the advent of the Liberal Government the cost of living had been reduced by the reduction of the sales tax; but the only reduction that he had observed was a reduction in revenue, manufacturing and in the pay cheque of the average citizen.

The Premier had declared that conditions in Canada compared very favourably with those in the United States; but if this were the case, why had so many Canadians found it necessary to cross the border to find employment on the other side? Why had the Government found it necessary to spend so much money in order to induce immigrants to come to this country while the United States had rigorously to enforce quota laws?

Exporting Resources.

He intended to deal with conditions respecting the iron and steel industry in this country. Canada, with the natural resources which she had, was not enoying the prosperity which she should.

"And what is the trouble?" asked Mr. Simpson.

"In my opinion, the trouble is that we are exporting too much of our natural resources in their raw or unfinished state and we are importing too mny products we cn produce at home."

Mr. Simpson dealt at some length with bad times in the iron and steel industry in Cnada. Of twenty blast furnaces in the Dominion only three were blown in at present and one of them at Sydney had been idle until a few weeks ago. Canada imported much steel from the United States while Canadian mills were idle employees were out of work, and railways lost much revenue which should accrue from the carrying of steel products. Defending the British Empire Steel Corporation against adverse criticism which had been made in the House, Mr. Simpson quoted reports of officials of that company showing that the Sydney Corporation was unable to carry on business on a large scale.

Reference to a reduction in the number of ocifials of the British Empire Corporation brought from the Minister of Labour, Hon. James Murdock, a question as to whether this reduction was not because the company previously was overmanned in the matter of officials. He pressed the point and there were cries of "Order" from the Opposition benches.

Finally Mr. Simpson said he was quoting from a vice-president's report.

Mr. Murdock said he had personal information from Mr. McClurg of the British Empire Corporation about it.

Mr. Simpson said that conditions also were bad for the Algoma Steel Corporation which had had last year the longest shut-down in twenty years. The cause of it, he said, was the fiscal policy of this Government.

Mr. Murdock asked if conditions were not as bad in the United States steel industry.

Mr. Simpson said there was a much smaller percentage of unemployment in the United States steel mills than in Canada. One of the handicaps for Canadian mills was the fact that this Government had granted drawbacks on an increasing number of articles making it impossible to compete with the highly specialised industry in the United States.

Mr. Simpson urged the Government to devote money to the development of the iron ore industry. If the Government had money to spend on the subsidising of steamships to compete with its own merchant marine, it should have money to spend on a domestic industry.

National Debt Increased.

H. A. Stewart (Conservative, Leeds) pointed out that if we continued exporting raw material, such as timber disaster would undoubtedly result. The safest course would be to develop our resources to the last point and export them in as unfinished a state as possible.

The Government had made no reference to the national debt for the reason that during the past three years this had been increased by $178,000,000 approximately. No reference either had been made to the tax conference with the Provinces.

"They came, they met, and they dissolved, and there is absolutely no record of anything tangible or any helpful result from that conference."

WON'T STEAL PAY.

Because Judge Allen P. Twyman, of East Chicago, Ill., believes he can't enforce the law, he has resigned as police court magistrate, a job paying $4,200 a year, saying "bootleggers convicted in my court appealed and were freed."

HULL COURT'S HEAVY DOCKET

Five Murder Charges in the 23 Criminal Cases on the List.

TWO INFANTICIDES.

HULL Que., Feb. 14.—Of the 23 criminal cases listed for the term of the court of King's Bench, which opens at the court house here on March 6th, with Mr. Justice L. J. Loranger presiding, no less than five are murder charges.

The capital cases entered on the lists are those of James E. Carey, of Perkins Mills, charged with murdering Joseph Bouchard, aged farmer, in West Portland Township; Sarah McCastlin, of Low, accused of infanticide: Aurore Despatie, of St. Pierre de Wakefield, also accused of infanticide, and Georges Durant and Mrs. Eugene Harel, alias, Durant, alias Hirel, who are both charged with the mured of a returned soldier named Lawrence on the Chelsea road in July, 1919.

The last two accused are not likely to come up for trial. They are out of the country, presumably in France or South America and are listed as "absent." Durant and Mrs. Harel were acquitted at the preliminary hearing held here on July 30, 1919 The record of the case was submitted to the Quebec Attorney-General. In the meantime, the two accused left the country. An indictment of murder was subsequently preferred against the two before a grand jury, and a true bill brought in on March 7, 1921.

BRITISH COMMENT ON SHIP SUBSIDY

Rate War Would Be Disconcerting to British Shipping.

LONDON, Feb. 14. — (Canadian Press). — "The Canadian Government has apparently committed itself to open war with the North Atlantic Shipping Conference," says the "Weekly Nation." "It is understood the intention is to subsidize competition and promise equivalent subsidies to any line which will agree to permit its rates to be fixed by the Canadian Government. This looks very much like an attempt to provide subsidized services for Canadian products at uneconomic rates and in view of Canada's experience in connection with Canadian state-owned services and its attempt to control freight rates on the Great Lakes, strong opposition in Canada itself to the project is anticipated.

"It seems rather strange that a preliminary attempt should not have been made to remedy the alleged grievances through the Imperial Shipping Committee, who have been remarkably successful in mediating between shipowners and shippers, and who only last year obtained considerable concessions for Canadian shippers.

"In view of the present state of British shipping the prospect of a subsidized rate war in the North Atlantic is disconcerting, and a definite statement by the Canadian Government on its proposals is awaited with some anxiety."

VETERANS OF N.W.M.P. TO GET DOMINION RELIEF

Assistance for Those in Need For Lack of Pensions.

OTTAWA, Ont. Feb. 14—The government is taking steps to overcome the serious handicap which old veterans of the Canadian Mounted Police are suffering through lack of pensions. In the House of Commons Friday, Andrew Knox Progressive member for Prince Albert, Sask., drew the attention of the government to news despatches, which, he said had been appearing in the press in this regard.

He asked if the government was taking any action to help these old veterans.

"Yes," replied Hon. Ernest Lapointe. Minister of Justice.

REPORTS COLLINS AS STILL ALIVE

One Miner Declares That He Heard Groans Through Crevice in Shaft.

RESCUERS HOPEFUL.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Only a few feet of earth to-day separated the sand cave rescue party from the cavern they believe will lead to Floyd Collins, imprisoned in a sand hole for two weeks by a boulder on his foot. The shaft was more than fifty-five feet down and at sixty feet a diamond core drill has indicated a cavern approximately nine feet high, although the depth of the shaft is small, due to accumulation of mud and sand.

Hopes Are Revived.

Collins is still alive, members of the State Military Board declared last night. One of the miners on the rescue squadron said he heard a cough or groans from him through a crevice located yesterday morning in the shaft wall, and two men heard them from the upper side of the cave-in down in the sand hole. Ed. Brenner and Alex. Bailey convinced General Deohardt that they had really heard these sounds from Collins, and the court collectively and individually expressed their convictions that Collins was alive.

The last official word of the situation ot the bottom of the shaft said that it was 52 feet deep, and three feet more was about to be timbered.

Men in the natural passage to Sand Cave talked to men in the rescue shaft while making soundings at eleven o'clock this morning.

LAST OF PIONEERS

Peter McIntyre Among the First Okanagan Settlers.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Residents of the Southern Okanagan Valley, gathered yesterday at Okanagan Falls to pay their last tribute to Peter McIntyre, last of the adult members of the band of adventurers who in 1862 blazed the trail across the pathless prairies from Fort Garry, Manitoba to the mountains, who died Thursday at the age of 90.

CHILD KILLED BY CAR.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Run down by a taxi yesterday morning while playing in front of her home, Norma, the three-year-old daughter of George H. Munroe a local merchant, died a few hours later.

BIG ORDER FOR TIES.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 14.—(United Press).—A further order for 800,000,000 feet of railway ties or sleepers has been received by British Columbia sawmills from buyers in the British Isles.

PLUNGED FIVE STOREYS

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Murdock Ballantyne of Calgary, 55, plunged to almost instant death from the fifth floor of the Noble Hotel, to the tiled rotunda early Friday morning. An inquest will be held.

ROAD MAINTENANCE COST THE PROVINCE $2,464,995 IN YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31

County Roads Received $955,550 and Townships $244,054—New Bills.

NIGHT SESSIONS.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—The legislature sat only half an hour Friday afternoon, as there was no business to proceed with. In view of the fact that no bills will be ready for Monday, the House was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon. Premier Ferguson said that no bills were printed and that, therefore, there would be little use in meeting Monday. He stated that he thought the House should clear up its business within two months and that the members should be prepared to sit nights to accomplish this object. Night sessions, however, he stated, would be as few as possible.

Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, introduced a bill for the control and eradication of the European corn borer The bill, he stated, was to give power to municipalities where the corn borer was a pest to appoint an inspector who would have power to go on farms and order certain things to be done for the destruction of the borer. He also introduced a bill for the suppression of foul brood among bees.

All the question on the order paper were answered. In reply to one question, Hon. W. H. Price said that Martin Turnbull had been appointed financial controller at a salary of $6,00 a year. He was a chartered accountant before appointment. A list of the counsel of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission was given. I. B. Lucas is chief counsel at $12,200 a year; F. C. Edwards $3,500; W. G. Hannah, $3,900; H. H. Bruel, $3,600; W. J. Carroll, $1,800. The government refused to answer the question as to when they were going to appoint a third member to the Hydro Commission. The Premier said the question concerned a matter of policy and was irregular

The total amount spent on road maintenance during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1924, was $2,464,925, according to the reply given by Hon. Geo. Henry Minister of Highways, to a question. This was divided as follows: provincial roads, $1,265,000; county roads, $955,550; township roads, $244,054.

Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney-General, in replying to another question said the statute revision committee made its recommendation to the government and not to the legislature.

The Minister of Agriculture in reply to another question said that J. P. Jaffray of Galt was paid $3,055 for work and expeses for a trip to Britain in the interest of immigration. He could not tell how many immigrants his efforts had brought to Ontario.

HOPE FOR A NEW CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT

Question of U. S. Participation Regarded as of Paramount Importance.

IMPERIAL DEFENSE.

Whole Question Is Before a Cabinet Committee for Thorough Examination.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Hope by the British government that the new disarmament conference will be called before long, and preferably by the United States, is believed to be causing the cabinet to delay its decision regarding fresh warship construction. The position outlined in previous despatches, with the treasury resisting an increase of nearly $50,000 in naval estimates, said to have been demanded by the Admiralty, has not yet been cleared, although it has been discussed at length by the cabinet. Political gossips from time to time have given currency to stories that a compromise had been reached regarding the estimates, but these stories have not been borne out, and it is now stated that a cabinet committee is to examine into the whole question of Imperial defence before a final decision is taken.

Churchill Hopes.

Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is credited with opposing the Admiralty's demand for an increased building programme is said to be banking on the prospect of another disarmament conference to strengthen his viewpoint, which it is stated has the support of several of his colleagues.

The question of American participation in such a conference is regarded as of paramount importance such participation being generally considered indispensable. Political writers today strongly emphasize this point and refer to recent statements in the American senate as hopeful auguries.

THREE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL IN RUM-RUNNING

Montreal Harbor Master is Charged With Conspiring to Defraud.

QUEBEC, Feb. 14.—Captain J. S. Symonds, harbor master of Montreal; Ludger Brien, garage owner and former customs officer, and George Hearn, all of Montreal, were set up for trial yesterday by Judge Choquette, on the charge of conspiring to defraud the public in general and the Dominion and provincial governments in particular, in connection with the rum running activities of the barge Tremblay, seized by Quebec liquor commission officers at St. Sulphice in November last.

J. E. Bisaillon, head of the customs preventive service in Montreal, was acquitted.

SURVIVORS OF COLONY RETURN

Leader of the Expedition to Wrangel Island Died of Pneumonia.

SOVIET PRISONERS.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 14.—The survivors of the ill-fated expedition, which went to establish a colony and fur trading post on Wrangel Island, under the leadership of Charles Wells, have returned. Of the original party of fourteen, who planned to make their homes in the far northern world, only eleven came to Victoria yesterday from Japan, on the steamer Iyo Maru. Charles Wells himself is dead, and Billy and Hope, the two stalwart little sons of James Peter, one of the stoical men, who dared the rigors of the untamed north, are also dead; the first having died in Vladivostok, and the second while the party was in China.

The party of colonists, led by Charles Wells, who arrived at Wrangel Island in August, 1923, found the place lonely and almost desolate. There were no trees, but there was game. Many bears roamed over the island, and these provided good meat for the colonists. There was also a profusion of fish in the sea.

The settlers were forced to build their shelters of drift wood. They were well supplied with tools and provisions, and lived fairly comfortable.

It was Wells' ambition to obtain furs with which to start a profitable business in the far north, shipping the product of the frozen lands into the markets of the south. But his ambitions were nipped in the bud. Before the little colony had begun to prosper and find their feet in their new home, the Russian Soviet ship "Red October" came to the island. The international controversy immediately arose, and the Russian claim was, on this occasion stronger than that of the United States. Charles Wells and his party were taken prisoners aboard the Russian craft, and carried away from Wrangel to Siberia.

The Eskimos say that they were well treated by the Russians on board the Red October, but they say nothing of their confinement in the Siberian prison, where their leader, Charles Wells, died, presumably from pneumonia.

OPPOSED TO TITLES.

South African Motion to Discontinue Honors.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press). — Following the delivery of the Speech from the Throne by the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of South Africa, the Assembly sat for forty-five minutes, during which Arthur Barlow, the Labor member for Bloemfontein, introduced a motion praying that the King refrain in future from bestowing titles upon subjects residing in the Union and mandated territory.

The suggestion was greeted with cheers and laughter. Premier Hertzog is opposed to the granting of titles, and definitely declined last year to include any South Africans for consideration in the New Year's honors list.

JAPANESE MURDERED.

Fourth Slaying in Tacoma, Wn., Within Week.

TACOMA, Un., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—An unidentified Japanese was found lying in a pool of blood, with two shots through his head on the steps up to a local Japanese hotel early Friday.

This was the fourth murder in Tacoma within the past week.

Police officers found a bullet hole through the door, indicating that the shot had been fired from the top of the stairs by someone in the hotel.

FOUR PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES OFFER TO SHARE THEIR PULPITS WITH REV. R. POGUE OF ST. PAUL'S

LEAVES HIS CHURCH.

REV. ROBERT POGUE,
pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, who preaches his last sermons there tomorrow. Being strongly Union while St. Paul's voted non-concurrence, he has been invited to four other city churches.

Unionist Minority Has Welcome With Other Congregations in City.

OFFICERS RESIGN

Women's Missionary Society Loses Nearly All Its Leaders.

Having announced a fortnight ago his intention to resign from his ministry in St. Paul's Church without regard to the result of the vote on Church Union, Rev. Robert Pogue finds today that four other pulpits are open to him. It was yesterday announced that Knox and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Churches had opened their doors to Rev Mr Pogue, and now it is officially stated that George Street and Trinity Methodist Churches have extended similar invitations. The United Church minority is included in the invitations to join with these congregations.

Rev. Mr. Pogue will preach his last sermons in St. Paul's tomorrow after seventeen years' ministry there. He told The Examiner today that he will endeavor to present messages that will inspire both Unionists and non-Unionists—a parting word of guidance and goodwill.

In the afternoon there will be a meeting of Unionists in Murray Street Baptist Church, to be addressed by Rev. J. H. Edmison, D.D., Union leader, of Toronto.

TRADE REPORTS ARE UNCHANGED

Canadian Mercantile Business Described as Normal and Quiet.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Limited, states:

Halifax: Merchants generally report business in both wholesale and retail lines quiet but steady, and up to expectations. Collections fair.

St. John: Wholesale trade conditions reported fair, and retail trade normal in cities and quiet in the country. Collections hardly fair.

Montreal: Boots and shoes, little more activity shown during the past and sales showing up fairly well. Collections slow. Dry goods—Very little change and sales not very active. Collections fair. Groceries—Sales fairly steady and collections fair. Hardware—Very little doing in this line of business. Collections poor.

Toronto: Both wholesale and retail business described as normal for this time of the year. Industry — No material change noted since last week's report, and conditions are reported to be normal. Employment — This problem is attracting considerable attention, and efforts are being made to provide work to alleviate this.

Winnipeg: Wholesale business is steady. Retail conditions fair. Collections unchanged.

Regina: Wholesale trade conditions are fair to steady, with marked improvement noted in several lines. Retail trade fair to good. Collections generally slow.

Saskatoon: Wholesale trade quiet, but better conditions loked for. Retail trade quiet. Collections fair.

Calgary: There is very little change reported since last week. Business in all lines holding its own, and is better than for the same period last year.

Vancouver: Trade conditions in all lines are reported to be holding up fairly well. Collections fair.

VEGETABLE GROWERS WANT PROTECTION

Launch Appeal for Tariff to Retain Home Market Intact.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press.)— An appeal for adequate tariff protection for the vegetable growers of this province which would enable them to retain the home market for the sale of home raised vegetables was made yesterday at the annual meeting of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association, and a general resolution to this effect was endorsed by the vegetable growers as a body. The chief ground upon which the demand was made is that on account of the lack of suitable tariff protection under the present regulations, great quantities of vegetables cross into Ontario from the States and flood the local market before local dealers are able to put their produce before the public.

Missionary Society Has Lost Thirteen Officers

At the afternoon meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church yesterday, most of the officers and members of the executive of the Society resigned their offices and are leaving St. Paul's to join the United Church. This Society has been known as one of the strongest in the Presbyterian Church in Canada for years. Among those leaving are those whose devotion to Missions and consecrated wealth have made this Society famous throughout the Dominion. People do not lightly break ties and associations of such strength and long standing unless for great convictions. It is the missionary program of the United Church and the missionary obligation which have appealed so strongly to these ladies, they say, and which has called them forth in a new crusade for Christ and His Church. A statement says their action shows the spirit of those who in every age have been willing to suffer the loss of all things that the cause of Christ might be advanced. Those who have resigned are:

President Miss Charlotte Dickson.

1st Vice President, Mrs. R. Pogue.

3rd Vice President, Miss Lancaster.

4th Vice President, Mrs. Graham.

Secretary, Mrs. Porteous.

Stranger's Secretary, Miss Best.

The Executive — Mrs. Cormack, Mrs. Kenner, Mrs. Mowat, Miss Martha Dickson, Miss Fanny Dixon, Mrs. Moir.

Mrs. W. A. Logan, organist.

Unanimous Invitation From George St. Church

A unanimous resolution framed at a meeting of the joint Boards of George Street Methodist Church read:

That this meeting of the joint Boards of George Street Church has learned with regret of the decision of the Congregation of St. Paul's Church to remain out of the projected Union of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches.

We desire to assure the Unionist minority of St. Paul's of our warm sympathy with them in the situation in which they are placed as a result of the vote, and to express our readiness to be of service to them in the solution of the problems with which they are faced.

In the event of their finding, as many others similarly situated have found, that their wisest course is to establish a separate identity as a body of Unionists we should be glad to offer them the hospitality

MARKET SMALL PRICES STEADY

Butter Was 38 Cents a Pound; Eggs 50 Cents a Dozen.

POTATOES 80 CENTS.

There was a small crowd on the farmers' market this morning, and little on view in the open section The upper hall had plenty of offerings in butter and eggs and fowl. Butter was priced generally at 38 cents a pound and eggs at 50 cents a dozen. Cream was 30 cents a pint, and chickens 25 cents a pound with milk-fed birds at 35 cents. Turkeys were 30 and 35 cents a pound.

Haggling with a vendor of cabbages was a thrifty housewife, who offered a nickel for a sizable head, and finally induced the dealer to compromise for six cents, after much handling of every sample. The expert embroidery-needle man had an interested crowd of small boys, whose thoughts seemed to be engrossed with linen and colored silks.

In the open section, potatoes were selling at 80 and 85 cents a bag. Sulphur beans were 2 quarts for 35 cents, and apples had a good sale. Peewaukees were 50 cents a peck, Bellflowers 70 cents and Spies 75 cents.

Is This Your Birthday?

SATURDAY, Feb. 14.—If you are born this day, you have a fresh, breezy manner that wins you popularity wherever you go. But sometimes you become too breezy—you talk too much about your friends and neighbors with the result that you are somewhat of a gossip. It's a fault that you can correct easily, because of your adaptable and pleasing nature. Your loves are many—like a pile of valentines, but despite this your marriage will be most happy when you finally select the right girl or man.

A LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY selling most up-to-date contracts containing all special features, is open to engage a man as District Manager, or as Agent in Peterboro and surrounding territory on salary and commission.

This is a permanent and profitable position if you are now or can become a successful salesman.

In replying please give particulars as to age and former employment.

APPENDICITIS

Operation Not Always Necessary When Internal Bathing Used.

Many hundreds of operations for appendicitis have been avoided through the "J. B. L. Cascade."

Scientific internal bathing brings positive results. Mr. James McLaughlin, 91 Evanston Street, Winnipeg, writes: "I bought a 'J. B. L. Cascade' for the cure of a bad case of appendicitis. My doctors told me I must have an operation. I had spent more than $50 in doctors' bills, but the Cascade completely removed in a few days every trace of pain."

A mother from R. R. No. 1, Leamington, Ont., writes: "Our son took sick with cramps in the bowels so badly he could not move. Our doctor gave him hypodermic inejctions, and ordered him to the hospital to be operated on. Before doing so, however, I induced him to use the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' and in less than a week he was up and around, and has been well ever since. It also cured me of severe headaches and constipation.

If you have constipation, headaches, appendicitis, or feel languid and not just right, don't drug yourself, but bathe internally. The "J. B. L. Cascade" is being shown and explained at The Warne Drug Company, Peterborough.

Ask for free booklet, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 181 College Street, Toronto. No obligation.

BANDMASTER GIVES UP HIS POSITION

R. T. Cowell, Leader of the Northumberland Band, Has Resigned.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 14. — R. T. Cowell has resigned his position as bandmaster of the Northumberland Regiment Band.

Great regret is expressed by many of the citizens, for in the few years Mr. Cowell has had the training of the band it has shown wonderful progress under him, and was one of the best bands in this district.

Not only has the music been bright and pretty, but wsa the good kind of music that music-lovers like to hear.

The Band Committee from the Council and the committee from the Band have advertised for a bandmaster, and a good many applications are coming in for the position.

Mr. Cowell's many friends are sorry that he took this step, and are also sorry that he has been very poorly all week and under the doctor's care.

He is also organist and choir leader of the Methodist Church and has a choir of nearly forty, of which every one in the church is justly proud.

SPREADING GOOD NEWS BROADCAST

Wants Everybody to Know That Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Relieved Him of Kidney Complications.

Joseph Hardy, after a long period of sickness says Dodd's Kidney Pills have done him good.

Mistassini, Que., Feb. 13 (Special) —Feling quite well again after suffering for seven years, Joseph Hardy, a well-known resident of this place is recommending to his fellow-countrymen Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them very satisfactory," Mr. Hardy states in an interview. "I suffered with my head and heart. I could not sleep very well and I was always tired and nervous. I took half a dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have done me much good. I make no error in recommending them to my fellow-countrymen as a remedy for sick kidneys."

If you have any symptom mentioned by Mr. Hardy you may be sure your kidneys need attention. Neglected kidneys are the cause of more than half the ills to which mankind is heir.

Dodd's kidney Pils act directly on the kidneys, making them strong and healthy. Sound kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

SENATE ADJOURNS.

Adopted Motion For Address After Four Days' Debate.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1. — (Canadian Press). — The Senate adopted the Address last evening after four days of debate, without a division. The Upper House will stand adjourned until Tuesday, March 10th, at 8 o'clock. The debate, while brief, was notable for the fact that almost every senator taking part made reference to the proposal of the Prime Minister to reform the constitution of the Senate.

OMEMEE WOMEN AID NEIGHBOUR

Preserved Fruit and Clothing Sent to Family Victims of Fire.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

OMEMEE, Feb. 14.—A meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Parsons on Thursday afternoon. There was a fair attendance of members present, also two visitors. In the absence of the president, Mrs. MacPherson, the meeting was conducted by Miss L. Parsons. Following the singing of the opening Ode and the Lord's Prayer in unison, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

About 20 jars of fruit, 2 quilts and clothing had been sent to a family who had suffered through fire.

Correspondence was read by the secretary from the head office, Toronto, referring to the summer delegate, which was later disposed of.

Accounts for flowers and fruit remitted to sick members were ordered paid and a motion carried to place the basket fund in the hands of the flower committee for use when needed. Four members were remembered this month.

A very timely pamphlet on "First Aid" was given by Mrs. H. McGinness, which contained many helpful suggestions.

A solo, "Lil' Old Granny Mine," was rendered by one of the members, followed by a reading on "Maggie Murphy's Home," both of which were well received.

The hostesses were Mrs. Charles Mills, Mrs. F. Hart and Mrs. P. Parsons, and a social half-hour was enjoyed by all at the close of the meeting.

Vote For Union.

At a meeting of the congregation of Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church held on Feb. 8th, a vote was taken, which showed that fourteen members were in favor of entering the United Church of Canada and two in opposition. There are five other members of the church who were not present.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Melville Earle, on Wednesday, Feb. 11th, a daughter, Ethel Maye.

The sad news of the death of Miss Etta Jewett on Friday morning came as a shock to her many friends in Omemee. Deceased left Monday to take treatment in the hospital, Lindsay, and very few knew of her illness. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon from the Anglican Church, after the arrival of the noon train.

Friday, the Thirteenth, As It Struck Mr. Smith

(By Jeannette.)

Mr. Smith was a careful man. He was also a superstitious one. One of his most treasured possessions was the left hind foot of a rabbit, belonging to a deceased member of the great Bunny family which had been killed in a country graveyard in the dark of the moon, and he made a practice every Christmas Eve of paying a dark messenger boy to come to his door the very first thing on the Yuletide morn. He carried a copper with a hole in it in his left-hand trouser pocket, and had been known on one occasion to pursue a newspaper boy for two blocks down the street after unthinkingly bestowing this lucky token upon him. He would walk out of the house with his eyes shut on the first night that the new moon made its appearance, then turn around three times and gaze at it over his right shoulder.

Mr. Smith was employed in a box factory. He had the job of carrying the boxes to and from the chute that took them to other departments, and he invariably started out on the right foot. If something happened to cause him to forget, he would put down his load, return to place and do the initial step all over again.

So when Friday the Thirteenth came around, Mr. Smith took extra precautions. He decided, after much thought, to pass the day at home. Hazards with regard to untoward and unexpected happenings are less likely to crop up within the house than without.

The Smith family possessed eleven children. Since the advent of the baby, they had been wont to divide their meals into sections, one portion of the family dining separately from the other. This obviated any difficulty with regard to the thirteenth member at the board. Mr. Smith had a particular aversion to thirteen. His great-aunt on his mother's side had died on the thirteenth day of May, 1913, and a brother-in-law had once been in an accident on the same date. Mr. Smith always said that the numerical calendar should have included twelve and a half after twelve, with fourteen as the next symbol.

On the morning of the fateful day, Mr. Smith had his breakfast in bed, and he ate his egg without salt, which was taboo on the Smith table during the three family meals that day. He wasn't going to take any chances with spilling it, because he hadn't much belief in the 'non-jinx power of the pinch thrown over the shoulder. Strict orders were given to keep the cat in all day. The Smith cat had a habit of making friends with all the stray felines of the neighborhood, and Mrs. Smith didn't want any black cats around the premises on Friday the Thirteenth. His wife thought it would be a good idea if he would make some little repairs to the plaster on the dining-room ceiling, but after having the possibility pointed out to her that one of the children might run under the necessary ladder, she decided to postpone such activities for another day, possibly the third or the seventh or the ninth of the month following.

One of the Smith children, the fourth oldest, was playing house during the afternoon hours, along with her smaller brothers and sisters, and only the eagle eye of Mr. Smith, on the lookout for just such happenings, prevented her from doing a fearful thing. Making believe that they were going to market on a rainy day, the girl was about to raise an umbrella when her father, leaping wildly from his chair, succeeded in averting the occurrence, just in the nick of time.

A little shaken by the occurrence, Mr. Smith went out to shoo away a neighbor's dog that was loitering about the premises. He was afraid the beast might take a notion to howl and so gave it a good fright. Coming back to his own domicile, he received a jar by the spectacle of what he took to be a crack in the hall mirror, and was only saved from heart failure by the discovery that it was merely a streak of dust. Reproving Mrs. Smith severely for her carelessness, Mr. Smith once more embarked upon a little walk. He found, when at the gate, that he had neglected to put on his rubbers, and, as the day was cold and the walking slippery, he decided to forego the pleasure. Going back to the house for the forgotten articles would mean a disappointment, so he told Mrs. Smith he had changed his mind and would stay in the house all evening.

Settling himself to an evening of radio entertainment, Mr. Smith was interrupted in his nightly task of trying to tune in on KWY by a ring at the door-bell. Answering the door, he was confronted by a messenger youth who handed him a special delivery letter.

Shuddering violently, with a premonition of evil haunting his mind, for he had observed that the messenger boy was cross-eyed, Mr. Smith slammed the door. He ripped open the letter, then fell back with a hollow groan. Mrs. Smith rushed to his side, then, in answer to a mute signal, for the man was speechless, read the letter. It said: "Dear Mr. Smith: This is the second time this month you have stayed away from work without explanation. You are fired."—The Crossword Paper Box Company.

The Smith family, who had stayed up late to get a special radio concert, gathered about their weeping parents—the little clock on the mantel struck the last hour of Friday, the Thirteenth.

Apparently the reckless autoists of this country have not applied the newer slogan to themselves "WATCH YOUR STEP" (on-it). A reckless driver can't apply anything but profanity.

Things have gotten so lately the old man has to ask the children two or thre days ahead if he can borrow the car.

BOY HURT FOOT UNDER A SLEIGH

Paschendale Seaborn Fell From Moving Rig—Doctor Called On.

CAMPBELLEORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14. — On Friday afternoon as Paschendale Seaborn, who lives with his parents in Thirty foot lane was trying to climb on to a sleigh load of wood, he fell and the sleigh ran over one of his feet, hurting it quite badly.

The driver of the sleigh stopped and carried the little fellow to the doctor who examined the foot, and fixed it up.

The little fellow is between five and six years old. This should be a warning to other children not to climb on rigs of any kind while they are moving along.

C.G.I.T. Social

The Canadian Girls in Training in the Baptist Church, under the leadership of Miss Lily Weston had a very successful social in the Sunday School room on Friday night. The room was nicely filled and the programme was given entirely by the girls of the Society, who were about fifteen strong. Mrs. Ford, the pastor's wife, presided, as Mr. Ford, who expected to be present was ill. She, in her address of welcome, said she was glad to see so many present and she also told of the work of the C.G.I.T. and of the conference for C.G.I.T. work in the Baptist Church, recently held in Hamilton. She then announced the programme which was as follows:

Opening C.G.I.T. Chorus by the members. Cupid Contest by those present. Piano solo, Miss Marguerite Reid. Reading "Marguerite's Valentine, Miss Ova Glenn. Chorus "Barefoot Boy," the C. G. I. T.

Reading—Miss Ida Adams.
Piano solo—Miss Dulce Carter.
Contest—"Ad's."
Piano duett—Misses Mary Shore and Frances Irwin.
Vocal solo—Miss Jessie Carter.

Contest, composing lost line to verse given, and decorating card with Valentine decoration.

The judges for this contest were Messrs. R. Weston and D. Mason. They gave the choice of the two best to Mr. L. O. Pearse and Mr. Geo. Dick.

Vocal duett—Misses Verna Shore and Lily Weston.

The programme closed with a splendid pageant, "The Way," given by the leader and girls of the C.G.I.T., ending with a chorus.

Refreshments were then served to which all did justice. As this is one of the first efforts of the girls for a social evening, they are to be congratulated on its success, and the numbers on the programme were all good and well done.

Captain A. Fisher, of the Salvation Army, spent Friday in Belleville.

Mrs. R. J. Bibby entertained her class of girls of the Methodist Sunday School at her home on Friday night. They had a sleigh ride, after which they played games and then were served to a dainty lunch.

CONSTRUCTION TEAM WON FROM OPERATORS

Score Was 11 to 3 in Interesting Struggle at Covert's Arena.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 14.—The Hydro construction hockey team won another game at Covert's Arena last night, defeating the Hydro operators 11 to 3, in an interesting struggle. Some of the players were awful good and some of them just awfull The construction gang owe their big score to the clever playing of Jack Cowell. He wiggled his way through for shots time after time, and "Pinky" Smith was just about the busiest boy on the ice. And it was no fault of his that the score went to double figures.

Goodman was like a strong wall on defence; ask Denyes or anybody else that ran into him.

A. Brown and Beatty were best for the operators but couldn't get away like Cowell.

The players paid their $4.00 for the use of the ice for the game and the Arena. The management collected 25 cents each from the railbirds who viewed the game.

The line-ups were:

Construction—Floyd, goal; Goodman and Decarroll, defence; Cowell, centre; Thompson, right wing; H. Brown, left wing; Rhea and Andrews, subs.

Refere—Leo Bush.

Asquith Plays Second Fiddle To Ellen Terry

LONDON, Feb. 14. — Earl of Oxford and Asquith (Herbert H. Asquith) who visited Buckingham Palace on Thursday, to receive the Royal congratulations on his elevation to peerage played second string as a public attraction to Dame Ellen Terry who had the unusual honor of being invested with the Grand Cross of the Order of the British Empire :. a private audience.

The King received the famous actress before the general investiture was held and after she had been decorated she was rent for by the Queen who talked with her for ten minutes on the modern drama. A special wheel chair was sent by the Queen for the veteran actress after the elevator had carried her to the entrance of the state apartments and at the end of the audience the Queen helped her back to the lift.

OBITUARY.

MISS AMY GOVAN.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14.—The many friends of Amy Govan were shocked to hear of her death in Washington, D. C., on Thursday. Word was received by Mrs. W. Hume from her brother, Mr. John Govan, of Toronto, late of Campbellford, that Amy had died of small-pox after an illness of two weeks, at the Garfield Memorial Hospital. She and Miss Jennie Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham, George Street, left Campbellford two years ago this month for Washington to train as nurses in the Garfield Memorial Hospital, and would graduate this coming fall. Word was also received by Mrs. Graham on Friday morning from Mr. Clarence Booker, who has just recently moved from Campbellford to Washington, of her death. Miss Jennie Graham went into quarantine with her friend and nursed her till the end.

Miss Govan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Govan, who lived in Campbellford for a number of years, moved to Toronto since their daughter went to train. She was the only daughter, and leaves just one brother. She was just twenty years old and lived all of her life in Campbellford till two years ago.

Two or three others in the hospital have also contracted the disease of which Miss Govan died, and anxiety is felt by Miss Graham's parents and relatives and friends in Campbellford as she has been so much exposed to the disease.

FLU IS SPREADING THROUGH ENGLAND

Seventy-Six Deaths in London as Toll for the Week.

LONDON, February 14. — United Press. — With seventy six deaths in London alone as its toll for the week the influenza epidemic continues to spread throughout England and Scotland, and an interesting sidelight brought about by the reoccurrence of the disease is the theory advanced by Commander L. Lindop in the British Medical Journal, that the flu germs thrown into the air by coughing enter through the eyes of surrounding persons.

To combat the spread of the epidemic, Lindop advocates that all persons who travel in crowded conveyances use motor goggles, even horn-rimmed glasses, he says, help ward off the germs which are in the air when a person coughs.

FOR CHANDELIERS

Clean brass chandeliers by sponging with hot vinegar and salt, then wash in soapsuds and polish with flannel or chamois dipped and moistened with a bit of oil.

THE COST OF LIVING.

The Liberal Leader in his contribution to the debate in the Legislature was on sound ground when he pointed out that the Government might well deal with the cost of living.

Mr. Sinclair's suggestion that a committee of the Legislature should investigate the spread between the price paid to the farmer and the price paid by the ultimate consumer for such articles as beef, pork, eggs, butter, apples, potatoes, milk, etc., is one that could be followed with general benefit.

It has always been a mystery to the man on the street why he has to pay so much for products for which the man who produces is paid so little, and it is possible that if an investigation along the lines outlined by the Liberal Leader were authorized, some light might be thrown upon the whole question and a remedy arrived at.

There is something wrong with our system of distribution and marketing when, as happens every year, fruit rots on the trees, while consumers have to pay more than seems necessary.

NOT QUITE A WISE SUGGESTION.

The suggestion made by Mr. Sinclair, the Ontario Liberal Leader, that if the Ferguson Government could not get along with the Government at Ottawa he would furnish an administration that would, is not just the concepion of the situation that is to be expected of a party leader.

The inference that is to be read into this statement is that the Ottawa Government would do things for a Liberal administration in Ontario that it would not do for a Conservative Government in Queen's Park, which is not fair to Mr. King.

The Federal Government's refusal to assist the unemployed, for example, had nothing to do with Ontario in particular, but applies to all the other Provinces of the Dominion, the majority of which have Liberal Governments.

It would be a very bad thing for Canada if the day ever came that it was necessary for every Provincial Government to be of the same political stripe as the Federal administration before the Dominion Government could be induced to do what was fair and right in discharging its responsibilities toward the Provinces.

If politics ever get as bad as that in this country we might well despair of ever getting anywhere.

WILL EAST PETERBORO GO?

Almost unnoticed because of the furore caused by the O. T. A. amendment clause, was the reference in the Speech to the Throne to the fact that during the present session a redistribution bill will be presented for the consideration of the House.

In this connection the Premier has hastened to declare that there will be no change in the number of seats, which will remain at 111 at present, but that there will be a re-adjustment of constituencies that will give the more populous centres better representation.

What effect this policy will have upon this district is a question that should arouse some curiosity.

The making of more seats in the thickly populated districts will necessarily mean the disappearance of some of the rural ridings, and from the present outlook East Peterboro, which has already been dropped from the Federal map, will also pass out of sight in the Legislature field as well.

In that case will county boundaries be respected and Peterboro County as a whole given one member, or will there be a sharing up of the old riding of East Peterboro between several other constituencies, as has been done in the Federal re-distribution?

It is a matter in which some concern should be shown before it is too late.

GOOD NEWS FOR CANADA.

The best piece of news that Canada has received for some time was the announcement the other day that the Russian Government has placed the largest flour order in the world's history with two Canadian firms.

Altogether the order totals 1,300,000 barrels of flour, which is one-sixth of Canada's output for a year, and the two companies will be paid $12,000,000 on a cash basis by the Russian Government.

Some idea of what is involved in this transaction may be had from the statement that it will require 165 trains to convey this flour to New York and twenty-five ships to carry it to its destination, Batum, on the Black Sea.

The order means a market for six million bushels of Canadian wheat; it means that the mills of the two firms affected will be kept going night and day for three or four months, and it also means that the farmers will benefit by a falling off in the price of feedstuffs, for the companies will have 60,000 tons of by-products to dispose of in milling this flour, and there will be enough of it to flood the market in Eastern Canada, according to one of the millers.

The transaction will have a very stimulating effect upon the milling industry generally, and a few deals of this kind in other lines of manufacture would do a great deal to put industry back on its feet and start the wheels all going again.

WHY NOT PETERBORO?

Praise is being heard on all sides today of the condition of London's streets. Two days of thaw and the streets are clear of slush, the roads scraped, the walking good.

Pushing through the slush of spring after spring, slush that oozed over golosh tops, is an open-season torture that has passed in London.

Today Londoners are praising the man whose open-street plan has brought real comfort. Engineer Near deserves the thanks of all citizens.—London Advertiser.

Dr. Chas. Elliott has picked out the twenty men who have done the most for education in the world's history. And he doesn't mention the individual who invented crossword puzzles.

SOME NONSENSE BY A PROFESSOR.

Our scientists are frequently concerned about the future of civilization, in view of the unquestioned fact that in some periods material progress tends to outstrip moral progress, says Barron's. There is a broad assumption on altogether too little evidence that the man who tends a threshing machine is more mechanical and, therefore, on a lower plane than the man who used to handle a flail. Is there any real evidence of this supposed stimulus of intellectual effort through hand labor in the past? The old-fashioned cobbler was credited with unusual sagacity, but was he really in private life a more intellectual companion than one of the workers on an Endicott Johnson machine? Intellectual progress has advanced to the extent that people are not imposed upon by college professors quite as much as they were. Perhaps, with our politicians in view, it would be unfair to call them our most ignorant literate class, but here is a statement by Professor F. Soddy of Oxford University. He said that "as a scientific man, he would not publish any discovery if he thought it was going to benefit solely the clients of the banks. The great advance of science should not be used to depress men to the level of machines. He would rather bury his knowledge than give it to the world if he thought science was to be used in the future as it had been in the past, for the purpose of exploiting the common peoples."

That is simply nonsense, and rather mischievous nonsense. The discoveries he describes have been used to raise the standard of comfort and the means of opportunity, everywhere and for everybody. Thanks to these discoveries the worker in the most mechanical employment has means of recreation which his forefathers never had. He lives in conditions, especially as regards sanitation, which were enjoyed only by the wealthier classes a century ago. He has medical care which kings could not command. His children are educated for opportunity as the children of the old handloom worker and the ploughman never were. Professor Soddy is a distinguished authority on organic and physical chemistry. His work to him is largely his recreation, as work always is to the limited intellectual minority. Work was never that to the unskilled worker, in any age. It never will be, because relatively to the worker for mere subsistence, the plow is just as much a machine as the power loom. The hewer of wood and drawer of water was that because his employment had become mechanical. Modern conditions give him hope, and that is more than his great grandfather could say.

GUTTER JOURNALISM.

All who desire and appreciate a clean and wholesome press—and we are satisfied that most people do—will welcome the suppression of journals of the type that has recently engaged the attention of the courts in Toronto and New York.

In one instance, the proprietor and editor of a Toronto weekly, notorious for its scandal-mongering proclivities, were convicted of contempt of court, and sentenced to fine and imprisonment for commenting upon a case of domestic infelicity pending decision by a judge. In the other, a New York periodical, of even more unsavory reputation, has been summarily dealt with, the editor and one of his associates being sent to the penitentiary and heavily fined to boot for "using the mails to defraud."

Whether the punishment meted out in these two cases will have the desired effect of eliminating them and others of a similar character remains to be seen. Unfortunately, there is a class of people who have a taste for what might be called putrid publicity. It is evidenced in the crowds of men and women who rush to courts to wallow in the sordid or salacious details of crimes and misdemeanors of various sorts; in the tittle-tattle of evil-minded neighbors who love to pry into everybody's business but their own; in the stories that pass for wit in the smoke-room of the club or railway car; in the office or church-door gossip which begins with "they say" or "I hear" and, most conspicuously of all, perhaps, in the wide circulation of periodicals that make a feature of scandal.

Catering to an appetite that finds sustenance in innuendo or slander, these journals batten on the exposure of human frailties and society vices; thrive on the sordid revelations of public and private life, and are not always guiltless of the most contemptible of crimes—blackmail. They search the highways and the byways, and, if need be, the sewers and the gutter, for those tit-bits that their readers like.

Operating on the principle that in the lives of most people there is some secret that cannot bear to be revealed, some indiscretion that will not stand the light of day, they carefully select their victims and ruthlessly investigate their past. Or, availing themselves of the service of that pest of society—the anonymous correspondent with a grievance or a slanderous tongue—they attack the characters of public men and invade the privacies of the home. Nor are cases unknown where the threat of exposure has been accompanied by a hint that silence can be procured at a price.

Since the pages of these gutter journals fairly reek with slander, it may seem extraordinary that they have successfully eluded the clutches of the law for so long. But they know the quirks and loop-holes of the criminal and civil codes; and either through reluctance on the part of their victims to prosecute, or because of the knowledge that an award of damages for libel, if obtained, would be difficult to collect, they have been permitted to pursue their nefarious course unmolested. Perhaps, too, the fact that horsewhipping has gone out of fashion has saved the editorial skin on many an occasion.

That there is, unfortunately, some difficulty, legal or otherwise, in dealing with such cases is illustrated in the two that have been mentioned. In both, conviction was only secured on more or less technical grounds; in one, for contempt of court; in the other, for using the mails to defraud. In neither instance did the charge go to the root of the evil of which journals of this class stand guilty; and to the average, decent-minded citizen, whose soul revolts against such a pernicious form of journalism, it must suggest that if the law cannot reach those who practice it by less fortuitous means, then steps should be taken to correct the law.

Since it has been made a punishable offence to expose garbage on the streets, it seems queer that immunity should be extended to those who scatter it about so freely in print.—Ottawa Journal.

A THOUGHT.

KINDNESS IS THE NIGHT DEW THAT SAVES THE FLOWERS OF FRIENDSHIP.

No man, no woman can win the worth-while things in this world without Friends, and the only sure way of making Friends, and the surest way of holding Friends, is through the simple act of—Kindness.

Search through the dictionary, study the thesaurus, read all ancient forms of literature, ponder all similies that are marked "Anon," but were probably used by Adam, go back to Rameses II. of Egypt, then come down to Henry of Detroit and you will find nothing that means more than the little eight-letter word—Kindness.

From the day the Princess found the child Moses hid away in the bulrushes, down to the smart sayings that fall like leaves from the forest of human thought, there is no word in ancient or modern language that will help humans more (when put into practice) than the word—Kindness.

Kindness is the night dew that saves the flowers of Friendship.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—With several hundred poor-quality cattle left over, the week-end market closed draggy and slow. Although receipts for the week have not been heavy the proportion of unfinished rough and medium quality cattle was rather higher than usual, even for this particular part of the season when the quality of the cattle seldom averages very high. The present high prices of feed, and the general feeling of uncertainity as to the immediate future as regards cattle prices, may perhaps account for the comparative scarcity of well finished cattle.

In the export section, supplies were adequate early in the week, but outside of one or two special loads, the quality was poor, and prices averaged slightly lower. The total purchase for the week of export cattle marketed here, was about 1,000. In addition there was a considerable carry-over from the previous week, and purchases at outside points, making a total export shipment for the week of about 1,800 cattle. Shipments were divided between the export firms of Rogers and Maybee, and the H. P. Kennedy Co., the latter company sending the bulk of its shipments through direct from the western provinces. Export prospects for next week are a little uncertain though as there is one of the larger boats available, the order for another large shipment is looked for.

In the butcher section there was a keen and active demand for choice well-finished steers and heifers. Prices were steady to firm for the right kind, but buyers complained that but few of the right kind were available. For the poorer quality butcher offerings the demand was decidedly slow and prices were with difficulty maintained. The packers are said to be overstocked with supplies of the medium grades, and owing to the general dullness of trade usual at this time of the season, including a very slow outlet.

Small meats have inclined easier, particularly calves, which closed a dollar lower.

Sheep and lambs barely steady.

With comparatively light runs of hogs prices held firm throughout the week at a general advance of 25c over last week.

Prices in the various sections are as follows:

Export cattle choice and heavy steers, $7.50 to $8.25; bulls, $4.50 to $4.75; heifers, $6.50 to $7.25; medium, $5.25 to $6; common, $3.50 to $4.50; baby beeves, $8.50 to $9.

Choice fat cows $3.50 to $5.

Stockers and feeds, choice short-keep feeders, 1,000 to 2,000 lbs., $6.25 to $7; choice stockers, 830 to 950 lbs., $4.25 to $5; light western stock, $3.50 to $3.75; choice western, $4.50 to $5.50.

Calves dull.

Hogs, steady at $10.25 f.o.b.; $11.75 to $12 off cars; selects, off cars, $2.22 per head premium.

MONTREAL GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—The foreign demand for Canadian grain here todayl was the best for some time past and as the prices bid from the United Kingdom for contract grades of Manitoba Spring wheat were in line with exporters' views, the number of loads sold for March shipment were the largest for any previous day this year. There was also a fairly good demand from the continent for the lower grades. A stronger feeling developed in oats, and prices for Canadian Western grades were marked up 2 1-2 cents per bushel, and Ontario grades 1 cent per bushel. Ontario No. 3 white was quoted at 64 cents and No 4 grade at 62 cents per bushel, ex-store.

A fairly good business was transacted in eggs and the tendency was firm. The trade in butter was dull but prices were unchanged. Prices for cheese were well maintained with fodder made No. 1 white and colored quoted at 20 1-4 to 20 1-2 cents and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19 1-2 cents per pound.

Beans were steady at $2.90 per bushel.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here today as follows:

Sterling demand $4.77 5-8. Sterling cables $4.78.

EGG PRICES

OTTAWA Feb. 13—United States fresh firsts continue to arrive and receipts of locally produced stock are increasing daily. The cold storage holdings of eggs on February 1st showed 82000 cases compared with 498,000 cases on the same date last year. In the United States the stocks of frozen poultry February 1st amounted to 138,253,000 as compared with 99,666,000 pounds on the same date last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—In one of the wildest markets ever witnessed here, wheat today jumped up seven cents a bushel.

Foreign buying appeared to be chiefly responsible for the upturns. Wheat closed unsettled, May 181 3-4 to 182 and July 153 1-8 to 153 1-2, with corn 7-8 to 1 5-8 cents off; oats showing 2 3-8 to 3 7-8 cents decline and provisions varying from 27 cents lower to a rise of 2 cents.

Export purchasing of breadstuffs today was said to aggregate 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000 bushels of rye and 250,000 barrels of flour. This total was in addition to huge amounts which exporters bought before the Lincoln holiday and which were then regarded in many quaters as more or less a myth. Under such circumstances, the wheat market here showed excitement from the outset, especially as the Liverpool market was advancing instead of reflecting the demoralized conditions which prevailed Wednesday on this side of the Atlantic. A further stimulus was found in a statement from the United States Department of Agriculture that world supplies of wheat at the beginning of the harvest of this year's crop would be very low.

It Looks Just as Well as it Rides and Performs

The final test of any automobile is performance and this is particularly true of the Chrysler Six.

To appreciate Chrysler riding ease, Chrysler roadability, Chrysler power and Chrysler agility, you must drive the car or ride in it.

Then you begin to understand why it is the talk of the country, why motorists invested $50,000,000 in its superior qualities the first year, why the factory built and shipped 32,000 cars during the same period.

But a visit to the Chrysler display rooms is a profitable experience in itself. You will observe at once that both the open and the enclosed models are far in advance of conventional ideas of design and beauty.

The low hung comfort of the Chrysler, the low roof, the graceful lines, the conservation of space, weight, height and length—all these are assets which every motorist is entitled to enjoy.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan. Dealers everywhere.

GORDON CALLED FOR MOTION TO FINISH DEBATE

Deputy-Speaker Concluded That No Other Speakers Were to Continue It.

SCENE REHEARSED.

House Unanimously Decided to Resume Speeches in Reply to Address.

OTTAWA, February 14. — By unanimous consent, after three quarters of an hour's discussion, the House adopted a motion proposed by the Prime Minister and seconded by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition, to expunge from the votes and proceedings all business transacted after six o'clock on Thursday evening.

Speaker Lemieux, in allowing the motion, observed that under the strict letter of the rules, the House could only rescind a motion which had previously been adopted. It was agreed however that there had been inadvertence, and he would therefore allow the motion.

The rules of the House, it should be remembered, he added, were based first on common sense, and then on freedom of speech.

Mr. Meighen, at the opening of the House made a brief statement in regard to the proceedings Thursday night at 6 o'clock which resulted in the address motion being declared carried, thus ending the debate for the time being.

The Opposition leader said that arrangements had been arrived at between the whips, whereby E. J. Sexsmith, Progressive, Lennox and Addington, was to follow W. F. Maclean, who was speaking at 6 o'clock. When that hour arrived, the Deputy Speaker (Mr. Gordon) who was in the chair, had declared it six o'clock but Mr. Maclean continued speaking. Hon. H. R. Stevens, member for Centre Vancouver, who Mr. Meighen said, was leading the Conservative group at his request, hearing six o'clock called, left the Chamber. When Mr. Meighen finished the Deputy Speaker had put the motion to the House, and it had been declared carried.

On hearing what had occurred Mr. Meighen said he had brought it to the attention of the Deputy Speaker, asked him to lay the facts before Premier King, and suggest to him that as no default had occurred on the part of either Conservatives the order should be restored and the debate continued. He understood that this had been done and that the Prime Minister proposed to make a motion restoring the order to the order paper.

Opportunity Given.

Premier King explained that his recollection was that when the Deputy Speaker, at the close of Mr. Maclean's speech, asked the House if it was ready for the motion, there was no answer. The Deputy Speaker proceeded to put the motion very deliberately and gave every opportunity for any member who wished to challenge it. He had understood for some hours that no government members would continue the debate. With the thought in his mind that this fact may have curtailed the list of speakers from the other side, he concluded that all parts of the House had decided to close the debate.

The protest of the leader of the Opposition had been brought to his notice, and because the government had no desire to prevent any member from participating in the debate he was willing and anxious to do anything in his power to meet the protest. He could not remember that there had been anything definite about his moving for the restoration of the motion to the order paper but he was willing to make such a motion if that was the proper procedure. However, it was a matter for Mr. Speaker to decide.

J. J. Denis (Liberal, Jolittte) rose to a point of order, quoting from Parliamentary rules. He submitted that the adoption of the address in reply could not be altered nor could it be reflected upon. It could only be rescinded.

Gordon's Explanation.

Deputy Speaker G. N. Gordon said that the explanation given by Messrs. Meighen and Mackenzie King, was substantially correct. The list of speakers handed him by the whip had enumerated only the three who spoke in the afternoon. When he reminded Mr. Maclean that it was six o'clock his remark was directed at that gentleman, and was not meant to be a formal notice of his intention to leave the chair such as is always given at six o'clock. Apparently Hon. R. H. Stevens, who was leading the Opposition, had left the House a few seconds before. Having asked Mr. Maclean if he had finished speaking and receiving an affirmative answer he waited for some member to adjourn the debate. Nobody doing so he concluded that there was nothing else to do except ut the question to the House.

This had been done in the ordinary way and he was not aware that he was in any way departing from procedure.

W. F. Maclean (Conservative, South York), said that when he had finished his speech he had understood that other speakers were to follow him. Hon. Hugh Guthrie (Conservative (South Wellington) said the Deputy Speaker had not the right to put the question, after six o'clock, without the unanimous consent of the House.

Robert Forke (Progressive leader) said he was absent from the House but found nothing irregular in the proceedings as reported. He was certain that "there would be a sigh of relief go over this country" if the debate was concluded.

"That is all very well, but what about those who have not spoken?" interjected A. R. MacMaster, (Liberal Brome.)

Mr. Meighen was surprised that the leader of the Progressives failed to grasp the principle at stake. What ever was done was done without authority.

Premier King stated his willingness to continue the debate.

Wants Everybody to Know That Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Relieved Him of Kidney Complications.

Joseph Hardy, after a long period of sickness says Dodd's Kidney Pills have done him good.

Mistassini Que., Feb. 13 (Special) —Feeling quite well again after suffering for seven years, Joseph Hardy, a well-known resident of this place is recommending to his fellow-countrymen Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them very satisfactory," Mr. Hardy states in an interview. "I suffered with my head and heart. I could not sleep very well and I was always tired and nervous. I took half a dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they have done me much good. I make no error in recommending them to my fellow-countrymen as a remedy for sick kidneys."

If you have any symptom mentioned by Mr. Hardy you may be sure your kidneys need attention. Neglected kidneys are the cause of more than half the ills to which mankind is heir.

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, making them strong and healthy. Sound kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

FISCAL POLICY OF GOVERNMENT

The income tax was so severe that it practically drove capital out of Canada and compelled it to find investment and employment elsewhere. A reduction would be advisable along the lines effective in the United States.

"This discloses," stated Mr. Stewart, "a condition of political paralysis on the part of the Government."

The Government had given no indication as to its attitude in respect to placing an embargo on the export of pulpwood. Why had the Government not announced its policy? It would not be an unfriendly act on the part of Canadians to place such an embargo.

Mr. Stewart strongly advocated that the Government aprove the proposed Hydro development at Morrisburg. The larger scheme of deepening the St. Lawrence could wait. The question of the reduction of pensions should be investigated.

Mr. Stewart found the Speech from the Throne "pale and anaemic" he thought it must be a pre-election speech. In contrast, he said the resolution which Mr. Meighen proposes to move on the subect of protection contained a programme which was nt for a session, not for a day, not for an election, but for a generation.

Hon. Dr. Manion.

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion (Conservative (Fort Wiliam-Rainy River) referring to Mr. Stewart's phrase "pale and anaemic," said that obviously what was wrong with the Government's policy was pernicious anaemia. The Speech from the Throne set forth that the most important problem in Canada was the cost of living. The Prime Minister was always talking about the cost of living. It was to him what King Charles' head was to poor Mr. Dick, it got in his way and prevented him from doing anything. Could the Premier not see that the problem was not the cost of living, but whether Canadians were to get work and wages, in other words, to get a liivng at all. People were not asking for cheap living, they were asking for an assured income. Of the tens of thousands of Canadians who had expatriated themselves to the United States, probably not one had gone looking for a cheaper cost of living. They had gone because they could not earn a living in Canada.

"We have in Canada to-day, a veritable slough of despond," said Dr. Manion "and I am not exaggerating it." The exodus of people from Canada was like the life blood leaving a dying man. There were enough applications for Canadians on file with American consuls in this country to fill the American quota law for the next forty-two years. The "stupid fallacies" of the Government were driving out the working man. "I will be accused of pessimism only by those who put party before country."

A man who watched his home burning and laughed all the while could not be called an optimist, Dr. Manion said. "I would call him an imbecile." Those people who say that Canada was never in a better condition could be called the same.

"Crying for Bread."

"The working men of this country are crying for bread and for work, and my Right Honourable friend, the Prime Minister, gives them statistics—statistics of external rade," declared Dr. Manion.

A reputable gentleman, his name was known throughout Canada and to every member of the House, had recently told him that he believed that if a vote was taken in a certain area of Canada representing about one-third of the Dominion, the result would be "overwhelmingly for annexation,' 'said Dr. Manion.

"My Hon. friend does not agree with that man any more than I do," suggested the Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways.

Dr. Manion was not sure. "It is criminal to have such talk, and I want no one to draw the conclusion that I am talking annexation," Dr. Manion declared.

"I am drawing that conclusion," interjected the Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labour.

"I don't care what my Hon. friend is drawing, he would draw anything," retorted Dr. Manion, and the Conservative members applauded loudly.

Dr. Manion scored the remarks in public of Mr. Hoey (member for Springfield, Manitoba) in regard to secession in the event of the Western Provinces not being give their demands.

Mr. Hoey (Progressive): "I stated that if Confederation could not be maintained on a basis of justice, I could not see why it should be maintained at all."

Dr. Manion declared that in view of fact that Mr. Hoey had been in the country only for fifteen years, he should leave any talk of secession to people who were born here. Apparently Mr. Hoey had prospered in Canada, and this was a credit to the opportunities of the country. He noticed that the severest critics in the country had always been newcomers, but any hardships experienced by them had been small in comparison with those of our Canadian forefathers.

Conditions and depression existed among the masses, and one great cause was the instability of the tariff. The Prime Minister had stated that the tariff was a tax.

"There are different forms of tax," retorted Premier King. "But the tariff is a tax."

THE LAST WORD IN SERVICE STATIONS

Storey and Webster Open Their Doors For Business Wednesday Next.

After several months in construction and equipping, the new Storey & Webster Service Station at the corner of Charlotte and Stewart Streets opens its doors for business on Wednesday next.

Built to give a maximum of service and convenience to car and truck owners, Peterboro's latest acquisition in service stations is named after its proprietors, Messrs. M. Storey of this city and L. Webster, recently of Lakefield.

With stucco walls and pillars, the color scheme is mainly pure white, relieved by dark red roofs and red and black lettering and decoration on three air-operated gas pumps of latest design, erected beneath a portico of generous proportions, the premises present an imposing, substantial and business-like appearance. Especially is this so at night, when the station's brilliant electric illumination adds one more big city touch to our growing "white way" on Charlotte Street.

High-Grade Gas.

On and after Wednesday, February 18, Storey & Webster will be prepared to serve at a moment's notice Imperial and British Peerless High Test Gas, stored in three deeply buried containers. The capacity of one tank is 1,000 gallons, and that of the other two 500 gallons each. They will also carry super-quality oils and greases.

As for free air, it is there aplenty, convenient of access to and for adjustment of service tube, and simple in operation. This system is the "Brunner," the last word in that air service which protects the motorist from the danger of blowing out his tire. For by watching the gauge on a clock-like dial he can assure himself of getting just the amount of air needed without over-taxing the capacity of his tire—balloon or otherwise.

Ladies' Rest-Room.

Ideal in every respect, this new service station also features provision for the comfort and convenience of its patrons in privileges which will be highly appreciated. To the west of the building ladies will find a comfortably furnished rest room, with toilet accommodation adjoining, while gentlemen may enjoy similar conveniences in the office proper and in the basement beneath.

Service That Is Service.

Modernly equipped throughout, with nothing lacking for efficiency and promptness, with spacious outside accommodation and un-to-the-minute machines, Storey & Webster, with their new station, pride themselves on being in a position to render "service that is service" in the truest sense of the term. They invite inspection.—(Advt.)

OLD MANUSCRIPT FOUND

Original of Beethoven's Wedding Song Discovered at Leipsic.

LEIPSIC, Feb. 14.—The original manuscript of a Beethoven wedding song was recently found attached to another manuscript in the possession of the firm of Breitkopf and Haertel, Beethoven's musical publishers.

The song was composed on the occasion of the marriage, Feb. 6, 1819, of the daughter of Giannatanaslo del Rie, principal of the boarding school attended by Beethoven's nephew Carl.

All trace of the song had been lost until an employe of Breitkopf and Haertel searching for Beethoven's piano concertos written in the master's hand. The song was fastened to one of them by a clip.

RHEUMATISM AND LUMBAGO ARE BANISHED BY
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills
They Give New Vitality—and more

Some diseases give immunity from another attack, but rheumatism and lumbago (which is really muscular rheumatism) work just the other way. Every attack invites another.

There is scarcely any disease which physicians find more difficult to treat successfully than rheumatism. Long study, however, has shown that the seat of the disease is in the blood. By maintaining the quality of the blood, you are doing the best possible thing to prevent and combat rheumatism.

That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has proved successful in thousands of cases of rheumatism and lumbago. These pills enrich the blood and enable it to throw off the poisons of the disease. And so long as the blood is kept pure and rich, there need be no fear of a return of the trouble.

Mrs. Annie Wright, Woolchester, Alta., says: "I was a sufferer from rheumatism for six years and most of that time my life was one of misery. I tried several doctors, but never got more than temporary relief. The trouble seemed to affect my whole system. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and through these I found complete relief. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering from this trouble."

of our church and the fellowship of our congregation for whatever length of time may seem to them desirable. By welcoming them to our services of worship, by offering them the use of our building in every feasible way, and by receiving their pastor, Reverend Robert Pogue, as Associate Pastor until the consummation of Union on June 10th next, we feel that we shall be but manifesting in a practical manner both spirit and the fact of that larger Union to which, with them, we look forward with such hope an expectation.

And further, that in the case of any such action being decided upon by them, this joint Board hereby appoints the Stewards of this church a committee to confer with any committee that may be appointed by the St. Paul's Unionists on any and all matter of detail connected with the making effective of this resolution.

Trinity Church Follows With Cordial Invitation

The following statement was forwarded by the officials of Trinity Church to Rev. Robert Pogue and the Union committee of St. Paul's Church:

The pastor and official boards of Trinity Church regret that St. Paul's Church registered a majority vote against entering the United Church of Canada.

Trinity pastor and officials cordially invite Rev. Robert Pogue and the Unionist brethren of St. Paul's to participate in the services of this church, and to have Rev. Mr. Pogue become associate pastor of Trinity Church until June 10th next.

The invitation is signed by A. J. Langford, pastor, and R. F. Downey, recording steward, and is dated today.

To Preach Last Sermons In St. Paul's On Sunday

The following announcement has been made to St. Paul's congregation by Rev. Mr. Pogue:

"Next Lords' Day, February 15, will be the last Sunday I shall preach from St. Pauls' pulpit. I intend presenting my resignation to the Presbytery as indicated in my previous statement.

I wish my message in the morning to take the form of a word of guidance and good will to both the Union and Non-Unionist members of the Church. In the evening I shall preach on "The Gospel Invitation." It will be a final entreaty of my Gospel Message to the people of St. Paul's."

COOLIDGE CUTS INAUGURAL COST

Demand For Economy Includes Every Part of the Ceremony on March 4.

SMALL PARADE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. — A very unhappy and disappointed group of the leading citizens of Washington to-day gave up the unequal struggle to persuade President Coolidge to have the kind of inauguration which is so dear to the hearts of the Capital's business and hotel men.

"It looks like the simplest inaugural since Jefferson rode his horse from the White House to the Capitol and tied him to a hitching post," said one of the committee of hotel men.

Jeffersonian simplicity, with a vengeance, is to mark the inaugural. There is to be no inaugural ball. Mr. Coolidge put his foot down on that early in the proceedings by announcing that he would not attend such a function. With plenty of publicity for the fact that neither the President nor Mrs. Coolidge would be present, it was obvious that crowds would not pay $5 to attend the ball, which, in the past, has yielded sufficient revenue to pay for the decorations, the fireworks and other expenses incident to an elaborate inaugural.

Despite this early discouragement, the inaugural committee kept bravely at its task. It raised in the neighborhood of $100,000 for expenses and kept working on the President to increase the size and splendor of the inaugural trade.

At first the President thought that the army, the navy and the Marine corps could provide a sufficient number of parades if such Governors States as chose to come would ride with their staffs. He considered a retinue of twenty-five sufficient for himself. On the pleadings of the inaugural meeting, he finally raised this limit to 100.

Mr. Coolidge took the position that, in view of his demand on the public and himself for economy, he could not encourage the states to appropriate considerable sums for the transport of large bodies of troops to Washington, simply to make an inaugural spectacle.

As a result the committee to-day rescinded an appropriation of $28,000 which it had made from funds collected for a handsome court of honor in Pennsylvania Avenue, between Lafayette Park and the White House. An appropriation of $3,000 for fireworks at night also was rescinded. It is estimated that the parade, as now planned will take less than an hour— probably not more than forty-five minutes — to pass in review.

SPRINGBROOK LODGE I. O. O. F. AT HOME

Officers Also Installed by the Visiting Brethren From Campbellford.

SPRINGBROOK, Feb. 14. — The "At Home" given by the I.O.O.F. on Friday evening was a decided success. Spencer's orchestra furnished the music.

Bro. R. A. Dunk, D.D.G.M., and suite, of Campbellford, paid an official visit to the I.O.O.F. Lodge here last evening and installed the following officers:

T.P.G., Bro. Simon Mathews; N.G., Bro. W. H. Heath; V.G., Bro. Elliott West; F.S., Bro. Sidney Mason; R.S., Bro. William McInroy; Treasurer, Bro. Chas. Lough; Warden, Bro. Thos. Feels ten years younger —and recommends Gin Pills for Kidney Trouble

Do you think there is any chance that you, too, have kidney trouble? Are you bothered by continual headaches, agonising pains in the back, rheumatism, swollen hands and joints?

Read this letter from one who found a happy release from terrible suffering by taking Gin Pills—

"I suffered terribly with my kidneys. When I would stoop down I would have to get down on my knees before I could get up again. I tried Gin Pills, and got relief after taking a few pills. When I had taken two boxes, I felt myself again, and have not had a pain since. I feel ten years younger. I advise anyone suffering from kidneys to take Gin Pills. I cannot praise them enough."
Peter Rehberg, L'Ardoise, C.B.

Gin Pills will help YOU. They will restore your kidneys to normal, healthy action and make you strong and well again.

VALENTINE TEA MUCH ENJOYED

Successful Social Function Given by Daughters of the Empire.

HASTINNGS NEWS.

HASTINGS, Feb. 14.—A St. Valentine Tea was held on Wednesday atthe home of Miss Elizabeth Fowlds on Front Street West, under the auspices of the Darontal Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The house was tastefully decorated in the colors of St. Valentine, with streamers overhead and hearts, cupids and darts, were arranged in the different rooms in various pretty designs.

In the afternoon a musical programme was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Everett Birdsall rendered two vocal solos, as also did Miss Margaret Brown. Miss Regina Hill gave two violin solos, Miss Carrie Doxsie playing the piano accompaniment. Progressive bridge was contested and the prize winners were Miss Della Plant and Mrs. E. Birdsalls.

Progressive euchre was played in the evening, the prize winners being for the gentlemen, Mr. A. B. Smith, and for the ladies, Mrs. A. N. Bailey.

After lunch was served, a number of the younger people spent an enjoyable time with music.

Pleasing and Informative.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met on Thursday afternoon at Mrs. B. F. Doxsie's home on Bridge Street. About thirty-five ladies were present.

After devotional exercises, Mrs. A. Metcalfe gave an interesting reading from the Society's Study Book on China, the subject being "The Work Shops." This dealt with the unusual conditions, compared with those of our own continent, of work and employees of shops and manufacturing establishments in China.

Mrs. M. J. Baker and Miss Jessie Wilcox each rendered solos, and Mrs. (Rev.) Hinton gave a splendid reading.

The refreshment committee provided a lovely lunch before the guests dispersed.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. W. R. Johnson and Mrs. A. B. Smith are the guests of friends in Haliburton.

Mrs. N. Brouis is visiting friends in Peterboro

Rev. C. S. Bretherton attended the annual meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Association in Toronto this week.

Mrs. (Dd.) Hess and son, Everett have returned from visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Mary Godfrey was a recent visitor in Toronto.

ARE YOU TORTURED WITH ECZEMA?

Eczema, or Salt Rheum, as it is commonly called, is one of the most agonizing of all skin diseases.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the parts are exposed to heat, are almost unbearable and relief is greatly welcomed.

The most reliable and effective remedy for this trouble is

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson, R.R. No. 1, Oshawa, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with eczema, and had that terrible itching and burning sensation, and could find no relief for it. Finally, I was advised to use B.B.B., and after my second bottle I began to see a great difference, and I can, now, advise anyone troubled as I was to use this wonderful remedy."

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

Little children quickly get out of sorts but by prompt treatment they can just as quickly be set right again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach and bowels; that is why a good clearing out is the first thing the doctor prescribes. Mothers, why not let Baby's Own Tablets keep your children well. Unlike that ill-smelling, rank tasting castor oil so dreaded by most children, the Tablets are pleasant to take and their action, though thorough is gentle and causes no discomfort to either the baby or the growing child. Baby's Own Tablets are a never failing remedy for relieving constipation and indigestion; thus they break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms and make the teething painless. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GRAY COMING ON

Gray is smart, becoming, in the class with the beige and tan shades when it comes to being smart.

GOOD VEGETABLES.

Do not buy vegetables or fruits of poor quality. The waste amounts to more than the saving in the first cost.

BETTER SOUP.

Always keep a pot of beef extract on hand to use for soup on quick notice or to make gravy or meat sauce richer.

EMILY TREASURER SERVED 37 YEARS

Resignation of Wm. H. Curry Accepted—Faithful to Duty.

OMEMEE, Feb. 14. — The Emily Council met at one o'clock on Monday afternoon, with the members all present.

The following communications were received, perused and laid on the table for discussion and action, if necessary:

From Messrs. Wilson and Wilson, Lindsay Daily Post, re printing required by the municipality.

From the Department of Public Highways, Ontario, advising that the eleventh annual conference on road construction for county and township road superintendents and engineers will be held at Toronto in the Highways Administration Building, 110 University Avenue, on February 23rd and 24th, and that the annual meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association would be held on February 25th, 26th and 27th and extending a cordial invitation to the township road superintendent to attend the conference and that the Council would enable him to do so.

From the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, re opening up of road on 3rd Concession Line across Canadian National railways, opposite property of Allan H. Toole.

Applications for the position of township road superintendent were received as follows: From John McGuire, Frederick H. C. McQuade, C. E. Mitchell, A. G. Moncrief and Thos. H. McQuade.

Applications for the position of assessor were received from Vincent O'Connell only.

The resignation of Mr. William Curry as township treasurer was tendered.

Treasurer Resigns.

Moved by Councillor M. Carroll, seconded by Councillor J. L. Ashmore, that as therein requested, the resignation of William H. Curry as township treasurer be accepted and that in so doing, this Council desires to place on record their sincere appreciation of the faithful, efficient and valuable service rendered by Mr. Curry for a period of thirty-seven years or more as such township treasurer, and further that applications be received by the clerk up to the 3rd day of March next for said position, said applications to be presented at the next meeting of this Council, the resignation of Mr. Curry to take effect on the appointment of his successor. Carried.

The Clerk was instructed to write J. C. MacVicar, county roads engineer, Department of Highways, Ontario, and arrange, if possible, for his presence at the next regular meeting of the Council, with a view of getting all available information possible for assistance in the working of the new system of expenditure on the township roads, consequent upon the abolition of statute labor and the appointment of a township road superintendent.

Moved by Counc. Thos. H. Rice, seconded by Counc. Martin Carroll, that John McGuire be appointed as township road superintendent, the remuneration to be $4 per day and that the by-law to confirm this appointment be now filled in, introduced and read a first time. Carried.

Moved by Counc. J. L. Ashmore, seconded by Counc. Thomas H. Rice, that D. M. Kennedy be appointed as assessor for the current year at a salary of $90.

Moved by Counc. M. Carroll, seconded by Counc. Geo. Griffin, that Vincent O'Connell be appointed as assessor for the current year at a salary of $90. Amendment carried.

Moved by Counc. Thomas H. Rice, seconded by Counc. Martin Carroll, that R. J. Grandy be appointed as clerk for the current year at a salary of $550. Carried.

Moved by Counc. Thomas H. Rice, seconded by Counc. J. L. Ashmore, that orders be issued on the treasurer for payment of the following miscellaneous accounts:

E. C. Vance and Co., for 350 dog tags and postage as per account, $11.91; C. W. Richards, balance in full of printing contract, $23.75; Herbert Jackson, salary as auditor as per by-law 88; Denis M. O'Leary, salary as auditor as per by-law, 88; M. Ruth, sec.-treas., Emily Municipal Telephone System, maintenance levy for Township of Ennismore, $5; Garner Hunter, six days' statute labor, commutation refund, $10.50; M. D. Earle, account rendered for bolts, etc., $1.73 — total, $73.89. Carried.

Moved by Counc. Thos. H. Rice, seconded by Counc. George Griffin, that orders be issued on the treasurer for payment of the following school requisitions:

Sec.-treas. of S.S. No. 8, Wilbert Fee, $100; sec.-treas. of S.S. No. 15, Joseph A. Corbett, $300. Carried.

By-laws for the purpose of confirming the appointment of the officers received their several readings, were signed and sealed.

Moved by Counc. Thos. H. Rice, seconded by Counc. Martin Carroll, that the auditors' report as presented be received and adopted, and that the Clerk is hereby instructed to have 200 copies of the abstract statement printed for distribution. Carried.

Moved by Counc. Thos. H. Rice, seconded by Counc. George Griffin, that no shovelling of snow be paid for by this Council other than that ordered by the Commissioner for the district in which said shovelling of snow is necessary. Carried.

Moved by Counc. J. L. Ashmore, seconded by Counc. George Griffin, that this Council do now adjourn to meet on Tuesday, the 3rd day of March next, at 10 o'clock a.m., when the fence viewers and pound keepers and a township treasurer will be appointed. Carried.

WALKED THE FLOOR FOR HOURS NERVES WERE SO BAD

Wherever there are people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find in Milburns' Heart and Nerve Pills a remedy that will restore the equilibrium of the deranged centres and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

Mrs. W. W. Aulthouse, Woodrous, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe atack of bronchitis I was left in a very weak, run-down condition; my nerves were all broken up; could not sleep at night, and would have to get out of bed and walk the floor for hours.

"After using a box of

MILBURN'S HEART AN DNERVE PILLS

I began to feel much better, and after taking a few more boxes I could enjoy my rest as well as I ever did. I always recommend them to all my friends."

ANNUAL MEETING OF W.M.A. AT IDA

St. John's Church Women Elect Officers—Millbrook News Briefs.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14. — The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of St. John's church, Ida, recently held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Tibbit, a large number of members being in attendance.

The year's reports were most encouraging and the officers for the current year include:

President—Miss Annie Sisson.

Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Harry Sisson.

Secretary—Mrs. Herbert Seney.

Treasurer—Mrs. R. M. Howden.

The chapter from the study book, "The Condition of India," was taken up by Miss Vivian Lough.

The usual social hour was enjoyed at the close.

Millbrook Personals.

Mrs. Fred Wallace and daughter Hetty, of Boulanger, Sask., who have been visiting Mr. W. G. and Miss Estelle Hetherington, are now in Port Hope, guests of her sister, Mrs. L. Peacock.

Mrs. Jas. Dawson, of Peterborough, is spending a few days in town with her son, Mr. B. J. Dawson.

Miss May O'Brian was the guest of friends in Peterborough for a day or two this week.

Mrs. Wilbur Northcott, of Hamilton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Coulter, Zion.

Miss D. Magee, of Peterborough, is visiting Mrs. Stuart Fallis, Fallis Line.

The "moccasin dance," under the auspices of the Cosmos Club, has been postponed until February 19th, owing to the soft weather which has made the use of the rink Thursday evening of this week impossible. Byam's orchestra will furnish the music.

BROWN IS SMART.

Brown will be very smart for spring, but the rage may die out before summer since brown is a color that always looks warm.

METHODIST W.M.A. MET AT MILLBROOK

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering Despite Rain and Bad Roads.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14.—In spite of heavy rain and bad walking in the village, and almost impassible roads in the country, thirty-four members of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the Methodist church gathered at the home of Mrs. J. L. Byam, Bank street, on Tuesday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting.

The president, Mrs. (Rev.) F. H. Howard, expressed her pleasure in the interest and enthusiasm which gave such an encouraging attendance when all the elements seemed combined to prevent folks from venturing out of doors.

Mrs. Byam reported that Miss Hawken, who represents the local Auxiliary on the home mission field, and who has been in the hospital at Edmonton for a somewhat serious operation to remove a growth in the nostrils, is improved in health and is able to resume her duties at the Wahstao Home and Boarding School.

A telegram was read from the secretary of the Women's Prohibition committee, Agnes Lind-Smythe, asking the women to rally in strength for further support of the Ontario Temperance Act. The Auxiliary represent a total enrollment of ninety voters, and on motion of Miss Estelle Hetherington and Mrs. Millard Lang, it was decided to forward a resolution to the Attorney General Hon. W. F. Nickle and to the member for East Durham, A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., asking that the O.T.A. be not amended to allow an increased alcholic content in beer.

Mrs. Howard read the Scripture lesson from 1 Timothy 2:1-6, and gave a brief talk on "Intercessory Prayer."

In Memory of Parents.

During the discussion on finances, the president reported a donation of five dollars from Mrs. Ashley, a sister of Rev. Mr. Howard's, now living in California. The money was sent in memory of her parents and in view of the fact that the late "Mother Howard" was an indefatigable worker in the interests of the W.M.S. it was decided to make this $5.00 earn more. Any group raising $20 toward a Life Membership fee, may claim this donation to complete the necessary amount.

Reading and Music.

Group F, Miss Mary Widdis, convener, then took charge and the following programme was rendered: Reading, "The Flaming Torch", by Mrs. Allan Mitchell; piano solo, Miss Estelle Hetherington; readings, "Wishing" and "Little Maggie's Crutch," by Miss Widdis.

The chapter in the study book, "Under the Smokestacks," from "China's Real Revolution", was taken up by Miss Hetherington, the listeners gaining a new vision of the amazing industrial changes taking place in the Celestial Empire, as its resources are rapidly being developed.

A dainty and substantial tea was served by Mrs. Byam, assisted by Group F, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed before the gathering was finally brought to a close.

Who Were Present.

Those present included: Mrs. J. Wilke, Mrs. T. Donaldson, Mrs. W. Lowes, Mrs. W. West, Mrs. T. Douglas, Mrs. W. Mullen, Mrs. T. H. Aiken, Mrs. D. Sanderson, Mrs. A. J. Brown, Mrs. Geo. Locke, Mrs. Lambert, Sr., Mrs. W. Weatherup, Mrs. C. W. Richards, Mrs. R. H. and Mrs. Ross Edmunds, Mrs. F. H. Howard, Mrs. F. W. Smith, Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. O. Williamson, Mrs. H. Dawson, Mrs. H. Lang, Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. J. Turner, Mrs. G. Freelove, Mrs. B. Raper, Misses M. E. and Stella Hetherington, L. Crocker, Mrs. W. H. Byam, Miss Mary Widdis and others.

A donation of $25 in memory of the late Miss Belle Hetherington, for many years a member of the auxiliary, and always interested in its work, was placed upon the plate when the offering was received.

SLEEVELESS FROCKS.

The newest frocks for tennis are absolutely sleeveless and have wide, circular, but very abbreviated skirts.

DIAMOND BUTTONS

Tiny diamond studded buttons are very smart for buttoning the new elaborate waiscoatas.

PERILOUS JOURNEY IN A RUDE BOAT

Story of Intrepid, Hardy Womanhood, Characteristic of Early Settlers.

COBOURG, Feb. 14.—(Special). —A journey from a point near Colborne in Northumberland County to Queenston in a rudely constructed boat built by an amateur carpenter and boat builder for the purpose, was the experience of one of the early women settlers of this district, whose family settled here in the closing years of the eighteenth century.

The story is that when Mr. Aaron Greely came from New Hampshire to Haldimand Township in 1795 he entered into an agreement with Governor Simcoe to bring thirty settlers into the township of Haldimand, furnishing them with provisions, implements, etc. In return he was to be given a large tract of land in the township as reimbursement. Mr. Greely built a saw-mill and a grist-mill at Presque Isle Point, near Brighton, and in Haldimand. Settlers arrived, were located and supplied with necessities, and apparently for a time the rush prospered. Supplies were largely purchased from a Mr. Cartwright, who had a store at Kingston, the nearest point at which they could be obtained. Later, it is stated, Governor Simcoe was called home, and the administration of the affairs in his absence is stated to have cancelled the agreement. Disgusted with this treatment, Mr. Greely accepted an offer made him of being appointed surveyor-general of the territory of Michigan. He immediately left for the latter place. To his wife, who was a daughter of Major Rogers, commander of the Queen's Rangers, he entrusted the settlement of his affairs in Canada. In order to settle her indebtedness to Mr. Cartwright, Mrs. Greely sacrificed nearly all of her own and her husband's property here. She then began preparations for her trip to Michigan to join Mr. Greely. She had a boat built, which was navigated by her brother-in-law, Mr. G. Greely, assisted by Mr. Liberty White, who had accompanied them from New Hampshire. It is told that Mr. White was afterwards killed by an Indian at a point now within the city of Chicago. With her little daughter, Susan Greely, she embarked on the rudely constructed boat, and the long and perilous journey began. They coasted Lake Ontario from Presque Isle to Niagara, camping upon the shore at night, and were often delayed by head winds and storms. Arrived at Queenston, Mrs. Greely disposed of her boat, and arranged to have her baggage portaged past the Falls to Chippewa, where they embarked upon a boat in readiness, and were landed at Detroit, the long and tedious journey taking several weeks and causing much anxiety to the travellers.

Indians Secured Papers.

Mr. Greely surveyed the country around Saginaw on Lake Huron, where a tract of land later bore his name. He went to Washington to report, carrying his maps with him, and returning home shortly before the war of 1812, was attacked by Indians and lost nearly all of the effects he had with him. Thus in a few minutes was the labor of years destroyed. The family remained at Detroit through the stirring first period of the war, until that place was taken by General Brock, and then left for New Hampshire, Mr. Greely's former home, leaving Buffalo two days after the battle of Queenston Heights. Returning to Detroit soon after peace was declared, Mr. Greely was suddenly taken sick and died.

The N.E.L. Spirit.

Mrs. Greely was a member of a U. E. Loyalist family, and so after her husband's death she prepared to spend her last days under the British flag, and with her daughter returned to their property in Haldimand Township, Northumberland County. Travelling was then a little bit improved from what it had been, and this trip was not so difficult as the previous one had been when she made the voyage with her effects in a home-made boat. Mrs. Greely's adventrous trip from near Brighton to Niagara shows that the pioneer women were not behind the men of their day in bravery and resourcefulness.

Taught Sunday School.

But this family has another claim to distinction as pioneers. Probably the first Sunday School in Northumberland County was organized by Miss Susan Greely, the only child in this home. It was conducted first at Colborne; then, after the municipality was subdivided into sections for school purposes, in a school house near their home. Miss Greely was the moving spirit and was superintendent, and taught in this school for over seventy years. Her mother was a well educated woman, and passed her education and culture on to her little daughter. The latter died now nearly a quarter of a century ago, being then well up to the one hundredth milestone of life.

Mr. Greely as Surveyor.

In passing it should be mentioned also that Mr. Greely surveyed altogether five townships in Northumberland County, Hamilton, Haldimand, Percy, Seymour and Senwick. He made maps of these districts also. He built a saw-mill and grist-mill at Presque Isle Point, near Brighton, and the same in Haldimand Township at a spot known as Shelter Valley, about three miles east of the village of Grafton.

A Proposed Town.

At Presque Isle, where Mr. Greely erected his saw-mill and grist-mill, a plan of a proposed town to be called "Newcastle" was drawn up in these early days. This plan was filed at the office of Mr. Grover, later Registrar at Colborne. This is the spot also where the first court house was built to serve the district of Newcastle, and it was the first building of its kind between Toronto and Kingston. It was a rude log structure, and years afterwards was used as a barn. The ruins remained there up to a few years ago, or before the days that Presque Isle became a popular summer resort. The plan as originally laid out included lots for a church, market, school, burying ground, gaol and rectory. There was a court of assizes and nisi prius for the Newcastle district held in 1802, and this was probably held at Newcastle, now Presque Isle.

CRIMEAN VETERAN TELLS THE STORY

BROUGHT BACK TO HEALTH BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MAJOR GEORGE WALKER

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and Indian Mutiny, having served under Lord Roberts. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so, that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk.

My bowels were so constipated that I was in terrible shape until I began to use "Fruit-a-tives". They relieved me both from Rheumatism and Constipation. Today I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Constipation".—Geo. Walker, Chatham, Ont.

"Fruit-a-tives" contain in tablet form, the concentrated juices of luscious fruits—Nature's own remedy for Constipation and its painful consequences.

"Fruit-a-tives" overcome all intestinal troubles in a way no other medicine can. At your dealers. 25c and 50 cents a box.

FABLES ON HEALTH.

SWEETS NOT NECESSARY.

Sweets are not absolutely essential to health. Mrs. Mann of Anytown learned in her study of foods.

In addition to laying the foundation for numerous ills one of which is overweight sweets destroy the appetite for the essential. There are certain foods all healthy adults and children should have every day.

Milk is one of these. A pint of milk a day is about the proper amount for a normal person. Other foods required are vegetables one of which should be a leafy vegetable two or three times a week at least; some fresh fruit and bread or cereal.

Children should have probably three or four eggs a week.

Health experts are not sure how big a place in the diet should be given to meat and eggs but very few people are likely to omit them. It is known however that there is danger in eating too much of either meat or eggs.

FAMOUS LEADER OF JAPAN HERE

Toyohiko Kagawa To Speak in Knox Church Next Thursday.

REMARKABLE MAN.

Mr. Kagawa is secretary of the General Federation of Japanese Labor and an eminent Christian leader. A son of wealthy Japanese parents he early in life evinced a liberal spirit and an interest in and sympathy with the oppressed and wretched people of his own land. Two years' domicile in an American University, deepened and intensified these natural tendencies of his soul and returning home he plunged into the slums of a great Japanese city. Since 1909 he and his wife, who was a factory girl, have lived amongst the down-and-outs huddled together. He has organized a missionary group called the "Jesus Band," which is housed in a little chapel to which come laborers, murderers, robbers, students etc. Bible teaching medical work, recreation, fresh air work, industrial education, are carried on under his direction.

He it was who interested himself in Japanese labor conditions and he has done a great deal to bring some measure of decency and justice into the lot of the working man. Ever and always a Christian he has always advocated peaceful measures and opposed violence. The only kind of war which he will lead is non-violent and love-your-enemy conflict.

He is not a wrecker yet he has been several times in prison for conscience sake. His methods and ideals are God-inspired, and he is an eloquent and passionate preacher of the Gospel. Jesus alone he believes can meet the needs of Japan.

At the recent "Washington International Conference on Missions," Mr. Kagawa was one of the striking personalities, reminding the conference of the Apostle Paul in the experiences through which he has passed as well as in a peculiar combination of passion, tenderness and strength.

Mr. Kagawa is to be in Canada for a few days and will speak at a supper in Knox church, on Thursday, Feb. 19th, at 6.30 p.m., under the auspices of the Ministerial Association of Peterborough.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Medicine Hat Mill Employee Died Soon Afterward.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Feb. 14. —(Canadian Press).—John Lindsay, employee of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills here, was found yesterday on the second floor of the mill, unconscious, and with a fractured skull. He died a few minutes after being discovered. Lindsay was married with a family of three children. His father was accidentally killed in a mill in Scotland, at the same age as his son, 44. An inquest will be held.

FORMER INDIAN SPEAKER GETS 3 YEARS IN PRISON

Six Nations Indian Convicted of Cruelty to Wife and Child.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 14.—A case of almost unparalleled brutality was brought to light in county magistrate's court here Friday when Eli Burning, a Six Nations Indian, speaker of the Mohawks in the Old Six Nations council, recently deposed by the dominion government for incompetence and malpractice, was sentenced to three years in the Kingston penitentiary by Magistrate Blake. Evidence showed that Burning had been in the habit of beating and ill treating his wife and six months old child, and on one occasion turning her out in the snow. The charges were placed by Lieut. Col. C. E. Morgan, superintendent of the Six Nations band.

Winnipeg Mother Finds Ideal Remedy for Colds of Children

A Vaporizing Salve which Relieves Colds Over Night and Croup in Fifteen Minutes. Nothing to Take—Just Rub It Over Throat and Chest.

Mothers everywhere will be interested in the experience of Mrs. W. Butterfield, 627 Carydon Ave., Winnipeg, Man. Mrs. Butterfield tried the new external remedy for colds, Vicks VapoRub, when it was first introduced in Winnipeg and writes:

"My three-year-old boy, William, became very sick with what seemed to me like a pneumonia cold accompanied with indigestion. He was a very sick boy for two weeks. One night I grew alarmed—he breathed so quickly and was so restless. I rubbed him with Vicks VapoRub and the result was gratifying. He breathed more easily and I was able to get a little sleep myself. The next two nights I again rubbed him with Vicks with still better results and he became as bonny as ever. I surely appreciate Vicks VapoRub and shall use and recommend it at all times."

Vicks is just as good for adults. It is the direct treatment for sore throat, tonsilitis, bronchitis, catarrh, head or chest colds. When rubbed over throat or chest, Vicks has a two-fold action. Internally it is inhaled as a vapor and at the same time, externally, absorbed like a liniment. This double action seldom fails to give immediate relief.

VALETINE PARTY HELD AT Y.W.C.A.

A Hundred Girls Dressed in 'Kiddie' Costumes Held High Revelry.

The Senior Class girls and the House girls of the Young Women's Christian Association held a very jolly Valentine party at the "Y" last evening, attended by about one hundred girls, dressed in "kiddie" costumes. The evening was spent in playing games and contests, with particularly interesting events in a crossword puzzle game, a menagerie game and a Valentine alphabet game.

A number of the girls arranged an impromptu programme, with readings and songs.

Judges for the costumes were Mrs. T. Cruikshank, Mrs. H. Beal, Mrs. Jas. MacKintosh and Mrs Bliss. Prizes were awarded to Margaret Eastwood, for the prettiest costume, to Gertrude Scott, for the most original dress, and to Gertie Graham for the most comical outfit.

An interesting portion of the programme was the presentation of awards to the successful entrants in the recent swimming tests. The bronze medal of the Royal Life Saving Society was presentedto Mrs. Gray Copping, Mrs. Paul Manning ad Miss Eleanor Hiland. The silver award of merit went to the Misses Mary Dunlop Eleanor Hiland and Mathilde Dunlop.

The evening concluded with service of ice cream and cake.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

INVITATION MIS-INTERPRETED.

To the Members of St. Paul's Congregation:

Dear Christian Friends,

As we presume, you are aware the members of many Presbyterian congregations who have voted by majorities not to enter the United Church have been accused by the Unionist minorities of having virtually driven them out of these congregations by the unfriendly attitude that was assumed towards them. It was in order that the Unionist members of St. Paul's congregation might know that the non-Unionist members of the congregation hold nothing but the most friendly and Christian spirit towards them that we felt led last Wednesday, following the vote to invite all those members "who desire to retain their fellowship with St. Pauls Church to do so," and to "assure them that it is our earnest hope that we shall continue to enjoy their Christian fellowship in the years which lie ahead."

In Friday night's Examiner, we notice by two letters, one from the Union Committee of St. Paul's Church and the other by our pastor, Rev. Robert Pogue, that an incorrect interpretation has been placed upon our invitation. May we be excused, therefore if we again refer to the matter.

No one, we trust, would seek for one moment to lead any member of our congregation who feels impelled, by conscientious reasons, to sever their connections with St. Paul's Churnh from doing so. We respect their view, and would not think of seeking to dissuade them from their purpose. We desire only God's richest blessing upon any who may leave us because of their convictions.

There are many, however, who voted for Church Union who did so from other reasons. Some hoped that St. Paul's might vote in favour of union, but announced from the outset that because of old associations and other similar ties, they intended to remain with our congregation no matter what the result of the ballot might be. In some cases close relatives voted against one another. Were all who voted for Union under such circumstances to feel compelled to resign their membership in this church, it would involve the severing of the dearest and closest family ties. Is it to be wondered at, therefore if among those who voted in favour of Union there are a considerable number now who would like to continue their connection with us. If there be such, and there are, who has any right to sit in judgment upon them? To all such, therefore, as well as to any others who may desire to retain their membership in St. Paul's Church, we once more invite them, in the most sincere and cordial manner to do so. They will be heartily welcomed, and their friendship and fellowship be as highly valued in the future as in the past.

St. Paul's Branch, Presbyterian Church Association.

PETERBORO PROHIBITION UNION PROTESTS WEAKENING OF O.T.A.

Dramatic Dialogue Debate on Temperance—Ben Spence Takes Part.

BEER INTOXICATES.

There was plenty of interest and entertainment for the four or five hundred people who gathered in George Street Methodist Church last evening, to hear the dramatic dialogue debate on the temperance question, in which Messrs. Ben. H. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance; A. E. Smith, ex-Labor M.P.P. for Winnipeg, and Ruthven McDonald, all of Toronto, took part. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Peterboro Prohibition Union, the organization which supplants the temporary Plebiscite committee, and makes it permanent to conform with provincial organizations of the same type. Mr. Thos. Barrie, chairman of the Union, occupied the chair. The meeting was opened and closed with prayer by Rev. Jas. D. Richardson. A number of songs by Mr. Ruthven McDonald, with organ accompaniment by Mr. J. H. Renwick, added immensely to the interest of the programme.

The debate was preceded by brief addresses made by Mr. Smith and Mr. Spence The chairman also spoke a few words, regarding opposition of the Peterboro Prohibition Union to the proposed legislation in favor of stronger beer.

Mr. Smith, saying that the Labor movement is essentially a sociological and economic, rather than a political movement, said that it is also "diametrically, fundamentally essentially and continuously in opposition to the existence of a social structure such as the liquor traffic. Every life that comes into the social order is engaged in building human society and solving social problems, and when we look upon it in that way, we see that we are engaged in a vastly great endeavor than a temperance movement. The liquor traffic manifests anti-social qualities. Human society is the artificial product of human experience, and human experience produced the liquor traffic. When human society decides that any structure within it is anti-social, then, just as nature gathers its forces to throw off disease, so the healthy social organism resists and destroys and supplants anything in its structure that is hurtful to it. The old traditional blind partizans say that it is a wicked thing to have a Farmers' Party or a Labor Parliament in Parliament, but it is the unexplained forces and the unexploited social content that is the political force of the future."

Mr. Spence, saying "I am a prohibitionist in principle and practise, and I am speaking tonight to prohibitionists in principle and practise," went on: "We must look upon prohibition as not simply a law, but the facilities we have in a community for supplying liquor depends upon the degree in which we practise the principle of prohibition. We will never gain anything by loosening up on the law. The present proposal in the Speech from the Throne is a contradiction of the whole principle of prohibition reform, in that it proposes to take prohibition out of the law, instead of putting more prohibition into it. On the strength of the Prime Minister's promise to strengthen the weakness of the O.T.A. the people went out and voted, not for stronger beer, but for stronger prohibition." (Applause).

Mr. Spence went on to score the action of the government in proposing to raise the alcoholic content of beer, saying that the assertion that it was not intoxicating was an absolute falsehood. "This beer is five times stronger than the standard determined by an investigating committee in the United States, making tests as to intoxicating liquor. It is two and one-half times stronger than the standard allowed in England ,and sold there under a license. This standard, if passed, means a stronger beer than is allowed any other plice in the world. Ontario should be pre-eminent in temperance and sobriety, rather than in exalting beer."

Mr. Spence illustrated his remarks with showing in a glass that he declared contained "two good snorts of liquor," the alcoholic content contained in a quart of the proposed stronger beer.

He declared that the liquor forces of the province had always been noted for their "flopping" propensities, and were consistent advocates always of the next best thing, and concluded with: "We want to make Canada clean and safe and happy, and booze is against cleanliness and safety and happiness."

Cards were then distributed, calling for contributions to a nation-wide campaign for prohibition enactment, and W. H. Merrel read the following resolutions, which were adopted by a standing vote of the meeting; after being seconded by S. A. Oke:

Whereas we contend that the proposed legislation regarding the sale of beer is not in accord with the pledge given at the time of the Plebiscite, and is not in harmony with the expressed wish of the people as shown by the recent vote, we wish to affirm our position in accepting the statement made by the Premier that the Plebiscite vote was a mandate for the enforcement of the O.T.A. with such changes in the law as would strengthen its weakness, in enforcement, and in support of the principle of Prohibition.

Since the weakness of the O.T.A. consist chiefly in not what it prohibits but in what it permits, we hereby request the government to:

(1) To reconsider its proposal to double the alcoholic strength of beer;

(2) To further curtail the amount of alcoholic liquor allowed on doctors' prescriptions.

(3) To prohibit the sale of native wine of intoxicating strength.

(4) To place the doctor who misuses his profession regarding alcoholic prescriptions under the same penalties as the bootlegger.

WON HIS CASE.

BEN. H. SPENCE.
Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, Who Debated Temperance in George Street Church Last Night.

Mr. Spence Wins.

The debate which followed was made extremely interesting by means of the inclusion of humorous allusions and was enjoyed by the audience. Four scenes were enacted, the first in Mr. Smith's office, where as a member of the local Legislature, he receives a letter from Ben H. Spence, asking for his support in more stringent liquor legislation, and dictates an answer to his stenographer, passing the responsibiltiy on to the Federal member. The next scene shows a similar occurrence in the office of Mr. McDonald, where as the Federal member, he goes through the same procedure. The roles of the two stenographers are enacted by the Misses Alma Coon and Gwen Kelly. The third scene shows Mr. Spence in receipt of the letters, and extending an invitation to the two for a conference in his office; and the fourth scene winds up the affair with the debate in Mr. Spence's office.

Arguments pro and con, are advanced by the three, Mr. Spence getting the best of the argument and finally bringing the others to a resolve to do their respective bests in enforcing more stringent laws with regard to prohibition enforcement.

Their arguments with regard to the stand which the province of Quebec takes in the matter were refuted by Mr. Spence's records, showing the strong prohibition tendencies of the Romon Catholic hierarchy in that province, and they finally decided that even Quebec could be swept into line in a nation-wide campaign. They both became quite enthusiastic and Mr. McDonald says: "We will make the people of Canada so dry that they will have to pin their postage stamps on."

A humorous interlude was afforded by the turning of the two on their host and their demand for support in their promised endeavors. Mr. Smith declared: "These church people make me sick. They sing and pray but when it comes to proper support any roustabout on the street is better than ten of them." An instance was recited of "distinguished and influential and learned preacher" who, the day before elections, confined any remarks he might have made on the issue in question to a morning sermon on "The Spiritual Significance of the Sayings of Jehosophat," and talked in the evening on "A Short Man in a Tall Tree," evading the responsibility of having anything to do with his congregation's duty at the polls.

Queried at his own presence at the nomination meetings, Mr. Spence confessed that he never bothered much about these. Mr. McDonald declared at last election, the Tories "nominated a yellow dog and the Grits a yellow cat, and when election day came the people had to take their choice between them. Nominations are a great deal more important than elections, but you stay at home and leave nominations to the ward heelers. Politicians would rather stand in with the good element in any community than the other sort, but they need the votes and they know where they are, at least up to the present. For you goody-goodies have never delivered them yet."

Mr. Smith: "The tragedy of public life to-day is the inferior quality of citizenship we get from good people."

The debate concluded with a promise from the harrassed Mr. Spence to try and line up the good people in support of the legislation they demanded, and a standing vote of thanks from the audience.

The NERVOUS WRECK by E. J. Rath

©1924-by NEA Service Inc.

"You'd better not waste much time cutting wire," she warned him, with another look backward.

"Why not, Mrs. Lot?"

"They've probably got the big car out now."

He reached into the pocket of his coat and drew forth something that fell clinking into her lap. She picked up two metallic objects and tried to examine them in the dim light.

"What are they?" she asked.

"One of 'em's an intake valve, the other's an exhaust. Timothy's been grinding them."

"And they can't run the car?"

"Not particularly," said the Wreck.

"And how are you going to get them back to Timothy?"

He took them from her hands and tossed them into the bushes at the side of the trail.

"Let 'em send to New York for new valves," he answered, in a tone of savage satisfaction. "They expect to stay a month, don't they?"

"You're only piling up trouble for yourself, Henry Williams."

"Nope. Only playing safe."

And, to emphasize the safety of his play, he stopped the flivver again and ascended another pole, from which he cut the wires with two vicious snaps of his pliers.

"Don't forget they can make time over this trail with a horse," said Sally. "If I were you I'd keep moving."

"I hid the saddles," said the Wreck, grinning.

"You what?"

"Took all the saddles and bridles and carted them out back of the corral. Dumped them into a gully. They won't find them till morning, anyhow."

As the broad scope of his precautions to forestall pursuit dawned upon her, Sally experienced a feeling of awed admiration. She already knew that he had a way of doing things on impulse but it was a discovery to learn that the Wreck could be coldly calculating.

"In that case," she said, "you might slow down a little until we reach the main road. There's no use breaking our necks until we get off the Underwood property."

He adopted the suggestion and drove more slowly, although he did it with reluctance. He had a sort of affection for the dusty flivver, and the touch of the steering wheel inspired him. He was in a mood to make the machine fly, if it would.

A third time he dismounted, as they reached the end of the private road, and threw open the gate. He even took the trouble to close it after they passed through. Then, once more taking the wheel, he looked at Sally. The main road lay just in front of them, running at right angles.

"Which way?" he demanded. "I suppose you're headed for the train, aren't you?"

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Wreck Supplies a Cook.

Sally was not certain whether she was headed for the train or the Bar-M. She had not attempted to plan anything beyond the getaway, which loomed so large in her vision that it blocked off any glimpse at the future. But now she was confronted with the need to make a decision. She had no desire to go to Chicago. She was not in a mood to contemplate the purchase of a trousseau. She had certain annoying opinions on the subject of good cooks, and they persisted in thrusting themselves into the problem.

But it might be easier to go to Chicago, even if she did not buy a trousseau there. There were difficulties in the way of an early return to the Bar-M it would entail explanations that she did not want to make, not so much on her own account as on that of the Wreck. She felt that if worst came to worst, she could justify her own course fairly well. But she did not know whether she could clear Henry Williams. Every unlawful thing he had done was on her own account, she knew, and not for all the world would she let him take the consequences single-handed. If they went back to the Bar-M she did not see how she could invent a story that would cover the situation. Certainly, she did not propose to tell the truth. She believed in truth, and she did not like inventions—but there was Henry Williams to be considered. And the welfare of Henry Williams rose above ethical considerations.

"Let's take the road back the way we came," she said. "I don't mean all the way. But we'll try to hit a branch road which will take us to the railway line. I think you spoke about Mr. Underwood saying they drove around by way of Duncan. I've never been to Duncan, but I think it's on the railroad. Why not try it?"

"It's Duncan," said the Wreck.

The flivver turned left into the highway and hurried on through the night. It was running beautifully and noisily and the Wreck listened to the beat of the motor with a sense of keen satisfaction. Never had it hit on all four cylinders with more boisterous regularity. The rest had done it good. It was both rhythmic and raucous, which was the way a good flivver ought to be.

"If I make the train," asked Sally, after a long break in the conversation, "what are you going to do?"

"Oh, I'll drift down to the Bar-M."

"But how will you explain being away so long?"

"I'll say I took my time. Camped."

"But I thought you were just out here to rest your nerves," she mused. "And they're all right again, aren't they?"

He shook his head violently.

"Bad as ever," he said. "Fierce."

"Henry, that's nonsense. You eat like a horse and you sleep like an old cat. I don't believe there's a thing the matter with your nerves."

"What do you know about it?" he demanded. "I'm the person that knows. I can feel 'em. If you had my nerves strung through your system you'd be jumping around like a grasshopper. You'd be just what I am—a wreck."

"But you're not a wreck. That's just one of your silly ideas."

"You're always arguing."

"Oh, you can be disagreeable if you wish," said Sally. "But when you talk about needing a rest for your nerves you make me tired."

"Oh, well, I don't have to rest them at the Bar-M, if that's what you mean."

"I didn't mean that. You know I didn't. You can rest them at the Bar-M from now until doomsday, if you like."

"I'll go somewhere else," he said, stubbornly.

"Don't be silly!"

That was as near as she would go to telling him exactly what she thought. If he was bound to rest his nerves in Montana, she did not know of any better place than the Bar-M. In fact, she did not know of any place which would serve so well. Even if he became a sort of permanent boarder, she did not see that the family would be inconvenienced. There was plenty of room.

"Oh, I'll bother somebody else for a while," he assured her.

It sounded to Sally as though he regarded his nerves as so many toys, and that if she did not like his toys he would take them to some other place and play. So she laughed.

"We're always getting into some absurd controversy, Henry. And here we are, right in the middle of an escape. By rights, we ought to be serious. Are you sure that you hid all the saddles?"

It was a change of subject that lasted them until the conversation again died into monosyllables, and then wholly ceased for miles. The night was cool and Sally buttoned her coat. The Wreck never seemed to feel heat or cold; she could not remember that he ever made a comment on the weather, not even on the day he arrived at Dad Morgan's ranch. There was a wiry constancy and equanimity about his bone and flesh that often amazed her. Only his nerves gave him the least concern.

"Hungry?" she asked.

"Sure."

She unwrapped a package of sandwiches and handed him one. He made three bites of it. He accepted another, then a third, and they vanished in the same fashion.

"Like 'em?" she ventured.

"They're great!"

"Wonderful! At last you admit I'm a cook, Henry. I even baked the bread, you know."

He gave her a quizzical glance.

"What's all this business about cooking, anyhow?" he asked.

"Never mind. It's something like a joke, I think. Perhaps I'll tell you some day."

"All right. Can I have another one?"

She was smiling as she gave him the fourth sandwich and watched it disappear.

The flivver was snorting along famously, and Sally propped herself back in the seat and enjoyed herself. It was good to feel free again on the open road. She would even have been willing to try cutting across the range, if there was need for it. The Wreck's mood was exhilarated. He laid it to a nervous exaltation from which he would presently react, in all probability; but while it lasted he proposed to make the most of it.

DOOM APOSTLE BOBS UP IN NEWARK WITH A SIGN

Says End of the World Will Come This Year.

NEW YORK February 14. — Robert Reidt, the apostle of doom, who disappeared from East Patchogue, L. I. a few days ago after he had predicted that the world would come to an end on February 6th, turned up in Newark on Wednesday. He wore a sign from the neck prophesying again the end of the world.

"People say I have profited by what I have done. How could I profit by it? I had a good job at $11 a day in the painting and decorating business. It was a steady job yet I gave it up. I sold my furniture piece by piece until I have nothing left but my wife, children and the clothes that I wear. But God will provide."

Reidt would not say where he and his family were living. He said he took his children from East Patchogue on Monday afternoon after he had received several threatening letters. These he had burned. Since then he has been making his way slowly toward Newark. His wife followed him the day after he left Long Island. A man who was also carrying a sign with Reidt yesterday is said to be Brother Downs, one of his friends from East Patchogue.

Reidt's picture appeared in one of the Newark papers. His right hand was raised and in his left he held a Bible. The man and his companion first attracted attention on Tuesday when the Newark police received several telephone messages that two men were parading along Frilinghuysen avenue bearing signs carryng religious messages.

Special Train to Tour Province Next Month—Satisfactory Reports.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Satisfactory reports of endeavor in the line of improving livestock in many parts of the province were the outstanding features of the annual meeting of the Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association, held here yesterday with the largest attendance in years of representatives of various breed associations present.

R. W. Wade, chief of the livestock branch, announced that arrangements were on the way for the sending out of a livestock special train which leaves Cobourg on March 19 for a tour of the eastern and later the northern counties of the Province. This year's train will consist of 15 cars and will require a staff of 20 or more.

WILL VISIT MINISTER.

Boards of Trade Will Discuss Forming of Tourists' Association.

A representation from the Peterboro Chamber of Commerce is going to Toronto on February 18 to form part of a delegation from the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to wait on the Minister of Railways with regard to forming an Ontario Tourists' Association.

PEARY'S AIDE IN TROUBLE

Polar Explorer Committed for Trial, Charged With Arson.

WREXHAM, Wales, Feb. 14. — (Associated Press).—James Jackson, who accompanied Admiral Peary on his Polar trip in 1906, is in trouble. He was committed for trial at the assizes here on a charge of arson. It was alleged Jackson was responsible for the burning of a portion of the premises he occupied, and that furniture found in the place smelt of paraffin.

Jackson served during the war and received a permanent injury to the head which resulted in a steel plate being inserted.

3 Qualities No Other Four Possesses

Before Chrysler engineers achieved the new good Maxwell, every car buyer had to determine whether to pay a high premium for power and performance, or to pay less for mediocre performance.

In the good Maxwell of today, Chrysler engineers, working with Maxwell's fine manufacturing facilities, have solved the problem completely and unquestionably.

They have solved it by engineering into the good Maxwell a combination of four-cylinder performance capacity and operating-maintenance economy wholly new to the motoring public.

In this latest product of the great Maxwell organization and factories expect a new degree of four-cylinder power, speed, flexibility and vibrationless operation which surpasses these qualities even as Maxwell previously expressed them.

FARM NEWS AND PROBLEMS

FARMERS' CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT BALTIMORE

U.F.O. Set Up Another Branch With Good Representative Membership.

REFORESTATION

Many Counties Are Watching Results in Northumberland and Durham.

COBOURG, Feb. 14. — A new United Farmers' Club has been organised at Baltimore, which is taking on members from Fenella and other places as well as Baltimore. A well-attended and interesting meeting was held, at which the locality was well represented. It is expected that a speaker from a distance will come shortly to address the club on the organization of an egg pool. The club will meet again on the last Thursday of the month.

A Big Area to Cover.

Ontario County is in rather a unique position as regards ats County Department of Agriculture. It is pointed out that the distance from north to south of this county warrants the need of two such officers. Be that as it may, the Brooklin Farmers' Club recently passed a resolution favoring the removal of the Ontario County agricultural representative from Uxbridge to Brooklin.

Reforestation.

The matter of reforestation has been discussed at some length in Ontario County, and although nothng has yet been done, the result of such a course in counties such as Northumberland and Durham, is being watched with interest. The purchase of a tract of land near Uxbridge by the Ontario County Council is being recommended by some advocates of the enterprise. The tract of land which is recommended for purchase is stated to be not fit for farming purposes.

Filling the Wells.

The difficulties which some farmers have had of procuring water for their stock has been overcome by the recent thaw and copious rainfall. The ground, it is stated, is not frozen deep and this allows the water to sink in. The roads, however, were in an almost impassable condition.

Brooklin Spring Fair.

The annual meeting of the Brooklin Spring Fair Association was held recently when excellent financial reports were given. This is one of the few spring fairs that survive, although years who when the country was new, they were among the first of the agricultural exhibitions to be held.

Brooklin Fair had receipts last year totalling $1162.77, and after all indebtedness was paid, there was a tidy balance on hand, which shows that the Brooklin Association is making a success of it.

Self-Starting Scythe

"Pat Maguire was engaged to reap a field of day, and the farmer on giving him the scythe told him it was such a good one that he had only to put the po nt of the blade in the hay and it would go round the field itself. When the farmer went to the field about dinner-time to see how he was getting on Pat was sitting at the dikeside with the point of the scythe in the hay. Just as the farmer was beginning to scold him for having no hay cut Pat yells out, 'Kape back! kape back! Ye don't know the minnit she's going to start!'"

METAL ROOFS AND LIGHTNING

Water Pipe is Best Ground Connection Possible—Solder Joints.

CARE IS NEEDED.

"The ideal lightning-rod system would be one in the form of a rat-trap construction set over a building, the wires close together and grounded. Buildings completely iron-clad—sides, eaves, cornice and roof—give nearly the same condition when properly grounded."

Thus reads standard No. 437 of the Mutual Fire Prevention Bureau which makes the standards for a number of insurance companies specializing in elevator and mill insurance. Grain elevators extending well up into the air, as they do, are especially likely to be struck by lightning.

Have the Metal Roof Grounded.

If you have a non-metallic roof and no lightning-rods you have no lightning protection. If you have a metal roof with metal down-spouts not grounded, keep away from these these down-spouts during a storm, for the lightning will probably come down the spout and leap to earth. If the barn has a metal roof, drive a rod or pipe, preferably galvanized, into the ground near the down-spout. The rod should penetrate eight or ten feet to soil that is always moist. Then connect the top of the pipe to the down-spout by metal—a strip of heavy galvanized iron three inches wid e will do—and solder the connections with considerable contact surface.

A water-pipe is the best ground connection you can have. Use it, if you have one. Soldered connections at joints in the down-spout and soldered connections between down-spout and roof by a strip of metal are also desirable. All isolated parts of the roof, such as a metal-roofed wooden cupola, should be connected by metal to the main roof. Hay-carrier tracks should also be connected to the metal roof at both ends and manure-carrier tracks should always be grounded separately.

A metal-sided building should have the metal continuous with the roof at eaves, or well connected at 25-foot intervals. There should be at least two grounds for each building, and more if the building is quite large, high, or irregular in shape. In any case all down-spouts should be grounded.

The fundamental idea is to provide a continuous effective metal path from the highest points of the roof, where lightning usually strikes, to moist earth. The lightning will then be rendered harmless, for it will not leave a good path of metal to follow a poor one like hay or wood.

The metal roof on your building can be made a very effective part of your lightning protection system. Use it.

It is a good stunt to have the connections between roof and ground-pipe made by a lightning-rod man or a good tinner, unless you are a good hand at soldering.

MENIE DISTRICT AYRSHIRE MEN ATTEND CLASS

Canada Field Man Had Charge—Prize Cattle Were Discussed.

JUDGES DIFFER.

Woodland Ditto Had Many Rivals in Stable—Menie Club Active.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14. — The Menie District Ayrshire Breeders' Club held a judging class at Mr. R. H. Little's, Trentview Farm, on Wednesday afternoon. Although the day was not the best and the roads rather bad, a good crowd of very interested breeders was present, also a number of new faces.

David Hunter, of Grimsby, the Ayrshire field man for the Dominion of Canada, was present, and had charge of the class, conducting it in the usual way.

The first animal brought out was the splendid young herd bull, Humeshaugh Military Skylight, born February 23, 1923, by Whole House Military Cross and the great dam, Humeshaugh Perfect Lady. This young herd sire shows good development and is one of the strongest two-year-old bulls in the district. He no doubt will give great satisfaction with Little's special herd of females. Mr. Hunter than explained the true type that was desired by the breeders, and also discussed the weak points in the dairy cow. He then had a class of cows brought out, including the fine cow, "Woodland Ditto." It will be remembered that this cow took first prize in I.O.P. class at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1924, and also tenth at the National Dairy Show, Milwaukee, in 1924 in the class of cows four years or over, having official records.

She had three very good rivals in the stable of which there was widespread opinion, not only among the amateur judges, but also with the older breeders. This class was most interesting.

Heifers Class.

The next class—a class of heifers, of which the decision was somewheat more balanced and consequently did not demand so much discussion. After this class, Mr. Hume explained some of the business transacted at the Ayrshire Breeders' annual meeting, held just recently in Montreal, stating that the association was never in better financial condition, and that the secretary, Mr. Stephens, of Huntingdon, Quebec, got a raise of six hundred dollars a year, making his salary $4,600. Also that the field man, Mr. Hunter's salary was $3000 a year and expenses. He also invited any of the breeders to co-operate with Mr. J. L. Stansell, M.P., of Staffordville, and himself, in regards to advancing the interest of the breeders. They are the two directors on the executive for Ontario.

Mr. Hunter then spoke, at length, of the many things to be taken up and considered this coming season, and explained plans passed at the annual meeting to have the club's secretary do the field work for inspection in the districts, the secretary to be paid by the association, according to the work they do and also that they report their work regularly to Mr. Hunter and to Secretary Stephens, and that he would assist all he could in any spare time he might have. He also stated that never in the history of Ayrshires has the young bulls been picked up so readily as they were getting very scarce at the present time. He considered that the prospects were bright for a prosperous year for the Ayrshire breeders of to-day.

He said there were fifteen Ayrshire clubs in the Dominion, and that the Menie district club was the oldest having been the first to organize in Canada, and that it was considered one of the most active. He was looking forward to a real lively activity this year in the club. He asked the breeders to co-operate with their secretary to make a great success of 1925.

The secretary, Mr. F. M. Rutherford, Bonarlaw, wishes to take this opportunity of asking all those in arrears of membership to the club for 1925 to kindly remit at their earliest opportunity, and invite new members to join the club and receive the benefits that are to be derived from the club throughout the year, which we are sure are worth far more than a dollar to any breeder, no matter what breed he upholds.

MONTREAL CATTLE MARKET'S DECLINE

Has Lost Predominance to Toronto Enquiry Shows.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14—(Canadian Press).—An extensive study of cattle marketing conditions was made in Toronto by the Montreal City Executive, Jules Crepeau, director of public services, stated yesterday at the City Hall, giving a summary of the excursion of the administration in quest of ideas in modern city management.

Comparing conditions in Montreal and Toronto in respect to cattle marketing and killing, the director of departments stated that Toronto had every advantage over this city. This was ascribed to the Union Stock Yards, which that city possessed, while Montreal has two yards in extreme and opposite ends of the city.

In 1907 Montreal had the lead in cattle, as 218,895 were killed here that year, while Toronto had but 91,156. In 1923 Toronto was far ahead with 375,398, as against 122,013 here.

Another cause of Toronto's success was ascribed to lower slaughtering rates.

HARVESTING ONIONS BY MACHINERY

THE HARVESTING MACHINERY THAT REPLACES HAND-PICKING ON THE FARM OF ROSCOE ZUCKERMAN, IN SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

STOCKTON, Calif., Feb. 14.—Harvesting, grading and sacking onions by machinery is the newest thing n California's onion industry.

Roscoe Zuckerman, who farms some 2700 acres of delta land in San Joaquin county, has introduced this idea and proved it practical.

For many years Zuckerman has been producing large crops of onions and potatoes. The labor required entails a big financial outlay. Onions must be set out by hand, weeded by hand and the common practice is to pull and sack them by hand.

Zuckerman has employed several hundred men to handle his onion crop. Last year, the outcome of five years of experimenting, he placed in operation an outfit which enabled 15 men to accomplish what it had taken 100 men to do under ordinary conditions.

Quicker Work.

Under ordinary harvesting methods a crew of men is turned loose in a field to pull up the onions and leave them in windrows on the ground to cure.

Then, instead of sending the men back to sack the onions, Zuckerman sends in a mechanical loader which runs along picking up the onions and dumping them into a large cart. This loading outfit operates like a potato digger with its continuous belt conveying the onions from the ground to an elevation from which they are dropped into the cart. It is pulled by a light tractor.

When a cart is loaded a tractor is attached and the cart pulled away while another is put in its place.

It takes three men to complete this part of the harvesting operation.

Grader and Sacker.

For grading and sacking, Zuckerman has devised an outfit that fills more than 1500 sacks a day and requires less than a dozen operators. Four different grades are used.

The onions are dumped from the carts into a large bin, from which they are fed on a cleated belt carrier and are carried to the top of the machine. At the top the conveyor runs on the level for a short distance and the bulk of the chaff and foreign material is lost.

From the conveyor, the onions roll into the grading bins, which are automatically kept shaking. Onions of various sizes fall through the slats and are automatically graded. By the time the onions reach the bottom and are ready to sack they are entirely free from chaff and foreign material and have been strictly graded.

TOMMY'S ESSAY ON CONDUCTORS

It Happens in the Best Regulated Families Everywhere.

"Pa," said Tommy, aged ten, who was sitting at a table, with both feet twisted around the legs of said table, a pad of paper before him, and a stubby pencil (which looked as though it had been through a threshing-machine), grasped tightly in his right hand.

No answer from Pa, who was very deep in war, peace, and Bolshevism, as fully explained in the evening paper.

"Pa," said Tommy again. This time the word penetrated somewhat.

"Huh?" said Pa.

"What's conductor mean?" asked Tommy.

Pa submerged again.

"Pa!" said Tommy, louder. "What's conductor mean? Teacher give us this here word, an' said we wuz to write a nessay, an' explain jus' what conductor means."

"Conductor?" said Pa, changing from war, peace and Bolshevism, to copper plate, gun metal, tin roofing and so forth. "A conductor is a gutter pipe."

"Gee!" exclaimed Tommy. "Gutter pipe?"

"That's what I said! Can't you understand?" said Pa. "A conductor is a gutter pipe and it carries off things. Now don't bother me any more to-night!"

Tommy looked bewildered for a moment. Then, producing a knife, the blade of which looked as though it had been through two threshing-machines, he haggled the stubby pencil until it was a little more stubby; then, rubbing some smudges which were on the paper until they were a little blacker, he proceeded to write about conductors. This is what he had for the Language Class at school the next day:

"It's awful nice to go to the countre of a summer, and stay all summer. You kin go barefut, an' do as you plese, if you don't live there; you kin go black-berryin', an' wade in the crik, an' eat green apples, an' git up when you plese, if you don't live there; if you live there, you have to git up by moonlit, an' milk cows with lanterns—but if you don't live there, you kin git up an' go a-fishin'.

"It's nice in winter, tu, if you don't live there. You kin go a-sleddin', an' roast apples on the harth at night, an' have lots o' minse pies; but if you live there, you have to help hall wood an' shuvel snow. That's a heap hardern hallin sleds up-hill an' pilin' up snow for forts.

"There's lots o' ways to git to the countre. If you don't have no muney, you kin walk, if it ain't too fur; but if you have muney, you kin go on horseback, or in ottermobiles, or steme cars, or trolley cars. A gutter pipe what carries off things, takes your ticket. But they ain't all gutter pipes—some is. Some is awful nice to fat men with dimon rings, an' stilish wimmins, but if they ain't stilish, they push em up frunt, an' they say, 'Boy, don't you forgit to git off at your crossin'. I can't stop all day!' Them uns is gutter pipes, they'd carry off things; but some says, 'Madam, I'll help you with your baskit,' no matter who the wimmins is. An' they say, 'Now, sun, this is your stop.' Them uns ain't gutter pipes: they wouldn't carry off things.

"This is all I know about conductors."

THRESHING CO. HAS BEEN A SUCCESS

Haldimand Concern Completes Most Successful Year in History.

COBOURG, Feb. 14. — Haldimand Threshing Company has proved itself to be not only a going concern, but a gilt-edged investment. At the annual meeting just held the secretary-treasurer's report showed that the year just closed had been the most successful of any in their sixteen years of existence. They have not lost any time owing to accident or similar cause during the season's run of fifty days. The gross earnings of the machine were $1,276.76, and expenses $618.53, which left a balance of $658.23. After paying a dividend of twelve per cent. to stock holders, there remained a balance of $298.23, to be added to the reserve fund, which now stands at $1,345, with $200 worth of stock yet for sale.

The Officers Elected.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Mr. James Baptist; Vice-President, Mr. W. G. Jennings; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Archie Nichol. The Board of Directors appointed consists of Messrs. Bames Baptist, W. J. Jennings, Arch. Nichol, Joseph Barns, Carl Eddy, J. H. Beatty and Charles Blodgett.

WHAT FARMERS DO IN WINTER TIME

City Folk Think They Sit Around on Holiday When They Really Work.

THOMASBURG, Feb. 14. — Some people have the idea that all a farmer has to do in winter is the chores and read the daily paper. He reads the paper alright, but this he does in the evenings and on stormy days. When it is not storming he is busy in the woods cutting his wood for the following summer and some farmers also cut wood to sell. Some cut huge logs and take them to the sawmill for lumber. People in the country often see farmers taking a load of grain to the mill to be ground for feed for their stock. Others draw hay and straw which they have sold to some man who doesn't grow it.

ABOUT PIGEONS.

A pair of young pigeons will seldom produce their first squabs in less than eight months, and two pairs are about all they will produce before they are one year old. The first pair, as a rule, are small and are generally sold as culls. Five pairs of squabs a year are about all that a good flock of pigeons will average per pair. It is seldom that a pair of pigeons will produce over seven pairs of squabs in a year.

MINERAL NEEDS OF CATTLE ARE OF IMPORTANCE

Plenty of Common Salt is First Requirement to Progress.

PREVENT GOITER.

Cows Need Plenty of Calcium to Secure High Production.

No question is probably discussed more frequently by farmers at the present time than the mineral requirements of live stock, and especially of dairy cows. For convenience and ready reference, this statement concerning the mineral needs by dairy cows has been prepared.

Common Salt.

Dairy cows must have plenty of salt in order to thrive. Allow them to have free access to salt, or feed it to them regularly in their feed. Many dairymen mix 0.5 to 1 lb. of salt with each 100 lbs. of concentrate mixture or grain mixture, and then supply salt in addition so the cows can take what they wish.

Guard Against Goiter

If trouble has been experienced from goiter or "big neck" in calves, this may be prevented in the future by giving potassium or sodium iodide to the cows throughout the gestation period. Where there is no trouble from goiter, this treatment is not needed.

Calcium (Lime).

Milk is very rich in both calcium (lime) and phosphorus. Therefore, dairy cows must receive liberal supplies of both these minerals to secure continued high production and to have thrifty offspring. In the usual dairy rations there is more danger of a lack of calcium than there is of phosphorus. This is because the protein-rich feeds most common are also rich in phosphorus. This includes wheat bran in particular and also wheat middlings, cottonseed meal, and linseed meal. Gluten feed, germ oil meal (corn germ meal), or brewer's grains and distillers' grain are not especially high in phosphorus.

When 20 per cent or more of the concentrate mixture or grain mixture consists of wheat bran, wheat middlings, linseed meal, or cottonseed meal, the cows will get plenty of phosphorus. If less of these high-phosphorus feeds are fed, it is best to supply additional phosphorus by adding bone meal, ground rock phosphate, or acid phosphate, as stated later.

Calcium is Important.

A large production of milk and thrifty calves are an impossibility if there is a lack of calcium in the ration. The best way of furnishing plenty of lime is to grow and feed an abundance of alfalfa, clover, or soybean hay whenever it is possible. All legume hays are rich in lime. Furthermore, well-cured, green-colored legume hay contains a vitamine which animals need to enable them to assimilate and use the calcium in their feed.

If poor roughage must be used, such as hay from the grasses (not legumes), corn stover grown on acid soil, or straw, add 3 to 4 lbs. of ground limestone, wood ashes, or dried marl to each 100 lbs. of the concentrate or grain mixture. Non-dolomitic (non-magnesian) limestone may be preferable to dolomitic limestone. This point has not been yet settled by actual experiments.

If there is not 20 per cent of high-phosphorus feeds in the concentrate mixture (wheat bran, wheat middlings, linseed meal, and cottonseed meal), it is best to use 3 to 4 lbs. of steamed bone meal, ground rock phosphate, or acid phosphate with each 100 lbs. of the concentrate mixture, instead of using the limestone, wood ashes, or marl. Bone meal and phosphates supply both calcium and phosphorus, while limestone, wood ashes and marl furnish lime, but practically no phosphorus.

If plenty of alfalfa, clover, soybean or other legume hay is fed, then there may possibly be no advantage in adding a calcium-rich mineral supplement to the ration. However, even with legume hay available for winter feeding, it can do no harm and may do considerable good to add one of these lime carriers to the ration.

Calcium on Pasture.

Fresh, green crops contain an especially large amount of the vitamine needed to enable animals to assimilate calcium. Therefore, the best way of replenishing the calcium in the cow's body, which may have been seriously depleted by high milk production during the winter feeding period, is to feed a calcium supplement when she is on pasture. Therefore, it is especially important to mix one of the calcium-rich supplements with the concentrate mixture fed to cows on pasture. It is probably best to use more of the calcium-supplement than for winter feeding. As much as 8 to 10 lbs. of one of the calcium-supplements may be mixed with each 100 lbs. of the concentrate mixture. If this mixture should not be very palatable to the cows, the allowance of the mineral supplements may be reduced somewhat.

When the cows are not fed any concentrates during a part of the pasture season, the calcium-supplement may be mixed with salt and the cows allowed free access to it. A mixture of one-half salt by weight and one-half of limestone, wood ashes, marl, steamed bone meal, or ground rock phosphate may be used for this purpose. In recent experiments as much as ½ lb. to 1 lb. of steamed bone meal per head daily has been fed to dairy cows under pasture conditions with good results.

It is entirely unnecessary to buy expensive commercial mineral mixtures. Just as good results can be secured by following the simple recommendations in this article.

It is funny about women's handkerchiefs; aren't women's noses just as big as men's, or thereabouts?

Moratorium In West Is Laughed To Death

REGINA, Feb. 14.—The moratorium cry, which the Farmers' Union of Western Canada has been raising intermittently for the past three years, was laughed to death at the Grain Growers' Convention at Regina. Three different resolutions were presented from three different locals demanding an immediate moratorium, but when these were brought up at the convention, only one mover could be found, and no seconder for one out of the three. With loud laughter the convention moved to the second resolutions passed by in a hurry, or seconder could be found for this resolution. Another burst of laughter greeted the introduction of the third, and the moratorium proposals, as far as the Grain Growers' Association is concerned, disappeared possibly for all time from the agenda.

George Edwards, president of the association, declared that the executive did not desire to have these resolutions passed by in a hurry, or give rise to any suggestion that the executive were railroading the matter through, but the delegates took it all as a joke and refused to even discuss the fantastical proposal.

LITTLE ESSAYS ON VEGETABLES

Facts Perhaps You Have Never Heard—and Should Know.

A LITTLE SPICE.

Peas.

Split-pea soup is a popular dish, being inhaled by almost everybody. Scientists have estimated that as many as 49 peas can be safely balanced on one knife blade.

Peas are usually served with lamb chops, the general ratio being nine and one-half peas to each chop.

A single pea is often utilized to provide amusement by means of what is known as the shell game; the entertainer places it under one of two cones, the game being for the onlooker to guess under which it really is. Though the paraphernalia required is simple, this form of amusement often proves expensive in the long run. It is better to raise your own peas than to try to guess where they are.

Onions.

In onions there is strength, as the old proverb has it.

As a breath sweetener the onion ranks with the violet; in fact, it's much ranker.

At least one is always to be found in boarding-house hash. This ingredient will enable the landlady to pass off the same mixture on Monday as corned-beef hash, on Tuesday as roast-beef hash and on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday as onion hash.

Young ladies who are persuaded that promiscuous kissing is vulgar and dangerous should always eat onions. An onion a day keeps the doctor away—also other people.

Beans.

There are various kinds of beans: shell-beans, Lima beans, pole-beans, baked beans and kidney-beans. Also, there are stringless-beans and those which are nothing else but.

The Carpinteria pole-bean is said to have originated in California as a sport; but as a rule beans are taken very seriously, especially in Boston.

Beans are called Frijoles in Mexico and Bohnen in Germany.

Carrots.

The carrot is a very popular vegetable. It forms the main ingredient in vegetable soup, but with proper care can be segregated, rendering the residue of the mixture perfectly palatable.

Many girls who are carrot-haired never eat carrots, and probably never will.

MEDICAL QUALITIES SOME VEGETABLES

Sliced Tomato Removes Freckles.

Dr. Joseph Richardson, Professor of Hygiene, University of Pennsylvania, credits the following vegetables with the medicinal qualities noted:

Asparagus, gently stimulates the kidneys.

Beet, relieves gravel and readjusts certain internal disorders of women.

Carrot, for kidney complaint; used for poultices, powdered seed relieves colic, promotes secretion of kidneys.

Celery, good for rheumatism and neuralgia.

Cucumbers for clear complexion.

Garlic, for worms, whooping-cough, stomach and intestinal troubles.

Horseradish, tonic for digestion; promotes secretion of kidneys.

Leek, as a poultice in bronchitis and chronic coughs; taken for worms, whooping-cough, stomach and intestinal troubles.

Navy bean, relieves erysipelas; poultice of which may be applied to affected parts with good results.

Onion, promotes digestion; acts on liver by increasing secretion of bile; cure for constipation; taken for worms (animal and man) and for whooping-cough, intestinal and stomach troubles.

Pumpkin, good for tapeworm, retention of urine and inflammation of bladder and bowels.

Rhubarb, a purgative and laxative.

Spinach, a skin beautifier.

Strawberries, lotion used as a skin beautifier.

Tomato, cure for cholera infantum; now used instead of orange juice by some physicians for infants; sliced tomato rubbed on skin is good for freckles and sunburn.

Two-year-old gobblers should be mated to two-year-old hens.

All breeds are useful when rightly cared for.

GRAIN MARKETS ADD MILLIONS TO CROP VALUE

Average Flour Output Would Yield $40,000,000 More Than 1924.

RAILWAYS LOSE

World Wheat Storage Has Probably Been Underestimated.

Various features of the agricultural situation at the present time tend to disprove the theory held by some that the country has not benefitted, and does not benefit so much from a small crop at high prices as from a larger crop at lower prices. Undoubtedly the transportation companies lose heavily, and the harvest supplies less work for the labor of the country, but it is very doubtful if these factors are strong enough to counteract the value to the country of a favorable agricultural situation, and all that that involves. The country is now reaping the benefit of the farmer's wider margin of profit on a lower grain yield.

At the beginning of February, the visible supply of grain at the head of the lakes was 40,000,000 bushels, of which about 22,000,000 bushels was wheat. There is something like 20,000,000 bushels of wheat still in the hands of the Alberta farmers, and, all told, the quantity of wheat still in Canada, available for export, is not far short of 100,000,000 bushels. Since the Dominion Bureau of Statistice estimated the value of last year's wheat crop at $325,332,000, using an average price of $1.20 per bushel, the price of wheat has increased by nearly a dollar. The average farm price increase, however, would not be more than something between 50 and 75 cents, considering the lowness of the grades. Taking the lowest estimate, 50 cents, the hundred million bushels still remaining has appreciated in value by $50,000,000. But the products of wheat which are produced here also take advantage of the price rise. The most important of these is flour. During the past three crop years the average volume of flour produced by Canadian mills was 18,000,000 barrels, and the monthly average price over the same period was $7.78. The increase in value between this average and the present price of flour accounts for a difference of more than $40,000,000 on the average output of the past three years. These figures show in a general way how valuable to the country has been last years relatively small wheat crop at relatively high prices.

Current grain information supplied by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, show that the world wheat storage has been underestimated, if anything. The Argentine crop, which was practically all harvested last month, suffered from drouth and frost, and advices from Russia show that previous forecasts of an exportable surplus of wheat are unfounded, and Russia is endeavoring to import wheat and flour. The probable effect of Russia's return as a large wheat producer within the next few years is problematical. One factor is fairly certain, that the United States will require more and more foreign wheat annually, and will shortly be a cereal-importing country rather than an exporter. In view of this change, already underway, Canada's future as a wheat producer seems assured, regardless of Russia's probable recovery.

PETES MAKE SURE OF PLAYOFF BY DEFEATING HAMILTON 5 TO 1

Worked Easily in First Two Periods, and Pressed Continued Combination Play in the Third for Three Goals.

PADDLERS ONLY GOAL A FLUKE

(By F. D. C.)

HAMILTON, Feb. 14. — The Petes made sure of figuring in the Senior Group playoff when they beat Hamilton Rowing Club here last night, by 5 goals to 1, after a game in which they always looked like ultimate winners but did not show their real form until the last period. By periods it was 1-0, 2-1, 5-1, with the blue and white always in front at the resting spells. Although the game meant nothing to them, the Scullers trotted out about the strongest line up of the season, and battled all the way to wind up their schedule with a win, but the Petes had the edge all the way and a big margin in the last twenty minutes when the losers were rarely dangerous.

The Hamilton crew in fact were lucky in not being blanked, their only goal of the game, and incidentally of the season being tallied on a rebound off the screen, which hit McLeod and carried in. On top of this the Petes lost a sure fire goal which the Hamilton goal umpire refused to allow. Fortunately it was not needed.

Started Under Wraps.

The Petes, after two games in the Soo and their long Northern trip, took things easy at first and were satisfied to hold their own early in the game. But they came on in fine style as the game progressed and their superiority was convincingly demonstrated in the last period when they scored three goals on neat combinations, and checked Rowing Club into the ground.

Everybody had a share of the glory so far as the players were concerned. It was an easy night for Dwyer but he did his stuff when called on in his usual style. McLeod and Parker both checked and rushed well, and the later spent the greater part of the final session up on the forward line. Frankie Collins who has been kept off the scoring sheet for some time, scored two nice goals. Bailey and Rose helped themselves to one each and the other was scored by Parker.

For Hamilton the most effective players were Quinn, who turned in a fine game in the nets. Lambert whose checking and rushing were both effective, and Brown, the speedy Kingston boy who played a bang-up game at center. Garvie skated miles but was going no where in particular.

Parker Scored First.

The first period was devoid of any great excitement. The Petes were satisfied to feel out the opposition and although the Rowing Club tried hard their attacks lacked system and were effectively smothered. The Petes tactics in this period were largely individual and this style did not prove successful in goal getting. As a result it was not until after 17 minutes that the blue shirts broke into the goal column. Parker did the trick when he went down with Bailey. Garvie stopped the first attack but lost possesion of the puck and Parker recovering the rubber, sliding it past Quinn, for the only goal of the period.

Paddlers' Fluke Goals.

Early in the second session came Hamiltons' horse shoe goal. Lambert broke away and let drive a wide high shot from outside the defence. The puck struck the screen, bounded high in the air and dropped out in front, striking McLeod as he went into clear and rolling into the net.

Hamilton, encouraged by this bit of good luck came strong for a few minutes but the Petes easily held them out. Then Galbraith and Bellringer were penalized almost together and Peterboro had a two man advantage. Quinn made two or three fine stops to save the situation, but finally Bailey shoved one into the net on a pass from behind by Parker. The umpire turned on the red light but changed his decision when questioned, and the goal was not allowed Soon after, however, Rose put the Petes in front, when he slapped one past Quinn on a rush by Bailey. There was no further scoring in the period.

Combined For Three.

The last twenty minutes saw Peterboro take almost complete command of the game. Hamilton could not shake off the blue sweatered crew's checking while the Petes breaking fast and passing nicely, were dangerous all the way.

Collins opened the scoring in four minutes when he took a neat pass from Rose and drove the puck over Quinn's shoulder into the top corner of the net giving the Hamilton goaler no chance to save.

Bailey made it 2 to 1 after a fine rush by McLeod. The Petes defence man outskated the Hamilton forwards, drew the defence over and made a perfect pass to Bailey, who rattled the curtains with a rifle shot.

Burgess and Collins combined for the last counter of the night. Burgess carried the rubber nicely and passed to Collins at the goal mouth.

The line up:

Rowing Club—Quinn, goal; Lambert and Galbraith, defence; Brown, centre; Nelson, right wing; Garvie, left wing; Marsh and Bellringer, subs.

Peterboro—Dwyer goal; Parker and McLeod, defence; Collins, centre; Bailey, right wing; Rose, left wing; Ranger and Burgess, subs.

Referee—Percy Lesuer.

DEMPSEY'S DE LUXE GYM.

Opened in Los Angeles for Boxers and Business Men.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press)—Another business enterprise was formally added Thursday to the list of industries headed by Jack Dempsey, heavyweight ring champion and capitalist. It was the new Dempsey gymnasium, a training quarters de luxe for pugilists and pep-seeking business men.

These two will meet within a short time.

Leo Flynn, manager of Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, filed a challenge with the commission from Hot Springs, Ark., where he is wintering. Flynn seeks a match between Renault and Jack Dempsey. The commission refused to take action, pending the receipt of a certified check to make the challenge legal.

LAST BIG GAME OF THE SEASON MONDAY NIGHT

Petes Home From Week on the Road to Play Varsity.

ARE GOING STRONG

Game at Brock Street Monday Night Starts at 8.30.

After a week on the road the Petes will be "at home" to their friends at Brock Street Rink on Monday night when they entertain the University of Toronto sextette in the last scheduled game of the season.

The game will be called at 8.30 o'clock and a huge crowd will undoubtedly be on hand when the teams skate out for this important battle.

Varsity may be depended upon to put up a terrific argument. There is no simple going through the motions with a college crew. They give the best they've got at all times and with Hudson, Plaxton, Porter and Taylor leading the attack the Collegians are formidable opposition.

The Petes hope to be at full strength and to wind up the schedule with a victory over Connie Smythe's men, although they realize that they have a tough task on their hands.

The clash should be equal to anything seen here this season, for Varsity have shown improvement every time out and will be in the best of shape for Monday's fixture.

MERMAIDS' RECORDS.

Agnes Geraghty and Gertrude Ederle Make New Marks.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press). — Agnes Geraghty, of the Women's Swimming Association, New York, retained her title and established a new world's record of 3.27 4-5 in the 220-yard breast stroke in the national meet here yesterday.

The former record is 3.30 2-5.

Gertrude Ederle, New York, made a new record of 45 1-5 seconds for 75 yards. The former record is 46 3-5. Ethel Lackie, Illinois A. C., established a new record for 100 metres, breaking the former Olympic record. She won in 1.12. The former record is 1.12 1-5.

CANADIAN BOXER ENTERED IN TILTS

Clonie Tait of Toronto Unofficial Contender for the Lightweight Title.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Canada having failed to nominate a contender for the lightweight championship tournament sponsored by the New York Boxing Commission, the commission yesterday announced that Clonie Tait of Toronto, Dominion champion, would represent Canada in the competition for Benny Leonard's discarded crown.

George Chaney of Baltimore will meet Tommy O'Brien of Milwaukee and Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo will face Eddie (Kid) Wagner of Philadelphia.

Word was received from the French Boxing Federation that Lucien Vinez would represent France in the tournament. The Buenos Aires Municipal Boxing Commission officially notified the commission that Luis Vicentii will represent South America in the tournament.

The board of boxing control of England has named Harry Mason and Ernie Izzard, both of London.

17 PENALTIES FEATURED SINGLE PLAYOFF WON BY HAVELOCK 6 TO 1

Lakefield Drew Down Ten And Barney Quinn Five of Winners' Seven.

STRENUOUS GAME

Walter Jackson Succeeded in Preventing Village Teams Mixing It.

By defeating Lakefield Intermediates here last night, by the score of 6 goals to 1, Havelock won the right to meet Kingston in the third round of the O.H.A. series.

The Easterners were never headed and had the game cinched from the go in, leading by 1 to 0 at the end of the first, 4-0 at the end of the second, and 6 to 1 at the close. Lakefield gave all they had but it fell far-short of being enough.

Walter Jackson who handled the bell, dished out seventeen penalties, ten to Lakefield and seven to Havelock. "Barney" Quinn on the defence for the winners received five of the seven. "Louie" Sabatino and Graham in the Lakefield goal was a veritable stone wall, almost in the class of "Flat" Walsh and Joe Dwyer. However, he couldn't do the impossible.

"Jack" Sabatino for Lakefield also figured in eight of the ten penalties received by their team.

At times, it looked as if the game would end in a free-for-all fistic affair, but there was hardly ever enough men on the ice to make it real interesting if it had come to a battle. At one time in the second period Lakefield was playing three men to five, four men being in the penalty box for mixing it.

Pollock Scores.

Eight minutes after the game started Pollock, the ever working little Havelock centre man put his team in front when he recovered a rebound and batted it into the net. For the rest of the period there was no scoring but penalties were aplenty and tripping, bodying and cross-checking was demonstrated in great style. Neither team was at backward in mixing it in this stanza as well as in the rest of the periods and had Referee Jackson not been strict there surely would have been trouble. The Northerners showed their best at this stage of the game.

This is the cartoonist's impression of the figure the husky Doug Brennan appeared to the Lakefield defence as he cut a wide swath down the ice.

Havelock's Period.

The Easterners were far superior in the second period, hanging in three goals and blanking their opponents. They were dead on in this frame and would have scored a dozen times had it not been for the plucky little Lakefield goalie who stopped everything. More shots were handled by Graham in the Lakefield nets in the last two periods of this game than by any other goalie who has performed here this season. Every part of his body was in action and he hopped around like a veteran of the cage. On several occasions in this frame the Havelock attackers were right in on top of him, but his trickiness foiled them. Although the showing made by Lakefield was disappointing Graham deserves ninety per cent. of the credit the team earned. Before seven minutes of play had elapsed three penalties had been handed out and the boys were raiding each other with lots of punch, and playing the man instead of the puck. Pollock did the trick once more for the winners when he chased in, grabbed a rebound and whizzed it past Graham giving the goalie no chance to save. One minute later Quinn and L. Sabatino were benched, leaving each team a man short. "Louie" Sabatino was no sooner on the ice again than he was chased for hooking and while he was serving time, Quinn, Northey and Jack Sabatino were given the gate, leaving Lakefield with their faithful goalie and two attackers, while Havelock were minus "Barney" Quinn. Havelock forced the play in an effort to score

Ask Barney Quinn and the Sabatino brothers if it was a pink tea. No place for cake eaters in that fray.

"Doc" Smith leading the Lakefield rooters in a merry razz of Havelock but Graham in the nets turned their shots aside with ease. Five minutes after the boys were all back on the ice and tearing into it again. Wright scored the prettiest goal of the evening after a beautiful lone rush. The only real piece of combination that was shown all night netted Havelock their fourth counter. Pollock slipped the rubber to Wright, who pulled a fake shot and then neatly passed to Charlie Brennan, who made no mistake in finding the corner of the net. This ended the scoring for this period, but both teams had several opportunities to hang in a tally before the gong sounded.

Third Period.

Lakefield came to life in the early stages of the final stanza and made the score 4 to 1. For several minutes they gave Hooper in the Havelock nets a busy time but when

Walter Jackson did his semaphone stuff last night, and diverted a lot of traffic to the penalty timers.

"Doug" Brennan sailed down centre ice and slipped in the fifth counter for Havelock the Northerners gave up all hopes of winning the contest and meeting Kingston next week. Wright brought the game to a close when he registered from a face off in front of the Lakefield net.

For Havelock, Pollock, Doug Brennan, Wright and Charlie Brennan were the outstanding players. Graham at the nets was the shining light for the losers while Jack and Louie Sabatino were also very useful but spent too much of their time in the penalty box.

Line ups:

Havelock—Goal Hooper; defence, Quinn and D. Brennan; centre, Pollock; right wing, Wright; left wing, C. Brennan; subs., Copp.

Summary:

First Period.

1. Havelock, Pollock, 8 min.

Second Period.

2. Havelock, Pollock 7 min, 30 sec.
3. Havelock, Wright, 16 min.
4. Havelock, C. Brennan assisted by Pollock and Wright, 18 min, 30 sec.

CHAMPION CHECKER PLAYER OF WORLD

Lives at Brighton, Ont., and is Over 85 Years of Age.

BRIGHTON, Ont., Feb. 14.—Everyone does not know where the champion checker player of the world for people over eighty-five years of age resides. Benjamin Ewing, of Brighton, is the man, having played for and won the title from Colonel Hamley in Belleville in August, 1923.

At that time Mr. Ewing was eighty-eight years old, having arrived at that age on July 25, 1923. His opponent, Colonel Hamley, was nearly eighty-eight years old, his birthday being on October 2 in that year. A great number of games were played, and as a result "Ben," as he usually is called, became the champion checker played in the world for men over eighty-five years of age.

Mr. Ewing was born in Northumberland County, near Warkworth, on July 25, 1835. He is a life member of the Dominion Checker Association and a former member of Port Hope Checker Association. He has played with a number of checker champions of different provinces and cities, etc., and one of his pupils, Mr. A. W. Flindall, played in the checker tournament held in Toronto in January of this year. Messrs Ewing and Flindall have played together for twenty-nine years. While at the tournament Mr. Flindall heard of a great checker player living near Brampton, who is ninety-one years old. A match may be arranged during the coming summer between the two old gentlemen.

Mr. Ewing is a real checker enthusiast and will play with anybody. Younger men who are regular followers of the game may defeat him once in a while, but it is wonderful how much the old gentleman knows about checkers. He plays just as often as he can get opponents, and he makes an expert teacher to those wishing to learn the game. When players become scarce he goes down town and tours the barber shops, hotel, or other places where he knows he will be able to get a game started. If a stranger comes to Brighton and thinks he knows anything about checkers, he is immediately referred to "Ben." If after ten games are played and the stranger wins one or two he is considered "fair." If he gets more than four from Mr. Ewing, he is considered to be a pretty good player.

Mr. Ewing likes to tell about playing with an old man who was deaf and dumb, and after the latter had been defeated a number of times he began to cheat. He muttered a few unintelligible sounds and pointed to a clock hanging on the wall. While "Ben" was looking at the clock the deaf mute took two or three of his opponent's checkers off the board. Mr. Ewing noticed the absence of the checkers, but said nothing. He played very carefully and defeated the old fellow without the missing checkers.

Mr. Ewing's brother, Franklin Ewing, will be eighty-six years old on June 30, 1925. He also is a very good player, but after having had a stroke last year has not played very much since that time.

Mr. "Ben" Ewing challenges anyone over eighty-five years of age to play for the checker championship of the world. Mr. A. W. Flindall says he can defeat anyone in the counties of Hastings and Northumberland, or he and Mr. Ewing can defeat any other two players in those counties.

Anyone who cares to enter into these competitions will please address their communications to Mr. H. B. Phillips, Brighton, Ont.

SPEED SKATING AT LAKE PLACID

Chicago International Champion Won Two Events on Friday.

DAY'S SUMMARY.

LAKE PLACID, N.Y., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Francis Allen, of Chicago, winner of the international amateur outdoor speed skating crown, set out on his quest for the American diamond trophy and the national championship Friday by winning the 220-yard and one-mile events.

O'Neil Farrell, of Chicago, tried to make it an all-Chicago day by winning the 220-yard event for the Lake Placid trophy, with Roy McWhirter, Chicago, placing third, but Eddie Murphy, also of Chicago, could do no better than third place in the two-mile race, and the victory in that event went to Leslie Boyd, of New York.

Charles Gorman, of St. John, N.B., national title holder, who lost his crown to Allen at the international events at Saranac Lake last week, followed Allen over the line to second place in the 220, but there rested his honors for the day. Joe Moore, of New York, put himself in the lead for the 300 point Maxwell trophy with 200 points by placing third in the 220-yard national event.

Allen's time in the 220-yard was 20 seconds flat, somewhat slower than last year's mark. His time in the one-mile event was 3.06 4-5, also considerably slower than last year's mark, due probably to less favorable ice conditions.

Moore started out ahead of the pack in the 220-yard event, leading from the start, and appeared to be an easy winner. Gorman was close behind, with Boyd and Allen trailing close. At the turn into the straightaway of the last lap Boyd started to sprint but fell, and Allen skated past Gorman and Moore to win.

ORIOLES PAY 10 P.C.

$100,000 in Sale of "Lefty" Groves Furnished Dividend.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—At the annual meeting of the Baltimore International League Baseball Club here yesterday all the officers were re-elected and a ten per cent. dividend declared on the capital stock.

Jack Dunn, who will continue as president and general manager of the club, said the sale of Pitcher ("lefty") Groves to the Philadelphia Athletics for $100,000 and not the gate receipts, made the dividend possible.

The Orioles will leave here March 3 for their new training camp at Eustis, Fla.

EXPLAINS HIS DEFEAT.

Paavo Nurmi Not Prepared for Sudden Spurt by Opponent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Arriving here early to-day to complete the last stage of his three - night running programme, Paavo Nurmi explained with a shrug and muttered ejaculation his defeat last night in Syracuse at the hands of Al Gottlieb, University cross-country star, in the mile handicap race.

Paavo had no alibis but his trainer Hugo explainer that Nurmi had run his race with the main idea of displacing the track record held by Joie Ray, and was unprepared for the sudden spurt uncorked by Gottlieb in the last lap.

CLUB BAG TO ATHLETE.

Chuck Bradley, Well Known Pitcher, Goes to Detroit.

The employees of the F.H.P. motor department of the C.G.E. met together yesterday for the purpose of saying good-bye to Charlie (Chuck) Bradley, who is leaving the city for Detroit, and presented him with a handsome club bag. The following address was read.

Mr. Chuck Bradley.

Dear Chuck.—We, your friends and workmates have heard with deep regret of your intended departure from the F.H.P. motor department We wish you every success and we are sure your friends in Detroit will be many. We have always found you, Charlie, of the very best type and you will not only be missed in this department but also in athletic sport in which you were always willing to do your bit. Kindly accept this club bag as a small token of our appreciation, small but meant with all sincerity.

Signed on behalf of the employees of the F.H.P. motor department of the Canadian General Electric Co.

TWEED WINS TRENT VALLEY H. S. LEAGUE

Defeated Marmora in Fast Overtime Game Last Night.

TWEED, Feb. 14. — Tweed beat Marmora 2-1 in a hectic overtime struggle in the final game of the Trent Valley High School Hockey League in Tweed yesterday. The game was the best seen on Tweed ice this winter, and was fast and clean.

Fawcett and Harry Blakely were the stars for Tweed, Blakely scoring both goals. Hughes and Neary were the outstanding players on the Marmora line-up.

The first period showed little advantage to either team until Harry Blakely scored near the end on a combination rush with Fawcett. Play in the second period was fast and both goals were threatened but no score was made. Tweed threw away some good chances by faulty passing. Marmora had the edge on Tweed in the last period and succeeded in bulging the net behind Quinn after many attempts.

In the overtime Tweed showed far more combination and back-checking. Just before the first five minutes was up Blakely and Fawcett made a nice rush which resulted in Blakely scoring. Both teams tried hard in the last period but the Marmora boys were unable to tie it up.

Tom Beatty of Tweed acted as referee to the satisfaction of all. After the game the Marmora team were guests at a supper and dance in the High School.

Marmora—Neal goal; Hughes and Sanderson defence, Wells centre, Brady and Neary wings, Finnegan, Sweet and Lynch subs.

Tweed—G. Quinn goal, Blakely and Blakely defence, L. Quinn centre, S. Quinn and Fawcett wings, Rashotte and Clark subs.

PUBLIC SCHOOL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Schedule Nears an End With Three Cornered Tie Giving Interest.

The Public School Hockey League has been in full swing all season, and the youngsters got into action each Saturday morning with games at Mark Street Rink and the Cognawaga palisade.

Each school in the city has a sextette forming a strong six team league. With the schedule just finished, there is a three-cornered tie, three schools—Queen Mary, King George and King Edward all laying equal claims to first place. Queen Alexandra ran into some hard luck and are next in place, while Central and Prince of Wales are dragging along in the rear. However, each team has given stiff opposition, and it is a well-balanced league.

Each of the leaders has lost but one game. Queen Mary was defeated by King Edward, but King Edward in turn was routed by King George and then Queen Mary retrieved their honors by trimming King George.

The semi-finals will likely be played next Saturday morning at Mark Street Rink and it is planned that the youngsters will battle out the final game in Brock Street Arena.

Saturday's Games.

There will be two games today at the Easty City rink. King George and Queen Alexandra met in the first engagement while the two old rivals, Central and Queen Mary hooked up in the second.

The north end boys for the first time this season failed to trot out a line-up and therefore they lost by default to King George. However the boys were not to be cheated of their game, so a team of pick-ups was secured, who gave battle to the East City youngsters. King George led by Pat Calladine were all over their opponents and piled up a score of 8 to 0.

The line-up:—

King George.—N. Calladine; defence, P. Calladine and D. Clarke; centre, J. Ellis; left wing, G. Merritt; right wing, G. Milligan. Sub., M. Perry.

Queen Mary Won.

After a close struggle the second game wound up with the score: Queen Mary 4, Central 2. The first period was close and furnished the best hockey, each team netting two counters. In the second frame, Queen Mary broke into the lead with a single goal and they added another in the third.

Hutchinson, in the Central nets, showed some Joe Dwyer's form and went to his knees often to keep out the Queen Mary attacks. Graham was also good for Centrol. Ted Dormer and Charlie Sowden were the best for the winners, Sowden getting three of his team's goals.

The line-ups:

Central.—Goal, Hutchinson; defence, Callandine, Baker; centre Graham; left wing, Weir; right wing, Coleman.

Referee—Max Sloane.

Cognawaga Game.

Down at the Cognawaga Rink, King Edward had to go into overtime to defeat the Prince of Wales boys. The King Edward in the first two periods were inclined to take things easy and the Prince of Wales settled in to play real hockey and take advantage of it. At the close of the second period Prince of Wales led 2 to 1, but in the third King Edward by clever hockey evened the score and in the overtime notched the winning counter.

HUGE MACHINE BUILT LOCALLY

Largest Dust Collector Ever Made is at Dustless Sweeper Co.

MAYOR'S VISIT

Following up his tour of the factories of the city Mayor Turner called on the Dominion Dustless Sweeper Co, to ascertain how the city's sweeper had come through the winter months.

The machine has been thoroughly overhauled during the winter and is now in first class condition. The work done last fall with the sweeper served to work in the bearings and the machine is now in better shape than when new.

This factory is providing steady employment for a number of experienced mechanics. They are now engaged in building the largest dust collector ever built for one of the largest flour mills in the British Empire. This machine is of the latest design and construction, and is so high that part of the factory ceiling had to be removed. This apparatus not only collects the dust and loose grain but acts as a separator, taking the grains out of the dust, thus effecting a large saving. This opens up a new field and already engineers and superintendents of mills and elevators are beginning to visit the plant to view the collector and to obtain information to cover their own needs.

A TORONTO GIRL IS NOW LADY PEEL

Popularly Known as Beatrice Lillie, Leading Comedienne on the Stage.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (Canadian Press).—Beatrice Lillie, the Canadian girl, who is now one of the leading commediennes on the stage, has become Lady Peel, wife of the baronet, and grandson of the famous Prime Minister.

Miss Lillie's husband, whose name also is Robert, is revue manager and is now in Australia, Miss Lillie is now appearing in an English revue in Chicago. They have a four-year-old son, Robert, who has been living with his grand-parents in London. Miss Lillie won instant popularity as a comedjenne when she appeared here. She was born in Toronto and began her stage career in London.

PITCHER LEAVES CITY.

Chuck Bradley Leaves C.G.E. to Seek New Pastures in Detroit.

Baseball fans of the city will regret to learn of the intended departure of Charles (Chuck) Bradley for Detroit. Chuck is one of the most promising southpaws ever developed in Peterboro and his wonderful pitching had a great deal to do with the success of the Maple Leaf Baseball team in the Juvenile City League. It is to be expected that in a wider field he will hav every opportunity to further develop as an athlete.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday see the commencement of the Grand Opera policy of offering its patrons a vaudeville and moving picture bill, with matinee and evening performances. Three double acts of vaudeville will commence the week, in a diversified offering of music, comedy and novelty attractions. Galvin and Daina have "Musical Moments." Lovers of the fascinating steel guitar will enjoy this, as Diana is known as one of the best steel-guitar artists on the American stage to-day. Sol and Leslie Burns have a comedy offering and Ardell Brothers a novelty Roman ring act.

The feature picture is "Racing for Life," starring William Fairbanks and Eva Novak. One of the interesting episodes in this picture is the entry of Ralph De Palma, veteran speed king for many years, in one of the biggest races ever filmed: De Palma drives the same car in which he has won a number of championships and automobile fans will have the opportunity to see him for the first time on the screen.

William Fairbanks, it is said, always had an ambition to excel in speed events, and in "Racing for Life," he fulfills this ambition in his race with De Palma and with a man named Murray, a daredevil in his own way, and he triumphs after a thrilling struggle.

The plot hinges about the conquering by the hero of forces of the underworld which seek to drag him down and the treachery of his own brother. It is a dramatic and thrilling picture, with something doing every minute.

AT THE CAPITOL

WEST POINT BREAKS PRECEDENT FOR FILM.

Richard Barthelmess' frequently expressed desire to depict various phases of American youth on the screen will have new play in his forthcoming appearance as a West Pointer in "Classmates," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

It will be the first time that the United States Military Academy has appeared as the background of a film urama, Mr. Barthelmess having been accorded special permission from the military officials. Brigadier General Frederick W. Sladen, superintendent of West Point, and Colonel Frank Caldwell, father of Mrs. Barthelmess (Mary Hay), were classmates at West Point years ago, and General Sladen has been taking unusual interest in the production. Indeed, "Classmates" was made with the full co-operation of West Point and is authentic to the smallest detail.

"HOOKED" FULL OF FINE COMEDY.

Lloyd Hamilton is furnishing a half an hour of laughter in his own inimitable way in his latest Educational-Hamilton Comedy, "Hooked," which is at the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

Hamilton is cast as a country boy and after performing several unique and original gags about his home and at a fishing stream, Hamilton follows his sweetheart aboard an ocean steamship. The new locale gives Hamilt n an opportunity to present a number of gags which are decidedly clever and amusing to the point of providing real hilarity on the part of the spectators.

Ingenuity is shown in one sequence which shows a lunch-wagon which has become fastened to the side of a ship while at a dock. The ship pulls away, with the lunch-wagon still attached to it.

AT THE ROYAL

ALL COMEDY PROGRAMME AT ROYAL MONDAY

SECOND CHRISTIE COMEDY FEATURE

Hilarious Situations and Well-Known Players in "Reckless Romance."

Movie fans who remember seing the recent Al Christie feature "Hold Your Breath," with its slapdash comedy and thrills will be surprised at the versatility of the Christie organization when they see the next Christie feature, "Reckless Romance" which comes to the Royal Theatre for a three-day run next Monday.

Both pictures are feature-length comedies, but in that the comparison stops, for "Reckless Romance," is a comedy picture of an entirely different type. It has fast action but it is straight farce, one of the things which the Al Christie organization has the reputation of being specialists in.

Depending as it does on putting over farcical situation comedy rather than broad gags and "hokum," the picture has called for an excellent cast to play the various roles in a skilful manner.

The two feminine leads are Wanda Hawley and Sylvia Breamer. The two chief male roles are played by T. Roy Barnes and Harry Myers. Tully Marshall, Lincoln Plumer and Jack Duffy portray the character roles while Morgan Wallace is the villain. Plumer and Jack Duffy have been identified with the Christie short comedies, and Barnes and Marshal have previously appeared in Al Christie features.

GIBSON FILM SHOWS LIFE UNDER CANVAS

Hoot Gibson in a Wild West show—that is the latest exploit of the famous Universal star, who, in "The Sawdust Trail," his latest Universal feature, stages one of the liveliest stories in his strenuous career. The new picture, which comes to the Royal Theatre commencing Thursday, depicts the redoubtable Hoot in the part of a college boy who, after various pranks and difficulties, joins a western show, like the famous old Buffalo Bill aggregation, and experiences Western adventures mingled with ultra modern thrills on motor-cycle and automobile.

The play, adapted from William Dudley Pelley's noted Saturday Evening Post story, adapted by Raymond L. Schrock, is a collection of wild adventures interspersed with laughs such as Gibson's whimsical brand of humor always injects into his thrillers. It centers about the amateur cowboy's love affair with the "hard-boiled" cowgirl star of the ten show, and his desperate expedient of winning her by frightening her half out of her wits with a wild ride in a racing auto.

The cast supporting Gibson is one of special note. Josie Sedgwick, sister of Edward Sedgwick, the director, and remembered as "the girl" in "Jubilo," play "Calamity June," the cowgirl. Charles K. French is seen as the tough showman directing the destines of the tent aggregation; David Torrence, of "Tess of the Storm Country," plays the millionaire father of the college scrapegrace, and Harry Todd G. Raymond Nye, and other well-known artists are also seen in the picture. The chase between W. T. McCulley as the speed cop and Gibson in the racer is one of the most spectacular scenes ever screened for Gibson.

GERMANY ARMAMENTS.
PARIS, Feb. 14 (Canadian Press) —The report of the Allied military control commission regarding the state of Germany's armaments is expected at the office of the Allied War Committee today or Monday morning. Marshall Foch and his colleagues of the committee will take it up at once in order to make their report on it to the council of ambassadors at the earliest possible date, perhaps next Wednesday.

HIGH CRICKET SCORE.
MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 14 —(Canadian Press).—England closed its first innings for 548 runs in the fourth Test match with Australia to-day. Sutcliffe, who batted all day yesterday, and reached 141 not out, was unfortunate enough to be caught with leg before wicket on the seventh ball pitched this morning by Mailey, after he had added two runs. High scorers to-day were: Hendren 65, Whysell 76, and Kilner 74.

Closing Quotations on Principal Active Stocks.

CHICAGO
Here and there it is said that the United States is now the cheapest wheat market in the world, instead of being the highest, as was the case a few weeks ago. Liquidation has carried our prices down while Winnipeg, Liverpool and Buenos Aires have continued strong relatively.
Commission houses had an immense trade on both sides of the wheat market. A line of long stuff was reported at Winnipeg and Chicago with the locals however cautious in pressing the business. All the general news was that there would not be any general change in the situation. Local traders were quick to follow any change in the wheat trade. Germany was reported to be buying oats freely. The market was sensitive to any change in wheat prices. Minneapolis reported the sale of one million bushels of oats to go south and east with some for export. Receivers were divided in opinion as to the duration of the movement of corn on a big scale. Apparently farmers in many sections are content to take prevailing prices for their low grade corn rather than run the risk of carrying it into the warm weather.
The opinion prevailed that the liquidation of wheat was heavy on the advance as otherwise there would have been a stronger tone.

CENTRAL HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Business Session and Programme at Regular Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Central Home and School Association was held in the Kindergarten Room of the school on Thursday evening the teachers having charge of the programme which followed the business session.
There were about sixty people in attendance, the flag this month being won by Miss E. Dix's room.
Six new members joined the association at this meeting, and much satisfaction was expressed at the attendance of fathers in greater numbers than heretofore.
The treasurer reported payment of all accounts, including one for lantern slides in nature study and geography for the lower school and one for two large pictures, besides bills for regular relief work.
The paper collection by the children has proven a wonderful success financially, the society now having $60.00 on hand. The rooms that took first place in the contest for paper collecting were those of Mr. O. Steer, and of Misses Denne, Buck Dix, and Armstrong.
At the conclusion of the business meeting, an excellent programme was given, with vocal numbers by Miss E. Dix, readings by Miss G. Collinson, a pianoforte duet by the Misses C. Smith and Riley and an interesting address by the principal, K. S. Wightman, on Education, with special reference to ways and means in which the association can assist the teachers and pupils in this great work.
A hearty vote of thanks to those taking part in the programme was tendered, and light refreshments were served by the ladies.

French Exchange Flurry.

Dollar Went to 14 Francs 35 Centimes—Exodus of Capital Blamed.

PARIS, Feb. 14. — (Canadian Press).—Continued exodus of capital, ascribed to decreasing confidence in France in the Government's financial policy, is given in French banking circles for the sharp flurry in exchange, which sent the dollar to 19 francs 35 centimes at noon to-day. This exportation of capital is said to be going on largely through banks established for that purpose in Monaca and also through the purchase of foreign securities on the Bource
It is estimated in banking and official circles that four billion francs have been exported since the Bolshevik scare around Christmas.

TAKE INTO ACCOUNT FRANCE'S SACRIFICE

In Any Fair Settlement of Inter-Allied Debts, Says Marin.

PARIS, Feb. 14 (Canadian Press) —In the course of a lecture before the War Veterans' Association last night, former Minister Louis Marin again voiced the views expressed in his sensational speech before the Chamber of Deputies last month, to the effect that France's heavy losses of life and other sacrifices in war must be reckoned in any fair settlement of inter-Allied debts.
The war, he maintained, had been won by France, and France alone. Proposals for repayment made by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer would, he said, involve ruin for France.

The third annual Bankers' dance, held last evening in the G.W.V.A. hall, was attended by about three hundred and fifty people, and was a very successful event. The programme included a number of novelty dances, and the music, supplied by Bodley's eight-piece orchestra from Toronto, aroused much favorable comment. The decorations, carried out in the red and white of St. Valentine's Day, were very effective. Long lines of red and white paper crossed the ceiling and were caught in the centre by fan-shaped sections. Fringed curtains of crinkly red and white screened the orchestra stand, with a huge red and white heart in the centre, and draped the doorways. There were quantities of bright red cupids and strings of hearts and arrows decorating the walls, and the electroliers were covered with gorgeous big Chinese lanterns. A list of guests will appear in Monday's paper.
Miss Helen Ross of Toronto, and Miss Madeline Shaw, of Clinton, guests of Miss Dorothy Rattenbury over the week end, attended the Bankers' dance last evening.

GUESTS ROUTED BY HOTEL FIRE IN BITTER COLD

Imperial Hotel, Winnipeg Landmark, Destroyed in Sunday $100,000 Blaze.

22 DRIVEN OUT

Emigrant Lost Belongings, Including $800 in Cash—Four Stores.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—The Imperial Hotel, one of Winnipeg's oldest landmarks which housed many of the West's pioneers when they were en route to their new homes from Eastern Canada, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, while four adjoining places of business, including a jewelry store, clothing establishment, and barber shop, were badly gutted. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Twenty-two guests at the Imperial were routed out in 22 below zero weather. All escaped injury, but they lost their personal belongings, one woman, a recent arrival from England, lost everything, including $800 in cash. One fireman was injured when a hose line broke inflicting an injury which required ten stitches.

The fire started from an undetermined cause in the clothing store and quickly spread to the hotel and adjoining premises. All the structures were of frame, situated on Main Street, a few blocks east of the Canadian Pacific station.

The property loss is fully covered by insurance.

CHRISTIAN UNITY APPROVED BY KING

Royal Encouragement to Church of England Convocation.

LONDON, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press).—Fifty representatives of the upper and lower houses of the Church of England in convocation here, headed by the Most Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, presented an address, voted by the convocation, to His Majesty the King at Buckingham Palace. In the course of his reply, His Majesty said that he was especially glad to hear of the convocation's endeavors in connection with the Empire Settlement Scheme.

"I believe that the Church can render a great service in this important work for the material and social well-being of my people, both in this country and overseas," said the King. "The ties uniting the Dominions to the Motherland and to one another are of paramount importance. I rejoice to learn that the promotion of Christian unity is still foremost in your thoughts and labors. Your efforts in this direction have my cordial sympathy."

NOTED DRY AGENT IS SLAIN BY NEGRO

Assailant is Shot Dead by Companions of Minister-Raider.

WELCH, W. Va., Feb. 16.—The Rev. M. M. Day, whose exploits in West Virginia as a Federal prohibition agent spread far and wide, was shot and killed Saturday by Jim Sneed, a negro, while conducting a raid at Premier, near here. A moment after Day fell his brother officers killed Sneed.

The raiders were visiting houses on the property of the Flanagan Coal Company when the shooting occurred.

Day, a licensed minister in the Christian Church, was known to moonshiners of Southern West Virginia as the "bogey man," because of his effective work in six counties since 1918. Prior to his appointment as an enforcement agent he had served as Chief of Police of Welch, as a deputy sheriff, and as county jailer.

Three years ago Day was assigned to "clean up" the West Virginia-Virginia border region after other officers had failed. His investigations resulted in conviction of a score of moonshiners.

An outstanding chapter of Day's life was his story that, as a minister, he had baptized a man, officiated at his wedding, and years later shot him when he resisted arrest on a dry law charge.

DOUBTS OF CAVE OFFICIALS NOT TOLD RESCUERS

Physicians at Sand Cave Fear Collins Dead After 17 Days in Tomb.

DIGGERS SPURRED

Reached Crevice Sunday That May Lead to Cavern Collins Discovered.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 16.—Sand Cave miners engaged in the work of rescuing Floyd Collins from his seventeenth day entrapment, discovered a possible limestone crevice Sunday afternoon leading to an unknown destination after they had completed a five foot tunnel to the northwest of the shaft. Falling earth delayed the sinking of the rescue shaft yesterday.

Crawling through the tunnel beyond the timbered portion of the lateral, miners went downward into a passageway described as two feet square until they were more than 12 feet from the shaft proper. Further exploration was halted to permit timbering the crevice.

Those underground at the time expressed the opinion that the newly-found crevice led to the immense cavern which Collins said he had discovered and which is understood to lie directly behind the point of his imprisonment.

There seemed Saturday night to be little ground for the belief that Collins is still alive. No whisper of the conviction of physicians that he has passed on under his great trials is permitted to reach the workers. They are repeatedly told that Collins is alive and it is up to them to save him.

When the question whether Collins could reasonably be expected to be alive was put to Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago, who is to be the first physician to attend Collins when he is reached, the doctor said:

"Well, we are going ahead on the theory that he is alive. We have to keep up the morale of the workers, otherwise they might slacken in their efforts."

He refused to go beyond that.

Confident that their plans will not miss fire, the rescuers speeded up their task. Barbed wire lines were established to keep the public at a distance of more than 100 feet, while the small army of newspaper representatives was permitted to approach within thirty-five feet of the shaft head. Spurred by the optimism of the engineers, the miners were literally racing. Many of them, due for relief periods, refused to leave their task.

College Men Displace Miners.

The tired miners, made experts by years in their line of work, who have been working almost without rest for nine days, were reinforced Saturday night by volunteers from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. The young men tackled the work as though they had been doing it all their lives, and their energetic tactics won the approval of Brig. Gen. H. H. Denhardt, who, with H. T. Carmichael, the engineer, is directing the rescue of Collins.

Time and again the miners, burrowing with painful slowness fifty and more feet below the surface, saw their work demolished by small slides. A score of times, just as they had registered a gain of a foot or two, the sides, not yet protected by timbering, crumbled and then rushed down to wipe out the gain. Finally, however, Carmichael managed to get the shoring into place and held back the treacherous earth.

Fog Obscures Cave Region.

The scene at the cave Saturday night suggested a mining camp. About twenty tents loomed uncertianly through the darkness — a darkness made more complete by an exceptionally heavy ground fog that swept down as soon as the sun went down. A Red Cross ambulance is stationed at one of the tents and inside it is a nurse.

All things necessary for the prompt treatment of Collins— if official belief that he lives is confirmed—are at hand. The other tents serve as sleeping quarters and mess halls for the miners. There are about thirty-five of the excavators.

Due to the narrowness of the shaft, tapering at the botton, only three men can do the actual digging. The remainder of the force, split into three shifts of eight hours each, pass the excavated material rapidly back, keepig the shaft head clear. An emergency electric lighting system has been rigged up and the men work under great flaring lights.

FATHER GRATEFUL.

Lee Collins, aged father of Floyd Collins, entombed cave explorer, yesterday appealed to the press to convey his gratitude to all who have aided in the efforts to rescue his son.

POLICE BARRED STUNT BY CANADIAN CANOEIST

Planned to Jump Into the Seine Tied to Canoe.

PARIS, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press cable, via Reuter's). — The Canadian canoeist, P. Smyth, who left Nova Scotia last fall to paddle to Rome, via New York, the English Channel and the Mediterranean, but got as far as Paris, arranged to jump into the Seine from Concords Bridge Saturday with his canoe strapped to his back, but the police refused to allow him to carry out his experiment because he had not obtained permission from the Prefect of Police. The Canadian, however, intends to try again to-day if he would secure a permit to perform the feat.

When Smyth reached New York in his canoe at the start of his journey he took steamer to England, and after a few days there crossed the English Channel to France. The crossing of the dangerous waters of the Channel was effected on the second attempt, Smyth having narrowly escaped death when his frail craft capsized in a storm in his first effort. He was picked up in an exhausted condition by a lighthouse steamer. He reached Paris by paddling down canals and rivers from the French coast, and has delayed his journey to the Italian capital at the Gay city.

RUNS FROM POLICE; SHOT AND KILLED

Unidentified Man Failed to Make Getaway When Taxi Driver Balked.

DETROIT, Feb. 1.. Canadian Press. — An unidentified man was shot and instantly killed by Patrolman Rufus Shaw of the first precint at John R. and Farmer streets, shortly after six o'clock yesterday morning.

The victim was one of two men whom the officer attempted to capture when he saw them running from the vicinity of the Kennedy building, after three pieces of fur had been stolen from the show case.

Calling upon the pair to halt officers took up the chase. The fugitives ran to Madison avenue and John R. street, where they met a taxicab. They jumped into the cab with an order to the driver to "beat it." He however flattened himself in his seat to avoid bullets from the pistol of the pursuing officer.

The fugitives then jumped out and contined their flight on foot.

The policeman's victim was about 20 years old. He was roughly clad.

GENERAL STAFF OF GERMANY ON PRE-WAR BASIS

Report of Allied Military Control Commission Completes Report on Armaments.

POWERFUL ARMY.

Peace Treaty Ignored and Allies Likely to Hold Cologne Bridge.

PARIS, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press). — The report of the allied military control mission on armament conditions in Germany, which probably will be in the hands of Marshal Foch to-day, will, it is asserted, by those who have seen all the semi-monthly reports from which the final document was made up, purport to prove that Germany has by no means disarmed, materially or morally.

The principal features dwelt upon by General Walsch and his colleagues of the mission are that Germany has maintained a complete staff for an army, such as existed before 1914, and has found means for training young men for service, almost equivalent to the military service they performed previous to the Great War.

It is taken for granted in French official circles that the opinion of the allied war committee, headed by Marshal Foch, will agree with the finding of the control mission, and that consequently the Allies will be bound to notify Germany that much remains to be done before the Cologne bridgehead can be evacuated.

FOUND HANGING IN HIS CELLAR

Wife of J. George Jay, Romaine Street, Was in Bed Upstairs.

NO INQUEST.

J. George Jay committed suicide by hanging in the cellar of his home on Romaine Street some time between Saturday morning and yesterday afternoon. His body was found suspended by a rope, with blocks of wood nearby, indicating that he had jumped from them. Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young investigated the death, but had not decided this morning whether an inquest will be necessary.

Mrs. Jay, wife of the deceased, is confined to her bed. She told the police her husband disappeared on Saturday morning and had not returned. It is thought that instead of going down town as she supposed he went to the cellar and took his life. The alarm was given yesterday afternoon and Constable John Naples searched the house at 2.30, finding Jay with his feet on the cellar floor and his knees bent.

In Dr. Young's opinion the man could have saved himself by straightening his legs. Death, on cursory examination, appears to have been caused by strangulation.

Served in India.

Jay was born on the Italian frontier of English parentage, and served for twelve years with the Imperial army in India. He enlisted in the 93rd Battalion during the world war but did not see overseas service.

Up until three years ago he was caretaker of the Royal Bank Building and was latterly a well-known figure on the streets. It is supposed that he worried over his unemployment although it is reported that he owned property besides the house he lived in. The condition of his wife, who is said to be mentally defective, also caused him concern.

Removed to an Institution.

Mrs. Jay, who was unaware of the manner of her husband's death, was removed to an institution this morning by the police authorities.

Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young has decided that an inquest is unnecessary, and the funeral will take place under G.W.V.A. auspices to-morrow.

OVER 10,000 MURDERS.

Statistician Says Annual Estimate for Country is Too Low.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The United States record of 10,000 murders a year is underestimated, according to Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician, who recommended Saturday the periodical tabulation of the Government of data from the court records as an essential preliminary to crime suppression.

"No one is yet in a position to deal with the crime problem as a whole," Dr. Hoffman asserted, "for neither the Federal nor State Governments provide the necessary data for presenting present day conditions in their proper light. Even in the case of death certirficates much is left to be desired, as there are substantial reasons for believing that many cases are recorded as homicides.

"What is urgently needed in the first place to combat crime is an adequate system of Federal judicial statistics corresponding to the admirable series of mortality reports of the United States Census Office and its periodical investigations of the divorce problem."

SHAFT TO COLLINS' TOMB

Upper picture shows where shaft was sunk to cave "tomb" of Floyd Collins at Sand Cave, Kentucky. Lower picture shows electrical plant at mouth of cave, which gave warmth to Collins over a light circuit. Over this circuit radio tests are taken to determine whether Collins is living.

HERCULEAN STRUGGLE BRINGS RESCUERS NEARER TO COLLINS

Homer Collins Breaks Through Military Guard —More Soldiers Called.

HOPE STILL STRONG.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—Homer Collins, brother of Floyd Collins, trapped in the sand cave near here, at 10.30 this morning broke through the military guard on duty at the cave and almost succeeded in reaching and going down the shaft when the rumor reached him that Floyd was being brought up the shaft.

Additional soldiers have been assigned to guard duty around the cave area. Three men are constantly at work in lateral passage believed to lead towards Collins.

The shaft has been pushed twelve feet toward the imprisoned man.

Progress Slow.

Progress was slow at the sloping lateral at the base of the sand cave rescue tunnel early to-day. Every bit of rock and dirt had to be passed back from hand to hand into the main shaft and great care was exercised to prevent a serious cave in of the soft wet clay. Slow but steady progress was reported early to-day by miners coming from the shaft.

The worst of the excavation work incident to the rescue of Floyd Collins from his sand cave prison is behind, it was learned from good authority to-day.

Progress made during the night revealed that the lateral from the main shaft has wound around and appeared beyond the dangerous rock strata which caused numerous slides and has reached the roof of the avenue in which the entombed man is believed to lie.

A sand slide of limestone and heavy rock was encountered after midnight and the work progressed with increased speed. The tunnel was pushed nearly six feet farther after midnight.

Collins is believed to be held captive at a depth of sixty-eight feet. The lateral which is now some fifteen feet long has reached the sixty-foot level. It is planned to tap the cave avenue through the roof and extend the lateral into the natural passageway. This avenue may be filled with rock and debris, but will present no excavation problems, it is believed.

Is Optimistic.

H. T. Carmichael, director of the rescue work, is more optimistic to-day than during the night when several falls of a minor character occurred in the lateral. One of these falls hit him on the head as he was directing the work. The fall, however, contained no rock, and Carmichael was not injured. "The sun will not rise on me at Sand Cave on Wednesday morning," Carmichael predicted this morning.

No natural crevice or cavern has been found, Mr. W. D. Funkhouser said.

"My first estimate of the time Floyd Collins will be reached, which was Tuesday night, still stands," he said.

Late This Afternoon.

Surmounting serious obstacles and overcoming large falls, it now remains a question of cubic yards and time until Floyd Collins' rescue party expects to reach the void which will lead directly to him, said an official bulletin issued to-day. However, as it requires one hour to remove one cubic yard of material, immediate results in reaching Collins must not be expected, the bulletin said.

Cat's Night Out on Spree Ends Early This Morning

Those who were out early this morning on Brock Street near Aylmer, were treated to a unique spectacle. A huge black cat was staggering home from an all-night home-brew party—or so it seemed.

Tom side-stepped all over the sidewalk, sat up on his hind-quarters, stood on his forepaws, and kicked like a mule, and had evident difficulty in finding his home.

He disappeared into the passageway behind two houses.

Inspired by the sight of barber shops filled with girls on Saturday night a Peterboro man has conceived a great idea. He will invent a safety razor compact so that a man can fix up his face on the street corner as the women do.

RUSSELL T. SCOTT SENTENCED TO BE HANGED APRIL 17 FOR MURDER

Former Canadian Financier Denied Re-trial in Chicago—Accused His Brother of Shooting Drug Store Clerk in Detroit.

FATHER COLLAPSED IN COURT

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press).—Russell T. Scott, who at the age of 30 was the head of a $10,000,000 Canadian corporation organized to build a $30,000,000 international bridge between Detroit and Windsor, Ontario, was sentenced on Saturday to be hanged April 17 for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a 17-year-old drug store clerk, during a hold-up in April, 1924.

Judge Thomas J. Lynch, who sentenced the erstwhile financier now reduced to penury, overruled a motion for a new trial. Scott's attorney's, however, said an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court.

Scott himself remained calm as the sentence was pronounced, but his aged father, who had come from Canada to aid his son, collapsed. Just before the death sentence was passed, Scott dramatically faced the court and denied that he had killed Maurer, placing the blame on his brother, Robert, also accused of the crime, and a fugitive from justice. Scott said they had gone to the drug store to buy whiskey and that his brother, very drunk, had gone upstairs while he remained in the drug store basement. He said he heard sounds of a scuffle, and then a shot was fired. Running upstairs, he saw his brother leaving the store, a pistol in his hand. He declared there had been no attempt at a holdup and that the shooting was the result of a quarrel between the clerk and his brother. Scott maintained that the drug store owner and others had testified falsely because he had related the whiskey deal.

A Checkered Career.

Until two years ago, Scott had been concerned in large financial ventures. He has written several volumes on business problems and commercial ethics. In the last two years, since the failure of his business, Scott had been in rapid succession a salesman, actor, bootlegger and finally a holdup man, according to his history as traced at the trial.

After disagreement over his business methods among associates in the bridge venture, he is said to have parted with a personal fortune of upwards of $2,000,000, and to have fled Canada when faced with a breach of promise verdict for $100,000, although he is married and the father of three children.

First Pleaded Guilty.

When first arraigned, Scott pleaded guilty to the murder charge, but tearful pleas of his attorneys prevailed upon a judge preparing to sentence him to death to allow Scott to change his plea. His aged father has worked incessantly for Scott and was aided in raising money by two young women of border cities, Miss Maud M. Gauthier, of Sandwich, Ont., and Miss Agnes I. Harmon, of Windsor, who had arranged dances to help finance an appeal.

TARIFF A GOLD BRICK, SAYS FARM DIRECTOR

Protection Killing Market for United States Agriculture.

EW YORK, February 16. — "The protective tariff is about the worst gold brick ever sold to farmers, and those who bit on it are suffering from broken teeth which no McNary-Haughten Bill, which is a bluff to fool the farmer, will ever mend," declared Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National Council of Washington, D.C., in an address on Saturday at the Rand School before the League for Industrial Democracy.

Last year, he said, Americans exported about $60,000,000 worth of farm machinery, which they sold cheaply to competitors of American farmers abroad to help them to produce more cheaply. The protective tario is killing the farmers' farm market for American farm products, he said.

"The farmers' real task is to secure lower costs of production, including cheaper rent, cheaper credit, and cheaper goods," asid Mr. Marsh, "and to abolish taxes on improvements and on consumption. Farmers are almost a unit against the Mellon tax plan. Any party that tries to put this through is dead.

"The economic differences between the North and the South which brought on the Civil War are not as important as the economic differences between the West and the East to-day," the speaker continued. "And the divergent interest of the South and East are nearly as important.

"Labour's greatest menace to-day is the farmers' condition, for farmers are drifting by hundreds of thousands into industry every year. We don't need any more immigrants for many years, yet the net alien immigration last year was 612,000. The West is the victim of the too rapid opening of the nation, and our national fiscal, transportation, and marketing and land policies make this worse."

The farmers' co-operative movement, said Mr Marsh, had been greatly overpraised as a panacea for the problem. It had resulted in the 'most scandalous speculation in land which has risen to ridiculous prices, and to large overproduction.'

"The farmers' problem must be solved by slow methods, not by spectacular ones," the speaker declared. "They should never again try the impossible tactics of electing a third party."

It isn't possible to get past the pearly gates on a pass.

Stockings To Match All Your Spring Ailments

DETROIT, Feb. 16. — (United Press).—Stockings to match any ailment—belladonna green, nux vomica red, caffeine white, syrup or squill blue, balm of Gilead brown and mustard plaster pink—are being shown in hosiery shops for spring wear.

How pleasing it will be to Milady when she starts to choose between a digitalis hue or ipecacuanha remains to be seen; also whether a prescription will be necessary for such purchases.

Patrons of the shops have already found that apothecary shades predominate in spring wear. Pharmacists are reported considering the possibility of including hosiery in the already well-expanded drug store stock as they feel only through services of a registered druggist can proper advice be given as to appropriate shades for spring wear.

Imagine fashionable ladies peering critically through lorgnettes and murmuring — "which shall I take—that licorice yellow or the cassia acutifolia green?"

Or waste a moment conjuring on the possibilities when the shop girl struggles with the names of such stalwarts of the pharmaceutical world as rhuninus purchiana blue.

Old family remedies and cough syrup colors are expected to gain most favor for street wear, while the elusively worded shades of exotic hue will be reserved for grand balls and dinner parties.

GIRL RAIDS A SALOON WHEN HER MOTHER DIES.

Leads Philadelphia Police, Saying Her Mother Bought Suspected Liquor There.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Finding her mother dead in bed, a 15-year-old girl early Saturday led a police raid on a saloon, where, she asserted, her mother had obtained a pint of liquor.

The bartender was arrested and held pending analysis of the liquor. Police said the proprietor of the saloon was at present serving a thirty-day sentence for illegal sale of liquor.

The girl, Sarah Kilfeather, said her mother had purchased the liquor for a "Friday the Thirteenth" party. Coroner Patton, who ordered an inquest, declared that should death be found due to alcohol, the vendor of the liquor would be held for murder.

LIMIT MAKING OF ARMAMENTS

League of Nations Convenes Commission for Discussion—Reform Calendar.

CHINA PROTESTS.

(By Henry Wood—United Press Staff Correspondent).

GENEVA, Feb. 16.—The Disarmament Commission of the League of Nations convened to-day to prepare a draft of a convention to limit and control the private manufacture of war materials.

The commission will consider the advisability of inviting the United States to participate in the discussions.

A commission for reform of the calendar and fixing a permanent date for Easter also convened.

In the anti-narcotic conference, sponsored by the League, Finland withdrew a resolution asking that the League be given control of arms in China because of charges that Chinese generals were forcing the population to grow opium to earn money for the purchase of war materials. China objected bitterly to the resolution and denied the charges.

CHLORINE GAS CURES MANY.

Brig.-Gen. Fries Tells of Its Effectiveness in Respiratory Cases.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Chlorine gas is now curing more persons suffering from respiratory diseases than were killed by the gas the Germans used against the Allies in 1915, according to Brig.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, Chief of the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States Army, in an address before the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences at the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

"In 1915 on Flanders fields," said General Fries, "gas was used as a deadly weapon to mow down men by the thousands. To-day instead of human lungs being the target, it is waging war on the germs responsible for so many of our colds. If the future vindicates the indications of the present, and we have no cause for doubt, it is believed that this chlorine gas will save in peace more lives each year than gas destroyed in the entire World War."

SEES DANGER OF LEAVING GERMANY OUT OF THE LEAGUE

If Isolated, Germany Might Join Forces With Russia, Says Balfour.

MENACE TO WORLD.

Chemists Expected to Play Important Part in Future Wars.

LONDON, Feb. 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Daily Mail says that Lord Balfour, as member of the Imperial Defence Committee, has written an interim report on conclusions of the sub committee which was especially charged with examining the Geneva agreement on arbitration and disarmament. It reviews the past security policy, indicates what is deemed the unworkable character of the present Geneva agreement, and sets forth the lines upon which the sub-committee believes future security policy should be framed.

Might Join Russia.

Lord Balfour stresses the danger of leaving Germany isolated to join forces with Russia, and, alluding to the important part chemists are expected to play in future wars, points ou the grave danger of German establishing chemical and other factories in Russia. If Germany cooperated in a security scheme, the situation would be materially different. The report, therefore, considers it desirable to treat Europe as an entity not excluding any large state.

GAG STOREKEEPER CHASED BY SHOTS

Brampton Thrilled by Desperadoes Who Break Through Police Ambush.

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press). — Brampton citizens were treated to a thrill on Saturday night when two desperadoes, believed to be Toronto men, invaded the town in a stolen motor car, and after holding up William Dawson, who has a grocery and fruit business on the west side of Main Street, and binding and gagging him, rifled Dawson's pockets and cash registers of the business taking, amounting to $100. They then escaped towards Cooksville.

After the robbers had left the premises, Dawson managed to free the gag from his mouth and called for help. After being freed he telephoned to Cooksville. Chief Herkes of Cooksville gathered together all the men he could, and the party set out, armed with shotguns and revolvers, to give the thugs a warm reception. The car eventually appeared, and the police tried to stop it, but the driver speeded up his auto and got clear, followed by a volley from shot guns and revolvers. But if the robbers were struck by the fusilage it was not noticeable by the car, which kept on at a high speed. Chief Herkes and a constable followed in another car until Port Credit was reached. Here they found the car, which had been abandoned by the robbers. They caught a glimpse of the two as the latter vanished into the darkness towards New Toronto.

ELIMINATES DRUDGERY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16. — (Associated Press).—More than 10,000 farmers' wives in California cook by electricity, according to figures compiled by the largest power distributing company in the state.

In the interior valleys, where wood, coal or oil is not readily available, cooking is done to a large extent by electricity.

The statistics indicate that there are in the State 167,504 rural light and power consumers, and they are served by 16,513 miles of distribution lines. Practically all the farms are lighted electrically.

SUNDAY NOISE BRINGS DEATH

Neighbor Objects to Repairing of Shoes—Held For Murder.

SON HELPED DEED.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press)—Ernest Charles Owens, aged 44, of No. 396 Westmoreland Avenue, is dead, and Frank Stagg, aged 42, of No. 397 Westmoreltnd Avenue, is locked up in the police station on a charge of murder, as a result of a fight between the two men in the backyard of Stagg's home yesterday afternoon. Owen's body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held. Apparently Owen died of injuries sustained when he was kicked in the stomach by Stagg. Stagg, the police say, admits kicking, but pleads in extenuation that Owen was the aggressor.

The immediate cause of the fatal quarrel is stated to have been that Stagg complained to the police that Owen had caused a disturbance on Sunday afternoon by loud hammering. A policeman investigated, but apparently found no ground for complaint. Information given Coroner Dr. Crawford was that Owen had spent a short time repairing rubber heels on the shoes of one of his little girls.

After the policeman had gone, Owen went to Stagg's back door to protest and the fight began and was continued through a side alleyway to the street. Stagg is said to have admitted that besides kicking Owen he had shouted to his 12-year-old son to do so, and the boy had complied. They had been neighbors 15 years.

SEND BOOTLEGGERS TO JAIL IS DEMAND NORWOOD SOCIETY

Prohibition Union Views Approach of Stronger Beer With Alarm.

W.C.T.U. PROTEST.

NORWOOD, Feb. 16.—The February meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Richardson. A very interesting paper on "The Life of Frances Willard" was given by Mrs. (Rev.) W. P. Roger. Two delegates, Mrs. J. Riseborough and Mrs. J. Frost, were appointed to represent the Union at the temperance convention to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 17 and 18, in Massey Hall, Toronto. The members were very emphatic in their denunciation of Premier Ferguson in the 4.44 beer proposition.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the East Peterboro Prohibition Union was held in the Council Chamber, Norwood, on Friday afternoon, when representatives from different parts of the riding were present. The meeting opened by singing a hymn and prayer led by Rev. Seymour, of Havelock, after which business of importance was freely discussed. It was unanimously decided to send the following resolution to Col. T. Dalton Johnston, M.L.A. for East Peterboro:

"Resolved that we the Prohibition Union of East Peterboro, meeting in Norwood to-day, in view of the decision of the people expressed in the recent plebiscite, followed by the Premier's promise, as contained in the 'Moore letters,' view with alarm the proposal to increase the alcoholic content of beer, suggested by the Ontario Government, our strongest opposition to the proposed change, and express the hope that it will not become law.

"We also desire to express our warmest approval of the proposal to send bootleggers to jail ,and respectfully request a continuance of the strictest enforcement of our present laws."

Delegates were appointed to attend the temperance rally to be held in Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Jno. Weir was appointed to represent Norwood, Mrs. F. Richardson, Lakefield, and Mr. A. C. Denike, Havelock.

The meeting was closed by prayer, led by Rev. W. P. Roger.

LEWIS BYERS

Died at Bailieboro, Sunday, Febuary 15, Lewis Byers, aged 69 years. The funeral will be held from his late residence, Bailieboro, on Tuesday, day, February 17, at 3 p.m., to the Baptist Cemetery, Bailieboro.

WILLIAM MOORE WEST

HASTINGS, Feb. 16.—The sudden death occurred on Sunday morning of William Moore West.

Deceased had been in ill health for some time, but death came as a sudden shock to the family.

He was born in England and was a member of the Royal Navy for many years. He had been a civil engineer on the Trent Canal while it was under construction, and was stationed at Trent River before taking up residence in Hastings. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Berkley at home, and G. E. West, of Smooth Rock Falls. Eric, another son, contracted Flu, while overseas and died from the effects of same.

Two daughters also survive, Mrs. Ferguson-Davis of Toronto, and Mrs. R. Bryden of Ottawa.

The funeral announcements will be made later.

Whooping Cough Is a Very Serious Trouble Her 5 Children Had It

Mrs. S. H. Craig, R.R. No. 1, Palmerston, Ont., writes:—"Two years ago, last winter, our five children had very severe attacks of whooping cough. We were recommended, by our druggist, to use which we did with the greatest of success. It cleared out the throat and bronchial tube, and loosened the phelgm so that they were able to cough it up, and in no time I had quenched the 'whooping'."

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

"Dr. Wood's" is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, and has been on the market for the past 35 years. Be sure and get the genuine.

MANY GUESTS AT HASTINGS DANCE

Holy Name Society Put on a Successful Affair—Young People Met.

HASTINGS, Feb. 16.—The Holy Name Society held a very successful dance in the Town Hall on Friday evening. About four hundred guests were present, and both new and old dances were indulged in. The "Star" orchestra of Hastings supplied the music, and at midnight lunch was served.

London Bombed.

At the last meeting of the Young People's League a large crowd gathered and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all.

The chief number of the program which was greatly appreciated was an address given by Mrs. George Sargeant, of Westwood. The subject was on the air raids in London during the Great War, at which time Mrs. Sargeant was a street car conductor in London, owing to the absence of the men at the front.

The speaker gave a vivid description of the tragic days and nights when old London was in darkness.

The Scripture was taken by Miss Jean Macdonald. Solos were rendered by Misses Yvonne Sharpe and Marguerite Schmidt.

The closing item was a missionary contest, the winners being Messrs. James Knight and Roland Jones.

Personal.

Mrs. F. Porter, of Montreal, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. M. Turner.

Miss Elsie Weeks of Fenelon Falls is visiting friends in Hastings.

Mrs. Scott Fife and Miss Bessie Armour were visitors in Campbellford on Saturday.

Mr. C. Frey spent the week-end in Norwood.

Mr. Paul Baker has returned to Windsor after spending a short time here and at Burnley.

The Mission Circle Girls are making arrangements for their annual Winter Fair to be held on February 23.

COURT FREES ACTOR.

Eddie Garvie Exonerated in Shooting of Fellow-Player on Stage.

NEW YORK, February 16. — Eddie Garvie, the actor in "Hell's Bells," at the Wallack Theatre West Forty-second Street, who was held in $500 bail on a charge of violating the Sullivan law, after he, on the stage of the theatre last Wednesday night ,had shot another actor, Clifton Self, was freed on Saturday by Magistrate Charles A. Oberwager in Jefferson Market Court.

Garvie, having misplaced the weapon he is accustomed to use in a scene where he is required to flourish it, picked up another from a table off-stage, which he thought was unloaded.

It was discharged by accident, wounding Self, who was not seriously injured. He was charged by the police with not having a permit for the revolver which was fired, but it was explained in Court that a permit held by the theatre covered all revolvers held therein.

INDIANS TURN TO IODINE

"White Man's Medicine Man" Replaces Tribal Sorcerers.

CASS LAKE, Minn., February 16 (Associated Press). — The passing of the "medicine man" with all of his supposedly supernatural powers over evil spirits, is enabling Minnesota Indians in increasingly large numbers to take advantage of the facilities for medical treatment at reservation hospitals, according to P. D. Wadsworth, superintendent of the Consolidated Chippewas Agency.

While most of the approximately 14,000 Chippewas in this state have become fairly civilised, hundreds of the more timid Indians are finding the gap between the old-fashioned tribal manners and the modern healing means difficult to bridge, said Mr. Wadsworth.

Once the Indian overcomes his characteristic superstition however, he makes an apt convert and readily subscribes to this phase of civilisation's contribution to his welfare.

When the Indians become accustomed to patronising "the white man's medicine man," as they term him, they make good customers. Old men of the tribe who have learned the advantages of such common treatments as the atomiser, or spray, for nose and throat infections, and iodine for external ailments, hasten to the infirmary at the least provocation.

TRENT RIVER NEWS.

Ice Harvesters Rush Cutting Before Thaw—Roads Are Bad.

TRENT RIVER, Feb. 16.—Heavy rains fell last week, leaving the roads in a terible condition, but the temperature lowered Thursday, causing another freeze up.

The ice harvesters are busy rushing their orders before the weather turns warmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McNeely are spending this week in Toronto as guests with Dr. Allan Mitchell.

Mrs. Joe McNeely's mother and brother of Warsaw, are looking after Mr. McNeely's place and stock while they are absent in the city.

Mr. Bert Rose returned to Toronto after spending a week at "Ye Olde Mill."

The Public school children had a Valentine concert at the school on Friday.

The Ladies' Aid held their bi-weekly afternoon tea at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Rufus Redden is visiting friends at Peterborough this week.

Runs a Training Table; Athletes Eat Heartily

SEATTLE, Wsh., February 16.—Called in by Coach Callow to prescribe and supervise a scientific diet for oarsmen at the University of Washington, Miss Dorothy Kuebler, assistant professor of nutrition, just followed good household practice.

During the two seasons that she has been in charge, the husky crew has won the intercollegiate championship at Poughkepsie, and she is feeding them up again to defend the title on the Hudson in June.

"We do not give the crew men a special diet," Miss Kuebler says. "They are served a well-balanced menu that all people should follow in order to keep healthy and in good condition. Fresh fruits and vegetables milk cooked and dry cereals, cooked meats, special steaks, and other wholesome foods constitute the main part of the fare. No rich desserts or pastries are served and highly seasoned dishes, fried potatoes, and other foods fried in grease are taboo.

"The men are given coffee in the morning if they so wish. Toward the end of the season the menu becomes more simple, and is made up of foods more easily digestible. Greater quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables then appear on the tables."

NEWFOUNDLAND LOAN

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 15.—English financial interests have been awarded the Newfoundland Colonial Loan of $4,000,000, it became known to-day.

An agreement was made with the trade facilities board whereby a portion of the money will be utilized in the purchase here of ten thousand tons of steel rails, resulting in the under-cutting of Belgian and German bidders, it was announced.

NORWOOD KIDDIES.

RAINS HELP BAILIEBORO.

Roads Are Bad and Dangerous for Horses—Wheat Shows.

BAILIEBORO, Feb. 16.—The recent thaw and rains have certainly been a blessing to many of the farmers of this community. For the last six weeks there has been a great shortage of water, and this thaw has been the first this winter.

The snow has completely vanished off the majority of the fields, leaving the fall wheat and seeds exposed to the weather, and it is hoped that there will be a fall of snow before it freezes too much.

The roads throughout the country are generally in a bad condition. While some parts of the highway are bare, there are other parts that have quite a depth of snow still on, and once it freezes the roads will be very rough and full of horse holes.

DOUBTS OF CAVE OFFICIALS ETC.

"I want to thank all who have given their services, sent equipment, made donations, prayed for Floyd or sent messages of sympathy or condolence," said the distressed parent.

"I want to thank the newspapers, also, because they have done a great deal. I am not able to answer the thousands of messages I have received and so I appeal to the press to send out my expression of appreciation."

The 2,000 or more messages received by Brig. Gen. H. H. Denhardt, in command of the efforts to rescue Collins, have greatly heartened the workers, General Denhardt announced. Persons high in official life, private citizens, engineers and many others have wired encouragement and congratulations.

Few of the suggestions made have appeared practical in view of the conditions, however. General Denhardt said. One engineer of Washington, D.C., advised sending "rich soup" vapor down the crevice located yesterday to "sustain Collins's life and breathing."

RECALL CAVE DEATH.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 16.—The plight of Floyd Collins, whose fate in his underground tomb at Cave City, Ky., is being followed by millions, has recalled to old residents here a cave death of thirty years ago.

The victim was John Goshorn, member of a prominent local family. Unable to marry a girl because of his poverty, Goshorn left his job in a country store and went to Tennessee where he heard of a mountain cave supposed to contain vast silver deposits. With ten days' rations, he started into the cave.

Weeks past and he did not re-appear. Finally his brother, "Bill Dave" Goshorn, organized a posse and started into the cave after him.

Several hundred feet underground they came to a steep cliff, which they descended by means of rope. At its foot the posse found Goshorn's body. He evidently had died after a fall.

The only silver the posse found in the cave was in the frame of a picture of his sweetheart that Goshorn clutched in his hand.

WORK FOR FALSE "COLLINS."

Mayor Starts Him Cleaning Brick, Perhaps For a Season.

HADDAM, Kan., Feb. 16.— The man who said he is Floyd Collins of Cave City, Ky., and who created a sensation here two days ago by declaring the story of the man in the cave in Kentucky is nothing but a hoax, is still the guest of the town of Haddan. But he was to-day set to work cleaning old bricks for a new school house.

No charges have been filed against him but Mayor Schuerban says unless the man proves he is Collins he will file some sort of charge that will retain him in jail and keep him cleaning brick all summer.

VALENTINE PARTY AT CAMPBELLFORD

Miss Roxie Wilson Entertained Thirty Friends—Church News.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 16.—Miss Roxie Wilson, Bridge Street, entertained about thirty girls and boys at a Valentine party on Saturday night at her home. Lunch was served about half-past six, after which the young people had games and dancing. The rooms and tables were decorated with Valentine decorations and looked very pretty.

In choosing partners for supper, each girl was given a heart with a keyhole, and each boy a key, and the girl who had the heart fitting the key was his partner. They all reported a good time.

Missionary Services.

Rev. J. I. Wilson, of Brighton, the president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, preached two very able sermons in the Methodist Church on Sunday. The occasion was Missionary Sunday, and the large congregations morning and evening were very interested and atentive.

Mrs. C. W. Turner presided at the organ, as Mr. Cowell, the organist and choir leader, was unable to be present on account of illness.

Personals.

Mr. L. O. Pearse, manager of the local Bell Telephone office, Front Street, left on Monday morning for Lakefield, where he will spend a few days on business for the company.

Mrs. Elmer Craig and young son, of Brighton, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Plumpton, Inkerman Street.

The friends in Campbellford of Rev. J. J. Mellor, at Picton Methodist Church, are pleased to hear that he has been invited to remain as pastor for the fourth year.

Miss Charles Davidson, Mill Street, entertained the girls' hockey teams (the Warkworth and local) after their game on Thursday night.

Mr. Glenn Thompson, Front Street, spent last wek in Toronto.

Mr. Samuel Hatton, of the Bell Telephone staff at Stirling, was at the Campbellford telephone office for Thursday and Friday.

Mr. T. L. Diamond, Front Street, who spent a few days last week with his daughter, Mrs. Vandewater in Toronto, returned home on Saturday night.

Born — In Campbellford, on Saturday, 14th February, 1925, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seaborn, Wellington Street—a daughter.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

He rang in a little sooner than the fellows in the shop, and he stayed a little longer when the whistle ordered "Stop"! He worked a little harder and he talked a little less, he seemed but a little hurried and he showed little stress; for every little moment his efficiency express, thus his envelope grew just a little thicker than the rest. He saved a little money in a hundred little ways; he banked a little extra when he got a little raise. A little "Working model" took his little "leisure" time; he wrought each little part of it with patience most subline. Now it's a very little wonder that he murmers with a smile as he clips his little coupons, "Aren't the little things worth while?"

GIRL GUIDES' TEA VERY SUCCESSFUL

Campbellford Guides and Rangers Held Home Cooking Sale.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 16.—The Campbellford Girl Guides and Rangers held a home cooking sale and tea in the Public Library on Saturday afternoon. The room was prettily decorated with red and white streamers and red and white hearts decorating the cooking and candy booth and the tea tables.

There was quite a generous response to the request for home cooking booth and also to the candy booth. The home cooking booth was in charge of Mrs. J. H. Bell (District Commissioner of the Guides), Miss Evelyn Irwin (Tawny Owl in the Brownies) and Miss Georgie Davidson and Miss Helen Thomas.

The candy booth was in charge of three Rangers: Miss Nellie M. Hoover (lieutenant of the Rangers), Miss Hazel Mason and Miss Verna Sanders. The paper hearts and fancy baskets and pails filled with candies, made this booth look very pretty. There were tea tables arranged in the other part of the room, each one having a nice white lunch cloth over which were placed red hearts of all sizes and combinations, making a nice effect. These were in charge of Guides Hazel Thomas, Margaret Irwin, Katherine Clarke, Winnie Sanders, Violet Gardner, Ethel Horseman and other of the Guides assisting in other ways. Mrs. C. W. Turner (president of the Camp bellford Girl Guides Association) assisted with the tea.

The efforts of the girls were quite successful as the proceeds amounted to about thirty dollars. Miss Grace Payne, who is captain of the Rangers, Guides and Brownies and was head supervisor, is very grateful to those who donated cooking, and candy and also to those who by their presence in the tea-room helped to swell the funds.

All the girls did their best to make it pleasant for those who attended the sale and tea.

HE BLAMES 4-4 PER CENT.

The night was dark, and the hour late, when the lone merry-maker advanced unsteadily toward the concrete lamp post. Gingerly touching the rough surface he felt around until assured of a solid support and then leaned back, resting. After a few minutes, deciding to again pursue his alcoholic path, he turned and felt carefully about the surface of the post. "Round and 'round he walked, never taking his hands off the concrete.

Amazement gave way to despair and at last, sinking down to the pavement he gasped:

GOLDEN WEDDING AT BAILIEBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Heaslip Received Evidence of High Esteem.

An event of more than usual interest took place recently at Bailieboro, when the friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. David Heaslip held a reception, and joined with them in celebrating the golden anniversary of their wedding day.

There were many tangible signs of the high esteem in which the "bride and groom" are held by their numerous friends, congratulatory telegrams and letters, and a number of personal gifts being received, while good wishes were conveyed by as many as possible in person.

The C.O.F. Hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, Mr. John Greer acting as chairman. At a prearranged time in the programme, the "bride and groom" of half a century were asked to come forward, the former being presented with a purse of gold and the latter with a gold-headed walking-stick, Miss Irene Johnston and Mr. Gerald Armstrong making the presentation on behalf of the large circle of relatives and friends who were thus expressing their in trest in the occasion.

Mrs. T. A. Skitch read the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. David Heaslip, Bailieboro.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Heaslip,

We, a few of your friends and neighbours, having learned that this is the aniversary of your golden wedding, and as this is an occasion which few are spared to celebrate, we could not let this special day pass by unnoticed.

We take it as a great pleasure that this opportunity is given us to express our feelings toward you. You have always lived among us, and we have learned to admire your sterling qualities and your neighbourly spirit, as well as your unfailing courtesy and generous goodwill.

Your door has always been open to friend and stranger. Your work and example in our community has shown you good citizens, never failing to respond to any good work, and in this manner you have won for yourselves a warm place in the hearts of all.

We would ask you to kindly accept these tokens that show, in part, the high esteem in which you are held in our midst. Our sincere prayer is that God may bless you, and that you may both be spared to celebrate your diamond jubilee.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours,

John Greer,
Gerald Armstrong,
Ireen Johnston,
Mrs. T. A. Skitch.

February 3rd, 1925.

After suitable reply had been made —the recipients of the gifts thanking the friends for their kindness expressed both in word and deed, the "bride and groom" and the other guests of the evening sat down to daintily spread tables arranged in the form of an "H," the family initial. The "bride's cake," which occupied the place of honour in the centre of the table, had overhanging it a large white bell, the gold streamers reaching from it being tipped with tiny bells also of golden hue.

The entire colour scheme was in gold and white, as befitted the occasion, and this was further carried out in the table runners, trimmed with cupids and hearts, the shaded candles, and the beautiful roses which adorned its length at intervals. The "favours" at each plate consisted of tiny gold hearts, and the initials of the guests of honour, "D. H." and "M.J.H." on the top storey of the wedding cake, were done in the same mellow tinge.

In order that in the days to come the happy occasion might be vividly recalled, Mr. Trot, of Port Hope, took several pictures during the evening.

Cards and dancing added to the pleasure of the young folk when the supper hour was concluded.

Not the least pleasing feature of the gathering was the fact that all the family were able to be present, with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. T. J. Isbister, of Portage La Prairie, Man., from whom a congratulatory telegram was received that morning.

Others in attendance included: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hill, Miss Effie Heaslip, Mr. and Mrs. Westlake, and son Daniel, of Toronto, Mr. D. W. Heaslip ,Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Heaslip and daughter Audrey, of Bailieboro.

The speakers of the evening were Mr. John Greer, Warden J. L. McCamus, Thomas Donaldson, Reeve Alex. Anderson, James Campbell, and John Porter.

With many expressions of pleasure in the re-union which the happy event had made possible ,and with reiterated good wishes for the years yet ahead, the delightful social gathering was finally brought to a close.

One Class of Food Elements is Your Chief Source of Bodily Strength and Vigor

If they come to you in the proper form

WHAT is it that enables some people to play as hard as they work? What is it that allows some people to give hour after hour of effort to the day's tasks—without destroying their ability to enjoy life to the full?

Human vigor! Power!

And today we know that not only does our motive power depend directly on our food—but that it comes largely from one class of food elements called "carbohydrates". At least one-third of all we eat should be made up of them.

Yet—and this is what most of us do not know—these foods in the form in which we often get them may be the cause of our commonest troubles. They must come to us in the proper form, or, instead of giving bodily energy and power, they may actually turn into harmful acids and poisons. Grape-Nuts is a perfect source of energy and power. Three-fourths of Grape-Nuts is the precious carbohydrates in the form of dextrine—the most acceptable to your body of all food substances.

Grape-Nuts, made from whole wheat and malted barley, is a wonderfully delicious and nourishing food. Serve it just as it comes from the package, with milk or cream. It is very economical. Four teaspoonfuls, sufficient for each helping, costs less than one cent. All grocers have it—in the wax-wrapped package.

Free Sample Offer

Send to-day for four individual packages of Grape-Nuts—free. Enough for four nourishing breakfasts. Free offer also includes book of 101 delicious recipes selected from over 50,000 prepared by housewives who regularly serve Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts

Made in Canada

Grape-Nuts is made of pure wheat and malted barley. More than three-fourths of the content of Grape-Nuts are the precious carbohydrates.

In Grape-Nuts the carbohydrates have been dextrinized, that is, scientifically broken down into the form your body most readily digests.

Grape-Nuts comes in crisp, golden kernels which you must chew. This starts the process of digestion where it should properly start—in the mouth.

WHY NOT CATS?

"If the City Council is seeking revenue," a citizen asked the Examiner the other day, "why not put a tax on cats?"

Well, why not?

Dog owners have to pay a license for the privilege of keeping their pets tied up most of the year, but the ubiquitous feline escapes Scot-free so far as either taxes or restrictions are concerned.

It is impossible to calculate the number of cats in Peterboro.

The irate citizen who is kept awake by a nocturnal serenade from a chorus of shrill voiced cats broadcasting from the backyard fence is inclined to think that there must be thousands of them, but he may be a little prejudiced.

But there are enough to provide a sizable addition to the revenue if a license were to be levied.

And if the owners preferred to get rid of the cats rather than pay for the privilege of keeping them that would not be a disaster—except for the cats.

Seriously, though, there does not seem a single valid reason why dog owners should have to pay a license for their pets while cats may be kept in wholesale quantities without providing any revenue for the civic coffers.

SETTING THE EXAMPLE.

President Coolidge evidently believes that if national and individual economy are to be achieved, there must be leadership toward that end in the high places.

Thus his resolve to simplify the ceremonies in connection with his inauguration and to very materially reduce the expenditure involved, while it must be a disappointment to the very many people in Washington who look forward to this event, is a very significant development.

When it isapparent that there is need for retrenchment it is a question often asked in other lands than the United States whether or not heavy expenditure upon fuss and feather ceremonials is justified.

A certain amount of ceremony is necessary, of course, in the opening of Parliament in order that the dignity and prestige of the governing body may be appreciated in their true importance, bput at times when there are suffering and distress from unemployment and other causes the desirability of an expensive display is to be questioned.

The President of the United States is to be commended upon the position he has taken.

It is an unusual step, for the inauguration of a President is usually the occasion for a wonderful parade and other ceremonies in which the question of cost has rarely been considered.

Mr. Coolidge tells his fellow-countrymen by this action that his administration is determined not only to preach but practice economy.

THE BATTLE OF THE ESTIMATES.

The City Council will commence its first battle with the estimates tonight, and the annual struggle promises to be of more than usual interest.

With an over-draft from last year to be taken care of, the prospects for a lower tax rate are not regarded as the brightest, but the Aldermen, as all Aldermen are at this stage of the year, are in an economical mood and will undoubtedly strive to pare down the estimates to the bone.

This process would be greatly facilitated if the various chairmen were as keen in pruning their own appropriations as they are in seeing that other committees do not get more than their share.

It should be recognized by every committee that the duty of the hour is to trim its own estimates as closely as is possible without reducing to a point that makes overdrafts at the end of the year inevitable.

If each committee were to fully realize that responsibility the task of preparing the annual budget would be robbed of much of the difficulty and manoeuvring that are usually associated with it.

The public, as never before, is demanding genuine economy, and a real effort to reduce expenditure, not only in the municipality but in the Province and in the Dominion arena, fully concious that the much desired reduction in taxation cannot proceed, but must follow a slash in the overhead.

POOLING THE WAR DEBTS.

An intimation has recently been freely spread abroad from Paris that, in French opinion, the proper solution of the Inter-Allied debt problem in all the circumstances of the war and of the present time is "pooling the debts" with due regard also to "ability to pay." We have nowhere been told actually what the proposal means, and the following paragraphs are intended to set out broadly the results of three possible interpretations, each one of which is full of meaning from its particular angle (dollars are used in the computation as the best available common denominator). In order to keep the view as simple as possible, the smaller debts are ignored, and the countries involved are confined to France, Belgium, Italy, British Empire (excluding India) and the United States. The inclusion of the others would not seriously alter the results.

I.—The first conception of "pooling" is to take the indebtedness of each country owing money and aggregate the debts. We agree: "It is too complicated to go into causes, into relative borrowing and taxing during the war; let us assume that each country did everything it could and underwent equal sacrifice; this debt is the inevitable aftermath which we accept without recrimination. Let us now proceed to bear the common burden according to our respective power or ability." (This statement of principle involves the United States in relinquishing any claim to have been specially burdened or sacrificed by the war in blood or treasure as compared with, let us say, France).

The sums due by these Allies are (in millions of dollars:

British Empire (excluding inter-indebtedness)	$ 5,155
France	7,021
Belgium	1,218
Italy	4,748
To be pooled	$18,142

How do we measure "ability to pay"? In the Dawes report it was agreed that, although there was much to be said for treating the countries with the higher average wealth as having a progressively greater ability, relative ability, should be measured by proportion to average wealth and income.

If we take this standard on the wealth and income of 1923, the five Allies would share the burden as follows (millions of dollars):

Belgium	$ 244
France	2,306
Italy	975
British Empire	4,957
U. S. A.	9,660
	$18,142

Belgium's net debt would be reduced from 1,216 to 244 million dollars. France could pay 2,306 and draw 1,235, a net payment of 1,071. United States would put 9,660 into the pool and draw out 11,121, receiving a net 1,461 millions. The British Empire would pay 4,957 and receive 5,552, a net receipt of 595, and Italy would pay 975 and receive 234, a net payment of 741 millions.

Summary in millions of dollars: Net payments, 244 plus 1,071 plus 741 equal 2,056; net receipts, 1,461 plus 595 equal 2,056.

II.—In its second aspect "pooling" may be regarded as being more fundamental than the mere common treatment of a number of accidental "remainders." We can imagine the Allies reflecting on these lines: "From the date when each nation came into the war each wished to contribute all it could to the common burden and sacrifice in men and money those who were in a position to contribute less in their manpower will not for that reason contribute less in their purses but we cannot set men against money, and so no extra sacrifice in money will be asked for from those who lost fewer men. But at least we will pool the war costs according to our respective abilities." (This involves the United States making no claim to have suffered in men more than France, but agreeing to spend as much money according to ability). The net cost of the war falling to the five Allies in the first instance (counting the default of Russia as a cost) or, so to speak, paid on common account was 52,680 million dollars.

In proportion to ability this should have fallen as follows:

	Actually borne at present in costs or loans	True share to others	To be repaid	Further to pay
British Empire	21,100	23,048	1,948	.....
Belgium	1,240	.....	.....	1,240
France	10,150	9,282	.....	868
Italy	4,530	3,211	.....	1,319
United States	15,660	17,139	1,479
	52,680	52,680	3,427	3,427

III.—But a more complete pooling which would give greater recognition to fundamental issues, would take the following form: "We don't wish to take part in the controversy as to when the United States should have come into the war, but looking back we can see that it was, as Dr. Page recognized from the first, a war against barbarous militarism, in defence of civilization which we are all equally concerned to defend. Any country slow to recognize this has profited by economy in the expenditure of life and this cannot now be equalized, but any temporary profit in money can be made good. Let us share our costs according to our ability throughout." (This involves the United States taking an equal share in winning the war, at any rate, financially. As her idealist section can move no faster than the inert and materialistic mass of opinion, it is no doubt utopian, but it is, at any rate, useful to set out the actual cost of national pride):

	Actually borne at present in costs or loans	To be True share to others	Further repaid	to pay
British Empire	14,280	23,048	8,768	.....
Belgium	835	.....	.....	835
France	6,873	9,282	2,409	.....
Italy	3,062	3,211	149	.....
United States	27,630	17,139	.....	10,491
	52,680	52,680	11,326	11,326

All existing indebtedness would be canceled and the above debts would be substituted. It is not pretended that the above figures represent more than the broadest approximations, but they are roughly indicative of the effect of carrying out three intelligible policies. Doubtless many other relevant considerations would arise, such as pooling the reparation payments by Germany before dividing the cost and the special treatment of Belgium.—Sir Joseph Stamp, London, in Barron's.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Hastings Council has decided to have the Town Hall piano tuned. That is the way to get harmony.

The Ontario Legislature is expected to finish the session in two months. Even that is too long, but it is a big improvement over other sessions.

Mr. Ferguson seems to have no success in trying to convince the dry forces that beer of double the strength of that now legally sold is a contribution toward true temperance.

At that the Premier might retort that broken pledges have not been unknown among temperance workers, especially at election times.

England is proposing to have daylight saving the year round, instead of only in the summer months. The system seems to be thoroughly satisfactory over there.

Ex-Premier Drury describes Mr. Ferguson as a lath painted to resemble iron, and adds, "And most of the paint has worn off." The Premier's reply will be interesting.

According to Mr. Sinclair, the Ontario Government is all right outside of the several dozen defects he mentioned in his contribution to the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

It is almost impossible to estimate what the national debt would be if all the demands made upon the Federal Government to spend money were to receive a favourable answer.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Wheat readily advanced in price today, and with offerings light, reached as high as $1.86 1-4 May delivery, nearly nine cents above yesterday's bottom figures. Europeon buying of future delivery here helped to lift values. Besides, France and Sweden were said to be purchasing wheat for immediate shipment from this country. Closing quotations of wheat were strong 3 1-2 to 4 5-8 cents net higher, May 186 to 186 1-4 and July 157 1-2 to 157 3-4. Corn finished at 1 5-8 to 2 1-8 cents gain; oats 3-4 to 1 3-8 cents up, and provisions varying from 15 cents decline to 20 cents advance.

STERLING RATES

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here Saturday as follows:

Sterling demand $4.77 1-2.
Sterling cables, $4.77 7-8.

MONTREAL GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16. — There was considerable enquiry from foreign buyers for Canadian grain here on Saturday, but the volume of business was small owing to there being very few firm bids. Owing to the further strength in the oat situation at Winnipeg on Saturday, the domestic market was again stronger and prices were advanced two cents per bushel, Ontario No. 3 white goods being quoted at 65 cents, No. 4 grade at 63 cents per bushel exstore.

The feature of the flour trade was the stronger feeling that developed for spring wheat grades and prices were marked up 20 cents per barrel. The winter wheat market was un changed.

Prices were well maintained for all grades of fresh eggs at the recent changes noted. The butter trade was quiet but prices were steady. The cheese market was without any special feature to note, with fodder made No. 1 white and colored goods selling at 20 1-4 to 20 1-2 cents per pound, and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19 1-2 cents per pound.

Beans were firm at $2.90 per bushel.

A THOUGHT.

SHE IS AT THE SAME TIME CONSUMING HERSELF.

Would you prefer to live in a magnificent mansion with a front door of morguelike exclusiveness and always meet a foreign-tongued flunky on entering the house that should be a home—a house where nothing but oil paintings smile at you—or would you prefer the snug little house and a happy family, all home?

Would you prefer to have a brass-buttoned butler to meet you, or would you rather have your own bouncing baby boy to greet you?

Would you prefer to walk with the Italian gardener or would it be much pleasanter to take a hand-to-hand stroll among the flowers with your own little girl?

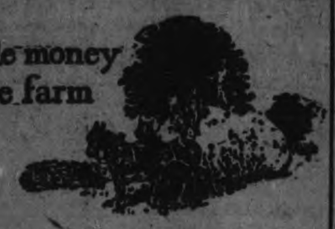
Which would you rather have, the controlling interest in some financial scheme or big corporation, or the contentment found in a cabin? Would you rather have coupons or children—hash and health or hardening of the arteries and a huge, expensive gasoline wagon?

I will admit that the man who despises money is usually the one who despairs of having any—that poverty is an intellectual or industrial indication that you have never made and saved—that we cannot regulate or restrain the ambition to get more money—that the bank balance tells when a mn is rich, but the home tells when he is happy.

The happiness of most men largely depends upon their wives, and many rich wives put all their evidences of happiness on the outside. They are like the silkworm—when she seems to ply, she is at the same time consuming herself.

London Criticizes Report On Shipping Combine

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Canadian Press).—"Hopes are expressed in London business circles that for the sake of Canada's credit the Dominion government has really something more substantial in the report of W. T. R. Preston on the North Atlantic Shipping combine and ocean freight rates situation, than the passages of it which have so far been cabled to this country, to justify the attack on the shipping companies engaged in the North Atlantic trade."



He made money on the farm

OF many a farmer retiring to a well-earned rest it has been said, "He made a lot of money on that farm." The fact is that he made no more money than his neighbour, but he saved a great deal more.

Acquiring wealth is largely a matter of systematic spending and saving. Without a definite plan few men get anywhere. Hard work is not enough; the fruits of the work must be conserved.

ONLY RICH MAY READ

The Poor People of Portugal Are Very Illiterate—Authors Starve.

LISBON, Feb. 14.—So many people in Portugal cannot read, the percentage of illiterates is given as 78, that were it not for Brazil and the colonies, the book industry here could scarcely survive. Also Portuguese authors rarely live on the income derived from literary production; they all do something else.

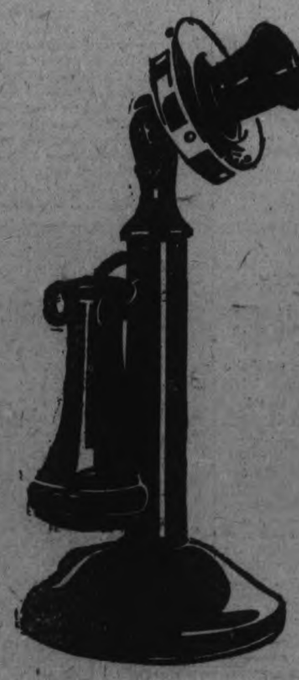
The government is seeking to overcome the lack of primary education by more schools, but progress is very slow. In the larger towns there is a certain literary culture, but in the provinces the people live much as they did in past ages, isolated from the progressive world.

Books are so expensive that only the relatively wealthy can afford to buy them.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE.

To Merchants and Salesmen

An Immense Advantage over Competitors



Dealers who wish to secure the lower prices and more liberal discounts allowed on large orders, buy more than they need and, while the goods are still in transit, sell the surplus by Long Distance.

Carload lots are diverted before arrival; lesser quantities are delivered on arrival, which saves the time, labour and trucking-charge for taking them into warehouse.

By making such large-scale operations possible, Long Distance gives the wide-awake buyer an immense advantage over less enterprising competitors.

CUPID'S NIGHT AT MILLBROOK

Pretty Valentine Effects at Social By Methodist Bible Classes.

GOOD PROGRAM

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14. — The "Valentine Social," held in the basement of the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the young men's and young women's Bible classes, was a successful and enjoyable event.

Red and white streamers, crimson hearts of varying sizes, most of them pierced with a golden arrow, red shades on the lights, and a big bouquet of carnations of the same shade on the table in use upon the platform, made an attractive and appropriate decorative scheme for a "Saint Valentine" evening. The members of "Boneka" class could be readily distinguished by the white head bands, centred with red hearts, which each one wore, as well as by the light dresses which many were wearing, the men, apparently, disdaining any "favors" which would mark out the personnel of their class enrollment.

Mr. P. Stinson acted as chairman, and in his opening remarks welcomed those present, and extended a cordial invitation to any of the "fellows" who were at a loss for a place to spend their Sunday afternoons to drop in for the Bible study period with the men's class. New members, or visitors, will receive hearty greeting in the women's organized class also.

An interesting review of the organized classes was given, "Miss Hampton's Young Men's Bible Class," the first in the school to adopt the new regime, being put upon this basis in 1908. Its motto is, "Our Class for Christ," and this, the speaker was assured, had been, and is being, fulfilled in the hearts and lives of the men in the community. The earnest hope was expressed that Miss Hampton, who has been teacher for many years, will soon be sufficiently restored to health to again take her place in the Sunday School. Mrs. (Dr.) Rea has recently accepted the position, and teacher and scholars are alike sharing in the pleasure and profit of the weekly Bible study session.

The charter members of the class were: G. E. Burnham, G. McKim, J. L. Byam, Harvey Thexton, H. Argue, F. McMahon, W. G. Rowand, L. W. Smith, Dr. Chas. Walsh, W. Bray, Jas. Smith, Harry Griffin, John Huffman, A. Clarke, Irwin Hatherly, M Pethick, W. O'Brian, and R. Cochrane. Two of these, J. Huffman and R. Cochrane, ost their lives on the battle fields of Flanders during the great war.

The "Boneka" class was organized on April 9 1908, Miss F. P. Byam (now Mrs. (Rev.) R. J. Stillwell, of Monteagle, Tenn.), as teacher. Miss E. Locke (Mrs. J. McKnight), was the first president, and Miss E. McMahon, secretary

The practical Christian motto, "Help whoever, whenever, and wherever you can," has been exemplified in the record of the class, collectively and individually, ever since. The charter members were: Misses Irene Fee, May Duncan, Ethel Payne. Eliza Burns, Flossie Thexton, M. Adams, V. Argue, A. Smith, Mrs. I. M. Nattrass, Mrs. F. W. Smith, Mrs. G. E. Burnham and Mrs. R. Nurse.

The programme included the following items, after an opening hymn had been sung, and Rev. F. H. Howard had offered prayer:

Reading—"The Cat's Tea Party," by Bryar Edmunds.

Violin Solo—By A. Fallis.

Reading—"A Queer Valentine," by Mary Burnham.

Piano Duet—By Flossie and Annie McMahon.

Selection by Byam's orchestra.

Solo—"The Spot Where I Long To Be," by Mr. F. N. Alcorn.

Piano Solo—By Miss Estelle Hetherington.

Reading—"Caleb's Courtship," by Mrs. H. Lang.

Encore—"Our Minister's Sermon."

Cornet Duet—By Messrs. G. E. and Ernest Burnham.

Encore—"The End of a Perfect Day," cornet solo, by Ernest L. Burnham.

Duet — "The Garden of Your Heart," by Mrs. G. W. Sayles and Mr. W. H. Coombe.

Orchestra selection.

Misses Ethel Richardson, May Duncan and Estelle Hetherington were the accompanists of the evening. The selections by the Byam family orchestra added much to the pleasure of the entire gathering, more than one extra number being generously contributed while the refreshments were being served at the close.

Mr. Hilliard Lang is president of the young men's class, and Mrs. F. W. Smith of the "Boneka" class this year.

DOLLARS ROUT BEETLES

Americans Contribute Generously to Lincoln Cathedral Fund.

LINCOLN, Eng., Feb. 14—(Associated Press).—The appearance of the death-watch beetle in the timbering of one of the towers of Lincoln Cathedral is causing the dean much trouble, but he is equally disappointed with what he calls the stinginess of English people in sending funds to assist in combatting the work of the beetle, and in the restoration of the cathedral.

The generosity of Americans, the dean says, is in great contrast. American money, he points out, has enabled nearly half the work to be done, and by the end of the year he expects to have enough American dollars to pay for the reparation of the central tower and two transepts.

Scores of English tourists visit the cathedral but few of them go to him with a ten pound note, as the Americans do, and say, "here is a trifle for your fund," according to the dean.

The demon athletes have begun boiling out at Hot Springs but it will be July before the irate fans start boiling.

ODDFELLOWS OF STIRLING HELD ANNUAL SOCIAL

Toronto Talent Provided Most of Enjoyable Program for Big Audience.

OTHER EVENTS

Successful Meeting Held By Women's Institute—I. O. O. F. at Trenton.

STIRLING, Feb. 14.—On Wednesday evening the Oddfellows of Stirling held their annual "at home" which was as usual a very enjoyable affair. Mr. H. B. Cowan and Miss Beatrice Smith of Toronto supplied the most of the programme, Miss Hazel Burkitt being the only one of local talent who assisted. The playing of Miss Smith on the piano and Italian accordion was well received, as well as the singing and jokes of Mr. Cowan. The interest was not allowed to lag from the beginning of the programme to the end. After refreshments were served the National Anthem was sung, but on account of the downpour of rain a great many stayed longer to watch, if not to take part, in what proved to be as interesting as any number on the programme; a dance by the young folks. Mr. Cowan and Miss Smith played for the dancing.

Laymen's Banquet.

A laymen's banquet is being held at the Methodist Church to-night (Friday). The speaker of the evening is to be the Rev. Dr. Endicott, a former missionary to Japan.

Women's Institute.

On Monday night the Women's Institute held their open meeting in the agricultural rooms. This is an annual affair and is looked forward to with pleasure by those who are privileged to attend, as they always provide an excellent programme, and this year's function was no less interesting than any of those held previously.

Mrs. R. P. Coulter, the president, occupied the chair. The meeting was opened in the usual manner, and after routine business the following programme was presented: Address by Reeve C. B. McGuire; paper by Mrs. R. H. Williams on "The Privileges of Women."

Mr. Ray Atkin showed some moving pictures of the City of Ottawa and of the Agricultural College buildings and grounds at Guelph, Ontario.

A duet was given by Miss Florence Marshall and her brother Duncan.

A debate was given by four students of the High School on, "Resolved that the horse is more beneficial than the automobile."

Duncan Marshall and Nellie Tulloch took the affirmative side and Clinton McGee and Blanche Hadley the negative. The affirmative won.

A cross-word puzzle prepared by Mrs. Donnell proved of great interest and tit took some time to solve, but those who got the correct solution were rewarded for their efforts.

A meat contest followed, which proved very interesting, and a real puzzle to those trying to supply the answers.

A photograph gallery was one of the most interesting features and contained pictures taken years ago, some as long as 60 years or more. There were 35 pictures and the group who guessed the greatest number were rewarded by a cream pie. Refreshments were served and the meeting then closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church held their weekly meeting at Mrs. Henry Tulloch's on Thursday afternoon. There were sixteen ladies present. At the close, refreshments were served.

At a meeting of ladies representing the Evangelical churches, held at Mrs. G. H. Luery's last Saturday, arrangements were completed for the holding of the annual interdenominational prayer meeting, to be held in the Methodist Church this year.

Cutting Ice.

The thaw, accompanied by the heavy rain has weakened the ice in the pond, and some of those intending to store ice were very nearly too late; however, the cutting of ice goes on and by taking a different route to get off the ice they will be able to get their ice-houses filled.

Visited Trenton.

Mr. J. B. Thompson, D.D.G.P., of the Grand Encampment, I.O.O.F. of Ontario, accompanied by the following: Past D.D.G.P's. W. T. Sine and Mason Clarke; P.C.P's. M. W. Sine, E. R. Carlisle, J. M. McGee and Geo. Megginson and P.G. H. E. Hulin, visited Trenton on Monday night and installed the officers of Trenton Encampment, No. 71, I. O. O. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Rollins and Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson were visitors at Campbellford over Sunday.

Mr. Gordon Drewry, of Niagara Falls, Ont., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Geo. Drewry, Front Street West.

Mrs. Anderson, of Toronto, is the guest of her aunts, Misses Mary and Louise Judd.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Saddler, of Franksford, were here over Sunday as guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Green.

Miss Eva Brown, of Belleville, has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Alex. Green, for a few days.

Mrs. Harry Ketchison, of Thurlow, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Park, Mill Street.

Mr. Thos. Smith is quite seriously ill at his residence, James Street.

Mr. Ray Atkin, agricultural representative, has completed the holding of his short course classes at Wallbridge, and is now engaged in the holding of similar classes at Springbrook.

SAVAGE ATTACK ON SOVIET PRESS SPY

Peasants Carry on War of Extermination Against Correspondents.

MOSCOW, Feb. 16.—The most arresting feature of present social conditions in Russian villages is the struggle which certain groups of the peasantry are carrying on against the so-called "selcors"; that is, village correspondents of Soviet newspapers. Every Soviet paper, local and central, has thousands of correspondents who keep a strict eye on village affairs and report to their papers the slightest departure by the village authorities from Soviet principles in administration as well as everything else they regard as in nonconformity with the public interest.

Being originally introduced for closer contact between readers and editors, with a view to raising the circulation of the papers among the peasantry, the Selcors have little by little assumed functions of unofficial Government agents, and within the last year have grown into a special institution, fully acknowledged by the central authorities as forming a link for the Sovietization of villages and helping in the task of inculcating revolutionary law among the peasants. The Commissar for State Control finds the work of the village correspondents highly valuable as an auxiliary to his own services. Thus the Selcors have become an important factor in Russian life, having regular conferences and congresses, exerting great influence with the central and local authorities in every district.

State prosecutors are instructed to pay the closest attention to revelations by the Selcors and instigate proceedings against local authorities and citizens based on information supplied to the press by the village correspondents. During last year 10,000 prosecutions of such character took place in various parts of Russia.

It is natural that antagonism between the village administration and peasantry on the one hand and the correspondents on the other grew daily hotter and finally took the form of a merciless struggle for nothing short of extermination of the Selcors by torture and murder. Lately this struggle has assumed a most threatening and barbarous character. Killing of Selcors has become an every-day occurrence, and attempts upon their life are often reported as many as forty a day. Trials held for murder of correspondents revealed that often whole sections of communities, together with village authorities, are concerned in plotting against their victims, employing most inhuman methods.

Here is a typical case reported the other day in Pravda which took place at the end of January in the village of Oppoukassy in the Kazan district. A group of peasants caught the correspondent, Grigorioff, and dragged him outside the village. There they first beat him with clubs and considering him dead threw his body over a bridge upon the ice. Afterwards, having observed he was still alive, the peasants returned and scalped him. Grigorioff was picked up dying by passerbys, and died in great agony.

Considering that scalping was not practiced even during the most terrible days of the Civil War, it will easily be understood what great hatred exists towards the Selcors among the wealthier section of the peasantry.

Heaviest sentences are meted out by the Soviet courts for every interference with the correspondents' work, and while capital punishment for murder is not included in the Soviet Criminal Code, sentence of death has become general for the murder of correspondents. Attacks on the Selcors are legally treated as counter-revolution and disclosure of the identity of a village correspondent who is writing under a nom de plume is regarded as a criminal offense.

Keeps The Home Clean

GILLETT'S PURE FLAKE LYE is the first-aid to home sanitation. Nothing equals it for cleaning out sinks and drains, cleaning greasy cooking utensils, keeping floors clean, etc. Get a can from your grocer. It will save you much hard labor.

GILLETT'S 100% PURE FLAKE LYE

CATCHING THE RELUCTANT MALE

Men are like mice. If you run after them and try to catch them, they will run for dear life, whisk into their hiding places, and never let you catch a glimpse of them again.

But if you leave them alone, and pretend that they're not even worth noticing, they will come to play at your very feet and do their best to make friends with you.

And then if you have had the foresight to have your trap all set and baited with their favorite food, you have caught your mouse (or your man) in the twinkling of an eye.

Many is the lesson that has been learned from the busy bee and the non-union ant, but the wise girl can find out all she needs to know from the wary mouse!

ALICE ROOSEVELT'S BABY.

Girl Born to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Saturday.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—A baby girl was born to Alice Roosevelt Longworth here Saturday. The hospital announced both were in fine condition. The baby's weight was given at 6½ pounds. Mrs. Longworth is a daughter of the late President Roosevelt and wife of Senator Nicholas Longworth.

SCARF MAKES DRESS

An interesting tie arrangement is featured on this open-striped ratine dress intended for sport wear. The wide blue satin scarf worn about the neck passes through wide eyelets, and the ends hang free. This dress is most easy to copy, or it is a very simple idea to transplant the scarf idea to some costume you now own.

MILWAUKEE GIRL WEDS HER RIDING INSTRUCTOR

Rich Lumber Man's Daughter Goes Home After Elopement.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 16. — Emily Forster, 22, daughter of Charles Forster, a wealthy Milwaukee lumber man, and Jack W. Bradley, 23, riding master at the Hans Berg Riding Academy, eloped to Waukegan, Ill., and were married Sunday afternoon, parents of the couple revealed Wednesday when Mr. Forster threatened the annulment of the marriage of his daughter.

After the ceremony the bride and groom returned to their respective homes, the girl to the fine residence of her father in Bay View, an exclusive district, and the groom to his mother's unpretentious home in a poorer section.

The two have not seen each other since their trip to the Illinois Gretna Green, and Bradley has hinted that all is not so happy as might be.

The couple were to have gone to ice races at a neighboring town, he as the teacher and she as the pupil, on Sunday. The races, however, were called off, and the springlike weather, the extraordinary opportunity and all combined to encourage the two lovers on their path to a Justice of the Peace.

Have Perfumed Scenes In Paris Playhouses Now

PARIS, Feb. 14—(United Press). —This one may sound fishy, but the idea doesn't smell that way in a popular music-hall here. For Paris now has perfumed theatrical scenes.

Following the old idea of the burning punk in a Chinese den scene, Paris recently used the radio to transmit the ncise of a breaking surf in a bathing girl scene, but the perfume scene is the very latest.

The curtain rises to reveal a beautiful fruit garden, and the audience is refreshingly "vaporized" with the perfume of the fruit in view. In another scene half-nude girls are dressed to represent clusters of flowers, and the true scent of the flower is wafted over the spectators.

ITALIAN ELECTORAL BILL PASSED SENATE

Vote by Secret Ballot Exceeded Expectations.

ROME, Feb. 16.—The senate Saturday, by a majority of 156, passed the electoral bill proposed by the government and already approved by the chamber of deputies.

The vote was 214 to 58. The majority surpassed the expectation of the government which considered it the more significant because the vote was not taken by roll call, but by secret ballot, and showed that even numbers of senators who are followers for former Premiers Giolitti, Orlando and Salandra, voted for the Mussolini measure.

KIRKWOOD REPROVED

Sunday Times Says Prince of Wales on "Tread-Mill."

LONDON, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press). — "Hot-shot" for David Kirkwood, the Dumbarton Socialist, and those who supported him in his criticism of the proposed South African tour of the Prince of Wales in the House of Commons last week, is poured out by the Sunday Times which remarks that any Labor member of the House of Commons who worked even half as hard as the Prince would regard himself as a saint or a black-leg.

"There are no trade union restrictions or 'cacanny' for the Prince," says the Times, "and you never hear him bewailing the organization of society that keeps him incessantly on the tread-mill."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MISLEADING UNIONIST FIGURES.

Editor, The Examiner:

Sir,—In Thursday's Examiner appeared a list of the Presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, issued by the Bureau of the Joint Committee on Church Union, which purported to give a list of the total number of congregations in each Presbytery in Canada and the number that had voted to remain Presbyterian. At first glance, at least, the figures are somewhat impressive, as indicate that out of a total of 4,374 Presbyterian congregations in Canada only 388 have voted to remain Presbyterian.

It is only natural that the people of this section should examine the figures for the Presbytery of Peterborough. When we do, we find that they show 40 congregations for the Presbytery of Peterborough with only 12 having voted to remain Presbyterian. When, however, we turn to the Blue Book of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for 1924, we find some striking figures. Although it is claimed that there are 40 congregations in this Presbytery, we discover that there are only 23 ministers listed for the Presbytery, and one student who works only part of the year. We next discover that the mission fields of Harvey, Lakehurst, Bensfort, Deer Bay and Hall's Bridge have all be listed as separate congregations, though their total membership is shown as only 61, all of them being in charge of the aforesaid student supply for a part of the year only.

When we examine the total membership of the Presbyterian Church in the Peterborough Presbytery, we find that it s shown as 7,005. When we pick out of this number the membership of the (now) 14 congregations which have voted to remain Presbyterian, including St. Paul's (Peterboro'), Port Hope, Cobourg, Campbellford, Hastings, Millbrook, and others, we find that their total membership comes to 3,866. In other words, granting that all the other 26 so-called congregations enter the United Church—which is not likely—their combined membership is 3,139, while the membership of the 14 continuing Presbyterian Churches is 3,866. In other words, the 14 congregations which have voted to remain Presbyterian have 727 more members than the 26 congregations which are listed as Unionists.

One does not like to think that the Unionist committee, when it is issuing such statements, does so with the intention to deceive, but such an examination as the foregoing of their figures cannot help shake public confidence in all their published reports. If we were to apply the same standard to the other Presbyteries listed, it would indicate that instead of a small minority having voted to remain Presbyterian, a large majority have done so. We do not understand the situation in other Presbyteries, but we do know what it is in the Peterborough Presbytery. It, therefore, is reasonable to reason from what we do know to what we don't know, and the foregoing would be the logical conclusion. We don't say that such would be a safe conclusion, but we contend that it is a natural one, and that it is evident that the figures issued by the Unionist Committee are misleading and inaccurate, and that until they are handled with more frankness they must be seriously discounted.

REASON FOR UNION.

To the Editor, The Examiner.

Dear Sir: I wish you would print a short report of what two Toronto ministers gave as their reason for supporting Church Union, from The Globe, Toronto.

"Unionists of West Presbyterian Church heard reasons for that church voting in favor of entering the United Church of Canada at a meeting in the West End Y.M.C.A. last night. The principal speakers of the evening were Rev. D. N. Morden and Rev. Dr. Laidlaw. The question before them, Mr. Morden, the first speaker, declared, was not the question of Church Union. That had been settled. What they had to face was whether West Presbyterian Church would follow the Presbyterian Church in Canada into the Union on June 10 or remain without the Union.

"Urging the reasons that had induced him to favor entering the United Church, the speaker stated that the first reason was loyalty to the Presbyterian Church. If the members of the congregation did not vote for the United Church they would repudiate the pledges of the Church for the past 20 years, he said. Wasn't there such a thing as honor? he asked, and could the Church play fast and loose with her pledges? A disrupted Church, he thought, was a sad plight, but a Church that repudiated its pledges and sacrificed its honor was a worse plight. Union, the speaker thought, was in the spirit of the New Testament, and was the only way to meet the Church problems in Canada.

"A divided Protestantism could never give the leadership that Canada required to-day, Dr. Laidlaw stated in his address. Because he was a Presbyterian he declared it was his duty to follow the leadership of his Church into Union. If the people of Ontario were going to have any part in the building of the new Canada that was to be they were compelled to vote for a Church that was united, in order to undertake the great tasks that lay ahead, he said."

A Sweet Breath at all times!

After eating or smoking Wrigley's freshens the mouth and sweetens the breath.

So easy to carry the little packet in your pocket! So important to have when the mouth needs cleansing and freshening!

Odors of dining or smoking quickly disappear—teeth are brightly burnished. Smiles just naturally come because nerves are soothed, throat is refreshed, the stomach relieved and digestion aided.

Wrigley's is more than a sweet—it's a positive benefit.

Many doctors and dentists recommend it.

WRIGLEY'S

WHAT DID THE MANUFACTURERS SAY?

To the Editor of The Examiner:

The Ontario Board of Licenuse Commissioners sent out a questionnaire to leading manufacturers of Ontario.

Four questions were asked, and over 1,000 answers were received. The following are the questions with the answers.

1. Are you of the opinion that Prohibition, under the Ontario Temperance Act, makes for increased production of goods?
   70 per cent answered, "Yes."
   27 per cent. answered "No."
2. Does it increase the regularity of attendance immediately after pay day?
   76 per cent answered "Yes."
   23 per cent. answered "No."
3. Does it improve their capacity for work, and their ability to perform their duties?
   74 per cent. answered "Yes."
   25 per cent. answered "No."
4. Are drunkenness and poverty as common now, under the Ontario Temperance Act, as formerly under the open bar and Liquor License Act?
   85 per cent. answere "No."
   15 per cent. answered "Yes."

Apropos of the last question; in British Columbia, that paradise of freedom, $48 is now spent annually on an average on every man, woman and child in the province.

Forty-eight dollars on every person; and how long is the "bread line?"

Y. M. C. A. ANNUAL REPORTS

REPORT OF GENERAL SECRETARY

Mr. G. H. Roper said: In presenting the annual report for the year 1924 I feel that we have real cause for thankfulness and gratitude for the very satisfactory and encouraging position of the work generally, especially in view of the general conditions, business and industry. There are two or three outstanding features which deserve special mention, among these are The Membership Situation, The Dormitory Report and the Activities of the Billiard and Bowling Departments. In each of these departments there has been a noticeable increase over any other year in the last decade.

This report will cover the following activities: Religious Work, Social and Educational Work, Membership and Dormitory Departments and Finances. Report of the Physical and Boys' Departments will be presented separately.

Organization.—During the year there has been no change in the directorate or the committees of the Association The Board of Directors was assisted by a number of members largely drawn from the Membership Committee in the spring financial canvass. During this canvass the full amount of subscriptions needed was raised. The Membership Committee conducted the annual membership campaign in the early part of October and succeeded in bringing the membership to the largest point that has been reached for some years.

Membership.—The membership in the Association is divided as follows: Sustaining 10, business men 75, seniors 153, young men 163, social 13, students 8, summer membership 6, intermediate 79, juniors 96, beginners 74. Total men, 422; boys, 284; grand total, 706. Membership in April, 1924, 635; membership in April, 1923, was 591. This increase in membership is not entirely reflected in the financial statement owing to the fact that a number of membership fees are still outstanding, in a large measure due to part time employment. The increase in membership makes more acute the problem of accommodation. This fall we have felt more keenly than ever the congestion in the locker rooms and scarcity of lockers.

Finances.—At the beginning of the year a note was held by our bank amounting to $2200.00. There was a deficit of $681.00. The budget was planned to take care of the current expenditure as well as the note. The Board of Directors wery generously among themselves raised the sum of $675.00 to take care of the deficit. This movement was initiated by one of the directors who offered a very substantial amount of the total provided the balance was raised. At the end of the year the note had been reduced to $1250.00, a reduction of $950.00. There were liabilities outstanding amounting to $1626.00. These were covered by assets, including subscriptions, dormitory rentals, membership locker and educational fees, showing a small balance, providing the outstanding assets are realized. Some of these have since been paid.

The comparison of the relationship of the subscriptions to the total budget is interesting. In 1918 51% of the budget was raised by subscriptions, in 1919 49%, in 1920 33%, while last year only 30% of the total budget was raised from subscriptions. This result was achieved in spite of the rising costs of operation. It is interesting to note that Peterborough's cost of maintenance is but 48% of the average for all cities of its class in North America. At the same time we believe that the service offered to the members and the community is fully equal and in some cases exceeds that of many associations of similar size.

Religious Work.—The Sunday afternoon meetings were not conducted during the early months of the year but were resumed again in the fall. A number of well-attended meetings were held and this feature is being maintained. The best attended meeting of the fall was that occasion on which Mr. T. F. Best was the speaker, at which 43 attended. The Friday evening meeting at supper hour was addressed on several occasions by pastors of the city with different religious messages. The boys' Bible classes during the year have been well attended. The figures for this feature will be given in the boys' report. Definite results from personal interviews have been noticeable. In some cases the influences of the association programme has resulted in increased activity on the part of members in the work in their home church. The religious work programme is planned so that there will be no dividing of loyalty between the association programme and the church and Sunday school activities.

Social Activities.—The outstanding social activities from the membership stand-point was the regular Friday evening meetings with 16 sessions and 424 attending. Under the genial leadership of Mr. J. F. H. Wallace, whose enthusiasm and magnetic personality was largely responsible for the success of this feature. In addition to many fine addresses, including the address of Mrs. Pankhurst, the social side of the Friday evening meetings have been decidedly worth while and was instrumental in bringing into closer relationship young men, seniors, and business men who attended.

A feature that has not been conducted for some time was that of entertaining the men of the different industries of the city. Two evenings were held during the fall, one for the Quaker Oats Company and the other for the men of the De Laval Company. These were splendidly attended by over 100 men in each case, and expressions of appreciation were received by many of the men who attended. On New Year's Day refreshments were served to 82 members and friends.

The Bowling Department.—Under the direction of Max Sloane, the bowling department has developed an intensive programme of activities. Owing to the general popularity of five-pin bowling among the ladies, the directors were asked by a large number of young ladies of the city for permission to bowl in the Y.M.C.A. Owing to the fact that there are no facilities in the Y.W.C.A., this permission was granted and a league of 8 teams was formed. The games were planned between 5.15 and 6.45. This period on the alleys was the least used by Association members. There are times when some of our members feel that they are deprived of their opportunity to bowl because of this league, but it is hoped that they will consider the fact that the ladies have no facilities at the Y.W.C.A.

Educational. — The matriculation classes in geometry, English composition and English literature and British history were carried through to completion under the leadership of Mr. L. J. Pettit and Mr. A. S. Zavitz. These two teachers gave generously of their time and effort to make the classes successful. Those students who had previous Collegiate experience in most cases were successful in passing their examinations in July, but those who had no previous experience did not meet with success, which would indicate that for classes of this kind some previous Collegiate training is necessary. In the fall an attempt was made to carry on the second series of studies but there was not enough applicants to warrant such a plan; however, the services of Mr. T. L. Bruce were secured as teacher for a small group who are taking the following subjects: Algebra, ancient history and French composition. Although this class is small the services rendered to those who are taking this work is invaluable and cannot be secured otherwise in the city.

A class in public school subjects for young men who have missed the work of the fourth book is rendering splendid service under the voluntary leadership of Mr. Ronald Deyell.

Dormitory Department.—The dormitories have been filled to a larger extent than was the case in the previous year. While a number of rooms have been occupied for long periods it is interesting to note that 243 different men occupied dormitories in the Association building during the year 1924. In addition to this number there were a number who were accommodated over night, who for some reason were unable to pay for accommodation. Among the men who have occupied our dormitories we had one man from South Africa, and at present one from Australia, and one from the Island of Ceylon. The dormitory department is a real home for young men who come to the city as strangers, and many friendships are made there which we have reason to know have been helpful in the lives of many young men.

General. — Numerous organizations have made the Y.M.C.A. headquarters for meetings, and all of these have been invited to make use of the building without any charge. The Ministerial Association, the Boys' Work Board, Religious Educational Council, Bible Society, Canadian General Electric Benefit Society, hold their regular meetings in the building.

Ladies' Auxiliary.—The Ladies' Auxiliary have served the Association faithfully and with splendid results. They have held numerous sales for the purpose of raising funds to supply equipment for the dormitories. The ladies also contributed $50.00 towards the wiping out of the deficit. The service rendered by the Ladies' Auxiliary is deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged.

In conclusion, I would like to express my deepest appreciation for the loyal service and splendid co-operation of the other members of the staff. It is only through real team work that successful results are obtained and I believe that this is the secret of whatever success we have had this year. I also wish to express my real appreciation to the Board of Directors for their hearty support and for the courage and optimism which they have displayed in the leadership of our Association during the past year.

The year 1925 looks bright with promise and with the present feeling of harmony, good-will, and willingness to work on the part of directors, committeemen, and members generally, no task should be too great for the Peterborough Association during the coming year.

PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT

The Chairman of the Physical Department said:

In reporting the work of the Physical Department for the year 1924 I desire to call your attention to the splendid enrollment and record of attendance. Some idea may be gathered as to the interest taken in the physical side of our programme by noting the various phases of the following table covering the fall term.

The physical director was present for the duration of the military camp in the Exhibition grounds in June and conducted the sports programme among the men. The Association provided writing paper and a reading room, together with movie shows at the request of the military authorities. Annual swimming campaign for boys of the public schools was put on in May. The physical director had charge of the city championship meet, the Tuxis and Trail Ranger athletic meet; served at the motor show in a like capacity; officiated as umpire in the Public School Baseball League, and was instrumental in organizing the Church Hockey League, being president at this time.

BOYS' DIVISION

The Boys' Work Committee in presenting this report for the year 1924 calls attention to the fact that a review covering a twelve-month period must of necessity touch only the salient features. Statistics are avoided save when figures are necessary to convey a truer conception of value. As has been pointed out in previous reports from this department no system has as yet been devised whereby the results of Christian contacts upon the life of a boy may be adequately registered.

Supplementing the report of the general secretary covering the religious work of the Association mention is here made of that phase of our activities embracing the junior school, intermediate school and intermediate employed boys. Each of these has an organized group meeting once per week. We feel that our field lies mainly among those boys who are not members of any organized church group. The attendance at group meetings since the last annual meeting totals 656. Coupled with or at least very closely allied to this phase of our work is the interesting of our boys in the welfare of boys of other lands who are less privileged than they. During the year the junior department raised $45.15 toward the foreign work budget.

We are a unit of the Co-operative Boys' Work Board of the city and are on record as being ready to assist every plan of constructive boys' work in the city. The boys' work secretary acted as convenor of the committee which carried through a successful week-end retreat among the older boys of the city churches over May 24. Picked older boys met in fellowship under the guidance of Mr. Plewman, secretary of the Provincial Boys' Work Board and some real problems were presented and met. The boys' secretary was also elected chairman of the promotion end of the recent boys' conference held in this city October 31 to November 2. Our usual plan of city-wide swimming campaign for members and non-members alike can only be interpreted as an evidence of the desire on the part of the Young Men's Christian Association to serve the entire community.

We have a weekly moving picture show in the boys' department every Saturday night. The attendance at these shows for the past year is in the neighborhood of 1450. In addition to our building programme our machine was in constant use at the Kiwanis fair with the oral hygiene film, "Tommy Tucker's Tooth," and covered the city public schools with the same film, giving 24 exhibitions before 2093 people. A special film on the construction of the human eye, which came to us from the Ontario Government, was shown to the upper forms of the Collegiate in the science room. During the military camp in June movie shows were put on for the men under canvas.

Boys' camp was conducted as usual during the month of July. Thirty-five boys were present for the whole or part of the camp. Leadership was provided from among the members of the senior and young men's sections, with the boys' secretary as camp director. Eight dollars provided a boy with the full term, which included transportation to and from the camp.

Early in the year the personal interviews with employed boys showed a lack of the fundamentals of schooling on the part of some which was interfering with progress in their chosen vocation or which hindered the following out of natural inclinations with regard to the line of work desired. Accordingly a committee was formed, consisting of three public school male teachers, and a course of study mapped out with the idea of carrying these boys to the point where they might at least attain entrance standing. This class met once per week during the early part of the year, but is now coming together twice weekly. They cover arithmetic, spelling and English. Acknowledgement is made by the boys' work committee to Mr. Jack Adair, Lesslie Bell and Ron. Deyell for time and energy given in teaching and to Trevor Miller and Leo Copp for valuable services on the school committee. Being under no expense every boy may attend and through time will be in a position to better himself in his job.

In concluding this report we bespeak of the boys' division in the year 1925 a continuance of the interest manifested by the Board and members during the year just closed. With such we may continue to report progress in the field of opportunity to which we have been delegated.

THAW HAMPERING WORK OF FARMERS

Has Refilled Wells, But Stops Wood Cutting.

KING'S WHARF, Feb. 16.—The warm spell and thaw was very welcome as both the wells and cisterns were dry but it made the roads through impassible for a few days. Those who intended getting their wood out of the swamp will not be able to get any unless there is a great change, as the water has risen in the swamp and the snow came again leaving the water running. Very few around had their wood cut. A few had it cut but did not get it out.

Mr. Hubert Flood of Ennismore, who has been sawing through here with his drag saw, has returned home. He has been sawing large body maple and other timber too large to be cut with the circular saw.

Mr. Jas. Webster of Oakwood made a business trip through here buying cattle and horses. He purchased a fine horse from Daniel Costello, for which he paid a good price.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Perdue and family spent Sunday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hennessey in Ennismore.

Mr. Daniel O'Neil is out again after his serious illness.

Mr. Louis Schnitzler and two little nieces of Cargill, who have spent some time the guests of friends here, have returned home.

Mr. Wm. Herlihey, Sr., made a business trip to Lindsay during the past week.

Mrs. Jos. Guiry and her father, Mr. Peter Flood, of Toronto, attended the ordination in Peterboro Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Perdue spent Saturday in Peterboro the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Perdue.

Calomel To-Night

Hot Water Before Breakfast

No more headaches, indigestion, foul breath, constipation, kidney pains, if you will but follow a doctors advice by taking two Tanol Calomel Tablets tonight and a good drink of hot water in the morning to wash from the system all the previous days' poisons and wastes before more food is taken in. Tanol Calomel is harmless, acts on every organ of the body, stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, no salt or seidlitz are necessary, does not nauseate like ordinary calomel. Get a few of these tablets from your druggist and you will be surprised how much better they will make you feel. These inexpensive tablets can be obtained at F. C. Weber, Charlotte street.

HERE'S THE LATEST—COD LIVER OIL IN TA STELESS TABLETS

Greatest Flesh Builder For Skinny, Weak, Run-Down People—Full of Vitamines

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at your druggist's real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the greatest vitamine food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of cough syrup.

Thin, run-down, anaemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor; another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child, aged nine, twelve pounds in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. Warne Drug Co., McDermid & Jury, Jas. Lynch, or any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets—and don't forget that they are wonder workers for feeble old folks.

Get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and beware of imitations.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE PREPARING ANNUAL

Cavan Women Met at Home of Miss Bertha McNeil.

CAVAN, Feb. 16. — The Cavan Women's Institute met at the home of Miss Bertha McNeil on Thursday afternoon for their February meeting.

Despite the fact that it was a cold, blustery day and roads anything but good, there was a good attendance, about twenty ladies being present.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting in May at Mrs. D. J. Hunter's home in Cavanville and have a lady speaker to address the members.

A bazaar will be held June the second at Mrs. Lloyd Sutton's.

Lunch was served by the four ladies, who had been appointed at the previous meeting. A social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Lloyd Sutton invited the Institute to hold their March meeting at her home.

Two new members were added to the number already on the roll.

Mrs. B. Northcote Hamilton, spent a few days of this week visiting her father, Mr. John Coulter, who is not at all well.

The W. A. of St. John's church met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Seeney, Ida.

Mrs. J. Armstrong and baby Gerald are visting friends at Bewdley.

Born—In Dr. Turner's private hospital, Millbrook, on Friday, February the sixth to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Footet, a daughter.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states thae an excess of hydrocholric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.

DANCES AT 102

First 100 Years the Hardest Says New York Woman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Mrs Sara Heyman celebrated her 102nd birthday anniversary Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert F. Schiller, 71 Thirty-third Street, Woodcliff, N.J. The white haired old lady whose sight is good and whose figure is upright despite her years, waltzed with the husband of one of her grandchildren, to music that came over the radio and later danced polka steps while photographers snapped her.

Pressed to give a rule for longevity, Mrs. Heyman laughingly said. "Keep happy, laugh when you can and when you can't. Smile all the while, keep decent hours and let worry be no influence in your life; it tends to add to the years." She paused a moment and then said, as an afterthought, "The first one hundred years are the hardest, you know."

Flappers today are no worse at heart than the flappers of eighty years ago, Mrs. Heyman says. She like the 1925 style.

"I admire them for their independent spirit and for their color. They're all right," she said.

LUDENDORFF RESIGNS POST

General Quits Leadership of National Socialist Party in Germany.

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 16.—Gen. Ludendorff has resigned his leadership of the national socialist party, but remains patron of the anti-Semitic nationalist organizations.

The national socialist party, representing the extreme reactionay elements in Germany, suffered badly in the last parliamentary elections in December. Its losses were particularly conspicuous in Bavaria, where, purporting to emulate the Italian facisti, it had conducted a strenuous monarchistic campaign. One ebullition of this was the so-called Ludendorff "putsch" of November 1923, in which armed forces were used in an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the Bavarian government and install a military dictatorship over all Germany.

MRS. LEO HARRINGTON PRESIDENT OF LEAGUE

Annual Meeting of Catholic Women's League at Downeyville.

DOWNEYVILLE, February 15.—The Catholic Women's League held their annual meeting on Monday evening and the following officers and others for the various parts for the entertainment during the year were elected President: Mrs. Leo. Harrington.

1st Vice-Pres.: Mrs. Daniel Costello.

2nd Vice-Pres.: Mrs. Patrick Harrington.

3rd Vice-Pres.: Mrs. Charles Downey.

Cor.-Sec.: Mrs. Edward Costello.

Rec.-Sec.: Miss Agnes Murray.

Treas.: Mrs. Thomas Harrington.

Amusement Committee: Mrs. Jos. Guiry, Mrs. W. C. Herlihey, Mrs. Charles L. Lucas, Mrs. Patrick Perdue, Mrs. Bert Lucas, the Misses Ruby Perdue, Carmelita Morrissey, Marie Murphy and Mary O'Connell.

Lunch Committee: Mrs. Jos. M. Lucas, Mrs. Albert O'Neill, Mrs. Martin Herlihey, Mrs. Neil Murray, Mrs. Charles S. Lucas, Mrs. John O'Leary, Mrs. William B. Scully, Mrs. James Piggott and Mrs. J. Lucas.

Mr. J. J. Lynch has returned home from Huntsville, where he disposed of his second bunch of horses. He took three up on this trip. He says heavy horses are in good demand but light horses are hard to dispose of.

Mr. W. T. Sargent, our Raleigh agent, has been through this district and is making good. He is making his headquarters at Dunsford.

Miss Mae Goselin and her sister, Mrs. A. Bayer of Rochester, N. Y., who were called here owing to the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. Goselin, in the village, have returned to their homes. Mrs. Goselin is much improved.

Mrs. Thomas Carroll was the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Harrington, last week.

A large number in the parish are on the sick list, some with the cold and others with the mumps.

Mr. Timothy Dorgan, the village blacksmith, had a bee on Monday and Tuesday cutting and drawing up his wood, and got it all up.

Miss Marjory Murray, one of the most popular young ladies of the parish, left for Toronto on Tuesday, where she has secured a position. Marjory will be missed by a host of friends as she was a general favorite with all.

Mr. and Mrs. James Piggott and Mrs. Timothy Piggott spent Sunday last the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Murphy in Ops.

Mrs. Martin Herlihey and children are at present the guests of her father, Mr. Thomas F. Crowley, in Peterboro.

Mrs. Thomas Harrington and son, John, were business visitors to Lindsay last week.

Mr. Thomas Lucas attended the annual meeting of the Emily Telephone Company, in Omemee, where he was again appointed to repair the phones and lines when out of order for the township.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Patrick Clancy of Lindsay, a former resident of this place, and we hope for a speedy recovery.

GERMAN DOGS UNCOVER DARING BERLIN THEFTS

Two Owned by Police Department Have Long Record in Tracing Loot.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—Two German police dogs owned by the Berlin department, and answering to the names of Bodo and Held, are in the midst of a hot rivalry for canine thief-catching honors. Until recently Held was indubitably a heavy favorite, but today Bodo evened up the race.

It seems that shirts worth 1,000 marks were stolen from George Polvogt's shop. Bodo was put on the trail. He led the officers into the backyard of the shop, over a fence, through several gardens and over more fences and finally stopped before three bags in a yard a block away. Sure enough, there were the shirts.

Held, whose name means "hero," had previously registered a striking performance by trailing down a thief who had puzzled the police by thefts of garden plants from a farmer. The dog got the scent from a foot-print on the farm. He followed the trail across the fields, through a forest footpath and finally stopped at the home of a certain farmhand. The latter, surprised and frightened at the barking of the dog, immediately confessed.

FOR GILT FRAMES.

When gilt frames are new go over them with a coat of colorless varnish. Then all specks can be washed off without the water injuring the finish.

He was worth $40,000 —and didn't know it

John Parsons earned $2,400 a year. He carried $2,000 life insurance. He didn't realize:
—that his earning power was that of an invested fortune of $40,000.
—that, on the day of his death, his family's assets would be reduced from $40,000 to $2,000.

How long could they exist on $2,000? What would they do after it was spent?

John Parsons answered these and other disquieting questions that arose in his mind with a North American Whole Life Policy.

He chose this policy because he wanted a large insurance protection at an extremely low annual premium rate.

What is your annual income? How would your loved ones fare if they were deprived of it to-morrow?

The attached coupon will bring you our booklet "The Whole Life Policy." It tells you how easy it is to create an estate sufficient for your family's needs.

KEEP IDENTITY WHILE JOINING OTHER CHURCHES

Unionist Minority of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Makes Important Decision.

NO SEPARATE BODY.

Rev. Robert Pogue Delivers Valedictory in the Church Where He Has Ministered 17 Years.

That they would not form a separate entity as a branch of the United Church, but would go in with other Union congregations, according to their personal desires, was the decision reached by the Unionist minority of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, at a meeting in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday, led by Rev. J. H. Edmison, Toronto. While they join with other congregations, Methodist and Presbyterian, the Unionists retain their identity as a Presbyterian Unionist group in each church until June 10th next.

Another decision reached was to give Rev. Robert Pogue an opportunity to recuperate his health which has been seriously undermined, and he will shortly be released for an extended vacation. Rev. Mr. Pogue who announced his intention to resign from the pastorate of the Church, where he has worked for seventeen years, whether or not Church Union carried, will preach next Sunday in Knox church, and on the following Sunday in St. Andrew's Church.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was crowed yesterday for the closing sermons of Rev. Mr. Pogue's pastort ate. His valedictory was a beautiful and inspiring message for Unionists and non-concurring Presbyterians,delivered with the impressiveness that has marked him throughout his ministry.

Morning Service.

At the morning service he said: "Lord, what will thou have me to do?"

I took these words as the text of a sermon which I preached before the vote on Church Union as furnishing a principle to guide us in so important a decision. Now that our decision has been made, I wish to take these same words this morning that we might find in the principle which they contain guidance for the course which we are to pursue as concurring and non-concurring members of this Church in the days which lie before us. I pointed out in the former use which I made of this text that it is possible for every true child of God to know the will of the Father for his life and to perfectly translate that will into conduct. I also sought to show that God's will is one and that while those who are guided by it alone must act as one, it is quite possible, through failure rightly to interpret that will, for two persons to take different courses and each to be perfectly conscientious in so doing. It is this failure on our part to receive perfectly the impression of the Divine mind which makes possible our unhappy divisions on all matters which concern the expression of our religious life.

However difficult it may be to discover the Divine will, and however often we may fail to embody it in life and character there is no escape from the principle that the one and only rule for our guidance, in all the walks of life, is the will of God—is always so to act that we may be pleasing to Him. "Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth Thee" is the alone principle of conduct for a child of God.

1. In seeking to apply the principle of my text to those of you who are remaining out of the Union and whose future home is to be in this building there are two or three things I should like to say. It is not for me to say infallibly what God's will for you is. But a few things stand out quite clear as seeming to be in the Divine will for those who shall continue to work in this place.

1. Humility. You are now in the possession of this beautiful church building. St. Paul's has a history and a name which few churches in Canada possess She has been known all over the Dominion as one of the great churches of the Presbyterian Church in Canada She possesses the unique distinction of having had only three ministers in 92 years. A long line of outstanding men have served her in the eldership and in different departments of her work Of noble women she has had not a few She has stood all through the years for an evangelical ministry. Her chief title, however ,to fame has been her interest in and gifts for missions at home and abroad. Few churches, outside of the large cities, have given as liberally to missions, and this last year has been the best in her history, her gifts to home and foreign missions being over $10,000.

Surely the feeling will be yours today which has been the feeling of all God's servants to whom any great responsibility has come for which they did not feel themselves worthy: who am I that this great inheritance should be mine and that this great door of opportunity should be opened to me?

2. Confession and Repentance. John began his ministry with the cry, "Repent." Our Lord began His with the same cry. No great revival has ever come to a church until there has been the confession and the putting away of all sin. If the leaders of St. Paul's Church hope to see a real work of grace in this place in the coming days they must prepare themselves and the people whom they lead by a time of very deep heart searching before God in the confession and the forsaking of all sin.

3. Then following confession must come consecration.

What is consecration? It is the surrender of all we are and have to the service of God. The appeal of Christ to the members of His church is not: "Come and take life easy, come and spare yourself, come and appeals for money in my church will be unheard." That is not the Christian motive, the Christian challenge or the Christ call. Rather it is: "Come and give, come and serve, come and suffer, come and die." In the Book of Revelation we read of those whose testimony for Christ had resulted in martydom that "they loved not their lives unto the death." That is consecration. Why should any Christian love his life?

"Take my life and let it be Consecrated Lord to Thee."

Consecration is the laying of all upon the altar, even to life itself that Christ may be glorified.

The first sermon I preached to this congregation was on the text: "He saved others, Himself He cannot save." I should like in passing from this point to quote some of the words which I then used. "You cannot save yourself and sa e others. You cannot spare yourselves and save a lost world. The great days of the Church have ever been the days of the martyrs, the days when men were willing to suffer and die for their faith Only as the church becomes a witnessing church, only as she is willing to suffer for her testimony, only as she is willing to become as a grain of wheat and fall into the ground and die can she bear fruit and be a power in the earth. There is only one way by which the Church can grow and fill the whole earth and Christ's purpose for the world be realized, and that is by the church becoming one great Gethsamene, sweating, as it were, great drops of blood and giving of herself and her substance to the point of sacrifice."

If the members of this church are to realize its purpose for them they cannot set before them a higher ideal than in the lines with which I concluded my first sermon to you:

Oh, God, that I could blaze out for Thee:
When I am dying, how glad I shall be,
That the lamp of my life has been blazed out for Thee.
I shall not mind in whatever I gave
Labour or money, one sinner to save;
I shall not mind that the way has been rough,
That Thy dear feet trod the way was enough,
When I am dying how glad I shall be,
That the lamp of my life has been blazed out for Three.

II. And now let me seek to apply the words of my text, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" to the Union members of this congregation. What is God's will for you in the present moment and in the coming days? Placing myself with you let me try to indicate what I think the will of God for us is I would put my answer something like this: We have put our hands to the plough and therefore we must not look back. We have caught the heavenly vision and we must not be disobedient. We have heard the voice of the Master say, "This is the way," and we must walk in it. He has spoken to us as He did to the disciples when many who had followed Him for the loaves and fishes went back and walked no more with Him. "Whosoever will come after Me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me." There is no other course for us but to follow the Master in the way of cross-bearing and self-denial. We have espoused the cause of Union as a great faith and we must be true to it, as a great vision and we must follow it, as the will of the Master, and we must obey it. The following are some of the reasons why we have been Unionists and why we shall continue to be Unionists.

1. We believe first of all, that Union is the will of the Master. His words in the Gospel of John are possible of no other interpretation. In the 17th Chapter in the 20th and 21st verses He says: "Neither pray I for these alone but for them also which shall believe on Me through their word that they all may be one as Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in Us; that the world may believe that Thou has sent Me." I know what ingenious devices of exegesis have been employed to make these words mean other than the plain reading of them indicates. Christians are to be as truly one in their relationship one to the other as is the Father and the Son. That surely is their meaning. Of course a spiritual Union is implied in the words. It is true that all Christians are one now in Christ Jesus We are all born of the same Spirit. We are all children of God. But the union of which Christ speaks is more than that. It is a union that is to have a visible manifestation. And the reason for that is given in the words of the 21st verse: "That the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me."

The world cannot see a spiritual union. It can see a spiritual union in manifestation. There can be no union where one brother erects an impassable barrier between himself and another barrier. And there can be no union where one company of God's children erect impassable barriers between themselves and other companies of God's children, in a spirit which says: "I cannot work or worship with you"

Christ has taught us to pray that God's will may be done upon the earth as it is done in Heaven Is there any disunion in Heaven? Some of you have lost dear ones recently. What would they say if they were to return to earth? They would tell you that in heaven they are one great happy family, and that divisions are unknown among them. They would say, "You should live on earth as we live in Heaven. You should do God's will on earth as we do it in Heaven. Perfect love should reign and no barriers should separate between one company and another."

That Union is of Christ and that this is the meaning of His prayer simply does not admit of argument, and I need not stress the matter further. We are Unionists, and we are going to live up to our faith as Unionists because ,with all our soul we believe it is the will of Christ, and that in the ideal church which is to be, when the will of God shall be the will of all His people, there will be no ecclesiastical divisions. This is the first time the opportunity has come to us to help answer Christ's prayer that His Church might be one. When we voted for the Union of three great branches of it we were helping to answer that prayer. We made up our minds that we should not allow this opportunity to pass, for another opportunity may not come to some of us until we stand in the presence of Him to whom all disunion among His people is sin.

2. Again we are Unionists, and we shall continue to be Unionists, because we believe in missions, and that the paramount duty of the Christian Church is not the preservation of a name or an "ism," but the giving of Christ to the whole world. When we sent our canvassers out to inform the people of the issue, we told them to speak only of two things: "First, Union is the will of Christ; and, secondly, Our country and the world need it." We said to them: "Do not talk trivalities and technicalities. Do not argue about loaves and fishes, about such petty things as temporal loss or gain. Do not discuss such sordid matters as to whether this is going to cost you more or less in money. Speak to the people about the will of Christ and the need of the world, and if they do not respond to that appeal we do not wish their vote."

We are Unionists, then, because we wish to make this land and all lands Christian. The facts about our Great Northwest are well known to you. I shall repeat but one or two. The Union Movement was born in the hearts of some of our great Christian statesmen, who saw the vast stretches of our great Northwest fast becoming pagan because the church did not have the means to send men to these needy places. The reason for this was the sinful waste of overlapping. Gradually these people in the West came to see that, as brethren, there was no need of two men serving as ministers in a community where one could do the work, especially as the form of their worship, and the substance of their message were the same. As a result they raised the question: Why not unite? That question was soon on the lips of our church leaders and church members everywhere. The matter was voted upon twice by the members of the church and by large majorities they gave authority to the church courts to proceed with the Union. The General Assembly did so proceed in 1916. Immediately their decision was communicated to the sister churches and arrangements were at once begun for its consummation. One form of these arrangements was the uniting of churches all over the West as well as other parts of the Dominion. These churches are now carrying on as Union churches.

Already there has been a great saving in men and money. In New Ontario alone 52 men have been set free to work elsewhere and $40,000 a year of mission money has been saved to be given to more needy places. When the Union is complete and in operation there will be hundreds of places receiving the Gospel message which are now without Gospel ordinances of any kind.

A saved land; a Christian land; a land in which the Gospel is preached in every hamlet and village; a land in which the stranger within our gates is made to feel the warmth of our Christian love and thepower of our Christian faith; a land in which there shall be no denominational rivalries, but all the disciples of the Master shall love one another, and live as brothers, and work side by side in a fellowship sweet and strong for the winning to the Saviour of all His lost children the world over.—this has been the ideal of Church Unionists all through the years, and this shall be their ideal in all the days to come, until their ideal has become real and the kingdoms of this world have become the Kingdoms of our Lord and Master, and His will shall be doe upon the earth as it is in Heaven.

As Unionists, therefore, there can be no turning back. Men of God have spoken of our cause as "The Great Adventure." It was a true prophetic inspiration which led them thus to speak of the Church Union movement. Men with little of religion or poetry in their soul have criticized the words. Any student of sermonic literature knows that the title which is given to sermons on the call of Abraham more than any other is "The Great Adventure." The call which has come to the churches to unite their forces in a crusade for Christ and His Kingdom is as truly a call of God as was the call which came to Abraham. The response of Abraham to the Divine call to him, was "The Great Adventure." It is the adventure of faith. It may have seemed a leap in the dark, but it was a leap at God's command. Abraham believed God had spoken and so "he went out not knowing whither he went," but confident that God was leading. Because God had spoken he counted got the cost and took all the risks.

And because God has spoken, and Unionist members of this congregation have heard, we shall follow where He leads, counting not the cost! May God help us, for we cannot do otherwise.

In the Evening.

"Come for all things are now ready" was the text from which Rev. Robert Pogue preached his final sermon in St. Paul's Church last night. In the Gosnel story both in the New and Old Testaments, blessings are very frequently represented by the simile of a great feast, to which a King would invite all his friends for days and weeks of festivity and rejoicing. But this compared to the heavenly feast to which all are invited was a small affair as it had to come to an end and was followed by heartaches and headaches while the heavenly joy is unending, the speaker said in the course of a deeply spiritual address.

It was not always possible for God to give this invitation as before the great atonement Justice waited with a flaming sword in the way.

The love of God is shown from one cover of the Book to the other, and whenever anyone sinned God pleaded with him to return. Thus when Adam, David and other men forsook the Lord, the Bible tells of God's mercy and forgiveness.

The greatness of the love of God is nowhere so well known as in the Parable of the Prodigal Son, which represents the Father's loving reception of his erring children on their return from the far country of sin.

When Christ said on the Cross, "It is finished," He meant that the payment had been made and that all who believed on Him might come to the great feast. This great privilege has cost a great price as God had to forsake His Son and leave Him for a shameful death so that He might be waiting with a robe of righteousness for all those who come to Him.

Warns Prince of Wales He'll Break His Neck

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(United Press).—The Prince of Wales received a friendly warning on Saturday and did not demur.

His Royal Highness and Prince Henry were driving into Whissdenine Farm, near Melton-Mowbray, to mount for the Cottermere hounds meet, when they met the owner, who did not recognize the arrivals. He complained to them that the huntsmen's horses were cutting up the land.

The Prince of Wales apologized and promised to ride carefully.

"I hear that the Prince of Wales and his brother are coming here," said the farmer.

"I believe they are expected," replied Prince Edward.

Whereupon the ruralite remarked, "The Prince of Wales will break his neck one of these days, mark my words."

"I shouldn't be surprised," said the Prince simply.

They chatted a few moments and then the members of the Royal Family rode off without disclosing their identity.

KU KLUX KLAN OF CANADA IS REGISTERED IN ONTARIO

Klan Comes Into the Open In Toronto—Some Men Register as "Hidden Knighs of the Midnight Sun."

REGISTRATION GRANTED.

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (Canadian Press).—Acting on behalf of C. Raymond Larson, engineer, and Carlton B. McGowan, operator, J. R. Code, local barrister, has applied to the city registry office for and has been granted registration of two fraternal societies, one known as the Invisible Empire Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Dominion of Canada, and the other the Hidden Knights of the Midnight Sun of the Dominion of Canada.

Mr Code received word today that objection to registration has been made and that it might be necessary to apply for letters of incorporation.

Rumors of Klan activities in Ontario have been circulated for some time, but this is the first definite move made for registration as a society.

PRINCE OF WALES ASSOCIATION MET

Mrs. George Worboy Elected President—Annual Reports Presented.

The annual meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association was held in the kindergarten room of the school on Friday evening with a good attendance. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read in their absence by Mrs. George Davis, both showing encouraging progress made during the year, with a good attendance at the meetings and a splendid spirit of co-operation between parents, teachers and pupils. The society expressed the hope that parents would continue their membership during the coming season.

The election of offciers took place, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. George Worboy; first vice president, Miss E. Huffman; second vice president, Mrs. Carr; secretary, Mrs. George Davis; treasurer, Mrs Harold Wilson, Convenors of committees. Social, Mrs. George Robertson; Programme, Mr. T. Miller; Refreshments, Miss L. Wilson; Telephone, Mrs. S. Watson.

The pennant this month was won by Miss Eagleson's room. An interesting programme followed the business session, those taking part being Miss Olga Fowler and Miss Helen Turner, who played several pianoforte selections; Roy Rome, with violin numbers, and Mignon Mayneord ,whose whistling of the "Spring Song" was received with enthusiastic applause, and proved a very enjoyable number in an attractive programme.

There was also an instructive and entertaining address given by Rev. Jas. Gordon, who spoke on ways and means of furthering co-operation between teachers and parents. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the programme.

SCHOONER SUNK AT SEA.

Captain and Six of Republic's Crew Are Missing.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press.)— The schooner Republic was sunk by an unidentified three-masted schooner at eight o'clock last night, and her captain and six men are missing, according to word reaching the marine and fisheries department this morning.

The message added that others of the Republic's crew were safe at Cape Sable Island life-saving station.

PARISIAN FROCK

The Fernchwoman is always true to the combination of black and white, no matter what new ones may be the vogue. Here is a typical Parisian street frock of mosheen with the fashionable high collar, long sleeves and pleated panels that are so smart. A few white buttons are added for good measure.

UNUSUAL TREAT FOR ROTARIANS

Mr. Charles Peaker Gives Biographical Sketch of Bach.

A FINE RECITAL.

The Peterboro Rotary Club had a most unusual and interesting treat at its regular luncheon to-day when Mr. Charles Peaker, organist of Knox Church, gave a scholarly biographical sketch of Johann Sebastian Bach, and brilliantly played some of the works of the great composer. Mr. Peaker scored a triumph not only as a musician but as an orator, for he succeeded in making his biography of Bach a gem that constantly intrigued the interest of his hearers and was free from the technicalities that in less skilful hands might have rendered the subject unintelligible.

Mr. Peaker declared that Bach was the greatest of all composers, because he produced remarkable works not only for the organ but for orchestras and choirs, the violin and other instruments. In his sketch of the composer's life the speaker stressed the wonderful perseverance and persistence of Bach, whose productions included no fewer than 201 pieces for the organ alone. Throughout the address this genius for hard work on the part of the composer was emphasized by the speaker, who dwelt upon some of the features of charcteristic Bach productions. He pointed out that although written centuries ago, Bach's works were modern; the compositions of other musicians at the same period appeared antiquated in comparison. And it was a common fallacy to think that his works were written only for the elite, for the experts who appreciated the technical skill involved. As a matter of fact, they held much appeal and charm for the uninitiated.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Peaker gave a most enjoyable piano recital, selecting some characteristic examples of Bach's shorter works. His programme included a transcription of the song, "My Heart Ever Faithful," a fugue, a gavotte in G, an organ prelude, and caprice in C minor. Mr. Peaker's rendition of these numbers was a masterpiece of skilful technique and a striking demonstration of the qualities of the Bach compositions. His brilliant performance was a climax to a most enjoyable effort, and the Rotarians showed their appreciation in hearty fashion.

Nominations took place to-day for the election of the directors for the ensuing year, and a large slate was put into the field. Voting takes place on March 9th.

MOVIE NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD

By HAROLD E. SWISHER.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (United Press).—One of woman's chief duties, aside from making a home for herself and whatever men folk she may happen to have around, is to dress as creditably as her resources permit.

This is the opinion of Leatrice Joy, one the best known and best dressed women on the screen, who has returned to motion pictures.

It is not how much a woman spends on her clothes that counts; it is how she spends it, Miss Joy believes. Knowing what not to wear is just as important as knowing what to wear.

"One woman will spend a fortune in the shops each year without adding in the least to her appearance, while another, with a far more meager purse, will make herself stunning," Miss Joy said.

"Some women will insist on wearing enough bits of this and that on their hats to stock a notion store.

"Others who are inclined to be stout continually wear the type of gowns that accentuate their size. Again, many slender women wear clothes which produce the same result that would be obtained from hiring a small boy to walk along, bearing a sign reading, 'Loo! See how thin and gawky this lady is.'"

None of this is necessary, Miss Joy believes, following a discussion of present and future styles with Travis Banton, Parisian styles dictator, imported by Famous Players-Lasky to create fashions for "The Dressmaker From Paris," in which the star is returning to the cinema.

"Styles are elastic enough this year for any woman to suit her personality in clothes," Miss Joy said. "She should study her type and adapt it to the styles, for somewhere within their range she can find something to fit her individuality.

"If she is inclined to be stout, the popular slightly circular effect in soft crepe materials will make her appear more slender. If she is very slim, she can take advantage of styles that others cannot wear.

"Mr. Benton tells me that the wandering waist line has returned home," Miss Joy continued, and is to be defined by a slight fitting of the dress to the body rather than by a belt, although when the latter is used it will follow the natural waist line."

Short skirts, the star said, will be even shorter this year than ever before. The dress that is closer than 15 inches to the ground will be of the ultra-modest kind.

An attractive gown and well groomed woman or girl will have a far better chance in the business world than one who concentrates alone on brain power and business ingenuity, Miss Joy believes.

"It is no longer that that a woman should dress like a pall-bearer's assistant when she takes her place in the business world," was the way the star put it.

Ray Hatton, character actor, is reveling in his private dressing room, a Christmas gift from his wife. The room is built adjoining the Hattan garage and is equipped with a bath, shower, boot racks, hat blocks, shoe trees and moth proof bags. A full length mirror and dressing table complete the furnishings.

Hatton is said to have the largest individual wardrobe in the motion picture business. He dons his make-up and character clothes before leaving for the studio. In this way, Hatton says, one is not as likely to lose any of his belougings as if he dressed at the studio. If anything is missing, it can be traced immediately to the Japanese gardener or the dog.

If there is a more neglected screen wife in Hollywood than Irene Rich no one has seemed able to locate her. Practically every one of Miss Rich's picture marriages result in the husband being vamped away from the family fireside. In "My Wife and I," now being made at Warner Brothers Studio, Huntley Gordon is the husband who harkens to the call of the siren.

Ethel Clayton, one of the former favorites of the screen, will return to pictures, playing an important role in "The Mansion of Aching Hearts," a B. P. Schulberg production.

THIS PASTOR TOOK MONKEY TO CHURCH

But None of Congregation Claimed Common Ancestry With Him.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—A monkey, tethered a few feet from the pulpit as an exhibit against the evolution theory, cast quizzical glances over an overflowing congregation in Park Avenue Baptist Church here last night while Rev. Dr. Floyd T. Holland preached a sermon on "Man or Monkey."

A climax for the congregation — and monkey—came when he was held aloft in the pulpit, a stern finger thrust toward him and the pastor challenged anybody in the church to stand up and concede common ancestry with the Simian. Nobody stood up.

The minister explained that his theme and live exhibit from the Zoo was prompted by the introduction of a bill in North Carolina Legislature to prohibit teaching of the evolution theory in State-supported schools.

FARMERS ASK FOR HELP.

Good Demand For Farm Labor at Employment Bureau.

The employment situation throughout the Province shows a slight improvement this week.

The farmers are commencing to come in for their spring help, but some difficulty is experienced in getting men to go to the country.

There are at present 105 unplaced men on the books at the local office, 40 names being added last week, while 25 placements were made.

AGAINST INFLATION.

PARIS, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press). — Premier Herriot, in explaining the Government's financial policy to the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, declared emphatically against any inflation.

CHURCH UNION SUMMARY.

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press). — Reports received up till noon to-day show 1,295 Presbyterian congregations have voted to enter the United Church, while 435 have voted non-concurrence.

BITTERLY OPPOSE O.T.A. AMENDMENT

Temperance Forces Gather in Toronto For Big Dry Convention.

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press.)— Armed with instructions from local gatherings of temperance forces in various parts of Ontario, to oppose by all available means passage of the "stronger beer" amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act, proposed by the Ontario government, delegates are already gathering here for the opening to-morrow of the Ontario Prohibition Union Convetnion in this city. It is expected that the Union will on Tuesday or Wednesday storm the Ontario Legislature with practically a unanimous resolution against the passage of the amendment.

The Ontario Prohibition Union is practically successor of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance. R. J. Fleming, of Toronto, is president of the Union, with G. R. Warburton and Mrs. William Pugsley, vice-presidents. Rev. John Bailey is secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY.

Fish and Game Association Meets at Empress Hotel.

The Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association will hold its annual meeting at the Empress Hotel on Friday, February 20, at 7.30. This association has done good work in the conservation of fish and game, preventing the fish-hog and others of his class from cleaning the woods and waters of the district of their inhabitants.

Conservation is the great plea of hunters' and fishermen's associations all over the continent and they are working together for this end. All those interested in good hunting and fishing are invited to attend the meeting on Friday.

HAD HEARTBURN AND HEADACHES FOR MANY YEARS

Miss Reta Burris, R. R. No. 1, Waterford, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled with heartburn and headaches for many years. There were verw few things I could eat without suffering from either the heartburn or severe headaches.

Worried Over His Debts He Took His Own Life

MOOSE JAW, Feb. 16.—Fits of melancholia following the return by magazine publishers of short stories and articles he had submitted, and worry over an unpaid board bill led to the suicide Friday night on a farm south of Moose Jaw, of Wm. P. S. Jamieson. He was forty years of age and a graduate of a Scottish University.

Here is the way to glistening teeth that dentists now advise

It removes that dingy film from your teeth. It clears cloudy teeth. Start beautifying your teeth today—why wait?

MODERN science now tells us how to clean and brighten dingy teeth. A new way widely urged by leading dentists of the world. Different in formula, action and effect, it does what no other method has yet attained—removes and combats, without harsh grit, the dangerous film that covers teeth and which old type dentrifices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the prettier, whiter teeth you envy in others. If you combat that film your teeth will quickly glisten in a way that will delight you. Ask your druggist for a tube of Pepsodent. Results will amaze you.

The Great Enemy of Teeth.

Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause according to world's dental authorities, of pyorrhea and most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Mail the coupon now. Don't expect the same results from old type dentrifices. Begin beautifying your teeth to-day.

Optimism a Nation Builder

Many Developments in Canada Point to Improved Conditions. Wool Industry Grows in Last Few Years. Pessimism Should Have No Place Here.

The prince of optimists was the man who, already on the scaffold, opined that his execution was going to be a powerful warning to him against committing more murders.

Next in distinction probably, is the married man of more than five years' standing, who still cherishes the belief that he can show his wife new wrinkles in house-keeping.

The optimist is the constructor, the accomplisher, the nation builder. When his plans are smashed by catastrophe, when his castles in Spain are blown away by the winds of adversity, when hard knocks have rendered him all but speechless, he mutters, "It might be worse," and starts all over again. When the rewards of his faith in himself, his fellow man and his country begin to make the wheels of life run more smoothly, envious ones say that he is lucky. They overlook the all-important fact that he made his luck.

There is something heart-warmin. about the words optimist and optimism The former is a believer in the latter, and Latin is the language whence they spring. "Optimus" is the word of origin, and its meaning is given as "best."

Optimism is the only known antidote of pessimism, and pessimism is the curse of every nation. Faith is the essence of national progress. Canada has as much of pessimism to the square yard as any other country. It is nothing to brag about: never was and never will be. The very derivation of the word is sufficient to condemn its cult. Coming from the Latin "pessimus," meaning "the worst," it is true to its parentage. Its philosophy, as gloomy as its propagandists, is defined as, "A theory of cosmology that regards the cosmos, or the world and life, or some main constituent therefo, as essentially evil, or (in its extreme form) as the worst possible world." A charming philosophy that, to carry about, especially since its devotees have no first-hand knowledge of conditions and affairs in other worlds.

The ordinary folk in the world we know of, have maintained a resonable quality of optimism in spite of the pessimists, who are many and persistent. One dispenser of gloom draws a terrible picture of a coal-less world, three hundred years from now. Who cares!

A noted anthropologist declares that the size of the human brain grows smaller, "that people have ten times more brain than they need, and most of them use a very small part of what they have." Why worry? Pass the dictionary and get busy on the cross-word puzzle.

"It might be worse."
Pessimism is no good to any nation: never was and never will be.

Just Think Of It!

In France the government is so anxious about the falling birth rate that it is proposing to increase the taxes on bachelors, spinsters, and childless couples and raise the bonuses to parents of large families. Britain is also worried about the decline in the birth rate. Another thousand years say the woeful ones, may bring both races to the verge of extinction. Think of it! But please don't let your tears fall all over the new Chesterfield.

On this side of the water an Ohio professor has been trying to convince his fellow countrymen that the increase in population is more than the United States can stand. If it is not retarded, the country will, in a few generations, have to accept a greatly reduced standard of living. Terrible! It begins to look as if the deadly poison gasses the American military experts are inventing every few weeks, will have to be used upon their old home people.

The pessimists who vision these dire happenings to occur in a time when all who now read or hear of them, will be deceased—quite dead in fact, are kindergarteners to some in our own Canadian midst. These apostles of despair see nothing ahead of the Dominion but annexation to the United States. They write down themselves and their fellow-countrymen as inferior beings: incapable of initiative, inappreciative of the tremendous resources of the land in which they live, and confident only that it has no future.

Most Canadians were shocked to hear that some of these pessimists were writing to English papers in a strain calculated to make John Bull's hair stand on end. It isn't fair to give the old gentleman that kind of shock: he has so many world problems on hand, and such a sublime faith in the ability of the Overseas Dominions to look after their own interests. He is puzzled and annoyed when somebody butts in, just as he is putting through an arrangement with France or Italy, and shouts that Canada is falling to pieces and he had better call out the Guards and the Bank of England gold reserve. He knows that there is no substance behind the yowling of the alarmists: but he also knows that it gives delight to those who are envious of the family of nations known as the British Empire.

Perhaps one reason for the vociferation of pessimists in Canada, is the inclination to look too closely at "the bigness" of everything in its geographical neighbor, and compare it with the attainments of their own country. They appear to regard it as a matter for shame that Canada, in a much shorter period, has not accomplished far more than the United States. A better and a fairer way would be to spend a little more time in consideration of what has been done by the Dominion, and in contemplating some of the auguries of a still brighter future. The history books are available to all. Two reference here will suffice. Kingston, Ont., and St. John, New Brunswick, were founded by United Empire Loyalists in 1783. A census taken in 1831 showed a population in Upper Canada of 236,702, Lower Canada 553,131, and Assiniboia 2,390. Assiniboia is now the prairie provinces. Think of the expansion and development of Canada, that has taken place since either of these dates. Today the wheat lands of our west are feeding the harbors of our Atlantic and Pacific coasts with cargoes that go to every part of the world. Canada has the available exportable wheat on the North American continent. It is a factor in fixing the price of bread in Britain. An old country firm has lately completed a huge elevator at Vancouver, and has bought elevators and storage plants across the prairie country. It has faith in Canada, hence its plans to develop and handle a great trade in Canadian wheat and flour to be shipped to far flung areas of the hemisphere. Yet there were people in days gone by who predicted that Canada would never raise enough wheat to feed its own population.

An Outsider's View.

Theodore G. Morgan, chairman of the United States Federal Economic Survey Committee, has just completed a thorough survey of this country. He predicts that the next ten years will witness a tremendous transformation, industrially and agriculturally throughout the Dominion. He uses superlatives freely in his opinions of Canada's bright future. Too bad he cannot be engaged to teach the Canadian pessimists class the lessons of faith and courage.

Another chapter of Canadian development, mineral production, should be read to the pessimists. In 1886 the total mineral production of all Canada was valued at $10,200,000. The value during 1924 was $205,462,000. Gold, lead and zinc production reached new high levels during the year: and silver, nickel and copper showed advances over 1923. Canadians are beginning to realize that the Dominion will sooner or later be a challenger of South Africa, now the leader, as the world's greatest producer of gold. Nickel, once considered almost entirely in its relation to armament is fast coming into general use for many domestic purposes. Canada not only completely overshadows all the rest of North American continent in the greatness of its nickel desposits and mines, but leads the world in them.

There was an age when a part of the world thought of Canada as a country of dense forests inhabited by wild beasts, while the rest of the world knew nothing about it. Some Canadians belong to that age. They are dead but remain unburied because their optimistic fellow countrymen are too kind hearted to hurt them,—physically.

When commercial fisheries are discussed in many other lands, the people think only of their sea harvests. Canada reaps wonderful crops, so to speak, from Atlantic and Pacific oceans both. If these were all the country would still possess the world's best deep-sea fishing areas. But think also of the inland fisheries. Not long ago the statement was made that close to 500,000 pounds of Manitoba whitefish are being shipped every week to New York and Boston. Lakes Winnipeg and Winnipegosis are the principal sources of this supply. The introduction of these whitefish to the United States markets does not date back so very far but their quality is the basic reason for a steadily increasing demand. Ontario and Quebec also have wonderful lake and river fisheries which are important sources of revenue and trade.

British Columbia's salmon canneries made new records in 1924: its halibut fisheries are making the eyes of fishers in other countries goggle with envy, and its whalers got lots of the big fellows to turn into profits last year.

Who in the East, except perhaps those engaged in the business, thinks of Saskatchewan and Alberta as contributors to the commercial fishing trade of the Dominion? But they are, and to a considerable extent too: a reminder of the day when the rest of Canada will cease to think of that section of the country as just a big wheat farm and nothing else.

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, are in the class of provinces which possess tremendous sea as well as inland fisheries. It was the lure of the Atlantic fisheries that led to the earliest discoveries of Canada: and those fisheries are more flourishing than ever.

Yet there are pessimists who would go down the list from whales to minnows, and declare that Canada's fisheries will be so depleted a few hundred years from now, that the people will not know what fish tastes like. If the whales would swallow some of these Jonahs and keep them down Canada would be a happier country.

Whales and Wool.

Talking about whales brings to mind another word starting with "W"—wool. Time was when Canadian wool was about as welcome to the spinners as rawhide: it was usually in poor condition and a total stranger to grading. Sheep were despised in many sections of the country unless they appeared in the guise of mutton. Optimists began to talk sheep and wool. Now Canadian factories are glad to have the home clip of the latter, and an increasingly large number of farmers and others are finding that there is something more than "baa" to be said for sheep. Over twelve million pounds of wool is the estimate of last year's Canadian clip, which is four or five times more than it was two or three years ago. Ontario and Quebec are the leading provinces when it comes to the woolly gambolers, but every province is beginning to realize that far from being the nuisance some folks have always held them to be money may be made out of sheep.

The Japanese government at this very moment, is striving to make sheep raising popular with its stock farmers. It is importing sheep from many countries. Those from Canada are rated second best but in view of the notable success some Canadian sheep breeders have obtained there is no reason why first place should not be taken. Japan does not like the idea of importing sixty to seventy million pounds of wool per annum, and producing less than thirty thousand pounds itself. The proportions in the Dominion are nothing like that, but with Canada's possibilities for sheep raising there should be no need for importing wool.

There ought to be surplus enough in domestic wool in this country to gag the lamentators whose doleful choruses are disturbing adults and keeping the children awake at nights.

The Faith That Abides.

Adam Brown of Hamilton, at the age of 99 years, made his annual trip to Toronto, early in the year, to attend the meeting of a company in which he is interested. The kernel of the address he made and an interview with the press, was his fresh outlook on life, and his optimistic faith in Canada. It was recalled that in 1865 a firm of which he was chief partner, sent the first shipment of Canadian factory cheese to England. It consisted of 50 boxes. The 1924 export of Canadian cheese is estimated at 122,782,000 pounds, and the value will run into millions of dollars.

LAKEFIELD HAS LADY MINSTRELS

Novelty Was Appreciated by a Large Audience in Memorial Hall.

COUNCIL MET.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 16—The Nuggets' Lady Minstrels provided a novel and popular entertainment on Thursday evening in the Memorial Hall, under the auspices of St. John's Church. Minstrel shows have been given in the village and have usually been very popular, but lady minstrels appeared for the first time and were greeted by a large and appreciative audience, who thoroughly enjoyed the jokes and little skits with which the musical programme was interspersed. The chorus were attired as mammies, wearing white dresses with large white aprons, red bandanas and 'kerchiefs. The end men were attired in various gay colors with plenty of jewelry and elaborately dressed coiffures which appeal to the colored belles. "Rastus Johnson, Vernon Castle and Rudolph Valentine were the typical colored swells in their natty white ducks and "dress" coats. The interlocutor, "Miss Chyrsanthemum," in a handsome black evening dress and elaborate white coiffure, gave the last touch to the group on which the curtain rose at 8.15. The choruses were hearty and full of pep and were well received as were all the musical numbers.

Comparisons are odious and to single one performer out for individual credit would be unfair to the remainder of the cast, as each one played her part capably and never for a minute did the affair drag. The second part of the program departed from the formal arrangement of the minstrel show and was a social evening given by Rastus Johnson an his wife "Queenie" at which all the cast were guests.

Mrs. Tate, at the piano, was a great factor in the success of the evening, as she was always ready and as an accompanist was an inspiration to the singers.

Rev. W. Cox was stage manager and Mr. Reg. Murduff was his assistant. The music for the clog dance was supplied by Mr. John Blewett on the violin

An especially popular number was the Cake Walk given in true southern style by Queenie Snapdragon and Vernon Castle, so well did they please the audience that they were compelled to respond to an encore.

The following is the cast and the programme:

Interlocutor — Miss Chrysanthemum, Mrs. E. H. Northey.

End Men—Queenie Snapdragon, Mrs. Osborne; Rastus Johnson, Mrs. Fawcett; Caroline Sunshine, Mrs. W. Millage; Clematis Persimmon, Mrs. F. Brown; Samantha Periwinkle, Mrs. O. H. Webster; Molly Snowball, Mrs. Bailey; Carnation Pistachio, Miss E. Webster; Petunia Crabtree, Miss Graham.

Colored Boys—Rudolph Valentino Miss A. Osborne; Vernon Castle, Miss Florence Mackenzie.

Chorus—Mrs. Gillman, Mrs. R. J. Knox, Misses Gwendolyn Simpson, Helen Simpson, Hazel Bolton, Helen Burgess, Mamie Brown, Mollie Thomson, Isabel Sutton, Ruth Crawford and Winifred Batten.

Pianist—Mrs. E. R. Tate.

The credit of getting up the entertainment is due Mrs. Fawcett and Mrs. Osborne.

Council Meeting.

The Village Council met in the council chamber on Saturday last and transacted the business of the month. A letter was read from the Trent Valley Waterways Commission asking for $20 as the share of the municipality for the demonstration in New York. The money was granted as this is advantageous to Lakefield.

The report of the Park committee with certain recommendations regarding park development was adopted, also the report of the fire chief and the library board.

Miss Johnston Entertained.

Miss Doreen Johnston entertained the members of St. Paul's choir at her home on Concession Street on Tuesday evening Rev. J. J. Gairey was present with the young people and a very pleasant evening was spent in games and music.

Rain Relieves Shortage.

The heavy rains of the week have relieved the soft water shortage which had become a serious matter to many householders. Many a housewife in the village was compelled to melt snow for household use.

Sports Night.

The rink has re-opened after a few days' holiday, owing to the very mild weather. The ice kept very well and is once more in first class shape. The annual sports' night will be held February 17, a month earlier than usual, and promises to be the premier event of the season, as the programme provides besides the usual races some novelties.

Personal.

Mr. E. W. Davis of Toronto was in the village on Thursday.

Rev. P. L. Jull was in Campbellford this week attending a meeting of Presbytery.

Mrs. J. H. Cant was in Washington, DC, at a Presbyterian Missionary Conference last week

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Spence were in Peterboro on Friday night.

Mr. A. H. Taylor of Toronto was in the village on Thursday

The NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath

©1924—INA Service Inc.

After a little they began discussing trains going east. Sally, still somewhat doubtful as to whether she was really destined for Chicago, said that she did not believe they would make the railroad that night. The Wreck, strangely enough, agreed with her. He was less concerned about their goal than about the fact that they were in motion, going somewhere.

"When it gets to be daylight," she said, "I'm afraid we're likely to find the main road risky."

"You mean the sheriff?"

"Yes."

"How big is the posse?"

"Don't tell me you're dreaming of making a fight if we meet them," she exclaimed.

"I was only wondering how big it was."

"It doesn't make any difference. Even Bob Wells, alone, is big enough."

"Is he?"

She shook her head impatiently.

"You don't understand. I'm not saying you're not able to fight. What I mean is that we mustn't meet them at all. Of course, Bob wouldn't do anything to me. But we can't afford even to let him see us. And besides, we'll be dead for sleep by daylight."

"Oh."

"So it seems to me that the sensible thing to do is to turn off the road before it gets light, if we can find a place, and hide until it gets dark again."

They discussed it for a while, and he agreed with her. He had no doubt of his ability to skip a night's sleep if necessary, but there was no need to ask the same hardship of Sally. So they decided to find another hide-out as soon as it seemed wise to desert the road. Meantime, the flivver steadily left the Underwood ranch farther and farther behind.

Sally sat wondering what Charley McSween was saying, what Chester was doing, what everybody was thinking. She was afraid that Charley was having a difficult time of it with the boss of the ranch, and there were points about Charley that she admired. Of course, he had no business to kidnap them in the beginning, and it was intolerable for him to talk about detaining them for a month. But in other respects she found Charley McSween rather agreeable.

The Wreck was not thinking about Charley at all. He was not thinking of anything in particular, for that matter. He was in a mood of unusual content, his conscience clear, his mind restful, his optimism unshaken. All he asked was to keep on driving indefinitely. Even the presence of a woman passenger did not disturb him. The sex still bothered him, of course; but Sally was less a trouble than any of the others. There was no foolishness about her, and if it came to a pinch she could be relied upon to do things. In fact, she was just about as good as a man, he admitted to himself.

"We mustn't forget to look for a turn-out," she reminded him, after she glanced at her watch and studied the stars. The moon had already dipped below the horizon.

Each watched their own side of the road, the bobbing beam of the headlights spreading itself sufficiently wide to illuminate any turn-out they might reach. Sally discovered what appeared to be a regular wagon road on her own side, but after an examination they decided against it. There were signs of recent use and she feared that it might belong to another ranch. They were not in a hurry to meet any more ranchers.

Considerably later, the Wreck stopped the car and called attention to what looked like a trail, branching off to the left. Sally got out and examined it. There were wheel ruts, but they were overgrown. Wherever it led, it presented every aspect of abandonment. Sally did not remember it at all; she had been asleep when they passed that way before.

"Shall we try it?" she yawned.

"Get in."

He turned the flivver at a sharp angle and they left the main road. The new route began climbing a rise immediately, then dipped into a gulch. The Wreck found himself forced to drive with care, for there were sharp turns every few yards.

"There are lots of these old roads in this part of the country," commented Sally. "Most of them lead to mines that never panned out."

After some ten minutes of slow, but thrilling travel, she suggested a halt.

"This ought to be far enough," she said. "There are two ridges between us and the main road."

The Wreck stopped the car. The abrupt silencing of the motor left them in a stillness that was fairly startling. The place was dark, too, for there was a heavy growth of trees all about them, and the spreading light in the eastern sky did not reach them. As they sat for a minute trying to get the feel of their environment, Sally's hand crept over and sought the Wreck's arm. She was not nervous, exactly, but the touch of him reassured her.

Then her fingers clutched him with sudden fierceness, and she could feel his muscles tense under the grip.

"Did you hear that?" she whispered.

He had heard. It was the soft neigh of a horse.

She sprang to her feet, steadying herself against his shoulder, and her eyes began searching in the gloom. An instand later she bent her head.

"There's a little fire off through the trees—to the right," she said, in a low voice. "We have run into somebody's camp."

"Let's go," said the Wreck.

He was climbing out to crank the motor, when she clutched him again.

"Wait! I can hear somebody coming. You'll never be able to turn around in this place."

He, too, could hear footsteps off in the brush. Reaching forward to the dash, he switched off the lights.

"Turn them on!" commanded Sally. "We're caught anyhow, and I'm not going to be pounced on in the dark."

He turned the lights on again, and they waited. The footsteps were cautious, but they were still approaching.

"Put the gun away," she whispered, as she saw him fumbling with it. "It's not loaded and you'll only get into trouble. You can't run that kind of a bluff on Bob Wells, anyhow."

"Who?"

"Who else? Why, it's almost certain. Oh, of all the luck! We've run plumb into him. You let me do the talking, Henry Williams."

The footsteps were nearer.

CHAPTER XIX.

Captured

Just as Sally's fingers were digging into his arm until he was ready to growl a protest, a voice came from the bushes beside the car: "You better get 'em right up in the air—quick!"

Sally raised her hands promptly, and the Wreck followed suit, after she commanded him.

Into the back glare of the headlights stepped a man who carried a rifle that looked ready for work.

"One of 'em's a woman," he called, evidently addressing somebody behind him.

There was no answer from the rear. It seemed that the matter of conversation had been left wholly in his hands.

"We'll take the pedigree," said the man with the rifle. "Any relation to the sheriff?"

"Plenty of relation," said Sally, promptly. "We want to see him."

There was a chuckle by way of answer.

"Sure you're lookin' for the sheriff?" he inquired. "I kind of figure he's asleep and don't want to be disturbed."

"You lead me to Bob Wells," said Sally. "I'm going to step right out of this car, and if you start anything with that gun you'll wish you'd never been born."

The Wreck followed her, and they stood beside the flivver, with a rifle muzzle not more than a yard distant from them.

"I'll talk to Bob Wells and nobody else," declared Sally, firmly.

"Are you speakin' serious?"

"I certainly am. And I'd advise you not to argue about it."

He muttered something that she could not hear, yet it conveyed the idea that his mind was in doubt. The Wreck remained passive during the colloquy. He did not need Sally's caution. Whatever might be required of him, he felt that the time was not yet. Besides, he was sure that Sally had the right idea. There was no need for dealing with subordinates when Bob Wells was on the ground. He was quite willing to face the sheriff.

"Lead me to the sheriff," said Sally.

There was a suppressed laugh from the figure that held the rifle.

"I'll lead you," he said. "Come to think of it, I figure you'd better lead yourselves. You head for that campfire and I'll keep walking behind you. And don't forget I'm carrying a gun. Not that it makes any difference to me, but it might make a heap of difference to you."

Sally set off in the lead, stumbling through the brush in the direction of the camp. She was angry enough to shout what she wanted to say to Bob Wells, but she would not spoil the dramatic effect of a face-to-face meeting. The Wreck followed in her wake, grim, yet somewhat out of countenance.

It was a very small, disorderly and informal sort of camp. Sally discovered as soon as she put foot within the glow of dying embers. There was no tent: there was no sign of an establishment that contained even ordinary comforts. But there were two men with rifles in their hands, sitting up in their blankets and studying the strangers with hard eyes.

"Well, who you got there, Lefty?" inquired one of the men on the ground.

"Parties lookin' for the sheriff," observed Lefty, with a somewhat exaggerated wink.

"Just the two of 'em?"

"Just them."

The asker of questions arose to his feet for a better survey of the visitors. He was a large man, and his most conspicuous feature was a broken nose. Sally and the Wreck came to learn that his companions called him Nosey.

"Where is the sheriff?" demanded Sally, but this time she did not say it with any confidence. A sudden misgiving had assailed her.

"We ain't figurin' to meet up with the sheriff to-day," remarked Nosey.

"This is not his camp, then?"

"No: you might say it isn't."

Sally glanced at the Wreck.

"Well, Henry, I suppose we'd better be going," she said.

He nodded and was turning to lead the way, when he found the muzzle of Lefty's rifle sticking into his ribs.

"You two better set down awhile," said Nosey, who seemed to be a person of authority. "Lefty, you just keep your eye on the lady and gent. Denver, I wanta talk to you."

The third man climbed out of his blankets and followed Nosey. They went beyond earshot. The guard motioned Sally and the Wreck to seats on the ground and placed himself opposite them at a little distance, his back against a tree. The rifle lay ready in his hand.

"I'm afraid we've blundered," whispered Sally.

"What do you make of this bunch?" asked the Wreck.

"Pretty tough, I'm afraid."

"Might have been worse."

"How?"

"Might have been the sheriff."

"That's so," nodded Sally. "But I was all ready for him. Now, I don't know just what we're up against."

Daylight was coming rapidly in the untidy camp, and the more Sally saw of the place the less she liked it. There was only one inference, of course: they had stumbled into some kind of a gang, very likely the same gang for which Bob Wells was searching. Fine luck!

Nosey and Denver rejoined the group.

"What's the idea?" demanded the Wreck. "Prisoners?"

"Maybe," said Nosey, who looked thoughtful.

"Well, if it's robbery, you don't stand to win very much."

"What's the game, comin' in here askin' for the sheriff?" asked Nosey. "You friends of his?"

"We know him," said Sally, cautiously.

"That's plain enough. You were callin' him by name awhile back. You workin' for him?"

Sally and the Wreck said "No" together.

"I ain't so sure," mused Nosey. "He might think it was a smart trick, gettin' a woman to help play the game. I reckon you know the sheriff's out around here somewheres with a posse?"

"We heard so," admitted Sally.

"Do you know who he's lookin' for?"

"I suppose he's looking for you, isn't he?"

"Well, you might say so."

"You won't find us the least bit of use to you," said Sally. "You might as well turn us loose. And if we run into the sheriff we won't say anything."

Nosey shook his head incredulously.

"How come you're off the main road, up in here?" he inquired. "What fetched you? No: I figure we ain't goin' to turn you loose right yet."

The Wreck, who had been wonderfully patient through it all, was thinking whether it would pay to claim a community of interest with Nosey and his friends. He suggested it to Sally in a low voice, but she shook her head.

"They probably hate a rival gang worse than the sheriff," she whispered. "Besides, we don't look like a gang. They'd never believe it."

Denver had stirred up the fire, tossed a few fresh sticks on it and was getting breakfast. The leader of the party went off in the direction of the flivver, evidently to make an inspection. Lefty, still acting as guard, sat impassive against his tree, apparently not even indulging in thought.

"They can't keep us forever," said Sally.

"But perhaps long enough for the sheriff to catch up," suggested the Wreck.

"That would be bad, although I was resigned to it awhile ago. Now I feel as if we had a chance again."

"We'll make a break whenever you say."

Sally shook her head.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS AT MARMORA

Girls of High School Entertained—Excellent Programme Given.

MARMORA, Feb. 16.—A very interesting meeting of the Marmora's Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bleecker, on Wednesday, when the Institute entertained the girls of the third and fourth forms of the High School.

The girls gave the programme of the evening, which was an evening with Canadian writers and their works.

Miss Mildred Bedore, president of the H. S. Literary Society, was chairman and gave out the following programme:

Life and Works of Bliss Carman—Hazel Williams.

Piano selection—Lorraine Bell.

Talk on Henry Drummond—Dora Osborne.

Recitation — "The Stove - Pipe Hole," by Drummond Lorraine Conner.

Robert Service and selections from his works—Florence Clare.

Recitation—"The Shooting of Dan McGrew by Robert Service," Mildred Bedore.

Stephen Leacock's Life — Mary Maloney.

Career of Pauline Johnson—Edith Phillips.

Chorus — "May God Preserve Thee, Canada!"

Works of Peter McArthur — Hilda Thomson.

Each item of the programme was well presented, giving much valuable information about the lives of these authors, and showing their style of writing by various selections.

The programme was much enjoyed by those present, and a hearty vote of thanks was given to the girls by the ladies.

Then followed a "fabric contest." The answer to each conundrum was the name of some fabric. There were three ladies tied on the highest correct answers: Mrs. Prentice, Mrs. Clare and Miss Hazel Williams, but as the result of a draw, Mrs. Prentice carried home the prize.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Those present were: Mrs. F. Bowen, Mrs. Dr. Thomson, Mrs. Wesley Grant, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. B. Osborne, Mrs. W. Sanderson, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Bleecker, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Pinar, Mrs. (Dr.) Jones, Mrs. C. Nickle, Mrs. Doupe, Mrs. Marett, Mrs. Clare, Mrs. Prentice, Miss Muriel Jones, Mrs. Gladney, Mrs. F. Wells, Mrs. Donnelly, Miss Longmore, Miss Sauve, Mildred Bedore, Lorraine Conner, Lorraine Bell, Dora Osborne, Hilda Thomson, Florence Clare, Marc Maloney, Hazel Williams, Vera McIlroy, Edith Phillips.

Personals.

Mr. Brock Leonard was the winner on the draw for a turkey at the Roman Catholic card party last week.

Both the local milliners, Miss Deacon and Miss Auger, have gone to Toronto to spend a month.

The picture show usually shown on Saturday was given on Friday night, in order to oblige Havelock, where the show is usually shown on Friday night. A hockey game played in Peterboro was the cause of the change.

A number of the friends of Miss Muriel Bedore met at her home on Thursday evening to give her a "shower," as she is to be married in the near future.

Aaron Tompkins is confined to his home with pneumonia.

The Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Osborne for Bible study on Thursday evening.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. F. Wells on Thursday afternoon.

YELLOW FOR BLOND.

A more lovely evening frock for a blond can scarcely be imagined than one of yellow velvet, discreetly embroidered in gold.

ASKS RECEIVER FOR MILLS.

Stockholder Says Boone Woolen Company Has $3,000,000 Deficit.

CHICAGO, February 16.—A petition asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Boone Woolen Mills Company was filed on Saturday in the Superior Court by Harry Hurwich a stockholder, who charged that a deficit of $3,000,000 has developed during the last three years through alleged mismanagement.

The petition requested that afer a receiver has been appointed and an accounting made, a Court order be entered calling a meeting of the stockholders to elect new officers.

MARK LINEN

If bed linen is marked with the date when it is put into use it is easier to judge whether it is wearing satisfactorily.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 40c and 75c, at all druggists.

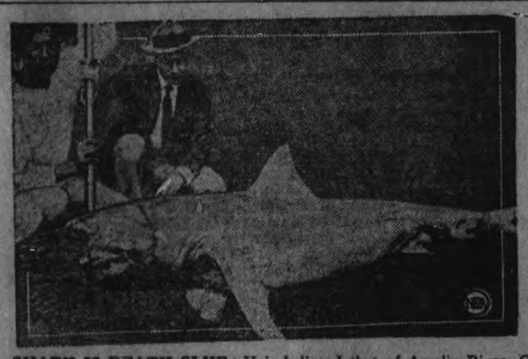
Neck Twisted in Rope and He is Accidentally Strangled.

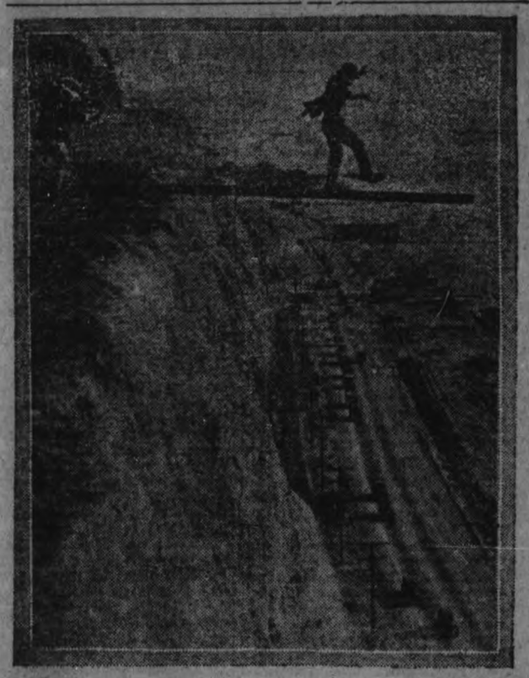
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Adolfo Paola, 13 years old, made a swing with a flatiron for a stirrup in the doorway of his two-room home, at 41 Bedford street, Saturday, while his mother, Angelia, went out for a few minutes' shopping. When she returned she found her son dead. He had got the rope twisted about his neck and strangled.

The police at first suspected suicide, but Mrs. Paolo said he had been cheerful at luncheon time.

LEGS WORTH 5000 FRANCS—Judging from the photograph being sent to this country, there must be scores of Parisiennes who own the "most beautiful legs in Paris." Here we have the latest claimant for the crown, Mlle. Linirys, pretty French actress who at least got 5000 francs as a prize at the Bal de l'Opera as the possessor of the most perfect feminine limbs.



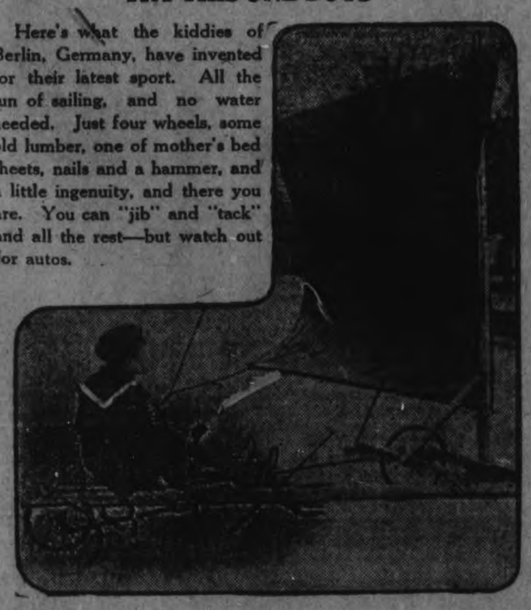
SHARK IS DEATH CLUE—Hair believed that of Amalia Rivas, Cuban actress, was discovered in the body of a monster shark near Tampico harbor by Fred Van Doren, fisherman. Miss Rivas was on the Ward Line steamer Esperanza when it sank near the harbor in March, 1924. Her body was not recovered. The shark is 1 meter 80 centimeters long.



HAIR-GROWING SCENE—Just to prove that these movie stunts aren't all faked, after all. This was snaped "on location" near Hollywood, and Eddie Gordon himself, not a double, is walking the plank.

TRY THIS ONE BOYS

Here's what the kiddies of Berlin, Germany, have invented for their latest sport. All the fun of sailing, and no water needed. Just four wheels, some old lumber, one of mother's bed sheets, nails and a hammer, and a little ingenuity, and there you are. You can "jib" and "tack" and all the rest—but watch out for autos.



IT'S THE LATEST: CROSSFACE PUZZLE!

TRY IT ON YOUR ALBUM

This "crossface" puzzle is worked just like crossword puzzles. All the persons pictured here are nationally and internationaly prominent. How many do you know? Follow the definitions on horizontal and vertical face just as you would on horizontal and vertical words. Tear out this picture and save it to compare with the correct answers tomorrow. Let's go:

HORIZONTAL

1. Two friends of the common people.
3. A "Glorious" actress and a men kept waiting on Daughrety's old job while the Senate pondered his ability at a judge.

Ohio Girls Need Not Fear That Driving Car Will Spoil The Shape of Their Calves

From a doctor out in California has come a report that the symmetry of the calves of the legs of American girls is being seriously threatened by an over use of the automobile. From the western coast comes the word that this authority has said that driving an automobile will cause the muscles of the right leg to bulge entirely out of proportion with those of the left. He probably guesses that frequent application of the brake while driving will bring about this strange condition.

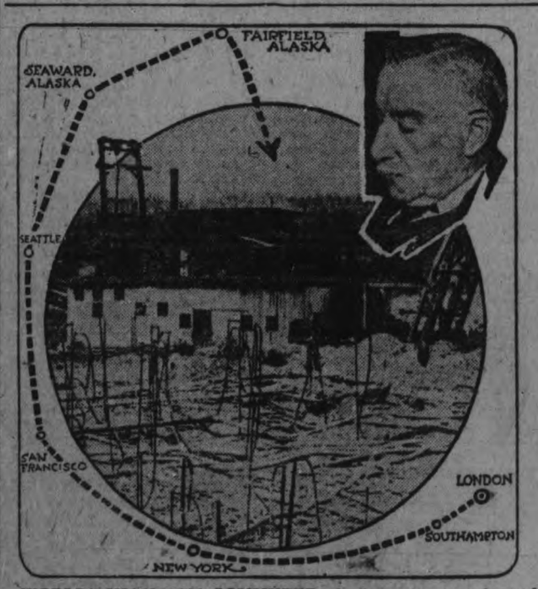
Authorities in Ohio, however, differ with him and in some sections of the state quite a discussion has been developed over his statements. It is said by many that the western medical man is all wrong in his conclusions and that if there is any development of leg muscles brought about by driving an automobile it is true in both legs and that they would develop equally.

Whether this doctor is right or not the discussions have caused an increased interest in the shape of the motoring girls' legs if such an increase was possible.

Automobile dealers say the westerner is all wrong and representatives of automobiles will be at the Cleveland automobile show January 17 to 24, prepared to show women visitors how wrong the California man really is. Photographs of the legs of motoring women show that the muscular development is approximately the same in each leg.

It is the plan of Manager Herbert Buckman to have a women's department in connection with Cleveland's show this year which will be the twenty-fourth annual automobile show in that city. In this department will be available for women visitors information of every nature that is sought by the women.

The show again will be held in Cleveland's magnificent $8,000,000 municipal auditorium and will introduce to Ohio approximately 200 models of 1925 cars, motor boats, an aeronautical exhibit, educational and feature displays, the petit salon of costly makes of cars, the latest in accessories and equipment in a comprehensive exhibit. Concert programs by two orchestras and on the city's $100,000 pipe organ will be given every afternoon and evening.



WORLD'S CHAMPION COMMUTER—And that is or ought to be Mr. Gabriel Aarons of Buckingham Gate, London. For here is what Mr. Aarons, despite his 70 years, has done each year for the past 13 years—travelled 9000 miles to his job in the spring, and 9000 miles back home again in the fall. Here's his route—From London to Southampton by train, then by boat to New York, by train to San Francisco, changes to a boat for Seattle, where he obtains a boaot to Seward, Alaska, thence by rail to the terminus to Fairfield, whence it is a mere trifle of 30 miles to the gold-dredging plant which he runs for a British company. In the fall he retraces the same route home to London.

TROPHY AND MEDALS PRESENTED TO THE PACKERS' SOCCER TEAM

W. H. Bradburn, M.L.A., Donor of Trophy, Congratulated Winners on Success.

GORDON MEDALS

C. P. Lloyd Re-elected President of Junior Soccer Association.

Saturday was a gala day for the C.P.C. football team, when the cup and medals won in the past year's soccer series were presented by three prominent citizens, G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., W. H. Bradburn, M.P.P., and Mayor J. J Turner.

There was a big attendance, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, auguring well for the future of the game in Peterboro. C. P. Lloyd, president, ably filled the chair.

Mr. Lloyd said though there may be a difference on political questions, when there's any sport about, then, "Gordon is the man." "Look at the value of the medals as coming from a man who holds a high position in the councils of the country," he urged the players.

Encouraging Sport.

Mr. Gordon said it is a pleasure to be associated with Mr. Bradburn and Mayor Turner in encouraging clean sport in the city, tending to the growth of sturdy strong manhood. He had followed the C.P.C. team all the way through the season and there was no doubt about where they stood Rejoicing with the team in its success in the district, Mr. Gordon said the qualities necessary to win the championship in football develop the traits necessary to fit them for the game of life.

The boys who are getting older should assist the juveniles to grasp the qualities of sportsmanship exemplified in their own team and in the teams that they meet..

He had omitted the mascot, a very important member of the team, but would see that this was remedied later.

Captain W. James replied on behalf of the team.

Mr. Lloyd said the teams from Dummer, Douro and the other outside places were sportsmen all the way through.

The Bradburn Cup.

W. H. Bradburn, presenting his cup to the C.P.C. team, said the trophy would be passed around to the winning team year by year. He appreciates the sportsmanship of this district, and is delighted with the clean sportsmanship shown by the football players.

Referring to the hockey team as one of the greatest in Canada (loud applause), Mr. Bradburn urged the members of the soccer team to go with the Seniors to Toronto to see the game this week.

Mr. James, again replied, on behalf of the team.

Mayor J. J. Turner.

Mayor J. J. Turner, called on to present the medals donated by the Association, expressed his pleasure in his usual happy fashion. He endorsed what had been said about the value of sport in the community—"It pays to play." The men who have won games and trophies have learned to play the game, and participation in sports prepares a man to play the game in all his life.

Mayor Turner said he is looking forward to the final hockey games when he will accompany a large contingent to Toronto to let them know Peterboro is on the map.

He had been advised to let the tigers wear the kilts and comport himself in more civilized garb but would wait and see. His Worship would not be surprised to see Peterboro win the Allan Cup.

All who had played in the football series had been gentlemen. To the victors belong the laurels, but the defeated teams had the satisfaction of having played the game, and could look forward to another opportunity next year.

The Players.

The players of the C.P.C. team who played in the final game for the Bradburn County Cup on October 25, 1924, were: B. Bradley, W. Oxley, T. Montgomery, J. Mitchell, A. Halliday, E. Williams, J. Buchan, W. James, H. Gardiner, J. Downer, T. Foster.

Officers Elected.

Immediately after the presentations the meeting proceeded to elect officers for the coming season. The retiring president, C. P. Lloyd, asked to be relieved, but great pressure was brought to bear upon him and he finally consented to act. C. Calladine was elected secretary and James Ball was re-elected treasurer.

The committee will consist of one member from each club that enters the competitions.

On the advice of the president, it was decided to approach the Senior body with a view to running a Senior and Junior League on an eliminating basis, and a joint meeting will be held to bring the president's suggestion to a successful conclusion.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Wylie, the president of the Senior body, the vice president, W. Anderson, and R. T. Stewart, one of the directors. The greatest of enthusiasm prevailed and the prospects for a good season are looking very bright.

Nurmi Runs Fastest Two Miles In Track History

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—Paavo Nurmi, great runner of Finland Saturday night accomplished what had been considered an impossible task for a human being when he ran here to a new world's record of 8 minutes 58 1-5 seconds in a two mile race. The old record was 9.03 4-5.

The feat of the flying Finn is all the more remarkable as it was the third successive night in which he had competed in New York State. Nurmi also established a new mark for 1¾ miles which he reached in 7 minutes 51 2-5 seconds, bettering his old time by four seconds at this point.

Willie Ritola, star of the Finnish-American A.C., flashed across the finish line of the three mile handicap, in fourten minutes 1 2-5 seconds creating a new indoor record.

Ugo Frigerio, of Italy, Olympic walking champion, walked away with a 1½ mile half event in 1 minutes, 20 4-5 seconds, his second victory since coming to the United States.

HAMILTON COMMENT ON PETERBORO GAME

(From Hamilton Spectator.)

Peterboro hockey club stalwart representatives of the Lift Lock city, and champions of the S. P. A. senior series this season, can add to their laurels the title of champions of the Eastern O.H.A. ...nor group after their performance at the arena last night.

Harold Parker, Joe Dwyer, et al., by dint of their perseverance against a stubborn battle by the Rowing club seniors, emerged from the final amateur game of the local season on the long end of a 5 to 1 count, and on the night's play, they were fully deserving of their honors.

Peterboro demonstrated why they are counted upon in the east as certain finalists. From Joe Dwyer, the veteran goaler, out, they showed balance, power and speed on the attack and a defence that completely baffled the Oarsmen, as it has done many teams of greater repute than the "baby" team of the group. Their determination was no greater, and their enthusiasm perhaps not as great, but with all their experience they were about two "thinks" ahead of the scullers in the pinches, and they can attribute their victory to their ability to outguess the Oarsmen at the proper times.

Few of the visito.. staged lone rushes, except when it was deemed necessary. Their snappy combination, which was more in evidence after the first twenty minutes, carried them in on the local net-minder all too frequently for the welfare of the Scullers, and had they paid more attention to the finer details around the citadel they might easily have added several more goal to their string.

Shooting was Strong.

Peterboro also had a great edge on the Oarsmen in shooting. Every man on their team showed a powerful shot, accurate and speedy.

Peterboro's steady drilling was varied. They shot alternately from the boards and outside the defence, and from close in. The latter shots were after combination plays had carried two or three men through, and of the five shots that bulged the twine, not one of them could have been saved by any goaler in the business.

Collins was Best.

Peterboro's smart forward line, Collins, Bailey, Ranger, Rose and Burgess turned in a nice cord with Collins and Rose as the stars on the night's play. The former bulged the twine three times in the final frame as the result of pretty work by his mates and himself and his defensive work was outstanding. Rose also checked well and proved a very able puck-carrier. Harold Parker, a former local boy, who paired up on the defence with McLeod, former Varsity star, was very prominent. Most of his offensive work was in the lone rushes but he made many of these, shot well, scored one goal and checked back on every return trip. On the defence he showed his greatest value. He and McLeod never parted all night, and they were masters of practically every attack sent up to them.

ST. PATRICKS WON.

Defeated Hamilton by 3 to 1 With Good Playing Margin.

TORONTO, Feb. 16. — Defeating Hamilton, the League leaders, by 3 to 1, at the arena on Saturday night, St. Patrick's kept on even terms with Canadiens and maintained their three point margin over the Ottawa Senators in a three cornered duel for second and third places in the National Hockey League standing, and scored their second victory of the season over the pace setters.

Like in the last game between the two teams on the local ice, the winners were much better and the score does not give them credit for the margin they had over their rivals.

VARSITY CLOSE SENIOR SERIES

Last of Scheduled Games at Brock Street Rink Tonight.

BIG WEEK'S BILL

By winning tonight's game at Brock Street Rink from Varsity the Peterboro Seniors can finish the group schedule alone in first place, a full game ahead of the Parkdale sextette, while a loss will mean that the Paddlers and Petes would end the schedule tied for the leadership.

The homesters are anxious to enter the play offs with the prestige of having finished in front and they will exert every effort to put away Connie Smythe's much improved Collegians in tonight's dash, which should provide an evening of fast and clever hockey.

Both teams will be at full strength and in good shape to go the route at top speed. And with Smythe at the helm the students will make every effort to finish the season with a victory over the group leaders.

The Varsity team includes such well known stars as Joe Sullivan, clever goaler; Porter and Taylor, two fine defence players, the former well remembered here for his clever work against the Peterboro juniors two years ago and Louie Hudson, one of the fastest skaters in amateur hockey. Plaxton, one of the younger players on the forward line is developing fast and should turn in a good game here tonight.

Praise for the Soo.

The Petes returned home on Saturday after a great trip to Sault Ste. Marie and Hamilton, bringing back with them glowing accounts of the wonderful hospitality of the people of the Soo and the fine spirit shown by the Greyhounds' players and officials. The city belonged to the Petes during their three days' visit and they were given a wonderful reception at both games. All the players are in good shape, coming through last week's three games without casualties and they are ready for this week's big program, which calls for them to meet Varsity tonight and then play Parkdale on Thursday and Saturday nights for the group title and the right to meet Niagara Falls or Stratford for the O.H.A. Senior honors.

Tonight's game will be called at 8.30 o'clock sharp and the rink should be crowded when the puck is dropped.

SKI JUMPER HURT

World's Champion Slipped in Trial Flight.

BANFF, Alta., Feb. 11. — Nels Nelson, world's champion ski jumper, fell and injured his shoulder here Friday afternoon in the first jump he has made since his phenomenal feat breaking all of the world's amateur and professional records at Revelstoke, B.C., last week. The champion was making a trial jump before a large crowd at the Banff winter carnival preparatory to an attempt to break the Banff record.

This trial sortie carried him 145 feet through the air in perfect form, but he slipped and capsized into a terrific fall when he struck the earth.

ALL BLACKS WIN 49-0.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 15. — The New Zealand "All Blacks" defeated a picked Vancouver Rugby team 49 to 0 Saturday afternoon.

PARKDALE AND PETES SIZED UP FOR LAST DASH

Senior O.H.A. Down to Semi-Finals to be Settled This Week.

TEAMS COMPARED

Niagara Falls and Stratford Rattling for Honors of Western Group.

(From Toronto Star Weekly)

The senior play-off games in the O.H.A. groups furnish the centre of attraction in next week's hockey.

Will it be Peterboro or Parkdale or Niagara Falls or Stratford? Any prognosticator who can provide a formula and get the solution from the dope book wuld qualify as the next champion crossword puzzle expert. It is bad enough to choose between the Petes and the Paddlers and the Falls and Indians without prophesying as to whether the winners of the local group or of the "Big Six" will be the ultimate finalists.

Petes Look the Class

On the season's perfomance, though, the Petes look as good as anything that has been produced in the east, but even they were showing signs of going stale, although their gamcs at the Sault would seem to indicate they were in great shape. The "Lift Lock" warriors play an attractive brand of hockey and they will doubtless always be big favorites in their Arena games. It is just possible that the Petes may play all their games at the Mutual street ice palace, where the cushion is much mode adanted to their style of play than the little one in Peterboro.

Must Beat Paddlers First.

The Peterboro backers are convinced however, that they will have to beat Parkdale before figuring on going anv further in the race. It has always been when they have had their backs to the wall and were up against it in earnest that the Paddlers rose to dizzy heights and turned back their opponents. None looked for them to step into Peterboro and register a win after the trimming they sustained here, but they did, and likewise repeated when Varsity threatened to put them in the discard.

Have Smooth Team Work.

The Petes look to have a smoother combination than that which the Paddlers present, but the latter have a rugged looking squad which appears suited better to the heavier going. The Paddlers are now stronger in several positions than they have been all season but without this additional strength they would scarcely have got into the play-offs.

Two Good Defenses.

In Dwyer, Parker and McLeod the Petes are supposed to have the best defense in the league, but they have little on the Thompson, Lount, Harris combination, although the latter has been changed several times since the beginning of the season.

How Forwards Compare.

The Petes have not the experience of Watson, Jeffrey and Aggett on their forward line but they have a trio of quick thinking, fast breaking marksmen in Ranger, Collins and Bailey and in Rose and Burgess a couple of subs, who can hold their own with the regulars, although the same might be said of Harrington Cawkell, Sullivan and Mogan, of Parkdale.

Intermediates Show the Way

It is a big tribute to the calibre of intermediate hockey that the teams who have led the senior groups home during the regular schedule were the intermediate champions and finalists last year. It is a good job that the S.P.A. game provided both Niagara Falls and Peterboro with the opportunity of going higher up or senior hockey would have been without the services of some of its best performers.

Another Stronge Defence.

Like the Petes the Falls team have the reputation of having the best defence in the "Big Six Group" in Fraser and Kitchen with a forward line that is always dangerous. The strength of the Indians on the other hand largely consists in the Casson brothers on the front line. If they had Kelterbourne and Morenz they would have a front line of home talent that would make them all step. "Dutch" who is the star of the Falls sharp shooters, is of real pro talent and Canadiens are said to have their strings out for him.

Both Teams Popular Here.

The outcome of the Falls, Stratford series will be watched with more than ordinary local interest. The game fight of Gene Fraser's Falls brigade has now a big following for them locally, while just as many are behind Stratford on account of Bill Carson's presence on their line-up.

'SPIEL TO START TUESDAY.

Kingston Lady Curlers Hope to Have Ice for To-morrow.

KINGSTON, Feb. 16.—(Special). —Miss Betts, president of the Kingston Ladies' Curling Club, states that if the weather is favorable, the curling Bonspiel arranged for on February 10th and 11th, and which had to be postponed owing to the mild weather will be commenced on Tuesday morning. Several out-of-town rinks are expected from Eastern Ontario points.

OTTAWA STAVED OFF MONTREAL MAROONS' RALLY

Senators Were Hard Pressed in Last Period, But Defense Held.

SCORE WAS 3 TO 2

Smith, Denneny and Broadbent Starred in Winners' Victory.

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—A determined last period rally by the Montreal Maroons fell one goal short of tieing the count against Ottawa here Saturday night and the Senators chalked up another National Hockey League victory by a score of three to two. It was a close fit and the locals were somewhat fortunate in being able to stay the determined attack of the Montrealers in the last few minutes.

After Cy Denneny and George Boucher had given Ottawa a goal each in the first and second periods respectively it looked like a certain Ottawa victory as the red, white and black squad had a margin on their opponents during the first two sessions. However, the Maroons came to life with a vengeance half way through the final frame and only lady luck, splendid work by Connell and dogged plugging by the forwards kept the Senators in position to take down the verdict.

Denneny accounted for the first goal with but thirty seconds of the first period remaining to play. He took Boucher's pass at center, coasted around Noble and swinging in from the corner, tricked Benedict a few feet out. Ottawas netted the puck on another occasion in this period but the score was disallowed by Referee Marsh who claimed it illegal as having entered the net off Dennuny's skates from Smith's pass from behind the net.

End to End Rush.

Six minutes from the start of the second period Boucher made it two to nothing. He went from end to end alone to score, splitting the Maroon defence on a fake pass to Denneny who had come down with him.

Hooley Smith Stars.

The third period was eight minutes gone when Montreal got their first. Broadbent worked down right wing into the corner and when he buzzed from end to end stepped between Munro and Noble and tricked Benedict when the latter came out to meet him. The time was 5.50 and it semed as if Ottawas were now sure winners, but Broadbent crossed them. Berlinquette recovered Skinner's shot behind the Ottawa net and passed out in front. Broadbent whipped the puck back into the net in 1.30 to set the rink in a franzy. From then to the finish it was nip and tuck. Ottawas staged a desperatt resistance against Mon-er and Denneny combined with the latter blazing a terrific shot into the net behind Benedict, but it was called back for offside.

The game was somewhat listless until the final period, and Referee Lou Marsh had an easy time controlling it. Both teams were at full strength, with the exception of Lowrey's absence for the Montreal lineup owing to the death of his father.

VICTORY FOR GROVE.

Lakefield School Wins From U. C. C. Seconds 8-2.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 16. — Upper Canada College second team visited Lakefield on Saturday and took the short end of an 8-2 score in a fast game of hockey with the Grove boys. It was one of the best junior games played in the Lakefield arena this winter and was hotly contested from start to finish. R. Murduff of Lakefield acted as referee. The teams:

Upper Canada College — Goal, Baker; defence, Barnett and Evans; centre, Todd; r. wing, Doherty; l. wing, Gray; subs., Woods and Mabee.

Grove School—Goal, Griffiths; defence, Christmas and Lorsemore; centre, Rainnie; r. wing, Young; l. wing, Fawcett; subs., James and Barnard.

SELKIRKS WIN 2-1

Defeated Fort William in Brilliant Game of Hockey.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 16. —Selkirk further strengthened their hold on a position in the play-off for the championship of the Manitoba senior hockey league when they nosed out a two to one victory over Fort William here Saturday night. It was a brilliant game, with visitors having equal value on night's play, but failing to get necessary goals.

JOLIAT'S FIGHT EARNED SECOND MAJOR PENALTY

Another One and Canadien Star is Automatically Suspended by N.H.L.

BEAT BOSTON 5-1

Open Hockey and Plenty of Excitement in Montreal Game.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—Canadiens cut another niche blazing their trail towards a play-off berth in the National Hockey League when they defeated the Boston Bruins here Saturday night, 5 to 1.

A fracas between Joliat and Mitchell in the third period, two disputed goals and a generally rugged contest, with flashes of brilliant play, provided the 3,500 spectators with the full quota of thrills.

Canadiens did not show the speed at the start which they uncorked against Ottawa last Wednesday, and what fast efforts they did direct towards the Boston goal were blocked by a five-man defence. Seeing the Bruins were out to wear them down, Canadiens slowed up and played a waiting game for most of the initial period. Just before the end they got their chance and Joliat rushed through alone to open the scoring. A goal up to start the second period, the champions carried the play with all their old fervor and found Boston ready to give and take. The result was open hockey, plenty of excitement around the goals and spills in plenty.

Morenz and Joliat kept Canadiens on the aggressive, though Billy Boucher found the speedy Shay a veritable "sticker," and the pair assumed a private little affair all their own, which kept both of them out of the majority of the combination efforts.

Disputed Goal.

Boston had done their share of attacking, but found a too stubborn defence against them, and Vezina was having one of his best nights at blocking the puck. One goal the Bostonians claimed. Vezina made a stop while standing well outside of his goal line. The puck went behind him and he turned around and batted it clear. Boston claimed it was over the line, but the goal umpire and referee ruled that, while it was behind Vezina, it was not over the goal line.

The rumpus over this had hardly died down when Odie Cleghorn started a rush to the other end. He got in behind the Boston net and passed the puck out from behind. There was a rare old scramble and the puck was batted past Stewart, Boucher being credited with the goal. Boston claimed it had been batted in from up in the air, that the goalkeeper had been interfered with, and that the puck had been handed in. Art Ross made his sortie onto the ice and joined the argument, but he was ordered back to his bench and the goal counted.

Boston made gallant efforts in the final period to get into the scoring lists. They started going down four abreast after the first ten minutes of the last session had brought no score.

Two Major Penalties.

About fifteen minutes of the period had gone when Joliat rushed. He got close in and shot. Stewart saved, but with Joliat rushing in for an impossible rebound had no chance to get rid of the puck, so he went to the ice and smothered it. Joliat stopped dead in front of him, and so Mitchell apparently thought, either started to or was about to strike the Boston goalie who was prone on the ice. In any case Mitchell rushed in and pulled Joliat away. The Canadien player resented the action and cuffed Mitchell —and the battle was on. Both received major penalties.

It was the second major foul given Joliat since the new N.H.L. rule went into effect calling for automatic suspension of a player on the receipt of three major fouls.. So that Joliat is now skating on thin ice and at a time when it would be a severe blow for the Canadiens to have their line depleted.

NEW BUFFALO RINK

Project Said to Involve $400,000 Investment.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Feb. 16.— The Buffao Evening Times says that plans are definitely forming for the construction in Buffalo of an artificial ice arena at a cost of $400,000 for participation in the newly-formed national professional hockey league. A meeting of interested persons within a few days, says the Times, is expected to complete organization for the project.

THREE PLAYERS BANNED IN GAME AT LIVERPOOL

Unparalleled Incident in League Football—Weather Flicked Tempers of Men.

SOCCER REVIEW

Cold Wind and Mud Made Disagreeable Conditions in All Games.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—League football Saturday was marred considerably by the wintry weather that prevailed over the whole island and which rendered conditions disagreeable in the extreme. The playing grounds for the most part were inches deep in mud, and this militated against good football, while at the same time it served to keep down attendances. The treacherous conditions apparently had the effect of fraying the tempers of the players, for displays of anger were frequent and no fewer than five men came under the ban of the referee for outbursts of "temperament." Scoring all round was of a freak nature, and in all the leagues it was particularly heavy. Thirty-seven goals were registered in the games of the first division. In the eleven contests in that string, five were won by visiting teams, two were drawn and in only four games did the home aggregations garner in the full points.

The hat-trick was performed by Wilson of Huddersfield Town in the game against Arsenal, by Haines of Portsmouth in the five to nothing victory over Wolverhampton Wanderers, by Molelland of Soutrend United and by Dean of Tranmere Rovers.

Huddersfield Victory.

Huddersfield Town earned a great victory in taking the Arsenal into camp at Hichbury by five to nothing. At that, however, Huddersfield failed to regain leadership of the league, which West Bromwich once more obtained as a result of their mid-week game with Preston North End. The Town continue to travel along in second place, one point behind the midlanders.

One of the extraordinary upsets of Saturday's play was the win of Preston over Bolton Wanderers, the issue coming out in favor of the Preston club by an orphan tally. Bolton, incidentally, tumbled down the scale from among the leaders to fifth place, a bad collapse at such a critical phase of the league battle. The victory served also to give a stimulus to Preston's flagging hopes. It counted the seventh win for them throughout the season, and since they have been assisted by only a couple of draws, their point average is very poor. They will fight hard against relegation, but they have not long to fight, and it will require all their efforts to escape the fate of Middlesborough and Chelsea last year.

Three Ruled Off.

An incident unparalleled in league football took place Saturday when three players were ordered off the field in the game between Newcastle United and Liverpool, played at Liverpool. The victims of the adjudicator's severity were Irwin of the visiting club and McNabb and Wadsworth of Liverpool. The teams were perfectly evenly matched, and the result, which was a one-goal draw, represented fairly well the trend of play. It left the teams exactly as they were before, Newcastle running third in the league race with Liverpool fourth. The incident was deplorable and created a bad impression in soccer circles.

Fan Rushed on Field.

The tremendous seriousness with which the Lancastrians take their football was also instanced in the game with Bury and the 'Spurs, which was won by the latter by four goals to one. The fans objected to the strenuous blocking of the 'Spurs' defence men and gave vent to their feelings by storms of boo-ing. Feeling ran riot, however, when Clay scored for the 'Spurs from a penalty, and finally a foul was given against Grimsdell. One of the spectators raced onto the field and seized a visiting half-back. He was on the point of inflicting "grievous bodily harm" to the player when the law hove in sight and escorted the irate rail-bird off the field.

JUNIORS AWAY TODAY

Left This Morning for Third Round Game in Brockville.

The Juniors left for Brockville this mornning, where they will cross sticks with the fast Brockville sextette, conquerers of Trenton, in the third round of O.H.A. play-offs.

Brockville elminated Trenton in smart style, winning both games and the round by 6 goals to 3. They have a nifty team, but Walter Jackson believes that the fast-going Junior Petes will take them into camp to-night.

The vlue and white will be at full strength, "Sailor" Maudsley being back into harness after his illness. The boys have no doubt suffered a little from the lack of practice because of the absence of ice. However, Saturday night they had a workout at Brock and the whole squad was full of pep and go.

The return game will be played at the Brock street ice palace on Wednesday night.

Some folks will take anything that is not nailed down except a hint or advice.

VALENTINE TEAS

FRASER AUXILIARY.

The Fraser Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church held a well-attended Valentine Tea in the Guild room of church on Saturday afternoon. The decorations were very attractive, and were carried out in Valentine favors of many varieties, the small individual tables being centred with red and white hearts and red candles in brass candelabra. Mrs. M. Comstock acted as convenor of the tea, assisted by members of the Society. Miss M. Rannie had charge of the decorations, Miss E. Scott of the sale of home-made cooking.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL.

A very successful Valentine Tea and sale of home made cooking, was held in the Queen Mary school, on Saturday, under the auspices of the Home and School Association. There was a splendid attendance during the afternoon, and the sum of $30 was realized for the relief work of the society. The president and treasurer, Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge, and Mrs. D. Cameron, received the guests. The tea-table, prettily decorated with spring flowers and Valentine hearts and arrows, was presided over by Mrs. M. N. Clark and Mrs. E. G. Wagar. Mrs. E. Puttick and Mrs. H. S. Huffman had charge of the sale of home made cooking and candy, and Mrs H. E. Connolly was convenor of the musical programme, which included choruses by girls from Mr. Clark's room, readings by the Misses Irene Breckenridge and Helen Ross, a piano duet by the Misses Jean and Marion McCanna, vocal solos by Mr. Charles Clark and violin numbers by Alex. Runnet. Miss M. Flowers acted as accompanist.

MOTHERS ARE ENTERTAINED.

On Saturday afternoon, the Sunshine and Ever Bright Clubs, junior organizations of the Y.W.C.A., entertained their mothers to a Valentine party at the "Y," when guests to the number of about one hundred mothers and children were present. After an exhibition of their gymnasium work, under the leadership of Miss A. Lawrence, the children and parents gathered in the green room, where a programme of recitations, songs and dialogues was given and much enjoyed, under supervision of the club leaders: the Misses M. Storey, W. Payton and C. Mason. At the conclusion, ice cream and cake were served.

KING GEORGE SCHOOL.

A very successful Valentine tea was held under the auspices of the King George Home and School Association at the home of the president, Mrs. Ernest Scott, 305 Mark Street, on Friday afternoon and evening. There was a good attendance of guests, who were received by Mrs. Scott and Mrs. V. Hamilton. Ladies assisting were Mrs. L. Scott and Mrs. F. Milliken. The decorations were of Valentine novelties and spring flowers. Mrs. J. W. Ebbs, convenor of the refreshment committee, was assisted by Mrs. W. Pomeroy, Mrs. P. King and Mrs. Bethune. Mrs. J. Rome assisted at the door, and Mrs. Pomeroy had charge of the sale of home-made candy. During the afternoon and evening, an enjoyable musical programme was given, with pianoforte selections by Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. Jas. Ellis, the Misses L. Scott, Velma Scott and Lillie Naish, readings by Miss Jean King, and vocal solos by the Misses Grace Davis, Phyllis Rome, Zoe Doyle and Mr. James Ellis.

"Y" JUNIOR CLASSES.

Junior members of the gymnasium classes of the Young Women's Christian Association had a very jolly Valentine party at the "Y" on Saturday morning, when three hundred of the juniors and their friends came in Valentine costumes and masquerade outfits for a morning spent in playing games and taking part in contests, under the direction of Miss C. Littlefield, with a programme of recitations and sons, followed by a gymnasium classes, but on by the Babies, Bays, Junior and Intermediate classes for the enjoyment of their guests.

Judges of the costumes were Mrs. T. Cruikshanks, Miss May Jory, Miss Large and Miss Leta Brownscombe. Prizes were awarded to Joy Walker and Jackie Roper as the King and Queen of Hearts; to Margaret Lacheur as an Old-Fashioned Lady, and to Joan Ottawell as a Cupid.

Four others who received honorable mention, were Margaret Daindrill and dance from each of the ton, as a Red Cross Nurse, Bessie Austin, as an Old Fashioned Lady, Genevieve Price as Queen of Hearts, and Isabel Reid in an original costume, Orange Marmalade.

The Valentine party marked the close of the gymnasium campaign for new members, and the juniors who won awards in this contest were Sybil Jackson, Jean King and Margaret Scott, each receiving from Mrs T. Cruikshank a Y.W.C.A. pin in recognition of their work.

Another item of interest to the children was the presentation of the Junior awards won last fall in the swimming-pool contests. A large number of the swimmers worked faithfully during the summer, mastering the tests required by the Royal Life Saving Society in order to win the medals and certificates presented by that organization. These awards just arrived from England last week and were formally resented to the Juniors on Saturday morning, the Senior presentations being made on Friday night.

The following were the Junior awards: Bronze medals to Jane McDonald and Dorothy Goheen. Profiency and Elementary certificates to Rhoda Allen, Betty Manning (the youngest member of the "Y" to hold the roficiency certificate), Sadie Levine, Bertha Lobban, Margaret Dunlop, Mary Maedonald, Dorothy Foster, Barbara Foster, Mary Brooks and Doris Roger.

At the close of the programme ice cream and cake were served.

Australian Cricketers 380 Runs Short With Five Wickets.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press). — With five wickets of their first innings down, the Australians are 380 runs short of the Englishmen's first inning score in the fourth cricket Test match which was continued to-day. As the Antipodeans have won all three of the matches played in the present series, interest in the last two has somewhat lessened.

A heavy downpour of rain, following some showers, caused the play to be postponed after five Australian wickets had fallen for 168 runs.

FRANC WORRIES FRENCH CHAMBER

Herriot Worked All Night at Address to Placate Deputies.

EXCHANGE STRONGER.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—(United Press). — All France is frankly worried about the national financial situation following Saturday's statements in the Chamber of Deputies, when it was revealed that the interest charge on debts would require more than one billion dollars annually—or upwards of one-third of the entire budget.

Premier Herriot found himself attacked on all sides as the franc weakened under pressure of lack of confidence at home. He appears in the Chamber this afternoon to outline his programme.

Strong Government action to strengthen the franc is expected with measures to prevent a fight of capital by timid wealth.

With this prospect the franc opened somewhat stronger to-day at 19.15 to the dollar.

Herriot worked through the night, preparing his speech to the Chamber, and retired before dawn exhausted by his labors. He had been scheduled to appear in that Chamber this morning but postponed his address until the afternoon.

There was a bitter debate in the Chamber during the morning. The Right wildly cheered a speech by Deputy Reraud, who charged the Left wing parties with a campaign of financial defeatism.

Finance Minister Clementel replied in a sharp speech, defending the Government. The present situation, he said, was not caused by failure to balance the budget but by excessive loans, paid by the Poincare regime, and the loss of confidence at home.

"There have been mistakes," Clementel admitted, "and many of them were made during the war while I was Minister of Finance. Heavier taxes should have been started earlier.

"However, the situation of the franc is stronger than many of our compatriots seem to believe. We must not lose confidence, and must work together to save the country."

MEN'S FONDNESS FOR OLD HATS BRINGS HARD TIMES TO INDUSTRY

ORANGE, N.J., Feb. 16. — The willingness of men to wear "any old hat" of a low priced or knockabout grade is in part the cause of trouble and hard times in the hat manufacturing industry here, its members are declaring.

The Orange hatters make high-grade headgear, but the demand for low-priced hats, resultant poor business and numerous strikes have seriously affected the industry, which at present is involved in a dispute with union men over wages and suggested open-shop conditions.

QUEBEC MERITS ONTARIO NOTICE

French Canadian Farmers Are Neat and Hard Working, Says F. H. Dobbin.

Y.M.C.A. SUPPER.

"Although Quebec is only 300 miles away and Chicago is over twice the distance, we know vastly more about the people of Chicago than we do of the French-Canadians of Quebec," said F. H. Dobbin, in opening his talk on Quebec at the Y.M.C.A. supper on Friday evening. Mr. Dobbin told of how he had come to understand a little of the feelings, manners and traditions of the French-Canadian in his rambles while holidaying around Chambly, an old historical village on the Richelieu River.

Mr. Dobbin, in explaining the loyalty of the French-Canadian, said "He is doubly loyal, loyal to France and her traditions, loyal to Canada and the British institutions and freedom which he prizes so highly. The French-born Canadian is more deeply rooted to Canada than is even the British born one because his traditions go back more than a hundred years before that of the British."

He explained that in many districts of Quebec, especially that of Chambly, modern efficiency does not disturb the French-Canadian from his tranquility. He still possesses that innate courtesy, that has always been a stamp of France, and makes it a pleasure to meet and talk with him. Along the road, in business, everywhere, he carries that commendable courtesy.

Buildings Are Tidy.

Mr. Dobbin remarked upon the care that the French-Canadian bestows upon his home, his barn and his fences, which have descended to him from his father, and to his father from his father, keeping them always clean and in the best of repair. They use a sort of whitewash on their barns and fences and along the road one is always impressed with the neat, cleanly appearance of the buildings. "He prides himself upon his home and never needs to be warned when to use the whitewash or paint brush," said Mr. Dobbin.

The love for the open air and the home of his father's and with what sorrow he ever quits his old surroundings was explained with the story of Joe Marks, who, urged by his brother in Montreal, left his job on the river and took one in a brewery in Montreal at three dollars a day. But who returned in three weeks to, in his own words, "the sunlight dancing on the rivere and the roaring of the rapeed."

Mr. Dobbin also told a little of the history of the district around Chambly. The Richelieu River, he explained, carried the water of Lake Champlain into the St. Lawrence and it was along this stream that in the old days Indian war parties used to paddle their canoes in attacks on New France. The French built a fort at Chambly Basin to stop these attacks. This was burned down and a strong stone one was erected, which is still standing. It was near this fort that Major Preston made his determined stand against the invading Americans under General Montgomery in 1775. The fort was "rudely treated" by the canon balls of the Yankees, and signs of the bombardment are still visible.

Mr. Wallace, chairman at these weekly Friday evening suppers, then told the young men the purpose of the meetings, explaining that "it is to get the young men acquainted with each other, to get them used to getting on their feet in making short speeches and to give them the advantage of listening to short inspirational talks once a week."

It is likely that a Young Men's Club will be formed.

Mr. Vernor, of the Westclox, who gave a splendid talk a week ago, will be the speaker at next Friday's supper, his subject being "Around the World Selling Westclox."

PREPARE FOR WAR

Finnish Ladies Drill to Support Army in Emergencies.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Feb. 14.—Two hundred thousand Finnish women are organized into Lotta Svaerd clubs, auxiliaries to the voluntary military organizations of men, and are in constant training to support the standing army in cases of emergency. The women are organized on a military basis and participate in the manouevres of the volunteer forces so that they may be prepared to carry on all work for which women are qualified in time of war. During the drills the women wear coarse, gray garments and sleep on straw, just as the men volunteers do, so as to accustom themselves to the hardships of military service.

The fighting between the red and white forces which followed the establishment of the Russian soviet government saw much of Finland involved in the bitterest sort of civil strife. Railway communications were severed for months and the entire population was involved in a conflict which taught all Finns many lessons in modern warfare.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT

The marriage question comes in for a lot of overhauling in the coming film attraction at the Regent Theatre to-day. This is no less than a screen version of Owen Davis' well known play, "Her Marriage Vow."

Warner Brothers, among the recognized leaders in motion pictures by virtue of their splendid photo-play adaptations of famous plays and novels, have made this into a picture. In keeping with the importance of the theme, and the standing of the author, they have put on an outstanding cast of players to assume the principal parts. They are Monte Blue, Willard Louis, Beverly Bayne, Margaret Livingston, John Roche, Priscilla Moran, Mary Grabhorn, Martha Petelle, Alienn Manning and Arthur Hoyt.

"Her Marriage Vow" is the story of young Carold, who turns down wealthy Ted Lowe to marry Bob Hilton, who has only a very meagre salary check to offer. Most of her friends think she is terribly foolish. But her old grandmother with whom she has been living since the death of her own parents, is glad that she chose love rather than riches.

The man who was rejected and who represented "riches," refused to get out of the scene; he waits patiently; and when a little domestic difficulty opens up between Bob and Carol, in he steps, and then the drama fizzes.

Wherever it has played, this picture has come in for a high degree of praise and popularity.

AT THE ROYAL

JAZZ NIGHT TO-NIGHT AT THE ROYAL.

"A Reckless Romance," a Hilarious Farce, Will Open To-night.

"Reckless Romance," Al Christie's newest feature farce which comes to the Royal Theatre for a three-days' run to-day, is said to be one of the most entertaining pictures ever filmed.

At previews held in Pasadena and Los Angeles, this picture elicited roars of hearty laughter. This hilarious reception occurred even before the picture's final editing and now with Joseph Farnham's clever titles it is declared to be one of the funniest pictures to be shown here in a long time.

The cast includes T. Roy Barnes, Harry Myers, Wanda Hawley, Eylvia Breamer, Jack Duffy, Tully Marshall and other notables, each of whom is especially suited to his role. Director Scott Sidney's years of experience in the field of comedy tell in the admirable fashion in which he has handled the farce.

ALL COMEDY PROGRAMME.

Commencing to-day the programme at the Royal is all comedy with the one exception, "The Sport Review." The feature is Al Christie's second full length feature. The first one, "Hold Your Breath," will be remembered by Royal patrons. Jazz music will predominate the first half of this week.

GIBSON'S PRODUCTION PROMISES AMUSEMENT

"The Sawdust Trail," Adapted From Famous Magazine Story.

Hoot Gibson is a man of many problems in his latest Universal special production, "The Sawdust Trail," which is promised for the Royal screen, beginning next Thursday.

William Dudley Pelley's popular Saturday Evening Post story, "Courtin' Calamity," was seized upon by Director Edward Sedgwick as the vehicle just suited for his star, and before Hoot could realize it, he was dressed to stylish perfection, and blossomed out as a college man.

Then, while his father believes him to be a tenderfoot, he is instrumental in stirring up enough trouble with his fellow students to land most of his college in jail.

By way of escape, he agreed to work with a circus for a time, and there he found action aplenty. Josie Sedgwick plays the feminine lead, as Calamity Jane, the two gun cowgirl who hates all men in general, and Hoot in particular.

David Torrence, Charles K. French, Harry Todd, G. Raymond Nye, W. T. McCulley, Pat Harmon and Taylor Carroll are some of the favorites in the supporting cast.

AT THE CAPITOL

WEST POINT IN SILENT DRAMA

Noted Military School Breaks All Precedents for Barthelmess.

"Classmates," the First National production starring Richard Barthelmess at the Capitol today presents West Point for the first time on any screen as the background of a silent drama.

The United States Military Academy has been filmed for the news reels. The famous parades of the West Point cadets, pronounced the best drilled body of men in the world, have evoked cheers in theatres throughout both hemispheres. The Military Academy officials, however, have always refused to permit the use of the West Point cadets for a photoplay story. They felt that the Academy, sacred to the finest traditions of America, must be held as a thing apart.

That permission was accorded to Barthelmess to film "Classmates" within the walls of West Point was an unusual and signal honor to the young star. "Classmates" shows the actual life of a cadet through his four years at the Academy. The West Point officials supervised every detail, even to the making of uniforms for Barthelmess and his company, so that "Classmates" is completely authentic.

The production carries the official endorsement of Brigadier General Frederick Sladen, superintendent of West Point, and the officials of the Academy. Incidentally, in presenting the life of a West Pointer, "Classmates" reveals a remarkable study of the development of a shy country boy into a man of force and character.

SEEKS DIAMOND CONTROL

Government of South Africa May Extend Powers Over Trade.

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Feb. 16.—The ministerial organ says the government has under contemplation a measure whereby it would be empowered to assume control of the diamond trade, alloting quotas of production to producers, imposing minimum prices and appointing a board to buy and sell diamonds or act as agents.

The board, under the bill, may also compel any producer to supply it, and then sell on the producer's behalf at a reasonable price, less commission. The government may prohibit the exportation of diamonds except with the board's consent. Alluvia diggers would be exempt from the provisions of the bill, the paper says.

Killed Neighbor In Fight Is Charged With Murder

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press.) — Frank Stagg, a Toronto man who was arrested yesterday after fighting with his neighbor, Ernest Owen, who died immediately following the encounter, was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of murder and was remanded for eight days.

COLLINS WAS REACHED TOO LATE; DEAD BODY FOUND IN AFTERNOON

Rock That Trapped Him Seventeen Days Ago Held Him in His Tomb When Rescuers Broke in To-day.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 16.—(Canadian Press).—The body of Floyd Collins, entrapped in Sand Cave on Jan. 30th, was found dead in his tomb this afternoon.

Trapped January 30.

Floyd Collins was trapped in the sand cave at 10 o'clock Friday morning, January 30, by the fall of a boulder on his foot. He was exploring a tunnel of an old cavern, the front part of which had collapsed years ago, forming a ravine which leads up to the limestone ledge in which the mouth of the sand cave is located. His plight remained undiscovered for 24 hours, when, on Saturday, January 31, Jewell Estis, a neighbor's boy, penetrated the sand cave far enough to hear his cries for help.

Neighbors and his brothers at once began efforts to get him out and release the rock and dirt which pinned his legs.

All such efforts were unsuccessful and outside helpers, who had cleared away the dirt as far as his knees were blocked by repeated cave-ins in the tunnel, just above Collins. Finally, state officials ordered stopped the rescue efforts being made in the natural tunnel as being too dangerous and the shaft rescue plan was started on Friday.

In spite of handicaps of lack of proper tools and materials, work progressed unceasingly. The natural tunnel down which Collins had crawled in search of a new cavern was about 125 feet from the surface to the spot where Collins lay. The rescue shaft, started a few feet in front of the mouth of the cave, in a limestone ledge, was aimed as a perpendicular tube, the shortest line to reach him in the bottom of the tortuous tunnel.

BRING HOME BODY OF MISS A. GOVAN

Campbellford Girl Died in Hospital at Washington—Permission Asked.

WASHINGTON, D.C., February 16 (Special to The Examiner). — The body of Miss Amy Govan, the 20-year-old student nurse of Garfield Hospital here, who died on Thursday at the District of Columbia Smallpox Hospital is to be sent to her home in Campbellford, Ont., if the Canadian and United States authorities agree to the request of her mother in Campbelford.

Miss Govan's death is the third from the disease in the hospital in the last several weeks. The first was that of a Washington policewoman, who contracted the disease from her sister on a visit from their home in Aberdeen, S.D.

Another patient, Miss Nora Highlen, also a Garfield nurse, is in a serious condition at the smallpox hospital, while two others are recovering.

Request that the body be sent to the Campbellford home was contained in a telegram from Miss Govan's mother sent to Dr. William G. Fowler, Washington Health Officer, who referred the request to the Canadian and United States authorities.

NEUTRALITY PACT UNDER DISCUSSION

France Does Not Insist Upon Germany Recognizing Inviolability of All Frontiers.

PARIS, Feb. 16. — (Canadian Press).—A neutrality agreement, such as Belgium's old agreement, but this time including the Rhine and Austrian frontiers, is being discussed between London and Paris, a correspondent learns. Other signatories are expected to be Germany, Italy, Belgium and perhaps Holland.

Since the British Dominions made clear their objections to the Geneva protocol negotiations, London and Paris efforts have been intensified and it is hoped to have a regional agreement, such as foreseen by the League covenant ready for the March meeting of the League Council, when the British have promised to take a stand regarding the League protocol.

The British Government is said to be taking up with the Dominions the desirability of a neutrality agreement for regional protection in Western Europe, and it is understood that if the Dominions accept France will agree to conclude the security compact with Germany as one of the signatories, even though Germany agrees only to the inviolability of the Rhine and Bavarian frontier.

France is not insisting as heretofore, upon Germany agreeing to the inviolability of all frontiers.

This, the British argument is, can be reserved for a later regional neutrality compact.

YOUNG MOTHERS AS BANDITS

Chicago Police Hold Two 18-Year-Old Girls and Four Men.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Two eighteen-year-old mothers were held Saturday with four men, alleged to be their accomplices in eight holdups during several of which the women had their babies with them.

Mabel Robertson and Genevieve Watier admitted, the police said, that they kept their husbands in ignorance of their operations, which, they said, were "for fun."

SEARCH FOR TEACHER.

Kingston Man Has Been Missing Since Wednesday Noon.

KINGSTON, February 16 (Canadian Pres). — The police this morning were instructed by Crown Attorney T. J. Rigney to trace the whereabouts of Professor Joseph Andre, the well-known music teacher, who has been in Kingston since last September, and who has not been seen or heard of since last Wednesday at noon.

Inquiries are being made at the request of his wife, a Kingston girl, to whom he has been married but a few weeks.

Andre was last seen by his wife when he left to catch a train for Toronto on a brief business trip.

WEDDING BELLS

CANNON—IVEY.

A quiet wedding took place at George street church parsonage on Saturday afternoon, when George Washington Cannon and Liell Annie Ivey were united in the hold bonds of matrimony, the pastor, Rev. W. H. Young, officiating. The bridal couple were attended by Thomas Sproats and Myrtle Frost. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon will reside in Peterborough.

BRAULT—STABLER.

A pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Etta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stabler, Bethune Street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Archibald Brault, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brault, Water Street. Rev. P. Costello performed the ceremony. Miss L. Hurley played the wedding march, and Miss Annie Simons sang an Ave Maria and several English hymns.

The bride wore a gown of henna canton crepe, trimmed with sand, with a sand colored coat and silver grey hat, and scarf and gloves to match. She carried an arm bouquet of ophelia roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lauretta Phelan, wore black satin, trimmed with grey fur, with grey fur coat, red satin hat and corsage bouquet of columbia roses. Mrs. James McCliggott acted as best man.

After the ceremony, guests to the number of about thirty, including several from Montreal and Toronto, were entertained at a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brault leaving on the noon C.P.R. train for a honeymoon in Hamilton and Niagara Falls. On their return, they will reside in Peterboro.

OBITUARY.

LUSH.

Sad news reached Peterboro, Sunday, Feb. 8, of the death of Mabel Lush, beloved wife of Mr. James S. Johnson, of 74 Matheson Avenue, Winnipeg.

The deceased was in the prime of life, being only 39 years of ago. She was well known in Peterboro, having lived here until 1902.

She was the mother of five children, four of whom survive her, the youngest being born but a few days prior to her death.

In addition to her sorrowing husband and children, she leaves to mourn her loss, her father, Henry Lush of Deloraine, Manitoba; a sister, Maude, Mrs. A. Watson, of Saskatoon, and two brothers, Tom of North Monaghan, and Frank of Wainwright, Alberta.

The funeral took place from Clark Leatherdale's funeral parlors to Elmwood Cemetery.

MRS. ISABEL MOORE.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Isabel Moore, widow of the late C. H. Moore, took place on Friday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. Comstock, 356 Rubidge street, to the Little Lake cemetery. The funeral was largely attended and many beautiful floral emblems of sympathy were received. Rev. R. Pogue and Rev. Dr. Blagrave conducted the services at the house, Rev. Mr. Pogue taking the services at the cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. W. Madill, M. A. Morrison, J. H. Connal T. H. Gillespie, G. L. Hay and R. W. Davidson.

The late Mrs. C. H. Moore was twice married. Born Isabel Mann, of Baltimore, Ont., she was formerly Mrs. David Knox of this city. She was an ardent church worker in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, and was at the time of her death president of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid Society. She was also associated with the Ashburnham Women's Patriotic League, and Councillor in Otonabee Chapter I. O. D.E. She was a woman of widespread sympathies and very loving nature, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and by her two daughters, Mrs. John Comstock and Mrs. W. T. Regan, both of this city. Four step-children also survive: Mrs. F Hutchinson and Miss Lillian Moore, of Peterboro, Mrs. D. Patterson of Hamilton, and Mr. M. Moore of Toronto.

STEPHEN J. MILSTEAD.

The death occurred to-day of Stephen J. Milstead.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 p.m. from Comstock's Funeral Parlours, Rev. J. D. Paterson officiating. Interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET HAYES, ROCHESTER.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., February 16 (Special to The Examiner). — Mrs. Margaret Hayes, sister of Mrs. Theresa Sheehan and Mary Herr, both of Peterborough, Ont., and Patrick, Bartholomey, and Timothy Crowley, all of Hastings, Ont., near Peterborough, died on Friday night following a brief illness at her home here, No. 112 Jones Street.

The late Mrs. Hayes also is survived by her husband, Richard Hayes, four sons, Frank M., Richard L., Walter J., and Leo J. Hayes, and by two sisters Miss Hannah Crowley and Miss Ellen Crowley, both of this city, and two other brothers, James Crowley of this city and John Crowley of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral services were held from the late home of the deceased here this (Monday) morning at 8.30 o'clock, and from Our Lady Chapel Cathedral, here at 9 o'clock, and interment was made here in the family lot in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

ADAMSON.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. H. T. Adamson, who died February 16th, 1924:

One year has passed, our hearts still sore,
As time rolls on, we miss her more.
Her loving smiles, her welcome face,
No one can fill her vacant place.

Forget her, no, we never will,
We loved her then, we love her still.
Her memory is as fresh to-day
As in the hour she passed away.

Oh, how our hearts do wander
To the lone and silent grave,
Where they laid our loved one
Just one year ago to-day.

The happy hours we once enjoyed
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a vacant place,
The world can never fill.

Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her troubled night has passed,
Her ever patient, wornout frame
Has found sweet rest at last.

PRESTON'S PAST UNDER ASSAULT BY SUTHERLAND

"Barnacle on the Ship of State" is Conservative's Reference to Commission.

REPORT ON SHIPS

Mr. Sutherland Harks Back Quarter of Century for Personal Aspersions.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press). — An attack on W. T. R. Preston, the commissioner who investigated the North Atlantic shipping "combine" for the Dominion Government, featured the speech of Donald Sutherland, Conservative member for South Oxford, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Sutherland said that last year when the estimates were under discussion he had taken strong exception to the appointment of "this man, W. T. R. Preston." He had even moved that the amount to cover the cost of the investigation be stricken from the estimates. The Government, however, had forced the item through.

"This man, W. T. R. Preston, has been known for 25 or 30 years as one of the barnacles of the ship of State," Mr. Sutherland said.

In spite of his opposition last year, said Mr. Sutherland, the Minister of Trade and Commerce was determined that Mr. Preston should be appointed.

Overlooked Murdock.

"Would it not have been much more simple for the Government to have called on that king of combine busters, the Minister of Labor?" Mr. Sutherland asked. "The Minister of Labor drove all the combines in the Dominion of Canada into the sea at a cost of $82.40. Now the Government is putting a man on the high seas to drive them from there."

"I am ashamed to hear this name," Mr. Sutherland said, referring to Mr. Preston. He proceeded to review the political record of Mr. Preston to show the House the "infamies which he has been pursuing."

"I am going to refer to some of his escapades in the county adjoining that in which I live," Mr. Sutherland said, producing a file of correspondence.

West Elgin Election.

This file dealt with a by-election in West Elgin in 1899. Mr. Sutherland read the reports, affidavits, and newspaper articles, seeming to show that the gravest irregularities had been practiced in that campaign by the Liberal organizers, chief of whom was Mr. Preston.

Finally Mr. Sutherland read a letter said to have been written by the successful Liberal candidate, Donald McNeish, in which Mr. McNeish tendered his resignation of the seat, and admitted that irregularities had taken place. Mr. Sutherland quoted Senator Allen Aylsworth, then a Liberal counsel, as vouching for the truth of the statement made. Mr. Sutherland challenged any member of the House to consult Sir Allen on the subject and start a discussion in the Upper House, if they wished to challenge the truth of his utterances.

Whisked Out of Canada.

Mr. Preston had been whisked out of Canada by the Liberals following the scandal and sent to Europe as an immigration agent. Two men who worked under him were given jobs in the Orient. Thus, they were all rewarded for their work in West Elgin, said Mr. Sutherland. Many years have passed, but Canada could not forget that Mr. Preston had been repudiated by such staunch Liberals as Hon. S. H. Blake, that he was one of the "gang of outlaws" who had gone to West Elgin to win an election by such machine tactics as he had outlined.

Now in 1925, the House of Commons was asked to endorse a report which Mr. Preston had made on ocean shipping conditions and to accept it for their guidance in dealing with a matter of national importance. He had not read the Preston report and he did not purpose to deal with its merits, but he could not help remembering that Mr. Preston's only activity in Canada in late years had been his connection with the abortive attempt to regulate lake shipping along certain lines.

BANDITS WERE COOL.

One Impersonates Bell Boy After Tying Up Clerk.

SAN JOSE, Calif., February 17 (Canadian Press). — The Hotel St. James, which adjoins the County Jail here, was held up on Monday by two men, who took $2,500 worth of jewellery from Clerk Harry Williams.

After tying Williams and the bell boy in a room adjoining the office, the robbers registered a newly arrived couple and one of them enacting the role of bell boy, escorted the guests to their rooms and collected a tip.

SNOWSTORMS, GALES AND TIDAL WAVES SWEEP SOUTHERN EUROPE WITH HAVOC

Snow Piles Up in Alpine Countries, Dislocating Communication by Wire—Italian Seaside Resorts Suffer Heavy Damage From Wind and Waves.

LONDON, Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press).—For the past thirty-six hours a large section of Europe, including the whole of Italy, the Bavarian Alps and in a lesser degree, portions of Austria, France, Switzerland, Portugal, Spain and Morocco, have been visited by snowstorms and gales of an extraordinary character, approaching tornado force. These have been responsible for a vast amount of damage to property and crops, and unusually heavy delays in the reception of telegraphic despatches, especially from Italy, and the consequent breakdown of telegraphic and telephonic communications.

Only the briefest descriptions of the havoc caused by these storms have yet reached London, and it is found that when the full tale is told the damage will prove to be exceedingly heavy. Up to the present, however, there has fortunately been no record of any serious disasters to shipping or loss of life.

Italy Suffers Worst.

The disturbance seems to have centred in the Mediterranean, for although there have been gales in the English Channel and rough weather on the Atlantic and the British coasts, the British Isles have really been little affected, only experiencing the usual normal winter conditions. Italy apparently has been the worst sufferer, the wind strangely resembling an African sirocco, styled by the natives "earthquake weather," presaging possible earth disturbances.

Italy has suffered at various points river floods and heavy seas approaching tidal waves, carrying away bathing places, cottages and all kinds of equipment found at seaside resorts. Even the Riviera has not escaped. Everywhere trees have been uprooted and houses unroofed.

MARMORA MAN'S BIG WOLF HUNT

Sanford Lawrence Bagged Five Last Week—And Two Foxes.

MARMORA, Feb. 17.—Marmora's premier hunter, Mr. Sanford Lawrence, has at length come into his own, having an experience he will not likely equal again. He has put to shame the famous Soo wolf hunt of a few months back. His last week's bag included five timber wolves (three being female), two red foxes and a fisher. Four of the wolves were shot just before dusk on Wednesday last while in pursuit of a deer across a lake. They were within an ace of the animal when shot.

The first shot killed the first wolf and blinded the second in both eyes. The second shot knocked down the third wolf, the third shot killed the fourth wolf, and the blinded wolf was put out of its agony by the fourth shot.

The capture of the fifth wolf was not without incident. Mr. Lawrence had fixed a trap for mink and was proceeding to examine it when a fox crossed his path. His aim was sure. On arriving at the trap, to his surprise, he found he had trapped a wolf. The fisher was tracked into a hollow log. Mr. Lawrence plugged the hole in the log, and chopping a hole in the side of the log higher up, ended the animal's life by using his tomahawk. The first mentioned feat is rendered the more remarkable through its being accomplished with a shotgun.

The hides of all these animals are to be exhibited in Connor and Jones' hardware store. On Sunday, Mr. Lawrence received many congratulations from his friends. Many farmers in the northern locality will rejoice that the menace to their flocks has thus been lessened.

The hunted deer put in the night about forty rods away from the scene of the death of its hot pursuers, thus showing the exhausted condition the creature was in.

MRS. HOWARD FALLIS AGAIN AT HEAD OF WOMEN CONSERVATIVES

Was Re-elected President Yesterday by Ballot, For a Third Term.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Activities and Growing Membership Mark Association as Live One.

That the West Peterborough Women's Liberal-Conservative Association is an active, going organization in the political arena, was irrefutably demonstrated by the enthusiasm and business like proceedings which characterized the third annual meeting in Hooper's Palm Parlour yesterday afternoon. And that Conservative women in this district recognise that this association is very much alive, and aiming at objectives in the interest of their homes and country, was evidenced by the addition yesterday of no less than over 40 new names to the membership roll.

The parlour was taxed to accommodate the attendance, despite the fact that quite a number of earnest workers were absent through sickness and other causes. The atmosphere was charged with dominating notes of loyalty to and endorsation of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, and their policies, while preparedness for activity in next Federal election was voiced by the President as an objective not to be lost sight of.

Another marked feature of the gathering was the practical appreciation of Mrs. Howard Fallis' outstanding worthiness as head of this organization by her re-election for a third term as president.

Similar and commendable recognition of Mrs. Roland Denne as an exceedingly capable secretary, was also forthcoming in her re-election for a third year. In fact, this energetic band of political women, on the whole, did not find that reason for a change in their officials they enequivocally pronounce in regard to the Federal government, for the only new officer is Mrs. Joseph Mills, the first vice-president, who proved real working ward chairman last year.

Mrs. G. G. Evans' services the last two years as treasurer, were endorsed as highly satisfactory by her return to the same office for 1925.

Officers Elected.

The election of officers was by ballot and not by open vote as heretofore. Mesdames Benton and Wright acted as scrutineers. The result follows:

President, Mrs. Howard Fallis; honorary president, Mrs. W. H. Bradburn; first vice president, Mrs. Joseph L. Mills; second vice president, Mrs. S. T. Medd; third vice president, Miss Morgan; hon. vice president, Mrs. James Kendry; secretary, Mrs. Roland Denne; treasurer, Mrs. G. G. Evans.

Mrs. Joseph Mills presided during the election.

In thanking the meeting for the honor again conferred upon her, President Mrs. Howard Fallis said that were she and the executive to receive the same substantial support as last year, she would be perfectly satisfied.

Resolutions Adopted.

On motion by Miss B. Griffin and Mrs. Chas. Wright, the meeting expressed its loyalty to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and its recognition in him of a gifted statesman and brilliant leader, as well as a broad-minded exponent of the principles and aims of the Liberal-Conservative party of Canada.

On motion by Mrs. Joseph Mills and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, the gathering also expressed their utmost confidence in Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, and his cabinet their ability as a government and their policies.

Encouraging Reports.

Secretary Mrs. Roland Denne reported a satisfactory and encouraging past year in every respect, a year also in which many new members had been added.

Mrs. G. G. Evans' report as treasurer showed her books to have been intelligently kept, and receipts to have been judiciously disbursed in meeting the organization's requirements.

In this connection President Fallis gratefully acknowledged generous financial assistance from male Conservatives when necessity called, particularly so at the time of the Women's Association's big At Home at the end of last year.

The meeting adjourned to March 23rd, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Right Spirit.

President Mrs. Howard Fallis opened the meeting by expressing sincere thanks to the members for their unfailing help when needed. "I have never yet," she said, "asked for co-operation without meeting with a hearty response. That is the spirit by which we hope to keep the association going strong."

Thinking two years long enough for any executive to hold office without an expression by vote of the organization's members, she explained the executive had decided that this year the election of officers shall be by ballot and not by open voting.

SOCIALISTS OF HERRIOT GROUP EMBARRASS HIM

Premier Appeals to Opposition for Party Truce to Restore France's Stability.

PATHETIC REQUEST

Productive Capital Not To Be Assailed, Herriot Declares in Defense.

PARIS, Feb 17.—Premier Herriot made an earnest effort in the Chamber of Deputies Monday afternoon to re-weld the "sacred union" of parties for the single purpose of restoring confidence in French finances. The Opposition appeared to be insensible to his appeal, while murmurs from the right and the right centre that greeted his somewhat pathetic request for a truce indicated there was little chance of the head of the government disarming his adversaries so long as he remains under the influence of the Radical-Socialist coalition.

Marcel Heraud, one of the Opposition deputies just before the premier spoke, had declared that all parties could accept M. Herriot's assurances with confidence and that they were well meant, but that so long as M. Leo Blum, leader of the Socialist party, was one of the government's most appreciated counsellors, there were grave doubts as to whether the premier could make those declarations good.

Disavows Inflation.

The whole chamber approved M. Herriot's vigorous assurance that, cost what it might, France would neither inflate nor allow her signature to go to protest. The Opposition, however, throughout the session seemed to make clear that it held a distinction between France ad the present government. The Socialists showed nervousness whenever the premier touched on points affecting their doctrine, particularly when he intimated strongly there could be no thought of a capital levy.

In his speech, the premier foreshadowed severe measures for controlling the income tax, proposing confiscation of capital on which the interest was not declared, and prison for fraud: in addition to fines for the non-declaration of fortunes placed abroad. The external signs of wealth, he said, would be compared with the declarations made.

The official report of the chamber's proceedings shows that Premier Herriot's reference to a tax on capital was due to M. Heraud's saying he was aware that M. Herriot always considered a tax on capital as an exceptional measure, thus being in disagreement with the Socialists, who consider it an annual and permanent measure.

Here Deputy Varenne, a leading Socialist, interrupted, asserting that M. Heraud replied that he was not confusing anything, and quoted M. Herriot as saying: "You ask if I shall tax capital. I tell you clearly and frankly under present conditions, No."

Stupid Taxation.

When the premier in his speech reached the point where he declared that the head of any democratic government who struck a blow at saving would be betraying all the traditions of France, he went on to ask:

"Have we, as regards taxation of capital those somewhat summary ideas which are attributed if not to me, at least to certain of my friends? If we believe that there exist dormant capital which slips out of national patriotic duty, we are of the opinion that nothing would be more stupid, more vain, than to wish to get at capital which works, capital which produces."

After this reference to a question which he and his friends of the Socialist group hardly agree, M. Herriot continued: "Even the income tax ought to be preserved from certain excess."

M. Blum, Socialist leader, cordially agreed that "above all the income tax ought to be preserved."

The premier's only reference to ital was: "I will not here examine the law on the export of capital, the suppression of which is to be the object of a new law."

BROTHER COMMITTED.

To Stand Trial For Death of Orphanage Boy.

MONTREAL, February 17 (Canadian Press). — Brother Usmar, of the Belgian Brothers of Mercy of Huberdeau Orphanage, held responsible by a coroner's jury for the death through scalding of eight-year-old Hector Galnereau, was committed to stand trial before the Court of King's Bench on a charge of manslaughter, after his counsel declared that the accused had no evidence to offer at this juncture when he appeared yesterday before Judge Monet for voluntary statement.

Brother Usmar is at liberty on bonds of $2,000.

THREE MEMBERS OF OPPOSITION RENEW ATTACKS

Garland, Hocken and Sutherland Started Conservative Broadside as Week Opens.

MANY SUGGESTIONS

Compel Immigrants to Remain Two Years on Land, Garland Advises.

OTTAWA, February 17. — By Canadian Press. — The debate on the address was continued by W. F. Garland (Conservative, Carleton) when the House of Commons met on Monday afternoon. He disapproved of the Government's fiscal policy to which he ascribed much of the unemployment in Canada. He suggested that housewives who had no money found little comfort in elaborate government publications dealing with the cost of living. The National Policy should be altered so as to provide employment and wages.

He suggested a restriction on immigrants which would compel them to remain, say, for two years on the land, or be deported.

He urged the government to pay closer attention to economy in administration every possible leak in the public treasury should be blocked. One feasible economy would be shorter speeches and a shorter session.

Donald Sutherland.

Donald Sutherland (Conservative, South Oxford), was the next speaker.

The alarming increase in the public debt and the loss of 100,000 of the best young people of this country, had created an appalling situation. It appeared to be the policy of this country to employ our own people in a foreign country, to send goods back to Canada. The government was to-day "drifting without an objective in trade, defence or anything else."

The majority of the progressives were, as Miss McPhail had said, nothing more than "a pale shadow of the government."

"I believe," declared Mr. Sutherland, "that the government has absolutely failed to meet conditions as they exist in this country and the best thing they can do is to go back to the people and receive a mandate from them if they feel they are competent to carry on."

Horatio C. Hocken (Conservative, West Toronto), stated that the Prime Minister during his recent western trip, had made an appeal to the Progressives, "to come all in, and we will be all one happy family—and I do not know but had it not been for the ginger group, the marriage might have taken place."

Last year more people actually left Canada than came into the country, Mr. Hocken said. He quoted statistics from the Registrar of Ontario to show that 100 people every day were leaving Ontario for the United States with the stated intention of staying there, and one-half of these were married men. If the same situation existed in the other provinces Canada was sending more than 500 people a day to the United States.

Business conditions were very bad. One firm in Toronto of 70 years' standing, had survived the depressions of 1878 and 1891, but had failed in 1924. Mr. Hocken hoped that the government would never have to come back to the dole system for the unemployed, but there were emergencies which should be provided for and should be met with a grant.

Business Taxes.

Mr. Hocken enumerated federal, provincial and municipal taxes on business, a total of nine, and said that Canadian business was being taxed to death.

He went on to describe conditions in the woollen and textile industries, and quoted officials of Pembroke woollen mills—"and they are Liberals" he said—as saying that the textile industry in Canada was not being strangled to death, but bludgeoned to death.

W. K. Baldwin (Liberal, Stanstead) drew attetion to a statement last Friday from the Do inion textile Company, reporting that their mill was running 90 per cent. of capacity.

Mr. Hocken admitted that this was a good average but the woollen mills were not enjoying the same prosperity.

Mr. Hocken then took up immigration. He complained that Canada had no minister of immigration.

CHILDREN'S BETROTHAL ENDS OLD FEUD

With the betrothal of beautiful Maria Guicciardini, 6 (left), to Antonio Lualdi, 8, a feud which has run for over 100 years between the two Corsican families, and which has cost more than 30 lives, is to come to and end.

FIRST DIVISION WON BY BALDWIN

Vote of 335 to 146 on Proposal to Aid Industries by Tariff.

IS NOT GENERAL

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Government was victorious in the House of Commons last night against the first Opposition attack on its general policy, when by a vote of 335 to 146, it defeated Ramsay MacDonald's resolution, declaring that the method the Government proposed for reviving the safeguarding of industries duties must lead to a system of general tariffs.

The whole discussion was rather unreal, because it turned on the mere question of procedure, not of principle. The Government had originally intended to introduce an entirely new bill for the purpose, but later decided, as the safeguarding of industries act had been formally repealed, to resort to the insertion of necessary clauses in the budget bill, and deal with each suffering industry as occasion arose.

The Labor and Liberal opposition argued that this method would deprive Parliament of effectual control over the imposition of duties, but the real purpose of the Opposition attack was to represent the Government as being on the declivity leading to protection.

Premier Baldwin, in his defence, reiterated that he intended to abide loyally by the country's decision in the general election a year ago against protection and had no idea of trying to introduce protection by the back door. The debate revealed a curious divergence of opinion as between Ramsay MacDonald and Lloyd George. The former declared there were many signs in the United States, Germany and France that protectionism was beginning to be found out. Mr. Lloyd George could not agree with this view; he declared that certainly the last elections in the United States gave no sign of this.

C.P.R. SECTION MAN WAS DRAGGED UNDER ENGINE

His Shovel Caught in the Engine as He Worked.

PRESCOTT, Ont., Feb. 17—John Dimiskia, a Pole, about 40 years of age, was instantly killed in the C.P.R. yards here Monday afternoon. He was a section man and was engaged in removing scrap iron from a store house to a box car and while in the act of throwing a shovelful into the car, the shovel was caught in a passing engine and he was drawn underneath and fightfully mangled. A preliminary inquest was held in the yards immediately following the accident and a further inquest will be held on Thursday. Dimiskia has a wife and two children in Poland.

SPOTTERS FIND LINDSAY 'WETS'

Three Strangers Were Freely Admitted to Inner Circle And Clean-Up.

CHARGES FOLLOW

LINDSAY, Feb. 17.—A couple of weeks ago two or three strangers dropped into Lindsay and they soon formed the acquaintance of a number of well-known characters who enjoy an odd game of poker, but whose chief occupation appears to be, according to the statement of the authorities, dispensing liquor of doubtful quality to the thirsty ones of the district.

The strangers appeared to be hale fellows well met. They were not asked to produce credentials before being admitted into the local "booze circle," but were received with open arms. They were always present when booze dispensing operations were at their height, and, like Caesar's wife, were above suspicion.

They quietly slipped out of town, and nothing more was thought of their activities until three local men were served by the authorities with blue documents on the charge of selling liquor. It turned out that the strangers were none other than a couple of "spotters" who had been sent in by the Government to make a clean up. The accused will be given a hearing in the police court on Thursday morning.

$300,000 OIL SWINDLE OF MIDDLESEX FARMERS

One Man Gave $17,000 Victory Bonds—Mortgaged Home.

LONDON, Ont., February 17 (Canadian Press). — Believing that they are the victims of one of the biggest swindles ever put over in Ontario a score of Middlesex farmers are asking the Government to assist them in recovering $300,000 invested by them in Texas oil stocks.

Already legal machinery has been put in motion at Toronto to have a criminal investigation officer sent to Texas.

The actual amount of money sunk by farmers is $288,000.

One man alone is said to have paid over $17,000 in Canadian Victory Bonds for shares in the company. Also this same man mortgaged his home for $4,000 to invest in oil wells that were represented to be producing 250 barrels a day.

GRAIN EXPORTS.

WASHINGTON, February 17 (Canadian Press). — Grain exports from the United States last week were 2,065,000 bushels, as compared with 2,930,000 the previous week.

Canadian grains shipped from the United States ports last week amounted to 1,814,000 bushels against 2,416,000 the previous week.

COLLINS HELD IN ROCK TOMB; FOR ETERNITY

"Thank God They've Found Him," Father's Exclamation When Body Found.

RESCUERS LOST

Ancient Hills of Kentucky To Receive Body They Held To Death.

LATE BULLETIN.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 17. — The body of Floyd Collins will be left in his natural tomb, and his funeral services will be held this afternoon, at the mouth of the shaft which was dug to rescue him but in vain.

His aged father, Lee Collins, consented to the arrangement after Dr. William Haslett of Chicago, had himself examined Collins and pronounced him dead.

H. T. Carmichael, in charge of the work at the shaft, said to-day: "I am satisfied in my own mind that Foyd Collins' body will never be brought to the surface.

Earlier in the day it had been planned to bury him beside his relatives in Mammoth Cave cemetery. The tragic story of the finding of the body was told in the earlier despatches.

CAVE CITY, Ky., February 17.—Revealed but not recovered, the body of Floyd Collins to-day is still lying in the natural tomb which had been his for more than 17 days, while jaded miners spurred on by the realization that at last they have found the cave, pecked away at the limestone roof of Sand Cave.

Collins' feet probably will remain for ever in the spot they were pinioned by the falling boulder 18 days ago.

H. T. Carmichael, in charge of the rescue work, is unwilling further to risk the lives of the miners in removing the boulder.

Surgeons went into the pit early to-day to attempt to amputate Collins' feet but were unable to reach him.

The body is almost covered with dirt and rocks and these must be removed before the medical examination can be made.

With the consent of Collins' family the physicians will amputate one or both feet when the hole has been made large enough for the physicians to enter.

It was announced late last night that Governor W. J. Fields had ordered that an autopsy be held on the body by three physicians to "determine the cause of death, to locate any possible injuries and to find if there were any traces of poison."

To Lie in State.

Meantime tentative arrangements for the body to lie in state in Cave City high school for two days were announced by T. L. Gorby, a friend of the family.

Four ministers, pastors of the churches in the region, will conduct the funeral services, and the body will be taken to Mammoth Cave burial ground and laid to rest beside those of his mother and sister.

Previously it had been announced that Lee Collins, father of the victim, was considering having the funeral in Crystal Cave, which Floyd discovered, and interment at the cave where Collins died.

Johnnie Gerald, one of the outstanding figures in the early rescue efforts, will be the first to go through the victim's clothing. In doing so Gerald will abide by the wish of Lee Collins. "Floyd had a habit of carrying everything he had with him" Mr. Collins told Gerald. "He carried his money, his deeds and any other valuables that he owned. I want you to go through his clothing for me, the first one."

It had been intimated by some that Floyd and Gerald had not been good friends and by others that he had hindered rather than helped in the rescue work.

Now, with Floyd dead, Mr. Collins

W. M. S. ANNUAL.

Mark Street Church Ladies Had an Interesting Programme.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Mark street Methodist church held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Sucee, 169 Hunter street East, on Friday afternoon, Feb 13th. The house was prettily decorated with Valentine decorations of hearts and cupids artistically arranged by Mrs. J. Weir. Mrs. W. H. Morton, president of the society, conducted the opening and business part of the meeting.

Words of appreciation of the life of the late Mrs. A. R. Campbell were given by Mrs. Rourke, Mrs. Matchett and Mrs. Speer.

For the second part of the programme Mrs. Wasson presided. An interesting programme was rendered of instrumental music by Miss F. Adams, and readings by Mrs. W. K. Payne.

The feature of the afternoon was a travel talk by Miss Jean Buck on her recent trip to the Old Country, which was listened to with great interest by all present. Dainty refreshments were served at the close.

BREWERY PROFITS SOAR.

Despite Decrease in Drinking Brewers Show Large Increase.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Associated Press.) — Although police reports from all over Great Britain report a decrease in the number of persons convicted for drunkenness during 1924, and that the consumption of beer has fallen from 32.2 gallons a person in 1900 to 17.4 in 1922, the profits of brewery companies show a large increase.

The profits of one big London brewery firm during 1922 were $3,800,000, and in addition to a dividend of 32 per cent., it wave a capital bonus of 100 per cent. In 1923 the profits of the same firm rose to $4,225,000. During 1914 the firm made only $2,040,000 in profits.

AUSTRALIA OFFERS TO CANADIAN MARKET AS BID FOR ENTRY TRADE CONCESSIONS

Plans to Sell Wool, Fruits, Dairy Products and Wines in Canada.

PLEA FOR TREATY

Trade Between Two Dominions Unbalanced, Says Australian Treasurer.

MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—Pointing out the mutual advantages to both Canada and Australia should the Dominion Parliament ratify the projected trade treaty between the two countries, the Hon. E. C. G. Page, treasurer of the Commonwealth of Australia, presented the case for the Antipodes to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here Monday. He intimated that the two countries were the complement of each other, their climate and seasons were totally different, and each was able to supply what the other needed and what the other was unable to furnish of itself.

The visiting statesman urged that Canada should avail herself of such Australian products as wool, fruits, and leather, while Canada could supply to Australia newsprint, machinery and other manufctured articles which at present were being bought either from the United States or from Britain.

Trade Not Balanced.

Canada's reciprocal trade with Australia was not commensurate with the amount of buying that the Commonwealth did in this country, and the trade treaty was designed to strike a better balance, with certain other advantages t oeach of the contracting dominions. Last year Australian purchases from this country had amounted to $25,000,000; but Canada had bought only $1,500,000 worth of goods from the Commonwealth.

The speaker outlined some of the concessions of the proposed trade treaty as follows. Fish, reduced from 5 to 2 cents per lb. Australia's trade in imported fish amounted annually to $9,675,000, and of this Canada had secured only 20 per cent.

Gloves, with an advtanges of 15 per cent. over the United States.

Printing machines, reduced from 10 per cent. to the free list.

Newsprint with a rebate of $15 per ton, placing Canadian paper on the same level as British paper.

Writing paper on a 5 per cent. basis, against 15 per cent, for other countries.

These were only some of the concessions Australia was willing to grant.

On the other hand the Commonwealth wanted to get into the Canadian market with raw wool, canned fruits, oranges, currants, jams, butter, cheese, wines, etc.

The speaker believed that with an increased north and southbound trade, many of Canada's transportation problems would be solved.

Montreal Girl Missing From Home Since Feb. 2

MONTREAL, Feb. 17—(Canadian Press).—Amy Cowan, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan, 3,150 Hutchison Street, has been missing from her home for two weeks, and her parents fear that she has been kidnapped. The girl is a blonde, and has grey eyes. She left home at 9 a.m. on February 2 to visit two neighborhood shops. She never reached them, and has not been heard of since.

News of her disappearance has been broadcast by radio and the police of other cities have been notified. It is stated that a warrant has been issued for a man suspected of complicity in her disappearance.

OHIO SEEKS RELIEF FROM LIQUOR LAW

State May Have Over-reached Herself in Enforcement Methods.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 17.—(United Press).—Having gone the federal government one better in making a prohibition law, Ohio is now looking into her enforcement methods to see whether she has over-reached herself.

The home state of the anti-saloon league is no place for laxity. When the state prohibition law finally came, it delegated such wide powers to village justices and so-called 'special enforcement agents' that the "little fellows" are making small fortunes off the boot-leggers and the municipal and county courts are virtually deserted of liquor cases.

Unofficially a controversy has arisen between the "big fellows" and the "little fellows over the spoils of prohibition.

The state legislature, now in session, has taken cognizance of the situation and is considering several bills designed to limit the jurisdiction of justices to their own communities. This would cut the wide range of their power materially and through such legislation agents of suburban justice courts would be prohibited from raiding the homes of residents in nearby cities.

The state bar association and the municipal and common pleas judges of the state have gone on record against the alleged "commercialization of prohibition enforcement" by the village justices.

But the practices of the rural courts are authorized by law and until the law is changed the practices will continue.

Friend of the state prohibition statute maintain that without this wide delegation of power the law could not be enforced as the state prohibition department has only 20 agents.

Thus far the operation of the law has in many cases proved to be a boomerang. Mayors and justices courts have employed numerous agents on a fee-splitting basis and the result has been commercialization.

A recent report on the activities of two justices courts in small villages in Lucas county showed annual incomes for single courts from liquor fines and fees of more than $100,000. The bulk of the fees went to the arresting agents and the justices and the fines into village coffers.

In this way many communities have built schools, improved roads and erected imposing city buildings with money collected as fines from wealthy residents of nearby cities.

In East Liverpool a new development arose recently when dry agents of East Liverpool and Wellston carried on a war of reprisal, raiding homes in each other's communities. The affair lasted for more than a week, with Wellston agents spending all their times raiding homes and business houses in East Liverpool agents doing the same in Wellston. Persons arrested in Wellston were tried in East Liverpool and persons arrested in East Liverpool were tried in Wellston.

Several reports of state investigators are on file in the state auditor's office here chargeng that justices issue signed search warrants and distribute them among agents to fill out and serve at will.

NORWOOD'S OLDEST RESIDENT IS STILL AN ACTIVE WORKER

James Drury Was Born in the Village 95 Years Ago—Last Winter He Chopped Wood, Walking Three Miles to Work.

MRS. DRURY IS SPRY AT 87

NORWOOD, Feb. 17. — James Drury, Norwood's oldest resident was born in the village on July 6th, 1830. His parents, who were United Empire Loyalist, came to this country in their earlier days from Vermont. The father followed the occupation of a cooper. His home, which was a log house, stood on the south east corner of the lot now owned and occupied by John E. Roxburgh on Peterboro street. His shop was also on the lot.

When Mr. Drury was 14 years of age he joined the Norwood

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DRURY, of Norwood, aged 95 and 87 respectively. Mr. Drury is the son of pioneers of Norwood district.

L.O.L. and has been a member of the order ever since. In his 21st year he was united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Carr, pastor of the Methodist church, to Elizabeth McLaughlin of Belmont, a sister of R. H. McLaughlin, a former esteemed resident of Norwood. Of this union seven children were born, four of whom are still living, namely: Willard Drury of Lindsay, Ont., Robert Drury and Mrs. Robert Sarginson of Highland Grove, Ont., and Mrs. George Cahmberlain of Gooderham, Ont.

About the year 1871 Mr. Drury moved to Haliburton, where he again engaged in farming and where his wife died. About thirteen years ago he was married to Mrs. Andrew Allen, whose maiden name was Annie Sanders, and shortly after their marriage they returned to Norwood and purchased from Geo. Peters the home where they now live, on the corner of Queen and Alma streets. Mr. and Mrs. Drury are the oldest couple in the village, if not in this district, he being 95 years and she 87 years of age.

Even at their advanced years the old couple are quite active. Mrs. Drury, although not as active as a few years ago, still goes about her household duties, doing her own washing and ironing, with what assistance he can give her. Last year Mr. Drury took care of three gardens and the year before he looked after six. Last winter he walked three miles every day, taking his dinner with him, and chopped wood on shares, returning home in the evening.

There are some who are left who remember hearing of the many hardships of pioneer life in this district but not many who actually saw things as Mr. Drury did; when wolves came right up to the doors of the homes; when in sickness (if a doctor was needed) the pioneers had to walk to Peterboro to get one. There are (in spite of his declining years) incidents well remembered by him.

Mr. and Mrs. Drury have been life long members of the Methodist church and now, after many years in the service of their Master, are waiting the summons, "Come up higher."

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

A Trouble Which Leaves People Depressed and Unhappy.

Nervous exhaustion is often the cause of great unhappiness, because the sufferer and his friends do not recognize it as an ailment. To them, and even to himself, he seems to be merely ill-tempered, crotchy and irritable.

The peevishness for which women and girls are often blamed is not their fault—it is their misfortune. Their nerves are "all on edge." The least shock, a sudden noise, or even being spoken to unawares causes real suffering, and no one ought to be surprised if hasty words are the result. But this does not mean bad temper; it means starved, exhausted nerves.

Headaches, low spirits, poor appetite, weariness and lack of energy follow nerve exhaustion, and relief is easy to obtain. What the starved nerves need is richer, better blood, and this can be obtained through a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By their blood enriching qualities these pills do wonders; nervous men and women become calm, steady and energetic under their influence. New blood is what does the work. To obtain it give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Dr. Jamieson and Messrs. W. D. Black and T. A. They will request a lower freight rate on lime fertilizer for farms.

The committee considers that farmers would be helped considerably by lower freight rates on fertilizer.

DECRIES "JAZZ THINKING"

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Dr. J. P. Wickersham Crawford, professor of Romantic Languages and Literature at the University of Pennsylvania, told the 200 canditdates for diplomas and degrees at the mid-year convocation of the university that this was the jazz age in more respects than one.

"That is the trouble with a good deal of our recent fiction, our recent verse, our recent thinking, and our recent music," he said.

" have no objection to jazz in the ballroom, but it must have well expressed ideas behind it before it can be taken seriously. The new world symphony shows the possibilities of jazz, but how few have taken advantage of them! Most of the jazz music, like jazz literature and jazz thinking, is the product of the untrained mind, that does not work in any direction, that does not know how to think and cannot support the effort of trying to think. And it is precisely this training, whatever its later application may be, that a university course is best fitted to give."

YEAR FOR FRAUD.

Others Involved Are Sought by the Police.

SASKATOON, Sask., Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press). — William A. Nichol was sentenced to one year in jail without hard labor yesterday by Mr. Justice H. V. Bigelow. He was convicted by a jury on Saturday on four charges of fraud, in connection with the sale of stock in the Wheat Belt Packing Company, of Saskatoon, whose assets melted like snow while in process of organization. In sentencing Nichol, the Justice said he regretted that "a mere tool" of the higher up men, was being sentenced before the principals had been disposed of. There is a reward of $500 offered for the arrest of J. H. Reid and Raymond Priest, fugitive promoters of the company, while Douglas McConnell, barrister and former secretary-treasurer of the company, is out on bail awaiting trial on 14 charges.

BEER OPPOSED BY MILLBROOK WOMEN

W.M.S. of Methodist Church Protest to the Premier.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 17.—The following resolution from the local branch of the W.M.S. was forwarded to the Attorney-General, Hon. W. F. Nickle, and the member for East Durham, A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., last week:

"Resolved that the members of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Methodist Church, Millbrook, representing a total of ninety votes, unanimously petition the Legislature of Ontario, now in session at Queen's Park, Toronto, to make no change in the Ontario Temperance Act increasing the alcoholic content of beer.

"The proposal that the Act be amended to allow the sale of stronger beer we regard as detrimental to the best interests of our Province, and as the Act was sustained by a substantial majority at the recent plebiscite, we believe the Government is under obligation to keep it unchanged upon the statute books, in the above respect, or along the line of any similar legislation that may be introduced.

"Furthermore, we respectfully petition the Prime Minister, Honorable G. Howard Ferguson, that he remain true to his pledge 'to strengthen the Act's weaknesses and give it adequate and vigorous enforcement'."

Signed on behalf of the Auxiliary officers and members,

Mrs (Rev.) F. H. Howard, Pres.
Pearl Burnham, Cor. Sec'y.

Valentines at School.

The pupils of the primary room at the Public School had somewhat of a special occasion provided for them by their teacher, Miss B. Montgomery, following the recess period on Friday afternoon, owing to the proximity of Saint Valentine's Day, which came this year on Saturday.

Some of the pupils who took part in the brief programme were: Bryar Edmunds, Gertie Richards, Mary Burnham, Harold Howson, Willie Betton, and others. Games and music added to the pleasure of the young folk, and not the least enjoyable feature was the distribution of Valentines from the "post office" box which did duty for the occasion, every pupil receiving more than one of the heart-shaped, and gaily-decorated remembrances.

The sandwiches, home-made candy and other good things, which brought the happy afternoon to a conclusion, added another joyous note to the children's delight in the Saint's birthday which was being commemorated.

"Fanny Crosby Day."

Several places in the United States are making preparation to observe "Fanny Crosby Day" on Sunday, March 22nd, and owing to the universal fame of the hymn-writer, together with the place given her sacred songs in the hymnology of all denominations, there is an effort being made to have the day commemorated in Canada, and possibly other parts of the world as well.

The birthday of Miss Crosby falls this year on March 23rd, hence the choice of the Sunday immediately preceding the event for special services. The Americans have in view the raising of funds to establish an old folks' home at Bridgeport, Conn., where the last years of the famous hymn-writer's life were spent.

Similarly local churches might make some worthy philanthropic object to benefit from special offerings taken up should the decision to mark the day in some manner be arrived at.

The many friends of Mrs. V. Mulligan, who has been taking a course of treatment in Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital on account of ill-health, will be glad to learn that she is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Mrs. Alex. Wilson, who recently had a bad fall, slipping on the linoleum floor-covering in the kitchen which is not in constant use during the severe weather, and severely spraining her right wrist, is recovering the use of her hand again. The swelling of both hand and arm is largely reduced, the soreness and stiffness accompanying such an accident causing the most inconvenience at present.

Misses Eileen Higgs and Miss Jean Erskine were guests of Miss Phyllis Richards over the week-end.

The duet, "Ever, Only, Jesus," sung by Miss Higgs and Miss Richards, at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning, was much appreciated by the congregation.

Rev. J. Wilks preached in Grace Presbyterian Church on Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. S. Gervan. Mr. Wilks' friends will be glad to learn that he has recovered from the fall which he had one day last week, in front of G. E. Burnham's residence, where a particularly slippery stretch of pavement proved treacherous footing for old and young alike. Mr. Wilks struck the back of his head, causing some concussion and leaving a large lump, which, however, is disappearing apparently without other serious ill effects from the accident.

Getting Too Fat? Try This—Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumberso-me, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmola Co., General Motors Bldg., Detroit Mich. By doing this you will be able to reduce steadily and easily and pleasantly, without starvation diet, or tiresome exercise. Start taking them today and get slender.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH USE WRONG METHOD

Greater Proportion of Graduates in Jail Than Out.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Surveys among prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail indicate that there is something wrong with present educational and religious methods, in the opinion of Raymond I. Turney, director of the Los Angeles Crime Commission. He expressed this view at a recent meeting of the Southern California Academy of Criminology.

Seven percent of the inmates of the county jail, Mr. Turney said, were college graduates, as against 6¼ percent in ordinary civil life; 12½ percent of the prisoners had college training; 45 percent were high school graduates, compared with 25 percent outside the walls.

All the prisoners agreeed, added Mr. Turney, that there had been a lack of moral training and a defect of character-building training in the schools, and that the same thing was true of the religions, a majority of which were represented.

Mr. Turney declared that most of the prisoners concurred in the belief that habitual criminals should not be allowed to bring children into the world. All believed in punishment, he continued, but favored institutions where prisoners could be employed in producing some commodity.

TIGERS SELL FOR $1,500 IN LONDON

Demand For Wild Animals Exceedingly Good in Zoo Market.

LONDON, England, Feb. 17 (United Press).—"What are tigers to-day?"

"About $1,500. Market high. Good demand."

This is a sample of the kind of dialogue one is apt to hear in the London "zoo market" these days.

The "zoo market" is run by George Bruce Chapman, England big-game hunter and sportsman, who sells any wild beast known in the world from his little shop on Tottenham Court Road and who is outfitter-at-large to the great Regent Park Zoological Gardens.

"The tiger trade is going very well at present," said Chapman. "You can have a good tiger for about 300 pounds apiece. Elephants will cost you from 400 to 600 pounds apiece, according to size, though white elephants are cheaper."

Some other prices quoted by Mr. Chapman are as follows:

Orang-outang—100 pounds.
Chimpanzee—100 pounds.
Antelopes—between 20 and 75 pounds.
Zebra—150 pounds.

"On the other hand," said Chapman, who maintains the greatest wild animal business in the world, "pythons are sold by the foot, an average one bringing about 40 pounds."

He is expecting a consignment shortly. Does anyone want to buy one hundred zebras? Chapman will have them.

Chapman has developed the big game business to unprecedented proportions. He employs expert tiger-tamers and elephant packers. And he has buyers all over the world.

"My baboon buyer arrived in Abyssinia to-day," he said. "My Mr. Burke will be bringing over 15 elephants from India this month. Capt. Gordon and Capt. Smith are both in Kenya after antelopes and zebras.

CULTURE BY TOOLS

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Old ideas of culture have vanished and rapidly are being replaced with a new idea based on the practical needs of the present mechanical age, Lewis Gustafson, president of the convention for vocational education, told delegates to the convention here. Gustafson is superintendent of a trade school in St. Louis.

"We live in a great industrial and mechanical age," he said. "Labor with the hands no longer is looked down upon. There has been a stampere from the white collar to the overalls. Even the school teacher has become a carpenter and the preacher has left the pulpit for the plasterer's trowel at $1.75 an hour. The automobile has made greasy hands the fashion. The war had its usefulness in this and the airplane has helped.

Gustafson expressed the belief that every boy should be taught at least the rudimentary use of tools as a necessary part of his general education because it equips him to deal with the problem of life, no matter in what field his work may lay.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

The first definite move to launch the Ku Klux Klan in this country is the application made at Toronto for the registration of two fraternal societies, which rejoice in the imposing and high sounding titles of "The Invisible Empire Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the Dominion of Canada" and "The Hidden Empire of the Midnight Sun," respectively.

Just what the second organization is is a matter of conjecture, but apparently the first is a branch of or an imitation of the notorious hooded order that has been responsible for so much trouble across the border.

In either case the organization should be killed off before it gets a chance to develop.

The Ku Klux Klan is founded on racial and religious intolerance, which is more than enough in itself to condemn it.

It operates under the cloak of secrecy and seems to arrogate to itself the control of justice—another very sound reason for Canada declining to have anything to do with it.

The Attorney-General of the Province should lose no time in investigating these two organizations.

They sound very much like societies against which the doors of Ontario should be effectively and permanently barred.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The citizens of Peterboro generally will join in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman upon the celebration yesterday of their golden wedding and in wishing them many more years together.

For many years Mr. Ackerman has been associated with the business and public life of Peterboro. As the head of B. F. Ackerman & Co. he has developed and built up an industry that has been a valuable contribution to the prosperity of the city by reason of the employment it has provided for many workers. In addition, Mr. Ackerman has associated himself either actively or through generous support with many movements that have had as their goal the building of a better Peterboro, and his assistance has been a very material factor in the success attained by such organizations.

For a number of years he was a member of the Board of Education, where his opinion on the many important matters that came before that body was always highly valued by his fellow-members.

In short, Mr. Ackerman is that type of substantial, high-purposed, patriotic citizen that every community needs if it is to develop on sound lines.

He has done much for Peterboro in various ways, and his fellow-citizens are delighted to felicitate him upon the anniversary he celebrated on Monday.

THE HOME BREWERIES.

After all the stronger beer amendment mentioned in the Speech from the Throne is an experiment, the success or failure of which cannot be effectively demonstrated without a fair test.

There are many people—and they cannot be classed as extremely wet in their views—who believe that the change in the strength of the beer to a standard at which it can be made palatable without, as they claim, being intoxicating, is a most valuable contribution to the cause of real temperance.

The Ontario Temperance Act in its present form has been responsible for three evils—the developing of bootlegging on a large scale, the manufacture of moonshine liquor and the launching of the home-brewing of beer to an extent perhaps not realized by extremists on the dry side.

There is reason to believe that the sale of a palatable light beer will do much to change these conditions.

It will not drive out the first two altogether, although it should considerably curtail the operations of the bootlegger and the moonshiner.

Many of the customers of these illicit dealers have been forced to buy liquor in preference to beer because the former is less bulky and more easily transported.

These people may be satisfied with the stronger beer.

The home-brewing activity that has developed under the O. T. A. should be largely done away with because the 4.40 beer will be accepted as a satisfactory substitute for the home article, which there is reason to believe contained a much greater quantity of alcohol than the new beer and in many cases was a most villianous compound.

The prohibition organizations are, of course, sincere in their manifestations of alarm at the change, but the more the amendment is considered the more people are convinced that the experiment should be given the benefit of a test.

Much is said of the demoralization of the young people that would follow the general sale of stronger beer.

It is very doubtful if the effect will be anything near as baneful as the spectacle so common under the present Act of the head of the family industriously engaged in concocting a few gallons of a suspicious looking beverage with a "kick" in every drop, and experimenting with yeast and raisins and potatoes in an effort to produce something that he considers drinkable.

The sale of 2½ per cent. beverages to youngsters has been very limited, and the doubling of the strength is not likely to increase the sale so far as they are concerned.

But it should appeal to the home-brewer as a cheaper and better article than the concoction he has been manufacturing on the kitchen stove, and result in the closing down of many home-breweries.

SPENDING MONEY TO ADVANTAGE.

A correspondent of the Advertiser claims that the prices asked for certain lines of goods are so high that trade is clogged, says the London Advertiser. That may be so, but there is a very important factor entering right there that he should not overlook—the high prices clogging trade are at the same time working out their own cure.

The plain truth is that we are half in and half out of the era of high prices that came during the later years of the war and in the period of forced prosperity that followed, especially in 1920 and part of 1921. That period we now recognize as a colossal blunder on the part of those who made it possible to have almost unlimited use of funds for almost any purpose. In those years the public learned to spend money foolishly. Articles at a price they were accustomed to pay prior to the war were not good enough; they demanded something better, and the merchants were quick to see that they got it. The price seemed to be a second consideration. Any merchant who was in business during that period can tell almost the same story. The man selling boots found it easier to dispose of them at $12 or $14 a pair than he did before at $5 or $6; the haberdasher found the ordinary shirt lying on his shelf while the silk affair went out quickly; the home furnisher noticed that there was a demand for something better, something that cost more money.

It is not an easy matter for a community to come to the realization that such a period has ended; it is not possible to draw a big line and say that it shall end right here, and we will at once revert to the old standards. The whole system of manufacture and distribution had responded to the impetus of easy money, and it was geared up to that standard.

The trouble with many of us today is that the taste for good things remains, but the ability to pay for them is not present. The re-birth of a humbler taste, and the consequent resistance on the part of the public to prices that seem too high constitutes one of the safeguards that come into operation many times, and if allowed to operate by a sensible public does perhaps more than anything else to head off many movements toward higher prices.

Another factor in living costs is the art of spending the family income to advantage. Fortunately, there are many homes where this has been reduced to a science, but there are others who have never learned the lesson. There are homes where, for instance, the daily announcements of the merchants are watched keenly; when there are special values— and no one knows real value better than the competent housewife —advantage is taken of them. She goes out with the intention of making her dollar do all the work it can; she buys wholesome food and sensible articles of wearing apparel, and when she finds an article getting out of reach she leaves it alone. This business of wisely spending the money set apart for household expenses has much to do with the so-called cost of living.

FRENCH SECURITY.

In spite of its huge majority, the Conservative party in Britain is not going to have such smooth sailing as was predicted immediately after the counting of the ballots. There is a broad cleft in the Cabinet itself on the question of the security pact for which France is pressing with such insistence and vigor. The Foreign Secretary leads the group of those who are determined to give France some guarantee of security, preferably by modification of the Geneva Protocol, while Col. Amery marshals the opinions of those whose first concern is to consolidate Empire opinion and who are prepared to make any sacrifice, even to the imminence of isolation in Europe, if the policy they pursue in foreign affairs meets with the approval and endorsation of the several Dominions.

Into these two groups Winston Churchill throws a bombshell, with that daring statesmanship of which he has on previous occasions given proof which his enemies call reckless adventure and his followers term sagacity and foresight by a brilliantly conceived plan of a compact of all the nations of Europe against Russia. However much the civilized world may condemn the methods of the usurpers who have seized power and kept it in Russia, however keen may be the indignation and resentment at the despicable methods employed in defiance of all promises to undermine British prestige in the far corners of the earth, it is foolish to allow the blinkers of our disgust to hide the fact that some day and in some way the Russian bear will awake from his long sleep and become more than ever before a power in world affairs. Hatred of the Bolshevists and disgust of Moscow methods may be an excellent thing to win elections on, but it is too negative and too destructive in essence to become a permanent policy for the Empire.

It is only by perusal of the speeches made by the leaders of French thought, regardless of their party affiliations, that it is possible to realize the hold which this question of French security has on the people. Premier Herriot forgets his Radical leanings and meets the most ultra-Conservatives on the common ground of a bitter antipathy to Germany, which is seared into the national consciousness. It seems almost impossible for French statesmen to discuss their relations with Germany sanely and soberly if either side makes mention of security. Britain cannot take a detached view of these reactions. The possibility of a war between France and Germany directly concerns the British people. Britain can afford to look with some difference on the divergencies and differences in the outer rim of Europe, but the moment that the security of France and the problem of the Rhine frontier come up for discussion Britain is directly and vitally concerned.

Against such a pact is the sentiment that is growing in the Dominion against indefinite commitments in times of peace which may be exceedingly embarassing when war is declared. The doctrine—a phantom it may be called—of the danger of "entangling alliances" has spread to this country and the Dominions are suspicious of such an agreement as the Protocol, which they understand so little and which seems so indefinite. Yet Mr. Chamberlain refuses to abandon the much abused instrument altogether. He is pledged to give some measure of security to France and he sees in the Protocol the basis of a pact which would not only be acceptable to France, but which would not irritate Germany, and would be endorsed by the Dominions. The Versailles scheme of security failed and that sketched at Cannes was still-born. Chamberlain will win the admiration of millions and the gratitude of as many more if he can drive away some of the terrifying bogeys that are called out for parade as soon as the question of the Rhine frontier is even whispered.—Montreal Star.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—With an unusually light run of cattle for a Monday's offering the market was good and steady at last week's closing prices. A few choice butcher steers and heifers were firm and from 15c to 25c higher but these, were but a small proportion of the general run, the bulk of the offering averaging poor quality. A good steady to firm market, quality considered, was the best that could be said about it.

In the export section trade was but moderately active, with about 300 cattle going at barely steady prices. It is not expected the trade will be more than quiet for the balance of this week, as the buy will have to be carried over for next week. Rogers & Maybee are shipping out tomorrow 47 cars of cattle and the H. P. Kennedy Co. have a train load of cattle going through direct from the west.

Calves were not more than steady.

Sheep and lambs firm with a light run.

Hogs steady at $11.75, off cars.

Col. W. Mullins, well-known cattle exporter from Winnipeg, was in the city today on his way to England to interview the minister of agriculture. The colonel is an enthusiastic supporter of the W. T. R. Preston report on ocean freight rates, and believes that the outcome will give the cattle exporting industry relief from its present handicap in the form of excessive rates.

Prices in the various sections are as follows:

Export cattle, choice and heavy steers, $7.50 to $8.25; bulls, $4.50 to $4.75; heifers, $6.50 to $7.25; stores, $6.50 to $7.

Choice butchers, $6.50 to $7.25; medium, $5.25 to $6; common, $3.50 to $4.50; baby beeves, $8.50 to $9.

Choice fat cows, $3.50 to $5.

Stockers and feeders, choice short-keep feeders, 1,000 to 2,000 lbs., $6.25 to $7; choice stockers, 830 to 950 lbs. $4.25 to $5; light western stock, $3.50 to $3.75; choice western, $4.50 to $5.50.

Calves dull.

Sheep and lambs firmer.

Hogs, steady at $10.75 f.o.b., $11.75 to $12 off cars; selects, off cars, $2.22 per head premium.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 16.—Receipts, 680 cattle and calves. The cattle market was fairly active, with demand improved. A stronger feeling prevailed in all the butcher divisions, prices being around 25 cents higher than the close last week.

Hog receipts, 2,060. Despite heavy supplies, the hog market maintained a steady tone, thick smooths selling at $10.25 and select bacons $11.38.

Sheep and lambs — Receipts 22. The market was inactive with only a few sales recorded. Lambs were quoted at prices ranging up to $12.75.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 16—The wheat market was rather quiet today, most of the trade passing being of a local nature, and although offerings were not heavy, prices declined about 4 cetns from opening figures for May, but reacted before the close, for a net loss of 1 3-8 cents for May, 1 7-8 cents for July, and 3 3-4 cents for October.

Lack of export business over the week-end kept trade down in contrast to last week, and while the local trade sent prices upward to the high point of the day, this was insufficient to hold the advantage. Liverpool cables came a little stronger, and closed 1 cent to 3-4 cents higher. A little spreading business was being worked between here and Chicago.

The future coarse grains were all dull, with very little trade passing. Oats closed 1-4 cent to 3-4 cent lower; barley unchanged to 2 cents lower and rye about 1 1-2 cents lower. Flax held steady on a light trade, prices ranging from 1-2 cent to 4 cents higher.

The cash wheat market was rather dull with a small trade worked, chiefly from Canadian milling interests. Spreads were unchanged to 1 cent higher. A good export demand was reported for flour.

MONTREAL GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—The foreign demand for Canadian grain here today was of a very limited character owing to buyers not responding to the higher prices demanded. There has been a good demand from millers in this market for Canadian spring wheat and late Saturday and today sales amounted to between 750,000 and 1,000,000 bushels were made, No. 3 Northern selling at 1 cents per bushel under the May option, and No. 4 wheat at 7 cents per bushel under, c.i.f., Bay ports. Business was quiet in the domestic market and prices were steady. Ontario No. 3 white oats being quoted at 62 cents, and No. 4 grade at 63 cents per bushel, ex-store.

Millfeed Drops $2.

Owing to the large orders that have come forward from the Continent for spring grades of flour of late coupled with the increased demand from the United Kingdom for supplies also, millers generally have been compelled to increase their output to fill the same and in consequence the production of all lines of millfeed has been larger with the result that a weaker feeling developed and prices were reduced another $2 per ton, which makes a net reduction of $4 in the last few days with the indications that they will go lower. The market for rolled oats was active and firm.

The egg market was moderately active and prices were firm. The butter trade was inactive although prices showed no change. Little business was transacted in cheese with fodder made No. 1 white and colored goods quoted at 20 1-4 to 20 1-2 cents and No. 2 grade at 19 1-4 to 19 1-2 cents per pound.

Beans were firm at $2.90 per bushel.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—With the United States visible supply of wheat showing an unexpected increase, the wheat market turned sharply downward today at the last. Closing prices on wheat were unsettled, 1 1-4 to 3 5-8 cents net lower, May 184 1-2 to 184 3-4 and July 154 1-8 to 154 3-8. Corn finished 1-2 to 1 cent down; oats 1-4 to 7-8 off, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 22 and 25 cents decline.

Owing to recent falling off in the volume of wheat receipts at domestic primary centres a majority of traders had expected that a material decrease of the visible supply would be announced today, perhaps 1,000,000 bushels. On the contrary, an increase of 59,000 bushels was posted. Surprise which ensued was the greater on account of the fact that the total supply available was shown to be more than 11,000,000 bushels in excess of the amount a year ago. Profit-taking sales induced by the circumstance that May delivery had risen to 10 cents over last week's low level tended also to weaken values.

EGG PRICES.

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—The market is very nervous and unsettled and a further sharp decline is expected very shortly. Ontario country shippers report paying extras 44 to 45, firsts 40 to 42, seconds 38 and making sales extras 47, firsts 44, seconds 40. Our Liverpool correspondent writes that an enormous quantity of pickled eggs from the Continent had been thrown on to the market, and sold at very low prices. These eggs which were contracted for at the early part of the season at 17 shillings or thereabouts at port of arrival, have been changing hands recently from eleven shillings to twelve shillings.

Toronto—Specials, jobbing 55, extras 53, firsts 50, seconds 46.

Montreal—Firm owing to light receipts; prices unchanged but lower prices anticipated in the near future.

Winnipeg—Dealers quoting country shippers delivered extras 50 to 52, firsts 45 to 47, seconds 30.

STERLING RATES

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here today as follows:

Sterling demand $4.77 3-4.

Sterling cables $4.73 1-8.

Records show George Washington spent $85 yearly for candles, which he must have burned at both ends.

A THOUGHT.

They say that the ugly toad wears a precious jewel in his head, and so it is with the ugly thing we call—adversity.

When we are compelled to walk, not ride, we see sermons in the stones, the running brooks are our books and even the trees have tongues. It is a good thing we are compelled to walk.

Adversity is not a permanent affliction—adversity is a present inconvenience. Why not accept adversity as a severe test of your courage, and then go about trying to develop more courage?

Unusually Bad Weather In South-Western Europe

PARIS, Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press).—Southwestern Europe is suffering from a period of unusually bad weather, rain alternating with snow. The Seine has risen four feet causing dwellers along the river bank to fear a repetition of the floods of two months ago.

HEART TROUBLE SHORTNESS OF BREATH

Mrs. Geo. E. Bowman, Morrisburg, Ont., writes:—"I am writing you a few lines to let you know of my experience with Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Two years ago I became very poorly with my heart and nerves and whenever I took the least little bit of exercise my heart would start to jump and flutter. I could not walk up-stairs without having to sit down and rest before I was half-way up, on account of my breath becoming so short.

I commenced taking

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

and in no time I felt a great improvement, and can now heartily recommend them to all those who are troubled with any affection of the heart."

H. & N. Pills are for sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THREE MEMBERS OF OPPOSITION

The titular head of that department was bearing the burden of the Finance Department. Sir Henry Thornton had said that the biggest man in Canada should be at the head of immigration.

"The best population we can have" stated Mr. Hocken, "is that which is native born, indigenous to the soil, and acceptable to our conditions."

After reviewing the record of the west during the war, he was very loath to believe that there was any desire on the part of the people of the prairie provinces to separate from Canada.

Mr. Hocken favored a system of scholarships among the children of Canada whereby children from one part of the country could visit other parts of the country, under proper instructors, in the belief that this poposal "would bring about a greater unity in the country."

The benefits might not be apparent for some time but within ten or fifteen years the effects would be evident.

Why Not Adults?

"Do you not think we could obtain better results were we to send delegations of grown up men?" asked Mr. Euler (Liberal, North Waterloo.)

"And women?" interjected Miss McPhail (Progressive, Grey Southeast.)

"I think my plan is better," replied Mr. Hocken. They will learn things they will never forget. It will inspire them with feelings of patriotism and a knowledge to go back."

"Would it not be cheaper," asked Hon. George F. Graham, "for the members who have passes to see their own country first?"

"I presume that is one of the purposes of the passes," replied Mr. Hocken, "and as far as I am concerned, I have."

U. S. Periodicals.

The influx of American literature into this country undoubtedly influenced many young men and women in going to the United States, said Mr. Hocken. "Week in and week out, the United States is held up to our younger people as the land of promise."

Mr. Hocken then went on to refer to the present deputy minister, M. J. Egan, who had been brought from a trade commissionership in South Africa, to take charge of Canadian immigration, said Mr. Hocken.

Mr. Robb: "The reason was there was so much jealousy in the immigration department amongst the high er officers and some of them were not speaking to each other."

Mr. Hocken: "In other words, you had not the courage to say that a particular man should have the job. Because they all wanted it he gave it to none of them?"

Mr. Robb: "That is just what I did do."

Mr. Hocken went on to say if Canada had 50 per cent. more of population there would be no deficit on the Canadian National Railways and taxation could be reduced.

Some of the periodicals were of a pernicious nature, and the United States itself was considering measures for their purification. Magazines came in free and worked an injury to all publishing businesses and on the manufacturers in Canada who competed in any sense with manufacturers in the United States through the advertising carried in the magazines. It was unfair and the government ought to do something.

There were publishing businesses in Canada which could not survive without some protection, and scores of publications had been started with the best brains in th. country to edit them, and many had failed and editors gone to the United States.

J. L. Stansell (Conservative, East Elgin) said a desire to limit the debate on the address shown by the government was quite unworthy and the Progressives were showing an "unusual obedience" in maintaining silence. Conservatives were accused of pessimism but the most pessimistic thing of the present session was the "empty spineless document"—the Speech from the Throne" placed in the mouth of His Excellency.

NOT A VILLAGE IN ALL CANADA

But Can Tell of Genuine Relief by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Quebec man tells how quickly they built him up and brought him back to perfect health.

St. Fulgence, Que., Feb. 16.—(Special).—That there is not a village or postoffice in Canada that cannot provide a case of genuine relief by Dodd's Kidney Pills has been shown again and again. In this little village may people bear grateful testimony to the wonderful healing powers of this simple remedy. Mr. Philippe Gagnon is one of these.

"Your pills are very good," Mr. Gagnon states. "I have suffered a long time with kidney trouble. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me much good that I intend continuing the treatment until I am completely relieved of my trouble. I tell all my friends who suffer with kidney trouble to take them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply strengthen and heal the kidneys. The work of the kidneys is to strain all the waste matter out of the blood. If the kidneys are out of the blood. If the kidneys are out of order they fail to do their work, and the waste matter remains in the blood, causing serious diseases.

Intelligent Enthusiasm.

Extending a warm welcome to both old and new members, Mrs. Fallis reiterated the two-fold objective of this women's association—

First, to meet as Conservatives believing in the principles of their party, to keep in touch with the political issues of the day, and always keeping their powder dry for the next election.

Second, we believe women now having their franchise equal with men, they should acquire an intelligent enthusiasm for the Conservative cause founded on knowledge, because knowledge is power. A Conservative woman cannot expect to convert another woman to Conservatism unless she has faith in her own party and can give concrete reasons why others should vote for that party. She herself must be well up on the issues of the day.

And so, the main objective of the Women's Liberal-Conservative Association is to promote an intelligent enthusiasm for the Conservative party and its leaders, and to gain a keener insight into the political problems that face the country for solution.

These problems to-day, Mrs. Fallis continued, are—Development of Canada's natural resources. Unemployment, immigration and emigration; and taxation, of which we all perhaps know too much.

All Argument Exploded.

Contrasting the tariff policy of Premier King with the platform advocated by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, she pointed out that whereas the farmers' policy has resulted in closing down factories, and driving Canadian workmen over to the United States, the Conservatives believe in building up our own country and protecting by an adequate tariff the industries of Canada. The argument that England became mistress of the seas and acquired control of the markets of the world by free trade was not borne out by history. For, Mrs. Fallis contended, free trade in England is only forty years old and was not adopted until she had fully developed her own natural resources, seaports and transportation, under the strictest form of protection, and expanded her trade abroad. It was after she had won control of the world's markets that England adopted Free Trade. It was folly to compare Canada, with her undeveloped natural resources—coal and iron for instance—long hauls, comparatively few seaports and limited ocean freight bottoms, with the old country when the question of tariff and Free Trade arises.

Must Have Protection.

Stressing the crying need for tariff protection in Canada Mrs. Fallis emphasized that Germany is flooding our markets with goods at prices which we cannot compete. Some reasons for this are that Germany's immense resources, including coal and iron, are fully developed, and her labor is cheap. Regarding the cost of labor here, the speaker said that no one wants to see Canadian workmen sink to the level of Germans in regard to wages, for workers here maintain a higher and more to be desired standard of living than those in older countries.

Protect Our Industries.

Reverting to the tariff policies of the parties in the Federal House, the president here went on to say that Conservatives hold a tariff that will protect our industries, and encourage the development and manufacture within the Canadian border of Canada's own resources, such as pulp, giving work to Canadian workmen and building up our own country instead of, as is happening today, contributing to the prosperity of the U. S. while neglecting that of Canada.

She found no virtue in Mackenzie King's administration since its inception, which had resulted, she claimed, in the closing down of 2,000 Canadian factories (according to Dunn's report) and forcing thousands of Canadian workmen to seek an asylum across the border. Here she cited two recent concrete evidences of this in the suspension of operation by the Canadian Products Co. at Walkerville, and the Jefferson Glass Co.'s plant in Toronto.

No less than 2,500 men are thrown out of work by the closing of these two plants alone; and their dependents, to say nothing of business interests are also affected by those men's lack of employment.

Mrs. Fallis here ridiculed Premier King's reply to the Conservatives on this issue, that they do not discriminate between large industries and small factories when compiling the number of "closed downs"; for to her mind, she could not see what difference it makes to the man out of employment whether the industry in which he had been employed was large or small—its ceasing to operate has left him workless.

Rural Districts Affected.

Then the closing down of industries must naturally affect rural interests, for farmers will eventually feel the results in depreciated prices. Neither can a cleavage between town and country be established in regard to tariff, as they are both interdependent the one on the other. The war gave an example of this when Canada had to depend on her own products and markets, so to speak. Factories were busy, men were employed at high wages, and the farmer received good prices for his products. "And so," said the speaker, "no one can convince me that low prices and prosperity go hand in hand, when history proves to the contrary."

No Help in Sight.

In legislation outlined by Premier King for the present session, Mrs. Fallis could find no appreciable provision to relieve existing trade and industrial depression, or to reduce present burdensome taxation. But the planks in Mr. Meighen's platform provides for the development of Canada's resources and a revision of the tariff to enable industries to manufacture in successful competition with other countries, thereby giving work to Canadian workmen. Mr. Meighen also recognizes that Quebec and Ontario as coal consumers, Nova Scotia and Alberta as producers, the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways as transportation agencies, are "all" primarily interested in the tariff question; and he favors such legislation as would develop our coal resources for consumption at home, and the expenditure of as much as possible in Canada of that $70,000,000 a year for coal for Canadians which now goes to the United States.

SOCIAL EVENINGS AT CAMPBELLFORD

Classes and Groups Entertain and Are Entertained During Week.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17. — Miss Flossie McComb, a teacher in Christ Church Sunday School, entertained her Sunday School class of girls on Saturday evening. They enjoyed a few hours of tobogganing, after which they returned to the house and played games and were served dainty refreshments.

Miss Lily Weston, leader of the C.G.I.T., of the Baptist Church, entertained the girls on Saturday evening. There were thirteen girls present. The house was pretty decorated with Valentine decorations. Supper was served at six and later all went for a skate. A most enjoyable time was spent.

Epworth League.

There were about one hundred and fifteen present at the Young People's League on Monday night. Mr. S. A. Maguire, president, presided.

Mr. T. H. Craighead read the Scripture lesson. Mr. G. W. Lucy gave a piano solo, which was followed by a violin solo by Master Kenneth Collison, who responded to an encore.

As this was citizenship evening, Mr. Maguire gave a short paper on goverment.

Citizenship means good government of self, home, school, municipality, province, Dominion and Empire he said. He also spoke about local government and its laws.

After this address, which was very interesting and instructive, the next item on the programme was a mock council. The following members were present, three of them being women:

Mayor—Carl Maguire.
Reeve—S. A. Maguire.
Deputy-Reeve—Howard Fairman.
Councillors—Miss Verna Sanders, Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Myrtle Forde, Howard Shapter, Ralph Plumpton and Stanley Taylor.
Wilbert Kingston was the clerk.

They went through the business just like any council in session, only the facts and motions and discussions were very comical, though some of them were very sensible.

Next Monday night the members of the League are entertaining the members of St. Andrew's Young People's Society. The St. Andrew's society will furnish the programme.

Personals.

Mrs. James James, of Picton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William Blake, Maple Street, returned to her home on Saturday.

Mrs. W. Hutcheson of Menie, is visiting Mrs. Alex. Hall, of Queen Street.

Miss J. Johnston, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. Thomas Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, in Peterborough, returned to her home on Queen Street, on Monday.

The Twelve O'clock Club are planning for another dance on Thursday night of this week, which will be held in the High School Assembly Hall. No invitations are being sent out, but a general invitation to all. Leonard's Orchestra will furnish the music.

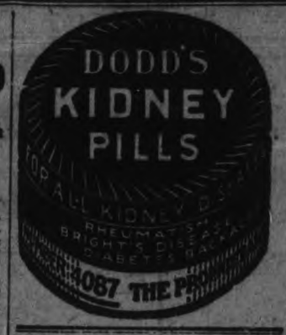
Miss Rena Owens, Ranney Street, had a very pleasant social evening at her home on Friday night, when she entertained over thirty of her girl and boy friends. The evening was spent playing games and dancing, after which all enjoyed an oyster supper.

Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, of Garry Street, and Mrs. James Massie, Booth Street, left on Saturday for Shannonville to attend the funeral of Mrs. Samuel Reid, which was held on Sunday. Mrs. Reid was a sisterinlaw of Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Massie.

Mr. Milburn McCarty and daughter Gwendolyn, of Toronto, are visiting her sister ,Mrs. H. O. Richardson, and mother, Mrs. A. W. Free, Queen Street.

Mrs. Stephen Miles and young son of Dumemr, spent week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Archer, Garry Street.

Born — In Campbellford, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Forde, Garry Street, on Monday, 16th February, 1925, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lisle, of Seymour.



OBITUARY.

DR. W. A. HEARNS, HANOVER

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Dr. W. A. Mearns of Hanover, Ont., former Warden of Grey County, and active liberal in South Grey died at the general hospital here on Sunday. Dr. Mearns arrived here a few days ago on a visit to his brother, F. S. Mearns. As he was preparing to return he was seized with pneumonia and suffered a fatal relapse yesterday.

OLIVE FINNIE.

The death occurred on Sunday morning at 1.30 of Olive, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Finnie, at the family home, 556 Aylmer Street.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery ,Rev. Mr. Paterson of Frazerville officiating.

The little girl is survived by her parents and one brother, Jack.

MRS. ROSE COLLINS.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 17. —The funeral of the late Mrs. Rose Collins was held on Saturday morning, the service being held in St. Mary's Church, where Rev. Father Phelan celebrated Mass. He spoke very nicely in his remarks about the life of Mrs. Collins.

At the close of the service, interment took place in the family plot in the Roman Catholic Cemetery of St. Mary's Church.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. P. J. Kelly, Ed. O'Connor, Charles O'Connor, W. P. Murphy, James Collins, and James Black.

Mrs. Rose Collins, who was Rose Mulhearn before her marriage, was born in Campbellford thirty years ago, in the old homestead on Front Street, where the family have always lived. About six years ago she married the late T. J. Collins of Peterborough, who died about three years ago. After his death she came to Campbellford, and has been living with her mother for about two and one-half years. She had been poorly most of the last three years, and gradually grew weaker day by day till the end.

She leaves two small children, twins ,a boy and a girl, about four years old, who live in Peterborough with their aunt. Besides her mother, who lives on Front Street, there are two brothers and one sister, Mr. M. Mulhearn, Campbellford, Mrs. M. Collins, Hastings, and Mr. Bernard Mulhearn, who is in California.

MISS AMY GOVAN.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17.—The remains of Miss Amy Govan, who died last week at Garfield Memorial Hospital in Washington, arrived in Campbellford on Monday, and a private funeral held at the station and cemetery. Only a few relatives and friends were present. Rev. C. F. McIntosh was in charge of the service, Mr .John Govan, the father, and Mr. Edward Govan, the only brother, of Toronto, were present.

Two nurses came from Washington with the body, Miss Jennie Graham, also of Campbellford, who nursed the late Miss Amy Govan in her illness, and Miss Flook, both of the same hospital as the deceased.

Miss Grahram will remain and visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham, George Street, for a time, and Miss Flook is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Graham.

HENRY MANN.

TRENT RIVER, Feb. 17.—A message was received Saturday of the death of Henry Mann at Sylvan Lake, Sask., after a lingering illness. The remains are on the way to Havelock, but the funeral arrangements have not been made yet. The late Mr. Mann at one time resided at Havelock, leaving some 17 years ago for the Western province. He was unmarried. He leaves two brothers, William of Peterboro and James of Trent River. He was about 60 years of age.

Caterpillars Seek Spring; Quit Campbellford By Rail

CAMPBELLFORD, February 17. — On Sunday morning, as Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Palliser and family were walking home from church, they saw a woolly red and black caterpillar crawling along very briskly on the old railroad track near Margaret Street.

DECREASE IN MAIN ESTIMATES TABLED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Expenditure Will be $342,036,597.16, According to Figures of Finance Minister.

$7,000,000 LESS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press).—Canada's expenditure for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1926, will be $342,036,597.16, according to the main estimates tabled in the House of Commons last evening by Hon. James A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance. They show a decrease of $6,933,279.38 from those of the main estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31st next and the cumulative decrease in the main estimates for the three fiscal years beginning with 1923-24 is $104,967,151.13.

A feature of this year's main estimates is the fact that the reduction is almost equally divided between uncontrollable and controllable expenditures, the net decrease in the former being $3,839,672 and the latter being $3,093,607.

As to uncontrollable outlays there is an increase of $1,010,000 on account of European war pensions as a result of the adoption by the government of the report of the Ralston commission and there is an increase of $286,500 on account of the superannuation following the rush last fall on the part of the Civil Service to take advantage of the Calder Act provisions. There is, too, an increase of $187,500 on account of subsidies to the provinces because of larger payment to Saskatchewan whose population has grown.

Decreases, it is estimated, also have been made in uncontrollable expenses. There is a saving of $2,375,196 in interest on the public debt resulting from advantageous refunding loans during the past six or eight months. Then there are decreases in the following other items of uncontrollable outlays, soldiers' land settlement, $1,500,000; soldiers' civil re-establishment, $1,200,000; adjustment of war claims, $135,000; Imperial War Graves Commission, $98,780; contribution to the League of Nations, $4,800.

Under the head of controllable expenditures there are decreases in practically all departments of the government, the largest cut being in miscellaneous services, $3,429,525, and the next, capital outlays for the department of public works with a decrease of $3,106,345.

Trade and commerce shows a reduction of $806,855; public works (income) shows a cut of $746,316, and immigration and colonization a decrease of $708,000.

With the exception of the department of agriculture, where the decrease is $103,500 cut in other departments are all under the $100,000 mark.

Another notable feature of this year's main estimates is the tabling separately of provision for the Canadian National Railways.

The total estimated amount for the government system for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1926, is $60,000,000, an increase over the previous year of $3,473,000.

HOW TO GAIN WEIGHT

Persistent Underweight in Children Should Be Remedied.

Underweight is not considered serious unless it is due to some physical condition, the doctor explained to Mrs. Mann.

In children, however, persistent underweight should be studied. Often there are apparent symptoms of body ailments. If so, a physician should be consulted at once.

Persons who desire to increase their weight should go to bed early, sleep long hours with windows wide open, relax as much as possible during the day, get out of doors for an hour or more each day, and eat plenty of good food.

In gaining weight strong muscles should ge desired rather than just fatty tissue. So the basis of diet should be milk, rich an creamy; plenty of vegetables, some fresh fruit every day, plenty of bread and cereals and other grain products, fat cream, and other things which the appetite might desire.

Here is a list of foods best for increasing weight.

Butter, cream, oil, salad dressing, potatoes, milk, cheese, peanuts, bread crackers, cereals ,rice macaroni biscuits, muffins and flour mixtures of all kinds.

ROMANCE

YOU often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires; where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you. Read them.

FARMERS URGED TO COMBINE IN U. F. O. BUSINESS

Cavan and South Monaghan Shipping Board's Annual Banquet at Bailieboro.

ATTENDED BY 150

Speakers Extol Benefits of Co-operation — Farmers Oppose Each Other.

BAILIEBORO, Feb. 16.—On Friday evening the officers and members of the Cavan and South Monaghan U.F.O. shipping board held their second annual banquet in the Sunday school hall, Centreville, and about one hundred and fifty sat down to the sumptuous supper provided and served by the members of the live stock shipping board.

At the conclusion of the supper everyone retired to the U. F. O. hall, where special speakers delivered addresses, and a good programme was enjoyed as well. Mr. Fred Wood, president of the board, acted as chairman and Mrs. Law of Toronto, one of the leaders of the U. F.W.O. organization of this province, was the first speaker of the evening. Mrs. Law urged the farmers to stand true to the farmers' movement.

"You farmers should not be so narrow minded that you can not see the value of paying in your two dollar fee yearly, to become a member of such a worthy organization," said the speaker. "You can quite easily save as much and more through the first load of live stock that you ship to the Union stock yards in Toronto, through the U.F.O. shipping board, or it has been proved during the past few years since the U. F.O. organization has been being carried on, that a farmer can more than save the price of his yearly fee on his binder twine alone, without the dozen of other commodities by which the farmer saves a great deal of money on, by buying through the U.F.O. clubs. Still I am meeting men every day who would rather lose ten dollars than to see their neighbor make fifty cents. These farmers are the men who are keeping hard times still prevailing on farms. They are too narrow minded and stubborn to break away from these old parties and they will not join with their fellow farmers and assist in bettering the conditions and methods of producing a better quality of farm produce. So far our egg pools, seed pools, grain pools, etc., have been a thriving success, if only all of the farmers belonged to the organization, the increased amount of produce would make them much more successful. The farmers would be receiving a top notch price for their produce, and still the consumer would not pay more for these articles.

What Women Do.

Splendid work is being done by the members of the U.F.W.O. organization. At Colborne, and Cobourg the ladies of those rural clubs have established a U.F.W.O. market. No one is allowed to sell farm produce on these markets without first becoming a member of the organization. Do you think it weakens the rural clubs any by putting such restrictions on? No. The members are aiming to put the best articles of produce on these markets that will best please the consumers' desires, and when the other ladies see their best customers purchasing their desires from the market that is offering the best article, they see their error in holding off and come and join the other women who are doing all in their power to improve the conditions of farming in good old rural Ontario. The United Farmers' Organization exists to improve agriculture, therefore farm men, farm women and farm young people should work together as one large family.

Success In Union.

In any home, home life cannot be carried on successfully if the father, mother and children do not all join together in trying to make the home happy and home like. Therefore the farmers' organization can never be a real success unless all of the farmers are joined together, and they alone are the only group of people in Canada who are not properly organized. It would not be safe for any of you people to go on to Yonge street, Toronto, and start to sell newspapers unless you belonged to the Newsboys' Union. If you did why chances are you would be thrown off the street. Even the city newsboys have organized and they do not allow any other boy who has not joined the union to interfere with thier occupation. Yet the farmers who are now supposed to be an intelligent class of people are still pulling against each other.

The organization exists for the purpose of bringing a few dollars into the pockets of the farmers, and to make those dollars go further, to gain more intelligence."

In closing her address the speaker stated that the organization must work its way up through the ability of its members and we need not be ashamed of it. The one great way to make agriculture a success is for all to co-operate and work together.

Big U.F.O. Business.

Mr. Chas. McCurdy, manager of the U.F.O., alleys of the Union stock yards, Toronto, was the next speaker of the evening. Mr. McCurdy stated that he was proud of the confidence that the farmers of Ontario placed in him. He stated that the U. F.O. did the largest amount of business transacted in the Union stock yards, issuing one thousand cheques per week to the farmers for their live stock. The speaker explained thoroughly the way that the business was transacted at the stock yards, the method in which the live stock was brought in and sold to the abbatoir men, also advising the farmers how to finish their live stock before shipping, and by all means not to put half finished live stock on the market.

A Farm Paper.

Miss Curry, of the Farmers' Sun staff, Toronto, was present and spoke to the people on the advantage to the farmers of subscribing for the paper. Let us compare the paper with the human body, said the speaker. We can compare the subscribers with the blood that flows through the heart of the human body. The body cannot live and thrive without sufficient blood flowing through the heart to keep all the rest of the organs working properly. Nor can the Farmers' Sun staff make the paper thrive and grow without sufficient subscirbers to pay to improve this paper.

Messrs. Thos. McCamus and Claire Winslow were present and pleased the audience greatly by their numerous comic duets. The Stewart orchestra was also present and furnished music throughout the evening.

At the conclusion of the programme a couple of hours was spent in dancing, many of the older folks remaining to enjoy a real old-fashioned square dance, rye waltz and barn dance.

VETERANS RECEIVE RELIEF OF $336,966

Owing to Continued Unemployment —27,666 Insurance Policies.

OTTAWA, February 17 (Canadian Press). — Unemployment relief has ben extended by at least one Federal Government department this winter, that of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

A report tabled in Parliament shows that $336,966 has been expended for unemployment relief among pensioners "owing to continued unemployment."

Government insurance for returned soldiers at 31st December last totalled $62,404,500, spread over 27,666 policies. Income of these policies totalled 51,742,235, and expenditure on claims and surrenders $545,045.

Soldier patients treated totalled 3,427, a reduction of 317 compared with last year.

The staff of the Department at 31st December last ,including medical personnel in nine hospitals, totalled 2,524, a reduction of 570.

In the last fiscal year, ending 31st March, 1924, the Department expended $51,541,824, of which only 4.86 per cent. was spent on administration.

In casting about for a minor league ball club we were surprised to note Walter Johnson failed to make offers for either of the Boston teams.

WARKWORTH HYDRO HAS $1,500 SURPLUS

Provincial Auditor Completes Survey of Commission's Books.

WARKWORTH, Feb. 16. — The Hydro Commission has a surplus fund in the neighborhood of fifteen hundred dollars after books were audited by the Provincial auditor of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

The large congregation at the Methodist Church Sunday evening listened to an interesting as well as an instructive discourse given by Rev. Geo. S. Hammond.

The subject of the sermon was "Comrades All," and the text was taken from the first epistle of St. Peter, second chapter, seventeenth verse: "Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king." The previous verses from the thirteenth were read to emphasize comradeship.

Mr. Hammond discussed comradeship under four heads, namely: The Home—honor all men; the Community—love the brotherhood: the nation—honor the king; the Church—fear God.

It was pointed out that the home was the primary school of religious education and that the secular or Sunday School was no substitute.

It was also stated that the need of comradeship in larger spheres. for instance. between capital and labor, and in the trials of the sickly poor in cities. It is true clinics and other facilities have been built for the help of the sickly poor, but the need of a closer comradeship is very great.

Great Britain has put health on equal footing with education and New Brunswick has made special provision for health conditions and it is hoped that Canada will do the same.

Nothing could emphasize the comradeship of the nation more than the war, where many a soldier stood shoulder to shoulder, irrespective of tongue or color, for the cause of liberty.

Canada's record is one to be proud of. Out of the number of men and women who were doing their duty at the front, thirty-five thousand six hundred and sixty-six were killed in action, twelve thousand four hundred and forty-two died of wounds. It is the duty of comrades to bring back pre-war days and efforts to keep nation young, strong and free.

Fear of God.

Fear God is the fundamental principle on which the Church stands. What the Church is? It is the body of Jesus Christ, where the spirit abides, making manifest to the world, and is the purifying, strengthening purpose of God for the upbuilding of His kingdom.

Some of the seasons for being comrades were that in Canada there are three hundred thousand boys and girls who have never been to Sunday school. People should be faithful and regular in attendance to public worship in church. Their presence is a support to the church and also helps the minister in the delivery of sermons.

Spiers has said the Church is the best help we have. Every home should put its best into the church and also take the best from the church.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carr, of Codrington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Phillips on Sunday.

Mr. Clarence Campbell, of Windsor, is visiting the parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Potter and daughter, Betty, of Regina, Sask., are visiting relatives and friends in town and vicinity.

Hockey—Campbellford Ladies vs. Local Ladies is booked for to-night.

Mr. Jas. Armstrong, who has been in Toronto for a few weeks, spent the week-end at his home here.

Mr. Arthur Wilson, who has been re-elected as assessor by the Township Council, has already started his duties.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—King George is suffering from a feverish cold, it was announced Monday, and will be unable to fulfil his public engagements for a few days.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES FOR LUMBER CAMPS

Special Relief Trip to North Shore of the St. Lawrence.

QUEBEC, February 17 (Canadian Press). — Official word was received by the Department of Marine and Fisheries from Ottawa yesterday to get the C.G.S. Mikula in readines swith all possible speed to make a special trip to north shore points down the St. Lawrence River, and it is expected that the vessel will get away from Quebec about Thursday next, if not Wednesday.

Large quantities of medical supplies that are urgently needed at a number of lumber camps will be taken, as well as other material and provisions.

These goods are not only being sent forward by Quebec merchants, but a number of Montreal and other business houses throughout the Province are taking advantage of the trip to fill orders that have been accumulating since the close of navigation.

Captain John Hearn, commander of the Mikula, has been instructed to proceed as far as the Island of Anticosti ,if at all possible.

Goods will be landed at all intervening points.

HAVELOCK HAS SOCIAL EVENTS

All Societies Busy And Many Entertainments Take Place in Week.

GENERAL NEWS

HAVELOCK, Feb. 17. — The weekly euchre party, under the auspices of Our Lady, of Mount Carmel Parish, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pacey on Thursday evening last and was well attended. The proceeds amounted to $20. The prizes were donated by Mrs. Albert Armstrong and were awarded as follows:

Lady's prize, green pressed glass flower basket, Mrs. L. Brown.

Gentleman's prize, shaving set, Mr. P. Logan.

Consolation prizes, Miss Hazel Hooper and Fred Barnett.

It was decided to hold the party next week on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Beaford and the following week on Monday, the 23rd, at the home of Mrs. L. Breen.

L.O.B.A. At Home.

A very enjoyable social occasion was furnished by the McGill Loyal Orange Benevolent Association on Friday evening in the Orange Hall, when they were "At Home" to a large number of guests. Mrs. S. McGill, the Worthy Mistress, occupied the chair and the following interesting programme was given:

Vocal duet, Misses Madeline and Leona Quinn; speech, Worthy Master Bro. R. Sanderson; rose dance, Miss Florence Baker; speech, Wor. Companion Bro. Jackson; reading, Sister Jackson; vocal duet, Misses Leona and Madeline Quinn; speech, Wor. Preceptor Bro. Barlow; recitation, Sister M. Sexsmith; vocal solo, Mrs. Quinn; rectitation, Miss Florence Baker; spech, Worthy Mistress.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in card playing and dancing, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the ladies of the Association.

Mr. T. Morrison of Norwood proved a capable floor manager when square dances were announced.

Valentine Tea.

The Valentine Tea held in the basement of the Methodist Church on Friday afternoon, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society was a decided success. The school room was prettily decorated with red tissue paper. The guests were seated at small tables, which were also decorated, and were served with a splendid supper, all the jellies served being red in keeping with the color scheme.

The ladies were well satisfied with the success of their efforts and aside from the financial success a very pleasant social time was provided.

Eastern Star Social.

The Eastern Star held a social evening in the Orange Hall on Thursday. There was a good attendance from the society and also other guests. A good programme was rendered after which dancing and cards were the order of the evening.

The Programme:

Piano duet, Misses Butters and Clarke; vocal solo, Mrs. Quinn; rcitation, Miss Sanderson; dance, Miss Florence Baker; recitation, Miss Florence Baker (encore); recitation, Mrs. G. Rigby; solo, Mrs. Quinn.

Young Women Met.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of Knox Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Buchanan when arrangements were made and work started for the bazaar, which the girls intend having at Easter. It has ben the custom since the Y.W.A. was organized to contribute practically all of its funds to Missions and a motion was carried whereby half of the receipts would be donated to missions and the other half to the stipend.

Ladies' Aid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Knox church met in the school room of the church on Wednesday afternoon and in spite of the rainy weather was well attended, there being twenty-six present. After a short business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. (Dr.) Thompson, the balance of the afternoon was spent in quilting, two quilts being completed. A very pleasant social time was enjoyed and at the conclusion a 10 cent tea was served.

HER FACE WAS COVERED WITH PIMPLES

She Got Rid of Them By Using Burdock Blood Bitters

Miss T. Hunter, R.R. No. 8, London, Ont., writes:—"I wish to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to all women who are suffering from pimples or any facial blemishes. About two years ago I was greatly troubled with pimples and sores breaking out on my face, and could get no relief until, finally, a friend recommended me to take B.B.B. This I did, and I am now glad to say that your remedy has given me the desirable results, and I now have a nice smooth, clear skin as it eliminated all the impurities from my blood."

Turks Taking Steps To Quell Seditious Rising

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—A dispatch to Reuter's from Constantinople says a seditious rising, attributed to Kurdish influence, has occurred at Arghana, in the region of Diarbekr, Kurdistan. A party of rebels encountered detachment of gendarmerie and two of the gendarmes were killed. The Turkish government is taking necessary measures to quell rising.

NOTED PUBLISHER DEAD.

M. H. DeYoung, Director Associated Press, a National Figure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—M. H. DeYoung, one of the last survivers of the dwindling school of personal journalists in United States, who built a great newspaper a from theatrical handbill, started on a borrowed $20 gold piece in 1865, died here. He was 75 years old.

His death was as sudden as many of the events in his spectacular career which made him a national figure. Early last night he underwent an operation for intestinal trouble. Two hours later he was dead. Mr. DeYoung was director of the Associated Press, and publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Accused of Issuing Financial Statement Contrary to Facts.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—As the Canadian Pacific Steamship Montrose docked here from Liverpool, Sergeant J. F. A. Brown, of the Manitoba Provincial police, arrested Joseph Myers, said to be a director of Bingo Mines in Manitoba, on a charged stated to be issuing a financial statement not in accordance with facts. He stoutly denied the charge.

LIQUOR FOR WEST.

First Shipment From Scotland for Saskatchewan.

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—The first shipment of liquor destined to be sold from Saskatchewan Government stores will leave Scotland Feb. 19, Dr. W. A. Amos, chairman of the recently-created liquor board said yesterday. After that date other shipments will leave overseas shores more or less regularly, depending on the demand and the thirst of the prairie people. Dr. Amos would give no forecast of the date of opening the stores.

CEREMONIAL AT UNION.

Churches Unite Under Flag of New United Church of Canada.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Large congregations, striking addresses and fitting ceremonial, marked the inaugural and dedication services of the first United Church of Ottawa which were held on Sunday at the former first Congregational church where congregations of former Westminister Presbyterian Church and First Congregational Church United. The occasion marked the union of the congregations as one under the basis of the United Church of Canada.

Is This Your Birthday?

TUESDAY, Feb 17.—Persons born this day do not make the most of their ability, as a rule. They are inclined to wait for something to turn up, instead of making it turn up. Despite these faults you have much natural ability. You must overcome this drifting habit. If you do you will be a big success. If a woman, you are inclined to be flighty and a poor housekeeper, but this also is a fault you can overcome.

CHICKEN STOPS TRAIN.

Prairie Bird Demolished Headlights of Continental Limited.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press)—A prairie chicken was instrumental in causing a delay in the arrival of the Canadian National "Continental Limited" Monday. While the locomotive was speeding along at the rate of 50 miles an hour toward Winnipeg, its powerful headlight was suddenly extinguished. The train was stopped, and investigation revealed the headlight totally demolished, and within the lamp the mangled remains of the bird.

Watch your tongue

The tongue is the mirror of the digestive tract and upon its surface is reflected the result of digestive disorders. Examine your tongue frequently and when you find it coated with "fur", or unnatural in appearance, heed Nature's signal.

Indigestion, biliousness, dyspepsia and constipation are responsible for most of the ills of mankind. Sleeplessness, headaches, nervousness and many ills follow in their train. Restore your digestion by using Beecham's Pills.

They clear the tongue, remove the bad taste, strengthen the stomach and bowels, activate the liver, promote the digestion and assimilation of food and make you feel strong and well.

LITTLE HOPE HELD FOR FRENCH UNITY

Newspapers Praise Herriot's Frankness, But Fear it is Too Late.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(United Press).—While the morning papers praise Premier Herriot's frankness regarding the disquieting financial situation in his address before the Chamber of Deputies, yesterday, they see little hope in his appeal for national unity.

Summarising the Opposition opinion, Le Figaro admits "Herriot rightly judged the ignorance of the public regarding the fight to save the franc but says his frankness was insufficient to down the feeling of pessimism caused by the Radicals' programme."

La Journale Industrielle, M. Loucher's organ, says Herriot urged the isolation of the financial problem from party quarrels and this is most desirable, but he must admit the internal situation does not permit Conservatives to heed his appeal. Too late, the Radicals hesitate to sacrifice principles."

"Herriot has confessed that the Radical-Socialist party is bankrupt," says the Nationalistic L'Echo De Paris. "[illegible] is suffering from impotency and lack of confidence. The price of bread is increasing and taxpayers are unable to meet the demands made upon them. Electors who shouted loyfully after the election now realize they are wrong."

Growing even more caustic, the newspaper refers to the Government as "henceforth merely a servant of the Second Internationale."

AMERICA MENACED BY LOW BIRTHRATE

The Average Family is One-Third Under Size.

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—The size of the American family of native stock in one generation has decreased 38¼ percent, according to R. E. Baber, professor of sociology at the University of Illinois, who added that today the native stock family has less than three children, while it requires four, under the present mortality and marriage rate, to replace the stock without increase.

"It is not necessarily a tragedy that much of our native stock is dying out If and that our increase comes wholly from foreign stock, for foreign is certainly not synonymous with inferior," said the professor. "Yet few will admit the desirability of such rapid replacement of our native stock, for it contains some of our native precious population elements. When we see 13 percent of our native families childless, and 18 percent more with only one child each, it seems to be significant."

Turning to the educational side of the situation, Professor Baber declared "far too many of our educated people either sidestep marriage or marry too late in life to have a family. From one half to three-fifths of our best educated women are having no share in producing the next generation, due either to non-marriage or childless marriage."

IN SMOKING MEAT

(Special to the Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Feb. 17. — Prof. Jos. Andre, a musical director, who had a studio here, and recently conducted a musical play at the Grand for the Kiwanis Club, is missing from the city, and a warrant is out for his arrest, charging him with the theft of a diamond ring valued at $375, which he purchased at Smith Bros. store.

He was married to Miss Seccor, a Kingston girl, two months ago, and she does not know where he is.

She states that he left here last Wednesday, stating that he was going to Toronto, to sell some music.

It is alleged that Andre gave a bogus cheque for the ring.

The cheque was on a New York bank in which he had no funds.

HIGHLAND DANCER AND WINNING MEDAL

U. S. A. Protests Against the Disqualification.

DUNOON, Scotland, Feb. 17.—What promises to be an interesting dispute has just been entered into in connection with a dancing event at last Cowal Gathering.

A young lady, named McLachlan, hailing from Quincy (Mass.), was one of the dancing competitors at the gathering. She proved herself a very skilful exponent of the art, and was adjudged winner of the gold medal for Shean Trubhais.

Unluckily, Miss McLachlan could not produce her birth certificate in accordance with the rules of the gathering. The certificate reposed in the pocket of her father, who was one of the vast crowd assembled, and who, apparently, could not be located at the moment.

The laws of the gathering being, as the secretary states, as fixed as the laws of the Medes and the Persians, those rules were rigidly enforced, with the result that the medal went to another gir.

The dancer's mother objects to what she regards as a harsh interpretation of the rules, and in course of lengthy correspondence claims the medal for her daughter. She is backed up by the Clan McLachlan, of Massachusetts; Mr. Douglas McInnes, Royal Chief, Order of Scottish Clans, U.S.A., and Canada, and a notary public.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulpnur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

FLOWER VENDORS GRIEVE.

Paris Florists Would Rather Have a Married President.

PARIS, Feb 17 (Associated Press)—The owners of the flower shops in the Madeleine district don't care much who is president of France, so long as he is married.

A bachelor president has no flowers sent him, they point out, since M. Doumergue has held the position they have lost trade which they ruefully estimate at nearly 500,000 francs a year.

The NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath

"This outfit would shoot you if it had to, I haven't the least doubt," she said. "And besides, Henry, do you know that right now I haven't the least desire to make a break? I'm horribly sleepy. I'm not a bit excited over this. I'm too tired. So long as I thought it was Bob Wells' camp I was mad, and that woke me up. But now I'm drowsy again. I'm not going to make any break from here until I get some sleep, and I don't care if the sheriff walks right in on us."

Denver motioned that they could help themselves to breakfast. It was not very inviting. All that Sally wanted was a cup of coffee. The Wreck, however, ate heartily.

Sally found a fairly comfortable spot under a tree and stretched herself for a nap. She advised the Wreck to do the same.

"I'll sit alongside of you," he said, "and keep an eye on things."

"Better get some sleep yourself."

"I'm not sleepy. I can't sleep. I'd like to bust——"

"Ss-h," said Sally.

In three minutes she had dozed off and in ten her slumber was deep. The Wreck propped himself against the tree, drew up his knees, folded his arms across them and directed a surly stare at Lefty. The latter, with his rifle at his feet, did not seem to be disconcerted. He did not, in fact, appear to display much interest in the prisoners, beyond an eye to their security.

The Wreck was determined to keep a vigilant lookout for opportunities. After a little while he observed what struck him as a singular phenomenon. The figure of Lefty was undergoing some strange distortion. It shrank, it swelled; sometimes it seemed to float in the air, again sink into the ground. The image trembled and danced before his eyes, in a queer yet fascinating manner. There were moments when it vanished entirely, only to reappear with illogical abruptness, three or four times as big as it was before. He had been calculating the possibilities of a sudden dash; he believed that Lefty would succumb to swift attack, if only Denver were not hovering about as a potential rescuer. Yet when Lefty began to assume a variety of shapes and sizes he was not so certain. His elusiveness to the eye was disconcerting.

Then he was conscious that Lefty had assumed normal proportions again. He was strolling around the camp, his rifle drooping from the hollow of his arm. Sally was sitting up, doing her hair with the aid of a little mirror that proclaimed the advance of the feminist movement in Montana. She was smiling at the Wreck.

"Have a good sleep?" she asked.

"Huh? Sleep? I haven't been asleep. Maybe I closed my eyes a minute, but I was just resting 'em."

"Then they've had a good rest, Henry. I've been awake for an hour and they've been closed all that time."

"What time is it?"

"Almost sundown."

He stirred himself and grinned sheepishly.

"What's been going on, anyhow?" he asked.

"I don't know, except that the ones they call Nosey and Denver aren't here. I asked Lefty where they were and he said they'd been gone for hours, and that it was none of my business, anyhow."

The Wreck studied Lefty with an appraising eye. They might go to the flivver and get some sandwiches. He seemed interested in the sandwiches, and signified that they could go under escort. They went, returning to camp with Sally's parcel of provisions. Going and coming, Lefty followed them. He accepted a couple of sandwiches with a grunt of acknowledgement, ate them with apparent approval, but did not relax his vigilance.

It was dark when Nosey and Denver rode into camp and dismounted. Lefty grumbled something about being left alone all day and was told to shut up. Then there was a conference. The Wreck and Sally missed most of it, but gathered that Nosey had decided that it would be safer for all hands to remain where they were for another night. Something was said about the sheriff, but they could not catch that part.

"I'll be doggoned if I'll stay here another night," said the Wreck to Sally.

"Ss-h. We may have to."

"But what do they want with us?"

"I've no idea. I think they're just afraid to turn us loose."

The Wreck addressed himself to the leader.

"What's the idea?" he demanded.

"Shut up."

The Wreck glowered and moved uneasily, but Sally laid a hand on his arm and warned him with a look.

"Any reason my wife and I can't be driving on?" he asked.

"And notify the sheriff?" sneered Nosey.

"Damn the sheriff."

"Sure. Only I don't figure you're goin' to drive on for awhile yet. Besides, we may be wantin' to use the car ourselves."

"And how long do you think we're going to stay here?"

"Just as long as I see fit," said Nosey. "And if you don't keep your face shut, I'll shut it for you."

Again Sally restrained her partner in captivity. The only thing that had a soothing effect was her plea that if anything happened to him she would be left there alone with three unpleasant strangers. They talked things over in low tones while Nosey and his companions busied themselves with getting supper.

"They're worried about the sheriff," she said, "That's plain enough. Bob must be right in the neighborhood somewhere. They don't even dare go out to the main road."

"Well, they're not going to steal my car. That's certain."

"What are you going to do about it, if they make up their minds?"

He was not certain, but he had an idea there would be noise and excitement.

"And a few shots," added Sally. "And then we won't worry about flivvers or anything else. You keep your head off your shoulders, Henry Williams. I'm not in any great hurry to lose mine."

He growled a complaint about hanging around and doing nothing.

"We'll find a chance yet," she whispered. "They're just as much fussed about this as we are. They don't want us around here, but they're afraid to let go of us. They don't know that we're running away from the sheriff, too, and we'd never be able to make them believe it. We're a pair of white elephants on their hands, but they can't find the answer."

Lefty, who had relinguished guard duty to Denver, brought them some greasy bacon and coffee.

"You'd better fill up," he advised. "You can't tell when you'll be feedin' again."

He did not suffer an explanation of this remark, and Sally and the Wreck had a fresh sense of uneasiness. Then the trio of captors entered upon a long consultation. The only person who paid even casual attention to the prisoners was Denver, who sat where he could keep an eye on them and whose rifle was too handy to encourage an attempted break.

Darkness came again, and Sally and the Wreck were ordered to move closer to the fire, where they could be watched. The Wreck were ordered to move closer more readily. Nosey took the added precaution of tying their feet together. He did not bother about their hands as yet; he merely wanted to be sure that they could not break and run on an instant's notice.

The consultation of the trio continued at a little distance from the fire, where they were beyond earshot of the prisoners. Although it was conducted in undertones, Sally and the Wreck sensed disagreement, and even acrimony. Finally, Nosey brought it to an end with a peremptory gesture.

"You stay here and watch 'em," he ordered Denver. "Lefty and me are goin' down by the main road for awhile. And the first crack they make, let 'em have it."

ACCUSED.

Brother Usmar, of the Huberdeau Orphanage, Montreal, Canada, is being held on a charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Hector Galarneau, 8, an inmate of the Orphanage. The child died from burns alleged to have been received when he was plunged into a bath of scalding water as a punishment for a misdemeanor.

DYE BURNS OFF HAIR.

Vancouver Woman Sues a Beauty Specialist for Departed Tresses.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 17 (Canadian Press).—The mysteries of dyeing hair took up the attention of a judge in county court when Mrs. Pearl Rowan claimed $1,000 damages from the proprietors of a hair parlor for injury to her hair. Mrs. Rowan, who "models" in commercial advertising, arranged for a "touch-up" which explanation showed was restoring hair, turning grey, to its original color. After the preparation had been rubbed on with a tooth brush the dyed hair was left for 20 minutes to dry, according to the plaintiff, when an attendant washed it, dried it and proceeded to brush it. Then, testified Mrs. Rowan, her hair fell to the floor. She said that the hair did not come out by the roots, but was broken off at the juncture of the dyed and original hair.

"I suppose you have to bob your hair in your business?" asked the judge.

"No, sir; long hair is an advantage," replied the plaintiff. Mrs. Rowan alleges that the dye was noxious and she seeks compensation from the defendants for pain and suffering and her changed personal appearance. The defense is a denial in addition to the plea that Mrs. Rowan used the dye at her own risk and that the dye had been applied in a careful manner.

"Eczema All Over Arms Suffered for 12 Years"

Mrs. Murray Hough, Wiarton, Ont., writes:

"I had eczema for twelve years. Every once in a while it would break out and spread all over my arms. I tried all kinds of treatments to relieve it, but without success. One Spring it broke out and nothing gave me relief, even the salve I got from the doctor did no good. At last I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment and it healed the eczema in a short time. That is over a year ago, and I have had no return of the trouble."

ALD. CROWE PROPOSES FINES FOR SNOWPLOWERS NEGLECTING SLUSH

Public Entitled to Better Service, Says Alderman in His Complaint.

NEW ROAD ROLLER

Old One Bought in 1899—Repair Bill Last Year Was $628.

Alderman Crowe last night led an assault on the snowplow men for their failure to clean the streets during the recent thaw. The Engineer is responsible for calling the snowplow men out, it was said, and Alderman Crowe believes that a fine of $5.00 should be levied on either the Engineer or the contractor for any neglect, as the people pay good money for taxes and are entitled to much better work in this line than they have been getting. There had been no complaint about the ordinary snowplowing, but the slush in his neighbourhood had not been removed until after he had lodged a complaint.

Alderman Fife announced that he would father a by-law in the council requiring the citizens to clean off their sidewalks after the passing of the plows and that the Works Department do those portions left undone, charging the cost against the property. A motion of Aldermen Denne and Phelan was passed, leaving the matter of enforcing the contracts to the Engineer's Department and providing that those not doing their duty be checked up.

Correspondence.

A number of smaller matters were cleared away first to make room for the estimates. The first of these was the storm drain under the Canadian Pacific right-of-way. The agreement desired by the railway puts the entire responsibility for any accident on the city, which the board did not see its way to accept. It was decided, on motion of the Mayor and Alderman Crowe, to send back the railway's agreement with a copy of the standard agreement approved by the railway board, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized to sign it if the railway accepts it.

A letter was read from the City Clerk of London asking for the support of the Council in protesting against the charges made on the cities by Suburban Roads Commissions over which the cities have no control. It was moved by Aldermen Phelan and Jones that the city should co-operate if the London Council arrange a meeting with the Department of Highways and advise the date.

A letter was read announcing the annual meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association and requesting the city's fee of $25.00. In view of the report of last year's delegates, Alderman Stocker and City Engineer Parsons, that membership and attendance was a waste of time and money, it was decided that no action be taken.

The Board of Health recommended the construction of a sewer on Bethune Street between Dalhousie and Wolfe Streets. It was moved by Aldermen Phelan and Stocker that this work be done as soon as the necessary notice of intention had been given, so as to provide work.

Request for Pavement.

E. G. Patterson, of the Canadian General Electric Co., wrote urging the paving of Park Street owing to the heavy traffic which traverses it. Aldermen Crowe and Greene moved that no paving be done this year. Alderman Crowe thought that this would not be enough in any case to bring a contractor to Peterborough. An amendment by Messrs. Turner and Jones, that the question be left over was defeated, but as the original motion was also lost, the matter was automatically laid over.

The City Engineer recommended that the bridge at the end of Couger Street be repaired, and that W. H. Bradburn, the local member, be asked to try for some action from the Province. This bridge was made necessary by the cut for the old Chemong Railway, and Alderman Crowe thought the railway was liable. A motion by Aldermen Phelan and Jones, that the Chairman, the Mayor and the City Engineer see Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Walker of the Normal School about repairing the bridge was carried.

The City Engineer was authorized to purchase licenses for the Board's motor cars and the street sweeper.

Need New Roller.

A new road-roller is badly needed by the city, according to the Engineer's report. The old one was bought in 1899, and last year's repairs cost $628.00, and for the last six years the repair bill has averaged $460.00. It now needs a new pinion, the boiler leaks badly and the cylinders and pistons are badly worn. Nobody will quote on repairing it, as it was made by a company not now doing business. A new machine can be had from the Sawyer-Massey Co. or the Waterous Engine Works for $7,000.00. It was moved that the City Engineer ask for tenders on a new machine, the tenders to make an allowance for the old machine, and that he should interview some competent workman about repairing the old one.

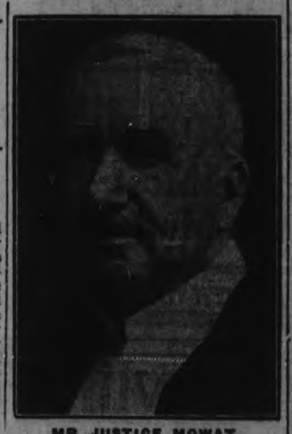
Mr. Brumwell, who has looked after the disposal plant property for the pasture rights, was reappointed.

The curb on George Street South, in front of Bogue's drugstore, is higher than the sidewalk so that the water backs up and almost floods the store. A catch basin will be put in there and one at the corner of Downie and Reid Streets, where the water floods Wm. Saxby's cellar windows.

The paving of the devilstrip on Water Street, north of Smith Street, and on George Street, at the C.P.R. crossing and Romaine Street, was discussed. The gravel from the unpaved strip runs over onto the paved parts and the water soaks under the pavement causing danger from frost. Alderman Turner moved that the Hydro Electric Power Commission be written to, and pressure brought to bear through the local member that this necessary work be done.

A motion was passed that the Board of Works buy their gas from the Fire Department if a satisfactory agreement can be reached. Alderman Denne was in favor of alternating the purchase between the various oil companies, but this was left to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The City Engineer was asked to report on conductor pipes which drain on the sidewalks, to obtain prices on road oil, and to find out over the telephone why the sewage disposal plans, which were sent to Toronto on February 9, had not been returned.



MR. JUSTICE MOWAT,
Who is to preside at the Spring Assizes in Peterboro.

Mr. Justice Mowat, of Toronto, who is expected to-morrow at the adjourned session, probably anticipated the clean docket awaiting him, as there are no cases to be tried, the only order of business being the report of a case to which judgment by consent by both parties was given, in an action for damages arising out of a motor accident last fall.

The clerk of Mr. Justice Mowat was in attendance.

SHOOTS SISTER TO SAVE AGONY

French Woman Was Impressed By Recent Case of Polish Actress.

INCURABLE DISEASE.

PARIS, Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press). — A tragic parallel to the crime for which Mlle. Uminska, young Polish actress, was recently tried and acquitted—the killing of her fiance to save him further agony from an incurable disease—has been enacted in Paris.

Anna Levasseur, middle-aged dressmaker, yesterday shot and killed her sister, Anais, aged twenty-nine.

Anna, when arrested, told the police: "I killed my sister at her direct request. She was suffering from an incurable malady—tuberculosis of the bones.

"Seated in her chair she implored me to fire behind her ear."

The prisoner added that the Uminska case had made a great impression on her.

WORKS BOARD FIX YEAR'S ESTIMATES

Will Ask an Appropriation of $58,325—New Car For Engineer.

The city's Board of Works had a busy session last evening, drafting an appropriation of $58,325 for this year, as against an appropriation of $57,875 for 1924. The acutal amount spent by this department in 1924 was $66,620.03. Of course, it is taken for granted that the sum of $58325 figured last night is absolutely necessary to meet estimated expenditures by the Board of Works this year, may be pared somewhat when council's Committee of the Whole convene to strike the tax rate for 1925.

A Saving Here.

The first three items in the estimates, $10,000 for gravel, $7,000 for general street work, and $200 for wooden sidewalk repair were passed without much discussion. All three amounts were less than the sums spent last year on the same work.

The item of $100 for bridge repairs brought up the question of protecting the Smith street bridge by paving the roadway. The city engineer estimated this would cost $2,500 which was added to the estimates to be taken out later. The item of $2,800 for new bridges on Caddy street and Townsend street met no opposition.

Fifty dollars for culvert repairs led to discussion. The drain across the Clancy property on Hunter street east has been partly cleaned out by the city, but a stagnant pool collects at one point, creating a nuisance, which the Mayor would like to see removed. A further sum of $200 was placed in the estimates for finishing this drain to the edge of the property.

Sewer Maintenance.

Sewer maintenance at $800 and catch basins at $250 were passed unquestioned but an item of $700 for concrete sidewalk repair was held up till the engineer pointed out that a much greater sum could be used, naming several very bad places as examples. Weed and grass cutting and tree trimming got $500 each without debate, but some of the aldermen question the item of $575 for office expenses. It was pointed out that this included $375 for a Monroe Calculator which had been on trial, and which had been found of great value by the engineer's staff.

Flagging at Crossings.

Flagging railway crossings will cost the city $2,300 and looking after the board's horses $750.

The miscellaneous expense account will take $2,500 this year. Last year this amount was greatly exceeded by the department being charged with certain judgments for damages awarded against the city. The members of the board expressed their disapproval of charging such expenses to the board, claiming they should go to the legal committee's account.

Engineer Protests.

Four thousand dollars of the salaries of the engineering staff is charged against the Board of Works, and city engineer Parsons protested against assessing the salary of Mr. Thirnbeck of the construction staff against his department.

There is $400 in the tentative appropriation for boundary road work to be done by the township and half paid for by the city. Two hundred dollars for surface drain repairs was passed without question, but $10,000 for new suface drains aroused much discussion. Alderman Phelan thought that such work was capital expenditure and should be charged on the local improvement basis. He said the people had rejected a by-law for $40,000 for this work some years, and that this present method charged the whole city with work which benefited only a few. A motion by Alderman Jones and Stocker that the item stand, carried.

Snow cleaning and dust-laying were allowed $4,000 and $10,000 respectively without debate. New street signs receive $500, and the engineer quoted a price of 42 cents each for such signs.

Gets New Car.

The city engineer is to have a new car to replace the present one, bought in 1919, and $500 was placed in the estimates to cover it. Several aldermen asked if this was necessary but Ald. Turner said when he rode in the present car he had the shaking up of his life, and so this item was passed on.

After all the estimates had been passed on, the total had risen from $62,625 to $65,725, and Alderman Phelan here suggested leaving out paving of the Smith street bridge and the new surface drains, both of which, he said, would mean capital expenditure. Alderman Greene urged that the storm drains be deferred, but the chairman replied that people had been put off too long, and that there was the danger of law suits against the city. Alderman Turner asked how far $5,000 would go toward extending the drains, and the city engineer replied, to about Patterson street. Alderman Turner's motion that the list as amended less $5,000 for storm drains and $2,500 for paving Smith street bridge, was carried. The total now stands at $58,325.

GOVERNMENT IS BUTT OF ATTACK BY OPPOSITION

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter Says Speech From Throne Is Only Patch Work.

WITTY SALLIES.

Employ Canadians in Foreign Country to Send Goods to Canada.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — (Canadian Press).—The debate on the Address finally ended in the House last night. The Address was adopted "on division," but without the actual recording of a vote and without submission of an amendment. Since the debate on the Address was revived on Friday, the speakers have come entirely from the Conservative forces. In the last speech Hon. J. B. M. Baxter declared that the Speech from the Throne was nothing but an attempt at patchwork. Canada needed a real comprehensive policy that would lift from one end of the country to the other. He wanted to know what the Government had done to cut out waste by preventing duplication of train services on the two great railway systems.

He pressed that the heads of the two system should be called together in conference.

Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, rose to remark that this had already been done.

There was cheering from the Liberal ranks and Mr. Baxter smilingly remarked that he was glad to see the seeds he had scattered bearing fruit.

Here L. H. Martell, Liberal, of Hants, sharply asked what had been done before 1921 to prevent railway duplication.

"My acquaintance with Holy writ is perhaps a little dim," returned Mr. Baxter, "and I am not always able to tell whether it was the angel or ass who spoke." Laughter greeted this sally.

"The ass has just spoken," sharply reiterated Mr. Martell, and there was more laughter.

W. F. Garland (Conservative, Carleton) disapproved of the Government fiscal policy, to which he ascribed much of the unemployment in Canada. He suggested restriction of immigrants, which would compel them to remain say two years on the land or be deported.

Donald Sutherland (Conservative, South Oxford) said the alarming increase in the public debt and the loss of 600 of the best young people of this country had created an appalling situation. It appeared to be the policy of this country to employ our own people in a foreign country to send goods back to Canada.

The Government was "drifting without an objective in trade, defence or anything else."

The majority of the Progressives were, as Miss McPhail has said, nothing more than "a pale shadow of Government."

READING AND MORALS AN ADDRESS

A Social Hygiene Speaker to Lecture in Peterborough on Thursday.

Peterboro citizens will have an opportunity on Thursday of this week, in the Public Library Hall, of hearing Mr. W. H. Harrison, secretary of the Canadian National Newspapers and Publishers Association, deal in a comprehensive, constructive way with the problems presented in Canada by the floods of undesirable publications which cross our borders and are read by many of our young people.

Mr. Harrison will approach his subject, "Morals and Reading," first from the psychological angle. As a child, youth or man thinketh, that he is. If the mind and body be nourished on right food, a clean mind in a healthy body is the result. But if bad food is fed either mind or body or both, results are equally bad.

Then Mr. Harrison will pass to a consideration of the increasing power of the printed word in our social, economic, political, even in our institutional and family lives, and to a consideration of the type of newspaper and magazine read by many of our young people to-day. Newspapers go into practically every home in Canada. What is the nature of the contents of these publications? What are the reactions likely to be set up by them in the minds of young people? What are the fashions in reading in Canada? What those in the countries from which many of our most undesirable magazines and publications come?

Mr. Harrison will examine for us our news-stands, describe their contents, will tell us who are the patrons for the worst publications, will give an idea of the black-listed journals which cannot be legally sold in Canada, and will show his hearers several of the most questionable of these magazines.

Parents and teachers who wish to guide aright the tastes of boys and girls, will find much of concrete value in Mr. Harrison's talk, which is all the more practical in tone and content, because the speaker is an active newspaper man, with catholic taste, and by no means a Puritan seeking to lay down rules for cleaning up the earth.

The local Social Hygiene Council is to be congratulated on having secured Mr. Harrison to give this talk in Peterboro. It created a great deal of discussion when first delivered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council in Ottawa last year, and has been equally productive of the deepest interest on the numerous occasions when it has been presented in Toronto.

With Apologies

Haj Cockran's Daily Poem

This is the season when people must sing and write of the beautiful coming of spring. So why shouldn't I do the best that I can with a hunch that has lived since the world first began?

Ground that was frozen when weather was raw now takes a turn and's beginning to thaw. Once was it hard but there isn't a doubt that it's hinting of spring when the water seeps out.

Trees that were bare and a sigh of distress now plan the wearing of summer time's dress. Buds, peeking through, are the things that are found, as water gives nourishment out of the ground.

Even the chirp of the robin draws nigh. Comes Mister Redbreast out of the sky. What is the message we know he will bring? Just bits of singsong that herald the spring.

Maybe I'm early with patter like this. Maybe more winter will turn it amiss. Maybe you think just what ought to be thunk—that spring being here is a whole lot of bunk.

LONG TERM MAN BEING PAROLED

Arthur Brown, of Notorious "Stoney Mountain Gang" Released.

ESCAPED PEN ONCE.

(Specia to the Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 17. — Arthur Brown, better known as "Cigarette Brown," serving a 25-year sentence in the Portsmouth penitentiary, has been paroled.

Brown is the last of the notorious Stoney mountain gang to be given his release.

With the Mecum brothers and Arthur Bonnar, a young Englishman, Brown staged a sensational escape from the Portsmouth penitentiary on April 29, 1912.

Brown was convicted of kidnapping Gladys Price, a public school teacher, at Snow Lake, Manitoba, and was given a term of eight years.

With Kelly and Jones, known as the Mecum brothers, he was transferred to the Portsmouth penitentiary in March, 1912.

On the trip down to Kingston from the West, Kelly, Jones, Bonnar and Brown almost succeeded in making their escape from the guards. While on the train in the Union station at Toronto the quartette hacked their guards on April 29th, stole their uniforms, and made their escape, but where rounded up inside of half an hour.

GAOL FOR CONSUMERS

The Editor of The Examiner.

Sir.—The condition of things in Ontario is fast getting unbearable. Our people spoke with no uncertain voice and demanded the enforcement of the O.T.A. But what are we getting? Stronger beer. The O.T.A. is being broken by the government itself. It is evident that the people themselves must take hold of and enforce this law and I would suggest stronger measures, not stronger beer. It has been found that bootleggers must be sent straight to prison without a fine. Why not do the same with the drinkers? Let all those who are taken with the smell of liquor upon them be sent to gaol. There is no good in fooling away our time with the bootlegger. If there was no drinking, there would be no bootlegger. Let us form one of the new Vigilance Committees and go out to seize drinkers and buyers of strong drink and run them behind the bars. Who is running this province? The temperance people are, and it is time we put a stop to other people. If putting them in gaol will not stop them, then perhaps the lash will, and if it will not then we can increase the punishment even to death, for it is more important that they should die than future generations should know the taste of drink. Liberty is all well enough when it means doing what we want, but when it does not, then we must end it. Long live the Inquisition.

Defend Pure Girlhood Object Of New Society

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 17. —(United Press.)—The Society of the Loyal Defenders of Pure American Girlhood was granted articles of incorporation here on Monday. The purposes of the organization are declared to be the promotion of profound respect for virtue and good morals in young men and women, and the prosecution of persons on morality charges. The society is a Los Angeles organization.

COLLEGIATE LIT HAD TWO PLAYS

Fourth and Fifth Forms Present Worthy Efforts Splendidly.

P.C.I. PRODUCTS.

The P.C.I. Literary Society, the student organization of the school, has held two meetings recently, both real successes. The programme of the first meeting was in the hands of Fifth Form, the second was the effort of the Four A, a girls' form. Each took the mould of a short play in competition for the Upper Form Stunt Banner. Last year the banner was won by Fourth Form, which now composes the Fifth.

The Fifth Form offering was a clever little comedy farce in four scenes, entitled "Business a la Mode," written solely by Allan Neal, who also wrote the banner-winning skit of last year.

The Cast.

Miss Sarah Bellum—Musa Cox.
Miss Molly Cule—Sheila Thomson.
Miss Annie Mated — "Shorty" Cooper.
Miss Hallie Tosis—Aileen Morgan
Miss Goldie Digger—Isobel Connolly.
Miss Helen Amustardpot — Kathleen McKinnon.
Archie Moffan—Allan Neal.
Mr. G. Eustace McGargle — Bill Yelland.

Young Ladies of Seminary—Girls of Form V.
Also Form Five Symphony Orchestra.

Fourth Form Stunt.

The play given by Fourth Form was entitled "Can a Woman Hold Her Tongue?". This was also good but lacked the plot and cohesion of the Fifth Form play. Here too there was lots of room for wit of which the girls took full advantage.

Miss Vera Wagar carried off highest honors as Vera, the maid.

The Cast.

Mrs. Middleton—Annie Amys.
Sally and Eliza, her Daughters—Pip Killaly, Edythe Cottrell.

COLLINS HELD

took this means of expressing his faith in Gerald by asking that he represent the family.

Tomb Opened.

Mother Earth, after clinging grimly, in life and in death, to Floyd Collins, for more than seventeen days, finally surrendered at 2.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and without warning, opened a tiny hole between a rescue shaft and the natural tomb of the cave explorer.

Peering down this tiny fissure into Sand Cave, the brave workers who had waged an unequal combat with the natural forces of the earth, saw that what they had fought so hard for had been lost.

Collins was dead.

But they will reclaim the body, only to restore it again to the rugged hills he roamed as a youth and explored as a man.

"Thank God, they've found him," was Lee Collins' single statement after his son had been found.

Official Statement.

A terse statement, signed by the three men who had led scores of others in the long fight, told of the result and paid tribute to their assistants.

After describing the break through the roof of Sand Cave and the preliminary investigation of it by Albert Marshall, the statement said:

"His game little partner, Ed. Brenner, of Cincinnati, whose work has been very conspicuous and of untold value by reason of his small stature and great strength and iron nerve, went down head foremost into this hazardous pit, and with a light closely examined the face and position of the man who we understood is Floyd Collins, and called up to Mr. Carmichael, five feet above him that the man was cold and apparently dead."

The bulletin was signed Brig.-Gen. H. H. Denhardt, E. T. Carmichael, and M. E. S. Posey.

Dr. William Hazlett, of Chicago, and Dr. C. E. Francis, of Bowling Green, Ky., anounced later that from information they had obtained, Collins had been dead more than 24 hours.

Although the quest for Collins had ended in locating his body, the tired miners, saddened by the realisation that the man they tried so hard to save was dead, turned heavy-hearted, to the still dangerous task of recovering his body.

Hours of digging remained ahead of them before they could remove Collins from his tightly-wedged position in the narrow passage in Sand Cave.

Accurate Survey.

"The location of Collins is at the elevation originally indicated, and within a few feet of the position determined by the first survey.

"The old cavern was found in an extremely critical condition. Later John Gerald, conspicuous in the original rescue work, was called down to identify articles found, and thus definitely determined Collins' position, this check being necessary on account of the inadvisability of entering until the timbering work was done.

"The articles and their position were positively identified; meanwhile Albert Marshal, without any thought of personal danger, propped loosely hanging dangerous boulders and let himself down into the pit, feet foremost. The opening being too small on account of his large stature for him to go head first. He touched with his feet what he thought to be a blanket wrapped around Collins' body.

"Immediately after his game little partner, Mike Brenenr, of Cincinnati, by reason of his small stature and iron nerve, went down head foremost, into the hazardous pit, and with a light closely examined the place and position of the man."

"It was quickly seen that Collins was cold and apparently dead."

Later it was announced that Ed. Brenner had gone to Collins' body, felt the pulse, made other examinations ,and reported there was no sign of respiration.

The physicians, from Brenner's report ,stated that Collins had been dead for more than twenty-four hours.

The head and right wrist were the only parts of the body movable, the remainder of the body being apparently covered by loose dirt and by rocks. It was impossible for Brenner to touch any part of the body beyond the head and front of the chest.

The electric light bulb, not burning, was found in front of the body.

WALES' BARBER POPULAR.

Fashionable Beauties Flock to Shop Patronized by Royal Family.

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—The most popular beauty shop in London just now among fashionable young women who have their bobbed hair trimmed every week or so is a Curzon Street establishment patronized by the Prince of Wales, Lord Lascelles, son-in-law of the King, and all the younger members of the royal family.

When the King himself is attended by the royal barber at Buckingham Palace, or at Sandringham and Balmoral or wherever he goes, it has long been customary for the Prince of Wales and his brothers to patronize one of the town shops to which place they go when their hair needs trimming and await their turn of "next" the same as all the other patrons.

Croup at Night No Longer Feared by Canadian Mothers

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

Many Canadian mothers, who in the past have worried over croup and children's cold, are delighted with the "external" remedy for colds, Vicks VapoRub.

You just rub Vicks over throat and chest for croup, children's colds, bronchitis or deep chest colds. When so applied the body heat releases the ingredients as vapors which are inhaled directly into the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and reducing the inflammation.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion. Croup is usually relieved in 15 minutes.

There is no dosing in using Vicks. Nothing to upset the delicate stomachs of small children. You just "rub it on".

PETES CLOSE GROUP SCHEDULE BY LOSING 4-1 TO COLLEGIANS

Failed Again to Show Their Toronto Form on Home Ice.

PLAYED IN SLUSH

Inclined to Conserve Strength for Strenuous Playoffs Ahead.

Connie Smythe's University of Toronto team had the honor of winning the last schedule game in Senior Group No. 1 and taking a fall out of the group leading Petes at Brock Street Rink last night, when they beat the homesters 4 goals to 1, thus leaving Parkdale and the Petes tied for the honors.

The final standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Peterboro	6	2
Parkdale	6	2
Varsity	5	3
Aura Lee	2	6
Hamilton	1	7

The championship of the group will be decided on Thursday and Saturday night with both games taking place in Toronto, the Petes having elected to play their home game there.

The S.P.A. winners have yet to succeed in turning in a good game on their own rink and their failure to show any resemblance to the form they displayed on the larger ice surface of the arena explains the transfer of the play off game to Toronto.

Last night's game was a contest for two periods, in fact until Louie Hudson ambled through a five man defence early in the third session and made the count 3 to 1. Then the Petes who had been lackadaisical enough in their work up to that stage slackened still more and Varsity earned another goal before the final bell.

Ice Was Heavy.

The ice was very heavy and the conditions mitigated against brilliant hockey. On top of this the Petes always had the play off games in mind and they took no chances at any stage, either in checking or in their offensive tactics and Varsity, who showed a lot of pep and determination, clearly earned their victory. The Collegians have come along fast and as they have elected to qualify for the Allan Cup playoffs, via the Collegiate championship route, will be heard of later on in the season.

Varsity had a lot of speed, checked persistently and displayed some effective passing in spite of the soft ice, two of their goals being scored by neat combination plays while Hudson got the other pair on individual efforts, the first on a lazy shot from well out. Hudson was the pick of the Varsity line, despite the conditions and the fact that he was used on right wing. He backchecked well and was dangerous on the attack. Plaxton was very useful at all stages and the rest of the line did nicely. The defence pair were strong and Joe Sullivan contributed some fancy stopping and clearing, especially in the first two periods when the Petes gave him plenty to do.

Bailey's Feature Play.

Bailey's sensational dash for the Petes only counter caused him to stand out over the rest of the local line. It was the feature play of the night. Otherwise there was little to choose on the night's play. Defensively the team was not as effective as usual, the determined checking that has featured most of the Petes games being lacking. The battles of Thursday and Saturday were regarded as of more importance than a victory last night and as a result the squad came through in good shape and ready for the next test of the Parkdale series.

The line up:

Varsity.
Goal—Sullivan.
Defence—Porter, Taylor.
Centre—Plaxton.
Right wing—Hudson.
Left wing—Kirkpatrick.
Subs—Richards, Cloutier.

Peterboro.
Goal—Dwyer.
Defence—Parker, McLeod.
Centre—Collins.
Right wing—Bailey.
Subs—Ranger, Burgess.
Referee—M. J. Rodden, Toronto.

The First Period.

The game opened slowly and for several minutes there was not a dangerous move until Hudson got away and scooped one from the side which Dwyer blocked. McLeod retaliated with a nice rush but was checked as he worked into scoring range. Then Varsity got the only goal of the period when Kirkpatrick and Plaxton broke together with no backchecking to bother them and Kirkpatrick pulled the Peterboro defence pair over and flipped the rubber to Plaxton who took lots of time to pick an opening and beat Dwyer.

The Petes took the offensive after this counter and when Plaxton drew a penalty they made things lively for Sullivan. He batted the shots out as fast as they were driven at him, however, and the end of the period found the score still 1-0.

Bailey sewed up the game five minutes after the second period opened when he broke fast from his owen end of the rink, skated through the Varsity forwards, hurdled the defence and flipped the rubber past Sullivan at close range. It was the finest play of the night.

Varsity Forge Ahead.

Varsity took the lead again two minutes after when Hudson, who had been a moment before shifted into centre, wheeled suddenly and scooped a floater from 40 feet out that Dwyer failed to block. It was the softest counter that has beat the Petes sterling net guardian this season.

There was no further scoring, Sullivan beating the Peterboro attack whenever it was dangerous.

When the final dash started the honors were about even but six minutes after the period started Hudson broke away and although the Petes had a five man defence back there the Varsity speed merchant ambled through and scored.

It was just a case of playing out the string after that with the ice steadily getting worse. Finally when it looked as if 3 to 1 would be the final count Plaxton and Taylor combined nicely for Varsity's fourth counter. Taylor broke fast, handed Plaxton a pass which carried him inside and when Dwyer flopped and had Plaxton blocked the latter slipped the rubber back to Taylor for a neat goal.

YOUNGER PETES DEFEATED 4 TO 2 IN BROCKVILLE

Big Crowd Saw Hockey Treat of the Year Despite Soft Ice.

HERE WEDNESDAY

Junior Petes Suffered From Penalties—Goal Scored With Two Off.

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 17.—One of the largest crowds of the season saw the Brockville Juniors defeat Peterboro by four goals to two at the Arena last night, and in spite of the soft ice the spectators were given the hockey treat of the year as the players treated them to a brand of hockey surprisingly fast throughout the entire sixty minutes of play.

Peterboro Juniors are, with one exception, heavier and older than the Brockville boys to all appearances, and they should have found the heavy ice more to their liking than did Brockville. The two goal lead will make a great game of it when the teams meet in the Lift Lock city Wednesday night.

Penalties Hurt.

At times the players were inclined to rough matters up a bit and Peterboro showed the greatest inclination of the two organizations to hand out stiff body checks and numerous trips. Consequently they were penalized more frequently by Glen Smith, the Toronto referee, who ruled with an iron hand. Brockville scored their third goal when the Petes were short two men through penalties and though the tables were turned later on in the game, when Woodcock and McInrue of the locals were on the fence, the visitors found it impossible to score.

Kennedy scored two of the Brockville goals while McInrue and Woodcock got the others. McDougall scored Peterboro's first on a long shot and in the third frame Salmon, who with McDougal played a wonderful game for the Petes, notched their other. Kennedy and H. Garand were Brockville's best. The Brockville defence did not have as hard a night of it as did Collins and Salmon in front of LeBarr for Peterboro. The latter was called upon time and time again to save his team and did well.

Crowd In Uproar.

The first period ended two to one for Brockville, and in the second neither side found the nets, due to the heavy ice retarding the shooting. In the third session the fast pace of the former periods was maintained and the spectators were kept in the wildest excitement.

Brockville was best at combination though in the main individual work featured the playing of both teams. Salmon was Peterboro's best, but he was watched too closely by the locals. The second game of the round between these teams should be a hummer.

The teams were as follows:

Brockville — McMahon, goal; Sheridan, Woodcock, defence; H. Garand, centre; Kennedy, McInrue, wings; Walsh, P. Garand subs.

Peterboro—Lebarr goal; Salmon, Collins, defence; McDougall, centre; Cheu, Ridpath wings; Maudsley, Marchen subs.

LAVOIE'S KNITTERS DEFEATED FALCONS

Fire Hall Six Lost By 3-2 at Mark Street Rink.

The speedy Fire Hall Falcons tasted defeat at the hand of Lavoie's hockey sextet last night. The Firemen were without the use of two good men due to illness, and as a result the six warriors turning up had to stay the sixty minutes against the much heavier wool tossers. At that they scored the first two goals in 11 minutes and looked to have the game in the old ice box, until McMahon pasted in Lavoie's first counter just before the initial bell.

The Sweater Makers evened the count after 4 minutes of lightning hockey in the second period, when E. Williams scored from close in. Heavy body checking featured this stanza, both teams being guilty.

In the third spasm, E. Williams put the game away for the Knitters, scoring from close in, giving Ward no chance to save, after 19 minutes of strenuous wrestling by both tribes.

Johnny Ward in goal for the Firemen, turned in a wonderful game, the three that beat him were unsavable. In front of him, Dundas and Smith looked like stone walls, while up on the firing line "Lefty" White tore around like a small whirlwind, backchecking like a fiend and scoring a goal. McNeeley, "the flying Scotchman", and Naish teamed up with White nicely.

For Lavoie's, E. Williams, Lipsett and McMahon, were the men to beat. E. Williams nicked two counters and McMahon the other. Lavoie and G. Williams were in there all the time too, and so were the subs. While Murdock in goal, although not called to extend himself as much as Ward, performed "a la Joe Dwyer."

Mr. Pecard handled thebell in fine style and wasn't backward with the penalties when the boys got rough. Lavoies received 5 penalties and the Fire Fighters were awarded 2.

The line ups:

Falcons—Goal, Ward; defence, Dundas and Smith; centre, White; wings, McNeely and Naish.

Lavoie's—Goal, S. Murdock; defence, McMahon and L. Lavoie; centre, Lipsett; wings, E. Williams and G. Williams; subs, W. Lavoie and A. Murdock.

HOCKEY PICTORIAL MAKES APPEARANCE

Peterboro Teams, Including S.P.A. Champions, Prominent in New Issue.

The sporting editor has just received a copy of the Peterboro Hockey Pictorial which has just been published, and which is at once the handsomest and most complete publication ever produced for any single sport. It is a marvel of good taste in artistry and industry or achievement. It is impossible to speak too highly of it.

The book represents years of effort, typographically and pictorially. It is truly a "masterpiece." From cover to cover it is embellished with group pictures of championship teams from the inception of the game to the present date, in fact, the history of this great winter sport is told in pictures.

Old-timers will be interested in the handsome halftones of the teams who were prominent a generation ago, especially the Peterboro junior champions of 1894-1895-1901 and Intermediate champions of 1902 and 1906, while the younger enthusiasts will enjoy the reproductions of the more recent winners.

The book is not only lavishly illustrated, but is literally crammed wit hmuch interesting information garding individuals, clubs and leagues throughout Canada and the United States.

Local hockey fans will find a very interesting group picture of the Peterboro S.P.A. champions of 1924-25 on the front cover, and also a complete history of the players.

Any fans desiring to secure this book should get in touch with Ed. Wright, President Peterboro Hockey Team, 329 George St.

PETERBORO' DOGS WIN AT NEW YORK

Herbert S. Routley Has Success With "Loyal Lord" in Open Class.

....Loyal Lord, a promising young Springer Spaniel, owned by Herbert S. Routley, was successful at the New York Dog Show, held at Madison Square Garden, last week, taking third prize in the Open Class, with 22 Springers competing. He defeated seven international champions, that were English champions before being imported to America, and a number of English challenge certificate winners, and other American winners. This was Loyal Lord's debut in the show ring. He beat his kennel mate, Breckonhill Vanbolo. This dog was a winner of two firsts in England in large classes before coming to Canada. Vanbolo was placed seventh in the same class. Mr. Routley won second, open reserve winners in 1924 at the Garden, thus winning two years in succession, a win rarely made by one kennel Mr Routley's Springers won three full champion certificates in 1924, the fourth just needing one point to finish her championship

There was an entry of 65 Springer Spaniels at New York, the largest entry of Springers ever benched in America, and no doubt the highest class of Springers ever benched at any show anywhere

SOLWAY STARS WON.

GLASGOW, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Solway Stars eliminated Vale of Leven from the Scottish Football Association Cup series Monday by 2-1 in a replayed second round match.

WESTERN HOCKEY MAKING HISTORY

Closest Battle in History of League—Calgary in Play-off.

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 17.—Hockey history is being made in the Western Canada Hockey League this winter. The closest battle in the annals of the winter pastime is drawing to a close with play-off candidates still in doubt, even at this late period. By winning their two home fixtures, the Calgary Tigers, Western champions, are certain to make a place in the play-off as one of the first three clubs, while one more road win out of four starts, coupled with a pair of home triumps, will leave the champions at the head of the slate waiting for second and third clubs to battle for the right to meet them in the league final.

Vancouver and Victoria will be clawing each other viciously to get through in the title fight. The Maroons can make the grade by winning all four remaining games which include three at home and one at Victoria. One of the three home fixtures is with Victoria. At present the Cougars have 26 points, and one of the two home games is with Vancouver. If the Maroons win all their remaining shows to get through, the Cougars will have to be content with one victory over Saskatoon, if they can make the grade, and that will only leave Victoria with 28 points.

Saskatoon looks safe enough to make the play-off providing the Shiels can win two more games, and this can be done by copping the remaining home fixtures, or making that quota out of four road games. The Crescents now have 25 points and four more marks would be gained from two wins to make it 29, which would be one point ahead of either Victoria or Vancouver, providing there is a division of the spoils in the game between the Patrick rivals. Edmonton is not entirely out of it yet, by no means. The Eskimos have 23 points and home games.

LANDIS TO CONSIDER REINSTATING DOLAN

No Evidence Against Banished Coach But Own Evasiveness.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Commissioner Landis yesterday intimated he would "consider very carefully" an application for re-instatement from Cozy Dolan, former coach of the New York Giants, who was banished from baseball, along with Jimmy O'Connell, after the bribery scandal of last fall.

Landis made this unexpected revelation following a conference earlier in the day with District Attorney Banton on the results of the latter's recent investigation into the bribery scandal. Afterward the district attorney announced that his inquiry would be continued and also that Landis had offered to produce any major league ball player desired for examination, as well as defray all expenses involved.

Dolan's status, the commissioner indicated, has proved a knotty problem, inasmuch as the former coach has denied consistently any connection with the attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, although O'Connell, in his confession of the attempt, accused Dolan of instigating the deal. In addition, no other evidence against him than his alleged evasiveness on the subject has been found.

EVERS WITH GIANTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The New York Giants yesterday announced they had signed Johnny Evers, former manager of the Chicago Cubs and White Sox, as coach to fill the post vacated by the blacklisting of Cozy Dolan. Evers served in a similar capacity in 1920, prior to signing to pilot the Cubs.

KINGSTON WINS FROM HAVELOCK IN BIG BATTLE

Game at Kingston Was Good Exhibition of Hockey at Its Best.

FANS DELIGHTED.

Encounter Ended 9 to 2 in Favor of Homesters — Havelock Played Well.

KINGSTON, February 17 (Special to The Examiner). — Kingston Intermediates defeated the Havelock contenders for the Intermediate O. H. A. title in a sudden death game last night at the Jock Harty Arena, by the score of 9 to 2, but the visitors put up a battle royal for the honours.

Rogers in goal for the Kingston team was a regular stone wall, and time after time the Havelock team made clear cut shots at the goal, only to be saved from scoring by the clever work of Rogers.

A crowd that filled the rink to capacity witnessed the match.

Havelock's bright star was D. Brennan. He turned in the hardest games of the lot, and made many spectacular rushes, but was generally left alone when near the Kingston net, and fell a prey to the Kingston defence.

Polack was a dangerous man around the nets, while Wright and Geralds played well.

Every man on the team played hard, but they did not show the class the local boys did, and it was a case of the fittest surviving.

The great defence of the local crew proved to be the great works of Kingston. They broke up rushes galore, and forced the Havelock players to the corners just as they did with the Trenton team.

Kingston broke fast with the puck and in this they had a great advantage over their opponents, who were slow in getting started, with the result that the local forwards were able to pounce on them and check them before they had much chance of making any headway.

Near the end of the first period, Polack took the puck down the ice and passed out in front to the waiting Quinn, who registered.

In the final period, the Kingston team uncorked some snappy rushes, and swooped down on Hooper repeatedly, but the Havelock goaler put up stubborn opposition, and turned them back.

Polack broke in on one of these rushes and took the puck to the Kingston territory, and in the scramble he made Havelock's second and last score of the game.

The crowd gave the visitors a great hand for their success.

Havelock tired down near the end of the final frame, and did not offer any great opposition. But Hooper kept things going by turning in his best work until Hargraft, taking a pass from centre, sent a high one at him, and the puck struck him on the nose, breaking it.

Hooper went to the ice, and was forced to leave the game to receive attention at the hands of Billy Hughes, Queens' trainer. As he was leaving the ice, Hooper was loudly applauded.

The game was stopped until his return, and when he came on the ice again with his nose patched up, he was given an ovation by the fans, who admired his gameness. He was given a busy five minutes the last of the game, but Kingston did not score again, and the final count was 9 to 2.

Big Roy Reynolds, of Queen's football team, played on the defence for the Kingston team, and scored two goals. His rushing was great, and the visitors found it hard task to check him.

"Chippy" Rogers, in goal for the Kingston team, handled difficult shots with great ease.

The teams lined up as follows:

Kingston — Goal, Rogers; defence, Reynolds and Rooney; centre Watts; wings, Smith and Hargraft; subs., Johnston and Lawlor.

JUNIOR GAME HERE.

Brockville Juniors Play the Young Petes at Brock Street To-morrow Night.

The Peterboro Junios have a two goal lead to make up in their game tomorrow night with Brockville. The Brockville fans were very pleased with the hockey displayed, although slow ice interfered with the playing of much combination. The Petes are confident that they can overcome the lead on their home ice, but the Brockville gang, although reported as being smaller and lighter than the Petes will fight hard to hold their advantage. The game will be a struggle from the first bell and fans who pass it up will miss one of the best encounters of the year.

BOARD OF HEALTH ROUTINE MEETING

Dr. Young Explains Exclusion of Mumps Sufferers From Hospital.

In a temperature closely approximating that which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gump are reported to be enjoying at present, with the heat turned on full, the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health took place this morning, Alderman M. McIntyre presiding.

The meeting was called for ten o'clock, and at twenty minutes past, lacking a quorum, the Mayor decided to cancel the meeting.

Several members arriving within the next few minutes saved the situation, and the meeting proceeded.

The following were present: Malcolm McIntyre, chairman, and R. B. Rogers, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, Works Commissioner A. G. Maxwell, Mayor J. Turner, Dr. J. M. O'Brien and Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H.

It was decided to pay the Kaustine Company, which had charge of the installation of a septic tank at the Hospital, the balance of $193.50 due on their account.

Plumbing Inspector Metheral was instructed to make a report on a dwelling at 639 Rubidge Street with regard to installing sanitary conveniences therein.

At the conclusion of the reading of the milk report by Mr. Armstrong Dr. Young suggested that one dealer whose milk is reported as dirty should have his license cancelled.

A motion was finally passed that a warning to this effect be given the man, to give him an opportunity to improve conditions.

Ross L. Dobbin was called by telephone and requested to attend the meeting and furnish information with regard to supplying water to residents of Euclid Avenue, and Robert Hicks also attended and outlined the Utilities Commission's policy.

Mayor Turner explained to the visitors that Euclid Avenue was furnished with a sewer connection at a time when the city was seeking to give unemployed men some work. The street has never been connected with the water mains, and the residents are now asking for this convenience. In previous correspondence, Mr. Dobbin had informed the Mayor that the cost of such connection should be in the neighbourhood of about $1,900, and Mr. Hicks also explained that the Commission looks to districts so served for 10 per cent. of the cost. Euclid Avenue with only a few houses, would furnish a revenue approximately of $86, leaving a shortage of about $104 on the requisite amount.

Mr. Hicks also said that the Commission has a system of allowing such non-profitable small items to be done from time to time, and calculate the loss on them as balanced by greater gains in other districts. He was of the opinion, however, that the suggestion of the Board to allow such work to be done in cold weather in order to help retieve the unemployment situation would result in additional costs and danger of frost.

Both members finally promised to consider the matter fully and report back to the Board of Health.

Order Plumbing In.

The owner of a house at 271 Westcott street and the agent of the owner of 279 Wescott street will be notified to instal plumbing conveniences in these premises. In connection with the installation of such conveniences in places where earth closets are now used, Chairman McIntyre thought that the system of haphazardly picking out certain houses, as followed at present, might be bettered by a systematic report of all premises needing such installations, centralised from a certain point and notified from time to time. Complaints from neighbors appear to be the chief source of information at present. C. H. Rogers thought the fire limits might be taken as a boundary and a report asked for on such premises as are not at present connected up.

Dr. T. W. H. Young explained that fear of infection of other patients and lack of sufficient nursing staff to attend to them as separate cases, prevented him from allowing mumps to be included in the list of diseases treated at the Isolation Hospital.

Plumbing Inspector Metheral reported the heating system of the Queen Mary Hospital was in excellent shape, and Chairman McIntyre commended the inspector for his share in such a satisfactory condition.

Dr. Young suggested that the outside of the Queen Mary Hospital be painted and attention given to defective plastering on the east side of the buliding.

Miss A. M. Price, matron of the Isolation Hospital, reported 2 patients in the hospital on January 1st, both suffering from scarlet fever. Admitted during the month: scarlet fever 5, measles 2, with city cases; scarlet fever, 4 and measles, 2, and outside of city; scarlet fever 1.

Five patients were discharged during the month, three having had scarlet fever and two measles. In hospital on February 1st, 2.

Expenditures for the month at the Hospital: Drugs and medicine, $3.35, fuel $22.89, groceries and provisions $171.59, light $11.64, telephone $7.01, water $15.00, salaries $281.60, incidetnals $109.59. Total $622.67.

Salaries for January: A. M. Price matron, $100, Nurses: M. Metcalfe $30, A. Grimm $20, O. Hareston $15, E. Osborne $16.60, Mrs. J. Spencer, laundress $40, G. Johnston caretaker $60. Total, $281.60.

HUGE SWINDLE DECLARE POLICE

Alleges Conspiracy Regarding the Entry of Foreigners Into Canada.

ARMENIAN ARRESTED.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (Canadian Press).—A searching enquiry into the huge swindle believed to have been unearthed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, in an alleged obtaining of certificates of naturalization, passports and immigration permits for entry into Canada of relatives or friends of foreigners from Armenia and other countries by conspiracy, fraud and impersonation is being continued here by the police. It is suggested that a new series of charges may be laid.

One arrest so far has been made. G. H. Alexander an Armenian, is now in custody here on the charge of conspiracy. He will come up this week in the Ottawa Police Court for preliminary hearing.

WHY THE PLAY-OFF WAS TRANSFERRED

Petes Confident Their Chances Are Much Better on Toronto Ice.

The Examiner has received a letter from a hockey fan who claims he is voicing the feeling of hundreds of others complaining about the action of the Peterborough Hockey Club in transferring the home game of the Parkdale play-off series to Toronto.

The writer of the letter declares that the change has been made because the prospects for a big gate are better in Toronto. And points out that the Seniors have been well supported here all season, while the Juniors have played to small gates.

So far as the transfer of the Parkdale game is concerned the move was made simply because the Peterborough management and players are unanimous in their belief that their chances of victory are much better.

It is simple truth that at no time this season have the Petes hit their stride at home. The records speak for themselves: Parkdale beaten 7-2 in Toronto, won a 1 to 0 victory here; Varsity lost 4 to 1 at home, were victorious here by the same score; the Petes beat the Soo in Toronto, and tied them one game in Sault Ste. Marie, and were beaten 5 to 0 in the game played here; and in the Hamilton series the blue shirts won by a bigger margin in Hamilton than at Brock Street Rink.

The Petes, in fact, have lost three out of six games at home, and have been outscored by 12 to 8 on local ice, while away from home they have lost but one game out of eleven, and have beaten the combined opposition by 43 to 22.

The players and management feel that they have a much better chance of bringing home the honours by playing both games in Toronto, and anyone who has seen the team perform at the Arena is of the same opinion.

OPERATING COSTS OF C.N.R. REDUCED

Net Earnings For Year 1924 Amounted to $17,244,251.

MONTREAL, Feb. 17.— (Canadian Press.)— Net earnings of the Canadian National Railways, after payment of operating expenses, amounted to $17,244,251 in 1924. Final figures giving operating results of the system during the year were announced to-day by Sir Henry W Thornton, chairman and president.

These figures show that while prevailing business conditions and smaller crops reduced gross receipts of the company by $16,547,305, as compared with the preceding year were made to the extent of $14,- economies in operating expenses 361,907. As a result of the economies, net earnings amounting to $17,244,251 were produced.

AMENDMENT FOR 'STRONGER BEER' STIMULATES DRYS

Two Thousand Delegates Gather in Toronto to Fight Measure.

WILL IT INTOXICATE.

Conventoin Will Hear Opinion of an American Scientist To-morrow.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press). — Integrity of the Ontario Temperance Act and governmental sincerity in the enforcement of the same are questions uppermost in the minds of two thousand delegates gathering here this morning for the convention of the Ontario Prohibition [illegible] from all parts of the Province. Preliminary local meetings last week and the "stronger beer" amendment proposed by the Ontario Government have given a stimulus to the convention opening to-day, and it is expected that the gathering will be one of the most important in temperance history of Province.

Undoubtedly the discussion will centre considerably on the announcement in the Speech from the Throne of the intention of submitting to the Legislature an amendment to the O.T.A. permitting the legal sale of 4.4 per cent. beer. Along that line Dr. Harvey Wiley, United States scientist, will address the delegates to-morrow on the subject of "what constitues intoxicating beer."

Plans of the Drys.

In the course of preliminaries this morning, R. J. Fleming, president of the Union, in his opening address, laid stress on the significance of the Government's announcement. The Executive of the Union reported its plans for meeting the situation. Among other things, the Legislature will probably be urged, individually and collectively, to vote against the amendment. Reports were presented this morning by Rev. John Bailey, secretary, and R. D. Warren, treasurer, indicating the Union to be in a flourishing condition, numerically and financially. Speakers of the programme for this afternoon and to-night include Mrs. James Murdock, wife of the Federal Minister of Labor; E. E. Reid, Reverends R. E. Knowles, P. K. Dalyfoot, Father Lawrence Minehan and others.

Prohibit Native Wines.

The Executive Committee in its report suggests that the convention express the opinion that native wines also be prohibited. There were also resolutions presented to ask the Federal Government to stop granting licenses to breweries in Ontario without the sanction of the Ontario Government, and also asking the Federal authorities to stop the shipment of liquor to foreign countries by Ontario lake ports.

DO AWAY WITH BOARD.

Martin Would Put One Man in Place of Agricultural Development Board.

TORONTO, February 17 (Canadian Press). — Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, has introduced a Bill in the Legislature to abolish the agricultural development board and substitute a single commissioner who will have all the powers and duties of the present board.

This is the board which makes loans to farmers under the Rural Credits Act.

He also takes the place of the board which has been acting separately for Northern Ontario.

The amalgamation and reduction to one commissioner is made on the grounds of economy.

AT THE CAPITOL

The popular Richard Barthelmess is the hero of "Classmates," the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre for the first two days of this week. All who like this young, dark youth with his unsmiling countenance and rather vivid presentation of a modern type, will enjoy seeing him once again on the silver sheet. As Duncan Irving, Junior, of Pine Level, North Carolina, he seeks a career at West Point, and mixes things up very considerably for himself later by engaging in a fight with his "classmate," Bert Stafford, over the latter's cousin, Sylvia. The rivalry for the girl leads to bad blood between the two youths, and sends both finally to the wilds of South America, where Bert is marooned and Duncan goes to seek him, in an effort to have him return and clear Duncan's life of the charge of having ruined Bert's West Point career.

The story, in the main, centres about the adventures of the men in the tropical undergrowth, and their dramatic rescue by another classmate. Barthelmess gives a romantic presentation of the misjudged youth.

One of the most entertaining comedies seen in many days is that of Lloyd Hamilton, in "Hooked." This engaging comedian, with his speckled tie and his unsightly flat cap and his serious demeanor, goes through a series of antics that illustrate some bran new ideas in getting a laugh and succeeds in forcing his audience into gales of laughter before the climax to a startling career. To see the ingenuous gentleman sitting at the lunch counter which has been fortuitously attached to an ocean liner by means of one long hook and moves slowly out into the ocean, attached to the big steamer, is to laugh long and loud, and ludicrous in the extreme is the presentation of the scene in the barber shop on the ship.

There is a very entertaining short reel also in the pen and ink drawings that start out to be one thing and then change to something else. A pool of black ink from an overturned bottle makes itself instantaneously into a black collie dog, sniffing in the snow for "His Master's Flask."—Jeannette.

MEIGHAN IS 'EXTRA' IN TALMADGE DRAMA

Norma Talmadge and Thomas Meighan both have roles in "The Only Woman," Norma's latest First National photoplay.

Meighan, who was last seen in "The Heart of Wetenah," recently arrived in Los Angeles and came over to Norma's set to visit with her. Director Olcott immediately fixed Meighan up with a job.

Norma was making a scene aboard a yacht and Meighan became a member of the crew. Meighan jumped into his role with such great fervor that Olcott told him to stick around and I'll build your bit up into a good part."

"The Only Woman" is Norma's first photoplay since "Secrets." Reversing the theme of a parent's sacrifice for a son or daughter, "The Only Woman" tells the story of a girl who surrenders herself in marriages for her father's sake.

Eugene O'Brien has the leading male role. The picture will be at the Capitol Theatre to-morrow.

AT THE ROYAL

A LAUGH A MINUTE IN FEATURE FARCE.

"Reckless Romance," Christie Hit, Interpreted by an Extraordinary Cast.

If you're sensitive about laughing out loud at a movie, don't go to see "Reckless Romance," which the Royal Theatre is offering this week. Because you'll have to laugh loudly and often. On second thought, we advise you to see it anway, because you'll be so interested that you won't know whether you gave a loud guffaw or a melodious ripple.

This Al Christie feature is one of the best farces that the screen has ever had. It is adapted from the Broadway laughing hit, "What's Your Wife Doing" and is teeming with funny situations. Joseph Farnham's titles are positively brilliant and a source of laughs on their own account.

Briefly the story is about a pair of newlyweds, still in the numb stages of love, who are forced to get a divorce if they are to inherit Grandpa's millions. They elect hubby's best friend, who has a girl of his own, to be co-respondent. They try various ways of being caught in a compromising situation with the result that they succeed in getting everybody in wrong, but they never succeed in getting "compromised."

One of the most brilliant casts ever assembled interprets this hilarious tale. It includes T. Roy Barnes, Harry Myers, Wanda Hawley, Sylvia Breamer, Tully Marshall, Jack Duffy, Lincoln Plumer, Morgan Wallace and George French.

You'll come up smiling after seeing this one and will feel reckless enough to treat yourself to another view of it the next night.

All the programme is in a comedy vein with the exception of "The Seven Ages of Fishing," which is a sport review. The music by the Royal Six is snappy and jazzy in keeping with the mood of the feature offering. The Royal is a good place to forget your troubles, and this programme will certainly help you to do just that!

AT THE REGENT

Last night at the Regent Theatre, "Her Marriage Vow," the Warner Brothers' screen version of the Owen Davis stage play had its premiere opening. This picture easily excelled many others we have seen here for pictorial beauty and clever acting.

Beverly Bayne renewed her acquaintance with the moving picture camera after anabsence of three years. And we are pleased to say that she has not lost any of her former beauty or acting skill. Monte Blue co-starred with Beverly Bayne and never before did any team of actors receive such prolonged applause for their wonderful acting. Their work throughout the picture was of intense pathos interspersed with subtle comedy. John Roche and Margaret Livingston were in the cast and both played their parts very well. Willard Louis, whose very appearance upon the screen puts everybody in a jovial mood, brilliantly portrayed his role.

The story is a thrilling episode of a married woman who leaves her two small children home alone and visits her girl friend's apartment. There she meets her old sweetheart. They have a number of cocktails. Her husband comes home just in time to stop one of his children from taking poison. He immediately goes to his wife's friend's apartment, where he sees his wife being kissed by his former rival. He orders his wife from his house and he keens the children. During a great storm his wife steals into his house to see the children. She is about to kidnap them when he catches her. She pleads and begs to be forgiven, claiming she has left [illegible]. Finally he forgives her for the children's sake.

Millard Webb adapted and directed this powerful photoplay. It is a Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen.

AT THE GRAND

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

The Grand Opera House opened its programme of vaudeville and pictures with an excellent programme yesterday, offering a good comedy, a big feature picture and three double acts of vaudeville, that met with much appreciative applause from audiences of yesterday afternoon and evening.

Galvin and D[illegible] in "Musical Moments" were the headliners of the vaudeville entertainment. They are clever musicians, doing some fine playing in duet with the steel guitars, with some eccentric playing on the violin by the man. Their act was received with enthusiasm by a pleased audience.

Ardell Brothers have a snappy performance on the rings, with a purple curtain that adds much to its effectiveness. Their work is clean cut and contains some excellent team work.

Sol and Leslie Berns have a comedy, "I'll Fix That," with a little of quick patter in a dialogue turn.

The picture, "Racing for Life," is one of those exciting affairs whose chief interest centers about a big automobile race, that is made exceptionally entertaining by the inclusion of Ralph De Palma in person in the race. De Palma is one of the speed kings of the inverted bowl and he bows to Peterboro audiences for the first time in "Racing for Life."

It is the tale of a poor youth who loves a rich maiden and is loved by her. He is an expert automobile driver, but makes a promise to his mother to keep out of a certain race, as she worries about his safety. However, to save his good-for-nothing brother from exposure, he promises to drive in the race, and then the brother, mixed up with a gang of men who strive to keep the hero from winning, helps in the abduction of his own brother. How Jack finally escapes from them and eventually wins the race with a broken king-pin threatening his life and the race itself, is told in graphic fashion that holds the interest of the audience from start to finish. William Fairbanks and Eva Novak make a splendid hero and heroine.

Tragedy In Air Due To Frightened Passengers

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 17. — Four passengers in an airplane were killed and the pilot was seriously injured when the plane crashed yesterday at Ceres in the Province of Santa Fe.

The crash was due to a frightened passenger seizing and pulling the rudder control.

Roter Ship Sailed Into Firth of Forth To-day

GRANGEMOUTH, Scotland, Feb. 17. — The Flettner Roter-ship "Buckau," on a voyage from Danzig and Kiel to Leith, with a cargo of lumber, regarded as a test of a new type of craft under commercial conditions, arrived at the mouth of the Firth of Forth this morning.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS.

Too Many Automobiles on Streets With Last Year's Licenses, Says Chief.

The chief of police is issuing a further warning, which may be a final one, to all owners of cars, that there are too many automobiles on the streets with last year's license plates attached to them. New license plates may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce.

Many complaints have been received from residents of the west end of the city as to female dogs running at large and creating an annoyance to citizens. There is a bylaw with regard to dogs of this class, and owners would be well advised to look after their property.

LEGISLATURE NIGHT SHIFT

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (Canadian Press).—Premier Ferguson announced at noon today that there were 36 members of the House scheduled to speak on the speech from the throne. "If we are going to have a long drawn-out debate we might as well start to sit at night immediately," he said.

"Whether we sit tonight will depend largely on what transpires this afternoon."

The rest of the evening was spent in games and contests, after which an excellent lunch was served.

Russia Produces New Bee.

Cross Between Queens and Workers Developed in Moscow.

BERLIN, Feb. 17.— (Associated Press. — Professor Moschewnikow, of Moscow, is reported to have bred a new type of bee which is a cross between a mother bee and a working bee. This bee, upon the development of which the Russian scientist is said to have been working for over a year, has the ovaries of the mother bee fully developed and also the wax glands of the working bee. The professor believes it may be of great value in bee culture.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR.

"The end of the world" has been greatly misunderstood. For a long time people have been taught that "the end of the world" meant that the earth and everything in it, would be burned up, amidst suffering beyond description of human words. The word "world" as used in Scripture does not mean earth. The earth will never be destroyed. Eccles. 1:4. Just five days before Jesus was crucified, His disciples asked Him concerning "the end of the world." Matt. 24:3. Note the answer Jesus gave. "The end of the world" and the second coming of the Lord Jesus are closely allied, and relate to the same period of time. "The end of the world," instead of being a horrible calamity, will be a glorious time of relief for all mankind. We are now standing on the portals of a kingdom of righteousness and blessing that shall have no end.—M. T. Butcher. 1d41 8989

WOMEN PAY DANCER.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The French fiscal authorities are after a profession dancing partner attached to one of the night resorts of Paris. An automobile worth $5,000 is regarded as an evidence of great prosperity, and it is desired to make him pay his income tax to the last centime.

This young dancer is said to be making 50,000 francs a month, derived entirely from subsidies of fair partners who engage his services regularly at the rate of 2,000 francs minimum a month. He has no maximum, generously inclined ladies who are particularly satisfied with him as a dancing partner being given full freedom to show their pleasure in the size of their monthly

FOR AND AGAINST UNION.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press). — According to returns received by the Church Union Bureau of Information up to noon to-day, 1,303 Presbyterian congregations have voted in favor of Church Union and 431 against.

Society

Mrs. Allan's many friends will regreat to know she is seriously ill in Toronto.

Mrs. Wilfred Nicholson of Winnipeg is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. S. Zavitz Benson Avenue.

Mr. R. J. Devey has been re-elected as lay delegate for St. Matthew's Parish, Hall's Bridge, in the Stoney Lake Mission, to the Synod of the Diocese of Toronto.

Notice of a hearty vote of thanks for past service passed at the annual vestry meeting, accompanied the letter.

The Synod standing committees meet in Toronto this week. Mr. Devey will be absent from this city on Thursday to be present at the session of the Diocesan board of religious education held at the Synod office, Toronto.

In quiet fashion, with their children and grandchildren gathered around them, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman yesterday celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding by a dinner and a dance, a dinner and surprise party were tendered by the immediate family to their parents at the latter's home on Dalhousie Street, when several gifts were made to Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman. There were present their four children, all from Peterboro, with their families: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Medd, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Waddell and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ackerman.

Miss Mary Medd, from Bishop Strachan School, and Master Scott Medd, from Trinity College School, were home over the week-end for the golden wedding of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman.

A MUSICAL TYPEWRITER.

Brazilian Priest Invents Machine for Writing Music.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—Father Lucas, a Catholic priest, is the inventor of a machine for writing music. He claims to have spent 13 years in perfecting the apparatus, which is now exhibited locally. It is built on the pattern of a typwriter, with a simlar keyboard, and an arrangement near the roller for drawing the lines of the staff.

SUSSEX NEEDS MEN.

Women in Majority by 1274 to 1000 in County.

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—The stamping ground for Cupid in England should be Sussex county.

In Sussex there are more women proportionately than in any county in England, the women numbering 1,274 to every 1,000 men. This is 108 more than the average for the rest of England, and about 188 more than in 1913 before the men went to war and the women to work in the fields.

German Naval Observatory Checks Information With Men's Experience.

HAMBURG, Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—The German Naval Observatory acts as a clearing house for all information on naval matters, and prides itself on its efficient accuracy. To this end it interviews the officers of every ship that comes into Hamburg in order to check its theoretical information with the practical experience of the man who goes to sea.

TRENT RIVER NEWS.

Mrs. Herbert Rose Seriously Ill—Valentine Social by King's Daughters.

TRENT RIVER February 17.—Mrs. Herbert Rose was taken suddenly ill on Friday last, but her condition is somewhat improved.

The Valentine social held by the King's Daughters Class on Friday night at the home of Mrs. A. Wight, was fairly well attended, notwithstanding the counter attractions the same evening. There were two contests and prizes were given to the winners:

The ice harvesting is nearly at an end owing to the main channel opening.

KING GEORGE ILL, VICTIM OF "FLU"

Bulletin Says He Spent Restless Night, But Condition Satisfactory.

LONDON, Feb. 17. — (United Press).—King George is a victim of the influenza epidemic sweeping England, his physicians announced in a bulletin this afternoon.

The bronchitis from which His Majesty has been suffering is due from influenza, the bulletin said, adding: "The King spent a restless night but his general condition is satisfactory."

The bulletin was signed by Lord Dawson, physician extraordinary to the King, Sir Milsom Rees and Sir Frederick Stanley Hewitt. The fact that they visited the palace this morning raised fears that the King's illness was worse than had been thought. It was pointed out, however, that these physicians invariably have a consultation and that the King's condition is anything but normal, and issuance of the above bulletin allayed all uneasiness.

CREDIT TO SHIP OWNERS.

German Government Will Aid in Financing New Ships.

HAMBURG, Feb. 17. (Associated Press).—To stimulate German shipbuilding, the German government will make available credits equal to 50 per cent of the price agreed upon between the ship owners and the builders. This step is taken because the ship construction companies have no ready cash to advance to their workers, and the ship owners are likewise suffering from a scarcity of capital.

HARLEQUIN GOWNS.

Evening Dresses Designed on Pari-Colored Lines In London.

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Associated Press).—In their search for something new in the way of styles for evening gowns London dressmakers have visited the pantomime and designed a Harequin frock on the traditional parti-colored lines. One such is of deep scarlet crepe-de-chine, appliqued all over in silver tissue and black, and cut in a triangular pattern.

The prevalent straight up-and-down fashion silhouette is adapted to the characteristics of a Harlequin mode, while the close fitting draperies of the day, which reveal the line of the figure, are also suggestive of the close fitting garments which Harlequin wears.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JAMES SMITH.

The death occurred late this afternoon of Mrs. James Smith, 473 Water Street, in her 73rd year. Mrs. Smith was formerly of Belleville.

Funeral announcement will be made later.

MRS. ANNA MOORE.

The death occurred to-day of Mrs. Anna Moore, widow of the late David Moore, at her residence, 506 Bolivar street. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Robert Howden, Romaine street, and Miss Mary Moore at home. Her husband predeceased her 35 years ago.

The funeral will take place from the family residence to the Little Lake Cemetery on Thursday, February 19th, at 2.30, Rev. Mr. Mackinnon officiating.

DEATH.

Died, at the House of Providence, to-day, Sister M. Anastasia Walsh, of the Community of St. Joseph, after a lingering illness. Funeral Mass on Thursday morning in the Sacred Heart Chapel, Mount St. Joseph.

IN MEMORIAM.

GILL—In loving memory of Alfred R. Gill, who died February 17, 1924.

Gone but not forgotten.
Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of my dear father laid to rest,
To our heart there comes a longing
If he only could come home.
Often and oft our thoughts do wander
To that grave not far away,
Where we laid our loving father
Just one year ago to-day.

—Ever remembered by his Daughter, Mrs. Wm. Spoeley, and Grandchildren, Mary and Helen.

RAINEY SEES LIQUOR INTERESTS IN BACKGROUND OF LEGISLATURE

Leader of Progressives Dwells Only on Proposed Amendment of the O.T.A.

HOUSE CROWDED.

Hon. W. F. Nickle Points to Changed Opinions in City Revealed by Vote.

TORONTO, Feb. 18—The debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne in the Ontario Legislature has really become a debate on the Ontario Temperance Act. Yesterday afternoon W. E. Raney, leader of the Progressives, spoke in the debate for an hour and a half and apart from a few remarks in appreciation of the late sergeant-at-arms never mentioned another subject but prohibition. The Liberal amendment proposed last week was based on the government's proposal to allow stronger beer in Ontario, although it did not say anything about the merits of the legislation, but simply accused the Prime Minister of breach of pledge to the electors of the province. Yesterday, Mr. Raney moved an amendment to the amendment, also based on the government's beer proposal.

The amendment, which is seconded by J. G. Lethbridge (Progressive, West Middlesex), would strike out the Liberal amendment and substitute the following, "But, with great respect, we regret the inclusion in the Speech from the Throne of an intimation that it is the intention of the government to amend the Ontario Temperance Act by enacting that liquor with an alcoholic content by volume of more than two and a half per cent. shall be conclusively deemed not to be intoxicating and we venture the hope that the government may give reconsideration to its expressed intention in this regard."

Galleries Packed.

The House was crowded to such an extent with spectators that some crowded on to the floor and the galleries were packed. It was the largest crowd that has attended the sittings of the local house since the sensational days towards the close of the Drury regime when the Conservative opposition maintained a blockade of some days.

Mr. Raney made a vigorous attack on the government proposal and Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney General, who succeeded Mr. Raney in office, made an equally spirited reply in defence of the government and its proposals. Mr. Nickle devoted some considerable time to other points of the Speech from the Throne, as well as the beer proposal.

Mr. Raney informed the House that he had a speech nearly all prepared before the Speech from the Throne, and that the announcement about the beer had shoved the preparation into the discard. He had intended extending the government his support in enforcement of the O.T.A., but the beer proposal had changed all that. He said that he had thought that no government would dare to do what the wet members—a minority—would ask it to do.

Question of Potency.

Mr. Raney then went into a long argument as to what amount of alcohol made a drink intoxicating. He said that the two and one-half per cent. proof spirit limit as now provided in the O.T.A. was taken from the old license laws of Ontario, framed by the late W. J. Hanna, nineteen years ago. In England, he said, two per cent. was the limit for temperance drinks and in the United States a much lower quantity. "This new beer is in effect the old lager beer," said Mr. Raney. Reviewing the various votes taken on the liquor question in Ontario in the last ten years, Mr. Raney said that in 1919 there was a majority of 339,000 against light beers such as now proposed. "This present proposal," he declared, "is straight in the teeth of the expressed will of the people in 1919."

Mr. Raney then told of what he called the "beer and water record'

FIRE COMMITTEE TRIM ESTIMATES

No Combination Pumper For Fire Chief This Year, It Appears.

CUT OF $3,000.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee, Alderman Jones, chairman, met last night for the consideration of estimates and finally approved a total of $38,200 for their needs in 1925. Almost all the different items were passed without question except those for gasoline and oil, new alarm box standards and a new car for the Chief. After the item for standards had been eliminated and the item for gas reduced to $250 and the car money cut in half, a number of suggestions were made for reducing the total by cutting off different sums. It was finally decided, on a motion by Mayor Turner, seconded by Alderman Turner, and carried unanimously, that the total be reduced to $38,200, the Chief and chairman to decide on which items to cut. $41,415 was asked for.

The Chief's recommendation that a triple combination pumper be obtained at a cost of $17,000 was received and no action taken. The Mayor read a clipping showing that in Stratford the Utilities Commission paid half of the cost of a pumper because of the saving on the water mains.

Assistant Fire Chief Ward applied for an increase in salary from $1,600 to $1,800. The committee decided not to grant this request.

Alderman Turner moved a vote of confidence in the Chief, and that the thanks of the committee be tendered to the Chief. Alderman Stocker seconded the motion, which carried unanimously.

Tariff On Oil Drilling Machinery Will Be Cut

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Feb. 18.—Hon. Charles tSewart, Minister of the Interior, gave the Chamber of Commerce every assurance yesterday that the duty on oil drilling machinery would be much reduced or removed entirely in forthcoming new tariff regulations. A great deal of development work under these circumstances is expected in the Medicine Hat field this year.

RICH GIFT TO CHURCH FROM WHEAT OPERATOR

Best Organ and Chimes Obtainable From Arthur W. Cutten.

GUELPH, Feb. 18.—St. George's Church here has just received from Arthur W. Cutten, a former resident of this city, now in Chicago, and one of the most noted operators on the grain market there, two magnificent gifts.

Announcement of these was made Monday night by the rector, Rev. Canon Scovil, at a banquet to the men of the parish, at which Rev. Canon Cody, of Toronto, was the principal speaker. The gifts are, in the words of Mr. Cutten, "the best church organ obtainable and the best chime of bells ever constructed." Arrangements are already under way for the procuring of the gifts.

IMPROVEMENT IN EXPORT CHEESE TO BE REQUIRED

Must be Kept in Factories Two Weeks Refore Shipment, New Proposal.

DAIRY GRADING.

Conservative Member Says Canadians Eating Lower Grade Butter and Cheese.

OTTAWA, ONT., Feb. 18. (Canadian Press).—That unless something is done to improve Canadian dairy products for home consumption, the people of Canada will soon be usinng New Zealand cheese and Danish butter, was the statement made in the House of Commons yesterday by J. W. Kennedy, Conservative member for Glengarry and Stormont.

"Quite right, that is just what will happen," agreed Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Kennedy was pressing for the adoption of some system of grading for dairy products consumed in Canada. At present the Department had in operation a system of grading for export.

Mr. Motherwell informed Mr. Kennedy that he was not sure that the public would stand for any more grading. He though it would be better to get grading for export well established before introducing grading for home consumption.

Mr. Kennedy replied that he was somewhat disappointed at this statement of the minister. Last session the minister had told the House that Canada was twenty years behind the times in the matter of grading. The result of not grading products for home consumption, and grading the export article, was that Canadians were being sold second and third grade cheese and butter.

Mr. Motherwell thought it might be wise to go a little slow in the matter of grading for home consumption. There was not much demand from the public for this form of grading.

Cheese Restrictions.

The minister also informed the House that he was going to introduce amendments to the Dairy Act which would improve the quality of Canadian cheese when it reached the British market. "There are a whole lot of restrictions which must go on our dairy products before they will be acceptable to the British public," the minister remarked.

The amendments would provide that cheese must be kept in the factories for two weeks before shipment, that cheese boxes must be of a better kind, and that persons found guilty of adulteration of cheese should be prohibited from exporting. There was nothing final yet as to the nature of the amendments but they would probably deal with the points mentioned.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie (Conservative, Victoria) said that the benefit of egg grading had been proved, and a similar system should be extended to all dairy products. The home market should be given special attention by maintaining standards in cheese and butter to the exclusion of foreign products.

Mr. Motherwell said that the best Canadian cheese was equal to the best Australian product, but Canada was at a disadvantage owing to the smallness of its factories, and the consequent lack of uniformity in the grades of cheese.

In answer to a question by Donald Sutheland (Conservative, South Oxford), the minister of agriculture said that the proposed Australian tariff would reduce the tariff on Australian butter from four cents a

"MORAL CLAIM IN EQUITY" A CROSS WORD TO PONDER

Members of Parliament Puzzled by Phrase Referring to Home Bank Aid.

FOR DEPOSITORS.

Government to Introduce Measure Recognizing Claim For Compensation.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18. — (Canadian Press).—What constitutes a "moral claim in equity?"

It is a phrase over which there is much discussion in Parliamentary circles. When the Prime Minister in the House yesterday made his statement on the reimbursement of Home Bank depositors, he intimated that the Government intended to recognize the finding of the Banking and Commerce Committee last year that the depositors had a moral claim in equity. But he did not indicate what the Government considered a moral claim in equity, nor by how much the depositors were to be reimbursed.

When the question of reimbursing Home Bank depositors first arose at the opening of session, current rumor was that the depositors would be reimbursed to the full amount, less what they have received and may still receive from the liquidator. But there now seems to be considerable doubt if the Government will be prepared to go so far.

Premier's Statement.

The statement of the Premier reads as follows:

"On July 17, 1924, this House unanimously adopted the report of the Committee on Banking and Commerce with respect to the losses sustained by the depositors of the Home Bank of Canada. The concluding paragraph of the said report is as follows:

"Your committee consider that the facts brought out in the interim report submitted by Mr. Chief Justice McKeown, and the evidence therein referred to, establish that the depositors of the Home Bank have a moral claim in equity for compensation by the country on account of any loss they may suffer by reason of the failure of the Home Bank."

In the circumstance, the Government has decided to introduce this session a measure recognizing, with respect to the depositors of the Home Bank, "the moral claim in equity for compensation," as referred to in this paragraph of the report. The proposed legislation will be brought down in due course. Complete particulars of the situation, it is understood, are being obtained from the liquidator before the Government measure is brought down.

The relationship of the Prime Minister's statement towards a short session, followed by a dissolution of Parliament, is also the subject of considerable comment in the lobbies. In a number of quarters, the statement is interpreted as presaging an appeal to the polls.

SHADOWS ENFOLD BEAUTY

The rlon. Gwyneth Morgan Walks Out From Luxurious Country Estate Into Night, Leaving Titled Society to Ponder Mystery of Disappearance.

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Feb. 18—A door banging on a windy night!

Footfalls down a lonely road and, then—silence!

Thus did darkness and mystery swallow the Hon. Gwyneth Erica Morgan, lovely daughter of the richest of Welsh peers, while British society wondered and thrilled.

It is a perfect Sherlock Holmes setting:

A quiet place in Wimbledon, a sort of ruralized community in greater London. Here, the once socially gay Miss Morgan had gone to rest following an attack of typhoid fever. With her went a retinue of servants and a nurse companion.

Such was her social economic standing that she could have satisfied any whim. For her father is the third Baron Tredgar, owner of 40,000 acres of Welsh coal land, with a great house in London and a magnificent estate near Newport, Wales.

A robust outdoorsman, fond of the fox hunt and of shooting in general, is Baron Tredegar, but his two children have different tastes. Thus Evan Morgan, the son, after a fine war record and a short nibble of politics, set himself to writing verse and to painting.

Gwyneth, on the other hand, was fond of travel and spent much of her time going about the continent. They kept separate establishments in London.

Then the country place in Wimbledon, the slamming door—and mystery!

It was on Dec. 15 that, with $400 upon her person, she fled from the quiet retreat. Two days later the police were told. A month later, or more, the press were informed. Scotland Yard has been on the job. Famous private agencies have been consulted.

All to no avail.

One of the most perplexing mysteries of high social life remains unsolved.

Railway and steamship lines have afforded no clue.

At present the theory is that she will be found in sime tiny Welsh village, probably a seacoast hamlet, for she loved the simple life and customs of the seafaring folk and had been known to travel far to attend their dances and song fests.

EUROPE'S MONEY GAINS STRENGTH

Notable Advance Toward Stability in Many Countries In Year.

NEARING PARITY.

GENEVA, Feb. 18. — (Canadian Press). — Reviewing the European financial situation as gleaned through the investigations of the League of Nations Financial Committee, a communique issued last night says that the situation is steadily improving. The advance toward stability in the value of currency has been remarkable in the last year or two, and Austria, Germany, Hungary, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Sweden, Finland, Esthonia, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Danzig and Jugo-Slavakia are listed as countries already achieving stability.

The communique adds: "To a great extent from a budget viewpoint France and Belgium also have achieved it. Belgium has obtained budget equilibrium, and France is more or less on the verge of doing so. For France it now is a case of from two billion to four billion francs deficit, as compared with twenty to twenty-five billion a few years ago.

"Now that the prerequisite conditions for stability are fulfilled, the

KING'S CONDITION IMPROVED TODAY

Prince of Wales Comes to London to Visit His Majesty.

A FAIR NIGHT.

LONDON, Feb. 18.— (Canadian Press).—Improvement in the condition of King George, who is suffering from bronchitis, following an attack of influenze, is noted in an official bulletin issued from Buckingham Palace this morning. The bulletin reads: "The King had a fair night. Though there is yet no change in his bronchitis, the general condition of His Majesty shows improvement."

The Prince of Wales, who came to London yesterday from Melton Mowbray, his hunting headquarters, returned there last night. Queen Mary visited the London Museum yesterday afternoon and attended the Paderweiski concert last evening. It is understood that the King contracted a chill Friday evening when he accompanied the Queen to the theatre. This was his last public appearance before his illness. He had planned to attend the international football game at Twickenham between English and Irish teams on Saturday, but as a precaution against the cold developing, he remained indoors. He attended Divine service Sunday in the chapel of Buckingham Palace and held several audiences on Monday.

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICE ENDS HEROIC VIGILS AT COLLINS' TOMB

Tunnels and Passages to be Sealed Up, Leaving Body Locked in Nature's Arms—Minister Thanks Nation For Its Help and Solicitude.

RESCUE WORK HAS COST $150,000.

CAVE CITY, Ky., February 18 (Canadian Press). — Looking down into the Sand Cave rescue shaft in which scores of volunteers laboured for eleven days and nights to save Floyd Collins, Rev. O. K. Dickey, of the Cave City Methodist Episcopal Church, yesterday afternoon conducted Floyd's funeral.

A choir of eight women from Cave City sang three hymns, and the boulders were placed back upon his tomb and sealed, leaving him still locked in nature's arms, as he was caught eighteen days ago.

The services around the mouth of the shaft began at two o'clock, after M. E. S. Posey officially announced ed abandonment of all efforts to remove Collins' body and Lee Collins, his aged father, had agreed to let him be buried where he lay.

Rev. Mr. Dickey offered a prayer, and spoke briefly on Floyd's adventurous life as a cave explorer.

Mrs. Ida Withers, of Cave City, sang "We shall understand it better bye-and-bye," and the choir then sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," followed by "Asleep in Jesus."

To Seal the Tomb.

Just above Collins' head in the sloping eight foot drift of the natural sand cave tunnel, cement and boulders were to be placed in position, and the tunnel completely sealed.

Then the twelve foot lateral leading from the rescue shaft to his rock prison was to be filled back in, and finally the six foot square shaft, 55 1-2 feet deep, was to be filled.

Floyd's aged father, his stepmother, three brothers and sisters, and the men who struggled so heroically to save Collins brushed away the tears.

"The whole nation is in sympathy and tears for Floyd Collins," said Mr. Dickey. "The interest and the prayers and sympathies of millions have followed every detail of this story day by day, minute by minute.

"Why have men and women given so generously of their means and their all that Floyd Collins might be rescued? My explanation is that the story of Floyd Collins is a romance of the human race, from the darkened ages into civilisation. Everything possible was done to recover Floyd from his cave of death.

"Floyd loved nature's wonders and its caves as we love poetry and flowers. Now his body rests in peace until the day of resurrection."

Thanks to Nation.

The minister thanked the nation at large, the newspapers, neighbors, the Red Cross, the doctors, the soldiers, the workers and everyone who had rendered asistance to Collins in his predicament.

"We are sorry that we cannot get his body from the earth," he said.

"But it is better that his loved ones did not see him. He has a mark of agony on his face from the long tortuous hours he spent in this death chamber before his spirit was liberated."

The ritual of the burial of the dead was read, and to the minds of the listeners there came Floyd's own words to his stepmother, three days before he was trapped:

"I dreamed that I was caught in a rock, and the angels came and carried me away."

At the conclusion of the funeral services, Magistrate Clay Turner empanelled a coroner's jury of the six men who had accompanied him to the Collins' prison chamber yesterday morning. They left for Cave City to conduct the inquest there.

Rescue Cost $150,000.

The misadventure of Floyd Collins, obscure backwoods cave explorer, had so tapped those elemental emotions and instincts which have swayed human beings almost from the beginning of time that more than $150,000 was spent here in this Kentucky wilderness to free him from his subterranean grave and to tell the story of it all to the world.

Scientists on the ground see in this outpouring of a nation's sympathy and help an emotional "throwback" of the nation to its cave-man instincts, stirred by stories of a plight that must have been more or less common when man's home was the hillside cavern.

The response to appeals for help came without regard to expense. Troops sent here by the State to keep order and protect workers at the cave in which Collins was trapped are estimated by officers to have involved a cost of nearly $50,000 to the State.

Red Cross Spends Thousands.

The Red Cross spent thousands upon thousands to care for the men at the cave, providing them with food and shelter, as well as medical attention. Workers themselves, from the high-salaried engineers to the experienced miners and timber men, contributed their services, or more thousands would have been added to this bill. Materials in huge quantities, from electric plants to tractors, have likewise been furnished free to reduce the expense. Work at the cave in spite of contribution of materials and services is estimated to have cost nearly $50,000.

Upon the newspapers reporting the "tragedy" has fallen an equally heavy cost. Telegraph companies report that 100,00 words a day have been sent from here over their lines alone by the 100 or more newspaper men who have been here. The toll cost is estimated at $1,500 a day.

In addition, the larger newspapers paid $50.00 a day for private telephones and have, on top of that, an extremely heavy long-distance toll bill.

Twenty photographers, whose expenses have to be borne, were here, in addition to seven moving-picture photographers.

Airplane Expense is Heavy.

Airplane pilots here, prepared to carry pictures of the final scenes back to the papers ,say that their charges will aggregate $10,000.

From all these facts estimates are that the expense of the attempt to take Collins from the underground tomb in which he died and the furnishing of news of its progress to the people has been well over $150,000.

Ten Years Added To Age Hastens Woman's Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 18.—(Canadian Press).—Discovery that she was 103 years old instead of 93, as she thought, is believed to have hastened the death of Mrs. Maria Hynes, one of Cleveland's few centenarians. Mrs. Hynes was healthy and spry until a few months ago when a grandson, examining her birth certificate, issued in London, England, called attention to the fact it was dated July 28, 1822.

THE WEATHER.

This morning the thermometer was at 10 degrees below zero. Zero has not been reached since the 3rd of the month, when we had it 20 below. While January was unusually severe, February has proved, despite its bad reputation, to be comparatively mild—but it is not over yet. February of last winter had 13 days below zero. There was also considerably more snow.—W. P.
